North cottage project Contest interest soars

T.B. UNIT SETS RECORD

An extensive remodeling project is in progress at North Cottage that will provide an isolation unit for tuberculosis patients, Karl Knudsen, Chief Engineer, told the CUE this week.

At present, workmen are installing ventilation equipment that will feed into each room with a central temperature control.

A complete kitchen will be set up and part of the dayroom will be converted to a dining room.

The remodeling plans will include a separation wall between the east and west and the unit will be used exclusively for active tuberculosis patients. The unit will be activated when such patients reach 10 or more, Knudsen pointed out. It will be designed for 20 TB patients and will fulfill state requirements. Until the case load reaches 10, the patients will be quartered in 3-K.

Patients who have arrested tuberculosis will be sent to Sunny View Sanatorium which is owned by Winnebago and Fond du Lac counties, according to Dr. E. R. Loftus. These patients are recovered from the disease and no longer present a problem of communicating TB to others.

(SEE North Cottage on page 18)

The third "Win A Prize" contest sponsored by the CUE drew a record number of entries. A large number of contestants from all units submitted entries and 11 winners were declared by the contest judges.

The alert winners were: Robin Marie _____, Paula _____, Mary Ann _____, Debbie _____, Ken _____ and Larry _____, all from Hughes Hall; Eleanor _____ and LeRoy _____ from Sherman Hall, Patty _____ from North Cottage and Mike _____ from Kempster Hall; and John _____ from Gordon Hall.

Robin Marie _____ is a three-time winner and Mike _____, Paula _____, and John _____ are two-time winners.

All units had winners with the ladies topping the men, 6-5.

This issue of the CUE has another entry sheet for the fourth consecutive contest. Read it carefully and circle the "true" or "false" on all ten statements. Join the 45 winners of the last three contests. Everyone can win.

Send your entry to the CUE's office through the nurses' station in your ward. In order to be eligible for the "Fabulous 4" contest, you must send (SEE Prize Contest on page 18)

"DANDY RANDY"

It is fitting that we add our small voice of praise to that of sportsof the year.

Wade was an overwhelming choice of

ISSUES & ANSWERS

WHAT ARE YOUR FEELINGS
REGARDING MILWAUKEE GETTING ANOTHER MAJOR LEAGUE
BASEBALL TEAM?

Wisconsin deserves a major league baseball team. Everyone backed the Green Bay Packers and the Milwaukee Bucks, and you can be sure they will back the new Milwaukee Brewers.

Hooray! The Milwaukee Brewers won their first game when they whipped the Cleveland Indians, 9-4. I will go out on the limb and predict the Brewers will finish in the first division.

I feel there is a real hunger for major league baseball on the part of fans, both young and old, from all walks of life. I'm an old fan myself, and nothing pleased me more when the Brewers won the exhibition game under their new name.

I am happy about the news. The players will try harder now that they are in Brewers uniforms. I think a ground-swell is in the making to provide all the spirit the players need. Look how good the Braves played when they first came to Milwaukee.

We can't forget the men who made it all possible. The public spirited citizens, representing a variety of businesses, who refused to become discouraged and finally gained their long range objective: A franchise and a ball club. There is a lesson to be learned here. "Never give up!"

I think it important that the new Brewers is under home ownership. If the Braves had been owned by the home folks, they would not have gone to Atlanta. I'm looking forward to attend one of the home games this season.

I'm real happy. After four years of looking in on big league baseball from the outside, we're a part of it again. Now the four year drought seems like a dream.

-next column)

My feelings are the tops. Just think of the business that will be transacted in Milwaukee during the regular season. Everyone gains by having a big league team.

Now, that a major league team represents Wisconsin, we all should support the Brewers through thick and thin. We don't want to look at the standings only this season, as it is a new team and the players need a boost and our continued support.

O.K. Not only Milwaukee benefits, but cities, villages, and hamlets -- within in a radius of 200 miles -- or more. The fans even come from the UP (Upper Michigan) and they are bound to stop to eat and gas up on the route.

Excellent. We all must get into the act and stay in. Let's show the baseball fans everywhere in the country that Wisconsin supports the new Brewers.

The good news means that there will be a little extra activity here at WSH as some games will be on television, and all games will be on radio.

It will spark interest in baseball here at the hospital. We all have to learn the names of players so we can cheer them on.

I supported the Minnesota-Twins last season, but now I have a home team to support. I'm glad we are back in the big time.

Hey, that's cool! Maybe someone will figure a way for a bus load of patients going to Milwaukee to take in one of the home games.

Very good. I hope the fans will always support the Brewers. They have Danny Walton who is a good hitter. In the game with Cleveland, he slammed a home run and three singles and knocked across five runs.

CHAPLAIN'S MESSAGE

"Make a Joyful noise to the Lord, all the lands. Serve the Lord with gladness! Come into His presence with singing!" Psalm 100: 1-2.

Two neighbors had been quarreling for many years. One was always trying to outdo the other. At one time they had been good friends but now they weren't even on speaking terms. Quite suddenly one of them became ill. Some mutual friends agreed that they should be brought together in an attempt to see if all the past differences couldn't be forgotten. At the sick neighbors bedside, the two men chatted together for a few minutes. They then shook hands. All the arguments and troubles seemed to have been forgiven and forgotten. But just as the well neighbor was leaving the room, the sick man called out, "REMEMBER BILL, IF I GET WELL THIS DOESN'T COUNT."

When we make God promises, we often put the same condition upon them. We try to leave the back door open so that there may be a way of escape, if we choose it. When we are in trouble and need the help of the Lord, it is very easy to promise to love and follow Him. But when the sun is shining and everything is going our way, it is easy to forget His loving care and kindnesses. We go out into the everyday streets of life, in the midst of all the hurry and scurry, and we are likely to pass by the Master without even noticing Him. But when the black clouds hang over us and we are discouraged, then we are eager to gain His friendship, for then we realize that we desperately need His help.

This is the time for Thanksgiving, and Praise for every Day we should offer thanks to God for His unspeakable Gift the Lord Jesus Christ. We have just commemorated the Death and resurrection of our Wonderful Lord, and we realize that Salvation is ours because of God's Son who died on the Cross for us.

A parent is much disturbed when his

MEET YOUR DOCTOR

DR. DONALD B. DEROZIER

Dr. Donald B. Derozier was born in Green Bay, Wisconsin. He is married and has two children, ages 5 and 2. The family reside in Oshkosh.

Dr. Derozier graduated from Fremont high school and received his A.B. degree at St. Norbert in 1961. He received his master's degree at Marquette University in 1963, and earned his doctorate in psychology at the University of Kansas. He gained his impressive educational background by working as a musician. He plays both the saxophone and clarinet and is a proficient flute player. He continues to be interested in music and is now mastering the folk-banjo.

Prior to the start of his service at WSH in June, 1967, he served as a psychologist with the Veterans Administration Center in Wadsworth, Kansas; the United States Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas; the Green Bay Reformatory; the Kansas University Clinic, and the Marquette University Clinic.

He served the hospital as a Staff Psychologist until October 1967, when he became Service Chief for old adolescent males at Hughes Hall. He also has managed to teach one course a semester in psychology at WSU-0, together with a part-time practice at Oshkosh.

Dr. Derozier pointed out two major things that benefits the patients under his care. First, the hospital provides a place in which the environment is relatively constant. This kind of constancy leads to the stability of the patient. Secondly, the patients come from disturbing environments and the hospital provides a change. This change provides a sense of hope for people who are in a rut. So, it is stability and change that benefits the patient most. There is a good possibility that the patient's future will be constructively altered because of this program.

JEANIE MARSHALL

Jeanie Marshall was born in Illinois. Her family moved to Colorado Springs, Colorado, and she graduated from high school in that city. She received a degree in Occupational Therapy from Colorado State University in Fort Collins.

Miss Marshall began her service at WSH in 1965, however, she was employed as a therapist by the New Jersey State Hospital and the United States Airforce in San Antonio, Texas before coming to Wisconsin.

In September 1967, she was promoted to Supervisor of Activity Therapy and has continued in that position since that time. Although most of her time is spent in supervising, she manages to work with patients therapeutically, and has just started an Occupational Therapy program with the women patients on A.T.U.

She makes every effort to utilize the existing skills of the patient before suggesting new ones. She helps the patient find acceptable leisure time activities that would substitute for alcohol and be more enjoyable.

She points out that therapeutic programs at WSH benefit the patient in more ways than one. Perhaps the most important is that the patient forgets some of their personal problems and starts thinking about other people.

These patients develop a degree of sociality that will benefit them when they return to their community --where they learn to recognize and deal with their own problems.

When the canteen social chairmen group was initiated in 1968, Jeanie Marshall was appointed advisor and she still continues in that capacity.

"There has been considerable progress in treatment that has shortened (SEE JEANIE MARSHALL on page 18)

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK

Next week - April 12-18 - is National Library Week in Wisconsin. You are invited to visit your Patients' Library located in the basement of Sherman Hall.

If you feel that reading isn't for you, read what Bennet Cerf has to say on the subject. "Reading can only be fun," he states, "if you expect it to be. The man who worries about business on his vacation can't blame the resort hotel if he doesn't have a good time. In the same way, if you take up a book in a grim spirit of self-improvement, swearing to read so many pages before you let yourself do something you like, if you concentrate on books somebody tells you you 'ought' to read, the chances are you won't have fun. But if you find one that means something to you, and then relax with it, you will almost certainly have a good time -- and, if you become as a result of reading, better, wiser, kinder, or more gentle, you won't have suffered during the process."

So, come in and browse around, as we'll be expecting you. Here are the latest additions to our collection:

BASEBALL

The popular tradition that baseball was invented by Abner Doubleday at Cooperstown, New York, in 1839, has been enshrined in the Hall of Fame and National Museum of Baseball erected in that town, but research has proved that a game called "Base Ball" was played in this country and England before 1839. However, the first team-baseball as we know it was played at the Elysian Fields, Hoboken, New Jersey on June 19, 1846, between the Knickerbockers and the New York Nine. There was a gradual growth of baseball and an improvement of equipment and playing skill in the next fifty years. Soldiers returning home from the Civil War spread over the country the game they had learned to play in camp.

Historians have it that the first pitcher to throw a curve was William A. (Candy) Cummings in 1867. The Cincinnati Red Stockings were the first all-professional team and in 1869 they played 64 games without a loss!

The standard ball of the same size and weight, still the rule, was adopted in 1872. The first catcher's mask was worn in 1875. The first chest protector was donned in 1885. The three-strike rule was put on the books in 1887 and the four-ball ticket to first base came in 1889. The pitching distance, formerly shorter, was lengthened to 60 feet 6 inches in 1893 and the rules have been only slightly modified since that time.

FRANCHISE SHIFTS

Local sport fans have followed the plight of the Seattle Pilots and the court battles connected with the move of the franchise to Milwaukee. Many remember the hassle that ensued when the Milwaukee Braves became the Atlanta Braves in 1966 and when the Boston Braves became the Milwaukee Braves in 1953. Home attendance in Milwaukee for that year was 1,826,397.

Other franchise shifts included the St. Louis Browns becoming the Baltimore Orioles in 1954. Home attendance in Baltimore for 1954 was 1,060,910.

In 1955, the Philadelphia Athletics became the Kansas City Athletics. The first season in Kansas City drew 1,393,054 baseball fans.

The New York Giants became the San Francisco Giants. The attendance in 1958, was 1,272,625 for the first season. In the same year, the Brooklyn Dodgers became the Los Angeles Dodgers. First season attendance in Los Angeles was 1,845,556.

The Washington Senators became the Minnesota Twins in 1961. The 1st season attendance in Minneapolis-St. Paul was 1,256,722.

ALL-TIME GREATS

Among the all-time greats in baseball, Babe Ruth, a left-handed hitter, stands head and shoulders above the pack. Let's look at his home run record. In 1920, he hit 54 four-baggers and in 1921 he connected for 59 more. It was during the 1927 season that he set a record of 60 home runs that stood until Roger Maris collected 61 in 1961. The Babe belted 714 homers during his career, a record that still remains the best in organized baseball.

Top-notch hurlers during the past 15 years include Don Newcombe, Warren Spahn, Bob Turley, Early Wynn, Vernon Law, Whitey Ford, Don Drvsdale, Sandy Koufax and Dean Chance.

In pitching, Cy Young won 511 games from 1890 through 1911. Carl Hubbel, hurling for the old New York Giants won 24 consecutive games in 1936 and 1937.

Nap Lajoie, playing for the former Philadelphia Athletics, swung a heavy bat in 1901 when he registered a .422 average. Other 400 hitters included Roscoe Barnes of the Chicago White Sox with .404. Cap Anson, Chicago, .421. Hugh Duffy, Boston, .438. Jesse Burkett, Cleveland, .423. Ed Delahanty, Philadelphia, .408. Rogers Hornsby, St. Louis, .424. George Sisler, St. Louis, .420. Bill Terry, N.Y., .401.

APRIL

April . . the month we associate with Spring
The trees bud and begin to open their leaves
It's time to enjoy the pleasant showers
And the birds returning to their summer haunts
The dandelions begin to poke through from the roots
And herald the coming of color to the grassy floor
April . . a month to enjoy and beyond that to glorify
Happy April to us all.

ONE MORNING

I got up early one morning
And rushed right into the day
I had so much to accomplish
That I didn't take time to pray
Problems just tumbling about me
And heavier came each task
"Why doesn't God help me?"
I wondered
He answered, "You didn't ask."
I wanted to see joy and beauty
But the day toiled on, gray and bleak
I wondered why God didn't show me
He said, "But you didn't seek."
I tried to come into God's presence
I used all my keys at the lock
God gently and lovingly chided
"My child, you didn't knock."
I woke up early this morning
And paused before entering the day
I had so much to accomplish
That I had to take time to pray.

POLLUTION

Pollution has me scared to death
Each time I breathe I hold my breath

I fear that I will kill myself
With airplane glue or smog itself

Turning the knob to make my breakfast
I worry lest it be my last repast

Into my jalopy and off to work
I wonder who my exhaust will hurt

Into the office to get my mouthwash
Wondering if friendship bad breath will diminish.

MAMA, I MISS YOU

When you went away I did not know what to do
I could not think clear when I would think of you...all the things you've done for me
Only since I have come to this hospital have I been able to think straight
When you went away I was upset, frustrated, and above all I was and still am lonely
Mama, I miss you!

SONG OF APRIL

A sigh of green that brings relief to landscapes draped in brown
A blush of color to the scene,
a red-breast here is found
A water-filled sky reflects the end of many winter wrongs
A breath of hope for things to come
O sing our April song!

Paul A.

With tongue in cheek
And ear to ground
How does a CUE reporter get around?

TURN IN ON YOUR "THING" -- the CUE!

Our first Brickbat award goes to the three individuals who indulged in vandalism at Picnic Point, breaking 15 windows and plumbing fixtures together with damage to woodwork and other items.

Apparently, these vandals paid little attention to our editorial in the March 13 issue of CUE. We warned them what would happen if they were caught destroying property. So, they now must suffer for their wild moments of fun. All three will be prosecuted and they will have plenty of time in the near future to contemplate their action.

Our first Bouquet of orchids is awarded Paffy (Mrs. Dorothy Paffenroth) who bestowed upon us a beautiful painted Easter egg and three boxes of candy. The editorial workers on the CUE were most grateful. It seemed Paffy sensed our disappointment over the lack of Easter spirit in the menu offered during the holidays.

IT'S REALLY SO

Most problems are not worth worrying about because they'll shortly be replaced by others.

There's a great deal of difference between the first day of spring and the first spring day.

Barbershops are what the younger generation isn't coming to.

The proud owner of an A.B. degree soon finds he has to learn the rest of the alphabet.

If it's NEWS -- it will be in the CUE.

SETTING THE RECORD STRAIGHT

We are all interested in getting our military forces out of Vietnam. Many of our readers have relatives in Vietnam who are doing the fighting. The CUE receives letters from time to time regarding the Vietnam conflict and some request that we editorialize on the subject and others ask that we write letters to the authorities, both state and federal. A few letters accuse our former presidents.

We believe we should set the record straight regarding who is to blame for the far east conflict, and how it all came about.

On May 8, 1953, President Eisenhower informed the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that he had given France a special aid grant of $60 million to support the Indo-Chinese campaign against the Vietminh rebels. Further disclosures of substantial military aid were made on September 30 and February 6, 1954, although on the 10th of February the President stated that he was opposed to involving the United States in a "hot war" in Indo-China.

According to a report of the French National Assembly, March 16, 1954, the United States had paid to date 78% of the cost of the anti-Communist fighting in Indo-China. Although the former secretary of state, Dulles, predicted on March 23 that the French would win in Indo-China, their defenses collapsed and on May 7 the French Union fortress at Dienbeinphu was captured by Vietminh rebels. At the Geneva Conference April 26 to July 21, 1954, 19 nations were represented, including the U.S.S.R., Red China, North Korea, and the 16 allies in the Korean War. Neither side was prepared to compromise on Indo-China, but direct truce talks were ordered on May 29. On July 21, armistice agreements halting the seven-and-one-half year war in Indo-China were signed dividing Vietnam, the northern part, including Hanoi and the delta area, going to the Vietminh rebels, the southern part to the French-backed government of Vietnam.

So, who do we blame? The Eisenhower administration, the Kennedy years, or the Johnson and Nixon administration?

Or...should we attach the blame to North Vietnam, and the Vietminh rebels of South Vietnam? Who failed to live up to the agreement that actually made South and North Vietnam? Certainly, it wasn't South Vietnam invading the North...so, use your own judgment.

What about Laos? Following the coup on August 9, 1960, in which the pro-Western government in Laos was overthrown, the neutralist government formed a coalition on November 18, with Communist elements. The neutralist government accepted arms from the U.S.S.R., the 1st shipment arriving December 4, 1960, and demanded that the United States halt shipment of arms to the right-wing rebel forces, while at the same time agreeing to a cease-fire. The United States announced on Dec. 16 its full support for the pro-Western government of Premier Boum Oum which quickly gained control of Vietiane, the administrative capital on the same date. Following an appeal of the new government on December 30, for support against reported troop movements from North Vietnam, the United States warned on December 31, both Red China and North Vietnam to keep their troops out of Laos.

So the trouble in Laos has been brewing nearly ten years. Again, it was North Vietnam doing the invading. Now that you have the facts, you can form your own opinion on who's the culprit responsible for the mess.

REMEMBER THE DAY

FIVE YEARS AGO

On April 9, 1965, an exhibition game between the Houston Astros and the New York Yankees marked the inauguration of a new architectural wonder, the Houston Astrodome. The players were troubled by glaring light transmitted by the stadium's plastic dome, which was later painted over.

TEN YEARS AGO

On April 14, 1960, a Polaris missile was fired from under water in California for the first time.

blow off the foam and toast the brewers

What about the new Milwaukee major league baseball club - the Brewers? What about the players and how will the team perform this season?

Questions to the CUE came fast after the franchise was approved. We had to do some research before arriving at the following:

Hitting punch was traded for pitching and that's where the Brewers' strength lies. Lew Krausse, obtained during the off season, from Oakland, leads a pitching staff that also features Bob Bolin and Gene Brabender as starters and Bob Locker in relief. Krausse, 7-7, came from Oakland with outfielder Mike Hershberger and catcher Phil Roof.

Bolin, also 7-7, came from the San Francisco Giants for outfielders Steve Whitaker and Dick Simpson. Brabender, a holdover from last year's expansion team, won 13 games. With those three having a good year, the Brewers may climb out of the cellar this season.

"Pitching has to be the biggest worry for any manager," new manager Dave Bristol says. "If some of our people pitch the way we expect them to, we're going to surprise a lot of people. I hope I'm not being too optimistic."

If Bristol is being too optimistic, he's in real trouble. There's not much else. Don Mincher hit 25 homers for the Pilots last year, but he was transferred on a deal that went in the Krausse trade.

Mike Hegan is one of the Brewer's best all-around players, maybe their best. He hit .292 with eight homers in 95 games last season. His year was marred by injuries and military duty, but a healthy Hegan gives the Brewers a clean fielding first baseman with a strong bat.

Another good fielder is shortstop

Ted Kubiak, obtained with pitcher George Lauzerique from Oakland for Diego Secui and Ray Oyler. Kubiak is a slick fielder who isn't expected to dazzle anyone with his bat. Bristol is happy enough with his fielding.

"Kubiak," Bristol says, "is like getting money from home without writing."

Tommy Harper, reunited with Bristol after a two-year parting, is at second base. Harper set a modern league record last year by stealing 73 bases. He wound up at third base last year, but Bristol is satisfied Harper can handle second base.

Rich Rollins is the Brewers' third baseman, providing he has come around from a knee injury and can awaken a bat that has slipped somewhat the last three years.

Behind the plate is Roof and Gerry McNertney. McNertney was a slightly stronger hitter last year and probably will be the No. 1 catcher.

Hershberger is just about set as the Brewers' rightfielder. Wayne Comer, a .245 hitter last year, or Steve Hovley, .277 will bid for the middle spot, with the other taking left field. Hovley is touted as a player on the move, but Bristol doesn't seem satisfied he'll move enough for center.

This year's spring training phenom is a 21-year-old outfielder named Wilbur Howard. Despite the Brewers' youth, the team is short on rookies. Roy Foster, obtained from the New York Mets, is another outfielder and appears to have a good chance to make the team.

For the record, April 1st marked the day that Milwaukee got a major league baseball team, and it was not a April fool joke. So, blow off the foam and toast the Brewers!

beauty corner

Hello, girls! Did you know that the birthstone for April is a diamond and the flower is the sweet pea. You might have your diamond and it won't be long before spring flowers start to bud.

It's just about time to get out your rain 'n shine coat and put your winter clothes away. Get out your summer jewelry together with your sleeveless dresses. The colors vary this year, but you can bet that the plain colors are the best for the eye-seeker to look at.

Haircuts are in style this year for the summer look. Long hair worn down is for the jet set. Girls usually have tiny curls with their short hair, and girls with long hair occasionally part it down the center with side hairs tucked back behind the ear to create a simple, elite look.

If you are a person who keeps her hands in dishwater three times a day, your nails should be polished with a clear nail polish. On Mondays and Tuesdays, the Red Cross Volunteers from Oshkosh, Neenah, and Menasha, come to the hospital to work on patients fingernails. They are doing a great job on one's fingernails and we hope they continue to visit the hospital.

Mrs. Hoyer, who has been coming to the hospital since last September, is really an expert on fingernails care. Last autumn she phoned the Red Cross office and asked if she could be of any service to the community, and was told they needed her at WSH. She has been doing a wonderful job ever since, and we are indeed grateful for her interest in us.

We also have another lady from Appleton, Mrs. Parker, who visits Sherman Hall during the week. She is married to a police officer and has three children. Mrs. Parker is a talented beautician and also does an excellent job on fingernails.

The Red Cross volunteers have many years of service to WSH and should be commended highly. They usually come in the mornings so make sure you are in the ward when they arrive to do your nails. They display a variety of polish for the patients, and we thank Jim O'Reilly the volunteer coordinator for supplying the Red Cross Gray Ladies with the following:

cotton
emery boards
fingernail polish remover by Cutex fingernail bowls
orange sticks

Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Hoyer both agree on the following steps in doing your nails: (1) Take off old nail polish with cutex polish remover. (2) Take an orange stick and push back cuticles. (3) Take a brown emery board and shape your nails. (4) Soak nails in a Roval family soaking dish filled with luke-warm water. (5) Rub off excess water with a towel. (6) Snip the corner for any hang nails. (7) Apply one coat of hard-as-nails. It should be the crystal-clear type. (8) Let the hard-as-nails liquid dry for five minutes. (9) Apply one or two coats of nail polish. The entire process takes about 30 to 45 minutes.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR OWN SCORE

If you're watching a baseball game on television or listening to it on radio, you should keep your own score as it's lots of fun. Here are a few pointers on scoring:

Each player's name and the position or positions he had played shall be listed in the order in which he batted or would have batted unless he is removed or the game ends before his turn at bat.

Each player's batting and fielding record should be tabulated. (If available.) The first column should show the number of times each player batted during the game, but no turn at bat shall be charged against a player when (a) He hits a sacrifice bunt or sacrifice fly. (b) He is awarded first base on four balls. (c) He is hit by a pitched ball. (d) He is awarded first base because of interference or obstruction. The second column should show the number of runs, if any, made by each player. The third column should show the number of safe hits, if any, made by each player. The fourth column shall show the number of put-outs, if any, made by each player. The fifth column shall show the number of assists, if any, made by each player. The sixth column shall show the number of errors, if any, made by each player. The name of each player inserted into a team's lineup as a substitute player or runner shall be recorded and the subsequent record tabulated.

The score by innings for each team shall follow the tabulated batting and fielding records.

In the next issue of CUE we will have more tips on keeping score. Also, a score sheet that you can use. Look forward to it.

WHY IS BASEBALL FUN TO WATCH

Batter up! It's baseball time-again. Umpires all around the nation will be spraying their throats to get just the right timbre of authority. Managers will be watching the papers to see who gets fired. Las Vegas gamblers will give odds, not only on firing managers, but on who will finally end up champions in the fall.

"Baseball is a dying game" sing the prophets of doom each spring. News-pundits attempt to lay the entire six-month season before your eyes on the basis of the first two games. Be way of baseball experts they may ruin your appreciation of the game. You can rest assured that this reporter can not be identified as an expert. Like 200 million other Americans we are just fans.

Ponder a moment what it takes to be a baseball fan. Fans at the game and fans watching at home have one basic requirement - you guessed it - a bottle or two of beer. If you are attending the game, a hat not only keeps the sun out of your eyes but can be wrung with passion when the home team errs again. Another thing the attending fan must do is watch for the nuts with transistor radios -- nothing can cut your appreciation of the game more than having to listen to another beer commercial while you are trying to keep score.

When at home watching the game on the titillating tube, much of the dullness of the mike-jockey's chatter can be overcome by out guessing the umpires. When they give the long shot from the right of center field you have a much better view of the strike zone than the ump.

Yes, watching baseball can be fun! It's an art which can be learned by an adult, or child, but is best taught - to children by father.

He feels that elementary classes are important for patients on the Children's Unit and every attempt is made to get the child back to grade level. He also points out that the patients who are not high school graduates, 15-years-old and up, are receiving occupational and vocational training. Most of his patients average from one to two hours a day in school.

At present, there is no facility for the old age adolescent. There is also a need for an Industrial Art and shop related course in computer programming and other skills...that would enable the patient to fit in with the current opportunities offered by employers. Such training would be adjunct to the Vocational Rehabilitation program.

A glaring defect in an otherwise well-balanced program is the lack of a Job Placement specialist. It is hoped that this can be corrected in the near future.

Active as he is with multiple duties consistent with his work, he manages to instruct the student nurses during their training here.

Dr. Derozier hails from the home of the Green Bay Packers and has been a "Packer-Backer" through the last two lean years. He hopes that next season the Pack will be Back! Meanwhile, he will follow the Milwaukee Brewers.

children don't thank him for the gifts which he showers upon them. God certainly must wonder sometimes about our Love for Him, as we casually accept, day by day, His numberless blessings without stopping long enough to say "Thank You." Prayer is always a balm to our lives. Why not try it? Even a heartache can be a blessing in disguise.

The Lord Jesus Himself said: "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, for my yoke is easy and my burden is light."

COTTAGERS STAGE COOK-IN

Keeping with the spirit of the Easter holidays, residents of North Cottage staged a cook-in on Saturday, March 28. It was the first such event for the patients.

A breakfast was served consisting of bacon and eggs, rolls, toast, juice, coffee and jelly beans. Carrie Lange and Mrs. Haber fried the eggs while others made toast and helped set the tables.

Active in the cook-in, were Lee, Ronald, Charles, Candy, Martha, Dorothy, Bob, Jerry, Gene, Diane, Arthur, Marilyn, Louis, Frank, Pat, Barbara, Jeraidine, Lucille. They all pitched in to make the event a big success.

North Cottage residents were grateful to the aides and nurses for helping them in preparing the cook-in. They also wish to extend a big thank you to the kitchen help from Gordon Hall, Mr. Nitzel, an aide, and Mrs. Phipps and Mrs. Haber, both LPN's.

the patient's stay in the hospital," she states, "and we'll continue to learn more effective ways to help patients as time goes on."

She is a dedicated person with one purpose -- helping patients recover -- and it goes without saying that she has met with considerable success.

Jeanie loves to garden and derives relaxation by trout fishing and camping. She also is an expert putterer, and has developed more than a knack in this area. During the season of bowling she can whip the ball with the best of them. Among plain and sundry attributes, she is a good gal to interview. She also is a CUE booster! Need we say more?
