Y. M. C. A. GREETING

To you we extend the hand of welcome—we extend it in the spirit of good fellowship and Christian brotherhood.

You have become one of us—a community of students before whom is constantly held, above all others, the ideal of service. Our Alma Mater is praised for many things—she is loved for the men who have gone out from her halls to serve their fellows.

And yours is now the opportunity to enter into that comradeship of service; to work for the better things in our student life. We offer you the medium of our Association through which to express your active sympathy with the ideals we stand for—the development of Christian character and its expression in genuine service.

We are here to serve you: we want your co-operation in our efforts to help your fellows. We want to meet you, and know you: we want you to feel that you are one of us. The latch string is always out. We are glad you're here. Welcome!

A HEALTHY YEAR OF ACCOMPLISHMENT.

The year 1912-1913 saw the Young Men's Christian Association at Wisconsin broaden out into a larger and deeper life than it ever assumed before. It was a year of expansion in which the Association carried its work and influence, far into the life of the whole student body. Three-fourths of the freshman class attended our Annual Stag Mixer; more than twelve hundred students attended the All-University, the biggest social gathering of Wisconsin men and women held during the college year. Our Employment Bureau served three hundred men with permanent positions by which they could "work their way" through school and supplied scores of others with casual employment.

Our Sunday afternoon meetings drew fully as large crowds as we have ever had and the Raymond Robbins meetings held last December during the campaign for Christian Life and Social Service, drew thousands of Wisconsin men to Music Hall and to the gym, where that great leader gave his stirring messages. Never before did the men of our University give of their money so liberally as they did to the Association in March, when it called for aid in raising the debt on Association Hall. Seven thousand dollars was the answer from the men of the student body and almost a like sum was given by the faculty.

The year was a good one in a great many ways but in no respect did it show more gratifying results than in the election of the new officers and the selection of the committeemen for the coming year. The Wisconsin Association has risen to a high place in the estimation of leaders throughout the country; it is doing a real work and rendering a genuine service in the up-building of a stronger and more virile manhood among the men in the University of Wisconsin.

THE Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association is the largest and most comprehensive student organization in the world. Besides this, it is the only institution in the university that holds as its one aim the promotion of clean, manly Christian living. Its purpose is to keep men true to the Christian ideal and to develop in them the high motive of service to men. The Association is inter-denominational—any self-respecting man being eligible to membership. Through its work, men representing every phase of college life meet on a common ground. Identification with the Association signifies an interest in all that is best in college life.

ASSOCIATION HALL

The headquarters of the Young Men's Christian Association is Association Hall. This building is admirably equipped to take a large place in the life of the university. The ground floor consists of a large lounging room, a reading room, game room with pool and billiard tables, and a social room where various gatherings are held. This floor also holds the athletic trophy room and the offices of the General Secretary and his assistant. On the second floor is the large auditorium and three smaller rooms used constantly for meetings of the Association and numerous other organizations. The five University pastors also have offices on this floor and may be found here at certain hours each day. The Auditorium uses part of the third floor also, and the remaining portion, with all of the fourth and fifth floors is given over to dormitories. A large dining hall is located in the basement. The building is valued at approximately $100,000, and is a monument to the interest of men throughout the state in the Christian life of the university.

THE GENERAL SECRETARY

It is now some two years ago since the Y. M. C. A. directors called Frank H. West from the position of secretary of the Grand Rapids City Y. M. C. A. to the General Secretaryship of the university Y. M. C. A. at Madison. Many times since then has the wisdom of this move been demonstrated.

Last year he directed the executive work in the two campaigns which men in touch with the Y. M. C. A. situations in every college in the country term the two greatest single campaigns ever attempted and successfully carried out by any college Y in the country—namely, the Raymond Robins campaign for the moral uplift of the university students, and the campaign for $35,000 to raise the debt on Association Hall.

Mr. West, being himself a former varsity man on the Northwestern university football and baseball teams, is well versed in all phases of undergraduate life. He is easy to get acquainted with, and a man to whom you can always confide your troubles. He is anxious to meet you.

THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY.

W. C. Miller, who succeeds C. R. Cleveland as assistant secretary, is an old football man from Nebraska. For the past two years he has been pursuing graduate work at the University of Chicago, and incidentally directing some social service work at South Deering which has been widely quoted among social workers. While in college he was interested in all college activities: literary, social and religious. The Board of Directors feel they have secured a man in Mr. Miller who will add great strength to this year's work.

DEPARTMENTS OF THE ASSOCIATION

The activity of the Association is divided into several departments, each headed by a chairman who has complete charge of his department.

Work for New Students

At the opening of the first semester, the Association aims to serve new students in every way possible. They are met at trains, given directions in the finding of rooms and their baggage cared for during the search, an information bureau is established, an employment bureau conducted, and everything done to make the first few days as agreeable as possible. Every new student is urged to make Association Hall his headquarters, immediately on arrival in Madison. During the first week informal "Mixers" will be held each evening.

Sunday and Mid-Week Meetings

During the past four years the Y. M. C. A. has brought to Madison some of the strongest, most virile, speakers along religious lines, that can be found in the country. Some of the same men will be returned this year and other new speakers will be secured. These meetings are at 4:00 o'clock Sunday afternoons, and are open to all men students.

The mid-week meetings are of a more personal nature, so conducted as to give a chance for questions and answers, and the more or less free discussion of the problems of student life. These meetings are held at 6:30 o'clock Thursdays. Committeemen and all other members are expected to attend, and all new students are welcome. These meetings are frequently followed by members' business meetings.

Bible Study Groups

This section is of paramount importance. The emphasis that has been put upon this department has resulted in a well worked out course of study, giving a fairly complete and practical working knowledge of the great truths of the Bible. Under the auspices of the university Y. M. C. A. all over the country more than 60,000 men are annually studying this Book of Books.

Social

Besides the stag mixers the first week and the All-University reception, there are the Opening Stag, the Thanksgiving and Christmas parties and the Post-Exam Jubilee. The arranging for small parties in the homes of the members of the Faculty has been most successful. Hundreds of students have thus met and visited members of the faculty. This phase of the work will be further developed this year.

Industrial Service

In this department, college men are enlisted in serving the foreigner and the laboring classes. The teaching of English, free, and of anything else these men may want. First aid to the injured, lectures and practical character building talks to men in factories are also given under the direction of the committee.

Mission Study

With the exception of Bible study, no other department of the Association should appeal so strongly to students in general, as should the study of Missions, with its broad outlook and influence of the Association into the industrial, and political conditions of two-thirds of the world's population. This department offers courses in the various mission fields and a comparative study of the principal religions of the world. Two years ago the student body gave nearly $1000 toward work among students in Tokio, Japan

Employment

The Y. M. C. A. maintains an employment bureau which is constantly at the service of young men who need help defraying their expenses through the university. No charges are made. Hundreds of men are assisted through this department each year. It is regularly in charge of one of the secretaries.

Deputations

Five-men teams of earnest Christian young men are sent out by this Committee to hold meetings in small towns under Union Church auspices, particularly for high school boys, during week ends and holiday vacations. This work is of tremendous value, both to the young men who go out and to the towns visited.

Boys

A committee of students who are interested in boys co-operate with the churches and other organizations in furnishing leaders and in organizing boys' clubs.

Committee Service

Between 200 and 300 different men served on these various committees last year. More can serve to good advantage this year. If you are willing to assist, make it known to Secretary West or President Haake. It will be greatly appreciated by them.

THE GENEVA CONFERENCE

At the close of each college year there is held at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, on the Y. M. C. A. camping grounds, a Conference of college Association officers and committeemen, representing all of the colleges and universities of the Middle West. The Conference is held during the ten days immediately following the final examinations in June. The mornings of each day are devoted to a regular program of study of college men's problems and methods of Association work, and the afternoons are spent in competitive athletics, swimming, soccer, baseball, tennis, track, etc.

The camp life and recreation are the best a man could find anywhere but the greatest offering of the Lake Geneva Conference is the opportunity to hear and to meet in a personal way, many of the greatest religious and moral leaders of the country. Such men as John R. Mott, Bishop Wm. F. McDowell, Sherwood Eddy and Fletcher Brockman, are to be found there every year in addition to many of the choicest leaders from our various State Universities.

No Wisconsin men are elected as delegates to Lake Geneva; often times some men are aided financially by the Association, but the opportunity to attend is open to all members. Those who expect to attend should file their names with the Secretary as early as possible in the year and should then plan to reserve the first ten days of the summer vacation for Geneva.

THE ASSOCIATION'S PURPOSE

The Young Women's Christian Association seeks to unite the women of the University in a loyalty to Jesus Christ; to fill the spiritual needs of the students; and to promote the consciousness of social responsibility. Any girl may identify herself with the Association ideal by active or associate membership in the organization.

The Association stands for the best and highest ideals in student life. Membership in it is emphatically worth while.

The Geneva Conference

During the last part of August and the first of September, the annual conference of College Associations of the Middle West is held at Lake Geneva. Over five hundred delegates representing the finest type of college girls attend the conference.

The forenoons are spent in classes, Bible and Mission study, committee conferences and platform addresses. The afternoons are given over to walking, swimming, boat riding and other forms of recreation.

To those who attend the Conference, it is a source of inspiration and help which is always remembered. It affords an opportunity to meet women who have been active for years in Association work and whose experience and advice is invaluable to student workers.

Bible and Mission Study

Realizing the importance of Bible and Mission study, the Association plans strong courses in these branches under capable teachers. It is essential that every well informed woman should know of the Christian movements in China, India, Japan, Africa, South America and in her own country.

A complete schedule of courses, together with subjects and teachers may be obtained at the Y. W. C. A. office in Lathrop Hall.

Religious Meetings

The Association holds weekly devotional meetings Sundays at 5 p. m. in Lathrop Hall. Faculty members and outside speakers are secured to address the meetings. Problems of a religious nature and those of a social interest are discussed.

Membership

This year the Association is devoting several weeks to a membership campaign. The goal set by the committee is five hundred new members. Don't fail to respond when asked to join. Better still, don't wait to be asked. See Membership Chairman Sidney Oehler. She wants to meet you.

To the New Women Students

Take a South Madison or Wingra Park car at the station and ride to Brooks Street. Go directly to Lathrop Hall and register your name at the office of Dean L. K. Mathews, dean of the women of the University.

Ask for a Self-Government Association Bulletin which contains information regarding Self-Government Association rules, student activities, dramatics, athletics, literary societies, etc. Secure also a list of approved boarding and rooming houses if you have not yet decided upon a place to live and eat. If you want a room mate, leave your name at the office of the Dean of Women.

(For further information, look under the heading "New Students.")

After Registering

Write home to the folks.

Pay your S. G. A. dues (50 cents) at Lathrop Hall and keep the receipt.

Join the Young Women's Christian Association.

Go to the S. G. A. party for new students.

Buy an Athletic Association Calendar from Freda Boss at Barnard Hall and inform yourself as to the organization, its membership requirements; how to win a "W" and other athletic honors.

Read your Self-Government Association Bulletin carefully and learn the few rules which will govern you.

Get acquainted with Dean L. K. Mathews. She's worth knowing.

Get acquainted with the women who are leaders in student affairs.

Be careful in choosing the student activities which you wish to enter. Go slow at first and do well in those that you enter.

Keep in touch with your Junior advisor. She's a good friend of yours.

Remember that your success in college life depends much on your first year and act accordingly. Good luck to you

FRESHMEN "DO'S"

Get acquainted with your classmates, be loyal to your class organization, attend athletic contests in which your class is engaged, go out for some form of athletics other than regular gym.

FIVE IDEALS FOR 1917.

F. W. Roe, Assistant Dean of the College of Letters and Science.

I. Work. Begin your work promptly. More than half the freshmen who fail, fail because they waste the first six weeks.

II. Ideals of Work. Aim to excel in at least one study, and to do well in all. A lower ideal than this is unworthy of a college man.

III. Help and Advice. Get into touch with your adviser, your instructor, or some other responsible official to whom you may turn when in need of advice about your college work. Do not run the risk of failure through ignorance of the rules.

IV. Friends. Make friends by being one yourself. It is a tragedy to live an isolated life. There are important sides of your nature that cannot be developed except by healthy contact with your fellow-students.

V. Character. Do not sacrifice or compromise the essentials of character, whatever your changes of belief or opinion. Remember that you are here to make "character more efficient through knowledge."

NEW STUDENTS

Upon arriving in Madison, take either a Wingra Park or South Madison street car to Murray street, and walk directly north, across the lower campus to the Y. M. C. A., which is a five story building located at 740 Langdon street. Girls should ride to Brooks street and go to Lathrop Hall. There will be plenty of old students on hand to help you get started.

The Next Thing to Do

Find a room and a place to eat. The Y. M. C. A. has a list of all available rooms and boarding houses and anyone can have access to this list, free of charge. Rooms range in price from $6.00 a month up, although very few rooms can be obtained for less than $8.00. Generally two men room together and each pays half the rent, which ranges from $12.00 up per month. Board ranges from $3.50 to $5.00 per week at private boarding houses. Some students board at restaurants and buy their meals separately.

If you want a room-mate, speak to the Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and he will arrange to have you meet some other men who are looking for room-mates.

When You Register

1. Those who come from accredited schools or have passed the required entrance examinations will:

a. Present their recommendations or cards of admission to the Registrar, Mr. W. D. Hiestand, at his office on the first floor of Main Hall and fill out the enrollment blank that is furnished there. Class advisers are assigned only to students in the college of Letters and Science in the main office, all others are required to go to their respective colleges for this assignment.

b. Meet your class adviser, and consult with him regarding your work for the semester. An election card of the studies you are to take must be approved by your adviser. Class cards will be sent by the office direct to your instructors.

2. Those who are to take the entrance examination will:

a. Consult the Registrar at his office for directions concerning time and place for holding examinations. They will be held Monday and Tuesday, September 23 and 24.

b. Having taken the examinations, call upon the Registrar the next day and ascertain results. If successful, follow the regular process suggested above.

Pay Your Fees

At the Bursar's Office in the Administration Building at the foot of the Hill. Make all checks payable to the Bursar, Mr. G. L. Gilbert.

CONFIDENTIAL

The freshman year is not a period of triumph or reward, but one of preparation. As such, it is the most important of the four. Study local conditions until you find just where your talent lies, then make the best of your opportunities.

Do not pay too much attention to student activities, until you become well acquainted with college life.

Attend all massmeetings previous to the big football games. It is a place to practice yells, and songs, to meet the coaches and players, and a place to become imbued with Wisconsin Spirit.

Get a freshman cap and wear it with dignity.

Be sure to take gym and drill in your first two years, in order to get them out of your way.

Visit the library, which is one of the finest of its kind in the country.

Attend all social functions given by your class.

Don't cut classes without reason; it is the first step toward careless work.

Come out for the fall track meet, even if you never have had on a running suit.

Do not let this new environment upset too suddenly the ideals you bring.

Don't knock. The man who has that right, the man of superior ability, usually keeps his destructive criticisms to himself.

Be slow about making intimate friendships, but cultivate a wide acquaintance.

The undergraduate activities of lasting value are practical Christian work, the editorial boards, the Union Board, and debating.

The truly successful college course gives a man good health, one, or two friends, an intellectual and moral standard by which to discriminate between the worthy and unworthy; and some practise in the exercise of his future profession.

TRADITIONS AND CUSTOMS

There is no hazing at Wisconsin.

It is traditional for freshmen to wear the green headgear with the cardinal button from the opening of the fall term until the first of November, and from Easter until the last day of the second semester in June. Three years ago, the class of 1914 started a custom, long established in eastern colleges, of burning their hats on the lower campus on the evening of the last class day of the second semester. The classes of 1915 and 1916 repeated the custom, and it has proved to be a successful undertaking.

No underclassman has the privilege to sit on the fence in front of the gymnasium, and no freshman can sit or loiter on the library steps.

No freshman can smoke on the campus until after the first of May, except in the Wisconsin Union.

The campus includes the university grounds, and especially the upper and lower campus and Camp Randall.

No underclassman has the privilege to wear corduroy trousers.

No freshman shall carry a cane or walking stick at any time of the year, unless incapacitated by injuries.

No freshman can wear a stiff hat or derby in Madison, except on "prom" night.

It has been a custom, heretofore, for freshmen to give a class dance. This is the big social event of the year for the first year men because it gives them an opportunity to become acquainted with more of their classmates. Class mixers are held each semester during the college course and they serve to get the students acquainted with their fellow classmates.

FRESHMEN!

New men, you have the facts before you. The various traditions and customs are easy to follow; but do not be foolish and try to disregard the traditions which freshmen years ago had to obey, because the Student Court passes judgment on all cases of violations.

THE STUDENT COURT

The Student Court is composed of three Juniors and six Seniors appointed by the Student Conference. It has jurisdiction over all branches of faculty and student rules and may recommend to the faculty the suspension or expulsion of a student for cause.

THE STUDENT CONFERENCE

The Student Conference is a body of students who are chosen by direct election from the different classes according to colleges. It is the student legislature, controls all elections, and voices student sentiment.

THE WISCONSIN UNION

This is an organization which comprises all the men in the university. Its purpose is to unify the life of the university by bringing together all elements in a social way. At present the Union occupies quarters on the first floor of Association Hall. Here are to be found social rooms, a pool and billiard room, a barber shop, a reading room well stocked with periodicals, and papers, athletic trophy rooms, etc. It is well equipped to be the college "hangout." At present there is some agitation for a Union building due to the inadequacy of the present quarters.

LITERARY

There are three literary societies for men: Athenae, Hesperia, and Philomathia; and for women there are the Castalia, Pythia, and Round Table literary societies.

These societies foster debating and oratory at the university, holding weekly meetings during the university year. Membership in these societies is by invitation.

THE INTERNATIONAL CLUB

This is an organization composed of the representatives of the various nations of the world who are studying in the university. American students comprise a certain per cent of the membership. The local club is a part of the Association of Cosmopolitan clubs which in turn is affiliated with the Corda Fratres of Europe. The club house is at 617 State street. Through the influence of the club, Professor Stephen W. Gilman has been appointed special adviser to foreign students.

Last year, on the occasion of the tenth anniversary of their establishment, the club held a celebration lasting several days during which many noted speakers attended.

DRAMATIC

THE EDWIN BOOTH SOCIETY

Composed of men interested in serious drama. Last year they presented "As the Leaves," by Giuseppe Giacosa, for which they received the highest commendation by university dramatic critics. Each year they present a play.

THE HARESFOOT CLUB

Composed of men interested in dramatics of a less serious nature. Last year they presented "The Orphan and the Octopus," by George B. Hill, '08. W. G. Lowrie, of Northwestern university coached the play. S. B. White '15, is president of the club for the ensuing year.

THE RED DOMINO CLUB

Composed of young women of dramatic talent. The membership is limited to 25, and the club presents a play every other year. This is their year to present a play.

This is the annual year book of the junior class. It is an elaborately bound volume filled with good pictures, good jokes and hard slams. It is a valuable souvenir and will be of interest after graduation. It is issued about May 25. Stanley Hollen is editor-in-chief, and Ralph S. Crowl is business manager.

MUSICAL

The Wisconsin Musical Clubs

Last spring the two organizations known as the Wisconsin Glee and Mandolin clubs consolidated to form an organization which will in the future be known as the Wisconsin Musical Clubs.

While there will continue to be a leader for both clubs, the other officers will be selected from the joint organization, and the manager will be selected on a basis of successful management in other lines of activity. The clubs will continue to hold tryouts in the fall, but elections will hereafter not be announced until after the annual tour of the club.

The officers of the newly formed organization are: President, Orrin Smart, '14; Vice President, Ray Lange, '14; Manager, Milton B. Williams, '14. The leader of the Glee Club is Arch Taylor, '14, and Roland Maurer, '14, is leader of the Mandolin Club.

The Girls' Glee Club

Of about twenty voices assists in home concerts and various other events.

The University Band

The band representing the university has attained a wonderful reputation under the careful supervision of its leader, Mr. Charles Mann. The band furnishes instrumental music at all university functions, at all football games and athletic contests, and makes several trips throughout the year. A feature this fall will be a trip to the Minnesota football game at Minneapolis, November 16. All freshmen are urged to "tryout" for this organization. Other clubs are the University Orchestra and the Madison Choral Union.

OTHER CLUBS

Technical, scientific and department clubs are numerous. The following is a partial list. Admission is by invitation in nearly all cases, but the interest shown by new men is usually the determining factor:

The Girls' Press Club, Chinese Club, International Club, Scabbard and Blade, The Badger Rowing Club, The Mendota Crew Club, The Civil Engineering Society, U. W. Engineers' Club, Society of Mechanical Engineers, U. W. Livestock Club, U. W. Socialist Club, Commonwealth Club, U. W. Daniells Chemical Society, Science Club, Commercial Club, English Club, Nitchi Cheeman, U. W. Fencing Club, U. W. Mining Club, Germanistische Gessellschaft, Dixie Club, Caduceus, U. W. Chess Club, Hoosier Club, South Dakota Club, Rocky Mountain Club and W. Club.

There are also societies for each class, some honorary, and others organized for social purposes.

FRATERNITIES

The Greek Letter Fraternities are national organizations represented by local chapters at the various colleges. Their object is fraternal, and as secret brotherhoods they seek to ally men of one type together. Most of the chapters own or rent houses in which many of the members live.

No one can join a fraternity except upon invitation. If asked to join one, remember that a man is no better or no worse, because he is or is not a fraternity man. You will have as many true friends as your capacity for friendship will accommodate. A fraternity will not raise you to sudden eminence over others of your classmates who are not so fortunate as you. There is always a possibility of mutual helpfulness in the association of like-minded men, but be sure you have an individuality of your own that will stand. Before joining be sure you understand:

1. The character and standing of the National Organization.

2. The character of the men in the local chapter. Are they the kind of men you wish to resemble?

3. The policy of the local chapter, expenses, dues, etc.

4. When you join be sure and not confine your friendships to your fraternity brothers. Be broad and generous and learn to make and to keep friendships. After all, half your education will be in meeting all types of men.

THE YEAR IN ATHLETICS.

In the same way that the athletic year 1911-12 was considered the best that Wisconsin has ever had since it entered into collegiate competition, so the year 1912-13 may be regarded as the most successful from the standpoint of athletic standing among Conference schools that Wisconsin has ever experienced.

The first championship to be cinched for Wisconsin last year was that brought home by the Badger cross country team. The team, coached by former track captain, Clarence R. Cleveland, '12, by running a game and heady race, defeated the class of the western distance runners at Evanston in very fast time.

Next came the football championship, considered by many to be the highest honor that can be landed by a conference school. Coach Bill Juneau, '04, rounded out his first year as a Big Nine coach by bringing to Wisconsin its first football championship since he was in school.

In basketball, king of winter sports, Wisconsin kept up its unbeatable reputation by winning every game throughout the season up to the last one, when Chicago surprised us and won 23 to 10. The record of Wisconsin's five of being beaten only once in two years is one which has never been equalled in conference circles. Dr. Meanwell is to be congratulated on the fine showing made by his team.

In March, Wisconsin again demonstrated its athletic supremacy by securing premier honors in the Western Indoor Conference meet. Western gymnastic and fencing honors also went to Wisconsin by narrow margins.

In baseball, Wisconsin finished well up among the leaders, while Wisconsin's track team finished second to Illinois in the Conference meet. In the meet, Wisconsin's team upset the dope and finished higher than any Wisconsin team has ever finished in a Conference meet.

Wisconsin's crews did not bring home any championships. The freshman eight won second at Poughkeepsie, while the varsity eight finished fourth two lengths behind Syracuse, the winners. However, good things are prophesied for next year. The members of this year's varsity eight were all members of last year's freshman crew, and the addition of several men from this year's freshman eight should make the Badger crew very formidable in 1914.

However, the successful year we have just experienced should not lead us to believe that our teams will always be so successful. It took hard and faithful work to land every championship, and it is only by having a large squad of faithful workers out for every sport that we can hope to maintain even a respectable position in Conference athletic circles. We must remember that every other university is after the same championships that we are. Begin when you are a freshman. Go out for class teams and above all, don't get discouraged if you do not make good or are not given a show at first. It is the man who sticks, who makes good.

ATHLETICS

Athletics at Wisconsin are under the control of a faculty athletic council, consisting of five men and a student board which is composed of thirteen upper-classmen. The president and vice president of the student athletic board must be wearers of the varsity "W" in order to seek election to this body, and each of the six major sports has a representative; while five students, who have never won their emblem, are elected from the student body at large. It is the duty of the board to arrange mass-meetings, award emblems and athletic trophies, select managers of the various teams, and actively manage other athletic interests of the university.

The faculty council directs the policy of the university, and recommends to the regents men for election as coaches. The graduate manager is business manager of the Athletic Bulletin, is custodian of all funds, and buys new material on approval of the Director of Athletics.

Football—One-half of either the Minnesota, Chicago, Illinois, or Michigan game or two full halves with any other conference college.

Baseball—Half of conference games with a minimum of five full games. Pitchers, three full games.

Basketball—Ten full halves with conference colleges.

Track—A first against Chicago, Illinois, Minnesota, or Michigan; or eight points, five of which shall be a first in a dual meet with any other conference colleges, or a fraction of a point in the outdoor Conference meet (except relay events), or a tie for first in a dual meet against Chicago, Illinois, Minnesota, or Michigan and winning a second in another meet against one of these schools, or members of a relay team winning a first or second in the Pennsylvania Relay Meet. In the Indoor Conference a "W" is awarded to those winning a point or more.

Crew—members of the varsity crew, either the Eight or Four, who shall compete at Poughkeepsie or against any other university crew.

Crosscountry—Any member of the Crosscountry team who shall finish among the first three in the regular Conference race, or all five on a team winning the Conference championship.

MINOR SPORTS.

Minor sports include swimming, wrestling, gymnastics, boxing, fencing, golf and tennis, and the athletic board awards according to the following rules:

Swimming—Any member of the varsity swimming team who shall win three points in the Conference swimming championship or who shall be a member of the relay team which shall win three points at the same meet, or any man who shall win eight points, five of which shall be for a first place in dual meets against Conference teams, or any member of a relay team which shall win eight points, five of which shall be for first place in meets. The official three inch "W" is awarded.

Men winning Conference championships in wrestling, tennis, golf, gymnastics, boxing, or fencing shall be awarded the minor sport "W." Those who fail to win titles but who are members of their respective teams are awarded three inch "W"'s with the letters signifying the team on either side. For example, a member of the wrestling team would receive a "wWt."

CLASS NUMERALS.

Numerals are awarded to the official members of handball, skating hockey, and indoor baseball teams; and to members of intercollege and interclass teams.

WISCONSIN SONGS.

All new men should make it a point to learn the Varsity songs as soon as possible. Mass meetings will be held early in the fall for the practice of football songs and cheers. There is almost no excuse for non-attendance at these meetings.

Cardinal March and Wisconsin Hymn.

U rah-rah-rah Wisconsin Varsity,
We sing our songs to thee; we hail
thy victory;
U rah-rah-rah Wisconsin Varsity,
Our Alma Mater dear, all hail to thee,
U rah-rah-rah Wisconsin Varsity,
To our foes we'll never bend the knee,
U rah-rah-rah, etc.

(Air—Austrian Hymn.)

On the shores of fair Mendota
Stands the mother we would praise;
Rare her gifts and rich her offerings,
Glorious are her walks and ways.
Crown her, O ye sons and daughters!
Give to her your heart and voice.
Bid the world sing loud her anthem,
And in all her work rejoice.
With a mother's love she labors,
Shields from danger, guards from foes;
Knowledge, wisdom, virtue, honor,
Are the blessings she bestows;
Sons and daughters, laud her bounty!
Unto you she gives her dower;
Oh, reflect in life her glory,
High exalt and prove her power.
These are they for whom she watches,
As with open arms she stands,
Bearing ever priceless treasures,
And her good gifts in her hands.
Royal mother, fair and gracious,
See! we come to meet thy call;
Make us worthy all thy blessings,
Grant we keep it when it fall.

On Wisconsin.

On Wisconsin! On Wisconsin!
Plunge right through that line!
Run the ball clear 'round Chicago,
A touchdown sure this time,—rah,
rah! rah!
On Wisconsin! On Wisconsin!
Fight on for her fame,
Fight; fellows, fight! fight! fight!
We'll win this game.

Amici.

Our strong band can ne'er be broken,
It can never die;
Far surpassing wealth unspoken,
Sealed by friendship's tie.

REFRAIN.

Amici usque ad aras,
Deep graven on each heart,
Shall be found unwavering, true,
When we from life shall part.
Mem'ry's leaflets close shall twine
Around our hearts for aye,
And waft us back, o'er life's broad
track,
To pleasures long gone by.

REFRAIN.

College life is swiftly passing,
Soon its sands are run;
But while we live we'll ever cherish
Friendships here begun.

REFRAIN.

Clear the Way for Old Wisconsin.

Clear the way for old Wisconsin!
For to sing her praise we come,
For to sing her praise we come;
With a U-rah-rah! Wisconsin,
As we march with fife and drum.

CHORUS.

See the Cardinal floats high,
Bright and gleaming in the sky
For the Varsity we love,
May its glory never die,
We are loyal sons and true,
And wherever we may roam
We will sing for old Wisconsin
For our dear old college home.

U-rah! U-rah!
Rah! rah! rah! rah!
We will sing for old Wisconsin
U-rah! U-rah!
Rah! rah! rah! rah!
For our dear old college home.

With our songs the air is sounding;
For Wisconsin let us sing,
For Wisconsin let us sing;
Loud and clear with voice resounding,
Far and wide her praises ring.

CHORUS.

Songs to Thee, Wisconsin.

Songs to thee, Wisconsin, ever let us
sing,
Praise to Alma Mater ever let us bring.
Queen of all the West, college we love
best,
Queen of all the West, college we love
best.

May thy sons and daughters in thy jubilee
See the dawn of greater, grander things to be.
May they e'er inspire heav'nly wisdom's
fire,
May they e'er inspire heav'nly wisdom's
fire.

May we ever cherish memories of thee
In whatever pathway our future course may be.
Queen of all the West, college we love
best,
Queen of all the West, college we love
best.

the counterfeit presentment of two conditions of your linen, and say if you appreciate the refinements of methods that did the transformation? The beautiful ballet girl at rehearsal and at the play are two different things. Your linen, lingerie, curtains, under-clothing, etc., are as completely metamorphosed by us as are they.

A WORD TO FRESHMEN:

You must, of course, expect when you enter the University to find certain well set and well defined customs and traditions. By no means disregard these in the mistaken idea of being "smart," if you value peace of mind and body. If there is any one place in the world where life can be made miserable for a man, that place is a big University. Wisconsin is no exception to the general rule.

It is becoming the custom in many of our greatest universities for students to typewrite their notes, experiences, and other written work. Again Wisconsin is no exception. The National Typists Association has a branch at the Y. M. C. A. where students may obtain a new visible typewriter and take it to their own room. Ask for M. R. Olsen.

VENETIAN NIGHT

launches. It was a perfect night for the event. Slowly the procession floated to the front of the gymnasium, where it halted. The other canoes, gliding in and out with their Chinese lanterns, the lantern-decorated piers of the fraternities, the long search lights playing over the water, all made a charming scene, which fascinated the shore watchers.

A few sail boats her and there, or a chugging launch produced a pretty contrast to the canoes.

Canoes Well Decorated

The decorations of the canoes, consisting mainly of lanterns, waving back and forth on short poles, as the canoes bobbed here and there, lent a typical Venetian air to the scene. There was scarcely a boat or canoe on the water that did not have several lights, and there was not a single fraternity pier which was not lit up with strings of the lanterns.

Fire Works Brilliant

Promptly at 9 o'clock the fireworks started from the barge anchored off shore back of the Y. M. C. A. It was one of the best displays seen on the lake for a long time. There were no long provoking delays; the three hundred dollar display went up in a gorgeous show of burning, colored powder.

The red, white and blue stars, crashing bombs, and sputtering skyrockets kept the audience in constant admiration.

The prizes for the best decorated canoes were as follows:

First—Misses Thrift and Dickinson.

Second—Man in a sailor suit in a square-rigged canoe. Name unknown by judges.

Third—A canoe decorated as a sail boat. Unknown.

If the winners will call on General Chairman Spolder he will award the prizes.

Huge Crowd at Dances

Over 10,000 people witnessed the maypole dances given by the university girls on the upper campus early in the evening.

Promptly at 5:15 o'clock the grand march, in which all classes were represented, began, led by the senior women in their caps and gowns, followed by women of the various classes all in dainty and distinguishing costumes.

Ann Cohoon Stars

Immediately after the march the dances, which were divided into three groups, were given. First, The Pipes of Pan, which included the procession of Pan, the Graces and Horae, and the dances of the Dryads, Oreads, and Naiad. Ann Cahoon as Pan, in her robe of skins won much applause as she called her followers out of the greenwood. Elsie Estell as Mercury, all in silver, and Anita Pleuss as spring, in her costume of garlands, were true sprites of the spring time dance.

The dance of the graces was interpreted by Marie Righter, Elizabeth Kelley, and Julia Avery—the seasons, Anita Pleuss, spring; Edna Jolivet, summer; Katherine Cronin, winter.

Dance of the Seasons

The Triumph of Spring followed. First came the spring showers with spring winds; then the unfolding of the leaves and finally the dainty blossoms. Each group of dances were distinguished by appropriate costumes of gay colors, and the brilliance of the flower dancers added the true touch of spring to the green carpet of the campus.

May Pole Festival

Lastly came the springtime festival. This part of the programme was represented by the old English dance, the May Pole—where the demure, but gaily robed freshman women, tripped through the graceful steps of the dance and then wound the streamers tightly and surrounded the pole, lest the men should carry out the usual threats of abducting the pole, and carrying off the flowers and ribbons.

The dance this year has been entirely under the management of the women's athletic association. Miss Trilling originated the story of the fete, assisted by Miss Lily Campbell, and aided by the women instructors in athletics.

The seating and ushering were done by university women. Any proceeds of the fete will go to a May fete fund.

When Whittier wrote about the barefoot boy the earth was not as thoroughly covered with broken bottles as it is nowadays.

Prof. T. S. Adams of the Wisconsin State Tax commission is secretary of the association and Chairman Nils P. Haugen of the Wisconsin commission is a member of the executive committee.

The organization is made up of all of the taxation experts of the country.

"The fact that the high tax problem is not confined to Wisconsin but is common all over the country is best shown by the program at this meeting," said Commissioner Adams today.

As an example of the discussion on this subject, John L. Coulter, expert in charge of wealth, debt and taxation for the federal census bureau will talk on "The Growth of Taxes and Public Expenditures." The subject of "Can Public Expenditures be Checked?" will be one of the big round table discussions of the conference. Prof. Adams will make the report for the committee on the increase of public expenditures, of which he is chairman.

Mine taxation and the single tax will be two of the other big feature discussions of the meeting.
