THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN SYSTEM

The University of Wisconsin System marked its twenty-fifth anniversary in the fall of 1989. The UW System was created in October 1974 by a law placing all of the state's public university programs under a single Board of Regents. The UW System is composed of 19 independent and 15 two-year UW Centers, and 48 Extension which provides extension services from offices in every county. Although only 21 years old, the UW System was one of the first statewide higher educational systems in the nation and has pioneered in developing coordinated and high quality programs and services on a systemwide basis. Administrative offices are in Madison.

The Wisconsin State University Conference presents the twenty-sixth edition of its RECORDS BOOK as a means of informing the educators, writers, broadcasters and staff of the excellence of athletic competition displayed by teams and individual student-athletes of member institutions. This booklet is published annually to provide a record of all sports in the Conference-sponsored program.

It is the function of the Wisconsin State University Conference to encourage intercollegiate athletics on an amateur basis, with institutional control, and under the instruction of coaches who have faculty status, in order to assure maximum educational benefit from intercollegiate athletic contests among the member institutions.

MAX R. SPARGER, COMMISSIONER OF ATHLETICS

Max R. Sparger was named athletic commissioner of the Wisconsin State University Conference in July of 1971, succeeding Fred Jacoby.

Sparger has experienced a varied and successful career in athletics as a participant, coach, administrator and official.

A native of Wichita Falls, Texas, Sparger was a member of the UW-Stout athletic staff from 1959 to 1971, and athletic director his last two years there.

The Commissioner grew up in St. Paul Park, Minnesota, graduating from high school there in 1952. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1956 from Dubuque (Iowa) University, where he played football and wrestled during his college career.

Following graduation from college, Sparger coached high school and junior college sports in Fort Dodge, Iowa, leaving to join the Stout staff as assistant football and basketball coach in 1959. He received his master's degree in education from Macalester College, St. Paul, Minnesota, in 1961, and since then has done advanced work at the University of Minnesota.

He became head football coach in 1963, and was selected to receive an award for "Outstanding Teaching" during that year. He guided Stout to a Conference championship in 1965, after which he was named "Coach of the Year" in N.A.I.A. District 14. He gave up his football coaching duties after becoming athletic director in 1969.

Sparger was inducted into the UW-Stout "Hall of Fame" in 1980, and into the NAIA District 14 "Hall of Fame" in 1985.

After working as sports editor of the Stevens Point Daily Journal and the Daily Jefferson County Union (Fort Atkinson), Butler joined the Wisconsin State Journal as a sports writer February 1, 1953. He retired from the State Journal June 30, 1987. He covered practically every Badger athletic team at one time or another and wrote a regular sports column for 26 years.

PREVIEW OF 1992 WSUC FOOTBALL SEASON

Defense usually determines what team dominates the Wisconsin State University Conference football race, but the team that comes up with the most productive quarterback just might determine the champion in 1992. That's because some of the clutch signal-callers from last season won't be around for the coming campaign.

Defending champion La Crosse is looking for someone to replace Dennis Goettl, who led the conference in passing yards last season. Platteville lost Eric Wixom, a "gamer" who made the all-conference first team because of his clutch play when the Pioneers needed him most.

Dennis Bogacz, who starred at Oshkosh for two years before transferring to Whitewater and leading the Warhawks to the 1990 championship, also has used up his eligibility and this has sent coach Bob Berezowitz on a massive hunt for a replacement.

Oshkosh had great hopes for Greg DePagter at quarterback last season but the sophomore was injured and decided to concentrate on baseball, a sport at which he also excels. Curt Miller jumped into the breach for the Titans and played adequately, but he won't be back this fall either.

Eau Claire, River Falls, Stevens Point, Stout and Superior do have experienced quarterbacks returning and that bodes well for their drive to move up in the conference. Although Blugold Steve Rohrscheib received only honorable mention all-conference last fall, he finished as the league's top-rated passer. Still, the Blugolds shared last place with Superior.

Tom Hepburn, a 5-7, 155-pound speedster, returns for his senior year at River Falls. One difficulty the Falcons face is that Hepburn won't be handing off to graduated Shane Williams, the WSUC's leading rusher last season.

Roger Hauri, still only a junior, possesses a wealth of experience in the Stevens Point system. He averaged 200 yards a game passing in 1991 and ranked third in total offense. One of his drawbacks is that he must operate this season without wide receiver Barry Rose, the conference's most valuable player in '91 who led the league with 47 receptions and 66 points.

Senior Jimbo Miklesh gets the first crack at leading the Blue Devils again and Superior's Chad Johnson gears up for his second year with the Yellowjackets after spending his freshman season at Eau Claire. Johnson, another "wishbone" quarterback, ran for 155 yards and passed for 609 last season.

Still, La Crosse, Stevens Point and Whitewater are mentioned more prominently than other teams during discussions of WSUC contenders. Although quarterback is a key position, probably more important are defensive statistics that showed La Crosse first, Stevens Point second and Whitewater fourth in the league last season.

La Crosse won't have Goettl, who led the Eagles to championships in 1989 and '91, but coach Roger Haring can call on fullback John Janke and halfback Erik Richards, who rushed for a combined 1,496 yards on the way to the school's 24th conference championship. These two will be running behind an experience offensive line that should be better even than last season.

Stevens Point hopes are up despite losing a strong contingent of talented players. The defense is solid with linebacker Andy Chilcote and tackle John Schmitt, while Hauri triggers an offense that features speedy halfback Jimmy Henderson, from whom great things are expected.

Whitewater lost probably more talented players from last season than any team in the conference. Still, the Warhawks didn't repeat as champions and now Berezowitz is counting on unheralded newcomers to spearhead a resurgence.

Despite concentration on offensive performers, coaches quietly will devote most of their time to developing strong defensive units. These mentors to a man agree that's where championships are won or lost.

PROSPECTS FOR 1992

Greg Polnasek returns to his alma mater as a first-year head coach and Blugold football is likely to look somewhat different from the past five seasons. Polnasek expects the run to set up the pass which means that "Air Eau Claire" will no longer be in vogue. Also, the defense will be geared to stop the rush first and special teams must play more significant roles.

The Blugolds return 33 lettermen, including eight on offense and six on defense who started at least six games last season. One of the key players on offense is quarterback Steve Rohrscheib, the top-ranked passer in the conference last season. The senior passed for 2,174 yards with 18 touchdowns and only seven interceptions in all games. "His experience and leadership will prove valuable to us this year," Polnasek said.

Complementing Rohrscheib is a strong contingent of running backs that features Aaron Meixner, Matt Annis and C.J. Brantner. Tight end Pete Khanna might be converted to a fullback and redshirt Rick Crutchley is another potential running threat. Dave Brenke, John Farrell, Chad Lundak, Mike Mitra, Pat Pfersch, Don Fruhlke, Mike Stolarzyk and Joel Schenk provide depth and experience to the offensive line.

The area in need of most attention is the receiving corps where Bill Johnston, John Finnigan and Mark Carlson, who combined for 14 touchdown catches, have been lost. The top returnee, Khanna with 24 catches, could wind up at fullback. The only other player, other than a back, who caught passes last season was Eddie Bray. He also will double as a kicker and punter.

Defensively, the linebackers could provide the "leadership and overall toughness that the rest of the defense can feed off," according to Polnasek. That group is keyed by juniors Craig Jilek and Tyler Glaser, senior Dana Strain and sophomores Nick Meske and Todd Terry. Up front the Blugolds will have veterans in Kreg Hall, Brad Wallin and Marc Rueger.

The secondary, like the receivers on offense, will be the most inexperience and needs the most attention on defense. But Polnasek thinks that "with some position adjustments, the secondary could be OK." Junior Todd Hoytink will give the new coach a start there after manning one of the corner positions during the entire 1991 season. In addition to a solid freshman class, Polnasek also should benefit from the 30-plus redshirt players from last season.

PROSPECTS FOR 1992

The Eagles won La Crosse's 24th conference football championship last season, the 10th under Roger Harring, who is heading into his 24th season as the school's head coach. They figure to challenge again this year, spearheaded by an offense that returns 10 starters off the 1991 juggernaut.

"Our offense is one where we do different things to take advantage of the defenses that don't react properly, and over the years we have done that successfully," Harring explained. "Balance on offense is what we work towards."

All-conference fullback John Janke and halfback Erik Richards return after combining for 1,496 yards rushing last season. Janke led the Eagles with 896 yards rushing, 46 pass receptions and 15 touchdowns. They will be operating behind a young offensive line that matured last year and should be better than ever. Anchoring that unit is all-conference tackle Dave Klubertanz, a 6-3, 225-pound senior.

Gone, though, is quarterback Dennis Goettl, a three-year starter who led the Eagles to championships in 1989 and '91. Junior Jason Gonnion gets the first crack as Goettl's replacement. He showed talent and poise last year in limited action, completing five of seven passes for 156 yards and one touchdown. Curt Hughest and Mark Hayford are backups.

"There's certainly a little concern when you lose a quality quarterback like Goettl, but fortunately most of the offense is returning intact," Harring said. "Gonnion has a lot of touch and can throw the ball deep. He also has the poise and ability we're looking for."

The biggest voids were left on defense where seven starters are gone, including tackle Jon Wiltzius, linebackers Jon Lauscher and John Mirasola and safety Fritz Leinfelder, all first-team all-conference performers. Plenty of defensive talent remains, though, headed by all-WSUC back Scott Amond and 6-5, 270-pound tackle Rich Schaaf.

"The players have the confidence they can do the job," Harring concluded. "The hitting will be the same as it has been. That is a trademark of La Crosse teams."

PROSPECTS FOR 1992

The Titans hope to move into the first division of the WSUC in 1992 after finishing fifth last season for the third time in four years. Ron Cardo, heading into his ninth year as head coach, welcomes back 28 lettermen from a team that posted a 5-5 record, 4-4 in the conference.

Three players are vying for the quarterback job, including sophomore Doug Van Asten, who saw limited action last year, throwing only six passes in competition. Two newcomers in consideration for the position are freshmen Todd Terrell and Jeff Lyne.

Kelly Rollin, last year's leading rusher, graduated and sophomore Jason Tarkowski returns as the Titans' top ground-gainer. Tarkowski ran for 485 yards on the ground last season and scored four touchdowns despite missing two games and parts of two others due to injuries. Other veteran running backs are seniors Mark Riemer and Vince Jiuditta.

Senior tight end Tim Viegut returns for his second season in a starting role after catching a team-leading 32 passes for 352 yards last year. The Titans have both wide receiver positions open but will be hard-pressed to replace Scott Kaufman, who graduated after catching 25 passes for 494 yards and seven touchdowns in 1991. Sophomore Tom Petri figures to fill one of the wide receiver positions.

Big voids were left in the offensive line by the graduation of center Bob Czarnecki and tackle Bill Rotta, both first-team all-conference picks last November. Anchoring the offensive line will be junior guard Ray Kortbein, the lone returning starter in the forward wall. Returning lettermen expected to compete for starting berths are junior guard Mike Bond and John Cummings.

Seven starters return on defense but the big task is replacing all-conference first-team tackle Jeff Rowan, Oshkosh's most valuable player last season. Returnees in the defensive front include Mike Carver and Brian Weber. Seniors Torris Epps and Chris Botsford bolster the linebacking corps and two-year starter Rick Grable leads a strong strong group in the secondary.

"We have a good nucleus returning," Cardo said. "We obviously have several holes to fill on offense, but we have a good group in the program who are ready to step in and help us build upon what we accomplished last season."

PROSPECTS FOR 1992

Typical of George Chryst's teams of the past, the Pioneers won their last three games and assured a fourth-place finish in the WSUC. Included was a 26-18 decision over Stevens Point that eventually denied the Pointers a share of the championship with La Crosse. Chryst must find a way to get out of the blocks faster. Slow starts have plagued the Pioneers recently.

This won't be easy because Chryst will be developing a new quarterback to replace the graduated Eric Wixom. Although the former Madison West High School athlete finished in the middle of the pack among WSUC quarterbacks statistically, league coaches voted him first-team all-conference honors. He earned that honor because of his ability to perform exceptionally well in clutch situations. Coaches like to call such athletes "gamers."

Also missing from last year's team is all-conference tight end Rod Johnson as well as defensive standouts end Jeff Keuter, tackle Mike Vannoy, nose guard Ken Nies and linebacker Mark Lehnerr. Nies made the all-conference second team last season. The voids left by these defensive people and Wixom present Platteville coaches with their main projects in preseason practice.

All is not lost, however. Returnees include running backs Tom Steger and Rob Dal Santo, split end Joe Oberneder and defensive end Greg Franzen. Steger made the all-conference second team as an all-purpose back. Chryst summed up his offense this way, "We have good running backs but lack of a runner with break-away speed. Our line gained experience in '91 but needs to make up for lack of size and quickness. The receivers are above average."

Defensively, the Pioneers start with two excellent linebackers in Bruce Figi and Todd Karcz. The secondary hits well but also lacks speed, according to the coach. The line is big but lacks experience. Again this season these players must develop in early games and this part of the schedule appears extremely demanding with successive games against strong non-conference opponent Dayton and perennial WSUC powers Whitewater and La Crosse.

The Pioneers lost to Whitewater, 21-6, and La Crosse, 14-12, last year. If they could reverse those outcomes this season, 1992 could be the year of the Pioneers.

PROSPECTS FOR 1992

Coach John O'Grady hopes to start rebuilding Falcon football fortunes to past heights as preseason practice opens with numerous question marks. River Falls enjoyed eight straight winning seasons, including four WSUC championships, before slipping to 3-4-1 in the conference in 1990 and 2-5-1 last season. This didn't set well with O'Grady, who has enjoyed success at River Falls as a player and a coach.

The Falcons have lost some key people, headed by fullback Shane Williams, who averaged 105 yards a game rushing last fall, first in the conference. Also gone from the offense are halfback Price Davis, tackle Bruce Quinton, guard Glen Woychik and tight end Ron Hanestad. The defense hasn't fared any better with linebackers Mike Olson and John Golden along with tackle Brian Fleisner and Jamie Jankowski missing from the lineup.

O'Grady again will build his offense around the "wishbone" and on the plus side veteran Tom Hepburn, a 5-7, 155-pound senior, gets the first crack as triggerman at quarterback. The line will be anchored by guard Glenn Oehlke, a first-team all-conference performer last season. Whether or not the Falcons can move the ball consistently will determine their ability to compete with the contenders.

The defense starts with a little more experience. Linebacker Joe Kelly was credited with 119 tackles last season, second highest total in the conference. There are a couple of positions to fill in the defensive line but eight starters return on that side of the ball and this aspect is encouraging. As most coaches contend, success or failure in football starts with defense.

O'Grady also will be looking for a new punter and this part of the game always has been given high priority at River Falls. Chris O'Brien, who averaged 34.2 yards on 53 punts last season, is gone. However, placekicker Sam Dummer returns for what coaches hope will be productive junior season.

The Falcons start the season against UM-Morris, a team they defeated, 14-0, last year. Next comes St. Thomas (Minn.), traditionally one of the strongest small colleges team in the Upper Midwest. River Falls expects the latter game will give them an indication of what to expect in the coming season against conference foes.

PROSPECTS FOR 1992

Optimism prevails around the Stevens Point football program. The Pointers shared second place with Whitewater last year, a game behind champion La Crosse. They were 0-2-1 at the outset last season and then won six of their last seven games, faltering only against Platteville, 26-18. That cost them a share of the championship.

Coach John Miech will miss several key people this year, including wide receiver Barry Rose, who led the conference in pass receiving and scoring and was named the WSUC's most valuable player. Also gone from the offense are tackles Kurt Krueger and LeRoy Dobson and a valuable backup quarterback, Rip Flippo. The departure of all-conference kicker Dave Schneider also hurts.

Replacements also must be found for defensive linemen Eric McGath and Mike Leinstock, linebackers Dave Schepp and Tom Cox as well as Pete McAdams from the secondary. McAdams was credited with 74 tackles last season, including 57 solos, and he intercepted four enemy passes in WSUC competition.

Key returnees include linebacker Andy Chilcote and defensive tackle John Schmitt, both first-team all-conference, as well as defensive back Dan Mlachnik, quarterback Roger Hauri and offensive center Ben Hoffman. According to Miech and Terry Owens, the Pointers' self-styled sport information grunt, offensive productivity could center around three former UW-Madison Badgers--Hoffman, wide receiver Tim Ott and running back Jimmy Henderson.

Ott, from Hilbert, was all-state and played in the 1990 Shrine Bowl high school all-star game. Henderson contributed 72 yards a game rushing last season and possesses break-away speed.

"We have the program right where we want it," Miech and Owens emphasized. "We have a great group of young men. Their work ethic is outstanding." They say their optimism is fortified by the team's "good chemistry, great leadership and several key performers returning".

The big preseason projects include finding somebody like Rose, who added so much pizzaz to the offense, and replacing both offensive tackles and defensive tackles. This is a big order but Miech is confident.

PROSPECTS FOR 1992

Lack of depth continues to plague the Blue Devils as they prepare for the 1992 season. Coach Rich Lawrence is optimistic about front-line offensive performers and they should be able to compete with most Stout opponents. Backups are a worry, especially if a rash of injuries hits the Blue Devils.

Key among offensive returnees are running back Rich Vargas, quarterback Jimbo Miklesh and linemen Jason Roettger and Chris Palmer. Vargas, a first-team all-conference performer, was the second-leading WSUC rusher last season, averaging 101 yards a game and five yards a carry. His performance was featured by three games of 200-plus yards.

Replacing practically the entire defense remains the biggest task confronting Lawrence and his staff. The biggest void was left by the departure of all-conference tackle Darin Mrachek, a 6-3, 260-pounder. This presents a problem because the Blue Devils ranked third in overall conference defense last season, third in rushing and passing defense.

Kyle Fagerland, who made the all-conference second team as a defensive back, gives the secondary some stability. Lawrence is looking for incoming freshmen and several transfer students to fill gaps left by departing seniors.

Lawrence also points to Vargas as an inspiration to his teammates. The Franklin senior is married and a father, holds down two jobs, stars in football and track, while also excelling in the classroom.

The Blue Devils compiled a 5-5 record last year, 3-5 in the conference, but Lawrence believes his team has a chance to finish in the first division this season if the defense can be rebuilt. He feels the offense is adequate with an experienced line, speedy backs and a solid punter in Andy Caflisch.

Miklesh must play a prominent role if the Blue Devils expect to move up in the standings. He averaged 122 yards a game total offense last season with 117 coming through the air, but threw for only four touchdowns. The Ironwood, Mich., senior must beef up those figures for Stout to challenge the conference front-runners.

PROSPECTS FOR 1992

Heading into his second year as Yellowjackets coach, Dan Lounsbury starts with talented quarterback Chad Johnson competing again with a season of experience triggering the veteran mentor's triple option offense. With only 19 lettermen returning, Lounsbury must find an effective supporting cast for Johnson, a hometown favorite.

The biggest plus on offense probably is junior fullback Tom Belanger, another hometown product who made the all-conference first team last year on the strength of his tough running from the triple option. Belanger ranked third in conference rushing last fall, averaging 87 yards a game and 3.4 yards a carry. He was a workhorse, carrying 206 times in 1991, more than anyone else in the conference.

Toughest to replace is Larry Thomas, who made the first all-conference team last year as the all-purpose back. He led the WSUC in punt returns and was capable of playing a variety of positions. Much of Superior's success will depend on how fast newcomers develop, particularly in the offensive line, where center Neil Mattson, guard Darryn Davidson and tackle Gary Gibbs are missing.

Equally disconcerting were the losses on defense, especially the departure of linebackers Derrick Winn and Brian Buol and tackle Dale Mundle. Buol was a first-team all-conference selection who led the Yellowjackets in tackles with 76, including 42 solos. Winn was not far behind with 67 stops.

"We expect some improvement," Lounsbury commented, while assessing prospects for his second season at the helm. Lack of depth, though, is a continuing problem for Superior as the Yellowjackets try to improve on their 2-6-1 record of last season. Highlight of 1991 was Superior's 16-14 upset of Whitewater and a 26-all tie with Eau Claire. The Yellowjackets proved they could be competitive and they carry that optimism into the 1992 season.

It's was too early to determine when this prospectus was written what Superior can expect in the way of help from incoming freshmen and transfer students. Some help is essential, though, and Lounsbury is confident.

PROSPECTS FOR 1992

This is a rebuilding year for the Warhawks, who shared second place last season after winning the 1990 conference championship with an 8-0 record. Graduation took its toll with the likes of quarterback Dennis Bogacz, wide receiver Anthony Talton, tailback Travis Talton and linebacker Kyle Dempsey no longer around.

If you don't think this is a problem for coach Bob Berezowitz, consider that Bogacz was all-conference quarterback in 1990, Anthony Talton an all-WSUC wide receiver last year, Travis Talton a two-time league rushing leader and Dempsey the conference's fourth leading tackler in 1991.

Major problems to be solved are finding replacements at quarterback and linebacker. No one comes into preseason camp with any great amount of experience at these positions. Berezowitz also must replace four starters in the offensive line, although some returning prospects have game experience.

Also missing are two quality defensive backs, all-conference Jeff Wiese and Rod Donart, who led the WSUC with five pass interceptions last season. Berezowitz, though, does have six defensive starters returning and he likes the fact that the Warhawks will be young but experienced with competition at all positions.

One of the most interesting defenders is tackle Brian Hooper, who at 6-3 and 300-plus pounds literally anchors the defensive line. He has been clocked at 5.2 seconds in the 40-yard dash. His talent and work ethic make him a candidate for national honors.

Also on the plus side are returning wide receivers Jeff Patterson and Mike Bell. The Warhawks expect to be competitive and how quickly newcomers develop will determine to what extent they can challenge for the title again.

Bolstering Whitewater's group of returning lettermen are incoming freshmen and a group of transfer students from as far away as Oregon State and North Dakota and as close as Carthage and UW-Madison. These people could step in and make the Warhawks instant contenders.

PREVIEW OF THE 1992-93 BASKETBALL SEASONWISCONSIN STATE UNIVERSITY CONFERENCE

Eau Claire, Platteville, Stevens Point and Whitewater have dominated Wisconsin State University Conference basketball for the past 14 years and league coaches figure that trend is likely to continue during the coming season.

The Bugolds have won four undisputed championships and shared three other titles since 1979. Stevens Point also claimed four crowns and tied for two during that span. The Pioneers won clear titles in 1988 and '90 and the Warhawks tied for championships in '84 and '89.

The five other WSUC teams have not been able to crack that domination since Oshkosh won in 1978. Although Stevens Point prevailed with a 15-1 record last season, don't look for the Pionters to launch another dynasty as they did under coach Dick Bennett in the middle '80s. A wide open race is predicted, but open basically to the four dominant clubs of the past 14 years.

And, the general consensus insists Eau Claire, which didn't have a player among the top 19 scorers last season, is the team to beat. Opponents point out that coach Ken Anderson starts with most of his principal performers from a year ago, including Mike Hatch, Willie Green and Todd Stepanek.

Anderson, who built a legendary string of contenders since 1970, seldom falls far from the top and with a year or more under his system the current crop of athletes possess championship qualities.

Defending champion Stevens Point should be a factor again but coach Bob Parker won't have Jon Julius, the bell cow of last season's title drive, to lead the current charge. Also gone is guard Mike Harrison, another all-conference performer. This season he must blend 7-foot Jack Lothian and all-conference guard Andy Boario with newcomers.

Platteville, which finished second last season but again made the NCAA Division III Final Four, also lost some key personnel, including Carlton Jeter. Still, the Pioneers figure to challenge with talented guard T.J. Van Wie, Pat Murphy and Ernie Peavy. Coach Bo Ryan should have people ready to apply baseline to baseline pressure again this season.

Considering all the facts, rivals continue to cast wary glances toward Whitewater. The Warhawks finished fourth the past two years and lost the conference's second and third leading scorers from last season. But, coach Dave Vander Meulen has landed some quality transfers and promising freshman recruits to go with big Jeff Jones, one of the most solid big men in the WSUC last season.

That leaves River Falls, Stout, Oshkosh, La Crosse and Superior to scramble in a conference respected as one of the toughest in Division III. They epitomize the old adage concerning "any given night" but they haven't been able to knock off the contenders often enough.

Last season the Falcons tripped Eau Claire and lost by one point to Stevens Point. The Blue Devils whipped River Falls twice and climaxed the season with an upset of Platteville. The Titans also knocked off Eau Claire but couldn't develop consistency. The Eagles beat Stout twice but lost to Superior, the Yellowjackets' only conference victory.

River Falls coach Rick Bowen finds himself in what Yogi Berra calls "deja vu all over again." He will be without his two top scorers for the second year in a row. If coach John Muraski can find a quality inside player, Stout could be the team from this group to move up.

Coach Ted Van Dellen must develop some depth at Oshkosh, La Crosse's Charlie Gross is the conference's only new coach and Glenn Carlson still struggles with the numbers game at Superior. Just about the only sure bet is that no team will "coast" to the 1992-93 title.

The Blugolds received considerable support among rivals as one of the teams to beat in the coming WSUC race. Although Eau Claire finished third in the conference with an 11-5 record, 20-9 overall, the Blugolds were always dangerous, which became a Ken Anderson-coached team's trademark early in his tenure.

Gone from last season's team are guard Marcus Buckley, Thane Anderson and Mark Frederiksen. Buckley is not returning for his junior season after an all-conference performance as a sophomore. He will be missed particularly because of his 10.1 points a game and exceptional floor generalship. He led the conference last season with 5.8 assists a game.

Leading returnees include all-conference guard Willie Green; Mike Hatch, Eau Claire's leading scorer last season with an 11.9 average, and center Todd Stepanek, who averaged 8.8 points and 5.1 rebounds as a sophomore. Also back is another sophomore, Billy Van Wie, a 6-5 forward who should be ready to step to the forefront with a year under Anderson's system.

Redshirts Ryan Koski, Rudy Collum, Tony Giombetti and Jase Graber also are expected to contribute this season along with transfers Keith Pabich from La Crosse and John Schmiesing from North Dakota State. Anderson is seldom, if ever, caught without quality players and that's why rival coaches are convinced the veteran coach will find the right mix on his current roster to challenge for the championship again this season.

PROSPECTS FOR 1992-93

Charlie Gross takes over as head coach while Randy Handel continues work toward an advance degree. It won't be an easy assignment for the new coach. The Eagles finished eighth last season with a 4-12 record and 11-15 overall. Continuity, or lack of it, has been a problem at La Crosse in recent years and could plague Gross as he tries to build a program.

Three players who led the Eagles last season--Anthony Glover, Tom Eckles and Tom Olsen--are not listed among returnees. This emphasizes the depth problem Gross faces at the outset. Lack of size, quickness and experience accentuate difficulties in the job ahead. This might not be all bad, though, while installing a new system.

"Our big goal is to be competitive and successful within the conference," Gross explained. "My goal is to get them to be the hardest working team in the conference. I've got to continue where Coach Handel left off in developing the program. I'm excited, enthused and interested to be here."

Returnees expected to get the first crack at starting spots include guards Dave Shaw and Ryan Gannon, swingman Matt Kelliher and 6-9 center Duane Stich. Gross plans a motion offense with a four- or three-man motion on the perimeter and a transition game "when it's there."

PROSPECTS FOR 1992-93

Ted Van Dellen continues his quest to rebuild Titan basketball to its past glories, but he faces the season without Kurt Woelffer and Rick Bunge, two of his better players last season. The Titans wound up seventh in the conference with a 5-11 record and 12-14 overall.

Bunge averaged 12.1 points a game last season and Woelffer 11.1. They had grown up in Van Dellen's system and their experience will be missed as the coach heads into his third season at the helm of the Titans.

Oshkosh starts on the plus side with 6-7 Tarique Al-Iesa, 6-5 Todd Hencsik and 6-2 Scott Pritzl. Al-Iesa averaged 13.8 points a game last season and made almost 62 percent of his field goal attempts. Pritzl averaged 12.7 points a game and led the Titans with 5.3 rebounds. Hencsik scored 9.7 points a game, grabbed 5.1 rebounds and hit 37 of 45 free throws.

Van Dellen has hopes newcomers Rob Slavens, Forrest Olson, Troy Gill, Jamal Turrentine and Jeff Johnson can elevate the Titans to a more competitive posture in the conference. What they might contribute is depth to Oshkosh's up-tempo offensive philosophy. The big problem is a lack of overall quickness which can't be coached.

"There are no returning all-conference players," Van Dellen pointed out. "We should be a much deeper team and we hope to be competitive." One of Oshkosh's strengths last season was rebounding. The Titans averaged 36.7 rebounds a game, second in the WSUC. If they can continue close to those statistics, Oshkosh will be competitive.

PROSPECTS FOR 1992-93

The Pioneers finished second in the WSUC for the second year in a row but once again earned a berth in the NCAA Division III Final Four. They lost in the semi-finals but beat Jersey City for third place. Gone from that team that was 13-3 in the WSUC and 27-4 overall are all-conference Carlton Jeter plus Brian Gilmore, Billy Reid and Mark Macomber.

All-American guard T.J. Van Wie heads the list of returnees. He was the fifth-ranked conference scorer with a 16.4 average. Now that both centers, Gilmore and Macomber, are gone, along with two of the top three scorers, Jeter and Reid, it's obvious the Pioneers must reload their offense with newcomers.

Coach Bo Ryan has enjoyed exceptional success with his "swing" offense at Platteville and will continue the tradition this season. As in the past, look for the fullcourt pressure defense that Ryan has made a trademark of his program.

Back with Van Wie are R.A. Caves, Pat Murphy and Ernie Peavy, the latter coming off a strong freshman season. Murphy is a sharpshooter who made almost 62 percent of his field goal attempts last season and 81 percent of his free throws. Ryan hopes to receive substantial help from newcomers but won't know about his recruiting success until the ball goes up for the first time in the fall.

Complicating Rick Bowen's task of finding replacements for six of last season's top nine players is the fact that he has assumed the additional responsibilities of athletic director with his basketball coaching duties. He replaced veteran Don Page in the AD's chair at the start of the school year.

Among the missing are all-conference Marcus Lane and Kevin Larson, who finished as the seventh and eighth leading scorers in the WSUC last season with averages of 15.3 and 15.1 points, respectively. They were instrumental in enabling River Falls to register its third straight winning season.

Top scorers returning are guard Brian Menzel and 6-6 John Quinn, who averaged 10.8 and 10.4 points a game in the conference last season. Quinn also averaged 6.3 rebounds a game, fifth best in the WSUC, and Bowen said, "John Quinn will be a top WSUC player in the 1992-93 season." Also back is 6-7 Craig Mell, another proven veteran.

Bowen has compiled an 83-80 record at River Falls and is only four wins away from becoming the all-time winningest coach in Falcon history. Newcomers, and those include promising recruits and transfers who are expected in the fall, figure to play a role this season. "We again will be very competitive but not good enough to win it," Bowen concluded.

PROSPECTS FOR 1992-93

The Pointers reached the pinnacle last season, winning their first WSUC championship since 1987 and earning a berth in the prestigious NAIA tournament at Kansas City. They compiled a 15-1 record in the conference and 27-2 overall, including 22 straight victories before losing in the second round at Kansas City.

Gone from that group, though, are four-year starter Jon Julius at power forward and three-year starter Mike Harrison at shooting guard. Julius led the conference in scoring with 20 points a game, earned all-league honors and was named the WSUC's most valuable player. Harrison also made all-conference and averaged 14.2 points a game.

The nucleus is gone but returnees include all-conference guard Andy Boario and 7-foot center Jack Lothian, who made almost 60 percent of his field goal attempts and averaged 12.3 points and six rebounds a game last season. Boario, a point guard who triggered the Pointer offense, averaged 14.1 points a game, while dishing off 4.1 assists.

Coach Bob Parker considers the Pointers a "darkhorse" heading into this season. He is looking for newcomers to fill some voids but says veterans with experience and knowledge of his system are strengths. Lack of quickness presents a problem and Parker emphasizes the Pointers need at least one "go-to" player like Julius to defend their championship successfully.

PROSPECTS FOR 1992-93

Coach John Muraski has 12 lettermen returning so this probably is the most experienced squad in his tenure at Stout. The only regular missing is versatile Mike Kunderling, a talented athlete who excelled in both basketball and track.

But, returnees include Chris Korba, Pete Benilas and Randy Neve. Korba ranked fourth in conference scoring last season with a 16.9-point average, including a school record 43-point performance against Oshkosh. Neve averaged 13 points and Binell 12.7 points and 5.6 rebounds.

"I believe our perimeter game is strong," Muraski explained. "We have finally arrived with some experience and players that have been through the wars. Our inside game must improve from an offensive standpoint and more so as a defensive stopper. We need depth at that position and an understanding of the word patience in our offense."

Stout compiled a 6-10 conference record and was 13-13 overall. The Blue Devils aim to improve on that but need some help from newcomers to compete with leading contenders. "We finished on a high note, so hopefully we can continue in that direction," Muraski concluded. He was referring to victories over River Falls and Platteville in the last two games of 1991-92.

The Yellowjackets still are struggling to escape that losing mode that has kept them mired in the WSUC's second division so long. Now, though, coach Glenn Carlson has hopes his current athletes have attained enough experience and savvy to get his program on the right track.

Last season was the second year in a row his recruiting efforts paid off with players who contributed immediately. Steve Berchild and Rick Carl saw much more action than freshmen usually do. These two along with with sophomore Dan Serkowski, Todd Anderson, the conference's leading three-point shooter, and Brian Larson will make up the nucleus of Superior's squad for the next two years, according to Carlson.

Serkowski finished ninth in conference scoring last season with a 14.9 average and he was third in rebounding with 6.9 retrieves a game. Carl contributed 9.9 points a game while learning the ropes in the physical WSUC. Carlson believes his two returning seniors, Bob Bissell and Greg Breau, will contribute this season because they both played well down the stretch in 1991-92.

"Our recruiting efforts have been focused on size and quickness," the coach said. "With any luck this program will get going in the next year. We feel if we mature and improve as players, we'll be able to move up in the conference."

The Warhawks come into the season as an unknown quantity because coach Dave Vander Meulen must rely on so many newcomers. Gone are the standouts of last year's team--Vince Nichols, James Hodges and Tim Brown. Hodges and Nichols were all-conference performers and Brown a playmaking guard who averaged 4.7 assists a game.

Hodges was the conference's second-ranked scorer and rebounder, averaging 19.4 points and 7.8 retrieves. Nichols ranked third in scoring with an 18-point average. Those statistics accentuate the magnitude of the job facing Vander Meulen at the outset. This looks like a major rebuilding project.

Not all is lost, however. Heading the list of nine returning lettermen is 6-11 center Jeff Jones, probably the most underrated player in the conference last season. Not only did Jones finish sixth in scoring with a 16.2 average, he led all rebounders with 8.5 a game, yet received only honorable mention in the all-conference balloting.

The Warhawks are hoping for help from three transfers--6-4 Ty Evans from Richmond, 6-6 Jay MacGregory from Coastal Carolina and 6-1 Troy Coleman from Mesa Community College--and freshman recruit Mike Dammen from Madison West's WIAA champions. Dammen is a sharpshooter whose three-pointers helped dethrone Milwaukee King in the WIAA championship game. Another top prospect is 6-3 Jeremy Hodges of Clinton, brother of James, who made such a distinguished name for himself in Whitewater's program.

Van Wie earned a 3.87 grade point average with a double major of finance and accounting while also being named all-American in basketball. McDonald earned a 3.63 GPA in accounting and Mortenson a 3.35 in communication arts.

An elementary education and coaching major, Straub made a 3.42 besides becoming only the eighth Warhawk wrestler in history to achieve 100 victories.

La Crosse Enjoys Banner Track Season

La Crosse athletes won Wisconsin State University and NCAA Division III track and field championship both indoors and outdoors in 1992. The Eagles captured their third straight conference title indoors and their 16th in the last 18 years.

The Eagles followed that title by successfully defending their Division III crown at Stevens Point by scoring 57 points, eight more than runnerup Lincoln (Pa.). Twelve different La Crosse athletes scored in the meet, including Bill Schroeder, who finished first in the triple jump and second in the long jump.

Schroeder then sparked the Eagles to 246 points in the conference outdoor meet, winning the triple jump, javelin and decathlon, finishing second in the long jump and running anchor leg on the victorious 4x100 relay team. Eau Claire finished second in the meet with 91 points.

La Crosse also repeated outdoors in the Division III meet at Colby College in Waterville, Me., with 73.5 points. Lincoln again took second with 51.3. La Crosse winners included Bruce Reynolds in the high jump and the 4x400 relay team of Rob Bean, Chris Carley, David Coates and Chad Wilkinson. Oshkosh's Scott Steuernagel won the 3,000-meter steeplechase, Platteville's Paul Conlin took the shot put and Whitewater's Steve Travis finished first in the 800-meter run.
