LORA PALMER'S CONDITION IMPROVES

LEGISLATURE TO CONSIDER PROM BILL JANUARY 15

Resolution Allowing Function in Capitol Among First Matters of Business

That one of the first matters of business which the state legislature will take up when it convenes next week will be the consideration of an act permitting prom to be held in the capitol, was announced yesterday by a leading member of the assembly.

The assemblyman declared that the act would be drawn up in the form of a resolution and would be introduced in the assembly on the second day of business, January 15. He gave no indication of how long he thought the legislature would take to consider the resolution.

To Select Programs Soon

In regard to the activities of the prom committee themselves Chairman Clifford Huff '26 stated that much of the work is well under way. The orchestra probably will be selected by the end of the week, and will likely come from either Chicago or New York, according to Huff.

Vernon Otto '26, chairman of the program committee, said that the committee is looking over program samples at present and will make a selection sometime during the next few days.

Plan Post-Prom Dance

Tickets for the pre-prom dance Saturday night, on sale at Morgan's and University pharmacy, are going rapidly, Carl Klath '26, chairman of the dance, said last night. The price of tickets is $1.75 if purchased beforehand and $2 at the door. Announcement of the date of the opening of Prom ticket sales will be in the near future, according to John Riley '26, tickets chairman.

The men's arrangements committee under the direction of Rice Miller '26 is arranging parties for independent groups and is planning for a post-prom dance to be held the night after prom.

FRATERNITY COUNCIL TO DISCUSS RUSHING

At a meeting of the interfraternity council to be held tonight at the Phi Delta Theta house the questions of fraternity rushing and scholarship will be discussed, the president of the council announced yesterday. Dean S. H. Goodnight will speak on the abolition of rushing rules and the establishment of a better basis for fraternity scholarship.

NEXT OCTY FEATURES

WORK OF OTHER MAGS

The January Octopus will combine features of the Ohio Sun Dial and the Northwestern Purple Parrot with original material of local talent, according to Gordon Lewis, editor. Henry Lathers '26 has designed the cover.

W. S. G. A. Appoints Mildred John to Revise Constitution

Mildred John '26 has been appointed by W. S. G. A. council to take charge of the revision of the constitution of W. S. G. A.

A massmeeting will be called immediately after examinations, of all the women of the university to pass upon these amendments, according to Alice Corl '25, president. It is necessary that at least one-third of the women in school be present in order to constitute a quorum.

"The constitution is badly in need of reorganization," Miss Corl said. "During the 27 years that W. S. G. A. has been on the campus it has been continually outgrowing its constitution. There will be no definite change in rulings. The point system, which is the means by which the activities of women are checked, will be thoroughly revised."

TODAY'S DEBATES TO DECIDE TEAMS

Winners Will Represent Uni- versity in Mid-West and Triangular Leagues

The final tryouts to determine the personnel of the Mid-West and Triangular league debate teams will be held this afternoon and evening in Bascom hall. Members of the speech department will make the selections.

The first trial debate will start at 4:30 o'clock and will be waged on the proposition to empower congress to override a decision of the United States supreme court.

The affirmative will be upheld by Glen Bell '25, Alfred Nicholaus '25, and Irwin Aaron '27. On the negative side are Harold Jordan '25, George Mitchell '25, and Harold Sporer '25.

A second squad will debate the same question at 7:30 o'clock. Carl Ludwig '26, Melvin Thomson '26, Eileen Blackley '25 and John Sumner '25 will support the affirmative, while Ross Bennett L2, E. G. Hubbard '26, Roland Willey '26 will debate the negative.

"If the individual speeches are of almost equal merit, the 12 speakers who will compose the four university debate teams may not be definitely decided upon," declared Prof. J. M. O'Neill, of the department of speech. "Sixteen debaters may be chosen and the four alternates may be designated during the rehearsals which will be held during the month."

BADGER WILL BE TRUE TO WISCONSIN

Work Well on Way; Several Sections Already at Print- ers and Engravers

"As a result of certain circumstances which have arisen that affect the reputation of our university, the original purpose of the 1926 Badger has undergone a strenuous period of transition in the past two weeks," said Otis Wiese '26, editor, yesterday.

"The 1926 Badger will be in reality Wisconsin's truest Badger because its features and the treatment given to various sections of the book all aim toward a definite purpose—a purpose that will never be stated but will be suggested," Wiese stated.

The whole plan of the book is complete, page for page. The entire opening section which includes the seniors, faculty, and class officers is already in the hands of the printer and the engraver. The special occasions section and the organizations section are complete and are out of the hands of the Badger office. Since the activities section has been finished, work will be concentrated on the remaining sections—the Memorial union, athletics, and Wisconsin women. These will be completed before the end of the semester, Wiese predicted.

"Although the purpose of the Badger has been changed, the original plans still hold through," Otis Wiese stated.

ROOMING HOUSE ROOF DAMAGED BY BLAZE

A defective chimney set fire to the roof of the home of Dr. B. C. Campbell, 411 North Murray street, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. A storeroom was badly damaged. The fire did no damage to the rooms of the 14 men students living at the house.

Hope is Held for Recovery of Instructor

BY FRED GUSTORF

A decided improvement in the condition of Miss Lora Palmer, university instructor who was the victim of the rage of a friend maddened by infatuation, was reported last night by Dr. James A. Jackson, who attended her.

Miss Palmer, who is chaperon and manager of the French house, was wounded three times early yesterday morning by shots from a gun in the hand of Francis X. Bernard, of Hibbing, Minn. who then fired at himself, dying instantly.

Doctor Says She Will Live

"I think Miss Palmer will live," stated Dr. Jackson last night. "There is more reason for encouragement tonight than I was willing to admit earlier today," the surgeon added.

The tragedy occurred at 9:20 yesterday morning, shortly after Bernard had called at the French house, 1105 University avenue, and interviewed Miss Palmer in the parlor, according to Mrs. M. Hanson, house cook, who was the first to reach the scene. Hearing shots and screams, Mrs. Hanson hurried into the front room from the kitchen, and found Miss Palmer lying bleeding on the couch and Bernard stretched out on the floor at her feet dead.

The exhausted girl was helped upstairs to her room by Mrs. Hanson, where in spite of the serious wounds in her side, back and arm, she was able to aid the cook in removing her clothing. Miss Palmer suffered great loss of blood before Dr. Jackson, who was immediately summoned, arrived and temporarily checked the flow.

Not First Visit of Bernard

A veil of mystery at first surrounded the cause of the shooting until reports from intimate friends of Miss Palmer, together with statements by herself, indicated that Bernard, an admirer of the young instructor, had come to Madison intending to press his attentions upon her. He arrived here on Monday from Hibbing, Minn., where he had been employed as a chemist in the Oliver mines.

Bernard was not interviewing Miss Palmer for the first time yesterday, as stated in local newspaper reports here, but had been a guest at the French house on Monday night and also on Tuesday night, prior to the morning of the tragedy.

Saddle and Sirloin to Hear Address By Dr. Alexander

"Rural Life in Scotland" will be the subject of the talk to be presented by Dr. A. S. Alexander of the animal husbandry department at the regular meeting of the Saddle and Sirloin club at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Agricultural hall.

Doctor Alexander is a native of Scotland and has thoroughly studied farming problems in that country. He will use a set of slides in his talk and the illustrations will portray the life of the Scotch farmer.

"The talk tonight by Doctor Alexander should be of interest to every agricultural student and member of the Saddle and Sirloin club," said K. E. McKenzie '25, president of the club. "The pictures and descriptive matter are presented to students only once in two or three years and it will be the last opportunity for many students to hear the talk."

ENDORSEMENT OF FACULTY GIVEN TO SLOSSON LECTURE

Author-Chemist Will Talk at 8 O'Clock Tonight in Lathrop Gym

All scientific departments of the university have announced their full cooperation with Union board in promoting the lecture on "Creative Chemistry," by Dr. Edwin E. Slosson tonight at 8 o'clock in Lathrop hall gymnasium.

Students in all courses in science have been urged by their instructors to hear Dr. Slosson, who is recognized as one of the leading scientists of the country, and has done more than any other man to popularize the subject and bring the fundamental facts before the general public.

Mathews Urges Attendance

"We are taking all means of urging our students to attend this lecture, and want every one of them to be there," Prof. J. H. Mathews, director of the course in chemistry, stated yesterday.

Professor Mathews will introduce the speaker. A dinner early in the evening at the Madison club has been arranged in honor of Dr. Slosson by the faculty of the chemistry department. He has also been invited to visit the Forest Products laboratory during his visit, and will do so if his schedule permits.

Editor of Independent

Dr. Slosson has had an interesting and varied career as teacher, journalist, and author. For many years he was professor of chemistry at the University of Wyoming. In 1903 he became literary editor of The Independent, and served on the staff of this magazine during the following 18 years. During the latter part of this period he also conducted classes in journalism at Columbia university.

In 1921 he went to Washington as director of a new and unique institution, Science Service, the purpose of which is to disseminate scientific information to the public. In this capacity Dr. Slosson syndicates weekly articles to the newspapers, reviewing recent achievements in all branches of science.

Versatile Author

Dr. Slosson's first book was an account of his personal observations concerning 14 of the leading universities of the country. He has written on political, literary, and religious subjects, but is chiefly known for his works on chemistry and other sciences.

The lecture this evening will be an account of the applications of chemistry to industrial and domestic life. The admission price is 50 cents.

Cap Isabel Says No Skating Unless Lake is Flooded

"No skating on Mendota this season unless the lake is flooded," was the mournful decree issued by Captain Isabel yesterday.

This is the first year that the lake has been so rough that the athletic department would spend no money for scraping. The extreme cold spell and constant wind from the northwest caused the ice to freeze on the other side and to float to this shore to form a choppy surface.

"The 30 inch pump belonging to the hydraulic department could flood the entire lake in a few hours," Captain Isabel said. "If this were repeated several times, an excellent skating surface would be produced. This action has been suggested, but no definite move will be made until the new head of the athletic department has been named."

The undesirable condition of the ice has not prevented ice boating, however, and Captain Isabel has counted as many as 42 boats on the lake at one time.

COLLEGIATE WORLDTRACKSTERS TO WORK HARD FOR INDOOR SEASONWeak on Weight Men; Some May Compete in I. A. C.
GamesWith the first big meet of the indoor track season only a month away, Coach Jones plans to send the Badger tracksters through a strenuous period of training from now until examination week.Very few of the men did any track work during the holidays, and it will take plenty of hard work to remove the effects of big Christmas and New Year's dinners. The crying need of the varsity squad at present is more weight men. So far Schwarze and Bonnini, two big football huskies, are the only men working at the weights. The squad is fairly strong in every department except the weights, and if Wisconsin hopes to put out a championship team more strong men will have to report to Coach Jones for workouts.

Campbell Drops Out

The varsity squad received a setback when it was learned that Don Campbell had dropped out of school. Campbell was a member of the championship cross country squad, and was hoped to be a member of the Cardinal two mile relay team.The jumping pits and floor in the annex have been repaired. A four inch layer of clay has been spread over the old floor of the annex, and as soon as it settles it will be one of the best in the conference. New sand has been put in the jumping pits and wooden stands have been laid in to stand the jumping and vaulting standards on. This will insure more accurate measurement of the jumps. Previously there was always some doubt as to the accurate height made by a jumper as the standards would not always be placed on perfectly level ground.

Two January Meets

The only two meets to be definitely arranged for January are an interclass meet January 17 and a frosh-varsity meet January 24.
The interclass meet will be open to all but "W" men in track, while the frosh-soph meet will be open to all. The latter clash will also be considered as a tryout for positions on the varsity team. All points won by frosh in either meet will count towards their freshman class numerals.It is possible that Wisconsin will be represented at the Illinois Athletic club games to be staged at the Chicago coliseum, January 16.
Coach Jones is very desirous of sending his two mile relay team, and possibly Schwarze and Mac-Cinnis, to compete in the special college events. It would be a great help to the cinderpath men to see Nurmi, famous Finn Olympic star, who is going to run there.

However, such a trip as that is

The Wisconsin basketball team spent a rather successful vacation on the court. Grinnell was defeated, 29 to 15; while Butler, national amateur champions, only squeezed out a 22 to 16 win from the Badgers, and now a victory over De Pauw.Iowa leads the Big Ten! The Hawkeyes opened the conference cage season against Minnesota Monday night, and romped away with a 27 to 19 win. Laude at forward was high scorer with a total 14 points, and as a result leads the conference in scoring.Reports from Iowa state that it is about the fastest game that was ever played on the Hawkeye floor. It looks like Coach Sam Barry has developed a real team at that institution.Illinois is showing a real powerful attack this year. Monday night they came back in the last six minutes of play and defeated Kentucky 36 to 26. It looks like Coach Ruby is putting a real team on the floor this winter.Northwestern is the only team this year that is not "crowing" about the certainty of winning the Big Ten pennant. With all these good teams in the field, it looks like a real race for the championship.So far this year, it looks as though the Navy is the class of the country. They have won seven games in as many starts.
Their seventh was a win over Yale 28 to 22, Monday night.
Included in this string of wins are victories over three Big Ten teams, most prominent being a victory over Ohio, one of the most likely winners of the conference.Big Ten captains for the basketball season are: Diebold, guard, Wisconsin; Weiss, guard, Chicago; Mauer, forward, Illinois; Parker, center,doubtful as the meet is only eight days away, and this does not give the men enough time to get in shape after the holiday layoff. Also the meet comes close to examination time, and it would be hard on the men to take them away from school. In the third place, the meet will be run on a board track, and as none of the men have ever traversed the boards before it might be injurious, as the first time running on the hardwood is likely to produce a bad case of "shin splints" that would keep a man out of track for the rest of the season.Quadrangular at Northwestern
The first big meet of the season is February 14 when the Badgers compete in the quadrangular meet at Northwestern. At present it looks as if the Badgers would have a fair chance of repeating their last year's performance by winning the event again. The real test will be the clash with Iowa, February 21.

that instead of skating on Lake Mendota as has been done in former years, two rinks will be available for use, one on the lower campus and the other at Camp Randall.The half of the lower campus next to Langdon street is reserved for public use, while that next to State street is reserved for the hockey team. As soon as the crowds of skaters are too numerous here, the field at Camp Randall will be flooded.The reason for the change is attributed to the great amount of time and labor expended in keeping the rink on the lake free from snow, and in the proper condition.Indiana; Janse, forward, Iowa; Haggerty, forward, Michigan; Dun-der, guard, Minnesota; Cameron, guard, Ohio; Wellman, guard, Purdue; and Northwestern, captain unnamed.Fresh from her first win, Iowa meets Purdue Friday night at Iowa City. The Hawkeyes will probably run into more competition against the Boilermakers than they did against the Gophers. Purdue has been showing power in her pre-season games, holding the Franklin
"Wonder Five" to a 36 to 32 victory, which Franklin won only after an overtime period was played.WALTER CAMP PICKS
TWO CONFERENCE MENGrange of Illinois and Slaughter of Michigan were the only Big Ten grid players placed on Walter Camp's All-American eleven, as announced last week. Stuhldreher, of Notre Dame, was given the quarterback position.The other players selected on the first eleven were Bjorkman, Dartmouth, end; McGinley, Pennsylvania, tackle; Garbisch, Army, center;
Horrell, California, guard; Weir, Nebraska, tackle; Berry, Lafayette, end; Koppisch, Columbia, half; Haz-

second team. Flackenstein, Iowa, and Gowdy, Chicago, received placements on the third team.MAIN DINING ROOM IN ovated University clubhouse opens ing that in the lobby, has just been laid. The new addition to the clubidents took advantage of the vacation to move in and get settled. The formal opening will take place in the athletic chairmanship the name of Pat Page, former Chicago star

lege, one of the strongest small colleges athletically in America.

Butler Cagers Successful

After Butler had administered the first defeat of the season to Wisconsin's basketeers, they met Marquette at Milwaukee, and while in that city Page admitted that he had been discussing with the Badger athletic heads the advisability of becoming the new Cardinal athletic head.

Page's Record Admirable

Page's record is an admirable one as coach of the Indiana college. In both basketball and football he has produced teams that have met the great team of the country with surprisingly fine results. Several years ago he produced a football team that defeated Chicago, his alma mater. Butler teams have constantly appeared on the grid schedules of many of the great midwestern elevens. Page's great feat in basketball has been the ability to produce teams that have beaten the best Big Ten combinations, as his victories over Iowa and Wisconsin, supposed candidates for the conference championship, testify to.

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDWISCONSIN OPENS SEASON AGAINST MINNESOTA TEAMOne of Year's Hardest Contest is Faced By Badger
Cagers

Facing one of their hardest games of the season at the end of the week, besides a road trip, the Wisconsin cage team will indulge in one of their most intensive weeks of practice of the year. Several of the men who were out of the contest against DePauw will probably see part of the game with the Minnesota five on the night of January 10, and this means that the little doctor faces a hard problem to get his men in the best of condition for the game.

Wackman is at a great disadvantage in shooting with the mask he is forced to wear to protect his injured nose. This obstructs his vision, and causes many a bad shot or pass. If the tall forward is able to enter the coming fray without this hindrance it will add to the chances for a Badger victory. The team needs more polish in the handling of the ball and floor work. Several times a more accurate pass would have meant another basket for the Cardinal team in their game against DePauw last Tuesday.

Brooks Looks Good.

Brooks played a good game against the Indiana college, but he is far from a finished player. He is not certain of his handling of the ball, and his passes are bad. If this can be drilled out of him the coming season, he will prove a valuable man in conference games. Barnum was given a try at the pivot position, but did not stay in the fray long enough to prove his worth. He showed up well in the Christmas game, and may be used more before the end of the long schedule. The center position is one of the most difficult of the many problems of Coach Meanwell, for all of the men are inexperienced with the one exception of Varney, and he is going in fine style at the forward job.

The two guard positions are not likely to change, for Barwig and Diebold have been able to hold the repeated attacks of the invading teams thus far with the exception of the Butler five. They are two of the best guards in the conference, and their strong defense work is the hope of the Cardinal cagers.

Basket Shooting Improves

The basket shooting of the Wisconsin team in the DePauw game was much better than in the previous games. They made one third of their shots and three of four free throws. The work of the team this week will be on passing, criss crossing, floor work and basket shooting.

Hockey is Newest Intramural Sport
on Badger Campus

Interfraternity hockey is the latest sport to be listed among the intramural athletics. The new form of sport opens in a virgin field, for no teams have been developed by fraternities as yet, and therefore no chapter holds an advantage.

Kay Iverson, the new hockey coach, will play an active part in the work of forming the teams. All who understand the art of skating well will have a chance to get into the game, for it is quite easily learned.

A meeting of fraternity representatives has been scheduled for 12:45 Monday noon, January 12, in Director George Berg's gymnasium office. It is to be noted that this sport will count toward the winning of the Wisconsin Supremacy trophy.

CLEVELAND—Six buildings in the river front district were swept by flames late today. Four fishing tugs, moored at wharves, were burned, and two steel ore steamers were scorched by the fire which burned a thousand feet along the water front. The loss is placed at $100,000.

So It Seems

and now they start working for Minnesota. It's got to be said that the preliminary games this season proved to be a real training school for Meanwell's squad. Many different styles of play were displayed, and the men had to cope with each in a slightly different way.

Although DePauw did not have as good a team as last year, that game Tuesday night was the scorcher for this season. If Ward had been as accurate a basket shooter as Stewart there is no telling what would have happened.

All in all, the squad hasn't done bad, but when we begin to think in terms of Big Ten we fear for the first games of the schedule. Fans should not be surprised to read Sunday morning that the Badgers dropped to Minnesota.

And then Ohio next . . . we wish they'd put that off for a while.

Brooks seems to be working in much better. Tuesday night his play was much more polished than in the former games this year. A few more games and he ought to be going good.

There was an error in the story yesterday morning concerning the Butler game. It was the third defeat instead of the first defeat on the home floor in three years. Franklin and Marquette were responsible for the other two defeats. DePauw tied us last year.

The latest from the athletic council seems that the choice of a new athletic director has narrowed down to persons within the university—Doc Meanwell and James F. A. Pyre. These names probably will be presented to the regents of the university at their next meeting.

We had hoped there would be some outsiders who have proved their ability as directors and leaders in the list to be presented, but since the council has decided otherwise, we can't help commenting on the fitness of either of the candidates mentioned. Both Pyre and Meanwell are capable men, they know athletics, are leaders and good executives, and best of all know the school and the personnel of the staff.

When the choice is made it's up to the followers of the Cardinal to support the new director and accord him 100 per cent support. Then work for real, high-powered athletics here.

Coach Kay Iverson has the hockey squad working hard every afternoon on the new rink on the lower campus, teaching them the fine points of the game. Coach Iverson seems to be getting results.

YOST, MICHIGAN COACH, WARNS AGAINST POST-SEASON GAMES

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Fielding H. Yost, for twenty-four years a famous gridiron coach at the University of Michigan, taking inventory Sunday night of the intercollegiate athletic situation of the nation, sounded a warning against postseason intersectional games, voiced his objections to athletic professionalism, and declared that not more than four football games a season should be scheduled that would require the players to be keyed up to the highest pitch, mentally and physically.

Yost sets forth his views in an article on the "Administration of intercollegiate and Interscholastic Games." Briefly, the veteran coach says that sport is good only as a sport; that when it interferes with studies, evil results are likely to follow. If intersectional games are to be played at all, they should be scheduled for the regular season so as not to prolong the training period of the players, he believes.

In all events, the gridiron season should close by Thanksgiving time and there should not be more than eight regular games on any schedule, Yost counsels.

"No boy should ever be permitted to absent himself from any class for athletic purposes," Yost writes. "This defeats the purpose of both classroom and athletics. Practice periods must be arranged in conjunction with classroom schedules and all conflicts avoided."

Yost opposes the idea of postseason games because they establish a bad precedent and any attempt to determine a national championship is wrong because there are too many good teams in the country to consider in such an attempt.

Post season games between teams in different parts of the country establish a bad precedent. The appeal of a long trip is great to boys and as soon as one team goes across the country to play many others want to follow. Unless checked the tendency would soon lead a competitive "run across the continent."

MANY PARTICIPATE
IN TEXAS SPORTSMore Than 1,700 Men Are Active; Use Old Varsity Uniforms

AUSTIN, Tex.—More than 1700 men students participated in intramural athletics at the University of Texas during the year 1923-24, according to figures compiled by B. M. Whitaker, director of intramural athletics. There has been a steady increase in the number of students participating in some form of training since intramural athletics were established in 1916.

Although old Varsity uniforms are used by the intramural teams, almost $8,000 was expended on equipment during the last long session, it is stated. Using exact figures, competitive athletics were provided for 1,654 men in 1923-24 at the rate of $4.84 per man.

It is the purpose of intramural athletics to provide competitive games through intramurals for men who would not letter on the Longhorn elevens, Mr. Whitaker said.

ROOKIES TO PLAY
WITH OHIO VETSAlthough Ohio Has a Seasoned Team, Olson Will Use
New Men

In spite of the fact that Ohio State's basketball quintet which a year ago landed in a tie for second place in the Big Ten presumably will be intact when the annual Conference grind begins, the Buckeye eggs are not at all to be placed in one basket. In other words, Coach Olsen proposes to use some of his new men at times even though he has all of his new 1924 regulars available.

It might seem odd, at first thought, to contemplate shifting a lineup occasionally when that lineup survived an unusually hard campaign in the Western Conference just a year ago. But Coach Olsen is looking to the future as well as to the present.

A year ago Ohio State played 17 games, 12 in the conference, two with eastern teams and three with Ohio conference foes. Of the 17 it lost only 5 contests and four of those were by four points or less, and all five to Big Ten opponents.

and seventh places, Theta Chi dropping 2,452 pins.

Wisconsin scores will be taken on Tuesday, January 13, and on Thursday, January 15. These scores will count in the Wisconsin league as well as in the Western Conference Bowling league.

Carded Twice; Now Only
One Open Date

Two gymnastic and fencing meets have been scheduled with the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A., the first to be held here January 17, and the second there February 14, which leaves only one open date for Coach Schiater's men.

The Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. has fencing as a sport at that institution, and boasts of a good team with Theodore Carstens, one-time Orpheum circuit fencer, as an assistant coach. Besides Wisconsin, the Cream City team will have matches with Chicago and Northwestern universities.

Although the first conference meet is not until February 21, the Badgers are starting work in earnest for the preliminary encounter with the Y. M. C. A. teams, and those to decide the winner of the cup for the best gymnastic performer in the university competition. The final class match will be held on January 24, an open date.

The squad is fortunate in having Captain Schmidt, winner of the conference championship, to compete this year. In the frosh-varsity match he gathered 264 points alone, and should be high-scorer in all of Wisconsin's work on the apparatus this year. Coach Schlatter has the task of developing a man to take the place of Ted Stevens, last year's captain, in competition on the side-horse.

MOVIES FOR FOOTBALL
TRAINING ABOLISHED

Use of motion pictures in college football training has been put in the discard by the National Collegiate Association, which met in New York. College football spirit has been violated by the use of such pictures in instructing one eleven in the tactics of another, the association held, and the ban on the use of such photographs was made on the 230 institutions it controls. Another step taken by the N. C. A. starts an investigation of the summer baseball activities of college players.

"AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION—"

Despite the fact that the associations of commerce of the Twin Cities have kept a blissful silence about the black smallpox epidemic which has been raging in Minneapolis and St. Paul rumors have been leaking forth to the effect that the situation is so bad that in one of the cities alone 70 people died of the disease in a single day.

Black smallpox struck the northern part of this state almost as badly and during the last few weeks has been working south steadily until it has come dangerously close to Madison.

Doctors at the clinic fear that, with the return of students from the north, an epidemic may break out in the university unless precautions are taken against it. Vaccination is about the only—at least the most certain—preventive and the clinic is prepared to vaccinate any number of students during the next week or two.

Those who have never had any form of smallpox or who have not been vaccinated, especially those who come from the northern part of Wisconsin or Minnesota for their own sakes and for the sakes of their associates, should not hesitate an instant in getting vaccinated. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and black smallpox is very apt to mean death.

GOING UP

Returning holiday vacationists may have been somewhat surprised to find that they had to dig down for an extra two cents to hand the conductor for street car fare upon boarding the "yellow limousine" at one of the stations Monday. Transportation on the street cars is going up. Eight cents will be the standard fare from now on.

An increase in fare rates will not affect students materially. Comparatively few students use the cars to any great extent. When they do the chances are they will not object to paying eight cents to ride; probably most of them are accustomed to paying that much or more in their home cities.

The traction company has promised improved service with the revenue thus received. We hope so. While the service has been satisfactory in the past it could have been better. Better service will tend to make the cash customers forget the increase. Those who don't object to the raise will not make any kicks. Those who do will either have to walk or foot the bill anyhow.

MILLIONS AND A NAME

Trinity college was recently the recipient of a gift from Duke, the tobacco king. Under the terms of the gift, the college was requested to change its name to Duke university. The trustees agreed and the institution will be known as Duke university.

And so passes one of the oldest names in our college history. Certainly there is much to be gained from the gift. Many improvements that have been needed will now be made. Six millions of dollars will be available immediately and the balance, nearly twenty-four millions, will go to the trustees eventually. Thirty millions can do much in the way of education, particularly for the public in general, which is what Mr. Duke wished specifically.

As much as the gift will benefit education in the whole, we regret to see the passing of Trinity college as such. There is something of the romantic and glamorous about the name; something that recalls old traditions and splendor.

Somehow we hope that this will not be a precedent. We can imagine Old Eli Yale turning over in his grave at the thought of that institution becoming Whoozis college, even with a hundred millions attached.

THE COST OF KICKS

The university infirmary has suffered no end of criticism directed by students who have spent a few days in its confines. Everything from the food to the service has been knocked to such an extent that it was finally decided to look into the matter and see if the situation really was as bad as it is cracked up to be.

The investigator, although he was piloted about the building by one of the authorities who was naturally prejudiced, was pretty well convinced that most of the accusations are unfounded. Certainly the infirmary is clean, from roof to basement floor, and the kitchen, and various subsidiary kitchens on the various floors, are spotless, with their larders full of food which appears as wholesome as that which one could find at home—or, indeed, at that other place, as good as home, known as Cop's.

When students believe that they are not being given a sufficient amount of food, they are apt to forget that they are probably on a liquid diet and are not in a condition to eat abundantly.

The infirmary has seen very crowded times, but the largest room accommodates only four whereas the largest rooms in an average hospital accommodate upwards of six. With the new hospital, it will be possible to care for students there when the infirmary is crowded.

Furthermore, as regards the service, there is one nurse for every four patients, more than in the average hospital.

It has been affirmed that men receive more attention than girls at the infirmary, and are consequently better satisfied with it. According to the authorities, however, this state of affairs exists because of the fact that men demand less attention and are more easily satisfied.

The university infirmary is the second of its kind in the country and is ranked in Class A.

Perhaps there would not be so many criticisms if students were charged for the services of the infirmary. It is very often the case that people appreciate much more things for which they pay or suffer much more than they do the same things which they receive scot-free. Not that we would advocate that the university charge students for the use of the infirmary. But it would be a little more just if students would look into the matter to a greater extent before they criticize an institution which is really serving them in excellent manner and gratis.

The athletic department is off in a cloud of dust. By flooding the entire lower campus for skaters in general it has done a splendid thing. A special rink at Camp Randall will be used by the hockey team so that the casual skater will not interfere with its activities.

Against a communication received by the Daily Cardinal entitled "Skating?" we can only say that the ice within a mile of the shore of Lake Mendota is so rough that it would be impossible as well as futile to construct a skating rink on the lake at this time.

It is reported that returning students are giving their attention to exams and prom. Those who pay heed to the former are probably too broke after the holidays to join the others who are turning their interest to the latter.

Take notice, all ye who have failed heretofore to make your New Year's resolution: why not this for your motto:

CONSIDER THE POSTAGE STAMP—IT STICKS TO ONE THING TILL IT GETS THERE!

I used to think the lower campus was a tough looking place, but I must admit it looks pretty slick now.

A HOT PARTY

We see by the society editor that members of Delta Pi Delta are entertaining at a formal party Friday evening at the chapter house.

No doubt it will be a novel party. The decorations will be of burnt wood and smoked plaster. Invitations will be novel, of asbestos done in charcoal. The large aperture in the floor of the parlor will permit ready egress to the cellar.

I have a sneaking feeling that Methuselah isn't as good a boy as he once was—at least, Santa Claus treated him thus wise. How come?

Well, Meth bought a brand new tie for himself yesterday. No good boy needs to buy such article of haberdashery a week after Christmas.

The Readers' Say-So

LECTURES AND BOARDS

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

From the editorial published in your paper January 7, on "The Lecture Monopoly," it appears that the Daily Cardinal misconceives the situation in regard to lectures.

The Forensic board does not claim that it is the only organization that may bring speakers to the university. Its contention is that so far as the university boards are concerned, the Forensic board alone has the privilege of bringing speakers for profit. The Union board has never had this privilege; neither has the Athletic board. It is the historic privilege of the Forensic board.

It is true that for two years the Union board paid a sum of money to the Forensic board for their lecture privilege. This year the Union board wants to take this privilege without paying for it. It is to this that the Forensic board objects. Of course the reason for this historic privilege is that the Forensic board has no other way of supporting forensic activities.

There is absolutely no ground for the statement that the Forensic board cannot finance important speakers.

HAROLD J. SPORER,
President, Forensic Board.

SKATING?

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

Do circumstances make it impossible to provide a little space upon which devotees of this sport may have their little pleasure? Is it necessary to spend a great deal of time and money trying to provide a TWO BY FOUR rink when dear old Mother Nature has provided us with glorious Mendota—Mendota is covered with snow beneath which there is some of the finest ice obtainable. Two men equipped with a team of horses and a plow could in a few hours clear a space down near the Pump House which would amply satisfy even the most ardent of us skaters. As matters now stand, one must go way over to Monona or Wingra to get any skating.

Most of us cannot afford more than an hour a day to this sport and therefore cannot skate at all. According to this morning's Cardinal, it has not been considered practical to maintain a rink on the lake because of the expense involved. If the Athletic authorities cannot handle the slight expense of using a plow, a team of horses, and two men—all of which are constantly at hand during the winter weather anyway—for just long enough to clear a little lake ICE, the writer, upon being informed where the horses and plow can be located, will see that there may be some semblance of a SKATING RINK for all Wisconsin devotees of this winter sport. The winter days are flying and NOW is the time for a little action.

Very truly,
LAURENCE GRAM,

MAIDS TO ATTEND WOMEN AT PROM

Feminine Accessories—Rogue, Powder, Needles, Thread—to Be Provided

Lost vanity bags and torn tuffles will not be very serious tragedies at the 1926 prom, for arrangements have been made by Alice Colony '26, chairwoman of the women's arrangements committee, to provide such toilet necessities as powder, rouge, hairpins, needles, and thread.

The services of 40 maids have been procured to assist women guests. One maid will have charge of each box and will stay at her post the entire evening to care for the wraps left in her charge.

This committee has been working in conjunction with the rooming arrangements and the alumnae committees to take care of guests from out of town and to urge alumni to return to Madison for prom.

Other members of the women's arrangements committee are Fidelia Pease '26, Livia Scheatle '26, Betty Hass '26, Margaret Roess '26, and Margaret Penn '26.

"The approaching exams made it necessary to discontinue practices until the new semester begins," explained Gordon Arey '25, vice president of the club. He warned the men who have hopes of making the show that they must be up in their work in order to be considered for the various choruses.

WHA BROADCASTS FACULTY CONCERT

Professors Coon and Swinney Give Selections Over the Radio

The musical radio program broadcasted last evening at 7:45 o'clock was the first of the series of faculty concerts to be given out from WHA station during the coming term. Prof. Leland A. Coon of the School of Music was the piano soloist. Prof. E. Earle Swinney, baritone, furnished the vocal numbers.

The concert included four piano selections and six songs. The former were "Polonaise in E flat major," Chopin; "Impromptu in F minor," Faure; "Clair de Lune," Debussy; and "Tocatta," by the same composer. Mr. Swinney's songs were "There Is No Death," O'hara; "Creation's Hymn," Beethoven; "The Linden Tree," Schubert; "Some Rival Has Stolen My True Love Away," Broadwood; "The Floral Dance," Moss; "Mother Carey," and "Trade Winds," by Kael.

University organizations will take over the broadcasting on practically every date for which faculty talent has not been procured. Some of the organizations on the present list are Clef Club, February 4; Sinfonia, February 9; Sigma Alpha Iota, February 18; Mu Phi Epsilon, March 2; and Girls' Glee club, March 11.

MUSEUM VISITED BY THOUSANDS OF PUPILS

Some 6,356 school children from Badger cities have visited the State Historical museum at Madison in the past year and four months, representing classes from grade schools, clubs, high schools, rural schools, state and county normal schools, kindergartens and various organizations. Of these 4,713 came between September, 1923, and September, 1924, as compared with 3,004 during the same period the previous year, and 500 in 1917-18. Since the opening of the fall term this year, 29 schools have sent classes totalling 1,643 visitors to the museum.

Strange how times do change. The Beau Brummel of yesterday took his banjo along when he went courting. He'd sit for hours and plunk rare tunes accompanied by amorous songs. INDUSTRIAL GROUP TO MEET MONDAY

Employment Conference to Be Held Here; Professors Will Speak

The first Wisconsin conference on employment management and industrial relations will be held here Monday under the auspices of the Milwaukee Employment Managers' association, the department of economics and the Extension division announced.

The purpose of this conference as revealed by the committee in charge is to stimulate interest, to promote a unity of purpose, and to bring about the adoption of standard principles of labor management. Employment managers, foremen, plant doctors and nurses and service workers from leading plants throughout the state are expected to be present, as replies from invitations indicate.

University authorities request that the students take a special interest in helping the guests find their way around the campus. Registration of representatives will take place in 165 Bascom hall. Engineer students as well as commerce students are urged by the department to attend any of the lectures.

The program for the conference includes a trip to see the legislature in session Monday morning, a visit to various departments of the university, and an inspection of the exhibit in 302 Sterling hall of charts and material on employment and labor relations.

A dinner will be held at 6 o'clock Monday evening at the University club, at which John R. Commons, professor of economics, will speak on "Twenty-five Years' Progress in Labor Relations," and Fred Wilcox, chairman of the Industrial commission, and several others will give short talks.

At the evening session in 165 Bascom hall Prof. D. D. Leschier of the department of economics will speak, and W. E. Hotchkiss, executive secretary of the Chicago Wholesale Clothiers' association, and Judson Rosebush, general manager of the Northern Paper Mills, Appleton, Wis., also will deliver talks on important economic problems.

Arden Club Will Be Located in New House Next Month

The Arden club, formerly the English house, which is to be located at the beginning of next semester at 433 North Lake street, comes into being with interesting background of literary tradition. The house in which it has made its first home is that in which Prof. Karl Young, recent head of the English department, lived for seven years. The project has had the active support of Zona Gale, the university's outstanding authoress.

The name Arden, which will be remembered as the name of the forest in "As You Like It," is the suggestion of Dean F. W. Roe, of the English faculty.

Already there are 60 some persons in the university who have become members of the club, which is some evidence of the literary interest here. All members are to have full use of the house, and tea will be served to members each afternoon.

The club plans to have fireside talks each Sunday evening with a professor in charge, and it is expected that prominent men of letters will be brought here from time to time.

County Catholic Clubs to Hold Mass Meeting

A mass meeting of all the Holy Name societies of Dane county is to be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the auditorium of St. Bernard's church. The Rev. A. J. At 7 o'clock in the morning, preceding the convention, the members of St. Bernard's Holy Name society are to receive holy communion in a body at the church, after which breakfast will be served in the auditorium. Oliver Boyle, Milwaukee attorney and chairman of the lecture bureau of the Archdiocesan union, is to address the morning meeting.

Council of Alumni Association Plans For Reorganization

The Alumni council, operating under a new constitution, recently met and proposed several radical changes in the organization of the association on a geographical district basis.

The proposed plan is to divide the United States into ten geographical districts, each of these districts to elect its officers, who would in turn act as representatives to the meetings of the general Alumni association.

Plans were also presented which recommended the abolishing of the representation of the association by classes, and also the abolishing of the Alumni council and the placing of the affairs of the association in the hands of four general officers and 20 directors.

Other business which was brought before the council included the question of publishing the Alumni magazine, and it was decided to issue the magazine at an early date.

REFUSE KLAN USE OF HIGH SCHOOL

City Board of Education Denies Ku Klux Permit For Building

The Ku Klux Klan was denied the use of the Central high school auditorium by the board of education at a meeting Tuesday night by a tie vote which automatically defeated the motion.

Six of the seven members of the board were present when a vote by acclamation was called for by Prof. E. B. Skinner following a short talk on the Klan by Joseph W. Jones, county kleagle. A record of organizations which have had use of the auditorium during the last four years was presented to the board to inform them that the school auditorium was used for religious and civic discussions in the past.

Mrs. William Kittle, H. W. Pickford, and Prof. E. B. Skinner, president of the board voted in favor of granting the Klan use of the auditorium and John P. Butler, H. C. Schenk and Miss Regina Groves voted in the negative. Chauncey E. Blake, another member of the board, was absent leaving the vote tied which under the laws governing the board actions resulted in the motion being lost.

Mrs. Kittle and Mr. Pickford declared in view of the past record of the board they believed that the Klan was entitled to use of the auditorium. The record showed that the Knights of Columbus, Moose, Friends of Soviet Russia, Victor H. Arnold, and many organizations, Protestant, Catholic, and civic had use of the auditorium in the past. Opponents to the request of the Klan declared that these organizations were not of the same type as the Klan.

"The Klan is not against Jews or Catholics," Mr. Jones declared in answer to a question by Mr. Pickford. "The organization is only an exclusive white, gentile society. The Knights of Columbus are also an exclusive organization. The Jews are barred against joining the Klan because they do not believe in Christ. The Klan is utterly opposed to political romanism. We are open and above board and back of the public schools to our utmost. We would like to see every child in the public schools until they are 16 after which the Catholics can send them where they please if they wish it.

"Ninety-one percent of the press in this country is owned by opponents of the Klan. The Capital Times has repeatedly misquoted Klan speakers. I have letters in my office informing me of instances where this is true. The Klan has been in the mouth and ears of Madison residents for a long time. This meeting which we are trying to arrange will be primarily for opponents of the Klan. I would like to have you get the idea out of your heads that we are trouble makers. You read of riots caused by the Klan. It is the Catholics and Jews who have started them. If you have any hatred against Catholics you have no place in the Klan.

"The board has granted use of school buildings to other organizations which were exclusive and charged admission," Mr. Jones said. "I was so informed by a Jew Tuesday afternoon. Use of the hall will give the Klan an opportunity to break down this feeling of strife which has arisen against it. I will give you any information you may desire except the names of members which is the only secret we keep due to the fact that there are people opposed to protestants organizing. We will keep on doing so until our strength is such that we can change. We are now strong enough in Dane county to come into the open."

Prof. Skinner declared that the board has tried to exercise considerable generosity in the question of permitting the public to use the high school auditorium or other school buildings. Mrs. Kittle said that requests of petitioners in the past had been treated very broadly by the board of education according to the records of organizations which paid a fee for use of the building.

"It is a sorry plight that the Klan has been instrumental in causing friction in the city," Mr. Skinner said. "I disagree very radically on the whole that we would do any harm in granting this request. I have received a communication from the Klan or this matter."

Earthquake Shakes Boston; May Be Due to Frost in Ground

BOSTON—An earth tremor lasting 15 seconds and of considerable intensity was recorded at 8:07 o'clock this morning at the Harvard seismographical station. Because of some storm or disturbance off shore at the time, it was not possible to estimate the distance of the tremor, officials said, but the direction was believed to be north.

The tremor was felt in Brockton, Haverhill, Lowell, Lawrence and along the north and south shores and in southern New Hampshire. A rumbling accompanying the shock sounded like thunder.

At Harvard observatory it was said that the phenomenon possibly was due to frost in the ground. Examination of the seismograph later would determine whether there had actually been an earthquake, it was said.

Houses were shaken and dishes were jarred from shelves. In Marblehead, where the shock was unusually heavy scores of persons sought safety in cellars.

Oil Gives Him Million, But He Keeps $22 Job

MUSKOGEE, Okla.—When George Russell, 35 years old, was informed that oil had been found on his property and that he had probably become a millionaire overnight, he informed his employer he had no intention of quitting his present job.

Russell is a freight clerk in a railroad office and receives $22.50 a week. "A fellow must have something to do," he said.

Makes London-Berlin Flight In 4 Hrs., 20 Min.

BERLIN—The London-Berlin air service established a new record today when a plane carrying a full complement of passengers, mail and baggage, covered the 600 odd miles in flying time of four hours and twenty minutes. The ordinary time is seven hours, or eight hours and thirty minutes with two stops.

ation of Labor declaring itself opposed to the request of the Klan and asking the board to refuse then use of the auditorium was read to members of the board of education.

Mr. Pickford upon reading the record declared that the record indicated the policy of the board.

"If it was not for this record I know where I would stand on this question," Mr. Pickford said.

Mrs. Kittle said that she believed that many misunderstandings would be cleared up if the Klan was granted use of the auditorium for a public meeting.

"If I was voting as an individual and not as a member of the board I would vote differently," Mrs. Kittle said. According to the record I do not see that we can do any differently."

Mr. Skinner informed Mr. Jones that in most instances the requests have come from tax payers in the city and persons known to the board.

"I have a petition in my pocket which I will give to the board if it so desires with the understanding that the names will not be given to the press," Mr. Jones said. "It is signed by six tax payers. We are planning on building a large Klavere here with seating capacity for 3,000 persons. This when completed will be open to all organizations or individuals for any legitimate purpose. I am not a taxpayer in Madison but a resident with five children attending school here. The meeting will be open to the public. We do not care to have sympathizers or members of the Klan to attend. We would like to have the opponents of the Klan there so that we can tell them of the purposes of the organization."

Following the announcement of the vote refusing the Klan the right to use the auditorium Mr. Jones declared that he hoped that the time would come when Protestants can get the use of the free public schools.

New Fight Over Postal Pay Bill in Congress Seen

WASHINGTON—Having succeeded in sustaining President Coolidge's veto of the postal pay increase by the margin of a single vote, administration leaders in the senate are faced now with another fight over postal affairs, with the bringing forward of the new measure for increases in postal rates and postal pay.

Although leaders are generally agreed that the new bill has little prospect of passage at this session, Chairman Sterling of the postoffice committee has announced that he will press for action. Some of those who voted to over-ride the veto of the pay bill at the same time declared the administration measure was brought forward as a smoke screen to prevent over-riding the executive.

The vote to over-ride late yesterday was 55 to 29 and the change of a single vote would have given the two thirds necessary to reverse the action of the president.

The banquet and entertainment will be held in the Lorraine hotel Friday night. Prof. Solomon Hueber, dean of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, University of Pennsylvania, will speak Saturday morning.

WOOTTON PICKED TO HEAD AUTO MEN

Dealers' Association Meets to Elect Officers and Plan Show

Frank M. Wootton of the Madison Motor Car Co. was elected president of the Madison Automobile Dealers' Association at its annual meeting last night at the Madison club. Other officers named are H. R. Ritter, vice president; and Walter S. Craig, secretary and treasurer.

Plans were discussed for the 1925 Madison Auto show. The committee in charge reported that there is not a single large building in the city available for the show this year. It was announced, however, that the two new garages being built by the Madison Motor Car Co. and the Jacobson Auto Co. may be ready in time for the show.

The committee will confer with Mr. Jacobson and with Mr. Wootton and it is expected that by Feb. 3, the tentative date for the next meeting of the association, the committee may be able to make a definite report on the building problem.

The show committee members are H. R. Ritter, F. M. Wootton, and Rex Welton.

The association also voted to hold regular meetings the first Tuesday in each month.

And the Fourth of July comes on Saturday. That's agreeable. We can go fishing Friday afternoon and come back Monday morning.

NEW DISCOVERY IN RADIO MADE

Invention Will Revolutionize Wireless Industry, is Claim

A discovery which may revolutionize the radio business and which will tend to bring it into more popular and practical use than ever is the outcome of experiments which have been conducted at the Burgess Laboratories Co. by William Hoffman for several months.

So important does the Burgess Co. consider the discovery that they have brought Donald Mix, radio operator on the McMillan arctic expedition to Madison for a conference and to discuss plans for the establishment of a station in Florida. The experiments will be conducted between Mr. Hoffman in Madison and Mix in Florida.

Mr. Hoffman has made a discovery that will make it as easy to hear radio during the hours of the day as during the night by the discovery that short wave lengths are more adaptable to day use.

Mr. Hoffman was formerly connected with the U. S. navy department at Washington and later was with the bureau of standards at Washington. Since coming to Madison he has been doing experimental work for the Burgess Laboratories Co.

Hoffman has been conducting his experiments by talking with a station in Connecticut. When he first started his experiments Mr. Hoffman found that he could talk to the Connecticut station better at night than during the daytime. This could not be explained at first.

Recently Mr. Hoffman began to notice that by shortening the wave lengths during the day time that better communication could be had with the Connecticut station. Mr. Hoffman is now satisfied that an important discovery has been made, to the effect that the short wave length will revolutionize radio broadcasting during the hours of the day. The experiments which have been conducted by Mr. Hoffman have already enlisted the interest of federal radio experts at Washington.

It is now believed, as a result of the experiments by Mr. Hoffman, that sunlight and daylight have considerable effect on radio waves. Why this should be so has not yet been ascertained. Mr. Hoffman has been talking during the daytime on a wave length of 20 meters where the average wave length used by stations broadcasting at night is from 300 to 400 meters.

So important is the discovery made by Mr. Hoffman that the Burgess Battery Co. has brought Donald Mix of the McMillan arctic expedition here to collaborate with Mr. Hoffman in carrying out the experimental work. Mr. Mix will confer with Burgess officials this week and a station is to be established at Orlando, Fla., where Mr. Mix will be stationed. The experiments will in the future be carried on between the two stations.

Local Man to Call Meeting of State Traffic Men Soon

Traffic managers of several Wisconsin cities have agreed to confer with S. D. Foote, of the Association of Commerce traffic bureau, in Chicago, Thursday night, prior to the convening of the hearings on proposed freight rate increases in that city Friday morning. Mr. Foote will leave for Chicago Thursday to represent the association. Several local manufacturers have become interested in the hearings and have delegated Mr. Foote to represent them.

Directors of bureaus in the Chippewa valley, Wisconsin River valley, Fox river valley, and southern Wisconsin have will attend the preliminary meeting called by Mr. Foote.

Canright, Head of Securities Division Gives Up Position

The Wisconsin railroad commission this morning announced that it had received the resignation of Garfield S. Canright, the head of the securities division of the commission.

The resignation will take effect Feb. 1.

The resignation is the outcome of the charges emanating from the Union Food Stores in Milwaukee recently. The charge was made that Canright had accepted stock from the concern. Canright testified that the stock had later been returned.

Mr. Canright declined to make a statement in connection with his resignation, other than that he desired to make other connections and had so advised the railroad commission. He said he had asked to be relieved of his duties as soon as convenient, and that the commission had requested him to remain until Feb. 1.

Other speakers and events on the program of the dinner are being arranged by a committee headed by William Aberg. They probably will be announced Thursday.

German Note Assails Cologne Occupation

PARIS—The German note in reply to the allied communication on the continued occupation of the Cologne area was received in Paris today. It declares the action of the allies is a reprisal and violates clauses of the treaty of Versailles. French official circles regard it merely as a note of protest which does not call for a response.

Overheating Is Blamed For Much Eye Trouble

LONDON—Overeating at an early age is largely responsible for the increasing number of bespectacled people in Great Britain, according to Clement Jeffrey, eye specialist. Diet, he says, is an important factor in determining the efficiency of the eyes, and the purer the food consumed the more normal will the various eye tissues become.

THREE INJURED IN TRAIN DERAILMENT

Jumps 25 Foot Embankment Near Escanaba, Michigan

ESCANABA, Mich.—Three persons were injured, and 30 others were badly shaken up when five coaches of a Soo Line passenger train enroute from Minneapolis to Sault St. Marie, went down a 25 foot embankment, five miles north of here early today.

The injured persons are: P. J. McCann, Minneapolis, right arm broken and badly crushed.

James Enge, Minneapolis, leg broken and severe bruises and cuts about head.

P. L. Bocway, Hermansville, Mich., scalp lacerated and internal injuries.

The accident was caused by a broken switch point according to officials on the train. The tender wen off the track first carrying the coaches and one Pullman with it. The couplings remained intact and all but the sleeper, which was filled to capacity, rolled over on their side in the ditch. The Pullman remained upright on the side of the embankment preventing serious injury to 20 passengers asleep at the time.

The injured men were in the smoker together with seven others, some of whom received minor injuries. The latter however, and the passengers in the Pullman were able to continue on their journey on another train.

A possible duplicate of the recent wreck at Chippewa Falls may have occurred according to Frank Swift conductor of the train. He said that had the train gone 500 feet further it might have crashed down from the bridge crossing the Escanaba river.

HAMBURG, Germany—There has been an unusual and profitable demand for polar bears of late, owing to the fact that the zoos of the world neglected their stock during the war and now are endeavoring to replace them.

CONDITION OF LORA PALMER IS BETTER

Doctor Believes French Instructor Has Good Chance For Recovery

board at the house were introduced to the man by the chaperon, and several engaged in conversation with him. Noting the visitor's easy French and perfect pronunciation, they were told, on inquiry, that he was of French birth.

"There was nothing in the appearance of the man to give an impression of a passionate Latin nature and there was certainly no indication that he was in any way different from a normal American," declared Hull-ee Acton, romance language instructor, who talked with Bernard at supper Tuesday night. "To describe him as a fiery Corsican lover is absurd," he added, referring to accounts of the affair in local papers.

Daily Cardinal Gets Facts

Because of the inconsistency yesterday in newspaper reports of the tragedy, the Daily Cardinal was obliged to call authorities in Hibbing, home of the dead Frenchman, to learn the correct facts regarding the history of Bernard and also to get an account of the relations between the two victims during the period when both were living there, he as an employee of the Oliver Mining company, and she as a French teacher in the high school.

Friends of the girl at Hibbing were aware that Bernard was very attentive to her and it was general knowledge among the faculty of the high school that she repeatedly discouraged him and told him that she cared nothing for him beyond casual friendship.

Bernard was 35 years old and was employed as a chemist, but was desirous of obtaining a position in the high school with Miss Palmer.

Says Only Friendly Interest

Allegations that the young woman attempted to aid the Frenchman in getting a position in the high school at the time of her departure from Hibbing last year are probably true, but in no way did she give the man any serious encouragement or in any way lead him on, according to emphatic statements made in her behalf by her friends.

Evidence points toward a case of Miss Palmer being the victim of an unfortunate attachment on the part of a foreigner whose attentions she was unable to discourage.

"Miss Palmer took only a friendly interest in recommending Mr. Bernard to me for the position of instructor here," Prof. Hugh A. Smith of the romance language department declared last night. "Bernard insisted on coming here after repeatedly being informed that his prerequisites were not sufficient for a staff position," Mr. Smith continued.

Respected by Friends.

Miss Palmer's honor and integrity are of the very highest; she has always been loved and revered by her friends on the campus; and the suggestion that she brought the tragedy upon herself by encouraging the attentions of Bernard is a vicious attack upon the girl, according to students and faculty people who have known her since her undergraduate days.

The body of the Frenchman is in the hands of Coroner Stephenson, who has called for an inquest some time today, following orders issued by Dist. Attorney La Follette yesterday.

"There is little doubt about the findings of the coroner's jury," stated La Follette, "for the evidence points strongly toward suicide."

Bernard is believed to have attempted to visit Miss Palmer a month ago when members of French house overheard her talking to someone on the telephone. She was heard to discourage her conversationalist's wishes to see her, and postponed an interview for a week. She then went home for a short time, probably to avoid having to meet Bernard, it is thought.

When students in Miss Palmer's French classes met yesterday they were considerably subdued by the tragedy which had overtaken their instructor. One of the romance language faculty took the classes announcing simply that he would take Miss Palmer's place, but making no mention of her serious condition.

Mrs. Cora L. Palmer, mother of the injured girl, arrived in Madison late yesterday and did not leave her daughter's bedside throughout the night. Mrs. Kathryn Samuels, an intimate friend of Miss Palmer, was with her every minute at the hospital until consciousness returned and signs of improvement appeared.
