BETAS WIN SING FOR THIRD TIME AT VARSITY NIGHT

Lloyd Valley '25 Given Conference Medal; Athletic Awards Made

Another Varsity Night has become history and another tradition is established a little more firmly in the annals of Wisconsin events. The athletic awards were distributed, the Beta Theta Pi fraternity again won the interfraternity sing; and the traditional burning of the freshman caps was accomplished last night.

The Varsity Night ceremony opened at 7 o'clock with the Varsity toast, led by "Shorty" Walsted. Following the toast, Marshall Diebold '25, welcomed the high school students who are here attending the interscholastic track meet.

Athletic Awards
The athletic awards were made to members of the different teams of the university by Coach Tom Jones, who commended the tradition of Varsity Night as a "splendid custom."

Oscar Teckemeyer '25 spoke on the prospects of the crew at Poughkeepsie and Athletic Director George Little welcomed the high school students. "Wisconsin offers chance to prep school boys to get better inspiration morally, physically and mentally than any other institution in the country. We want the best there is, here, and we offer the best, Wisconsin," he said.

Floyd Valley '25, captain of the track team, was presented with the conference medal, awarded to the best all-around athlete and student in the university. Aside from his work in track, in which sport he has won three "W's," Valley is also a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Iron Cross, White Spades, and has won a major W in cross country running.

NOTED ENGINEER GIVES ADDRESS

Dr. Durand, President of A. S. M. E., Speaks to Engineering Students

Describing the proposed power and irrigation project for Southern California, Dr. William Durand, president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers who lectured to the engineering students at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the engineering auditorium, explained the necessity for such a power plant.

Dr. Durand in explaining the proposed project, described the use of water for irrigation in California. The lecturer claimed the project is necessary both because of the municipal water supply which it would make possible and also because of the power it would make available for various uses. The project calls for the construction of an immense dam in the Colorado river.

A banquet in honor of Dr. Durand was given last night by the student chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The 25 alumni members of the society who live in Madison were invited to attend the banquet. Talks were given by members of the faculty of the College of Engineering.

The 11 o'clock classes in the College of Engineering were dismissed yesterday in order to permit the students to attend Dr. Durand's lecture.

ATHLETES FROM 61 HIGH SCHOOLS VIE FOR HONORS

When starter George Berg pulls his pistol from its holster at 1:30 o'clock today at Camp Randall, track athletes from 61 Wisconsin high schools will be straining at the leash, ready to vie for honors. The opening shot of the starter's gun will find 761 track and field performers prepared to uphold the athletic prestige of their respective schools.

The Thirty-First State Interscholastic track meet has broken all records by drawing to Madison 511 men from 34 class A schools, and 250 from 27 class B schools. Schools with enrollments of over 350 are included in class A.

Activity Promised
Besides the activity and commotion caused by this swarm of prep school trackmen, there will be the cheering of hundreds of high school rooters who are following their teams to Madison, a squad of barking freshmen selling athletic reviews, and peanut salesmen noisily vending their wares. All these elements combined assure action aplenty in the stadium this afternoon.

Among the notables to be present, besides a dignified array of officials, are three great aces: Cincosky, of Milwaukee West, Folsom, of Janesville, and Spyier, of Westby. These three high school stars are slated to break three records in the javelin, pole vault, and broad jump respectively.

Riverside Strong
Milwaukee Riverside will be present with a formidable group of 26 star men. This team is hoped to win the class A meet. In the Midwest relays held here May 4,

GIVE BANQUET IN HONOR OF BIRGE

Faculty Members and Regents Hear Speeches on Aspects of Prexy's Life

More than 400 members of the faculty, their wives and members of the board of regents of the university attended the dinner which was given in honor of President Birge by members of the faculty at Lathrop gymnasium at 6:30 o'clock yesterday.

Five members of the faculty presented five aspects of the activities of President Birge. Dean Sellery spoke on "Birge, the Administrator," Dean Russell on "Birge, the Teacher," Prof. A. R. Hohlfield on "The Humanist," Prof. W. O. Hotchkiss on "Birge, the Scientist," and Dean Richards on "Birge, the Man." Dean Charles S. Schlichter presided.

Prof. Max Mason was in charge of the arrangements for the gathering. Assisting him were Prof. H. A. Aust, chairman of decorations; L. D. Halverson, chairman of the dinner and Prof. Julius Olson in charge of the program. The university orchestra played during the dinner.

FRESHMAN ARRESTED FOR PULLING TROLLEY

A freshman was arrested last night on the square for pulling a trolley. Police officials would not divulge the name of the student but said that he had been released on bail. He will appear in Judge O. A. Stolen's court this morning. The Strand theater is offering a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest of the students who are supposed to have stolen the theater's furniture during the rushing of the theater last night.

VENETIAN NIGHT PROGRAM OPENS AT 8:30 TONIGHT

Annual Spring Activity Will Close Thirty-first High School Day

Venetian night, the most characteristic and traditional Wisconsin spring activity, which will take place on Lake Mendota tonight, will bring to a close the thirty-first interscholastic day.

Starting with the first interscholastic swimming meet at 10 o'clock in the morning in the tank of the university gymnasium the events of interscholastic day and Venetian night will swing into line. There will be no charge for the swimming meet.

Crew Race at 11 O'clock
The events of the morning include a mile and a quarter race between the junior varsity and the St. John's crews, an exhibition by the crew that will go to Poughkeepsie, and a number of life-saving stunts.

All the floats entered will assemble at 8 o'clock near the hydraulics laboratory from where the parade will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Award Cups

"Two cups will be awarded to the best floats in the parade and two cups for the best decorated piers," Edith Boys '26, chairman of the committee on prizes announced yesterday. The prizes are now on display in the University pharmacy.

Twelve members of the Dolphin club will put on the Dolphin Wheel, and there will be fancy diving and fire diving, the "Slide for Life," "The Tragedy of the Good Ship Rye," aquaplaning, including single and double stunts and a number of other special stunts.

LUDWIG NAMED HEAD OF FORENSIC BOARD

Carl J. Ludwig was elected president of the Forensic board at its last organization meeting. William L. Olson '26 was elected vice-president, John D. Sumner '26, treasurer, Roman L. Bachhuber, secretary, and Elizabeth Ellingson, corresponding secretary.

Union Board Sign Guarded by Sentry; Answers Mystery

M. R. Costello '28, acting as an armed sentry with belt and bayonet, stalked grimly before the "Watch '25" sign board in front of the Union building beginning at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At the same time an overalled dauber applied white paint to the sign and crossed out the '28 which earlier this week replaced the '25. A reporter from the Daily Cardinal rushed into the senior campaign headquarters to inquire what it was all about. The sentry stalked on, grimly. The answer came when John Bergstresser, president of '25, and Clyde Kluckhohn of the class of '28, painted the numerals of both their classes on the board later in the evening as part of the cap night ceremony, and the challenge of '28. Now, it's "Watch—'25 and '28."

SOLDIERS' FUND BILL IS SENT TO SENATE

The bill, approved by Governor Blaine and transmitted to the joint finance committee, concerning the use of the soldier's rehabilitation fund to promote scientific, education and social work in the state medical school and the soldier's memorial hospital, has been approved by the joint finance committee and sent to the senate to be voted upon. It appears on the senate calendar for the latter part of next week.

TEMPERATURE OF 84 BREAKS LOCAL RECORDS

A new seasonal heat record was established yesterday afternoon when the mercury in the weather bureau office in North hall registered 84 degrees above zero. The previous high mark for the season was 82 degrees on April 22.

Latest Defiance Solves Mystery Attached to "Watch '28" Sign

Clyde Kluckhohn, freshman class president, hurled a challenge at the senior class at Cap Night celebration on lower campus last night when he announced that a freshman Memorial Union campaign will be held Monday. This announcement is a sequel to the painting of the freshmen class numerals on the senior sign board in front of the Union building earlier this week, and solves the mystery of why the campus should "Watch—'28."

First intimation of rivalry between the two classes came after John Bergstresser, senior class president, closed his speech to the class assembled for Cap night by saying that he was going over to the sign board and restore the original slogan which was "Now—Watch '25." Kluckhohn jumped on the platform, told Bergstresser that the freshmen were going to subscribe more to the Union than the seniors Monday, and demanded that the freshman numerals should be placed on the board also.

Accepts Challenge
Bergstresser smilingly accepted the challenge for the class of '25 and both class presidents went over to the sign and painted their respective numerals on the board, '25 in cardinal and '28 in green.

Following the painting of the green '28 on the sign board last Tuesday night, freshmen class leaders held several conferences to determine what action the class should take. Consensus was that the freshman class should hold a Union campaign on the day chosen by the seniors. Despite a handicap of $11,000, the freshmen believed they could get more pledges than the

TO GIVE DINNER FOR S. L. MILLER

Artus, Honorary Organization, Sponsors Gathering for Railway Professor

A farewell dinner will be tendered S. L. Miller, assistant professor of railway transportation, who is to go to Iowa as a full professor next fall, at 6 o'clock next Tuesday at the University club. Artus, honorary economics society, is sponsoring the dinner. About 55 friends, including students and members of the faculty of the economics department will attend.

Prof. Miller has been connected with the university for more than nine years. He is the author of "Principles of Railway Transportation" which was published last fall. In addition to his work in transportation, Prof. Miller has assisted in the elementary economics, having lectured in that course during Prof. Kickhofer's leave of absence.

Louis Sosland '25 will speak for the undergraduate students. Prof. John R. Commons and S. W. Gilman will speak as representatives of the faculty.

Harold Groves, instructor in the department of economics and assistant to Prof. Miller in the transportation courses, will be toastmaster.

WEAKENED WISCONSIN NINE FACES CHICAGO IN ENCOUNTER TODAY

Steen Clips Ankle and May be Out of Season's Play

A determined but weakened baseball team representing Wisconsin will face the fast climbing Chicago nine today at Stagg field.

The team which has been working hard all week and were looking like possible winners were materially weakened last night when Reginald Steen, first sacker, chipped the bone in his right ankle when he slid into home plate during the practice session last night.

Larson At First

It was at first thought that he had broken it, but a medical examination revealed that the member was badly sprained and probably chipped. Steen will probably be out of the game for the rest of the year. He is a veteran having played last year, and has held the key-stone sack job all the present season. His batting average for the seven conference games played so far this year is .333.

Due to the injury of Steen, Coach Lowman had to make a decided shift in the lineup. Larson, slugging center fielder, has been moved to first base. This man is not the fielder Steen is, but he is able to cover the sack in fine style.

Edwards Shifted

Edwards, who has been playing right field, has been shifted to the place vacated by Larson; and Lamboley, a catcher, is working in Edwards' regular garden.

During the practice Captain Ellingson and Edwards worked a while on the mound. It is probable that either man will be used in the game to pitch, but Coach Lowman has only three pitchers and feels it is best to practice the old adage, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Stoll Will Hurl

Stoll or Claussen will hurl today with Stoll getting the call. Both these men have developed into good hurlers, and Coach Lowman figures that if Stoll can hold the Maroons he will save Claussen for the game Monday with Illinois, since the Illinois have a number of left-handed batters and Claussen is a port-sider.

The batting order will probably be the same as has been used in the last couple of games, Lamboley replacing Steen in the lineup.

The lineup:

Tangen, 3b; Ellingson, 2b; Edwards, cf; Larson, 1b; Donagan, lf; Lamboley, rf; Barnum, c; Weiland, ss; Stoll, p.

VALLELY EXCELLS AS SCHOLAR AND TRACK ATHLETE

Holds 880-Yard Dash Record in Conference; Belongs to Scholastic Societies

In Lloyd Valley, captain of the 1925 track squad, and winner of the conference medal awarded at the Varsity Night program last night, Wisconsin has a great athlete and a good scholar.

Valley first came into prominence in 1920 when he competed for the Ashland high school in the state interscholastic track and field meet, winning the 440 and 880 runs in fast time.

The following year he entered Wisconsin and distinguished himself in freshman track activities. In his first year of Big Ten competition he won the 880 yard dash in the conference meet in time of 1:55 1-5, which still stands as the Wisconsin record.

In his seven years of high school and college competition he has only failed to place three times.

Besides winning three "W's" in track he has won a "W" and a "W A A" in cross country.

In the classroom he has distinguished himself, his marks being of the exceptional variety. He is a member of Kappa Sigma, social fraternity; Iron Cross, senior honorary society; White Spades, junior honor society; Beta Gamma Sigma, commerce honorary fraternity; Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity. He is a member of the athletic board.

AWARD INSIGNIA TO 81 ATHLETES AS CROWDS CHEER; MEDAL TO VALLELY

By A. J. W.

Another chapter was added to the history of the University of Wisconsin last night as 1,500 loyal Badger men and women sang the toast to varsity and cheered the athletes who were awarded "W" in Lincoln Terrace on the Hill.

The presentation of the college insignia marked the third annual varsity night at which the men who have fought for Wisconsin's athletic prestige were honored by the university. Eighty one awards were given, including sports of basketball, track, swimming, water basketball, hockey, wrestling, and gymnastics.

Marshal Diebold, captain of the 1924-25 basketball team, acted as master of ceremonies. After introductory remarks of welcome to the visiting high school athletes, he introduced Coach Tom Jones, who presented the sweaters to the athletes.

Coach Jones, in speaking of the sweater awards, compared the service of the Cardinal athletes with that of the men who served their country in the war: "There is no money involved. What these men have done takes effort, courage, and determination; and with such qualities in her men, Wisconsin can and will continue to maintain her prestige in athletics."

Captain Lloyd Valley of the famous Wisconsin track team was presented the conference medal as the senior man recognized for both athletic and scholastic merit. Valley's proficiency was outstanding both on the track and in his studies, which averaged 87.5.

Three deafening sky-rockets and a storm of applause greeted Athletic Director George Little as he appeared to address the motley gathering. "It means sacrifice and effort, and not merely talent and gift, to be one of the men who holds an intercollegiate record," was the way Coach Little erased the fantasy of some people who think that men like Schwarze and other recognized athletes win their laurels.

Mr. Little continued, "Because a school is outstanding in athletics is no sign that its curriculum is better than the school whose athletic teams are not quite on a par; our teams can do that too!" "I have received more inspiration during the past six weeks while traveling throughout Wisconsin and hearing groups of youngsters singing 'On Wisconsin!' and 'I Want to be a Badger' than is hardly possible to express."

He finished by saying that no finer tribute could have been given by anyone than the 2,500 students who sat through the hot sun in the stadium yesterday afternoon at the Minnesota - Wisconsin track meet, and showed the visiting high school athletes the spirit of loyalty and stick-to-itiveness that commands every Wisconsin student.

PHILADELPHIA — Curtailment of federal bureaus and commissions engaged in investigating industry was urged by Sen. Wm. M. Butler, Mass., in an address.

ATHLETES OF 61 SCHOOLS CLASH ON TRACK TODAY

EXPECT SEVERAL RECORDS TO FALL AS STARS BATTLE

Cincosky, Folsom, and Spyier
Are Strong in Their Events

Riverside easily made the best showing.

Judging from precedent and the latest forecasts exuding from Milwaukee sport circles, everything points to a clean cut victory for the 139 men from the six Milwaukee schools entered in class A. Other class cities, however, are sending teams to Madison with strict instructions to break the strangle hold which Milwaukee holds have had on the state championship for so many years.

Throngs Arrive

Out of the north come strong teams like Wausau, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Green Bay West, and Sparta. The strongest team from southwestern Wisconsin is Platteville, which recently won the title of its district by an overwhelming score. Madison Central and East are weaker than usual, and it is not expected that they will stand very high in the point column.

Throngs of high school men have been pouring into the city since Thursday, from every section of the state. Many of the entries from the small class B schools are motoring to the city this morning, as well as most of the Milwaukee aggregations.

George Little, director of athletics, arrived in town yesterday from a northern Wisconsin barnstorming tour, so that he can be present at the meet to act as honorary referee.

Jones Is Referee.

Track Coach Thomas E. Jones will act as referee. Guy Sundt, freshman coach, is general manager of the meet, and Carl Klath '26, is student general chairman. Klath stated last night that the meet today will be the greatest of any high school meets ever staged in Wisconsin.

The interscholastic was started June 8, 1895, with an entry list of 100 men. From that inauspicious beginning, it has grown steadily to its present great size, with swimming and tennis meets included in its broad program. Now a gloriously brilliant Venetian night is being put on to entertain the high school visitors.

Two Separate Meets

Spectators this afternoon can enjoy two separate state meets at once, as the class A and B events will be run at the same time. The trials in the first track event, the 120 yard high hurdles, will be run at 1:30 o'clock. The other events, to be run in succession, are the 100 yard dash, mile run, 440 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 220 yard low hurdles, half mile run, and the half mile relay. The pole vault will begin at 1:30 o'clock, followed by the shot put, high jump, discus, javelin and broad jump.

The following schools are entered in class A:

Stoughton, Eau Claire, Edgerton, Oconto Falls, Viroqua, Madison Central, Madison East, Fort Atkinson, Watertown, Janesville, Monroe, Green Bay West, Green Bay East, Wausau, Tomah, Milwaukee South, Milwaukee North, Milwaukee Riverside, Milwaukee Washington, Milwaukee Bay View, Milwaukee West, Beaver Dam, Sheboygan, Platteville, Oshkosh, Racine, West Allis, Wisconsin Rapids and Sparta.

The class B schools entered are as follows:

Westby, Cuba City, Roberts, Spooner, Elmwood, Wild Rose, Sun Prairie, Arena, West Bend, Brillion, Monticello, Valders, Lake Geneva, De Pere, Columbus, Middleton, Shorewood, Hancock, Norwalk, Viola, Milton, Oconomowoc, Black Earth, Prairie du Sac, Wisconsin

Wisconsin Trackmen Triumph Over Gopher Squad, 88-42

70 MEN TO COMPETE IN SWIMMING MEET

Nearly 70 men from seven high schools will compete in the first annual interscholastic swimming meet at 10 o'clock this forenoon in the varsity tank of the men's gymnasium.

"Seven records will be established today as the mark made in each event will stand as a record until the next meet," said Coach Joe Steinauer yesterday.

"Hooks" Czweronsky, Jr., will swim for Milwaukee East Division and university swimming fans will watch him with interest knowing the prowess of his brother, one of the most famous Badger swimmers.

Schools entering men for the contest include Milwaukee West Division, Madison Central, Janesville, West Allis, Riverside, Monroe and Lincoln.

Last Home Meet of Year is Victorious One for Badgers

By DENNY

Again Wisconsin triumphed on the cinderpath. This time it was Minnesota that formed another step in the Badger ladder of fame for the 1925 track season. Although the meet was full of many upsets and surprises the Cardinal steam roller amassed a total of 88 1-3 points while the fighting Gophers were making 46 2-3.

Except for a few minutes after the century dash the Wisconsin men were far in the lead and at no time was their supremacy seriously threatened. Coach Jones' warriors took 10 of a possible 15 first places and registered one grand slam in the two mile when three Cardinal jerseys crossed the finish line a good 20 yards ahead of the lone Minnesota entry in the long grind.

Gophers Start Strong

Minnesota started out in a most ostentatious manner when Gruenhagen, premier dash man from the north, beat McAndrews out in the last 20 yards of the 100 yard dash to take the event in even time. A few minutes later the same man turned the trick again in the furlong by leading McAndrews around the curve and down the straightaway in 22 seconds. "Pat" did not push himself to the limit as he has a bad leg and Coach Jones is saving him for the Michigan dual and Conference meet.

This same Gruenhagen and McGinnis tied for high individual honors with 10 points each. McGinnis gained his by taking two firsts in the high jump and high hurdles. McAndrews was third with a first in the broad jump, second in the 100 and third in the 220.

Schutt Takes Mile

In the mile George Schutt turned in a pretty performance when he stepped out to win the mile by a lead of 25 yards in 4:29. In the two mile Ray Kubby staged a wonderful comeback to win his favorite event in 9:54.

McGinnis Surprises

"Chuck" McGinnis pulled the surprise of the day when he defeated Mattice, Minnesota ace, in the 120 highs. After taking the high jump handily McGinnis won the high hurdles in time that was within one-fifth of a second of the

Engineer Students To Hear Durand Lecture

All junior and senior engineering students are excused from classes in professional subjects Friday morning Dr. William F. Durand, president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Wisconsin record established by Al Knollin in 1922.

Bergstresser and Carter pulled another big surprise when they shut out Scarborough in the half mile.

Cox Breaks Record

To Ted Cox, premier Minnesota hammer thrower, goes the credit for breaking the only Wisconsin record yesterday by tossing the hammer through the air for 153 feet 7 1-2 inches. The old Wisconsin mark that has stood since 1907 was overshadowed by more than six feet.

After taking the shot put with a heave of 48 feet 10 inches Schwarze met his match in the discus when he bumped up against the doughty Schutte. Competing in the 100, the hammer, the shot and the discus, the Gopher football ace took the measure of Schwarze in the discus with a toss of 131 feet 7 inches. Herb was terribly off form in this event yesterday.

Krieger turned in a neat afternoon's work in the pole vault. After winning the event at 12 feet three inches he went on in an attempt to break the Wisconsin inches and failed by a fraction of an inch to clear 12 feet 9 inches which would have given him the new mark.

Forenoon

Exhibiting a powerful stroke, the St. John's Military academy oarsmen rowed several miles in their own shell yesterday afternoon in preparation for the race with the Badger Junior varsity crew at 11 o'clock this forenoon.

Wisconsin's crew was out also and went over the course in good time. Coach Vail expects a close race and is none too confident that the juniors will win.

The race is scheduled to begin at 11 o'clock and will be over a mile and a quarter course ending up at the foot of Park street. Because of the short distance, it will be a race of speed rather than of distance.

Porter will be at stroke in the Badger crew today, Trichel at 7, Houdek at 6, Bratton at 5, Steel at 4, Van Wagenen at 3, Denu at 1. Hardy will be the lucky coxswain.

Each year a crew race is held as a feature of Interscholastic day and Wisconsin crew in the past have met oarsmen from Lincoln High Chicago, St. John's Military academy, and one eight from Manitoba, Canada.

THE FROSH UNION DRIVE

When the Daily Cardinal commented some time back on the fact that the Memorial union campaign, in order to be successful, would have to surpass the results of previous campaigns, on account of the added stimulus of the newly completed plans, it was little expected that the enthusiasm for the cause would be so great as to involve any except the senior class.

Today, however, the class of '28 steps out with a grand flourish to make good its boast of "Watch '28," and with the oldest and the youngest students head over heels in their campaigns, the other two classes are likewise beginning to prick up their ears and take an interest. While there has not been time for either seniors or freshmen to show extensive results as yet, the enthusiasm animating both campaigns indicates that results will exceed expectations.

This freshman campaign should prove exciting. By all the ear marks commonly supposed to designate a good class, the class of '28 has made more claims to fame this year than most of its predecessors. In fact, most of the upperclassmen started to "watch '28" already last fall, speculating on how long this spurge of activity would last. But new indications of strength and vitality have been forthcoming regularly, culminating this week in the Union campaign.

Of course the percentage of subscriptions among the freshmen will not be as great as that in the senior class; the former have not had time to become entirely imbued with the Wisconsin idea and the Union ideal as have the latter. But the frosh campaign in itself will serve to acquaint the first year men with the Union, and will train them to take an even more active interest in it during the coming three years. The frosh campaign may also be interpreted as a challenge to the sophomores and juniors likewise to swing into line behind the Union project.

UNDERGRADUATE LEISURE

"I have an hour to kill."

Who has not heard this phrase? The youth in the baggy knickers and the eye-defying socks has just told his friend that, thrown his cigarette but into the flower bed behind Abraham, and saunters off down the hill. Of course he tells himself "I could go home and do that outside reading for French, but why worry? I know that course cold; I'll ritz the old boy!" Thus dismissing his French instructor from his thoughts and divesting his mind of its intellectual clothing, he kills the hour.

Interscholastic day is a day of many attractions. Students and visitors will have tennis, crew, swimming, track, Venetian night, etc., ad infinitum, to draw their attention. Yes, we must get at these theses and exams—but for today they will have to wait.

By Your Leave

Of Horses and Dogs and Cats.

Feelingless automatons not ever or even trying to be real because we do not know; senseless shapes of flesh who realize life only because our hearts beat. Yellow slickers, we are, on a rainy day; or else plus-fours when the sun is gleaming. No, if this is too general, it is not too harsh.

We live and do not know it; indeed, we barely live, and that within ourselves. We make the motions, that is all. Aristides is little better than a name, if it is that; and wherein he deserved to be called "The Just," nor even what Justice is, we do not know nor appreciate. A little more familiar is the name of Socrates only because it has been foisted down our parched throats so frequently and largely because the man ended his life in such a sensational fashion that Hearst papers would have flaunted the news in six-inch, red-faced type. The poets we read, when occasion demands—we read, and then forget their pictures, if we ever saw them, their losses, their jubiliations, their fields and cities and their springs. To us the self-same experiences—now it is le printemps—green carpets, shimmering ripples, fire-flies in a cavern, love—fail to mean anything.

We sip, rather than drink in, the present fragrance. As for wine, it is more or less a stranger for which we substitute obsessing liquid fire which no man would drink but for the after pleasure which he forgets to value and, instead, curses and leers and spews.

In pale amber nights we gaze into blue eyes whose blue is as colorless as vacuum, kiss lips which have kissed a million other lips and have not yet learned how to kiss.

We live, as it were, in a shell, bounded on the south by Regent street, on the west by some line not far beyond Middleton, on the north by some indefinite zig-zag across Mendota's length and on the east by the Northwestern station, which last does make it possible for us to slip away from our shell at times, but for such short times that the mould of the shell leaves its impression upon us.

And when some one comes out of the East or out of any foreign place, and we see that he or she knows what life really is to the most minute detail, we are astounded. Then we know that, if we but give ourselves half a chance, we too may discover many things—the vital richness that has been discovered already a multitude of times and waits with utter patience to be rediscovered.

When Building Will Begin

By JOHN DOLLARD

At this writing, the day cannot be named. But we know that it will be soon. We know it because the things which have happened in the last two months make it inevitable. The event hangs on the final approval of the regents of the sketches recently presented to them for the building.

The matter stands here. The Memorial Union executive committee gave its final approval to the present sketches April 9th and presented them to the regents for their approval and construction action. The regents saw the sketches three days after and looked on them with favor, but because they had a considerable amount of building pending, and because they desired that the Union, the new dormitories and the field house should be architecturally compatible and harmonious, they sent the state architect, Mr. Arthur Peabody, to present the whole program to Mr. Paul Cret of Philadelphia. Mr. Cret will be remembered as the architect who in 1908 drew up a plan of development for the university, and it was believed that his judgment would be of great significance now.

Mr. Peabody has gone to Philadelphia and seen Mr. Cret, and the latter has already made a formal report to the regents. The particular question on which Architect Cret's judgment has been sought is that of the development of the lower campus area. The regents, I understand, will shortly meet to consider the reports of both Mr. Cret and Mr. Peabody.

The next move—granting the approval of the regents—will be the development of working drawings for the first unit to be built. This unit will be the center or Union unit. Following that bids will be opened and contracts let—the whole process taking some five or six months. I believe that the outline here of future events is fairly likely to be prophetic of which will actually happen, and that we can expect to see dirt flying on the Union site in the fall.

It is possible that things will move even faster. I have set down here only the course of events which now seems exceedingly probable. It's up to the regents now to give us action. And once we start, we can go straight through with money now in hand and build the entire first unit.

R. O. T. C. OFFICERS TO LEAVE STAFF

No Successors Are Named for Three Members Named to Other Work

Major L. L. Lampert, Lieut. E. Z. Crane and Lieut. E. A. Erickson as well as Major O. L. Brunzell are leaving the instructional staff of the military department at the close of the school year. Their successors have not been appointed by the war department.

Major Brunzell is going to Washington, D. C., where he will be detailed to the war college. Major Lampert goes to Texas and Lieut. Crane will be sent to the Philippine islands, and Lieut. Erickson will be stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla.

At the present time the personnel of the instructional staff includes two majors, six captains, three lieutenants, eight sergeants, and eight privates.

The inspection Thursday will be the last general formation of the R. O. T. C. students until Memorial day, May 30. At that time the president's review will be held, and the students in the corps will attend the Memorial exercises on Lincoln terrace.

All reserve commissions and also the medals won in company, individual, rifle, and pistol competition will be awarded at the time of the president's review.

"Our chances for a distinguished rating this year are very good," said Major Brunzell. The university was awarded distinguished rating in 1915, 1916, 1920, 1921, 1922, and 1923.

PROF. G. SHOWERMAN AWARDS ANNUAL PRIZE

GOODNIGHT HERE 11 YEARS AS DEAN

Reorganization Effected in 1914 Continues Down to Present Time

The first dean of men ever appointed at Wisconsin, Scott H. Goodnight, completed his eleventh term of office yesterday. Along with his duties as dean of men and as supervisor of extra-curricular activities, Dean Goodnight has had charge of the summer session since 1911.

"It seems that the faculty is always one jump behind the student body" was the explanation given by Dean Goodnight for the reorganization which came in 1914 in the field of student life and interest. "It was because of this fact that there was no means at hand to cope with the problems which came up between the faculty and student body. A special office was deemed necessary to take charge of the regulations made at that time. As its appointed dean, I gave up all scholastic duties except one preliminary course in German in order to give full justice to the work."

In 1913 and 1914 graft and misappropriation of funds and class money were discovered. The faculty then took over the supervision of funds which went through student hands and retained this control until the senate was created.

After this trouble the faculty decided it would be better to regulate all outside activities under a common head. Thus, in 1914 there was a general revision of the work of activities' supervision.

Choral Union Sing Well Given Tuesday on Lincoln Terrace

A community sing sponsored by the Choral union will be held on Lincoln Terrace, Tuesday, May 26, from 6:30 to 7:15 o'clock.

"We feel that there is a great need for good music on the campus," said Prof. E. E. Gordon, of the School of Music, who is in charge of the affair. "For this reason the Choral union, an organization made up of those especially interested in singing, is sponsoring this song-fest for the entire university community."

The sing-along, as it is to be called, is not for musicians only. It is for everyone interested in community singing. Several new songs have been written for the occasion and campus groups are learning them. It is an all-university affair and everyone will sing in the choruses.

SENIOR SOLICITORS WILL MEET TODAY

cerning the latest freshman move, but the calling of the meeting for solicitors was interpreted to indicate that the seniors accept the challenge by a determination to make '25 a hundred per cent for the Memorial union.

Kisel said also that all senior solicitors should report their pledges so far obtained at once at the old exposition offices in the old clinic building, as an immediate reply to the freshman challenge.

With few captains reporting, the total of the senior fund had reached $13,400 up to 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, making the total of the "Now—Watch '25" campaign $2,400.

The new life subscribers are William G. Mass, Henry Smith, H. B. Stair, Claude W. Eyer, H. R. Melcher, David Taub, Lester Dickson, Potter Brayton, M. B. Esterline, Margaret Wuerpel, Elizabeth Robinson, Jean Palica, Louis Durham, Margaret Hobart, Fred Knowles, J.

LAONA, Wis.—Adj. Gen. Ralph Immel, who arrived here last night to witness the progress of fire fighters in this section of the state today ordered the Marinette and Green Bay National Guardsmen to entrain for home at 3:36 this afternoon. Unofficially it was said the Rhinelander unit would remain.

U. S. Nips Alleged Rum Running Plot In East

BOSTON, Mass.—With the seizure here today of a large quantity of high quality liquor which formed part of the cargo of the steamer Van from Jonesport, Maine, federal authorities began investigation of an alleged new rum running route from Canada over the international boundary to Maine ports. From Maine, the officials believe, the liquor is shipped to all parts of the country.

BETAS WIN CUP IN SING CONTEST THIRD TIME

the third time the cup in the inter-fraternity sing. The victory makes the cup permanent possession of the fraternity. They sang "The Loving Cup" and "Marching Along." Alpha Kappa Lambda took second place with "Alpha Kappa Lambda Sweetheart" and "Songs to Thee, Wisconsin."

The other fraternities entered were Chi Psi, Acacia, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

At 8:30 o'clock the assembly moved from the Lincoln Terrace to the lower campus where Erwin Gerber '25, welcomed the freshmen and formally accepted them into the university as sophomores. Jefferson Burrus '27 explained the reasons for the traditions of the university and sounded the rivalry between the classes of '27 and '28.

ssus Challenge

John Bergstresser, president of the Senior class, offered a challenge to the freshmen to give their reasons for "Watch '28". In the name of the freshmen, Clyde Kluckhohn, president, accepted the challenge by calling on the class for more Memorial union subscriptions from the freshmen on Monday than is to be raised by the seniors. Together the presidents painted the sign in the Union building yard "Watch '25 and '28."

Clyde Kluckhohn then lighted the enormous bonfire and the freshmen, dancing around it, threw their green caps into the fire! They wound their way in a snake dance through "Sorority Alley" and down State street.

Wisconsin's newest tradition was inaugurated at 1 o'clock this morning when the first annual pajama parade made its way about the Latin quarter ending at the home of Coach George Little, who attired in night clothes appeared on his front porch to address the crowd.

The pajama parade climaxed Varsity night, and, as its instigators hoped, raised the curtain on today's events. The idea, originated some weeks ago by two Badger football men, had as its object the establishment of a pre-Venetian tradition and the arousal of

SCHOLASTIC RATINGS SHOW LITTLE CHANGE

Figures compiled in Dean Goodnight's office for the first semester of this year show almost no difference in the scholastic ratings of fraternity and non-fraternity men on the campus. Sorority women have a slightly higher average than non-sorority women.

The scholastic rating of all women, sorority and non-sorority, is somewhat higher than that of the men. The combined average is 1.473 and the men's 1.140.

Non-fraternity men have a rating of 1.140; all fraternity men, 1.139. All sorority women have an average of 1.485; non-sorority women, 1.467.
