

Grade 6, Unit 10, Lesson 3.

[s.l.]: [s.n.], [s.d.]

<https://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/TGHWPDUIFPYZI8F>

The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

3. REVIEW “SNAKE STORY” – TAPE 78-22.6

The story should be reviewed and then acted out by students playing different roles. Students should use as much of the dialog as possible when they act out the story. Either the teacher or a student may act as narrator.

Úskah    útlatste?    lu·kwé·    tshuhkalo·lÁ    lato·láts    okhna?    thok náhte?    lothu·té·
One           time           a man           rabbits           he's hunting           and           something           he heard wa?tha·táne?    okhna?    wahatahúhsatate.    Wahonehla·ko    né· tsi?    washakotkátho?

he stood still           and           he listened.           He was surprised           because           he saw them tekníyáhse    otsi?nkwalkó·    yonatli·yó.    O·nÁ kwí·    washakotló·loke?    tsi? nahe?

two of them           pine snakes           they're fighting.           And so           he watched them           while yonatli·yó.    Wahatye·lÁ·    né· kni·táksne    takyatáhsawÁ?    wa?kyatatekhu·ní·    tsi? niyo·lé· they're fighting.    He noticed           that their tails           they began           they ate themselves           until yah náhte? te?tsyotata·lú.

nothing           it was left.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

One time there was a man hunting rabbits and he heard something. So he stood still and listened. He was surprised to see two pine snakes fighting. So he watched while they fought. Then he noticed that they began to eat each other's tails until finally there was nothing left.