HARESFOOT COACH ANNOUNCES EIGHT FOR CAST PARTS

Rivers, Newly Discovered Star, and Butts to Take Feminine Leads

The cast for "Twinkle Twinkle," Haresfoot's 26th production, was announced last night by Director E. Mortimer Shuter, after two weeks of tryouts and two more weeks of preliminary rehearsals.

The eight men who were chosen and the parts they will fill are: Porter F. Butts '24, Leonis; Byron F. Rivers '26, Antlia; Robert B. Talley '25, Billie; Gordon F. Brine '26, Jack; A. Vinton Stegeman '24, Serpens; Thomas A. McLean '24, Checquo; Victor D. Werner '25, King Taurus; and F. Sherman Baker '26, Zelda.

The leading female parts are those of Antlia and Leonis, the daughters of King Taurus. Opposite them play Jack and Billie, two typical youths who wander from earth in search of love and romance at the end of the Milky Way.

Rivers is a "Find" Serpens is the dark haired villain of the piece, Checquo the harrassed keeper of the exchequer, Taurus the dignified ruler of the planet, and Zelda the street dancer.

Butts, who is president of the club, played a female lead in the two previous Haresfoot productions. He also appeared in Union Vodvil two years ago. Rivers is a new addition to the Haresfoot players this year. He had a dancing part in the Haresfoot Follies, Union Vodvil, and was last seen as the modern girl in Haresfoot's skit at the University birthday party.

Brine is another find of the club this year. He dances and furnishes comic contrast to the juvenile, Bob Talley. Talley, for two years, has been known in university circles as a versatile musician and singer.

McLean had a comic female role in last year's show, "Kikmi," and has appeared in several comedies done by the Wisconsin players. Stegeman also has a reputation as a dance musician and singer.

Werner played a leading role in "Mixed Marriages" given last fall by the Wisconsin players, and has had dramatic experience at Lawrence college, Appleton. Baker is remembered as the King Tut dancer in Kikmi.

William Purnell '22, assistant to the director, conducted the tryouts of the 72 candidates. Final choice of the principals was made by Director Shuter. The cast, rehearsing daily, has completed the first act, and is ready to start on the second today.

BOSTOVZTEFF TO TALK TO PALESTINE CLUB

Professor Rostovtzeff of the history department will address the Palestine Builders society Sunday morning at 10:15 o'clock at their regular meeting in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall.

The text of his talk will be, "The Jews in Egypt." Professor Rostovtzeff is an international authority in matters pertaining to ancient history, and his presentation will be based upon extensive study of the subject.

The Palestine builders society welcomes all students to attend this meeting.

Plan Program By University Concert Band For March 23

The university concert band will give a free concert Sunday afternoon, March 23, in Music hall. The concert will be broadcasted from Music hall on March 17 at 8 o'clock. "We want every one of the 7,800 students to hear this band before they go home for the Easter vacation," Major Morphy, director of the band said.

"This band was organized for the specific purpose of playing indoors. It is entirely different from hearing 200 men march down the middle of the street blowing their heads off to arouse pep."

Ellen Knight is Selected First Lady of Military Ball

225 TICKETS UNSOLD FOR HEIFETZ CONCERT

Only 225 tickets remain unsold for the Jascha Heifetz concert in the university gymnasium March 19. This is the last number of the Union Board concert series for this year. Tickets may be procured at Hook Brother's music store.

JOURNALISM CLASS TO EDIT MAGAZINE

Feature Writing Course To Control May Issue of Wisconsin Magazine

The May number of the Wisconsin magazine will be edited by the members of the special feature class in journalism, according to information obtained from Prof. W. C. Bleyer, who is conducting the class. The plan has never been carried out before.

Arrangements have been made with Harry Steeholm, editor of the Wisconsin magazine, to have the class in feature writing take over the magazine for May and furnish all the articles in that number.

Tables of contents were submitted by 30 members of the class and 50 subjects have been approved by Mr. Steeholm as suitable and timely for the May number.

Some of the subjects that will be written for the May number are: "Wisconsin, The Land of Lakes," "Tenting Tonight?"; "Playing Host to High School Rooters"; "Touring Through Scenic Wisconsin"; "Wisconsin's Waste Lands"; "The Seventieth Anniversary of the First Graduation in Wisconsin"; "Cosmopolitan Wisconsin."

The deadline for all the articles is set at April 15, when final copies of the articles will be in after revisions by Professor Bleyer and Mr. Steeholm. The magazine will come out on May 1.

WOMEN MUST APPLY FOR COMMERCE CLUB

Women of the course in commerce, who wish to make application to the Women's Commerce club are asked to turn in their application at the commerce office, fourth floor of Sterling hall. Applications will be considered on the basis of weighted average of grades and outside activities.

The members of the organization through cooperation take up the study of various commercial problems and any work that is connected with the business world.

"I believe that the organization of the Women's Commerce club is well worth while because it fosters the idea that the detailed work in business offices is not the main thing but only a routine step to something higher," Prof. Stephen Gilman of the Commerce school said in commenting on the organization.

T. K. E. Orchestra Secured For Red Gauntlet Party

The T. K. E. orchestra has been secured to play the latter part of the afternoon for the Red Gauntlet party to be held from 3 to 6 o'clock tomorrow in Lathrop parlors. The physical education orchestra will also furnish music for the dancing.

Those who do not care to dance will find places at bridge and Mah Jongg tables. Other special features will be a solo dance by Elna Mygdal '26, a clog dance by Esther Rosenberry '26 with Dorothy Dodge '24 playing the accompaniment, and a stunt given by the following sophomores: Edith Boys, Edith Faithorn, Mildred Gray, Margaret Hoover, Edith Jorris, Elna Mygdal, Mildred Osman and Elizabeth Shephard. Ice-cream and cookies will be served.

"We want all sophomores to come and get acquainted and help make this party a huge success," declared Margaret Wegener '26, president of the organization.

Alpha Phi Senior to Lead Grand March in State Function With Lyman

Ellen C. Knight '24 was chosen queen of the twelfth annual military ball, Howard B. Lyman, general chairman, stated last night.

Miss Knight, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Knight, Evanston, Ill., is a member of Alpha Phi sorority, Orchesus, and W. A. A. She entered the university as a freshman from Evanston high school and enrolled in the College of Letters and Science.

During her four year's attendance here, Miss Knight has been active in women's athletics, dance drama and campus society circles.

BROUN ADVOCATES LESS CENSORSHIP

Modern Drama and Movies Are Toned Down For Children, Critic Says

A censor is the most stupid person in the world.

That is the central point around which Heywood Broun, New York critic, built his talk on "The Confessions of a Dramatic Critic," which he gave at Music hall last night under the auspices of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Mr. Broun, tall, broad-shouldered, and with four pencils projecting from his breast pocket bespeaking his profession, kept 400 students, faculty members, and townspeople in good humor for nearly an hour and a half while he unrolled a string of stories and anecdotes concerning the stage, motion pictures, and the problems confronting a critic. He talked in a pleasant, conversational tone, made more pleasing because of his eastern accent, and never smiled although his audience almost continually laughed at his pointed remarks.

"All censorship should be based on a sliding scale," he said. "Under the present system plays and motion pictures must be trained down to the eight-year-old child. Yet, what harm would it do if everybody were shocked once a year. I have seen plays and read books about such good people that I immediately wanted to do something wicked. It is just a matter of a little reverse English."

The theater has been better during the last five years because the plays are more true to human nature and have been about the "man around the corner" rather than about some distant character proficient in handling the rapier, he said. There is every emotion in the commonplace person.

The critic arrived in Madison yesterday afternoon and was a guest of Sigma Delta Chi at a banquet at the Delta Pi Delta house in the evening. Members of the faculty and local newspaper men were present also. Mr. Broun left for Chicago this morning on his way to Cleveland where he will give another lecture.

Foreign Flashes

WASHINGTON—Edward B. McLean, prominent Washington publisher, on the stand before the senate committee investigating the oil scandal, admitted that he had while on the stand before, what he told the committee that he had loaned $100,000 to Fall which it later developed that Doheny had given to Fall.

GENEVA—The French representative to the League of Nations cut short a discussion of the Ruhr and Saar valley occupation which was started by Premier Branting of Sweden. The Swedish delegate was told that the French were acting according to the terms of the treaty and that any discussion would be unnecessary.

CHICAGO GAME TICKETS ARE NOW SOLD OUT

There are no tickets available for the Wisconsin-Chicago basketball game Saturday evening, according to Paul F. Hunter, director of ticket sales at the University. In fact, the last of the tickets for the Chicago game were sold with those for the Butler game on February 12. It is impossible to sell standing room under the state law, declared Mr. Hunter, when asked if it would be possible to gain admission, even if a seat could not be procured.

CARDINAL PROFITS GO IN SECURITIES

Board of Control in New Ruling, Provides For Surplus Funds

The supervision and disposition of the surplus funds realized from the profits of The Cardinal's operation each year were officially designated in a new by-law to The Cardinal constitution passed by the board of control in its regular meeting yesterday.

The new by-law provides that the business manager of The Cardinal shall transfer additions to the fund to the custody of the treasurer of the board of control, that the fund shall be invested in safe and profitable securities, that it may be withdrawn only on the signed order of board treasurer and the chairman of the faculty advisory committee, and that it be applied only to the purchase of fixed equipment or to cover operating deficits.

This system of handling the surplus funds has been in existence for sometime, but it never has been officially designated as such until the passage of the present by-law.

The new by-law in full reads:

ARTICLE IV.

Section 1—At the end of each college year there shall be set aside in a betterment fund by The Cardinal board of control such part of the surplus cash as The Cardinal board of control shall vote.

Section 2—The business manager of The Cardinal shall transfer additions to this fund to the treasurer of the board, who will be the custodian of the fund.

Section 3—The treasurer of The Cardinal board of control shall, with the advice and consent of the faculty advisory committee, invest the fund in safe and profitable securities to be left in the care of a Madison bank.

Section 4—The fund or any part thereof can be withdrawn from the bank only by an order signed by the treasurer of The Cardinal board of control and the chairman of the faculty advisory committee.

Section 5—(a) The betterment fund shall be applied only upon the purchase price of fixed equipment, such as a printing press, or to cover a deficit in case the operations of any year should prove to be unsuccessful.

(b) In case of the dissolution of the corporation the fund shall be turned over to the custody of the university regents to be used for a general university purpose, such as the student loan fund or other worthy project.

March Number of Literary Magazine Will Appear Today

The March Literary magazine, in its new dress, appears on the campus today. Following a complete sell-out last month, the editors are preparing for a record sale of the March issue.

"The Courtship of Miles Standish in 1924" is the name of one of the feature stories in the issue. "The Marriage Song" by Marya Zaturensky '27 is a feature poem, and "The First Shave" by Chester Hendry will appear in the issue.

The magazine will be for sale at tables in the buildings on the campus, and at drug stores and newsstands on State street and University avenue.

SHORT COURSE TO HOLD GRADUATION EXERCISES TODAY

Fifty Get Certificates; Speakers Are Presidents Jardine and Birge

Commencement day exercises of the Short course in agriculture will commence at 9 o'clock this morning in Agricultural hall. President W. M. Jardine of the Kansas College of Agriculture will deliver the principal address on "The True Values of Farming." President Birge will give his annual address to the graduating class.

Frank Winters will deliver the class oration, and the Short course glee club and orchestra will render selections for the program.

A large crowd attended the class day exercises yesterday afternoon in Agricultural hall. President Howard Johnson gave the class address and Dr. A. S. Alexander of the College of Agriculture delivered the main address on "A Charge to Keep."

The 50 graduates of the class of 1924 are Theodore Benson, Vernon W. Buss, Raymond G. Brown, Charles A. Campbell, Fremont Conrad, Carl W. Enge, Peter C. Faust, Clarence P. Fonk, Paul F. Oster, Adolph Frelich, Edward B. Friday, Melvin O. Fried, Kenneth T. Gaarder.

Outing Club Elects Officers and Admits 13 New Members

Doris Burdick '24, was elected president of Outing club at the regular meeting held in Lathrop hall last night.

The other officers elected are Elizabeth Pier '26, vice president; Alice Colony '26, secretary; Katherine Arnuist '26, treasurer. The women elected to the board are: Fidelia Pease '26, head of fall and spring sports; Edith Jennings '25, head of winter sports; and Mildred Hansen '25, head of picnics.

Thirteen new members were taken in. They are Margaret Bell '25, Charlotte Churchill '27, Harriet Liggett '26, Mary Friz '25, Dorothy Crocker '27, Elizabeth Kuenzli '27, Mildred Kremer '26, Eugenia Moore '25, Grace Sherman '26, Gertrude Fries '25, Katherine Watson '24, Margaret Hall '27, Edith Leach '27.

Formal installation of the new officers followed the election. The constitution was amended making the duties of vice-president those of assistant to the secretary.

Ag Lit Defeats Hill Society in Annual Debate; Third Time

Agric Literary society defeated Philomathia in the third annual debate held last night in Agricultural hall. This is the third successive year that the agric society has been victorious in its contests with the hill societies, having defeated Athena last year and Hesperia the year before.

"Resolved, That the Railroads of the United States Be Compelled to Consolidate into Regional Sections as Prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission," was the proposition for debate.

Members of the winning Agri-literary society team are: Walter Renk '24, Russell Perry '25 and Herbert Schaefer '24.

Roosevelt Would Have Wild West Garden, Says Aust

"Should a garden be designed for Theodore Roosevelt, it would be a bucking bronco type, quite different from the even tones and quiet colors which would please John D. Rockefeller," said Prof. F. A. Aust of the landscape design department in the third of a series of lectures on beauty, yesterday.

"The laboring man and the machinist, go to the movies for a touch of beauty," said Professor Aust. "Women, naturally, have a greater appreciation of the aesthetic, than men. A certain uncertain concealment about beauty ties up crudelity with logic."

Professor Aust concluded his lecture with a series of slides the majority of which pictured the natural landscape.

KUNG AND CHOW LEAVE TONIGHT FOR CHINA

Muller L. H. Kung '22 and Jordan C. S. Chow '22, two Chinese graduates are leaving Madison this evening at 9:30 on the St. Paul railway, for Vancouver, where they will sail on March 20 for China.

"We have studied here for over four years and have grown to like the place very much, Kung said. It is difficult for me to say whether the anticipation of the home-reunion fully compensates for the feeling of regret that I feel on leaving Madison," Chow added.

Both students received their master's degree in the Chemistry course last spring.

PYTHIA AND CASTALIA GET SET FOR DEBATE

Short pep meetings to get set for the Pythia-Castalia debate tomorrow night will be held by both literary societies at 7 o'clock tonight at Lathrop hall.

The first women's debate open to the public at the university was held in the spring of 1919. Castalia won the first two debates, as well as last year's, and Pythia was victor in the third and fourth debates.

Tickets for the debate will be on sale at the meetings of both societies tonight. They are 25 cents.

Women in Deshabille Seen In Phi Psi Lodge, but It's O.K.

Suspensions of scandal cast themselves over the Phi Psi house a day or two ago. It was said on perfectly good authority that there were two women seen in the lodge; more, on equally good authority, that they were at various times in certain stages of dishabille; and still further that there are photographic negatives as permanent records.

It all looked very serious until the cameraman from the Photoart house and Dick Bellack explained. Their explanation, together with Bill Purnell's corroboration, satisfied us.

The ladies were there all right, and they were in various stages of habille and dishabille, but it turned out that they weren't real ladies but only make-believe. Haresfooters posing for Octy they were, and

Bill and Dick were directing the picture.

The pictures are to appear in the Haresfoot number of the Octopus which will be on sale next week. The subjects were members of the cast of "Twinkle Twinkle", the Haresfoot 1924 play. The pictures were taken expressly for the Octopus to lend a Haresfoot color to the number which will be sold at all of the theaters when the club goes out on the spring trip next month.

It was all all right, we decided, as we accepted a cigar from a Haresfoot Phi Psi and got a promise of one of the pictures from Dick. Judging from the pictures we saw last year these should make a welcome addition to the walls of the den.

PRESS CLUB TO HEAR SPANISH JOURNALISTS

Press Club will hold a meeting at 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening at the Delta Pi Delta house at which Prof. L. Ortega, of the Romance language department, will speak on Spanish journalism.

Mr. Ortega has worked on a number of newspapers in Spain, and will present some ideas of contrast between American and Spanish journalism.

Preceding Mr. Ortega's talk a business meeting will be held. Plans for a Press Club dance will be completed and the membership committee will present some resolutions. The meeting will be compulsory.

ALL BADGER TEAMS

CARDINAL SPORTS

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLD

SATURDAY'S CONTESTS TO DECIDE HOPES FOR FIVE BADGER TEAMS

Last Competition For Basket- ball, Track, Swimming, Mat and Gym Teams

Wisconsin's hopes for a successful culmination of the basketball, indoor track, swimming, wrestling, and gym season will be definitely settled Saturday night, when the cagers meet Chicago in the last and deciding game of the season, the track team competes in the conference indoor meet at Evanston, and the other three teams engage in the Big Ten finals at Chicago.

The conference basketball flag, after seemingly dancing tantalizing out of reach of Coach Meanwell's crew, is fluttering within easy reach, and naught remains for the team to do but defeat Chicago and claim a triple tie for first place, sharing the glory with Chicago and Illinois.

Hard One for Tracksters

The track team will not have such an easy task in picking off the Big Ten title, but should at least place high on the list. Records galore have fallen in meets this season and fast time all around is predicted when the teams clash at Evanston.

By defeating Chicago, Northwestern and Ohio State in a quadrangular meet at Evanston, February 16, Wisconsin's 1924 indoor track team gave first evidences of its strength. In the first dual meet, Wisconsin, by winning the one-mile relay race, scored a win over George Bresnahan's Hawkeye cinder path men. McAndrews, Wisconsin's star sprinter, defeated Captain Brookins, Iowa, and Coulter, another Hawkeye star, both of whom are being considered as Olympic possibilities.

Track Chances Good

Wisconsin's tracksters participated in the annual Illinois relay carnival at Urbana, March 1. Captain William Hammann won second place in the all-around events, while Wisconsin finished third in the one-mile relay run and third in the four-mile relay race.

Wisconsin lost its final dual meet of the season to Notre Dame, at South Bend, last Saturday. By winning the relay race, the deciding event of the meet, the Irish defeated the Badgers.

Tonight and Saturday night, March 14 and 15, Wisconsin's chances for a conference indoor track championship will be determined. Although it is doubtful if Wisconsin can win the Big Ten games at Evanston, the Badgers are expected to make a good showing. Illinois, Michigan, Iowa and Wisconsin appear to have well-balanced teams, while the other conference schools have athletes who are strong in the special events.

Hitchcock Takes Eight

Coach Hitchcock will take eight men down to Chicago for the conference wrestling meet. They left last night and will wrestle Friday and Saturday. At the present time the team is in fifth place in the conference standing, with four teams tied for first place.

According to Hitchcock, Iowa will win the conference. They have a balanced and experienced team; Illinois, Indiana, and Ames are strong and should give the Hawkeyes a hard fight for first place.

The men who are going down are Hanson, Withworth, Holmes, Zodtner, Gregor, Chada, Bieberstein and Plettner. Of these men, Holmes has probably the best chance of placing. He is a hard fighter and uses his head. Gregor has had some hard luck lately, but should come through in good shape. Bieberstein would also have a very good chance, but his arm is still in bad shape.

Schmidt Good Gymnast

The gym team also leaves for Chicago for the conference meet. The team has been defeated in every one of its dual meets this year, because only two men, Captain Stevens and Schmidt, have been able to win places.

Coach Schlatter believes that Schmidt will win the all-around conference championship. He has been taking first places consistently in the horizontal bar, rings, parallels and tumbling. Stevens is

FAVILLE TO MAKE CONFERENCE PICKS

Cardinal all-conference selections for a first, second and third basketball teams will be published on the sport page Sunday morning. Selections were made by Harry W. Faville, sport editor. Watch for them.

ELLIOTS FIRST IN LEAGUE PLAYING

Smiths, Knollins, and Elliotts Win as Alberts and Saunbury Star

Smith, Knollin, and Elliot fives were the winners in last night's Wisconsin Intramural league cage play.

In the Smith-Weston match tight play featured the game throughout. Two baskets by Ben Alberts broke the tie which occurred and won the game for the Smiths in the second half, 8 to 4.

Lounsbury, crafty forward of the Knollins, was the contributing factor in that team's win over the Tebells in the second game. He sank nearly every one of the passes which he received from his teammates in his play underneath the hoop in the second half of the battle.

Early in the Elliot-Davey game the Daveys piled up what looked like a comfortable lead, but the Elliotts came from behind in the last half of the match, tied the count at the whistle, and defeated their opponents in the overtime period. The final score was 21 to 19.

League standings follow:

	W	L	Pct.
Elliots	2	0	1.000
Knollins	2	1	.666
Westons	1	1	.500
Smiths	1	1	.500
Tebells	0	1	.000
Daveys	0	2	.000

MARTELL OR BROOKS MAY CAPTAIN FROSH

The outstanding men in the election to the captaincy of the frosh basketball team appear to be Martell, forward, and Brooks, the rangy center from Kentucky. Martell is a prep school star from Two Rivers. He has been playing a great game at forward for the frosh this season and if he keeps up his present pace he will prove a valuable asset to future Meanwell teams.

Brooks, another prospective captain, hails from Louisville, Ky., where he starred for the local high school. Levis, freshman coach, has been using him at center, and he has played the position like a veteran. Both of these men possess the qualities of a capable leader and are deserving of the position.

Neither of these men have the position cinched, however, and other members of the squad may gain the coveted honor.

also expected to place in the side horse event.

Swim Chances Slim

Coach Joe Steinauer's swimmers, hard hit by ineligibility, received the final crushing blow with the announcement of the protesting of Irv Gerber. Gerber's case has not been definitely settled and he will be unable to compete in the conference meet.

Without him, chances are slim for Wisconsin's picking off a swimming title this year. The Badgers place their hopes in the ability of Capt. Czerwonky, holder of the intercollegiate back stroke record. Outside of him, Wisconsin has few men on whom to bank for firsts and seconds.

Simpkins and Koch, in the dives, will give a good account of themselves although they will meet stiff competition in Bird, Minnesota, and several other men, but should annex places.

FIELD HOUSE AND NEW GYM ARE UP BEFORE REGENTS

$350,000 Plant a Part of General Plan For Future Development

A new gymnasium and field house surpassing all others of the kind, both in size and equipment, will be erected at Wisconsin within the next few years, according to plans drawn up by the athletic department and now being considered by the Board of Regents.

Although officers of administration admitted that they were beginning to consider such plans, no definite information was forthcoming. "It is just a part of the general plan for the future development of the athletic department," declared one identified with the administrative department.

Cost is $350,000

It is understood, however, that the plant will cost about $350,000. All men's athletic activities would be housed in the new field house. Whether the present gymnasium will remain in service as such is still unknown.

The new gymnasium will accommodate an audience of 16,000 persons, thus remedying the present situation where students are denied admission to the games because of lack of room.

When the new plant is built, students will no longer have to fight their way to the lockers, or be subjected to the discomforts which the present cramped quarters impose. The present gymnasium was considered almost too large when built in 1893. Now, the same building is one third as large as it should be.

No Site in View

No sites have been considered as yet, but, in view of the fact that an addition to the playground facilities will be made simultaneously, Wisconsin's new athletic plants will probably stand out in the direction of Breeze Terrace.

The next meeting of the Board of Regents takes place on April 23. It is expected that the problem will again be discussed at this time.

RIFLEMEN MEET HAWKS BY WIRE

Iowa Will Be the Strongest Opponent of Year, it is Predicted

Tomorrow Wisconsin's Rifle team will meet their strongest opponent of the year in a telegraphic match with Iowa.

For two years the Hawkeyes have lived up to their name and succeeded in squeezing the Wisconsin sharpshooters out of first place. This year, however, with a splendid record back of them, the local team expects to break the spell and turn what has been defeat into victory.

"If we don't win," Coach Shire said yesterday, "it will be on account of the men ruining their eyes from overstudy. This is improbable, however, and every man can be counted on to pull down a high score."

The match will be fired from two positions, prone and sitting.

The probable line-up will be: Capt. William A. Rorison, L. P. Drake, Harry C. Hull, C. J. Randall, and F. D. Fulton.

RIFLERS GET MEDALS FOR SECOND HONORS

Bronze medals, awards for placing second in the recent all-state rifle tournament held in Milwaukee for the Bunde-Upmeyer trophy, were given out last night at the meeting of the Wisconsin Rifle club.

Those who received medals were: Capt. William A. Rorison, L. P. Drake, A. Paroni, Harry C. Hull, Carl J. Neess, C. J. Randall, E. J. Hewitt, George H. Ross, and F. D. Fulton.

The trophy was won by the 105 Cavalry of the Wisconsin National guard, Milwaukee, leading the Wisconsin team by the small margin of two points. The medals awarded for second place are the only ones given out to sharpshooters other than those for first honors.

ALL STARS, SIMON PURES WIN GAMES

All Stars and Simon Pures were the victors in this week's round of the Independent Intramural basketball league play.

In the first game the Four Leaf Clovers, who have perched thus far at the bottom, reversed the dope by equalling the leading All Star quintet in field goals. Free throws, however, saved the game for the Stars, who finally topped their opponents, 16 to 13.

The Simon Pures, in the second battle, managed to down the new Celtic team by an 18 to 6 count. The Clovers, therefore, now have company.

How the teams stand:

	W	L	Pct.
All Stars	2	0	1.000
Simon Pures	2	1	.666
Four Leaf Clovers	0	3	.000
Celtics	0	1	.000

SKI TOURNEY SET FOR TOMORROW

Recent Snow Gives Badger Club Chance to Hold Meet

The recent heavy snow fall makes it possible to hold another ski tournament Saturday, and unless there is extremely warm weather the meet will be held.

This tournament will be purely a club competition for members of the Badger Ski club. Men who will take part include: Morris Waterman, Dudley Carmichael, Dennis Murphy, Gordon Taylor, Robert Pabst, Paul Stone, George Martin, Willis Traessler, Vincent Johnson, Clyde Strachan, and Henry Lage-schulte.

The meet is open to other members of the university who have been jumping but who are not yet members of the club.

Hitting the High Spots with Ken

Comes word from an alumnus at Cleveland that it was at Minnesota that Wisconsin lost a football game 54 to 0 in 1916. And also that it was at St. Paul that such large crowds saw the hockey games between Cleveland and St. Paul.

Do you remember way back in 1917 when during rush time the police arrested 11 sophomores about 1 o'clock at night and "Dad" Morgan bailed them all out, at $15 per head?

Stadium building seems to be popular nowadays. The University of Texas and Bucknell college have both announced plans.

In connection with this comes encouraging news regarding a new field house to take the place of the armory. Plans to accommodate 16,000 spectators at athletic contests in the new building certainly sound good to us.

The annex is a busy place nowadays with many fraternity men out limbering up for the coming relays.

To hold, or not to hold a ski tournament is the high question bothering the Badger Ski club now. The weather man keeps them guessing.

All Badger teams except the basketballers will be away this weekend attending conference meets. This week sees the completion of the indoor season.

From a Michigan friend comes this word. "Well, Michigan and Wisconsin are both out of the basketball championship." Time will tell say we.

E. S. Bowker and H. M. Aitken fought four rounds to a draw in the finals of the inter-class boxing tournament, held in the boxing room of the gymnasium yesterday afternoon. W. Z. Ledicker was given a decision over A. A. Wetzel after three rounds of battling.

SORORITY HEADS PICK RUNNERS FOR RELAY EVENT

21 Sororities, 13 Fraternities, 3 Academies, 2 High Schools Enter

Track men who will compose the teams which will represent sororities in the eighteenth annual relay carnival, to be held in the gymnasium annex Saturday, March 22, were selected at a meeting of the captains of the sorority teams in the trophy room of the gymnasium last night.

The choosing of the runners on the relay teams, along with the entries of more than 20 Wisconsin tracksters in the individual events and Culver academy, Culver, Ind., Shattuck academy, Faribault, Minn., and St. Johns Military academy, Delafield, Wis., in the academy competition indicate that the relay carnival will be the feature event of the indoor season.

21 Sororities Entered

In the high school events, Monticello and East high school, Madison, have filed applications.

Twenty-one sororities have entered in the inter-sorority relay races, while 13 fraternities will compete in the track and field events. Phi Kappa Sigma, Delta Upsilon, Kappa Psi, Delta Sigma Phi, Theta Xi, Alpha Gamma Rho, Theta Chi, Tri-angle, Kappa Alpha, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Chi, Delta Chi, and Tau Kappa Epsilon will battle for first honors.

In 1923, the intersorority relay races resulted in a tie between Kappa Delta and Alpha Chi Omega. The runners of the winning team covered the distance in 8 minutes 27 3-5 seconds. Alpha Xi Delta won third while Alpha Phi finished fourth.

A. C. O.'s Hold Record

The annex record for the inter-sorority relay was established by Alpha Chi Omega in 1922. The time run was 8 minutes, 20 seconds.

The relay teams consist of four cinder path men, one running one-mile, while the others run one-half mile, one-quarter mile and two laps around the annex track, respectively.

The runners who will participate are:

Alpha Phi—Captain Hilberts, Paulson, G. Smith and Pierrard.
Kappa Delta—Schneider, Parson, Hill and Beebe.

Kappa Alpha Theta—Bergstresser, Ecklund, Flueck and G. Schneider.

Alpha Delta Pi—Cassidy, Roscoe, Kennedy and Garen.

Delta Delta Delta—Piper, Germann, Menke, and Landschulz.

Phi Mu—Read, Zeischold, N. V. Smith, and Timm.

Pi Beta Phi—Perry, Gunderson, Held and L. Holmes.

Phi Omega Pi—Kubly, Lister, Holmes and Jirtle.

Delta Gamma—Finkle, Peard, Lenicheck and Francis.

Chadbourne hall—Wade, Trier, Frackleton and Scott.

Delta Zeta—Meissner, Campbell, Voight, and Klinger.

Barnard hall—Sherman, Callenbach, Rasmussen and Zilisch.

Alpha Epsilon Phi—Petaja, Weismiller, A. O. Johnson, and A. Schneider.

Chi Omega—Link, Laughlin, Roberts and Eagleburger.

Kappa Kappa Gamma—Swingle, Flynn, Annis and Muzzy.

Sigma Kappa—Schutt, O'Hara, Thompson and Burdick.

Alpha Xi Delta—Shafer, Goers, Kennan and Stone.

Alpha Gamma Delta—Dickinson, Lewis, Bick and Krohn.

Alpha Omicron Pi—Dennis, Shilke, Sauer, and McGiveran.

Gamma Phi Beta—F. Schneider, Griffin, Ingold and McAndrews.

Alpha Chi Omega—Carter, Ramsey, Paizer and Hall.

SKATING IS THROUGH FOR YEAR—MARTIN

There will be no more skating this year because the ice is too soft, according to George Martin, director of winter sports. The ski and toboggan slides are in excellent condition, however, and should be used before the snow melts. The slides were in condition all last week, but nobody took advantage of this fact. "Skiing is excellent, especially at night," says Martin.

A SUGGESTION

Even now before the snow is off the ground tennis enthusiasts cannot but cast a longing eye to their tennis rackets, dusty from long disuse, and wonder if it will be necessary again this year to stand in line waiting for a chance to play on our too few courts. And then there must follow the hope that the few courts we have will be made over and not let fall into so despicable a condition as they have been in past years. The varsity courts must be kept in good shape but there is no reason why they should be the only courts on the campus in good enough condition on which to play a fast game of tennis.

FAIR CRITICISM

When American university students are told that they are not as advanced in their thinking on fundamental world and educational problems as their contemporaries in Europe, the assertion of necessity must make some sit up and take notice. It cannot be denied that university people in this country are capable of doing greater things and more of them than they have been doing. At the same time it is justifiable to say that Continental students are taking more interest in the problems which face the nations today than are the students in this country?

The usual basis of comparison which is at best not entirely accurate is for a critic from this country who is familiar with the existing conditions here to go to the foreign universities and endeavor to gain a knowledge of the temper of the student body there. If the method employed by the American critic in Europe is in any way analogous to the manner in which the foreign critic gains his knowledge of our university life and of the caliber of the university mind in this country he may be easily misled. The foreign critic comes to Wisconsin and takes luncheon with a group of representative men, these men being the more prominent ones about the campus. They give the foreign critic an entirely different opinion of what the university people are thinking about than our local critic who is more familiar with the actual conditions. Likewise the man who investigates foreign universities comes into contact with the most able thinkers in those universities and then attempts to compare them to what he knows is the general American attitude.

Such comparisons are extremely unfair though they may lend a stimulation to those who are indifferent toward their opportunities while in the university. The American critic sees too much of our own and too little of European university life to say that the thought in foreign universities is on a higher level than our own.

WOMEN OF BUSINESS

It is rather astonishing to hear some one say "that college women are over-educated." Nothing sarcastic is meant by the foregoing. There is doubtless a good deal of truth in the quotation. At any rate, an editor of one of America's journals made the statement here a short time ago, and it is the kind of a statement wholly true. But are the above statements which is bound to make one sit up and take notice. It was followed up with something to the effect that girls have no need for ideals in business, that they have to tuck away all their ultra modern ideas and use courage instead.

As school teaching becomes more and more unpopular among feminine college graduates and business becomes more and more favored, educational methods will have to be changed if women hope to make real business careers and if the above statements are wholly true? Ideal is not a word which has been entirely exiled by business men. In Madison, for instance, the real estate business has been put on a much more lofty plane than it was several years ago. Ideals still have their place and the feminine population, which is supposed to know most about ideals, has a fine opening in business.

In the colonial days students at Harvard and Yale were placed in their classes and at commons according to their social rank. Commons must have been a poor name for the dining room then. Thank goodness the same custom does not prevail; for one thing, no college president would be willing to risk his life in classifying his students socially.

The freshmen and sophomores got most of the Co-op rebates. Rather mean trick on the upper classmen.

The clinic advises students to keep their feet dry. Try and do it this kind of weather.

Bolsheviki Improved As Well As Destroyed Parts of Russia

By RAYMOND BASSETT '25

Professor Sorokine undoubtedly made a thorough investigation of the statistics relating to a number of revolutions, and easily succeeded in piling up a number of charts and figures before a terrified audience. As a psychologist he succeeded very well by calling attention to the number of people killed, robbed, and mistreated. Also on his charts he succeeded in drawing a mass of declining lines which represented the economic and industrial collapse in Soviet Russia. After making a short pause he said: "If you want to have the same results, if you want to experience the same miseries—start a revolution. If you do not want this (he pointed to the blackboard), then behave yourself and abide by your law and order," and everybody was impressed.

Professor Sorokine did not take into consideration the fact that he was speaking before an American audience. He also forgot that there is no danger of a revolution in this country, because the American people can accomplish and fulfil their desires by legal means without bloodshed. His warning was somewhat unnecessary and the figure represented in regard to the Russian situation somewhat unscientific.

It is not my purpose to go into statistics here and pile up another mass of figures, but it is evident that the figures given by Professor Sorokine do not speak of the same areas of Russian territories. The figures of the pre-war period speak of great pre-war Russia; while figures issued by the Bolsheviki are affecting the area of the Union of Soviet Republics (Soviet Russia) only, which is a part of former Russia. Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland (Russian), the border states of former Russia are economically and politically separated from Soviet Russia; the border state of Bessarabia was annexed by the Roumanians in 1918, and is a part of the Roumanian commonwealth at present. These areas formerly represented the best developed territories in pre-war Russia, and the figures concerning these areas should have been deducted from those given by Professor Sorokine, in order to make a true comparison of the number of factories, schools, manufacturers and agricultural products in 1914 and in 1922. So much for the charts and figures. He spoke of destruction only, improvements brought about by the Bolsheviki had no place in his figures, even in this he is prejudiced against the Communists, and to me it seems that a true, scientific investigation of such an important problem should not be one sided.

Baron Sergius G. Korff, in one of six lectures delivered before students of Northwestern university in April 1922, said, "The Russian revolution has brought with it some improvements of the social order that have come to stay and may be looked on as important and useful acquisitions. To deny this would be short-sighted and unfair. But with improvements come also destructive forces, perhaps of only temporary duration and of no great outside influence, but still pernicious and evil in their effect."

Since Professor Sorokine spoke of the destructive forces only, it is my purpose to bring to light some of the improvements made by the Bolsheviki. The new system of education in Soviet Russia will be discussed in Sunday's issue of The Cardinal.

The Reader's Say-So

THE DEATH KNELL OF FORENSICS

Editor, The Cardinal:
Being in Madison this last week, I took occasion to look further into the deterioration of the literary societies. The two communications in this column Sunday helped me.

Mr. Southwick states, "It is almost too much to ask that a man give up a Friday night for a literary society meeting. There are too many other things going on that night." Could anything written by an opponent, rather than a defender of societies, better show how the societies have fallen so that they now rank in men's minds as competitors of dances? I remember a time when Forensics were the biggest thing on the campus.

Mr. Messner, defender of Athenae, accusing me of having cerebral delusions, was the secretary of Athenae during the last term of officers. I am informed that programs were never before as poor. This, my informers hasten to add, is due to no fault of the program committee, but because members refuse to be on programs, and the membership is so small that willing men have to appear on every program to keep things going.

Back in the old days men competed to be on programs, and bewailed the fact that they had so many members that they could not appear oftener.

For a month and a half after January 11, 1924, on the library bulletin board, appeared a notice of the meeting of that date. (By the way, the man in charge of posting these programs, if things are run the same way that they were when I was secretary of Athenae, is this same Mr. Messner, defender of societies, player of marbles with the odds against him).

I looked in at a meeting of Athenae last Friday night. There, big as life, sat a man in a tuxedo. If debating societies are now reduced to being time fillers before dances, I wash my hands of them.

AN OLD "SOCIETY" MAN.

CURRICULUM AND LIFE

Editor, The Cardinal:
After hearing such an individual as Dr. Eddy, is it any wonder that students as well as faculty members are still discussing his work during the recent religious conference? But, as a result of his stimulation, let us shake off our "intellectual smugness" and do, as well as think.

In the first place, if we people who have had the opportunities of a higher education are to be the leaders of the next generation, it behooves us to hurry along and learn the problems that are before civilization today. Why, then, is every single student, or at least the upperclassmen group, not taking one or two courses such as social problems, a subject dealing with those absolutely vital factors of life? Is there something wrong with the curriculum, or does the problem lie with the student? Are we keeping up with the times? Samuel Chester Parker of the University of Chicago says that subject matter taught should vary according to social needs.

With no reflection upon foreign languages, for example, for they have their significant importance, let me ask, why is as much stress laid upon them as there is, in contrast to so little upon a subject like social problems, a subject dealing with right human relationships?

This is no longer a day of "a gentleman's education". The classics, languages, sciences and histories have their place but when will the social sciences have theirs? Only after truly understanding why huge amounts of our taxes go to the upkeep of insane asylums, prisons and poor houses, can we remedy the situation.

Only after learning that we are not "created free and equal"; that there are some folks who haven't had one third the chance we've had, will we realize the work before us, the superior in opportunity and intelligence.

"OIL" IS TOPIC FOR LIT TALK TONIGHT

Societies Will Discuss Philippine Independence and Election of Prom Queen

The main features of the literary programs tonight are a debate on the question of Philippine independence, a discussion of the Teapot Dome oil scandal, and a debate on the question of the election of the prom chairman and his partner.

The Hesperia program consists of a parliamentary drill led by Meyer F. Cohen '27, a synthetic book review on "Public Opinion in Peace and War," and "Public Opinion," by Ralph E. Axley L. 2, and a debate on the question "Resolved, that the prom queen and chairman be elected on one ticket." The affirmative will be upheld by Laurence Gramm '26 and V. Roger Dunn '26, closer. The negative team is represented by Joseph H. Kler '25 and Robert F. Pfeifer '24, closer.

Philomathia will devote a part of its time to an informal discussion on the Teapot Dome oil scandal. Talks will be given by Carl J. Reinhold '26, Alfred R. Nickel '27, and Russel J. Piltz '26.

The principal event on the program at Athenae is a debate on the question "Resolved, that the Philippine Islands be given their independence immediately." The affirmative team is composed of Ernest B. Kellogg '25, and Neil B. McMurry '25. Edward C. Grelle L2 and August Scherr '24, will debate on the negative side. This will be followed by a talk on "Mexican Conditions and Situation" by Maximilian Cizon '25.

H. C. Wolfe Reports Need of Texts in European Schools

Text-books for pupil and teacher are needed badly in the universities of Russia and Europe according to reports sent by the national organization of the student friendship fund. In some places in Russia there are people who have not heard of a radio Mr. Henry C. Wolfe, one of the district representatives, told members of the Wisconsin committee last week.

"Imagine teaching with a book written in 1914 with its lack of recent scientific developments, and you will realize what professors in the universities are up against. In some cases, the instructors are not able to keep up with their subjects because of the lack of libraries and research material," Mr. Wolfe told the committee.

The subscription drive at Wisconsin for the relief of foreign students will begin Monday. Paul Eschweiler '24 is in charge of the local campaign. Students at various universities in the middle west, and particularly in the eastern colleges, have contributed very liberally to the support of European students this year Mr. Wolfe said.

Nagler Explains Wisconsin System of Auto Licenses

The Wisconsin system of issuing auto licenses was explained by L. B. Nagler, cashier of the auto license department yesterday.

"The license plates with white numbers on a red background signify a municipal or state owned car," Mr. Nagler said, "and are issued for the life of the car."

"The plates with white numbers on a black background are classified into automobiles, trucks, motorcycles and dealers, a star denoting a dealer's license."

"The letters A, B, C, D, E, and F classify an automobile by gross weight and establish a graduated charge for the license."

"The cost of a class A license, 1600 pounds or less, is $10. This sum is increased proportionally until class E, 5000 pounds or more, is reached, the charge then is $26," he explained.

An additional classification, class F, is made for trucks weighing from 4 to 5 tons according to Mr. Nagler.

Plan College Man's European Trip This Summer on Saxonia

If you are thinking of spending your summer in Europe, it is possible that the price of your trip may be made nominal because of the action of a group of university men at Ithaca who have recently completed a novel arrangement with the Cunard steamship line.

The entire third cabin of the Cunarder "Saxonia" has been reserved exclusively for college men on the sailing of June 21 from New York to September 6 from Southampton and Cherbourg.

The plan is not a tour, and allows the men more than two months of leisurely and unrestricted travel. The ports on the eastbound voyage are Plymouth, Cherbourg and London.

The "Saxonia" has been lately reconditioned and rebuilt. Immigrants and outsiders have been definitely excluded from both sailings. "College 3 Cabin" is unique and truly an innovation in shipping circles.

ERIC MILLER SAYS TO PUT GOLF STICKS BACK

Golf clubs, marbles, and spring hats are way-ahead of schedule if they depict spring, for Madison may have a good deal of winter still coming, according to Eric Miller of the U. S. weather bureau. May 9 marked the end of winter last year when the last snow storm of the season fell on that date. This is uncommon, however, since only three snow storms in 13 years are reported for May. Since 1911 no year has passed without snow during April.

CALIPHATE WAS BAD FOR TURKEY

—FULLER

Church and State Now Separated, Reforms Possible, Says Native Student

That the final step in the separation of the state from the church in Turkey is seen in the abolishment of the caliphate, and probably will be followed by progressive legislation, which has been hampered by the former caliph's influence in politics, is the opinion of both Joseph V. Fuller, assistant professor of history, and Yussuf A. Zia, native of Turkey and a senior in the university.

"All attempts to give social freedom to our women have failed to because the caliph was opposed to them. Polygamy, also, will undoubtedly be abolished by law now that the state is independent of outside influences," Zia declared.

"The break between the church and state does not mean the breaking up of the Mohammedan religion," Zia pointed out.

Professor Fuller agrees with Zia in the possibilities of social and political advancement which are expected to follow the separation of the state from religious power.

"The rulers of Turkey are brilliant men, and probably will be able to convince the populace that nationalism is the better form of government in time to prevent disorders," Professor Fuller said. The international importance of Turkey's action has been overestimated, he thinks.

Those with the Wisconsin Free Library commission are: Marian R. Clark, Extension circuit; Marjorie E. Bumps, Book selection department; Madge McLaughlin and Marian D. Rugg, Legislative Reference library; Helen A. Brown, Geraldine A. Demmler, Ellen D. Kistler and Mrs. Lenore M. Nutting, Traveling Library department.

Lit Starts Three Ring Circus With Something For All

By E. H. S.

The Lit's out tomorrow! Yes, but you'll never in all the world recognize it as the Lit unless you are very careful not to skip over professor Leonard's and Marya Zaturenska's poems and the editorial. But you won't do that.

The Lit has certainly changed, revived or whatever you want to call it. To tell the truth, although that truth may hurt the feelings of the editors who may look on the change as an undesired necessity, the change is for the best certainly.

The editorial promises a three ring circus, something which will satisfy every type of reader. The editor's evident disappointment at such a change in policy can be understood, but the editor does well to let the new policy over-ride his sensitiveness.

Somehow or other the cover goes a long way toward making the Lit more attractive.

As for what's inside the cover, it looks as though the three ring circus has already started. Marya's "The Marriage Song" and Willyum's "Dona Juana" are two of the best things we have seen in the Lit in ages. We didn't like the Dona Juana at first, but on finishing it decided that we agree heartily with Bryan. "The Marriage Song", along with Warner Taylor's English Essay class, has won us over to the appreciation of this sort of thing, but we insist on calling it mediate prose and wish that it would be written as such.

We'll say just this much for professor Leonard's Foreword: once, in a foreign magazine, professor Leonard was listed with Poe and Whitman as one of America's three best poets and once in the Atlantic he appeared as one of the six best living American poets.

Hazel Farkasch has done a highly amusing piece for the "feature". It shows a power to pick a common occurrence out of life and deal with it well. "Immolation" is another bit of fine realism with a tragic note.

The story of the fat man has an entertaining finish. Kaukau is charmingly picturesque, the parody on Mr. Longfellow ought to get a chuckle out of any student (if the verse is making fun of Mr. Longfellow, it is excellent, if it isn't making fun of him, it is —well, never mind) and "Campus Sketches" sound a bit choppy to us, but maybe there's a reason why they should.

Just a word to the Lit about its advertisement in the rear: we believe it's Margaret Ashmun with a u instead of an a.

ENGLISH WRITER TALKS MARCH 20

Mrs. Forbes-Robertson Hale,
Lecturer, Playright, and Actress, Here March 20

The reputation of pleasing an audience so much that it is eager to hear the speaker again after only a brief interval is the possession of Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale who will lecture under the auspices of Theta Sigma Phi on "The Modern Stage and the Rising Generation," in Music hall Thursday evening, March 20. Several weeks ago Mrs. Hale lectured as the guest of the local Civics club, and the opportunity excluded so many of her would be hearers, that they suggested the idea of a return engagement for the speaker in order to reach a wider circle.

Tickets will be on sale this afternoon at the S. G. A. office, Sumner and Cramptons, the Book Corner, Moseley's Book Store, Smith Brothers music store, Hook's music store, and the College club, as well as from any member of Theta Sigma Phi. Special rates of 50 cents a ticket are being given to the high school students and will be sold at the various schools. The price of the tickets is $1.

"A delightful personality" has been the comment on Mrs. Hale's address by those who have heard her.

Mrs. A. L. Marlatt of the home economics department who has heard her says of Mrs. Hale, "She is a woman of keen intellect. She has a charming personality and is a delightful speaker. Mrs. Hale speaks with a pleasing English accent and from an American angle."

Besides being an author Mrs. Hale is a person of dramatic talents. As the granddaughter of Sir Johnson Forbes-Robertson she accordingly took the stage as her earlier profession. She appeared in England with such actors as Ellen Terry and Sir Herbert Tree.

BUILDERS, UNIONS IN WAGE TROUBLE

Contractors Fail to Take Action at Meeting; Parleys Slated

No action was taken regarding the renewing of wage contracts at the meeting of the Master Builders' association Wednesday night. Present agreements expire Apr. 1 and either must be renewed or new contracts agreed to if a strike is to be avoided.

Contractors are attempting to hold wages to the 1923 scale, according to several local builders. Each union has asked for an increase. Each contractors' group will report to the Master Builders' association as the result of its negotiations with the workmen for approval or rejection.

Two wage meetings of employers and workmen are scheduled for the next week. Tomorrow the contractors will again meet with the unions and the following Wednesday the master builders will hear reports of the various crafts.

A settlement will probably be reached Wednesday, according to leaders of both groups.

Members of the local electricians' union will meet Thursday night to discuss wage contracts and hold a general business meeting.

Hold Nominations For W. A. A. and Y. W. C. A. Officers

Announcement of the nominations for W. A. A. will be made as soon as it is definitely decided which organizations the various girls will represent according to Esther Bilstad '24.

The W. A. A. board nominates two members and a third is nominated from the floor.

Nominations for officers of Y. W. C. A. will be made at an open meeting at 12:45 o'clock in Lathrop hall. One nominee for each office will be chosen from those suggested from the floor.

The nominating committee has already nominated the following: Dorothy Haskins '25, and Jean Palica '25 for president; Rena Grubb '26 and Miriam Inglis '26, for vice president; Dorothy John '25 and Isabell Winterbotham '25, for secretary, and Roberta Odell '26 and Lillian Twenhofel '26, for treasurer.

The elections will be held Wednesday, March 19 at Lathrop hall.

Y. W. C. A. FACULTY DRIVE BRINGS $122

The first two days of the Y. W. C. A. faculty drive which was launched Tuesday to obtain funds for the annual budget brought in $122, according to Margaret Chamberlain '26, who is in charge of the returns.

Each Y. W. C. A. cabinet member is directing a group of girls who personally visit the members of the faculty they solicit.

Circular letters have also been sent to all instructors and professors. Checks have been received in response to many of these already, it was announced at a meeting of the workers at Lathrop hall Wednesday.

DR. GILLEN WILL GIVE LENTEN BIBLE TALKS

Lenten Bible talks will be given by Dr. J. L. Gillen, professor of sociology, for the city Y. W. C. A. starting on Monday, March 17 at 7:30 o'clock. The subject for the talks will be "The Gospel and Sin"; "Jesus' Gospel and Human Fear"; and "The Kingdom of God in the Gospel of Jesus."

PROF. BROWN TALKS TO CITIZENSHIP CLASS

Prof. Ray R. Brown of the law school will speak on "The Relation Between the State and Federal Government," before the class in citizenship at the Woman's building at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones, who is state supervisor of home agencies in the Home Economics extension division will speak on "State and Federal Cooperation" as regards her field work.

INJUNCTION WON AGAINST OIL WELLS

Writ of Judge Kennedy Closes Teapot Dome Reserves Temporarily

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy yesterday granted a temporary injunction halting further development work by the Mammoth Oil Co. on the Teapot Dome Oil reserve.

Judge Kennedy named Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss of the U. S. Navy and A. E. Watts, vice president of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corp., as joint receivers for the Teapot Dome property pending the outcome of the litigation.

Granting of the injunction following the filing by Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special government counsel, of a bill in equity seeking annulment of the Teapot Dome lease to Harry F. Sinclair and the Mammoth Oil Co. on the ground of fraud and irregularity. Details of the injunction and receivership will be set forth in an order requested by counsel for the government and which will be signed by Judge Kennedy after its revision in part.

The temporary injunction halts the drilling of new wells and the receivers will be directed to continue the operation of the wells and equipment only to such extent as he shall deem necessary to prevent loss of damage.

The government's counsel petitioned the United States district court to do three specific things:

1—Issue a temporary injunction stopping oil production.

2 — Appoint a receiver to take charge of the properties.

3—Enter a final decree cancelling the leases and contracts returning the properties to the government and enforcing an accounting.

Former Secty. Fall was charged with making "false representations" to the late President Harding which resulted in the transfer of the lands from the navy to interior department. The government denies that there was any warrant of law for leasing the lands at all.

McAdoo In Milwaukee Mar. 19, Won't Come Here

William G. McAdoo, democratic candidate for the presidential nomination, who will speak in Milwaukee Mar. 19, will not visit Madison, according to Miles C. Riley, state manager of the McAdoo campaign.

"Mr. McAdoo will be in Milwaukee only three or four hours and will not be able to get to Madison," Mr. Riley said Wednesday morning.

Mr. McAdoo will speak at the Pabst theatre at 1 p. m., Mar. 19.

General Puts Ban on Silk Hose to Stop Marriages

WARSAW—An edict against the wearing of silk stockings and other finery by women employees of the war department has just been issued by Gen. Sikorski, minister of war.

The department has gained a reputation for being a good marriage mart, most of the stenographers leaving to be married after a year's service.

Gen. Sikorski heard of it, reviewed the staff, and finding the women dressed in elaborate clothes, he issued an order that they wear dark, high collared dresses, high shoes and cotton or wool stockings.

MADISON SUPPORTS ESCH RAILWAY ACT

City Association of Commerce
Approves Resolution, Two Vote Against It

The board of directors of the Madison Association of Commerce on Wednesday again approved the resolution sent here by the national Chamber of Commerce, urging congress to make no changes in the Esch-Cummins law.

Two members of the board refused to vote in favor of the resolution. They were Herman L. Ekern, attorney general, and Charles H. Sanderson. Other members of the board present favored the resolution.

The resolution, which the national Chamber of Commerce will send to Congress, urges Congress to permit the railroads of the nation to continue operation under present conditions. It urges that no legislation be passed at this session to disturb the present situation.

The Esch-Cummins law guarantees returns to the railroad companies.

The local Association of Commerce directors at a meeting some time ago passed the resolution. Mr. Ekern, who was in Washington at the time, requested reconsideration.

Wednesday's meeting was the first which he was able to attend. The resolution was again discussed. The board confirmed its former action by again favoring the measure.

Foreign Students to Talk in "Tour Around the World"

Representatives of ten foreign countries will be in their booths to explain the exhibits at the second annual "Tour Around the World" to be held tomorrow night in Lathrop gymnasium.

The exhibits will be open all evening. Music will be furnished for dancing from 10 to 12 o'clock. Tickets for the event are 50 cents and are obtainable at the Y. M. C. A.

A collection of Parisian gowns will be the feature of the French exhibit which will be explained by Miss M. H. Treille, an instructor in the Romance Language department. Harold Bassett '26, will have charge of the Russian booth, where tea will be served from Samovars.

Tsutomu Obana, grad, will be in the Japanese booths, one of which will be decorated with cheery blossoms and the other with wisteria. Chinese embroidery and other curios will be discussed by Chia L. Shao, grad. In the Mexican booth, J. E. Galoz '26 will talk.

India will be represented by Mohindra Bahadur, grad; Yussuf A. Zia '24 will talk on Turkey. Elenterio A. Advencula '25 will be in the Philippine Island booth to explain articles on exhibit. Czechoslovakia will be presented by Vaclav Strela '25. Theodore Dobrovski '27 will tell of Bulgaria.

Rev. Soldan In Sermon Says Judas Lives Again

There are still betrayers in the world, according to Rev. A. J. Soldan, who spoke on the "Betrayal of Christ by Judas" at the Lenten services at Luther Memorial Cathedral Wednesday night.

"When Christ said that one of his disciples had betrayed him, each of them questioned himself, 'Is it I,'" said Rev. Soldan. "There was a feeling among them that they were capable of betrayal of the Lord. Today we have the spectacle of men betraying the public confidence; of men betraying their principles, families, churches and their God."

Fletcher Wheeler directed an anthem by the choir and also played several special organ numbers.

COTTAGE IS MOVED ACROSS LAKE MONONA

A house on sleds skidded across Lake Monona Thursday. Many people who passed along lake shore streets during the day saw the house on the ice in the middle of the lake, and wondered.

The house was a cottage which has been purchased by Lawrence Rowley from Marcus Johnson, superintendent of city property, and is being moved from Monona park to Morningside Heights.

The building was placed on sled runners and hauled across the lake by a team of horses. Edward Reynolds is in charge of the work.

Mr. Rowley purchased another cottage from the city and it was moved to Morningside Heights last week.

Several selections by the Varsity quartet will be the special feature of the Wisconsin Glee club concert at 8 o'clock in Music hall tonight.

The short program which the quartet is giving at the concert is previous to several trips which the singers will soon make to Wisconsin cities. They will present a program in Oconomowoc next Wednesday, in Janesville sometime in April, and possibly another in Milton.

Requested to make phonograph records for the Marsh laboratories, the quartet will go to Chicago in the spring.

The Varsity quartet, formerly connected with the Glee club, is an independent campus organization which specializes in feature singing. It has appeared before audiences in Madison and neighboring towns for the past five years.

No special blocks reserved for organizations will be kept after 7:58 o'clock.

The complete program for tonight's concert is as follows:

1. "Care Fies from the Lad That Is Merry," Moffat; "Morning Hymn," Henschel; "Bill's Billboard," Wright.
2. "Sombre Woods," Lully, and "Brown Men," Braine, vocal solos by Edward Otis.
3. "Ride On," arranged by Crowley; "My Little Banjo," D'ichmont; "Chit Chat," Moffat.
4. "Cavanta," Raff and "Rondino," Kreisler; violin solos by Cecil Ekholm.
5. "Bedouin Love Song," Foote.
6. "Bells of the Sea," Solman, and "Little Jackey Horner," Newhall, by the Glee Club quartet.
7. "Tobacco," Forsyth; "Pirate Dreams," Huerter; "The Gongs Are Beating," Otto.
8. "Prelude in G. Minor," Rachmaninoff, piano solo by Robert Nethercut.
9. "Hallelujah, Amen," Handel. Special numbers by the Varsity quartet.

ART STUDENTS PLAN SPRING VAUDEVILLE

A spring vaudeville show will be given by the art department if plans discussed at the meeting Tuesday night are put into effect. All art organizations will cooperate in producing the show. The general chairman is Samuel Himmelard '27, and the faculty assistants are Arthur N. Colt, Della F. Wilson, and William H. Varnum.

LOCAL TAXES ARE UNUSUALLY HIGH

Out of 118 cities in the United States with populations ranging between 30,000 and 50,000, there are but five whose taxes per capita are higher than taxes paid in Madison, according to a report received by the Association of Commerce from the bureau of the census.

The assessed valuation of property in Madison subject to general property taxes is $86,164,639, which nets a revenue receipt of $2,286,344, or $55.32 per capita. Superior pays but $34.58 per capita. The assessed valuation of Superior property subject to general property tax is $57,065,455.

The five cities in the country whose population ranges between 30,000 and 50,000 and whose taxation per capita is higher than Madison, follow: New Rochelle, N. Y., $87.98 per capita; Hamilton, O., $61.66; Brookline, Mass., $73.82; Montclair, N. J., $60.17, and Stockton, Cal., $55.59.

John L. Gillin, professor of sociology, will speak on "Our Affairs at Home" before fifty chairmen of the Y. M. C. A., discussion groups at a luncheon to be held this noon at the Y. M. C. A. building. Prevention of crime, housing conditions, and child labor legislation are some of the aspects of social conditions which Professor Gillin will include in his talk. The facts which he will present will serve as the basis for the discussion which the leaders will conduct at meetings of their individual groups next week.

AT THE THEATERS

Vodvil, Drama
and CinemaELSIE GETS RED HAIR TO STAR IN MEDIOCRE PLAY

BY CHATTY

Can you imagine Elsie Ferguson in red hair, hair as red as the cleverest elves of Mr. Henna could possibly make? No, neither can we, but Elsie can and she says that the change, which she evidently made for the leading role of "The Moonflower" in which she is now playing, is quite permanent.

"The Moonflower"? Oh, it's not so very important, except, of course that divinest Elsie is in it. The play's pretty much of a fizzle as near as we can ascertain and the talents of the favorite actress are being wasted. Such is too frequently the case. A good play for a bum set of actors and a poor play for a good set. Either one will draw an audience, why waste both? It's the same principle as putting an unpopular piece on the other side of the record from a popular one. Too bad.

The play's about a young fellow who decides that he will cheat fate by spending his entire inheritance in one night. He goes to Monte Carlo, hires the royal suite, calls in a beautiful lady and sets out on his gala night with the intention of flinging himself into the sea the next morning. The beautiful lady, played by Elsie, is the mistress of a duke who is dangerously near at hand. That's the setting. Sidney Blackmer plays the youth and is said to slow the piece up considerably.

One of the biggest hits along musical comedy lines is now playing at the Garrick in the Windy City and is called "Little Jessie James." The Chicago company is the second one which is now playing the piece, for the original Broadway company, which started in last August, is still running well in the metropolis. There seems to be nothing particularly outstanding about the thing except that it is rather charming and that it has some excellent music, among which is the highly popular "I Love You."

The music is written by Harry Archer, a comparatively new and young composer in the realm of syncopation. He it was who suggested having one of Paul Whiteman's first orchestras in the pit at the Garrick. It's quite a novel idea and is going over big, especially as the orchestra is said to be even better than Paul's original gang.

Archer, by the way, is a writing name for Auracher. The composer's brother, George Auracher, is a junior in the College of Letters and Science. See "Little Jessie James" when you're next in Chicago.

Students of Smith college staged a Chinese drama two weeks ago in way of something new in college dramatics. "The Wondrous Tale of Wen Chun Chin" by Chen-Chin Hsiung and three adaptations written by students comprised the program. The Chinese story is one of a girl who disguises as a boy in order to gain an education and was presented in real Chinese form, simplicity being its key note. The actors represented riding horseback by galloping around the stage and dismounting by dropping their whips.

The simplicity of the set made the elaborate costumes more impressive. Some of the costumes were imported from China by the author, who is a graduate of Cornell and a friend of Prof. Samuel Eliot. Professor Eliot is in charge of the course in dramatic production at Smith and is responsible for the performance.

City Force Will Begin
Property Revaluation

Preliminary work for the revaluation of real estate and personal property in Madison will be done by the city assessor's force, H. R. Briggs, county assessor of incomes, who is in charge of the revaluation, announced Thursday. No appointments of additional help to assist in the work have been made. Field work will start May 1, when all real estate and personal property will be viewed.

RACINE—The Rev. Msgr. R. T. Lochemis, 63 years old, rector of St. Catherine's academy for fourteen years, died here on Wednesday. Funeral services will be held at Holy Trinity church, Milwaukee, on Saturday.

Judge's Musical
Revue Number Out

Judge's "Musical Comedy Numbers" is just out and is a whizz, with such stars as George M. Cohen, Madge Kennedy, Eddie Cantor, Gilda Gray, Frank Tinney, Al Jolson and Fannie Brice among its list of contributors.

Chatty says it quite appeals to any one who is a dilettante of the theater. Ralph Barton, Chatty says, has a clever center travesty on the t. b. m. and the cartoons, drawings and chat are all about musical comedy, a rare quality in special numbers. There are practically no fillers dealing with other subjects in the issue.

George Jean Nathan has written a review on "The—Girl" musical show, the latest of which is "The Chiffon Girl."

Melodrama Features
Next Week's Shows

By H. E. R.

No let up, folks. These theater men around town are going to make more of those strenuous efforts to separate dad's money from our pockets.

The Strand is going to supply another cause for table-talk by showing "Name the Man!" adapted from "The Master of Man" by Sir Hall Caine, for the first half of next week. The principal actors in this play of heart-throbs, thrills, and love are Conrad Nagel, Mae Busch and Hecart Bosworth.

The latter half of next week will bring Tom Mix and Tony, the wonder horse, in "The Eyes of the World," a play in which Tom flirts with death by leaping from his horse to an aeroplane.

The Madison theater will show an old favorite of ours who hasn't appeared in picture for two years. Betty Compson will star in "The Stranger," a drama and will be supported by Richard Dix and Lewis Stone. This will show for the entire week.

A western melodrama, "Not a Drum Was Heard," with "Buck" Jones, Betty Bouton, and Frank Campeau, will appear at the Majestic the first part of the week and Betty Blythe, Tyron Power, and William Carleton will enact the solving of another social problem in "Truth About Wives" the latter half of the week.

The Parkway will present another great super-picture for our approval in "The Eternal City" adapted from Sir Hall Caine's story. The scenes of this picture were taken in Rome. The cast includes some of screenom's greatest actors. Lionel Barrymore, Barbara La Marr, and Bert Lytell will star.

CHARLOT'S REVUE TOUR
NEXT SEASON

Andre Charlot, son of a French theatrical manager and now a naturalized Britisher, has been presenting his intimate type of revue in London for the last eight years. Having successfully invaded New York with his surprise entertainment, he purposes to give New Yorkers a second revue next November, when his present revue now in its third month at the Times Square Theatre, will be toured in the principal cities, under the direction of the Selwyns.

"WELDED" WILL OPEN IN NEW YORK MONDAY

The new Eugene O'Neill play, "Welded" will be produced by the Provincetown Playhouse, in association with the Selwyns, at the Thirtieth Street Theatre in New York, Monday night, March 17. The play calls for only four characters. The stars are Doris Keane and Jacob Den-Ami, the other players being Curtis Cooksey and Katherine Collins. Don't confuse with O'Neill's other new play "All God's Children Got Wings."

David Atwood Installed
As DeMolay Councilor

David C. Atwood was installed as master councilor of the Madison chapter, Order of De Molay, at the Masonic Temple Wednesday night. Other officers installed before the large crowd of master Masons and De Molay members were Wilmarth Jackman as senior councilor and Mervin Hess as junior councilor. Carl Culp, retiring master councilor, acted as installing officer.

SHIRLEY IS THE WHOLE SHOW IN
MAJESTIC FILM

"SOUTH SEA LOVE"

Presented at the Majestic.
Featuring Shirley Mason.
Produced by William Fox.

By H. D. S.

The eternal call of the South Seas! There must be something like that, or at least the producers go through quite a bit of trouble creating something like that. "South Sea Love" is nothing else but the old, old theme of the man who has married but no longer loves his wife, and then, in a far-off and strange country falls in love with another girl.

But it has Shirley Mason; "a vivacious young thing," a nice old lady in front of us called her. Shirley is a good actress, and she is beautiful, and she wears Spanish costumes and knows how to dance, and when there are so many things concentrated in the star, neither the story nor the leading man, well, nothing else has to be good, but the show is considered good.

For once there are not quite as many painted backgrounds as there usually are in that kind of a picture, and there really seems to be something like color and atmosphere in the scenes—but all that matters not. Shirley Mason is the whole show.

Upstage Bits

By POO BUNK

It comes authoritatively that the Wisconsin Players have crossed the barriers of finding a time and a place for a play and will do J. M. Barrie's "Alice Sit by the Fire" on the evening of April 5 in Lathrop concert room. The play is in rehearsals now.

The Players also are considering the wisdom of bringing Mrs. Marion Craig Wentworth, dramatic reader and interpreter, here on March 26. Mrs. Wentworth is the author of two plays, "War Brides" and "The Flower Girl," which had successful runs on Broadway just after the war.

Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale, English actress and authoress of considerable note, is announced by Theta Sigma Phi, journalistic sorority, for March 21. She lectured here a week ago Saturday before the Civics club.

Soloist

Grace Jones

Miss Grace Jones, president of the Clef club, will give several piano solos at the Clef club concert to be held at Music hall Saturday, Apr. 5. She is a senior in the music school, prominent in campus activities, and a member of Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic and activity fraternity.

Miss Jones is president of Mu Phi Epsilon, honorary musical sorority. She has studied for three years under Prof. L. L. Townsend and this year is completing her piano course under Prof. Coon.

"Adam and Eva" is
First Stock Play

The Dorothy La Vern stock company which made such a success here last spring and summer returns to the Orpheum this coming Sunday for its 1924 engagement. Patrons of the company know what a creditable one it is for a town the size of Madison and from its success of last year it can be said that the stock company is welcome.

As it did last year, the company will put on one play a week, starting with "Adam and Eva" on Sunday afternoon. This play made a hit on Broadway at the Longacre in 1920 with Otto Kruger and Ruth Shepley playing the title roles. It's an amusing comedy of American home life and quite original.

"Smilin' Through" will be the second offering, the war play in which Jane Cowl made her first overwhelming success.

"GALLOPING FISH"

Presented at the Strand.
Featuring Sydney Chaplin.
A Thos. Ince production.

By H. J. B.

Ha! Ha.

It's a funny picture, bubbling over with amusing situations and comic characters. If it's a guaranteed laugh you are after, go get it.

The trick highways and byways of the plot proper create most laughs. A particular young society dandy, called Freddy, is deserted right after his honeymoon, all because of mother-in-lawitis. "Undine, the Divine," and the Venus type of natural fish, poses as his spouse, all in fun of course, just to help drag in a cool twenty million from an alleged dying crabbed old unk. Wife, the original, gets homesick, returns at the critical moment, to be sure, and then there is more fun.

Don't take laughing gas! Choose the more pleasant way out of it. See "The Galloping Fish" gallop! Ha! Ha! Ha!

ed here a week ago Saturday before the Civics club.

Strangely enough, our journalists favor a dramatic twist in their speakers. The men bring Braun, a critic, and now the women announce Mrs. Hale.

Haresfoot has a find in By Rivers, one of the female leads of "Twinkle Twinkle." He's only a sophomore, but he has the pettiness and feminine tricks of the most experienced of our young ladies on the campus. And he's the best looking girl Haresfoot has had years.

in,—well, to be extravagant, 26

"By" and Julian Eltinge had their pictures taken together in costume last Saturday, exchanged autographed photos of themselves, and promised to meet again. Eltinge says "B" has him beat for looks. There's no doubt about that.

A prayerful hope goes up that the Dorothy La Verne Stock company, opening at the Orph on Sunday for a spring and summer's stay, is an improvement over last year's.

Better or worse, however, it is a unique fact and something of a credit to Madison that this, a city of 50,000, can support a stock company and its repertoire for a period of five months. It is true that the house was crowded at most of the performances last year.

Perhaps it is the advance popularity of the plays Dorothy gives, or perhaps Madison's theatrical thirst can consume any concoction as easily as does its contemporary bootleg thirst.

CLEFF CLUB CONCERT
POSTPONED TO APRIL 5

The Cleff club concert will be presented April 5 instead of March 20, in Music hall. The concert is open to the public and no admission will be charged, according to Grace Jones, '24, president. The committees for this year's concert are Gertrude Haase '24, publicity, and Anna Wilson '24, program.

SOPHIE TUCKER
HEADS SPLENDID
SHOW AT ORPH

By SHEVIE

"The best bill I've seen at the Orph this year," were the comments of several vaudeville devotees on the last bill of the Orpheum season. Superlative praise, but true we feel, when the entire program is considered. Of course, Sophie Tucker carries off first honors.

Les Splendids

"European champion art roller skaters" in a novel act which the audience enjoyed a great deal more than they do the average opener.

Cook and Coan

This pair has some clever banter and some better songs.

"The Elopers"

The characters help keep up a rather weak comedy skit. The act would be better with the singing left out. Quite unexpected in its ending.

Sophie Tucker

She is the inimitable Sophie. With a personality behind her songs, which are sung in a way that makes the old ones sound new, she wins her audience from the start. Don't miss her.

Why the question mark? Perhaps because the act is a riot of fun. No one stars in this, not even the interrogation point.

VELMA TAYLOR SPEAKS TO EUTHENICS CLUB

Velma A. Taylor and Marion Dixon told about their experience last summer at a girls' camp in northern Wisconsin, before members of the Euthenics club at a meeting held in Lathrop lecture room last night.

Members of the club decided to turn over to charity the money obtained from the Pumpkin Holler entertainment which was given last fall in cooperation with the Agricultural literary society. A committee was appointed to select pins for the club. During the meeting the members worked on towels for the General hospital.

Announcement that Miss Abby L. Marlatt will speak at the next meeting which will be held in the tea room in the Home Economics building, was made by Margo Topp, president.

SENATE CONSIDERS DAUGHERTY FILM

$180,000 Connected With Carpentier-Dempsey Fight is New Sensation

WASHINGTON—The direct statement that Atty. Gen. Daugherty had told Jess W. Smith, his "bumper and friend", that he would prevent prosecution for transportation of the Carpentier-Dempsey fight films and that the attorney general and Smith were to receive $180,000 was the first sensation sprung today when the senate committee resumed its investigation.

Miss Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of Smith, told the committee Smith had told her he was the go-between in the negotiations between picture companies and the attorney general.

Hearing Room Jammed

Miss Stinson waited patiently for her questioning to begin while the hearing was delayed in getting under way. The jam of senators, congressmen, and other spectators was so great the committeemen had difficulty in getting into the room.

From the fight pictures the testimony veered to "a deal" in which Smith and Daugherty, the witness said had each put $2,400, with Col. J. G. Darden who Smith told her, she said, "had been trying for years to get some leases through the government." The committee has subpoenaed Darden but has been unable to find him.

The mysterious "little greenhouse on K. street," which the witness said she understood was owned by Edward B. McLean, the Washing-

Spring Opening Set For March 18-20 By City Merchants

The Spring Opening will be held March 18 to 20.

Elaborate plans for window displays are being made by the Window Trimmers' association, of which Leo Fay is the president.

In accordance with the plan followed the last two or three years, the windows will be draped the day of the opening and unveiled at Seven o'clock that night.

The retail extension committee of the Association of Commerce and the Advertising club are co-operating to make this annual event a bigger success than ever before.

If the weather man co-operates by furnishing good weather, big crowds will turn out to see the latest fashions in clothes for men, women, and children. Nor will the millinery, footwear, and other stores which handle accessories be in the background, for they, too, will have the latest in their lines on display.

Live models will doubtless be used by some of the stores and a band will play the opening evening.

ton publisher, again figured in the testimony as did the "shack near Columbus owned by Daugherty, Smith and others."

There were meetings and "deals" at both places Miss Stinson said, because they could be "private." Then the witness described a conversation she said she overheard between Smith and Joe Weber, the actor. It related to getting a parole for "a Mr. Solomon", the actor's brother-in-law. The talk, she said, was "how to fix it with Daugherty."

RISLEY TO LECTURE ON GENERAL ELECTRIC

Willetta Huggins, Sight Restored, Leaves School

JANESVILLE—Bidding farewell to her classmates and the teachers with whom she has been associated since she came here in 1915 as a 10-year-old child, Willetta Huggins, with her sight and hearing restored to her after being in darkness for years, left the Wisconsin School for the Blind here Wednesday night and returned to Chippewa Falls. There she will live with Miss Lillian Miller, Christian Science practitioner, to whom she gives credit for the restoration of her faculties.

The girl will attend the public high school, being in the second year. Miss Miller will succeed Supt. J. T. Hooper as guardian of the child. The girl made the trip alone, arriving at Chippewa Falls Thursday morning.

A situation of this nature, it was said, develops about one in twenty years.

Al Jolson Gives Popularity Formula

Writes by Location, Declares Famous Composer-Singer

Al Jolson, who pleases the public oftener than any other singer, has a formula for his unfailingly popular songs.

"I locate the most beautiful spot I can think of," he confides, "then I think of what can happen there, and there only, and to this I add the finest musical setting I can get."

"Songs are not like books, you know. Books are to make you think and songs are to make you remember. Books are sometimes splendid song inspirations. For instance, there's 'Arcady.' At school I studied 'Evangeline' and Grand Pre and Arcadia appealed to me. They seemed Elysian fields on earth. Then one day I came across some music that would fit in with my idea of Arcady, so I immediately got busy and put it into a song."

"Seasy—when you know how it's done."

On With the New

It's the spirit of spring. Baseball and golf will be with us soon, lovely girls will don their smart regalia—and university men must fall in step with the season. So, with the aid of Stratford clothes and others, we are ready to put the young man in tune with spring. It's an unusual line we are presenting—the very finest fabrics in numberless patterns, cut in only the accepted styles for this year.
