DOINGS IN DEBATE

PRELIMINARY ELECTION FOR THE INTER-COLLEGIATE.

CHANGE OF TIME FOR THE JOINT DEBATE.

Getting Ready for the Inter-Society Meeting—Different Debates.

The important business at the debating societies last evening was the provisional election of debaters to represent Wisconsin on the debate for which a challenge has been received from Minnesota. Copies of the challenge were read in all the societies, and delegates were elected to a meeting which will take place early next week, and at which the three debaters will finally be chosen.

Minnesota has choice of the question this year, and has selected the one on the popular election of United States senators. The debate will be in Minneapolis, and will probably take place about the middle of May.

Last night's meeting or Athena was a very busy one. Among the many visitors present was W. N. Parker, '90, who is principal of the Fox Lake high school. The first debate was an impromptu upon the popular election of senators and was opened by the affirmative, lead by Tillotson, '95, over Thomas, '96. The second debate was on the historic question of the advisability of the enfranchisement of the negro. It was decided in favor of the negative.

J. A. Tormey, '95, was elected the society's nominee for the debate with Minnesota. F. J. Rowan, '96, W. C. Ferris, '95, and Albert Hedler, '96, were chosen to represent the society on the inter-society meeting, the later to be soloist.

At Philomathia the debate was on the question: "Should the eight hour day be adopted in state and municipal work?" Harvey, '97, led the affirmative in vigorous arguments and was well supported by Maloney, '96. The negative was opened by Rogers, '97, in a well prepared debate, followed by Crompton, '98, who made many strong points for his side. The decision of the judges was in the negative. After the critics report by Butt, '97, the society proceeded to ballot for candidates for the intercollegiate debate. Conway, '96, and Jackman, '97, were the lucky ones.

The joint debaters will meet a week from next Monday and "flip" to see which side will submit the question. It is probable that the constitution of the debating league will be so changed as to place the joint debate about the middle of December of each year. This will be done to conform with the new semester system.

The E. G. Ryan society will elect no candidate for the position of intercollegiate debater. R. D. Walker, law '96, will represent the Columbian.

THE LATEST THEFT.

During the past term there has been a considerable amount of stealing done at the university. Probably the latest theft was last Monday when Prof. Hendrickson's overcoat was stolen from the law building. The professor had left it on a table in one of the small rooms on the third floor, during the 5 o'clock recitation. During the hour the overcoat was stolen from the room and an overcoat belonging to a member of the class, left in place of it.

It is a matter of regret that one's overcoat is not safe in any of the university buildings. So far University hall and the Gymnasium have been the usual places for the stealing, but now it seems that no place is safe during recitation hours.

ENGINEERS' CLUB.

The U. W. Engineers' club held its usual meeting last night. The debate of the evening was on the question: Resolved, that the high-speed automatic engine is more efficient for horse-powers ranging from 50 to 250 than the Corliss engine.

The affirmative was sustained by L. D. Rowell, and F. J. Short; the negative, by Schildhauer and Kratsch. The question was won by the negative.

The usual number of engineering magazines were reviewed by members and a very instructive talk on dynamos by Prof. Mack added to the interest of the meeting. A feature of the program rather out of the usual line was a piccolo solo by C. M. Kurtz, which was much enjoyed. After the meeting the club met in joint session with the engineers' association to make arrangements for the coming joint debate.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS.

At the meeting of the associations tomorrow afternoon the topic, "The Holy Spirit in Missions," will be considered.

Four discussions under the following heads will be given: 1st—"Exemplified in Christ;" 2nd—"Taught in the Scriptures;" 3d—"Promised to the Church;" 4th—"Fulfilled."

JOINT-DEBATE AEGIS.

This afternoon the joint-debate number of the Aegis will appear. It contains an introduction of Prof. David Kinley, recently of this university, now of the University of Illinois; an excellent selection of questions for debate, including the topic of all the joint debates of the past; eight pages of lithographic charts, and full page half-tone portraits of Dr. R. T. Ely and Prof. D. B. Frankenburger. It has altogether seventy pages of reading matter, and is unquestionably the best number the Aegis ever published. It is a credit to the debaters, to the editors and to the university. All who wish can obtain copies at the book stores, or by addressing the business manager. The price of this number will be 25 cents.

—William Ruger, Jr., law '97, who has been ill for some time at his home in Jamesville, was in the city yesterday. He intends to return to the university at the beginning of next term.

INDOOR MEET TONIGHT.

The series of indoor athletic meets will be resumed this evening, when the fourth event will be held in the gymnasium. There will be the same admission, ten cents, as was charged at the last two meets. As there are only two meets after the one tonight the competition for the first place will become more interesting. At present, H. Frame, with 17 1-2 points, and John Day, with 14 points, are in the lead for the championship. However, there is a chance that someone will be able to win enough points during the next three weeks to place him at the head. The program this evening will be quite interesting, among the events being, the potato race, which will prove to be quite popular with the spectators. The complete program is as follows:

- 40 yard Dash.
- 2 Lap Low Hurdle Race.
- 3-4 Mile Walk.
- 2 Mile Run.
- Potato Race (8 potatoes, 2 yds apart.)
- Running Broad Jump.
- Pole Vault (Handicap).
- 3 Standing Broad Jumps.

MILITARY BALL.

The first military ball of the season will be held in Library hall, beginning at 8 o'clock this evening. This will be a strictly military affair as no gentlemen without uniforms will be allowed on the floor. The dance is given under the auspices of the officers of the battalion and is only the first of a series to be given at various times through the year. It is expected that this will, to a certain extent, take the place of the old freshman and sophomore parties, except that it is more distinctly for underclassmen. The juniors and seniors are, however, fixing up their old uniforms and no doubt many will be present who have not drilled in the battalion for some time.

—Hugo Duke, '98, went to Milwaukee this morning.

—Charles Lea, '97, was out of the city yesterday.

—John J. Rogers, '97, will spend Sunday in Milwaukee.

—Matt Pittman, '97, has returned from a short visit in Chicago.

—B. L. Pasker, law '95, will spend Sunday at his home in DePere.

—G. T. Schimnuok, law '95, and Le Roy Thomas, '98, have gone to Milwaukee, to spend Sunday.

—Henry Hase, of Milwaukee, is visiting with his brother, Will F. Hase, '97, at the Delta Upsilon lodge.

—Atty. W. E. Plummer, '89, of Durand, has been in the city the past week, on supreme court business.

—The Misses Charlotte Ingersoll, Emily Norton, Chas. W. Lea and Ernest S. Park went to Beloit yesterday to attend the Glee and Mandolin club concert and a reception given by the Beta Theta Pi fraternity last evening.

F. W. GUNSAULUS.

Will lecture in the Methodist lecture course next Tuesday evening. The subject of his lecture will be "Robert Browning." Mr. Gunsaulus is one of the finest orators in the United States and all who have heard him in his lectures in this city will rejoice at this opportunity.

REVISION OF FOOTBALL RULES.

Walter Camp, secretary of the Intercollegiate Football Advisory committee, said this afternoon that at the annual meeting of the advisory committee held in New York last week, it was voted to make vigorous changes in the rules for the coming season. The details have not been decided upon, but it is understood that a series of meetings similar to those held last year under the auspices of the University club of New York will take place. Messrs. Camp and Alexander Moffatt, representing respectively Yale and Princeton, the two remaining colleges in the Intercollegiate association, have formulated a letter which will be sent to the various captains of teams in the country asking them to meet the committee at an adjourned meeting which will be held in two weeks. The committee have secured the opinions of Captains Thorne of Yale, Brewer of Harvard, Lea of Princeton, Williams of Pennsylvania, and seek others.

THE CHICAGO MEET.

The U. of C. weekly has the following to say in regard to the team race at Chicago:

"Hopkins, who also carried off the banner in the half-mile run, was the man that really won the race for the Badgers. The scientific and easy gait of the cardinal representative was admired by all, and when the long-legged sprinter came in on the last stretch, ten yards ahead of his nearest competitor, the whole audience broke out in tumultuous cheering."

FOGG ART MUSEUM AT HARVARD

There is already some difficulty over the size of the Fogg art museum. Harvard has an art collection already too large for what room there is in the building. The Boston museum of fine arts holds in trust two very valuable collections of engravings which belong to Harvard. One is the Gray collection, which was bequeathed to Harvard in 1856. The collection numbers nearly eight thousand, and illustrates the whole history of engraving and printing from the time of the earliest masters. The Randall collection numbers about thirty thousand. These engravings, however, were collected with less care, and are of less value. There is a difference of opinion among those in authority as to what will be done with these two collections. It is expected that the most valuable engravings will be put in the museum, and the rest left in Boston. Some of the professors are complaining bitterly that there is not a building in all Harvard large enough to contain them.

COLLEGE NEWS.

—Yale's new Law School building will be ready for occupancy early this spring. An attractive feature of the new building will be a locker and lounging room for the use of law students.

—The Yale chapter of Psi Upsilon are about to make extensive additions to the present chapter house. D. K. E. is preparing to build a new house at a cost of about $20,000.

Secretary—S. H. Cady.

The athletic meet tonight should be well attended. It will have to run in opposition to the military hop, but it is hoped that the students will turn out in large numbers and make it a financial success.

The joint-debate number of the Aegis which will appear tomorrow is an exceptionally fine one. It is probably the most complete and best edited number ever published and is an honor to its editors. It should meet with a ready support from the university as it will prove valuable for reference on the subject of banking for years to come.

With regard to the students monopolizing reference books in the library, there is a point which has been overlooked. Everyone knows how exasperating it often is to find all the desirable books of a particular study in the hands of one person.

By close observation for the last few weeks we feel that there is no question but that this is only occasionally the case. What little there is can be discouraged in a short time by students being careful at every opportunity to abandon the plan and thus change the custom. There is another practice however which we believe there is much fault found with and that unjustly. Every student can without doubt secure one book in each of several different topics and as many of them as he pleases. In fact, he is obliged to do so, in many cases where he expects to use some of them only a short time. No one should hesitate to ask the holder of the book, he is not at the time using, to loan the same until he is ready for it. This seems to be the only possible solution of the much vexed question, and if carried out cannot fail to satisfy all wants in the minimum of time.

BENEFICIAL ATHLETICS.

One cannot help noticing the greater attention that has been paid to athletics at the university during the past year. With the erection of the new gymnasium an impetus was given to physical development, which is making itself felt more and more, and the full effect of which can only be seen after a number of years. But, not only does the work of athletics continue throughout the year but it is proving a benefit to a constantly increasing number of students. That the true end of college athletics should be the physical improvement of the students, cannot be disputed. But it has been claimed by some that this was not the end of college athletics as at present conducted; that the greater proportion of the students stood and looked on while a few played football. That this is a mistake can be shown by the ever increasing number of candidates for the different teams.

In football at the university last fall there were about twenty men who played on the 'Varsity. Then there were a number who failed to get on the team on account of lack of skill or strength, but who received the same benefit from the training as the members of the 'Varsity. The two class teams in the Law school furnished training for a number of others so that the total of those who played football at the university assumes a very respectable proportion.

The Cardinal recently published statistics in regard to those who competed in the regatta last spring. While the total of 112 represented several who were in more than one event, yet if those who trained for the events but did not enter were counted, the number would be considerably higher.
Only the regular members of the class crews were counted, while each crew kept substitutes in training, and, until a short time before the race, each class had one-fourth on the water.

Probably the team that keeps the most men in training is the track team.
A large number are selected every spring for the intercollegiate field day while a very much greater number compete at the home field days, in the fall and spring. The track team, also, is composed of a rather different sort of men from the eleven or crew. A man is frequently a good football player and a good oarsman, but a man on the track team requires different qualities.

In baseball each of the classes has its nine during the fall term while in the spring a number present themselves as candidates for the team.
Law tennis brings out a large number every year.

But an additional effect of the athletic spirit which could hardly exist without intercollegiate contests, is shown at the gymnasium every day.
A large number of the men practicing there will never be members of any team; never represent the university in any contest. But the benefit they receive is just as great as any that the training of the teams gives. But these men are brought out and receive this benefit by the fact that so much is made of athletics at the university. The gymnasium would be deserted except when required work is going on, were it not for the athletic spirit. And if it were not for intercollegiate contests there would be no athletic spirit.

PENN.'S NEW FIELD.

The final plan for Franklin Field, the University of Pennsylvania's new athletic grounds, was decided on by the committee on Thursday, and instructions for its immediate outlay given. The work will consist in laying out the diamond and track and getting the field and cinder path into condition for the coming season.

The track will be a regulation quarter mile, the start being directly before the grand stand at the end of the 200 yard straightaway. Throughout its circumference the width will be fifteen feet, merging along the straightway into a twenty foot course.

The enclosure will be an ellipse 110 yards long and 267 yards in diameter. The racing end will lie along the curve at the southeast corner of the field. This will leave an uninterrupted space in the center and left field, and a stretch of considerable distance along the right field foul line. The track being on a level with the field will not interfere with the play.

In the northwest corner a diamond and football field will be laid out for all practice. The latter will be full size, and the former will present a field a trifle larger than 250 feet square. Eventually the club house will be built in the northwest corner, taking all available space.

The seating capacity will be limited at present to the old football stand taken from the athletic ground and accommodating about six thousand persons. The field, when completed, will be one of the finest athletic grounds in the country.

THE CITIZEN.

The American Society for the Extension of University teaching is issuing a new magazine, called the Citizen. This is to take the place of the University Extension and the Bulletin, and will be devoted to University Extension matters. The number contains several editorials and contributed articles, on educational subjects and several announcements of University Extension work. Lyman P. Powell, formerly secretary of University Extension at Wisconsin, is lecturing on American Political History. The magazine is published monthly at Philadelphia and the subscription price is $1.00 per year.

—The number of students attending the nineteen German universities, during the winter semester, of 1894-5, was 22,408. Of these 2,051 were foreigners.
