DEBATE RUSSIA AGAINST ILLINI AND MICHIGAN

First Intercollegiate Con- tests of Season to Be "No-decision" Affairs

Wisconsin's 1921 intercollegiate debating season will be formally ushered in one week from tonight when the Badger platform artists meet with Illinois and Michigan on the question: "Resolved, That the United States should at once formally recognize the Soviet government of Russia."

The affirmative against Illinois at Madison will be upheld by Ralph Axley '23, Sterling Tracy '22, and Thomas Amlie '21, closer. The Wisconsin negative against Michigan at Ann Arbor will be supported by Charles D. Assovsky '21, Martin A. Kriewaldt '22, and I. Arnold Perstein '21, closer.

The contest against Illinois and Michigan is an annual affair which comes under the auspices of the Midwest Debating league. It is unique this year in that the debates will be conducted under what is known as the Oxford system of debating which differs from the American system in this one respect that they are conducted without judges. It is hoped in this way to get the audience interested to a greater degree in the discussion by

QUARTET TO SING AT FIRST OF NEW FIRELIGHT MEETS

Featuring special quartet music by the Glee club, a firelight meeting for men and women of the university will be held Saturday night in Lathrop parlors. The short evening program will be one of the series of firelight meetings to be conducted weekly by the Crucible, honorary junior girls' organization for the remainder of the year.

The quartet, consisting of R. Brown, Slocum, Hearn, and E. Brown, will give several of the Glee club numbers. The Crucible organization corresponds to the Senior Mortar board, and will have charge of the firelight meetings weekly. Edith Royse '21 is chairman.

The program starts at 7:30, and will be closed between 8:30 and 9.

URGES FRESHMEN TO ATTEND DANCE

"There is but one place for the Frosh fusser, non-fusser, or stag on Saturday night, and that is at the Frosh dance in Lathrop gym," was the statement of Milton Kissell, assistant chairman in speaking of the annual freshman frolic.

"While we hope to make the dance a truly '24 function, we will welcome all university students," he continued. "Thompson's best orchestra has been secured, and with a feature, the dance will be the only real all-university dancing party next Saturday night."

Tickets, at $1.50, are being sold at Morgan Brothers and the University pharmacy.

Varsity Movie Queen is Chosen for Coming Production

GEORGIANA KIMBERLY

Georgiana Kimberley Pick- ed to Play Leading Role

Georgiana Kimberly '23 has been chosen to play the part of Varsity Movie Queen. If Jack Harding the hero, is an Apollo Belvidere, the heroine can only be likened to "The Age of Innocence," when she makes her first appearance as Rosa Belle Lilly, the little country girl who finds herself a bit lost in the big university.

But she doesn't stay lost—how could she with a face like that?—and not only does she find herself, but the hero also finds her. But that's skipping.

Georgiana Kimberly was graduated from the Nichola Senn high school in Chicago in 1918. While there she took part in many entertainments as a solo dancer. She has never appeared on the screen before but she performed in public at the Fine Arts theater and Orchestra hall, and danced at many benefits during the war.

She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and of Mystic Circle. Her father is Percy R. Kimberly, vice-president and manager of the Cable Piano company, Chicago.

PLAN GUIDES FOR EXPOSITION

Students to Show Visitors to the Various Exhibits

In order to avoid confusion among the people attending the University Exposition, which will open April 21, student guides will be furnished, according to plans announced yesterday. No additional charge, however, will be made for the service.

"Because of the fact that we will have over 4,000 out-of-town guests we have developed the idea of having a large number of official guides," said W. B. Florea '21, general manager.

"The Exposition will use all the available space in the armory from the third floor to the annex and in addition we will have the electrical exhibit in the electrical engineering laboratory. It was the experience at the last Exposition in 1915 that visitors from other parts of the state left before they really covered the ground not knowing where the other exhibits had been placed. It is to avoid this and to offer the typical Wisconsin service that we will have guides."

A large number of guides will be necessary that they may be used in shifts for both afternoon and evening. With the continuous show

WIRELESS PHONE TO CARRY MUSIC TONIGHT, PLAN

Radio Station to Transmit Glee Club Concert Over 1,000 Mile Radius

To transmit the Men's Glee Club concert tonight in Music hall by wireless telephone over a territory with a radius of 1,000 miles is the present plan of the university radio station authorities. This is a part of an experimental plan to send a series of concerts throughout the country, and it is the first time the project has been attempted by a university organization.

The program for the home concert of the Men's Glee club tonight has been announced as follows:

TIRED OF HER? JITNEY DANCES WILL CHASE BLUES TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Tired of your girl? Go to the Motor Board JITNEY dance Saturday afternoon and with 50 cents worth of tickets you can dance with ten different girls.

It is not a couple affair, and you can have your choice of a program.

Tired of haunting the same sorority house? At the Mortar Board dance you can have the entree to f. ur, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Alpha Phi. And if you don't like the atmosphere of one, the front of another, the background of a third, or the porch swing of a fourth, just circulate.

Tired of one orchestra? As a relief to your jaded taste, try either that of Sigma Nu, Beta Pi, Chi Psi, or Phi Gamma Delta, who have volunteered their talent for the dance.

Tired of college? Then you may at least contribute your nickel to a scholarship that will help some one who wants the education that you don't appreciate

STOCK EXHIBIT WORK REACHES FINAL STAGE

Birge Commends Event of College of Agriculture as "Profitable to All"

With all indications pointing toward a successful show, the 12 committees of the Little International exhibition, the big annual event of the College of Agriculture, are making final preparations for the program which will open Saturday at the Livestock pavilion. The last meeting of committees would be held today, A. L. McMann '21, general manager, announced yesterday.

Commends Show

"Students of all colleges may profitably attend the exhibition Saturday," declared President Edward A. Birge in a statement issued yesterday. "The event will be instructive as well as interesting, and will provide valuable experience for judges and owners of live stock."

The stock pavilion in which the exhibitions, the horse and chicken shows, and the customary "Wild West" show in the evening will be held, has just been repainted and redecorated by a special squad of workmen. Six searchlights have been erected about the pavilion for use at the evening show. The lights will be manned by delegated Agriculture engineers, who have arranged also special announcement placards for the acts.

Exhibition of live stock will begin Saturday morning. One of the features of this year's exhibition will be the chicken show, in charge of William J. Frederick '22. All varieties of poultry will be shown, methods of breeding will be explained, and latest incubators demonstrated. The advantage of pure bred fowls over mongrel fowls will be explained by student assistants.

Riders Are Named

Announcement of the horse-riders for the evening event was made by R. R. Knoll '21 yesterday. The

STUART WILL BE VESPERS SPEAKER

Prof. Graham H. Stuart will be the principal speaker for the Vespers program Sunday afternoon, Mar. 13 at 4:30 in Lathrop hall parlors. His subject has not yet been chosen. Ruth Storms '21 will preside. A musical selection will be given by Josephine Derrin, who will sing, accompanied by Beatrice Perham '23.

DR. DAVID WHITE TO TALK TO ENGINEERS

Dr. David White, chief geologist of the United States geological survey, will speak in the auditorium of the Engineering building today at 10 o'clock on "Coal Reserves." Junior and senior engineering students will be excused from 10 o'clock classes.

Doctor White has made extensive studies of the occurrence and origin of coal, petroleum, and oil shales and is one of the most eminent authorities in this field.

DEBATE SOCIETIES TO HOLD TRYOUTS FOR COMING TLIT

Timely Questions to Be Discussed at Meetings Tonight

Preliminary oratorical contests will be held at meetings of Athenae and Hesperia Literary societies tonight to decide on representatives for the inter-society contests next week. The meat packing industry and the Irish Republic will furnish subjects for debates before other societies.

Athenae and Hesperia will hold tryouts for freshman "Dec" and junior "Ex" at meetings tonight. Juniors must have prepared speeches that are original and do not exceed 2,000 words.

Winners of these preliminary meets will represent their societies at inter-society meets to be held March 22 and 23. The sophomore and senior meets will also be held at this time. The winner of the finals on March 24 will represent Wisconsin in the Northern Oratorical league in an annual contest with Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, and Northwestern.

Discuss Meat Packers
Regulation of the meat packing industry of the United States will be debated by members of Agricultural Literary society at a meeting tonight. The affirmative will ask for passage of the Gronna bill by congress. Speakers on the affirmative will be Verlyn F. Sears '23, Melvin C. Viste '23, and Robert M. Carter, Jr. '24, and speakers against passage of the bill will be Warren S. Jacka '21, Marvin A. Schaars '24, and Herbert H. Erdman '24. Parliamentary drill will be led by Guido L. Weber '24.

In the point of experience the Wisconsin teams rank with the best in the conference. Amle and Perstein are members of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity; the former having won his key at the University of North Dakota, while the latter was on the Wisconsin Intercollegiate squad last year. Tracy and Assovsky were members of Philomathia's victorious joint debate team while Axley was a member of Hesperia's joint debate team. This is Kriewaldt's first year at Wisconsin, but he has had considerable debating experience at the University of California.

In the past Illinois and Michigan have given Wisconsin her keenest competition in intercollegiate debating. Last year Michigan won the championship of the league by scoring 2 to 1 wins over both Wisconsin and Illinois. By getting the

"LIFE A JOY-RIDE OR WORTH WHILE?" QUERIES ROBINSON

"Do you live according to the 'eat, drink and be merry' precept, or are you striving to accomplish something which will last?" asked Dr. D. S. Robinson, department of philosophy, in a lecture yesterday afternoon.

"The Count of Tolstoi was on the verge of suicide, at the age of forty, when he despaired of finding an answer to the question," Dr. Robinson declared. THE LITTLE INTERNATIONAL TOMORROW, the College of Agriculture presents to the students the Little International. This stock show, an unusual event in the university, is deserving of hearty student support.

The proceeds from the exhibition are to be used to send the Wisconsin stock judging teams to Chicago. These teams will represent the university in competition with other universities and colleges. Wisconsin's representation and success will largely depend upon the success of the Little International here this week.

The program of the Little International is varied and unique. Fancy and professional riding, wild west steer-roping and riding, tug-of-war, the engineer mystery confetti act, and a parade of sheep, cattle, swine, and horses that have won many world prizes can be seen in the evening's performance. The sports and humor of the cowboy, fascinating equestriennship, wild and wooly stunts are offered in addition to the more instructive features of the parade.

The Little International will represent the combined efforts of many groups and agencies. Madison banks, industrial plants, and merchants have offered large awards to prize winners. The students of the College of Agriculture have been working for the past month on their entrants.

President Birge, Governor Blaine, and many of the leading citizens of Madison have given their endorsement and support to the Little International.

The nature of this stock show and the altruistic purpose to which its proceeds are to be given should assure a large attendance from the student body.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION

PROFESSOR W. A. SCOTT, speaking recently before a group of commerce students, stressed the need of a broad education in conjunction with intensive training for business men and women. While the uncovering of this need was perhaps not new, it was indeed timely. It could have been extended with all due propriety to departments of the university other than the commerce school.

In these hurry-up times, the value of a comprehensive education is too often overlooked. We are too prone to figure value in the immediate returns of dollars and cents. We underestimate, and, in some cases, we unfortunately scowl at the so-called cultural subjects. We do not estimate the true worth of studies which yield to no immediate practical application, but which enlarge one's intellectual area, which enable one to see new relations and new phases of life, and which give intellectual enjoyment.

A man who is well educated should have a knowledge which will enable him to see the various aspects of a situation—not merely the aspects that affect his particular specialty. He should have a training comprehensive enough to enable him to cope with new situations and to understand new views. An educated man should know, in addition to his practical specialty, at least the elementary facts of literature, history, philosophy, the natural sciences, and the social sciences.

In reality, some of the so-called impractical subjects are the most practical. The great scientist, Huxley, has pointed out that, of all the important scientific achievements of the Nineteenth Century, the only one that had any practical value at the time it was brought forth was Davy's safety lamp. All the other great achievements, the principles upon which our modern progress rests, were the works of pure science, supposedly the most impractical of studies.

Again, a comprehensive education, while perhaps yielding no visible flow of specie, is a great asset in dealings in the industrial and commercial world.

A college student should not overlook the true worth of a broad education. An educated man or woman has both comprehensive and intensive training.

TIMELY ARTICLES ARE PRESENTED IN COUNTRY MAG

March Issue is on Sale at 21 Agricultural Hall

"My Lady's New Hat" will be much in evidence when Easter comes. To solve the question of how to obtain the desired plumage is the end of a timely article by Margaret Toepfer '24, in the March issue of the Country Magazine. Many feminine secrets of style economy are divulged in the author's description of how to secure a new hat without swapping a roommate's or begging from dad.

The value of advertising and co-operation as applied to the marketing of farm products is forcibly presented by Vitor Tiedjens '21 in his feature, "It Pays to Advertise." The article points to the remarkable success achieved through advertising by such associations as the producers of Sunkist oranges and the Waukesha Guernsey breeders.

Farmers' week with its many prominent speakers and agriculturists of national reputation is reviewed by Walter Ebling '22 in, "Gleaned from Farmers' Week." Ebling deals with the economic aspects of the farmers' problems and quotes the solutions advanced by leading agricultural economists who were present then.

The Russian problem is infolded in its agricultural phases by Isaac Weinman '22 in, "A Glimpse of Russian Farming." The article is a brief resume of the farming history of Russia. It deals especially with the devastation brought on by the World war. It is an interesting and timely article for it brings realization that the starving millions of Europe could be fed from the immense wheat fields of Russia, which are now lying idle.

"The Business of Farming" by David Thompson, "From Market Needs to Health in the Home," by Elsie Sell '21, and "A Blue Book Tells the Tale," are articles deserving attention.

"Wild Crabs" has developed a society column dealing with post-prom activities of the Ags. Advice to the lovelorn is also given, and will undoubtedly prove helpful and illuminating to many.

The Country magazine will not be on open sale on the campus. It can be obtained only at the Country magazine office, 21 Agricultural hall. The price of the issue is 25 cents.

BOXING

All men entering boxing tournament are asked to report both today and Saturday in the boxing room at 3:30.

MORTAR BOARD DANCE

As planned there will be accommodations provided for wraps in each house but it will facilitate matters if wraps are left where the first dance is danced, and parties return to the same house for their wraps after the last dance.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 40 at 9:30 o'clock and the lowest was 28 at 10 p. m. Sun sets at 5:58.

Fair and colder weather follows rain in the east and south. Southerly winds with rapidly rising temperature and increasing cloudiness prevails in the upper Mississippi valley and on the plains in front of an area of low barometer that is crossing the northern Rockies. Snow and colder follows this disturbance in Montana and western Canada.

AT THE ORPHEUM

With an "eloquent" monologue crammed full of ornate and flowery phrases, Walter Weem, billed a "Merry Southern Humorist," seems to win most favor at the Orpheum this week-end. Besides having a lot of jokes to tell he as a horn that he manipulates in no mean way.

The Golden Troupe with seven singers and dancers have an elaborate set and some pretty costumes. Not so much can be said of their singing as their dancing. This was quite skillfully done.

Renie and Florence, two spirited young disciples, jazz, sing some songs and do some intricate steps. Their Ted Lewis stunt was well done. done.

With some laugh getting patter and songs, the Joe Jenny Trio, consisting of two large and one aggravated persons, are recalled several times.

Potter and Hartwell conclude the bill with their exhibition of difficult dances and acrobatic feats. Jack Binns and Henry Bert, "Two Funny Men from Europe," open the bill.

City Hall Clock Running; It's True

For the first time in eight or ten years the city hall clock—reputed to be the most consistent "liar" in town—was ticking off the hours accurately Thursday. When its mechanism was deranged the clock ran erratically, stopping whenever it pleased; no amount of coaxing could keep it on schedule. Mayor Kittle-son engaged a clock expert to attend to its shortcomings.

At The Theaters

AT THE FULLER

A film adaptation of Jack London's celebrated "The Star Rover," telling of the adventures of a tortured physician into the mysterious regions of the unseen, in the effort to clear up a strange murder, will be seen at the Fuller theater for three days, beginning today, as the feature attraction.

The story deals with a young physician wrongly accused of a murder and tortured by a bulldozing police inspector. His soul goes roving among the stars to the scenes of previous reincarnations, and this is made use of by his fiancée to have his subconscious mind reveal the happenings of the night when the murder was committed.

Critics have pronounced it an exceptional picture.

AT THE STRAND

Is it possible for a crook to reform? Many policemen assert it cannot be accomplished but officers of correctional institutions say it is not an impossibility. But William S. Hart, the famous Paramount star, proves that bad men can reform in his latest photoplay production, "The Cradle of Courage," which is now being shown at the Strand theater.

In this photoplay, Mr. Hart is known as "Square" Kelly, a safe-cracker who becomes a man at the fighting front in France. On his return home he falls in love with the daughter of his gang leader and she inspires him with the determination to go straight. He becomes a policeman and when he puts on his uniform, there is action every minute. But throughout it all, Kelly proves that his reformation is lasting.

"An Overall Hero," a Chester comedy with "Snooky" the Humanzee Chimpanzee will be the added attraction.

AT THE GRAND

Joseph H. Dowling, who since his wonderful delineation of the Patriarch in "The Miracle Man," has come to be known as "The Miracle Man of the Screen," comes to the Grand theater today as "The Kentucky Colonel," the leading character in a screen version of Opie Read's well known novel of that name.

The story tells of the beautiful and imperishable friendship between two old Kentucky gentlemen, the one a General and the other a Colonel—titles they have borne since Civil war days. In spite of the supreme test which comes when the general is led to believe that the colonel has for years been deceiving him in regard to a certain matter, the clear white flame of their love continues to burn brightly. In a wood where they meet to fight a duel, neither fires at the other. Instead they fire straight up into the air, for neither could find the courage or the desire to kill the other. "The Kentucky Colonel" is a story where chivalry and courtesy go hand in hand with humor, romance and adventure.

AT THE MAJESTIC

"All at Sea," a nautical farce, is the farewell offering of Bert Smith's Ragtime Wonders at the Majestic, commencing today. A cleverly woven plot that builds up comedy situations to a hilarious climax gives the players many opportunities for laugh getting. Many attractive musical numbers and specialties are interwoven.

The actions of the bill takes place on board the good ship "Como" and all the complications are caused by an unwelcome Tomcat having been welcomed on board in a handbag. The captain's name is Tom and the cat bears the same cognomen. Once the names get mixed then the trouble starts.

GYMNASTS ENTER ANNUAL BIG TEN TUMBLE TOURNEY

Compete Today and Tomorrow in Conference Meet at Bloomington

Wisconsin tumbler will finish up the gymnastic season at Bloomington, Ind., today and tomorrow when they compete in the annual Big Ten gymnastic meet. In addition to all of the conference teams, Nebraska, a member of the Missouri Valley conference, will enter a squad of turners.

Wisconsin won the first meet of the year against the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. team in easy fashion, but the Badgers lost to Chicago last Saturday in the only dual conference meet of the season. The final score was 1,161 to 1,131. Chicago gathered in 29 place points to 24 for Wisconsin. Schneidenbach and Morris starred for Chicago.

Josephine Doehring—W. A. A.; Twelfth Night; Outing club; S. G. A. board; treasurer of Red Gauntlet.

Helen Zuelke—W. A. A.; Outing club; vice-president of Y. W. C. A. board; treasurer of Y. W. C. A. faculty drive; Badger board 1921; administration of Badger, 1922; freshman bowling team.

Of the teams which are entered in the Big Ten meet, Wisconsin, Ohio State, Chicago, and Minnesota are considered the strongest. Illinois is practically out of the running for championship honors since the Suckers scored only two place points in their meet with Chicago.

"In holding Chicago to such a close score Wisconsin showed that it has one of the best gym teams in the conference," declared Coach Fred E. Schlatter. "The Maroons are rated among the best of Big Ten turners. With our team intact excepting Boerke, broadswordman, who may not be able to go to Bloomington, we stand an excellent chance of winning first place in the meet. Aanesen will replace Boerke, if the latter is unable to enter.

"Nebraska is the dark horse of the conference meet, but judging by the showing made by the Badgers, we will finish one, two, three in the last competition of the year."

The Wisconsin lineup follows:

Horizontal bars—Frank Kubosch '23, F. L. Bumer '23, W. L. Tasche '21.

Side horse—E. A. Kletzlen '23, J. L. Curtin '21, M. Hansen '23.

Rings—Walter Porth '23, L. W. Tasche '21, Willard Kates '21.

Parallel bars—L. W. Tasche '21, Walter Porth '23, Frank Kubosch '23.

Tumbling—Captain B. A. Hagen '21, H. D. Kitchen '23, Frank Kubosch '23.

Fencing—Finn Aanesen '21. Broadwords—E. Boerke '23, or F. Aanesen '21.

LAUNCH PLANS FOR '21 STATE BASKET MEET

Committees Announced for State High School Tourney Here March 25-27

Initial preparation for the second annual state basketball tournament of Wisconsin high schools, which will be held March 25, 26, and 27 at the university gymnasium, was made yesterday by the Athletic board by the selection of general committees.

The committees, which will assist the Athletic department in the tournament, are as follows: Francis W. Duncan '22, general chairman; Lothrop W. Follett '21, Daniel C. O'Neill '23, and Francis W. Morris '24, programs; Carson F. Lyman '21, Daniel C. O'Neill, publicity; Dexter Brown, Frank L. Weston '21, and Theodore White, entertainment.

District champions Chosen

The first tournament of this kind was held here in March last year, and was such a success from both the standpoint of athletics and that of finance that the Athletic board decided recently to hold another this year. At the district elimination contests held at all the Wisconsin State Normal schools, the winning team of each district was chosen to represent its section at the state tournament at Madison.

Ten teams competed in the tournament. One team from each of the Normal schools and from Stout Institute also entered. All teams were evenly matched. The only team that seemed to have a decided advantage over its opponents was the Superior team which won the championship. Loving cups and gold basketballs were awarded to the champions and silver basketballs to the winners of second place.

Cedar Rapids Cops Title

Teams representing the middle west states competed here one week after the state tournament for the championship of the middle west. Cedar Rapids, Iowa, high school won the championship from Winfield, Kan., by one point in one of the most sensational basketball games ever staged in Madison. Superior, Wis., won third place. Trophies and cups were awarded to the winners of the first three places.

During the tournament, visiting high school players were entertained in the lodges of the various fraternities of the university, and escorted around the city and the university by upperclassmen. They were guests at dances, banquets, and smokers and the enthusiasm manifested by the visitors proved the success of the affair.

Plans have been made to make the tournament this year more successful than the last. It will be an excellent means of displaying the advantages of Wisconsin to high school athletes who may later become students here.

LETZ QUARTET GIVES ARTISTIC PERFORMANCE

Music lovers who attended the recital of the Letz Quartet last night in Music hall were agreed that the School of Music is to be highly congratulated upon the securing for public performance of artists of such unusual caliber.

Sympathetic interpretation and absolute control on the part of the four artists of the Letz Quartet were the outstanding characteristics of a really superior program.

The first number, Kreisler's "Quartet in A minor," with its four movements, was characterized by its weird and intricate harmony and excessive modulations. The enthusiasm of the audience at the end of the number exacted a somewhat reluctant encore which might easily be considered an example of the most perfect artistry of the evening—Tschalkowsky's "Andante Con-tabile."

"Variations on 'Death and the Maiden'" of Schubert was the second number. The primary theme of the piece was short and simple and the harmony was plain, but the use of multiple variations produced a seeming complexity.

The last number was the "Quartet in F major, op. 22," by the Russian composer, Tschalkowsky. It was the only piece of the program which ended with a fortissimo climax, and the composition altogether possessed a rare and profound beauty.

The last encore was Debussy's "En Bateau," which was rendered with delicate exactness.

The members of the quartet were informally entertained after the concert last night by the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national honorary musical fraternity, at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Lowell L. Townsend.

TRACKMEN TO FACE OLYMPIC STARS IN MEET

Hardest Contest of Season is Expected Saturday
With Notre Dame

In excellent condition and fresh with victory over Northwestern, the Wisconsin track team will be given a light workout today in preparation for the Notre Dame track meet 2:30 Saturday afternoon in the gymnasium annex. Although Notre Dame has a galaxy of track stars, including two Olympic entrants, the chances for the Badger team are considered equal.

Meet Crack Men

Notre Dame, with two Olympic stars in the lineup, will give Wisconsin closer competition than did Northwestern. Johnny Murphy, one of the best high jumpers in America, and August Desch, holder of the world's record in the 40-yard low hurdles, are two of the best track and field men who represented America in the Olympic games at Antwerp, Belgium.

In addition to Murphy and Desch, Coach Knute Rockne has Wynne, a hurdler who tied the national record in the 40-yard low hurdles at the First Regimental games held in Chicago two weeks ago, Notre Dame will bring a squad of 15 men, including Shaw, shot putter; Montague, McBarnes, Hogan, Meredith, and Falvey.
