My precious Hannachen:

I would have loved to have come tomorrow to pick you up for our church? planned for early on Sunday, but I will be going to . . . .? (an abbreviation, I believe) tomorrow; I will therefore have to give up the pleasure of meeting your madame mother again as I had firmly intended. Please convey my friendliest respects to her and to your madame sister.

Please come real soon, dear Hanny, I will be back home by 6 o'clock.

I will have your trunk picked up tomorrow afternoon to keep it for you.

Many kisses, your (can't read the name)
