PUBLICITY RULES LAID DOWN BY STUDENT COURT

Candidates Should File Petitions and Qualifications Immediately

Students who expect to run for offices in the fall elections, Nov. 2, are warned against making infractions of the rules laid down by the elections committee. The matter of publicity for The Cardinal and city papers is stressed particularly by the committee.

"Matter for publication in The Cardinal absolutely cannot be accepted by the committee before petitions are properly filed," Llewellyn R. Cole '25, chairman, declared last night. "The requirements as to eligibility and petitions must be passed upon by the office of the dean of men before the committee will accept publicity matter."

Publicity by Oct. 23.

Candidates are urged to file their petitions and submit qualifications and matter for publicity immediately in order to insure printing all of the list. Candidates must file eligibility slips and qualifications and matter for publicity in typewritten triplicate form on the chairman of the committee.

Nothing will be printed in The Cardinal after the issue of Oct. 24. All matter for publicity must be in the hands of the committee not later than 5 o'clock Tuesday, Oct. 23. Qualifications will be printed in the order received by the committee.

Elect Junior Member to Court Pictures of the candidates for the offices of senior president, senior vice president, prom chairman and junior president may be run with qualifications. The cuts must be of half column width and suitable for newspaper print.

One office to be filled in addition to those listed in yesterday's Cardinal is the junior class member of the Student court from the College of Letters and Science. The candidates for this office will be recommended by the faculty and the successful justice will hold office in the spring election.

To Publish Bulletin.

Contrary to a statement made previously, the vacancy on the Cardinal board of control created by the ineligibility of Earl Gill will not be filled in the coming election. Cardinal board elections are made only in the spring and the vacancy either will be filled by appointment by the board or the office will remain open.

The elections committee is contemplating the publication of a bulletin or a series of articles on the conduct of elections in order to clear up many matters that seem to be misunderstood at present. Inquiries are being made continually as to the status of certain classes of voters. This information, when published, will give a short history of elections, voting rules, eligibility requirements, and other matter concerning conduct of elections.

Werrenrath to Appear at Union Board Concert

America's foremost baritone, Reinhard Werrenrath, will make his second appearance before Madison audiences next Thursday evening in the first concert of this year's Union board series.

In February, 1919, Werrenrath made his debut at the Metropolitan opera house in New York, and at once he was heralded by critics as the greatest living American baritone. During the season following he filled over 100 engagements for recitals, festivals, oratorios, and orchestra engagements.

In America, Reinhard Werrenrath has been popular as a singer with orchestras throughout the country. He has sung with the Boston symphony orchestra, the Philadelphia orchestra, and with the Handel Haydn society of Boston.

Cardinal Workers Have Banquet and Music at Monona

Seventy-five members of The Cardinal staff feasted and danced to the tune of "Turkey in the Straw" last night at the annual banquet given by the Cardinal board of control in the banquet room of the Monona hotel.

Copy desks, late assignments, typewriters, and copy were forgotten while the scribes devoted their attention to chicken, cranberry sauce, ice cream and cake.

The aims and ambitions of the campus daily were outlined by Prof. G. M. Hyde, faculty member of the advisory council.

Walter H. Plewke, business manager and Managing Editor Butts gave short talks.

Games, the Virginia reel, circle two-step, and jazz added spice to the informal get-together of the two staffs and the board.

Board of control dinners are like Christmas—they only come once a year—but anyhow Mrs. "Brock" and Mr. Hyde say they looked forward to the free feed.

TICKETS FOR GAME GO ON SALE TODAY

Indiana Ticket Sale Ends Saturday Morning at Eleven O'Clock

The student sale for the Michigan Aggie game will be held from 8 o'clock this morning until 5 o'clock this afternoon and on Saturday from 8 until 11 o'clock in the booth in front of the men's gym. Those who do not obtain their tickets during that time will be forced to pay $1.50 at the gate. Because of the class rush the game will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

Paul Hunter, in charge of the ticket sale for the Indiana game October 20, announced today that the sale will be discontinued at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, October 13, leaving less than two days for the disposal of the 300 tickets furnished by the Hoosiers. At 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon less than 25 pasteboards were sold.

Mr. Hunter further stated that the seats reserved for the Wisconsin rooters are the best of the Indiana stadium, located on the 50 yard line on the north side of the field. The price is $2.50, and no fee card is required, nor are any limitations placed on the sale.

A reduced round-trip fare of one and one-third the regular rates will be charged and a special train provided if 125 or more rooters make the trip, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway has announced. The fare will be $16.84, which does not include berth reservations. The special will leave Madison about 7 o'clock Friday evening, October 19, arriving at Bloomington early the next morning. It will leave for the return trip at midnight, and arrive in Madison about noon Sunday.

If fewer than 125 rooters are going however, full fare will be charged, and no special train will be provided. Through sleepers, leaving by the regular train at 4:10 o'clock Friday afternoon, will be furnished. Less than 40 reservations have been made up to Thursday evening.

The football team will leave Thursday afternoon over the Milwaukee road, remaining over night at Chicago where they will take a workout on Stagg Field. Friday night will be spent in Indianapolis, with a light practice before continuing to Bloomington about Saturday noon.

WISCONSIN MAG ISSUES MADISON NUMBER

A "Madison" number of the Wisconsin Magazine was issued yesterday, portraying the history, setting and life of the capital city. "Early Days and Ways in Madison" is an important article in the issue.

David Atwood, chairman of the printing board, writes on "Taycho-rama—The Four Lakes."

The Madison number is one of a series which deals particularly with various Wisconsin cities.

ROOMING FOR HOMECOMING IS IN GREAT NEED

All Available Rooms Should Be Listed at Badger 6144

Within the last few days nearly all houses within a half mile of the university have been called and asked to list their available rooms for Homecoming. So far room for only 250 people has been obtained. This, however, represents only a small proportion of the available rooming space in this locality, as many were uncertain as to how many they could accommodate.

List Rooms Gilland

It would be (Badger Photo) universally appreciated if all who have not been called concerning their available rooms for Homecoming would list them this week, and next, between 5 and 7 o'clock in the evening at Badger 6144," said George Gilland '24, chairman of the arrangements committee last night.

Accommodations are desired for both men and women. When a landlord lists his rooms he should be sure to state whether he prefers men, women, or both, and how many of each. Also he should give his name, address and telephone number. If he has room for one person only, it would be greatly appreciated if it could be used both Friday and Saturday nights, October 26 and 27.

"After he has filled his rooms he should call B. 6144 again so we can check him off our lists in order that he will not be bothered with other applicants. Every available room will be needed and we urge everybody to co-operate."

Those desiring rooms for Homecoming are requested not to call Badger 6144 as this committee does not handle their distribution. Rooms may be obtained only from Ellsworth Bunce, chairman of the information committee, by writing to him in care of the Country magazine. If the applicant will put his telephone number in the letter, Bunce will call him as soon as he has available rooms.

Literary Mag to Give $10 For Best Contribs

Ten dollars a month for the best single contribution to the Wisconsin Literary magazine is the prize which will be awarded throughout the year, beginning with the November issue.

The management of the magazine has felt for some time that remuneration was due capable and talented contributors and has decided upon this plan of reward.

Different judges will be chosen each month. Those for November are Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, Prof. R. E. N. Dodge and Kenneth Fearing.

LITERARY GROUPS DEBATE TONIGHT

Ku Klux Klan and Ruhr Situation Will Be Argued

Vital problems as the Oklahoma situation, the creation of an independent Ruhr state and the United States vice-presidency will all be settled tonight at the first regular meeting of the campus literary societies this evening.

The main event on Hesperia's program is a debate on the question, "Resolved, that the vice-president should relinquish his present duties and should assume the position of an active assistant to the president."

Athenae will lay stress on the debate "Resolved, that the creation of an independent European state in the Ruhr region between France and Germany would be conducive to the future peace and prosperity of Europe."

Philomathia's principle event will be a debate on the question "Resolved, that Governor Walton of Oklahoma was not justified in proclaiming the state under martial law."

The meeting will close with a general discussion of the Ku Klux Klan and its activities.

Walter R. Sharp Joins Political Science Faculty

Walter R. Sharp who recently came to the university will take the place of Graham Stuart in the department of political science.

He did his undergraduate work in Wabash college in Indiana, and afterwards did some graduate work in Yale, although he did not get a degree there.

After his work in Yale he was awarded a Field Service scholarship which enabled him to study in France and England for two years. While over there, Mr. Sharp did work in the universities of Paris, Bordeaux, and Strassbourg, and also in the College of Economics in London.

Mr. Sharp is one of the few people who have a French degree. His degree is Docteur en Droit, which corresponds to a Ph. D. in this country. His thesis was written in French, and was published over there. Its title in English is "The Problem of the Second Chamber in Modern Democracy."

"I haven't been here long enough to be able to judge very well," said Mr. Sharp, "but from what I have seen I like Wisconsin very much."

Last year, just before coming to Wisconsin, Mr. Sharp was on the faculty of Washington and Lee university, teaching history.

FIRST EXAMS THROW SHADE OVER CAMPUS

The preliminary examinations for the students enrolled in the College of Letters and Science, will take place near the end of this month, according to C. A. Smith, secretary of the faculty.

These examinations were established by a ruling of the faculty, on December 19, 1921.

Examinations are to be held for freshmen in the College of Letters and Science, and by a ruling of the faculty on January 16, 1922, formal examinations will be held near the end of October in all courses in which all undergraduates are registered.

OPEN HOUSE IS TO BE HELD NOV. 16

Faculty-Membership to Hold Open House During Dad's Week

The faculty-membership open house, which was scheduled to take place at the Y. M. C. A. tonight, has been postponed until November 16, the Friday evening preceding the football game with Michigan. The executive and social committees have made this change to the Friday of Dad's week, which is nationally celebrated during November.

The members whose fathers are in Madison for the game will bring their dads; the rest of the members will bring a faculty member. The speaker for the occasion has not been selected, but efforts will be made to obtain Dean Shailer Mathews of the University of Chicago, who was scheduled to speak this evening.

The committees feel that the proximity of the Soph-Frosh bag rush, the added significance of the meeting during Dad's week, the more perfect functioning of the committees of the Y and the addition of new members among both freshman and upperclassmen makes the change for the better interests of the association.

George Gore, '26, who has charge of the program and the refreshments, Edwin Morganroth, '26, who is in charge of issuing invitations, and Albert Finnell, '24, who is in charge of the issuing invitations, will have the direction of the postponed open house in November.

Chinese Students Honor Anniversary of Their Republic

Chinese students celebrated the 12th anniversary of the founding of the republic in their native country at a banquet and social program at the Wesley foundation Wednesday night. About 50 students attended the celebration.

Following a dinner of Chinese food the speaker of the evening, T. T. Li, graduate of the university who has just come to this country from China, was introduced by Charles L. Shao, also a graduate. "Public opinion in China is against any interference by foreign powers," said Mr. Li in his talk on the general political conditions in China today. "China will have a stable government. It may take time, but it will eventually come. The greatest aid students in this country can do for our native land is to return and give our countrymen the benefits of their training."

Pictures Help Dean Remember Engineer's Face

Front and profile pictures help Assistant Dean Millar to associate the engineer's countenance with his name and school record.

As a regular part of their registration, engineering freshmen pass through a line in the stock room of the engineering library where the pictures are taken. Two instructors direct the flood lights and snap the camera. A mirror, placed on the right of the freshmen, allows the profile to be taken at the same time as the front picture. Lettered cards, fastened to the lower part of the mirror, put the freshman's name and the date of his matriculation into the picture.

The finished plate, bearing a profile, named and dated, and a front face likeness, finds its way to a small record folder filed in Assistant Dean Millar's office. In such a way, comparable to systems used in penal institutions, the engineering school concentrates all its information of each individual upon one small folder.

IN FINAL DRILL
FOR AGGIE TILTDifferent Team to Take Field
Tomorrow, Ryan
Says

Tapering off with a light work-out and signal drill at Camp Randall this afternoon, the Badgers will complete their training for the game with the strong Michigan Aggie team to be played here tomorrow.

A hard week of scrimmage has built up the team so that in every respect it is in better shape than when it took the field against Coe last Saturday. The morale is better, there is more fight, and there is more actual ability, Coach Ryan says.

With the exception of one certain change, and two possible changes, the same team that played a week ago will line up against the Aggies tomorrow. Miller is on the injured list and will be replaced at the opening of the game by McCormick. Sanderson may start in place of Nelson, and the quarterback post is still unsettled. Either Schneider or Eagleburger will get the call.

Taft May Play.

While Taft will not start at full, it is probable that he will get into the game. Radke may also see action at the fullback post.

Oscar Teckemeyer, by virtue of his consistent playing in the Coe game and in practice during the past week, will play center. Tom Nichols, who is once more in shape for competition, will work in at guard part of the time and may get a chance at his old pivot position.

The Michigan Aggies, bent on being in the best possible shape for the battle, will arrive in Madison this noon and will familiarize themselves with the Randall field this afternoon. They will go through a light drill after 3 o'clock.

Chicago Tickets
Will Be on Sale
Monday Morning

Applications for students' tickets for the Chicago game to be held at Chicago Nov. 24 will be received at the gym office, starting Monday morning, according to announcement made by Paul Hunter, director of ticket sales, last night.

Each student may apply for two tickets upon presentation of his fee card. Each ticket will cost three dollars.

The sale will be short, because of the limited number of tickets available. Those making application first will be given the best seats.

Tickets will be on sale for the Michigan Aggie game all day today and from 8 o'clock until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Sale of tickets for the Indiana game Oct. 20 will remain open until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

GYMNASIUM MEET
TO PLAN SEASONSix Veterans and Many Prospects Report to Coach
Schlatter

About thirty men attended the general meeting of gymnasts which was held last night in the trophy room at the gymnasium. Of these men there were twelve Freshmen, all of whom looked like good material.

Men from last year's conference championship gymnastic team who turned out last night were: Capt. Stevens, Herb Smith, Norman Koch, Elmer Krieger, Al Thompson, and Art Reinhold. In addition there were ten new men who are eligible for the varsity squad. Among these, two, Huber and Wingender, look especially good.

The squad this year will be coached by Mr. Schlatter. Mr. Schlatter, who was on a leave of absence last year, originally trained last year's conference champs. He will be assisted by Frank Leitz, who acted as coach last semester.

Both Schlatter and Stevens said that prospects look much better than they had anticipated.

Grid Graphs

By ORIE

Just one more day to wait folks.

If there's anything in a name, you'll see a streak out there tomorrow labelled Kipke. Stub Kipke, playing end for the Aggies is a brother of Harry Kipke of Michigan.

And that fullback, Neller, would look good on the best team in the conference. No easy mark tomorrow, boys.

A badger football player has been dropped from the squad for breaking training rules. Tough on the player but the only thing in the world for the team. Ryan will have his rules obeyed.

If you want to see some Irish fight, watch McCormick send his 180 pounds of pep into that frey tomorrow. Light, but oh my. They don't pack fight any tighter in any package than they have packed it in Mac.

Taft is getting back into shape. Watch him if he gets in there tomorrow. A gain instead of a loss on every exchange of punts may be the deciding factor in winning the game.

Yost Scout Thinks
Mich. May Find Hot
Contest Saturday

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 10—Vanderbilt is strong, and after looking them over, Coach A. J. Sturzenegger, Michigan's chief football scout, maintains that Michigan will have a tough time in coming through the game next Saturday undefeated.

Vandy, with the regulars playing only the first quarter, had little trouble Saturday in tucking away Howard college with a 27-0 score. In the first quarter the regulars rang up 20 of the 27 points scored during the game and although Howard is considered a worthy foe, the Commodores seemed to have little trouble winning.

The southerners argue that if they were able to tie Michigan last year with a crippled team, this year with their team intact and several good men added, they should chalk up a win.

FRESHMEN ASPIRANTS
TRY TANK TONIGHT

All freshmen who desire to try out for the freshman swimming squad must report in the tank room of the armory at 7 o'clock this evening. This will be an important meeting at which time trials will be taken by Coach Joe Steinauer.

Lockers will most probably be issued to the most promising of the candidates, and it is very necessary that every freshman interested be at the gymnasium this evening.

Pointing toward the first cross country meet which is but two weeks away Coach Mead Burke will hold a time trial at 11 o'clock Saturday, in order to get a line on the men.

The men will run about three miles and the first fifteen to finish will be timed. The squad is composed almost entirely of green men and this will be their first opportunity to show what they can do in competition.

Finkle, from the 1921 team, Perry and Schneider 1922, are the only experienced men on the squad. Finkle seems to have entirely recovered from his injured leg and should be one of the strongest runners in the conference.

Some of the men, although green, are showing up well and should finish among the leaders in Saturday's trial. Among the most promising of these are Donald Campbell, Everett Swingle, George Schutt, Merrill Esterline, Abner Heald, Isadore Alk, John Read, and Theodore Goers.

AN APPRECIATION AND WARNING

Michigan has taken the step. She has trod on the toes of "political propaganda" in her refusal to allow G. W. Wickersham, at one time a member of Taft's cabinet, to speak on the League of Nations in any university building, from the Hill auditorium to the Union, on the grounds that such a speech would be spreading "political propaganda."

The ultimate effects of such a decision are quite apparent. The League of Nations is as live a subject as one could find at the present time. Yet students of a state university are prevented from hearing about it, even though the proposed speaker is a very sane man. When the League can not be talked about at Ann Arbor in what a plight the Michigan political economy and social science departments must be. Perhaps the professors in these departments may be found to be prejudiced; then their classes must be suspended, for it would be risky to allow the students to listen to a prejudiced professor talk about political affairs of the moment. And that is the least of the situation which may result among the Wolverines.

This state of affairs naturally makes one turn to see how Wisconsin has handled a like situation. Here there has been no such short-sighted holding-out against the use of free speech. Students time and again have been given opportunities to hear addresses on political subjects. The gymnasium has been packed more than once when a speaker on an essentially political subject was on the platform. Such men as H. W. Laidler, Upton Sinclair and Eugene V. Debs have addressed students in a university building. The armory has even been used for political conventions.

It is true that the lid has been shut down on a number of speakers on the grounds that they were impossible, that they were sensationalists who really had little to offer of a worth-while character. In the main, however, the authorities have given free reins to political speakers, have permitted freedom of speech on the campus, and have countenanced addresses which savored a good deal of radicalism, new thought and socialism.

And rightly have they acted thus, rightly have they not prevented students from securing what is an integral part of an education, that which can be learned from political speakers. Evidently realizing, as did ex-president Meiklejohn of Amherst, that the student must, and will, come what may, form his own political, religious and social opinions for himself, and that he will be no less useful citizen if he is not hindered in obtaining opportunities to bring about this end, the authorities have stood for free speech in a way in which Michigan has not.

It is to be hoped that this will continue to be the case, that free speech where it will bring about worthwhile ends will be allowed in university buildings. Otherwise such a situation as now exists at Michigan may arise at Wisconsin, when professors will be gagged in what they want to say, when Secretary Hoover will not be allowed to speak in the gymnasium for fear he will campaign for the presidency in 1924, when Venizelos, should he honor us with a visit, will be kept out of student ear-shot lest he fill young minds with black thoughts against Italy.

SEGREGATE THE CLASSES

Last year the matter of having a mark of distinction such as the freshman cap for each class was under a good deal of discussion. As is usually the case, however, the talk fizzled out into thin air and finally vanished like mist before the summer sun.

It is not a matter, though, that should be dropped in such a way without due and serious consideration. The custom of having members of each class wear a uniform piece of clothing which distinguishes them from members of other classes is carried out very nicely in a number of other state universities and the tradition has come to mean just as much to the students as our freshman cap tradition means to us.

At the University of California, for instance, the freshmen not only have a uniform cap, but so do the sophomores; the juniors all wear light corduroy trousers and a sombrero as well. In a large institution such as California and Wisconsin where academic classes should play a great part in the forming of friendships, such marks make this much easier.

We are planning a Union building in order that students may have a greater opportunity to make acquaintances, to mingle with their fellow students. It is essentially for students who have little opportunity to do this because of their circumstances.

Such a tradition of class marks of distinction as that which exists at California would also help to bring about the same end for which the Union building is partly being erected. Elections are not far off, and perhaps it would be well if those who are elected presidents of their classes would bring before their classmates the matter of deciding upon some sort of a garb of distinction.

MADISON AND THE UNION

For many years the moving picture people have been following the practice of making a certain number of pictures and telling the theater owner that he can use them all or none at all. Now at last the producers have decided that this is a foolish manner in which to distribute films, that it means that more poor pictures are put before the public, and they have changed their tactics.

The method employed by one company now will give fans a better grade—or at least a more desirable grade—of cinemas. The company sends out to certain "test" cities in the country films upon which the public is invited to comment. If the comment on a certain picture is favorable, then more pictures like it are made. Thus the public stands more chance of getting the sort of picture it wants.

Madison is one of the "test" cities in the company's circuit. We will be able to see pictures throughout the year which have never been shown in any city before. Such actions on the part of the producers must mean that Madison is a movie city. They also mean that it is quite select, for there are only 20 cities in the United States which are thus privileged.

The moving picture people have taken a big step, and Madison is a prominent figure in that step.

THIS GOOD OCTOBER WEATHER
(Ohio State Lantern)

This is great weather we're having. The nights are cool enough to make a couple of blankets seem comfortable, while the days warm up with the rise of the sun until it is both possible and practical to attend classes without wearing a topcoat.

It is a typical autumn. The cool nights seem quite refreshing after the heat of the summer, while the days still retain enough warmth to allow for pleasant hours under the trees or on the porch.

Students should try to go out-of-doors as much as possible these fine days. The tennis courts are open, and afford splendid opportunities for exercise such as every student needs. Long tramps up the river or out in the country afford wonderful experiences in the realm of nature, restful and soothing after the din and hubbub of the city.

Steak and marshmallow roasts are quite the thing, and we much prefer them to the heated and noisy atmosphere of the ballroom while this weather lasts. Brown October comes but once a year, and the opportunity for its enjoyment should not slide past unnoticed.

LOST ARTICLES TURN UP IN DEAN'S OFFICE

Several unfortunate students who have lost valuables can find them in the office of the dean of women. The articles found include an Eversharp pencil, a vanity case, two purses containing money, a pair of spectacles, and a beautiful yellow scarf. They were probably lost in Lathrop hall or near there.

Mrs. Stehn, who has charge of the lost and found desk in Lathrop, will restore the articles to the owners upon identification. There are also some things unclaimed from last year.

MADISON

FOREIGN, LOCAL NEWSCLUB TO HAVE
DANCE CLASSES
FOR ENGINEERS

It was decided to have dancing classes for those who wish to try out for the chorus of Haresfoot at a meeting of the club held Wednesday night in the Union building, and Nelson Fairbanks '24 was elected vice president of the club for the coming year to fill the vacancy created by the resignation member of the instructional staff of Thomas M. Niles, who is of the College of Engineering.

Two books of the seven originally submitted for the 26th annual production have been forwarded to E. Mortimer Shuter, coach of the club for the coming year. Shuter will make final recommendations for changes and select the one better adapted to the club's needs.

The club will hold dancing classes for all male students interested in Haresfoot chorus work this year, it was announced. Older men in the club will instruct newcomers in the steps at regular classes continuing through the first semester and in this way will train a large group of dancers for the 1924 show tryouts.

The classes will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays from four to six, probably in Lathrop hall. Announcement will be made later if there is a change in the place.

Scores of "Kikmi," last year's play, will be placed on sale next Tuesday in various campus buildings. This sale has been suggested as the best plan to give those who wish the scores an opportunity to get them.

Castalia Holds
Meeting Tonight
to Explain Work

Castalia literary society will hold an open meeting at 7 o'clock tonight in the S. G. A. room, Lathrop hall, for the purpose of acquainting all women interested in trying out, next week, with the proceedings of the organization.

The program includes an explanation of "The Value of a Literary Society" by Helen J. Baldauf '25, president; a musical number, piano and violin selection by Helen Winnie '25 and Lois Palmer '25; a reading by Ethel Druse '25; a talk, "The Profit we can gain from Books," by Alfa Reth '24. A short reception will follow the program.

Girls interested in try-outs next Friday evening may fill out application blanks after the program. Castalia opens nine fields to its members: criticism, debating, decision, extempore work, music, oratory, original selections, prepared papers and poetry. Three minute try-outs may be based on any of these types.

Clef club tryouts will be held from 7 to 9 o'clock October 24 at the Sigma Kappa house. All upper classmen may tryout for vocal or instrumental membership.

Next week will offer many attractive features to Madison theatergoers. We're going to have a chance to see some of the pictures which have been long in coming because they have been so good that they have been held over in other cities.

Mrs. Wallace Reid will play in "Human Wreckage" at the Madison starting Sunday, continuing for the whole week. "Human Wreckage" is a human story of a cross-section of community life in America today. It is said to be one of the greatest human interest stories ever brought to the screen, a powerful appeal against the narcotic menace.

The Strand will offer the exclusive pictures of the Class Rush which will be held Saturday afternoon on the lower campus. And then they will show from Sunday to Tuesday the satiric comedy "Tea with a Kick," which is said to be presented by 12 famous comedians, five leading ladies and 10 dramatic celebrities, including also 10 prize winning beauties from the states and Canada.

For the second part of the week the Strand will present "The Age of Desire," a First National attraction. The Strand is asking for more contributions for the University Humor Film, which will contain humorous quips from students.

Starting Sunday, for five days, the Parkway will show Rex Beach's "The Spoilers," a novel from the Yukon days, including in the cast Anna Q. Nilsson, Milton Sills and Ford Sterling. For the second part of the week, beginning Friday, "Up the Ladder," a New York and Chicago success, written by Mr. Davis, who won the 1922-23 Pulitzer prize for the best American play, will be presented.

"The Spanish Dancer" will be dancing at the Madison, and for that see the review on this page by our friend Tormentor. This is the first time that this picture has ever been shown in any city.

MILWAUKEE SPEAKER

Dr. William T. Dorward of Milwaukee will speak to the Baptist Brotherhood of the First Baptist church tonight. He has announced as his subject "The Master Key." Supper will be served at 7 o'clock, for which there will be a charge of 50 cents. Those who wish to come should notify W. L. Woodward this evening.

"Mixed Marriages" prospects are brighter every day, according to the men in charge. The co-dramatic society idea seems to be working very well.

We doubt very much whether the Haresfoot club ever will be very co. If it does the dean of women probably will be in the cast.

Here's a secret. Madison is now an exploitation center for the Paramount people and their pictures, the best ones, will be shown here before they are released in New York, Chicago or other places.

Union Vodvil is in the offing. Girls probably will be excluded even though there are rumors that Bill Purnell will be back to run the affair.

It is too bad that there are more girls at Wisconsin interested in dramatics and taking dramatic courses than boys, but yet that they are not allowed to enter in vaudeville work independently.

Vaudeville was President Wilson's favorite recreation. In many respects it is just as necessary a theatrical activity as the most serious drama. Why deprive the women of a part in it?

The Haresfoot club will camp at the Parkway this week end to see that the Ernie Young gang doesn't run away with their equipment which they have been using all week.

Here's hoping that the Spanish Marimba band at the Parkway next week will bring their own marimbas. The Haresfoot club is just out.

Here is the most crushing blow ever dealt against the narcotic drug evil—here is the most gigantic motion picture ever conceived—a pulsating photodrama that pierces deep under the surface of superficiality and fiction into the throbbing heart of humanity itself—a picture that will plunge you down to the very brink of the Inferno of Human Experience and sweep you up to the dizziest heights of sublime emotion that it is possible for mortals to reach! BY ALL MEANS SEE IT! !
