Talent, Teamwork & Tradition

All-Americans, Olympians and championship teams...some of the best teams Wisconsin has ever produced were a combination of talent, teamwork and tradition.

Over 39 years ago, John Zimbrick established the tradition of "Loving Care Service". Built on that foundation, we have grown to 14 franchises in 3 cities, offering superior service, fair prices, and Zimbrick's unwavering commitment to customer satisfaction.

As the 2004 Badgers earn their place in Wisconsin history, the entire Zimbrick team is committed to earning your business and helping you with your automotive needs.

Future Badger.

Our children dream of heroics on the field and in the classroom. That's why Oscar Mayer and its employees support a range of both academic and athletic programs at the University of Wisconsin. We're here to make sure that when it's time for them to become Badgers, the Badgers will be ready for them.

Badgers Battle Minnesota for The Axe

Wisconsin (8-0, 5-0 Big Ten) hosts Minnesota (6-3, 3-3) today at 81,318-seat Camp Randall Stadium (Field Turf). Kickoff is set for 2:36 p.m. CST.

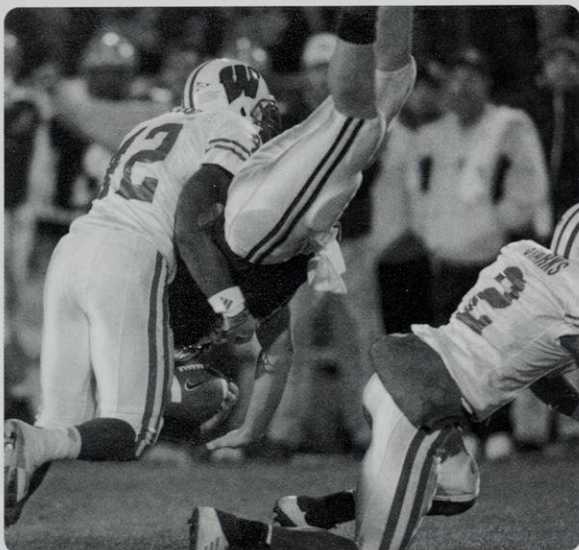

The game will be televised live by ABC (Brent Musburger, Gary Danielson and Jack Arute). Wisconsin Public Television (Mike Heller and Scott Nelson) will air the game on a tape delay basis at 10 p.m. on Saturday.

The game also can be heard live on the 46-city Wisconsin Radio Network (Matt Lepay and Mike Lucas). WIBA (1310 AM, 101.5 FM) is the rightsholder in Madison.

Today is the final home game of 2004 for the Badgers, who are ranked No. 4 according to the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll and No. 5 in the latest Associated Press Top 25 Poll.

Wisconsin improved to 8-0 overall and 5-0 in Big Ten play after a 24-12 victory at home over Northwestern on Oct. 23. UW had a bye last weekend.

Minnesota lost 30-21 at Indiana last weekend and has dropped three of its last four games. The Golden Robert Brooks and Scott Starks (#2) combined on this hit to force a Kyle Orton fumble late in the Purdue game. UW has recorded 12 takeaways on defense this season.

Gophers own the Big Ten's No. 1 scoring (33.3 ppg) and rushing (266.2 ypg) offense. Minnesota will be looking for its first win in Madison since 1994.

UW vs. Minnesota Series Info

Minnesota leads the all-time series 59-46-8, including a 37-34 victory last season in Minneapolis ... the Badgers hold a 29-22-6 edge in Madison and have won the last four meetings in Camp Randall Stadium (Minnesota's last win at Wisconsin was in 1994) ... today will mark the 114th meeting between the two schools (the most-played rivalry in Division I football) who annually play for Paul Bunyan's Axe ... Wisconsin and Minnesota have met every year since 1907 ... the series started on Nov. 15, 1890 (a 63-0 win by Minnesota in Minneapolis) ... the home team has won the last four meetings ... the schools have combined to average 71.3 ppg in the last four meetings.

Thanks for the Memories

Today is "Senior Day" at Wisconsin. The program's senior players and managers will be recognized on the field before the game. Wisconsin is 8-4-2 in regular-season home finales during the Alvarez era. That mark includes a 4-0 record against Minnesota.

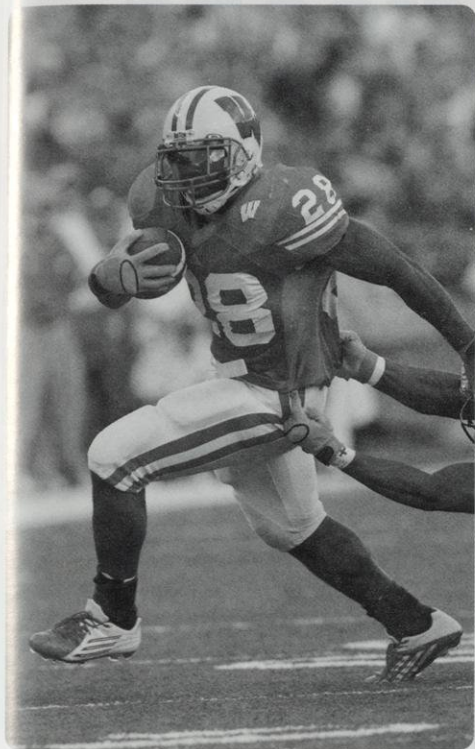

The seniors include:

Scott Starks	Dan Buenning
Chuckie Cowans	Jim Leonhard
Anthony Davis	Kalvin Barrett
T.J. Wielebski	Robert Brooks
Jonathan Clinckscale	R.J. Morse
Mike Lorenz	Jason Jefferson
Morgan Davis	Anttaj Hawthorne
Tony Paciotti	Matt Katula
Darrin Charles	Erasmus James
Jonathan Welsh	Mike Allen

Still Standing

Wisconsin has won its first eight games and can move to 9-0 for just the third time in school history with a win over Minnesota. The only two 9-0 starts in school history were in 1998 and 1901.

The Badgers have won eight games for the ninth time in the past 12 seasons. Prior to 1993, Wisconsin had won eight games a total of just eight times in its history (1889-1992).

Running back Anthony Davis, currently second on UW's all-time rushing list, will be playing his final home game today.

Wisconsin joins USC, Oklahoma, Auburn, Utah and Boise State as the only undefeated Division I teams left this season.

Badgering D

Wisconsin's scoring defense (8.5 ppg) and total defense (236.4 ypg) are ranked No. 1 and 2 in the nation, respectively, (both lead the Big Ten). Minnesota leads the Big Ten with the nation's No. 7 total offense (463.1 ypg) and No. 10 scoring offense (33.3 ppg).

Wisconsin is allowing just 3.79 yards per play this season. That is second-fewest in the nation behind North Carolina State (3.76).

The Badgers have allowed just 31 points in five home games this season (6.2 per game). The top such marks at UW since 1945 are: 5.2 ppg in both 1950 and 1951; 8.0 ppg in 1998; and 9.0 ppg in 1999.

Among the Best

Though they did not play last weekend, the Badgers moved up in all three polls. They are currently No. 4 in the A.P. poll and No. 5 in both the BCS and Coaches Polls.

Wisconsin has not played a regular-season game ranked as a top-five team nationally (according to AP) this late in the season since the No. 3 Badgers defeated No. 5 Minnesota 14-9 in Camp Randall Stadium on Nov. 24, 1962.

Key Player

RB Anthony Davis has carried 74 times for 509 yards and eight TDs in two career games against Minnesota. Davis missed the Minnesota game last season due to injury.

Wisconsin's offensive production has been measurably better in the five games in which RB Anthony Davis has been in the lineup this season. The Badgers are averaging 25.2 points and 356.4 yards of total offense with him in the lineup compared to 14.3 points and 272.7 yards without him.

Home Cooking

A win on over Minnesota would give the Badgers an undefeated and untied home record for just the second time (1998) since 1962.

Rivalry Notes

Today's Wisconsin-Minnesota game will be the 114th meeting in the most-played rivalry in Division I football. The two schools have played every year since 1907 and have annually battled for Paul Bunyan's Axe since the 1948 game.

Minnesota has scored fewer than 20 points in a game just twice this season. Wisconsin has not allowed an opponent to score more than 17 points in any game this season.

GREATEST MEMORIES IN CAMP RANDALL STADIUM HISTORY

Presented by Coca-Cola

Help us pick your six favorite Camp Randall Stadium memories in Camp Randall Stadium History. Voting will be conducted online at uwbadgers.com. Voting is open through Dec. 31. Leading vote-getter totals will be posted on the department's web site. The playmakers from the top six vote-getters will be honored during the 2005 season.

Coca-Cola has partnered with the UW on the project and will help execute the two-year promotion by offering a collectable component (commemorative six packs of bottles that will be available for purchase at retail stores throughout the state of Wisconsin) featuring the six "Greatest Memories in Camp Randall History."

Head Coach Barry Alvarez

Barry Alvarez, the winningest football coach in Wisconsin history, has completed 14 seasons at the head of the program he transformed from a perennial second-division finisher to one that is nationally respected and is a fixture on the postseason bowl scene.

Alvarez, whose overall record with the Badgers is 99-67-4, became Wisconsin's Director of Athletics in April of 2004. He is one of just two people (UAB's Watson Brown) at the Division I level who serves as head football coach and athletic director.

Alvarez's list of accomplishments at Wisconsin is remarkable. Consider just a few of the most notable ...

- winningest coach in school history
- coached three Big Ten and Rose Bowl championships
- only Big Ten coach ever to win the Rose Bowl in consecutive seasons
- needs one win to become just the 10th coach in Big Ten history with 100 victories at one conference institution

- has coached five national award winners, including Ron Dayne (Heisman, Doak Walker, Maxwell), Jamar Fletcher (Jim Thorpe) and Kevin Stemke (Ray Guy)

- guided UW to back-to-back Big Ten titles in 1998 and 1999 (hadn't happened at Wisconsin since 1896-97)
- bowl record of 7-2 (.778)
- coached the three winningest teams in school history

When Alvarez arrived in Madison in 1990, Wisconsin had compiled a 9-36 record during the previous four seasons and attendance at Camp Randall Stadium had dipped to an average of 41,734 per game (54 percent of capacity). The program sorely needed a boost and got it when new Director of Athletics Pat Richter hired Alvarez from Notre Dame, where he had been an assistant coach under Lou Holtz.

Alvarez's coaching career began at the high school level. He served as an assistant at Lincoln (Neb.) Northeast High from 1971-73 before taking over as head coach at Lexington (Neb.) High from 1974-75. His last prep coaching stop was at Mason City (Iowa) High where he was head coach from 1976-78 and where his team won a 4A state title in his final year.

Iowa's Hayden Fry hired Alvarez as an assistant coach in 1979. The Hawkeyes played in six bowl games (two Rose Bowls) during Alvarez's eight years in Iowa City, compiling a 61-33-1 mark in the process. Alvarez's stand-out player with the Hawkeyes was LB Larry Station, a two-time All-American and two-time Academic All-American.

Alvarez left Iowa after the 1986 season to become linebackers coach at Notre Dame. He was promoted (linebackers to defensive coordinator to assistant head coach) by Holtz each of his three seasons as the Fighting Irish went 32-5 and won the 1988 national title. While in South Bend, Alvarez coached All-America linebackers Michael Stonebreaker, Ned Bolcar, Cedric Figaro and Wes Pritchett.

Alvarez grew up in Langeloth, Pa., a small town among the coal mines and steel mills in western Pennsylvania. He starred as a prep linebacker and went on to play at Nebraska (1965-67) for legendary head coach Bob Devaney. Alvarez was the leading tackler for the 1967 Cornhuskers, who led the nation in total defense and created a school-record 40 turnovers. Alvarez played in both the Sugar and Orange Bowls at Nebraska (the Cornhuskers were 25-7 during his three varsity seasons). Alvarez earned his bachelor's degree in 1969 and added a master's degree in 1971, both from Nebraska. Alvarez's family includes his wife Cindy, daughters Dawn (Mrs. Brad Ferguson) and Stacy (Mrs. Mike Delzer), son Chad, grandsons Joe and Jake Ferguson, Jackson Delzer and granddaughter Grace Delzer.

Items of Interest

Following is a list of accomplishments, notes and items of interest on Barry Alvarez ...

- Coached eight first-round NFL draft choices (Troy Vincent, Aaron Gibson, Ron Dayne, Chris McIntosh, Jamar Fletcher, Michael Bennett, Wendell Bryant and Lee Evans) at UW.
- Coached 47 NFL draft choices at Wisconsin.
- Coached 27 All-Americans, including six consensus first-team choices, at Wisconsin.
- Coached 54 first-team All-Big Ten selections at Wisconsin.
- Coached 98 Academic All-Big Ten selections at Wisconsin.
- Big Ten-record 10 straight seasons with a 1,000-yard rusher (1993-2002).
- Two Big Ten MVPs.
- Three Big Ten Defensive Players of the Year.
- Two Big Ten Offensive Players of the Year.
- Three Big Ten Freshmen of the Year.
- Three Big Ten and Rose Bowl championship teams (the only other Big Ten coach with at least three Rose Bowl wins was Ohio State's Woody Hayes).
- Nine bowl qualifiers.
- Has coached or played in 20 bowl games (at Wisconsin, Notre Dame, Iowa and Nebraska).
- Alvarez set a goal to become a collegiate head coach by his 42nd birthday and was named to the Wisconsin post three days after he turned 42.

- Has been a head coach in the 1995 Blue-Gray Game, 1996 East-West Shrine game, 2000 Hula Bowl and 2004 Florida Gridiron Classic.
- Alvarez received a Distinguished Alumnus Award from the University of Nebraska in May of 2003.
- Barry was inducted into the Washington County (Pa.) chapter of the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame in 2000.
- Alvarez and his wife, Cindy, endowed a football scholarship at the UW in the spring of 2000. "I thought it was a small way for me to say thanks to the UW-Madison," Alvarez said of his quarter-million dollar contribution to the school's foundation.
- Alvarez added administrative duties to his job description in 2000 when he was named Associate Athletic Director. He became Wisconsin's Director of Athletics in April 2004, operating in a dual role as football coach as well.
- Alvarez was a finalist for ESPN's College Football Coach of the Decade Award in 1999. He was one of 18 coaches named to new positions in 1990 and is the only one still at the school which hired him.
- Alvarez was named one of the "100 Most Influential Hispanics" by Hispanic Business in October of 2001.
- Numerous former Alvarez assistants at Wisconsin have gone on to success on the professional level, among them Bill Callahan (former Oakland Raider head coach), Brad Childress (Philadelphia Eagles offensive coordinator), Jay Hayes (Cincinnati Bengals defensive line coach) and Jay Norvell (former Oakland Raiders tight ends coach).

Alvarez and his most celebrated player: 1999 Heisman Trophy winner Ron Dayne.

Chancellor John D. Wiley

There are few things that I enjoy more than seeing the faces of our loyal fans as they cheer

Wisconsin to victory at Camp Randall Stadium. Your loyalty and dedication makes any Badger athletics event a truly special occasion.

We have many victories and championships to celebrate and remember, and, more importantly, our student-athletes earn more academic honors than any other university in the Big Ten. We are proud that our coaches, staff and student-athletes have represented the university and the state with class and dignity.

Athletics has always been an important avenue for the university to connect with its alumni and friends. I am committed to helping ensure that our teams achieve the highest standards of excellence, not only in performance, but also integrity, values and character.

John D. Wiley

Chancellor John D. Wiley received his bachelor's degree in physics from Indiana University in 1964. He attended graduate school at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and received master's and doctoral degrees in physics in 1965 and 1968, respectively. He joined the technical staff of Bell Telephone Laboratories at Murray Hill, N.J., from 1968 to 1974, and then spent a year at the Max Planck Institute in Stuttgart, Germany, as a recipient of the Alexander von Humboldt Senior U.S. Service Award for Research and Teaching.

Wiley joined the UW-Madison faculty in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering in 1975. His research and teaching focused on a variety of topics related to semiconductors and other materials, and processes important to the electronics field. He is a co-founder of several highly successful research centers, including the Center for X-ray Lithography and the Engineering Research Center for Plasma-Aided Manufacturing. From 1982 to 1986, he chaired the Materials Science Program, a graduate-level, interdepartmental-committee program for master's and doctoral degrees.

From 1986 to 1989, Wiley served as associate dean for research in the College of Engineering, with oversight responsibility for all aspects of graduate study, grant submission, agency liaison, research infrastructure and centers, and technology transfer. From 1989 to 1994, he was dean of the UW-Madison Graduate School and the university's senior research officer.

Prior to his appointment to the university's top position, Wiley served as provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs, which carries the responsibility of chief operating officer and deputy chancellor. As provost, he worked closely with deans, faculty, academic staff and student committees in the exercise of shared governance and the overall management of the institution.

Wiley was named UW-Madison's 27th chancellor on January 1, 2001. As chancellor, he has aimed to enhance the university's role in creating a new, more viable economic future for Wisconsin while opening avenues to innovation and learning. He also has worked to amplify the Wisconsin Idea—the belief that the boundaries of the campus are the boundaries of the state and beyond—and to build on the research and teaching strengths that have made the university rich in accomplishment and tradition.

Wiley has presided over unprecedented growth on the west side of the campus which is being transformed into one of the nation's great health-sciences centers. He also has mapped an east-side redevelopment that will create a vibrant arts-and-humanities district to anchor the lower State Street area, with an expanded Elvehjem Museum of Art, new classroom buildings and additional music-performance space. Wiley believes that the arts and humanities are an integral component of the research enterprise.

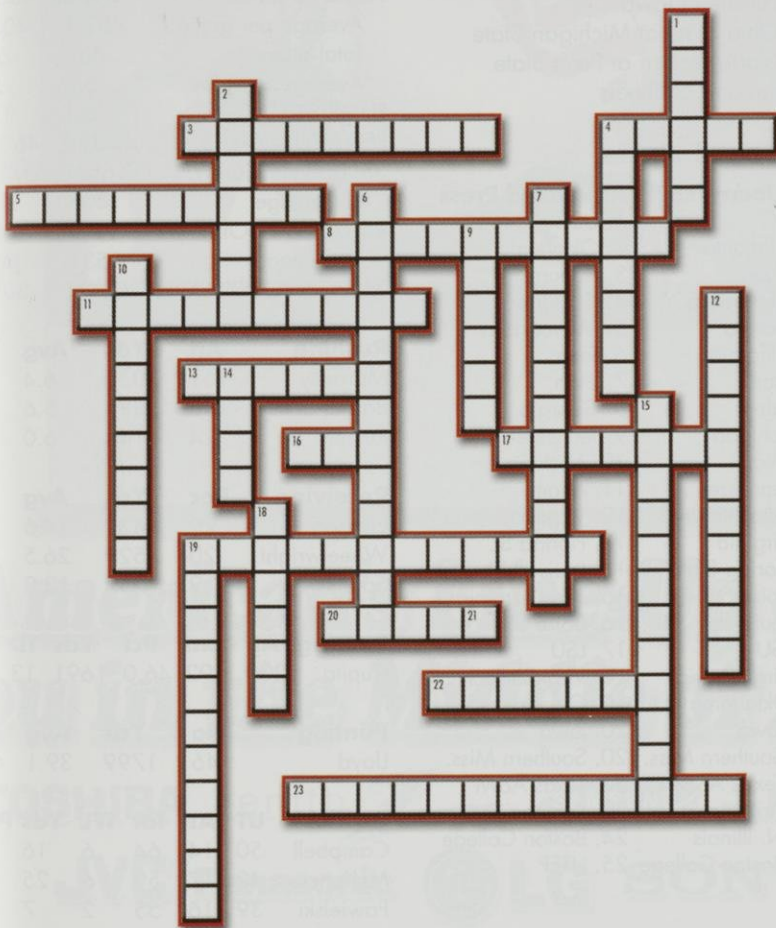

"Nurturing an environment of creativity—encompassing industry, the arts and individual expression—is important for attracting and keeping these very mobile, highly sought, knowledge-based workers within our borders," Wiley says.

The chancellor has been a leader in efforts to expand on-campus student housing to meet demand, stem high-risk drinking and integrate athletics into the mainstream of university life. Wiley has reached out to the private sector by creating the Office of Corporate Relations to serve the increasing needs of the business community and to help build a more prosperous Wisconsin economy.

"The Wisconsin Idea offers a shared medium through which we can help the state achieve its maximum potential as a participant in a world economy that embraces learning and the advancement of knowledge as much as it does material production," he says.

BRET BIELEMA Defensive Coordinator & Linebackers

At Wisconsin

- Enters his first season at Wisconsin.

Prior to Wisconsin

Co-Defensive Coordinator at Kansas State from 2002-03

- 2003 Kansas State unit finished sixth nationally in total (283.1 ypg), seventh in pass (174.6 ypg), eighth in scoring (16.3 ppg), 12th in pass efficiency (104.4 rating) and 17th in run defense (108.5 ypg).
- Wildcats led Big 12 in run defense in 2003.
- In 2002 the Wildcats led the nation in scoring defense (11.8 ppg), were second nationally in total (249.0 ypg) and rushing (69.5 ypg) defense and third in the nation in pass efficiency defense (91.69 rating).
- KSU was 22-6 (11-2 in '02 and 11-4 in '03) during Bielema's two years there.
- Helped Kansas State to its first-ever Big 12 title in '03.

Assistant Coach at Iowa from 1993-01

- Spent nine seasons as an assistant coach at Iowa, moving through the ranks with the Hawkeyes, starting as an undergraduate student assistant coach, then graduate assistant and, finally, full-time assistant (he coached Iowa's linebackers for six seasons).
- The 1997 Hawkeye defense posted three shutouts and ranked No. 4 nationally in scoring and pass efficiency defense, seventh in total defense and 11th in run defense.

JEFF HORTON Quarterbacks

At Wisconsin

- Enters his sixth season at Wisconsin.
- A Badger quarterback has been selected in the NFL Draft each of the past two years (Brooks Bollinger, sixth round to the N.Y. Jets in 2003 and Jim Sorgi, sixth round to the Indianapolis Colts in 2004).
- Bollinger was the 1999 Big Ten Freshman of the Year and is the winningest QB in school history (one of only seven QBs in Big Ten history with 30 wins as a starter).
- Sorgi finished as Wisconsin's leader in career pass efficiency and on UW career lists he finished third in pass completion percentage (.555), fourth in TD passes (33) and fifth in passing yards (4,498).
- UW has set the school record for passing yards in a season twice (2001 and 2003) in the past three seasons.

Prior to Wisconsin

Head Coach at UNLV from 1994-98

- The 1994 UNLV squad won the Las Vegas Bowl and Horton was named co-Big West Coach of the Year.
- QB Jon Denton threw for more than 7,000 yards and broke 10 NCAA records in two seasons at UNLV.

Head Coach at Nevada in 1993

- Chris Vargas, Horton's signalcaller with the Wolf Pack, finished second nationally in total offense in 1993.

Assistant Coach at UNLV from 1991-92

Assistant Coach at Nevada from 1985-89

Graduate Assistant Coach at Minnesota in 1984

Jim Hueber Offensive Line

At Wisconsin

Enters his 13th year at UW and 21st in the Big Ten (longest continuing tenured assistant in the conference).

Has coached Badger off. linemen for nine seasons.

More than 25 Hueber-coached players have made NFL rosters.

UW's offensive lines paved the way for a 1,000-yard rusher every year from 1996-2002 (during a Big Ten-record 10 straight seasons).

- In 2002, tailback Anthony Davis rushed for a UW sophomore-record 1,555 yards behind Hueber's line that included Rimington Trophy finalist Al Johnson.
- The 2000 Badgers broke in a new tailback and fought a lot of lineup inconsistencies, but Michael Bennett finished third nationally in rushing. Three of Hueber's seniors (Casey Rabach, Bill Ferrario and Dave Costa) earned pro contracts.
- The 1999 line helped Ron Dayne become college football's career rushing leader. Among Hueber's blockers was Chris McIntosh, the Big Ten's 1999 Offensive Lineman of the Year and a finalist for the Outland Trophy.
- Hueber also coached running backs for three seasons (1992-94) at UW. He tutored Big Ten MVP Brent Moss and Terrell Fletcher in 1993 when that duo combined for 2,633 yards.

Prior to Wisconsin

Assistant Coach at Minnesota from 1984-91

Assistant Coach at Memphis State in 1983

Assistant Coach at Temple from 1981-82

Assistant Coach at Wichita State from 1979-80

Assistant Coach at Dodge City Community College from 1975-78

Assistant Coach at Cincinnati in 1974

Rob Ianello Tight Ends

At Wisconsin

- Enters sixth season at Wisconsin.
- Returned to UW last season after having been the on-campus recruiting coordinator at Wisconsin from 1990-91 and the recruiting coordinator for the Badgers from 1992-93 (it was during those years that Wisconsin built its 1994 Rose Bowl champion).

Prior to Wisconsin

Assistant Coach at Arizona from 1994-02

- Served as recruiting coordinator (since 1994) and wide receivers coach (since 1997).
- Promoted to the position of passing game coordinator just before coming to Wisconsin and coached 2002 Pac-10 receiving leader Bobby Wade, who caught 93 passes for 1,389 yards and eight touchdowns.
- The Wildcats' 1998 squad was 12-1, ranked fourth nationally and defeated Nebraska in the Holiday Bowl. That team was the first in Pac-10 history to register five straight games of 500 yards or more of total offense.
- Arizona's '99 offense ranked No. 1 in the Pac-10 and No. 3 nationally (Dennis Northcutt caught 88 passes, then a school record).

Assistant Coach at Alabama from 1988-89

- Served as assistant recruiting coordinator with head coach Bill Curry at Alabama in 1988-89 (the Crimson Tide won the '89 SEC title and earned a Sugar Bowl berth). That staff signed 17 of the eventual 22 starters on Alabama's 1992 national championship team.

RON LEE Defensive Backs

At Wisconsin

- Enters second season at Wisconsin.
- Coached safety Jim Leonhard (the Big Ten leader in interceptions) to first-team All-Big Ten honors in 2003.

Prior to Wisconsin

Defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach at San Jose State from 2001-02

- The Spartans ranked No. 3 nationally in passes intercepted (23) in 2002 and No. 4 nationally in turnovers gained (38).
- SJSU was the only school in the nation with three players ranked among the top 100 nationally in interceptions in 2002.

Assistant Coach at Colorado State from 1993-2000

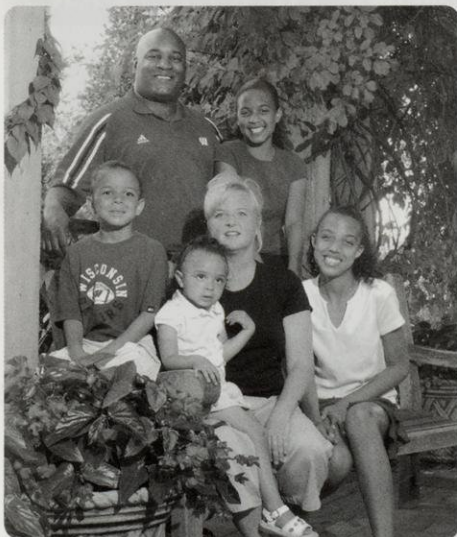

- Under Lee, Greg Myers won the 1995 Jim Thorpe Award as the nation's best defensive back.
- The Rams led the nation in turnover margin in 1997.

Assistant Coach at Idaho in 1992

Assistant Coach at Portland State in 1991

- Portland State was an NCAA Division II semifinalist in 1991.

Graduate Assistant Coach at Miami (Fla.) from 1989-90

HENRY MASON Wide Receivers

At Wisconsin

- Enters 10th season at Wisconsin.
- Recruited and coached Bedford, Ohio, natives Chris Chambers and Lee Evans who starred for the Badgers.
- Evans put together the greatest season ever by a Badger receiver in 2001 when he set the Big Ten record for receiving yards (1,545) in a season. He also set UW career records for receptions (175), receiving yards (3,468) and receiving touchdowns (27). He was a 2004 NFL first-round draft choice by Buffalo.
- Chambers, the school's MVP in 2000, is one of only three Badgers (Al Toon and Evans are the others) in history to record more than 2,000 yards receiving. He was picked by Miami in the second round of the 2001 Draft.
- In the mid-1990s, coached Tony Simmons and Donald Hayes who formed one of the best wide receiver tandems in college football. That duo ranks fourth (Simmons) and seventh (Hayes) in career yardage at Wisconsin.
- In 2002, with Evans injured, Mason developed freshmen Jonathan Orr and Brandon Williams into aerial threats. Orr's 842 receiving yards were a UW rookie record as were Williams' 52 catches.

Prior to Wisconsin

Assistant Coach at Western Michigan from 1991-94

- The Broncos led the Mid-American Conference in passing three times in Mason's four seasons.

Head Coach at Smith-Cotton (Mo.) High School from 1982-90

- His 1988 team became the first in 13 years at the school to post a winning record.

Assistant Coach at Baker University in 1981

Assistant Coach at Lexington (Mo.) High School from 1979-80

JOHN PALERMO Assistant Head Coach & Defensive Line

At Wisconsin

- Enters 14th year at Wisconsin.
- Palermo's time at UW has been split between coaching outside linebackers (1991-94) and the defensive line (1995-present).
- Tutored Wendell Bryant who was the 12th pick overall (to Arizona) in the 2002 NFL Draft after being named the Big Ten's Defensive Lineman of the Year for the second consecutive campaign.
- The 1998 Badger defenders ranked first nationally in scoring, fourth in rushing, fifth in total and seventh in pass efficiency defense. That defense was led by Tom Burke, the hard-charging defensive end tutored by Palermo. Burke led the nation and set a Big Ten record for quarterback sacks.
- His first national honor recipient at UW was Tarek Saleh, who set many school sack and TFL marks and earned All-America praise in 1996.
- As assistant head coach, Palermo had to step in for Alvarez at Minnesota in 2000 to serve as head coach. Alvarez was out after knee surgery and Palermo helped the Badgers to a 20-17 overtime victory.

BRIAN WHITE Offensive Coordinator & Running Backs

At Wisconsin

- Enters 10th season at Wisconsin and sixth as the offensive coordinator.
- In his rookie season at the controls of the offense (1999), the Badgers set a school scoring record and finished 10th nationally in that category.
- In 2000, first-year starter Michael Bennett was the NCAA's third-leading rusher, but the team also had a school-record six 200-yard passing games.
- In 2001 Anthony Davis was the nation's fifth-leading rusher and Big Ten Freshman of the Year, Lee Evans set the Big Ten record for receiving yards in a season (1,545) and quarterbacks Brooks Bollinger and Jim Sorgi each threw for more than 1,000 yards.
- Evans set UW career records for receptions, receiving yards and receiving touchdowns with White calling the plays.
- As backfield coach, White helped the Badgers produce a 1,000-yard rusher in each of his first eight seasons at the school. The UW has led the Big Ten in rushing three times (1996, 1998 and 1999) with White on staff.
- Served as Ron Dayne's position coach during his run to the 1999 Heisman Trophy and the NCAA Division I-A career rushing mark.

"I came to Kraft because of the opportunities.

I stayed because of the people."

"The people here are amazing. They're intelligent, they're great managers and they're fun to be around. In addition, there's such a great mix of talent. When I think of diversity here at Kraft, I think of the many different types of people we have working on our teams. Not just the standard differences, but everything from the cities they're from to the schools they went to. All of them make our organization stronger and more effective. They're devoted professionals who really care about the business and our success in the food industry."

Jamie Pollard
Deputy Athletic Director

Jamie Pollard was named deputy athletic director for the UW-Madison in 2003 and serves as the No. 2 administrator in the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics. He is responsible for the overall administration of the Badgers' 23-sport, $60 million athletic department and represents Barry Alvarez at all national, conference and university meetings when necessary.

Prior to being named deputy athletic director, Pollard served as the division's chief financial officer and senior associate athletic director. He developed a comprehensive strategic financial plan ("Keeping Big Red in the Black") that increased the division's operating reserve to $7 million and allowed the university to move forward on the $107 million renovation of Camp Randall Stadium. He also assisted with the development of the school's inaugural preferential seating program that is generating more than $9 million annually for the athletic program and he helped negotiate a multi-year, multi-million dollar contract for media and marketing rights that is the largest collegiate contract in the country.

Pollard has been the sports administrator for the men's and women's basketball programs since 2001-02 and served as the Tournament Manager when the UW hosted the 2002 NCAA Men's Basketball Midwest Regional.

In the fall of 2003, Pollard was selected by Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal as a recipient of its "Top Forty Under 40" Award. It is given annually to the 40 most influential and creative individuals in sports under the age of 40. Pollard is the first college sports administrator honored by the magazine. Pollard is the president for the Collegiate Athletic Business Managers Association (CABMA) and was chosen by his peers as the 2002 Business Manager of the Year.

Pollard is the campus chair of the Partners in Giving campaign that benefits more than 300 non-profit organizations. He led the 2003 campaign for the Athletic Department, which resulted in a 100 percent increase in participants and a 78 percent increase in contributions.

His other intercollegiate administration experience came as associate athletic director for administration at Maryland (1994-98) and associate athletic director for internal operations at St. Louis (1989-94).

Pollard, the 1987 NCAA Division III national champion in the 5,000-meter run and a two time Division III All-American, has a B.S. degree in business administration from UW-Oshkosh (1987). Pollard and his wife, Ellen, have four children, (Thomas, Annie, Maggie and James).

Cheryl Bailey
Sports Admin.

Cheryl Bailey is in her 15th year at UW-Madison and third as senior associate AD for sports administration.

Bailey is also the school's senior woman administrator for the Big Ten and NCAA. She supervises a number of Badger sports and the compliance department. Bailey is the direct administrator for men's and women's hockey.

Bailey was hired in 1990 at the UW as an associate AD for women's athletics. She completed a four-year term (two as chair) with the NCAA Women's Basketball Committee in 2004, and is in the midst of a four-year term (2002-05) on NACDA's Executive Committee.

The former director of athletics for women's sports at Denison (1983-90), Bailey served that school as an assistant professor and women's soccer (11 years) and track (nine) coach. Bailey has a B.S. degree from Slippery Rock State (1977) and an M.A. from Ohio State (1983). She has three children: Kelly, Kenny and Peter.

Doug Beard
Administration

Doug Beard, a college sports administrator in the state of Wisconsin since 1987, is in his second season on the UW's senior-level administrative team as associate athletic director for administration. Beard supervises the budget and finance, event management, food and beverage service, human resources and sports medicine units.

Beard joined the UW staff in 2001 as assistant AD for event management as well as helping administer the department's internal operations. He was promoted to associate AD in 2002. Before coming to Wisconsin, Beard worked at UW-Milwaukee from 1989-2001 and UW-Stout from 1987-89.

Beard, originally from Kennebunkport, Maine, has a B.S. degree in business administration from New Hampshire (1985) and an M.A. degree in athletic administration from Kent State (1987). His wife's name is Patricia and his stepdaughter is Lindsay.

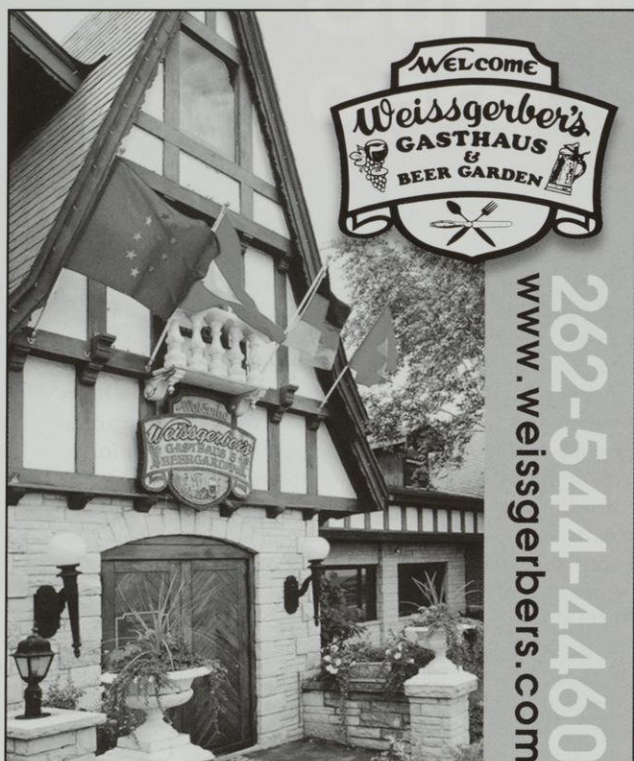

John Chadima
Operations

John Chadima began serving as the department's associate AD for operations in 2003. He is in charge of managing capital projects, including the renovation of Camp Randall Stadium, and supervising the facilities, maintenance and strength and conditioning staffs. He is the department liaison with University Ridge Golf Course and continues to supervise the administrative operations of the football program.

Chadima was previously the director of football operations (2000-03) where he was responsible for coordinating team travel, scheduling and maintaining the sport's multi-million dollar budget. Chadima had similar duties from 1990-97 as the team's administrative assistant. He was the UW's director of facilities and events from 1997-2000.

Chadima has a B.S. degree (1988) in physical education with an emphasis in athletic administration from Iowa. He also studied in the master's programs at both Iowa and Wisconsin.

David Harris
Acad. Services

David Harris, director of academic services at Wisconsin since 2002, was named associate AD for academic services in July of 2004.

Harris came to Wisconsin after serving as director of academic support for the athletic department at the University of Mississippi since 1998. He also coordinated the school's CHAMPS Life Skills program at Ole Miss.

Harris worked in the Ole Miss registrar's office in 1998 and from 1995-97 in student recruitment for the Office of Admissions. A defensive tackle at Mississippi, he earned his B.B.A. (in 1993) and his M.B.A. (1995) from Ole Miss. He is a '02 graduate of the NCAA Leadership Institute for Ethnic Minority Males. He also was a facilitator for the '02 and '03 NCAA Student-Athlete Leadership Conf. and was a team leader for the '02 CHAMPS Life Skills Continuing Education Conference.

Harris and his fiancé, Felicia King, have a 2-year-old daughter, Kaitlyn.

Steve Malchow
Communications

Steve Malchow was named to the department's senior staff as associate athletic director for communications in 2003. He oversees the athletic communications, web site, computer and video service functions of the department. Malchow served the UW as director of men's sports information (1990-2001) until a promotion to asst. AD for communications.

He was UW's football media contact for 11 years and served as the chief strategist for Ron Dayne's Heisman Trophy-winning campaign in 1999, when he was named SID of the Year by the National Football Foundation. Malchow was also Media Coordinator for the 2002 NCAA Men's Basketball Midwest Regional at the Kohl Center.

Malchow has B.B.A. degrees in marketing (1984) and management information systems (1990) from Iowa. He and his wife, Barb, have a son (Bryce).

Vince Sweeney
External Rel.

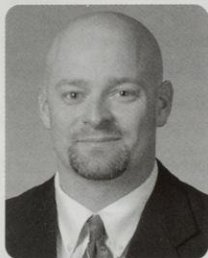

Vince Sweeney was named senior associate athletic director for external relations in the summer of 2003.

He manages the marketing and promotions, ticketing and fundraising components of the division and is the department liaison with the Alumni Association, National W Club, Trademark Licensing Office and Badger Sports Properties.

After more than a decade in sports journalism in Madison, Milwaukee and Los Angeles, Sweeney returned to UW in 1990 as director of trademark licensing. He later served as director of marketing and was promoted to associate athletic director for external relations in 1994.

Sweeney was named 1994 Marketer of the Year by the American Marketing Association. Sweeney has a B.A. degree in journalism and mass communications from UW (1978). He and his wife, Sharon, have two daughters (Kelsey and Keara).

INTRODUCING THE QUESO BURRITO.

Our spicy cheese queso isn't just for chips anymore.

Our spicy 3-Cheese Queso is a delicious dip. But it makes an even better burrito. The Queso Burrito is loaded with grilled chicken or steak and our queso, a hot saucy blend of three cheeses, poblanos, tomatoes and jalapeños. You can also make your own Queso Burrito by adding 3-Cheese Queso to any of our original burritos. Not just big burritos. Big flavors.®

University of Wisconsin

A university is known by the quality of its faculty. Wisconsin is a university that produces Nobel Prize winners, recipients of the National Medal of Science, Pulitzer Prize winners, and members of the National Academies of Science, Engineering, and Education. Only a handful of universities, along with UW-Madison, can claim top ranking in nearly every independent survey, year after year.

- U.S. News & World Report, 2004—Ranks Wisconsin as the seventh-best public university and 32nd among all universities. The UW also ranked among the 25 best institutions for “first-year experiences,” “undergraduate research/creative projects,” “learning communities” and “study abroad.”

- Fiske Guide to Colleges, 2004—UW is ranked as one of 18 public universities that are “Best Buys.”

- Kiplinger's Personal Finance Magazine, 2004—Ranked 13th among the 100 Best Values in Public Colleges.

- Princeton Review, 2004—Lists Wisconsin in “The Best 351 Colleges” and Madison among the “Great College Towns.”

- Greene's Guides, 2004—Lists Wisconsin as one of 17 “Public Ivies.”

- Barron's Best Buys in College Education, 2002—Ranked among 260 schools as a best buy.

Other Rankings

- Fortune 500 Companies—Ranks second in the number of graduates who become chief executives in Fortune 500 companies.

- Peace Corps—Ranks first among number of alumni serving in the Peace Corps and second in the number of Peace Corps volunteers.

- Research & Development—Ranks second among public universities and third among all universities for research expenditures. In 2002–03, UW-Madison received more than $583 million in extramural research awards.

- Voluntary Support—Ranks second in voluntary support among public universities.

- Libraries—Ranks ninth in number of volumes (6.3 million) and campus libraries (45).

- Doctorates—Ranks fourth in research doctorates granted.

Alcohol

No alcohol may be brought into the Stadium. Possession may result in police arrest and a fine of $181. The fine for first offense for underage possession/consumption of alcohol is $243.

Emergencies

In the event of a medical emergency, immediately notify a security guard, usher, police officer or paramedic in your area. UW Health First Aid Stations are located in the upper deck at Section GG, in the new 5th level concourse behind Section T, and under Section YZ in the new south end zone concourse.

It is possible to contact a patron during a game if you know their exact seat location by calling (608) 265-8676. No announcements will be made over the stadium sound system.

Conduct Code

In order to keep Wisconsin football games as enjoyable as possible for our fans and their families, we ask that you respect others around you. If a ticket holder's conduct endangers or disrupts players, coaches, officials or other patrons, the University reserves the right to remove the ticket holder from the premises. No refund will be made in such cases. Stadium violations (body passing, throwing objects, and possession of alcohol 21 or older) and object passing may result in a $181 fine.

Smoke-Free Facility

Smoking is prohibited in all state-owned buildings, including Camp Randall Stadium. Designated smoking areas are located within the stadium perimeter.

Entry / No Re-entry

Please enter the gate printed on your ticket to allow for the most efficient entry to the stadium. Gates open 90 minutes prior to kick off. Fans may not leave the stadium and then re-enter during the game. If an emergency arises, check with gate security.

Lost and Found

If you lose an article on game day, please go to the Guest Services Center located under Section YZ, in the new south end zone concourse, or call (608) 265-8676. For lost-and-found inquiries on non-game days, please call or visit the Kohl Center Gate B reception desk (608-263-5645).

Items Not Permitted

For the safety and security of all patrons, certain items are prohibited, including, but not limited to: any food or beverage items, cans, bottles, coolers, thermoses, backpacks (gym, duffel and tote), luggage, strollers, laser pointers, banners, flags, signs, noisemakers, weapons, balloons, beach balls or umbrellas. All patrons entering Camp Randall Stadium are subject to search. Storage facilities are not available for checking prohibited items.

Guest Services Center

For general game day information, visit the Guest Services Center located under Section YZ, in the new south end zone concourse.

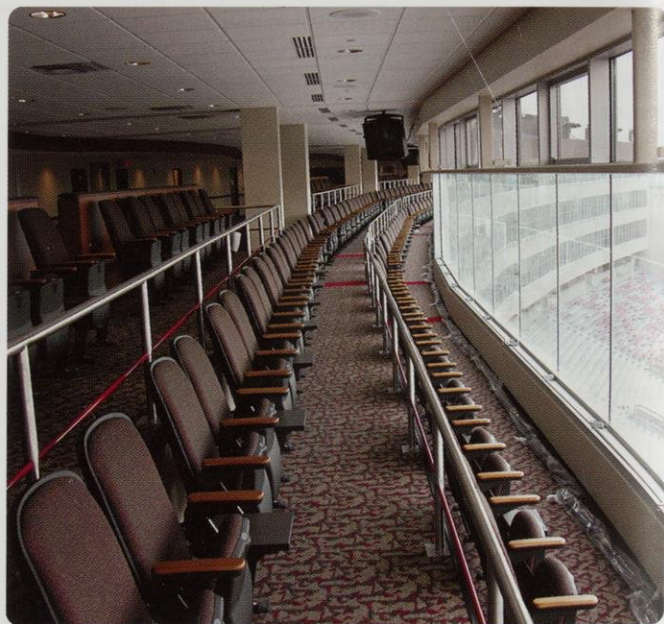

Stadium Renovation

Camp Randall Stadium, the fourth-oldest college football stadium in the country, is in the midst of a $107 million renovation project that will fully conclude in 2005. The project will include:

- increased seating capacity to 80,112 (in 2005);
- creation of new and wider concourses to provide safe and convenient fan access;
- renovation of old (and addition of new) restrooms throughout the facility;
- installation of three video replay boards plus improved sound and lighting systems;
- addition of private suite and club-level seating areas on the east side of the stadium;
- construction of a new ticket office with convenient on-site parking
- development of a consolidated office building for athletic department staff
- expansion of accessible facilities for disabled fans and visitors.

Three levels of suites and club seats were added to the east side of the stadium, along with permanent lighting for late afternoon and night games.

Top: After a year absence, the familiar red end zones with "WISCONSIN" and "BADGERS" have returned, along with the Motion W at midfield.

Above are two of the three scoreboards that have been added this season. The one at the north end of the stadium (left) is 50 feet wide and 170 feet long and boasts two 23-by-44-foot ProStar video replay boards. The one in the southeast corner (right) is affixed to the new five-story athletic department office building and features a 13-by-23-foot replay board.

Below: A look at the field from a suite in the southeast corner of the stadium.

The south end of the stadium has been closed in, creating a complete bowl. In the left corner of the photo you can see the top of the five-story athletic department office building.

Rock the Vote

The UW-Madison campus was Rock the Vote's final stop on a 50-city, five-month tour. The tour brought musical performers and a carnival-like atmosphere to the Library Mall on Oct. 15 (picture on right). Rock the Vote works to increase youth voter registration and involvement through its musical concerts. Nearly 1,500 UW-Madison students registered to vote at the event.

Tobacco Center Receives $8.5 Million Federal Grant

The Center for Tobacco Research and Intervention, a program of the Medical School at UW-Madison, has been awarded $8.5 million for research on tobacco dependence and its treatment. The research, to be conducted in Madison and Milwaukee, will study the long-term consequences of smoking.

Researchers hope to be able to individualize tobacco dependence treatments and improve quit rates among smokers to better clarify the long-term health effects of smoking and quitting. They will also analyze health-care costs related to continuing to smoke and quitting.

"The information obtained from this new research will be very practical," says Michael Fiore, the center's director and professor of medicine. "We will be looking at how smoking and quitting affects people's mental and physical health, social relationships and lifestyle. And from this, we'll be able to provide more specific treatment options for smokers who want to quit and their clinicians."

Faculty Members Receive Fulbright Grants

Three faculty members at UW-Madison will teach and research abroad after being awarded Fulbright Scholar grants. The Fulbright Program provides funds to allow nearly 800 U.S. faculty and professionals to travel to some 140 countries in an effort to build understanding between nations. Recipients are selected on academic or professional achievement and extraordinary leadership potential in their fields.

Michael Collins, a microbiology professor in the Department of Pathobiological Sciences in the School of Veterinary Medicine, will travel to Austral University of Chile in Valdivia, Chile. He is lecturing and continuing his research on Mycobacterium paratuberculosis as part of an effort to strengthen Chile's animal health infrastructure for its growing dairy industry.

Cynthia L. Haq, professor of family medicine and population health sciences and director of the UW Global Health Program, will research and talk about how to improve primary health care through family medicine. She will be at Makerere University in Kampala.

Robert Skloot, professor of theater and drama, and Jewish studies, will hold a distinguished professorship in American Drama and Theater at the University of Utrecht in Utrecht, Netherlands.

OK, smartypants. Test your knowledge of Badger football trivia at www.redcarpet.wisc.edu.

Take the Red Carpet Trivia Challenge and become eligible to win prizes. Five winners will be selected from all correct entries received by noon on the Wednesday following each home game. Winners will receive a Red Carpet Tee, cap and other fan merchandise. If you're not selected you can still win. All correct entries received will be entered into a drawing for a grand prize on Nov. 10 (after the last home game). Go to redcarpet.wisc.edu to take the challenge and find the answers to past challenges.

This week's challenge:

Q: What was the precursor to the Paul Bunyan Axe, the mythical woodsman's oversized axe that is the trophy of the UW-Minnesota game?

One entry per e-mail address per game. More than one entry from any e-mail address will void all entries from that person or e-mail address. Winners will be notified by e-mail.

UNITED
Van Lines

Volleyball

• The Badgers had a split week of competition with one match at home and one match on the road. Fourth-place UW (15-5 overall, 9-3 Big Ten) took on eighth-place Northwestern (8-14, 3-9) on Wednesday in the UW Field House. Last night, the Badgers travelled to 21st-ranked Illinois (15-6, 7-5).

• Junior Sheila Shaw was named the Big Ten Player of the Week, Nov. 1.

• Wisconsin is coming off a 3-2 upset win over No. 2 Minnesota last Saturday night in the UW Field House.

Men's Hockey

• Wisconsin (5-1-0, 3-1-0 WCHA) takes to the road for the first time this season when it faces Minnesota (5-2-0, 3-1-0 WCHA) at Mariucci Arena on Friday and Saturday.

• Forward Joe Pavelski currently leads the nation's freshmen with 11 points.

• Minnesota is the only WCHA team to hold a winning all-time record against Wisconsin.

Women's Hockey

• The women's hockey team (7-1-0, 5-1-0 WCHA) faces WCHA nemesis and fourth-ranked Minnesota Duluth (5-0-1, 5-0-1 WCHA) this weekend in Duluth. The Badgers have a score to settle with the Bulldogs, who last season knocked them out of title contention in the WCHA Final Five.

• The Badgers are setting a high standard with a blistering six goals per game average. The skaters netted 14 goals last weekend for a total of 48 goals this season. Their opponents, combined, have scored just seven.

Men's Soccer

• Nick Van Sicklen was named Big Ten Offensive Player of the Week, Nov. 1 after scoring four of Wisconsin's six goals against UW-Green Bay and Michigan State. Against MSU, Van Sicklen had both Badgers goals, including the game-winner. He also tallied two goals and one assist in Wisconsin's 4-1 victory over UW-Green Bay.

• The Badgers conclude regular-season play with games against Marquette and No. 25 Northwestern. Wisconsin travelled to Milwaukee to play Marquette on Wednesday and return home to take on Northwestern at 1 p.m. tomorrow for senior day.

Women's Soccer

• The sixth-seeded women's soccer team heads to Columbus, Ohio, this week to take on No. 3 seed Michigan in the first round of the Big Ten tournament. Last year the Wolverines beat the Badgers 1-0 in the second round of the league tournament.

• UW will look to make it two straight vs. Michigan, complementing the 3-1 win two weeks ago.

• The winner will take on the winner of No. 2 Ohio State-No. 7 Purdue at 6 p.m. CT Friday. The championship match will take place at 1:30 p.m. CT Sunday.

Men's Basketball

• The men's basketball team will hold an open scrimmage followed by an autograph session tomorrow at the Kohl Center. The scrimmage will begin at approximately 3 p.m. and is free to the public. The autograph session will follow the scrimmage in the main concourse of the Kohl Center will and last for approximately two hours.

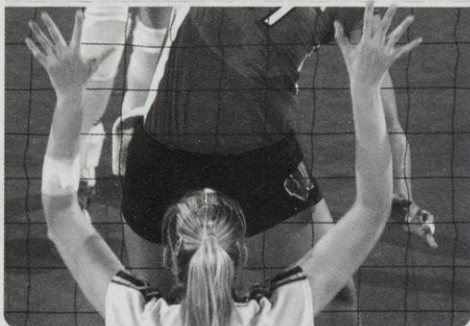

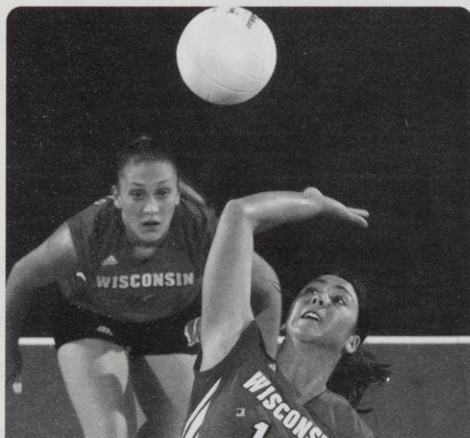

• The gates for Family Fun Day will open at 2 p.m. Limited free parking in lot 91 will be available beginning at 2 p.m. on a first-come, first serve basis.

Women's Basketball

• The Badgers will open their exhibition season tomorrow with a game against Wisconsin AAU beginning at noon at the Kohl Center. The men's scrimmage will follow the women's exhibition game.

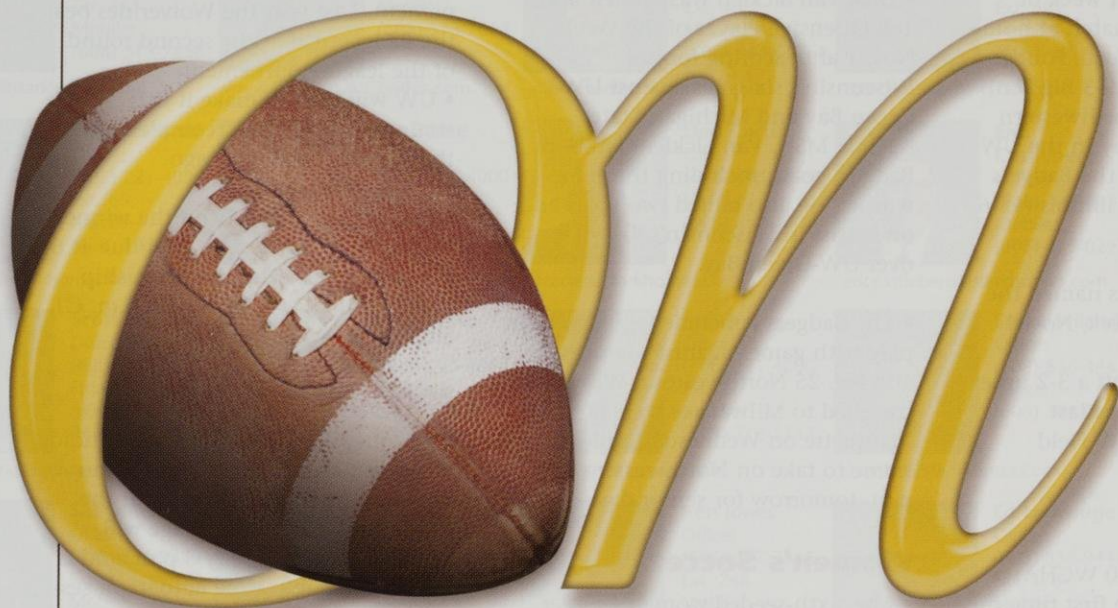

• Gates open at 11 a.m. and kids can get their picture taken with Bucky Badger from 11-11:45 p.m. in the main concourse courtesy of Fuji Film.

• Fans will receive a Badgers in Training DVD courtesy of UW Athletics, UW Health, and the Campus Information and Visitors Center, while supplies last. Fans will also receive a 2004-2005 Wisconsin Women's Basketball schedule magnet courtesy of TDS while supplies last.

Sheila Shaw was named Big Ten Player of the Week after leading the Badgers to a pair of wins, including a victory over No. 2 Minnesota.

Each week in the Badger Gameday Program, senior defensive back Scott Starks will give us an inside look at what it's like to be a UW football student-athlete. Starks is a four-year starter for the Badgers and is third in career pass breakups at UW with 51. He is also a two-time Academic All-Big Ten honoree and was named to the CoSIDA Academic All-District 5 team in 2002.

Last Ride

Man! My last game at the "Camp." Where do I begin? It has been a long, hard journey that seemed to go by extremely fast. I have definitely established some life-long memories here. From the worst times to the best times, all have been learning experiences.

It seems like just last season I was stepping in for Mike Echols after he was injured in the Virginia game my freshman year. I was so excited to get in the game. But my excitement was crushed by the yelling and screaming of every coach on the sideline after I tried to press on the first play I was in and lined up off-sides. A few plays later I recorded my first pbu (pass break up) at the "Camp." This was the beginning of the development of my short-term memory.

I would need that short-term memory the next home game that year. Then-Heisman Trophy candidate David Carr and his big time receiver Bernard Berrian sought to attack me the whole game. After giving up a touchdown and several completions, my short-term memory fueled me to record an interception and other plays in the second half, only to still be defeated.

By far the worst memory I had at the "Camp" was the game versus Michigan State my freshman year. Yeah, I'm sure everyone knows the story. Charles Rogers...Starks gets burned...touchdown...Starks gets burned again...yahta yahta yahta. You get the point. Through all of this I still learned a great deal. I remember going into that game thinking that Rogers was a good receiver but not a person that needed special attention. Well everyone can see what taking a player lightly can do. After that game I made sure

I did not view any receiver I had to face as just "a guy."

My sophomore season was just a real average season. My stats were not as good as they were my freshman year. Throughout this season, I really did not really improve as a player, nor did I fine-tune the techniques that I had previously acquired. This lack of success lead me to almost lose the love for the game. I was not having fun any more. As a result, my play on the field revealed this lack of technique. What I learned from this was if you want to be a good player you have to take the initiative to do whatever you have to do take your game to the next level.

Junior year seemed not to start out so well either. I was on my third coach, and I just did not seem to be improving. I was really ready to just stop playing the game. After the UNLV game, I really had to reevaluate my future in football. After consulting God, my family, and my friends I realized what my problems were. First, I was not putting God first even though I had given my life to him. I was trying to use God to make me a better football player instead of just serving Him. When I finally put Him first and kept my concentration on Him, this is when He began to allow me to succeed. Second, I was being selfish. I was too worried about Scott's stats, and how Scott played. When I finally put the team first, this is when success began to build on the field. Last, I had to just start having fun. Alex Lewis was my roommate at the time. One night he came to me and said, "Sparky, just go out their and have fun. That's all. Just have fun." Then he walked away. After the UNLV game I went on to have more success on the field due to a number of character and life adjustments. In addition I had a great deal of help from a guy I call "Old Man," coach Ron Lee, a great coach and good friend of mine.

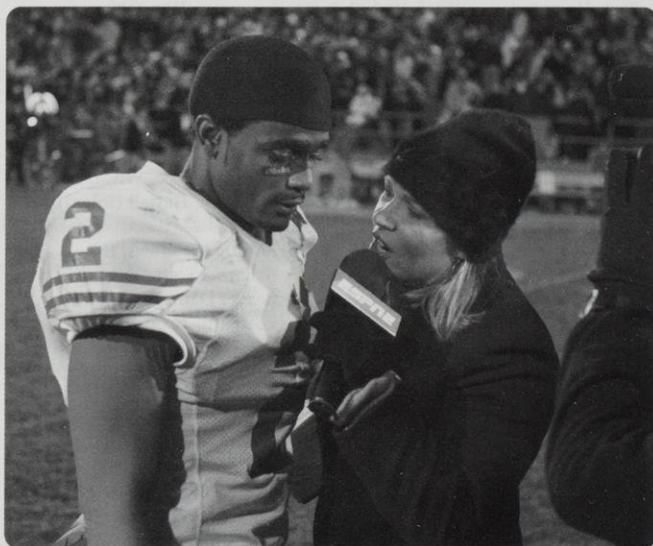

Before this season I asked God to put me in the right places at the right time, and I also asked him to give me a chance to declare his name in the media. Now people can call it luck, coincidence or whatever, but I have been have been at the right place at the right time several times this year and that's all due to the Father above. Also, there have been countless articles in which reporters have talked about me and my relation with God. Everything I asked Him for has been and is still being manifested.

You learn and you live. I learned not to let my mistakes become bad habits.

Last, I just want to thank you for the opportunity to play in front of you and for reading my "two cents every week." I want to send a special "I love you" to my top supporters Edward (my Pops), Angela (my Mom), Ed II (my Brother), and my Aunt DeDe.

One more thing. This is a little off the wall but I will say it anyway. Fans take it easy on players. Try not to be so critical. Believe it or not, athletes have feelings too. Imagine that it was your son or daughter that people were booing and cursing at. It would not feel so good. I hope this does not come out the wrong way, because the support at Camp Randall is amazing and I've already written about the unbelievable fans we have.

Once again, God bless you all. And thank you for the memories.

Scott Starks (above talking with ESPN's Holly Rowe) has recorded 35 tackles this season, including four TFLs for -16 yards. He also has nine pass breakups, an interception and two fumble recoveries.

Every boy dreams of scoring the game-winning touchdown.
They also dream that the right person sees it.

At American Family Insurance, we know that most boys who strap on the pads don't end up winning the national title, but they do all learn a few lessons. Like how to run a down-and-in. How to pick up a blitz. And how to play until the final whistle is blown. When you play sports, you don't just learn how to be a better athlete, but a better person. And as a network of agents dedicated to teamwork and taking care of people, we're proud to sponsor athletes of all ages — no matter what drives them to succeed. WE BELIEVE IN THE POWER OF SPORT.

If you became a multi-millionaire overnight, what are some of the first few things you would buy?

#18 Jim Leonhard, Sr., DB

First of all, I'd have to buy a car, a nice new Range Rover. I'm sick of all the modes of transportation that involve energy. I don't know if I'd buy a house right away, but that would be somewhere near the top of my list. I'd also get my parents something. Maybe I'd get them a new car, too, as they've been driving a beat-up van for a while.

#14 Reginald Cribbs, So., LB

I would build a new church in my hometown. I've always wanted to give back to the church I went to growing up. My dad has always wanted a huge house, so I would definitely buy him one. I also want to buy a plane. I've always wanted to learn how to fly one. I'd fly all around, like to France.

#7 John Stocco, So., Quarterback

I'd definitely buy a new pair of shoes first, then some clothes. My shoes are beat up and dirty, and I only have about three different shirts and a couple of pairs of pants. I'm hurtin' pretty badly. The next thing would be a computer, a car like a Mercedes or BMW, a nice watch, a couple of hats and a new plasma TV. I'm looking for the biggest plasma TV you can get. Also new DVDs and some video games would be nice.

Maybe if they don't become multi-millionaires, Santa will be good to them this year.

#2 Scott Starks, Sr., DB

The newest Escalade. It would white, with a white interior, spinners, some TVs, a navigational system—I'd make it look pretty nice. My dad has always wanted a two-seat Mercedes, so I'd get that for him. My brother wants some kind of sports car, and my mom wants an Infiniti truck.

In each game program this season, we will be running an excerpt from the new book Third Down and a War to Go: The All-American 1942 Wisconsin Badgers, written by Terry Frei and published by the Wisconsin Historical Society Press. The book chronicles the 1942 Badger football team, including Frei's father, Jerry. Through extensive research and interviews with the remaining Badgers, their families, and combat comrades, Terry Frei tells the often heart-wrenching story of this band of brothers, describing their successes and losses both on the football field and in service to their country.

Excerpt Six

On April 1, 1945, three of the 1942 Badgers' starters-All-American end Dave Schreiner, tackle Bob Baumann, and halfback Bud Seelinger-landed on Okinawa with the Sixth Marine Division. By the third day, the Sixth Division was almost across the thin Ishikawa Isthmus.

"Dave complained to me that he wasn't getting his share of action," Captain Clint Eastment recalls. "He wanted to get more action. I said, 'Just wait a while. It's a long campaign.'"

Eastment was right. The three Badgers, all first lieutenants, were in the thick of it.

In early June, Baumann's and Schreiner's company was involved in a battle to the south of the port city of Naha. Captain Eastment moved ahead with scouts and left Baumann in charge of the company.

Years later, John McLaughry-a Marine who had played for the New York Giants-wrote his memories of what happened next. He said Baumann's platoon "was blind-sided by heavy enemy fire . . . I was in radio contact with Bob who was only some 50 yards away on the reverse side of the ridge and . . . he was hit and died as we were discussing how to extricate his platoon."

Sergeant Gus Forbus was with Schreiner. "It was really hot, with snipers firing and mortars, you name it," Forbus says. "We were in trouble, and we were trying to get out of there. So Dave and I were evacuating our dead and wounded. We were running; there's no walking when you're under fire like that."

Bodies littered the trail and its side. Schreiner was used to that, but as the firing continued, something clicked in his mind when he and Forbus ran by one of the many corpses.

Schreiner didn't stop. "That looked like Bob!" he hollered to Forbus.

"Now, don't you go back there!" Forbus responded.

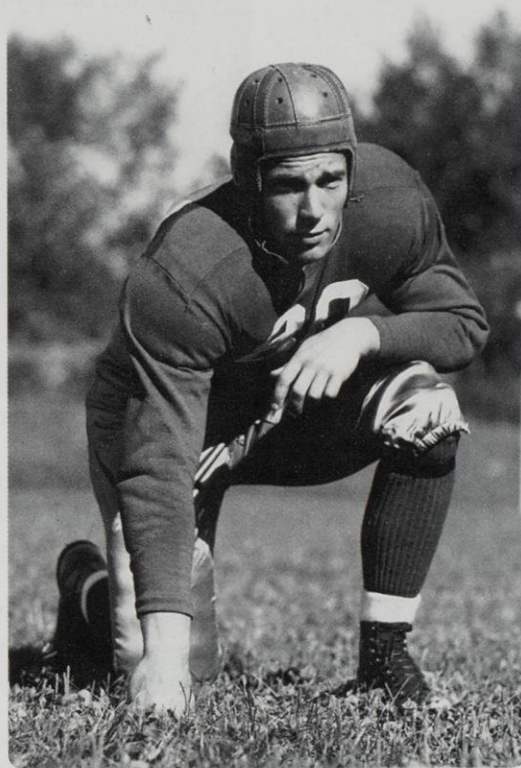

With eyes misting, Schreiner kept running. "We got the ones out we were carrying," Forbus recalls. "He didn't go back. I wouldn't let him go back."

Later, Schreiner was told he was right.

The body was Bob Baumann's.

Two days later, according to a dispatch by Marine Corps correspondent Don Petit, Schreiner was heroic in grenade battles for two hills near Naha. Petit wrote that Schreiner twice charged up the hill and tossed grenades into Japanese positions, and the one hundred enemy soldiers withdrew.

Eastment was severely wounded that day. "Dave Schreiner pulled me out of the line of fire," Eastment says. "He looked at the holes. He said I had four of 'em, so we thought that I'd been hit by four bullets. But Dave Schreiner was a two-time All-American at Wisconsin and is one of just four former Badgers to have his uniform number retired.

I found later, there were only two bullets that made the holes."

Eastment's fighting was over, and he hated leaving his men behind. Schreiner became company commander.

On June 18, Schreiner wrote to his parents, telling them: "Don't forget a company commander is a pretty safe spot."

But there was one more pocket of resistance on the southern end of the island.

Third Down and a War to Go is available for purchase for $26.95 at many area bookstores, and online booksellers.

Wisconsin Traditions

Badger nickname

The athletic teams' nickname (Badgers) was borrowed from the state. The territory was initially dubbed the "Badger" state. The reason for the moniker was not because of badgers in this region, but instead because of an association with lead miners in the 1820s. Prospectors came to the state looking for minerals. Without shelter in the winter, the miners had to "live like badgers" in tunnels burrowed into hill-sides according to folklore.

Bucky Badger

Badgers in various forms have been recognized as the school mascot for decades. The version currently known as Bucky, sporting a cardinal and white striped sweater, was first drawn in 1940 by artist Art Evans. At that time, the badger went by names like Benny, Buddy, Bernie, Bobby and Bouncey. Art Lentz, the department's publicity director, had the idea to bring the mascot to life.

"On, Wisconsin"

On Wisconsin, On Wisconsin
Plunge right through that line,
Run the ball clear down the field, boys
Touchdown sure this time
On Wisconsin, On Wisconsin
Fight on for her fame,
Fight, Fellows, Fight, Fight, Fight
We'll win this game!

"Varsity"

Var-sity! Var-sity! U-rah-rah! Wisconsin!
Praise to thee we sing
Praise to thee our alma mater
U-rah-rah, Wisconsin!

The original badger mascot was too vicious to control. On more than one occasion, the live badger escaped his handlers. It was decided in the interest of fan and player safety that Wisconsin's mascot be retired to the Madison Zoo.

The Badger Yearbook replaced the live badger with a small raccoon named Regdab (badger spelled backwards) and passed it off as a "badger in a raccoon coat."

In 1949, a student in the university's art department, Connie Conrad, was hired to mold a paper-mache badger head. Cheerleader Bill Sagal, of Plymouth, Wis., was directed by homecoming chair Bill Sachse, to wear the outfit at the homecoming game. A contest was staged to name the mascot. The winner was Buckingham U. Badger, or Bucky. The name came from the lyrics in a song which encouraged the football team to "buck right through that line."

Bucky Badger has persevered through the years, even surviving a threat by then assistant attorney general, Howard Koop, in 1973. He suggested that Bucky be replaced by Henrietta Holstein, a loveable cow. Koop argued that "kids love cows. A generation could grow up supporting the university and Henrietta Holstein." Koop's effort to overthrow Bucky failed.

Bucky even survived a cameo appearance by former Sports Illustrated writer Rick Telander. In preparation for a book about the department, Telander wore the Badger costume at a 1991 volleyball game. Telander overcame "terminal claustrophobia" in his first and only act as Bucky.

Bud song

An integral part of any Wisconsin band performance is the playing of the Bud song. The tune is a spinoff of the song "You've Said It All," a jingle with words and music originally written by Steve Karmen for Budweiser beer commercials.

The song has become legendary at the University because of its polka-like rhythm. Band director Michael Leckrone said the song's popularity got started at a 1975 hockey game. "The crowd wanted to hear a polka," he said. "I didn't have any polkas. We had, just by accident, added this beer commercial to the tunes we play. I told the band if we substituted the word 'Wisconsin' for 'Budweiser' it would work."

Leckrone said the song became a football tradition after a 1978 come-from-behind victory over Oregon. Wisconsin was behind by three touchdowns, and the crowd was really dead. I played the song to get everyone pepped up. About 20 seconds after that, Wisconsin scored a TD. I played it again, and we scored another touchdown. From then on, the band could never play enough 'Bud,'" said Leckrone.

Fifth Quarter

The Wisconsin band has become famous for its post-game celebration called the Fifth Quarter. Win or lose, fans sing, dance and cheer with the band as they play traditional favorites like "On, Wisconsin" and the Bud song. Originally, the post-game concert was designed to give the fans something to listen to on their way out, but it developed into a post-game party as the band built in audience-participation activities.

Motion W

When Coach Barry Alvarez came to Madison, he decided that the helmet logo needed to be updated to signal a new era. He entertained 15-20 designs in 1990 before Rayovac artist Rick Suchanek developed the "Motion W," which originally included a tail at the back of the logo. Alvarez thought the tail was a bit much, but when it was removed, decided to go with it. The University bought the rights to the design, and the logo has been adopted by all other UW sports.

"On, Wisconsin"

The school's fight song was originally composed in 1909 by Chicago's William Purdy, and the words were written by Carl Beck. Purdy and Beck had been fraternity brothers at Hamilton College (Clinton, N.Y.) and were roommates in Chicago. Purdy was going to submit the song for consideration to win a $100 prize that the University of Minnesota was offering for a new football song. When Beck heard the music, he offered to write words and suggested that Purdy offer it to Wisconsin, where Beck had once studied. The song was an instant hit on campus and spread throughout the world.

Some 2,500 schools have adopted the music and changed the words to suit their needs. "On, Wisconsin" was sung for the first time at the 1909 homecoming game vs. Minnesota.

The music was adapted by Band Director Michael Leckrone in 1969. The original version had been played virtually unchanged since its inception. "I got a lot of flak for the change," Leckrone said. "The old version was one you had to wait on. I wanted to generate immediate crowd reaction, so I stepped it up a bit."

Paul Bunyan Axe

The most-played rivalry in Division I-A football continues this fall when Wisconsin and Minnesota meet. The UW-UM series is the nation's oldest and has been played continuously since 1907. The game has alternated sites between the university campuses since 1946. Much prestige was always associated with the game, and the significance was emphasized with its place on the schedule. Between 1933 and 1982, the Wisconsin-Minnesota game was always the final regular-season contest for each school.

The series took an added twist in 1948 when more than state bragging rights were on the line. After a 16-0 setback that season, the Wisconsin letter-winners group, the National "W" Club, presented Minnesota with an axe wielded by Paul Bunyan. He was the mythical giant of midwestern lumber camps. Each year since, the winner of the annual battle between the Big Ten rivals is presented with the axe, complete with scores inscribed on the handle, for display on its campus.

"Varsity"

The traditional arm-waving at the end of the song, "Varsity," was the 1934 brainstorm of then-band leader Ray Dvorak. He saw Pennsylvania students wave their caps after losing a game. Dvorak later instructed Wisconsin students to salute UW-Madison President Glenn Frank after each game.

Saturdays at Camp Randall

During the Barry Alvarez Era, Wisconsin home football games have become an extraordinary event. Alvarez has led the Badgers to a 51-28-3 home record, including undefeated home slates in the Rose Bowl seasons of 1993 and 1998. The UW has averaged more than 75,000 fans a game since 1993.

Those fans not only get to enjoy the action on the field, but they are also entertained by the nationally renowned Wisconsin Marching Band. Under the direction of Michael Leckrone, the UW Band performs impressive pre-game and halftime shows. The band is probably best known, however, for its "Fifth Quarter" post-game celebration. Fans typically remain in Camp Randall Stadium after games until the band's audience-participation gala is completed.

In addition, Bucky Badger and the UW Spirit Squads are always fan favorites. The entire atmosphere, which undoubtedly includes the best fans in the country, makes Saturdays at Camp Randall a unique experience.

Above: ESPN's College Gameday crew of Chris Fowler, Kirk Herbstreit and Lee Corso (wearing the Bucky head) visited Camp Randall for the Badgers' game against Purdue last year.

This is the Big Ten Conference

The Big Ten Conference is an association of 11 world-class universities whose member institutions share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. Intercollegiate athletics has an important place within the mission.

Founded in 1896, the Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics in student-athletes' lives and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness. Big Ten universities provide in excess of $76 million in athletic scholarship aid to more than 8,500 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships, 12 for men and 13 for women. In 2003-04, the Big Ten distributed over $115 million in revenues to its 11 member institutions. Conference institutions sponsor broad-based athletic programs with more than 270 teams.

- Big Ten Universities are members of the nation's only conference whose constituency is entirely composed of institutions that are members of the AAU, a prestigious association of major academic and research institutions in the United States and Canada.

- Big Ten Universities host more than 70 Nobel laureates as faculty, students or researchers.

- Big Ten Universities enroll students of whom over 41 percent have graduated in the top 10 percent of their high school class, while 74 percent graduated in the top quarter of their class.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE FOOTBALL INSTANT REPLAY FACTS

- The Big Ten Conference, with the unanimous support of its head football coaches, forwarded a recommendation to the NCAA Football Rules Committee last winter and was granted the right to experiment with instant replay on a one-year trial basis.

- The Big Ten Conference collected data from 68 televised football games in 2003. The study showed there would have been 42 replay opportunities in the 68 games, approximately .65 replays per game. The rate of reversal was 54 percent, or 23 of 42 reviews would have been overturned. On a base of 10,800 football plays in 2003, 8-12 plays (of the aforementioned 23) could have been viewed as having a significant affect on the game.

- The Big Ten instant replay model and the NFL instant replay system are different. In the Big Ten model, only the Big Ten Technical Advisor, working in the press box, can stop a game to review a play. Unlike the NFL model, in the Big Ten neither the coaches nor the game officials on the field may ask for a review.

- In order for a play to be changed the Technical Advisor must have indisputable video evidence that an error occurred. Television broadcast of the game will be the sole source of whether there is indisputable video evidence.

- The types of plays that are reviewable include plays that are governed by the sideline, goal line, end zone and end line, passing plays, and other detectable infractions, such as forward progress with respect to first down.

- Throughout the conference, the Big Ten had more than 8,500 student-athletes playing on over 270 teams in 2003-04. Those student-athletes received in excess of $76 million in direct financial aid.

- Big Ten student-athletes graduate at a rate of 10 percent higher than all Division I student-athletes.

- The Big Ten recognized 1,894 Academic All-Big Ten honorees during the 2003-04 academic year, the highest total in the last decade. Over the past five years, the Conference has annually acknowledged more than 1,500 student-athletes as Academic All-Conference honorees.

- In the past 10 years (1994-95 through 2003-04), the Big Ten claimed 41 NCAA team championships including 25 since 1998-99.

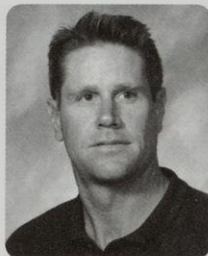

- Big Ten athletic programs have won more than 185 team national championships and 1,100 individual NCAA titles. In 1999-00, the Conference celebrated six NCAA team titles (men's soccer, women's volleyball, wrestling, men's basketball, fencing, men's gymnastics), the most for the Big Ten in the last 10 years.

Where Badgers Gather

Before and After the Game

For a student who wants to participate in intercollegiate athletics at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, one of the greatest opportunities available is an athletic scholarship. With the support of a scholarship, a student-athlete is able to take full advantage of the academic and athletic experience.

Many UW alumni and friends have chosen to contribute to the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics by establishing endowed scholarships. These funds, managed through the UW Foundation, provide annual income for scholarship support, while the principal remains in perpetuity to benefit the Division. These scholarships have a tremendous impact on the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics as they benefit today's student-athletes and also those in generations to come.

The following endowed scholarships, named for the donor or someone the donor wishes to honor, provide full or partial scholarship support for Badger student-athletes. Our student-athletes, coaches and administrators thank you for your tremendous support of Wisconsin Athletics.

Employ a University of Wisconsin Student-Athlete

A message to all business people in our Wisconsin community:

Employ a person who knows about responsibility, hard work, organization and being a team player, hire a Badger-student athlete.

Place our athletes in either labor jobs or internship type office positions with the opportunity for advancement after graduation. We believe that this program is mutually beneficial to our athletes as well as to employers during their heavy work times.

It is through the support of dedicated volunteers that the University's sports program is so successful. No group better represents this commitment than Bucky's Ambassadors. This group of volunteers spends hours leading tours, handing out schedules and posters at games, assembling media kits and direct mail projects, acting as hosts and crowd controllers at special events, and many other personal and group activities. Look for the Ambassadors dressed in their Bucky jackets or red Badger vests at each Badger game. Thank them for a job well done. If you're interested in joining the Ambassadors, please call 608-262-7234.

The Wisconsin Department of Athletics has a number of teams that regularly contribute to the city via outreach programs. The Madison community is truly supportive of the UW-Madison athletic teams and their student-athletes.

In appreciation for that support, many student-athletes volunteer frequently in community service projects. Every season, the football team works together on a community service project to give back to Madison.

Among the projects that the Badgers have participated in recently were landscaping and cleanup days in the Eric Circle, Allied Drive, Vera Court and Harmony Park neighborhoods. The team has also participated in several walk-a-thons to raise funds for charitable causes as well as projects with Habitat For Humanity and Hammer With A Heart. Players and coaches make visits throughout the year to the UW Children's and Veterans' Hospitals, area schools and numerous other charity functions.

GOOD WORKS

Former UW fullback Cecil Martin (left) was named to the American Football Coaches Association "Good Works" team for his community service in 1997 and 1998. He was cited for establishing an offseason program for players to visit the UW Children's Hospital. Martin also served as a mentor at the Southside Community Center, where he tutored and played with children.

Martin continued his charitable support as a member of the Philadelphia Eagles where he won the team's 2000 Ed Block Courage Award.

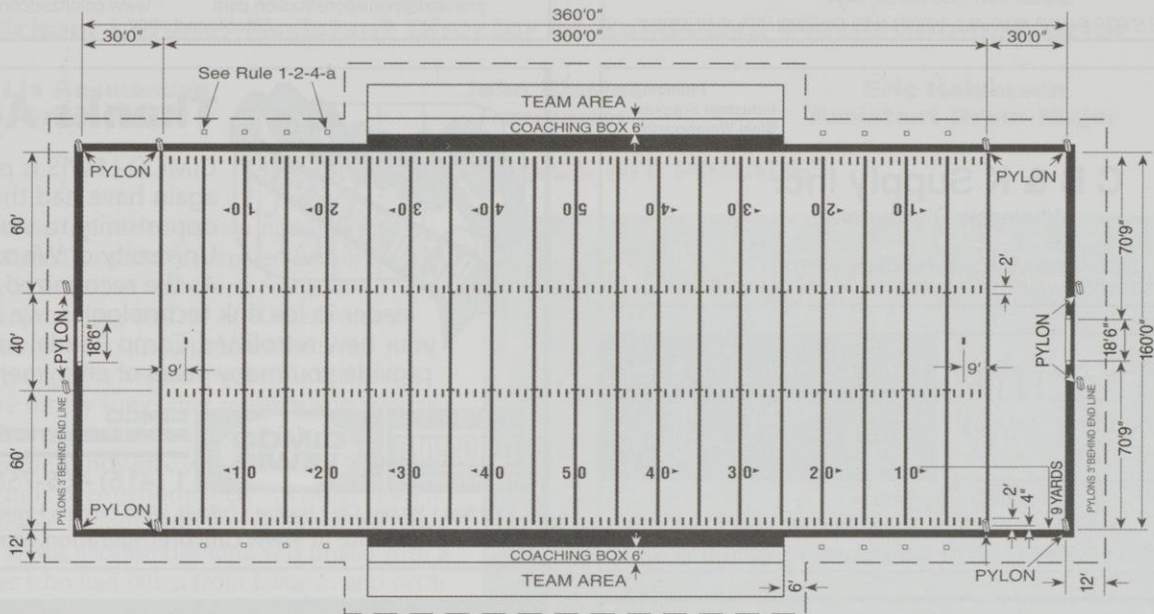

He also was named an "Unsung Hero" by the NFL Players' Association and was featured on the Fox Sports All-Madden Team as one of the National Football League's "good guys."

"ANNOYING SONGS HIT PARADE"

Several weeks ago a well-known national magazine published a carefully prepared listing of what was called "The Most Annoying Songs of All Time." In providing this list of 50 well-known tunes, there was no attempt to evaluate the musical structure or the aesthetic value of the songs, they were simply songs that research and several surveys had labeled as "annoying." In many instances the annoyance was caused by "over popularity" and "over performance," in other cases it was a likeable melody with a very annoying lyric ... often it was because the song was linked with a performer who had fallen from favor ... and occasionally it was because the song was simply not very good. There were songs that were the products of "one hit wonders" while others were regularly performed by highly respected artists such as The Beatles, The Beach Boys, or Simon and Garfunkel. These were all songs that climbed high onto the charts as part of our country's cultural scene. As their final performance of the season in Camp Randall, the Wisconsin Band examines a few of the somewhat irritating melodies we have chosen as ... THE ANNOYING SONGS HIT PARADE.

The Halftime Show concludes with the UW Band's traditional final game formation ... "On Wisconsin" as a salute to the great Badger fans, the team, and a tribute to the seniors.

At Pre-Game the band will salute the 2004 Badgers and welcome the team and fans from the University of Minnesota. The University of Wisconsin Band helps initiate The Year of the Languages as planned by the University's Language Institute by performing a special pre-game concert presentation featuring the percussion section with special material developed by Assistant Band Director Michael Lorenz in a classic American favorite "La Bamba." Pre-Game concludes with the traditional presentation of the National Anthem and the introduction of Bucky Badger to Camp Randall Stadium.

FORMATION

Opening Drill "We Built This City" (Starship 1985)

Kaleidoscopic Drill "Itsy Bitsy Teenie Weenie Yellow Polka-Dot Bikini" (Brian Hyland 1960)

Concert Presentation "Achy Breaky Heart" (Billy Ray Cyrus 1992) and "Elvira" (Oakridge Boys 1981)

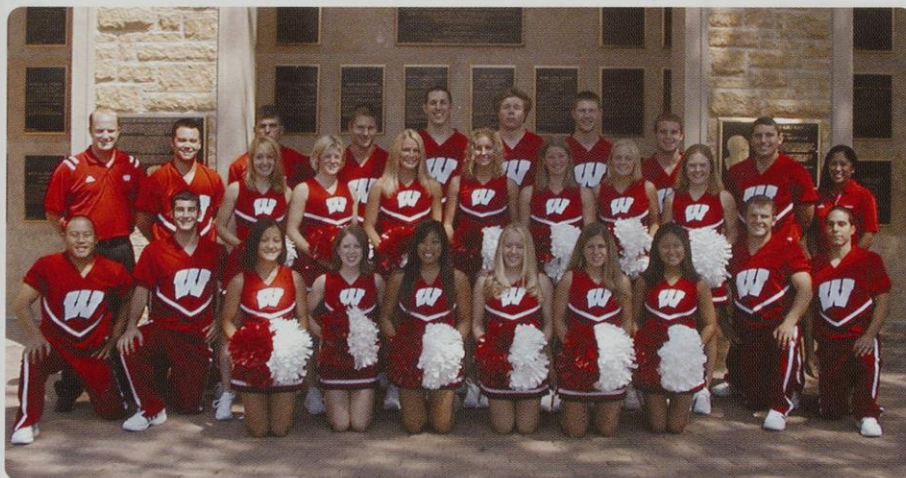

Dance Drill "Copacabana" (Barry Manilow 1978)

Closing Drill "Help Me Rhonda" (Beach Boys 1965) and "Feelings" (Morris Albert 1975)

The Wisconsin Band is pleased to announce three recordings are now available. The band performs with the Electric Tailgate Company on a CD recently released, the "Badger Bandstand," and the "5th Quarter;" all are available on cassette or CD. Also available are two videos; highlights of the band's trip to the Rose Bowl in 1994, "The Road To The Roses" and a documentary of the 1999 marching band season "March On, Wisconsin." Contact the Band Office for further information (455 N. Park St., Madison, WI 53706, phone 608 265-4120, or www.badgerband.com). Mark your calendars! The 2005 Varsity Band Concerts will be held on April 21, 22 and 23 in the Kohl Center. Tickets will go on sale through the Band Ticket Office (608 265-4120) on February 14.

Each week this season the Badger Gameday Football Program will feature some of the most enthusiastic fans from the previous home game. If you see candid Tamara (Flarup) come your way, be sure to put on your best Badger face. You could end up in the game program or on uwbadgers.com. Here are some of the best from the Badgers' win over Northwestern on Oct. 23.

VITAL STATISTICS

Name: Paul Gruber
Badger Bio: 1985-88
#62, Offensive Tackle
Birthdate: 02/24/65
Current Residence:
 Edwards, Colo.
Status: Married

For many players their football career ends when they graduate college. For the few that are talented and lucky enough, they can enjoy a few more years playing professionally. Former Badger offensive lineman, Paul Gruber has played football 15 of the last 20 years.

Following his collegiate career Gruber was the fourth overall pick in 1988 NFL Draft. After playing 12 years for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, Gruber retired in 2000 and later moved to Colorado to enjoy the outdoors, his family and life.

Starting from his rookie season Gruber was an integral part of the Bucs' offense. He started all 16 regular season games in 10 of 12 seasons and set club records for games played and started (183). Lining up next to 12 different starting left guards, protecting 12 quarterbacks, under the direction of four coaches, Gruber was regarded as the cornerstone of a franchise that didn't have a winning record until his 10th season.

Though playing in his own games has prevented him from returning to Camp Randall Stadium, Gruber credits the University of Wisconsin and the football program with helping him to where he is today.

"I think the process and some of the difficulties that you go through on a daily basis, just being at an institution with such high academic standards and graduating—going through that process prepared me," said Gruber. "Also, I think Dave McClain was a great role model. For me he was a role model for the way you conduct yourself."

Gruber was never voted to a Pro Bowl and like many offensive linemen, was not always the most

player in the game. Still, when he announced his retirement then-Buccaneers head coach Tony Dungy had this to say about him:

"You always knew he was a good player, very solid ... and he played the game the same way every time. When I got here you saw how he prepared and played, and you understood why every game was the same. He did everything the same way and wouldn't allow himself to have a poor game."

Enjoying his retirement, Gruber works from home as an investor allowing plenty of time to explore the nature surrounding his home near Vail, Colo. Gruber and wife, Brenda, have three children, Blake (15), Chase (13) and Ashlyn (10), all of whom share his athletic and active lifestyle. With the mountains out their back door the Grubers enjoy skiing, snowshoeing, snowmobiling and hunting.

Entering this season, the expectations were high for the Wisconsin men's cross country team. The Badgers returned all of their finishers from a team that placed second at the 2003 NCAA Championship and added a healthy Matt Tegenkamp, a senior who earned two All-America honors before missing most of last season with an injury.

Thus far, UW has met those expectations. At last Sunday's Big Ten championship, the Badgers, currently ranked No. 1 in the country, cruised to the title, winning by a conference-record margin of 81 points. It was their sixth consecutive Big Ten championship. Junior Simon Bairu, sophomore Chris Solinsky and Tegenkamp finished 1-2-3 as Wisconsin's top six runners placed among the top 13. UW's 23 total points were the fourth-lowest total in 90-year history of the event.

"I think the guys really performed well today. They did a great job," said UW coach Jerry Schumacher after the race. "You can never anticipate going 1-2-3 like that; that was really neat the way that worked out. We just went in to have our best performance, to have our best race today. I thought they did a great job."

For Bairu, it was his second consecutive individual title, joining Matt Downin, Tim Hacker and Don Gehrmann as the only Badger runners to accomplish that. A UW runner has now won six of the last seven Big Ten individual titles.

Solinsky, Tegenkamp and senior Josh Spiker, the sixth-place finisher, joined Bairu on the All-Big Ten first team. Junior Bobby Lockhart and sophomore Tim Nelson placed 11th and 13th, respectively, to earn second-team all-conference honors.

"Going into the race, we wanted to work together, help each other stay as relaxed as possible," said Bairu of the Badgers' lead trio. "The way I look at it, I was just fortunate to feel the best out of the three. I think on any given day, any one of us could have won it and I was fortunate enough to win it."

Up next for the Badgers is the NCAA Great Lakes Regional in Ypsilanti, Mich., on Nov. 13. UW has captured four of the last five regional titles, including the last two in a row.

After that, Wisconsin gets the shot it's been waiting for all season, the NCAA Championship. After consecutive runner-up finishes at the national meet, the Badgers hope they have the right blend of talent and experience to capture the fourth NCAA title in school history. The others were in 1982, 1985 and 1988. Coach Schumacher was a part of that 1998 champion.

"We're in an exciting position, being ranked No. 1 right now," Schumacher said. "We don't mind being in that position. If we were ranked 20th, we'd try to do the same thing, which is go out there and run our best and see what happens. But we're really excited to head into this part of the season."

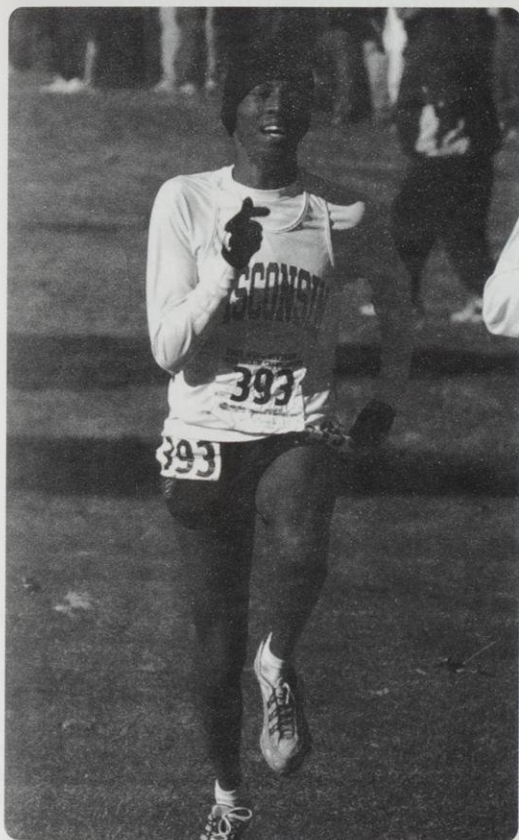

The Badger runners are very experienced at the NCAA meet, with 10 runners on the roster having competed at the national championships during their careers. Tegenkamp, Spiker, Bairu, Lockhart and Solinsky have each earned All-America honors in the past. Tegenkamp placed eighth in 2001 and 12th in 2002 before missing last year's race. Spiker was ninth in 2001, as was Bairu last year. Solinsky earned a 15th-place finish as a freshman last year while Lockhart was 23rd in 2002.

"We have to work on some things for the upcoming NCAA championship," said Schumacher of his team. "I think if we keep working towards improving ourselves as a team, it should be a fun part of the end of the season for us."

The NCAA Championship will be held in Terre Haute, Ind., on Nov. 22. The men's race begins at 11 a.m.

"This is the start of the championship season," Tegenkamp said following the Big Ten meet. "We knew we were the strongest team here; all we had to do was just go out and run our race and we would have the team title."

"With what our team did today, I think it just shows how deep we are, how strong we are, and what we're capable of doing this year."

Simon Bairu captured his second consecutive individual Big Ten title at the 2004 Big Ten Championship on Oct. 31, leading Wisconsin to its sixth-straight team title.

Each year the Badger Fund faces the challenge of funding the athletic scholarships and facilities available to the 750 student-athletes who represent the University of Wisconsin. Because the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics is a self-supporting entity and receives no state tax dollars for its $50 million annual budget, the generosity of alumni and friends is vital to our continued success.

He's Back!

Michael Bennett, who had been placed on the injured list because of a sprained right knee for the first six weeks of the season, made his return on Sunday to the football field for the Minnesota Vikings.

In Week Seven of the NFL season, Bennett returned to the playing field against the Tennessee Titans. Although Bennett saw very limited action, it was a win for the former UW running back who carried the ball just once for no yards. Last week versus the Giants, Bennett carried the ball five times for 20 yards scoring on a 10-yard touchdown run.

The addition of Bennett to the star-studded Minnesota offense, featuring the likes of Duante Culpepper and Randy Moss, plans to add even more depth to one of the NFL's most potent backfield trios with rookie sensation Mewelde Moore and Onterio Smith.

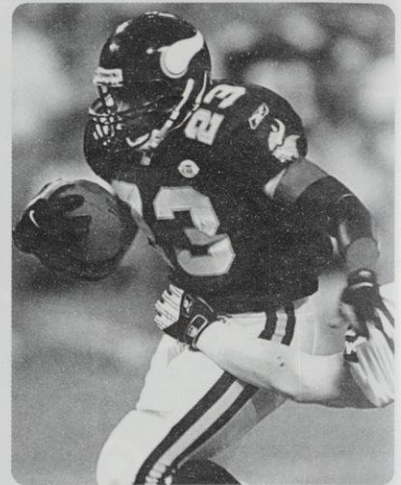

The former Big Ten sprint champion was drafted in the first round (27th overall) in the 2001 draft by the Minnesota Vikings. The fourth-year pro ranks third in Vikings' history for rushing yards by a rookie with 682. Bennett had a pair of 100-yard rushing games as rookie, going for a career high 113-yards versus the Tennessee Titans. He also set the Vikings' record for the longest reception by a running back with an 80-yard touchdown reception against Pittsburgh.

In his second season, Bennett played in all 16 games, accumulating 1,296 yards and five touchdowns, which earned him a trip to the Pro Bowl. He averaged 5.1 yards per carry and his longest run of the season was for 85 yards.

Playing in his third-year for the Vikings, Bennett was hampered with a foot injury which allowed him to play a total of eight games. On the season, Bennett had 90 carries totaling 447 yards and one touchdown.

Bennett is the first Badger ever drafted by the Vikings in the first round. You can see him in action this week on Monday Night Football against the Indianapolis Colts.

Chris Chambers

NOTES

✓ Last week in Dallas, rookie line-backer Alex Lewis recorded four tackles and had one sack for five yards on quarterback Vinny Testaverde.

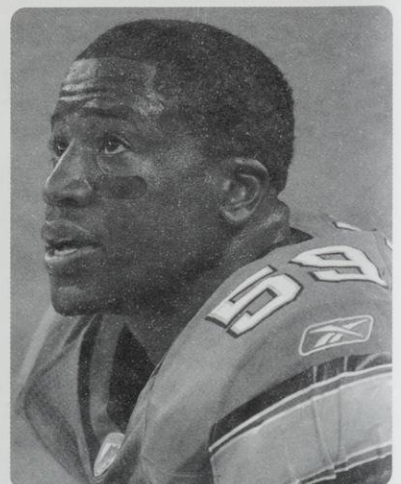

✓ Thus far, Chris Chambers has 25 catches totaling 307 yards. Chambers has grabbed three touchdown scores and is averaging 12.3 yards per catch.

✓ Jamar Fletcher of the San Diego Chargers is seeing extensive playing time as a nickel back. He has played in all seven games, recording 14 tackles, breaking-up three passes and making one fumble recovery.

✓ Al Johnson has started the last six games at center for the Dallas Cowboys. Johnson, who missed all of last season with a knee injury, assumed the starting role in Week Two vs. Cleveland.

✓ Buffalo Bills rookie receiver Lee Evans has 11 catches for 257 yards scoring one touchdown. Evans is averaging 23.4 yards per catch with his longest grab going for 65 yards.

✓ Nick Greisen, linebacker for the New York Giants, has played in seven games this season making 13 tackles, while breaking up two passes.

National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame

These seven former Badgers have received the highest honor the game of football affords. They have been inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame. They are the greats of the game and their achievements are documented at the College Football Hall of Fame in South Bend, Ind.

Pat O'Dea (elected in 1962), nicknamed "The Kangaroo Kicker," was a two-time All-America fullback and punter between 1896-99. He was also a two-time team captain.

Robert Butler (elected in 1972) was a three-year letterwinner at tackle and won all-league (1912-13) and All-America (1913) laurels.

Pat Harder (elected in 1993), an All-America fullback, was the Big Ten's scoring and rushing champion in 1941.

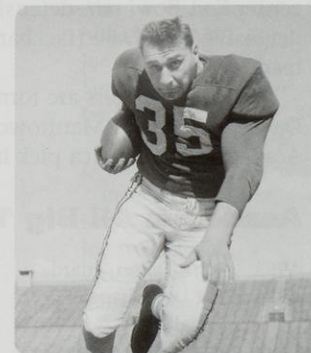

Dave Schreiner (elected in 1955), the two-time All-America end, was the Western Conference MVP in 1942.

Pat Richter (elected in 1996) was a two-time All-America end and led the nation in receiving as a junior.

Marty Below (elected in 1988), a rugged right tackle, earned All-America praise as a senior.

Alan Ameche (elected in 1975) was the 1954 Heisman Trophy winner and a multi-year All-American in the classroom and on the field.

Academic All-Americans

The College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) selects the nation's Academic All-America teams. To be nominated, a student-athlete must be a starter or important reserve with at least a 3.20 cumulative grade-point average for his career.

CoSIDA Academic All-America All-Time Team

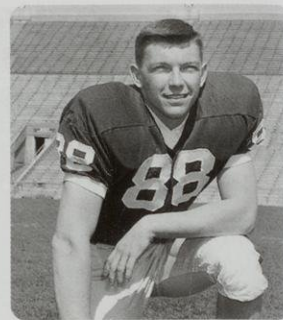

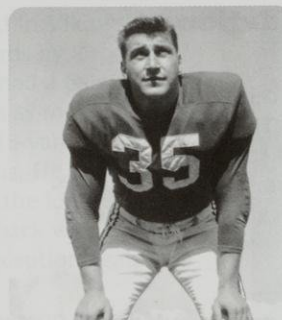

Four former Badger football greats were named to the Academic All-America All-Time team at the College Sports Information Directors of America convention in 1998.

Fullback Alan Ameche was a first-team choice and center Ken Bowman, defensive lineman Don Davey and defensive back Dale Hackbart were named to the second team.

All four Badgers are former Academic All-Americans. Davey, a native of Manitowoc, Wis., is the only four-time Academic All-America pick in university-division history.

Alan Ameche (left) and Pat Richter are both members of the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame. Ameche, along with former Badgers Ken Bowman, Don Davey and Dale Hackbart, was also named to the Academic All-America All-Time team.

ACADEMIC HALL OF FAMERS

Two former Badger gridiron stars (Alan Ameche and Pat Richter) have been inducted into the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame.

To gain admittance to the Hall, student-athletes must be former Academic All-Americans who distinguished themselves off the playing field after graduation.

Ameche, who played professionally after graduation, retired in Philadelphia after his career and became one of the city's philanthropic leaders. Richter played pro football in Washington before returning to the UW to earn his law degree. He worked at a Madison law firm and at Oscar Mayer before his appointment as Director of Athletics at the University of Wisconsin.

Radio Coverage

For the 11th year in a row, exclusive radio coverage of Badger football can be heard on the 46-city Wisconsin Radio Network. The Department of Athletics and Learfield Communications / Badger Sports Properties entered into an agreement for radio broadcast rights for football and basketball in 1994.

WIBA-AM (1310 AM) and WIBA-FM (101.5 FM) are the rights holders in the Madison market, and WTMJ (620 AM) carries the games in Milwaukee.

Television Coverage

It's easy to follow Badger football through the Big Ten's comprehensive television package. Most Wisconsin games will be selected for live TV coverage on either ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 or ESPN Regional.

All Badger home games are televised on a delayed basis by Wisconsin Public Television (WHA-Madison, WPNE-Green Bay, WLEF-Park Falls, WHWC-Menomonie, WHLA-La Crosse, WHRM-Wausau and WMVT-Milwaukee). Broadcast across the state educational network, the football replays on WPT air most Saturdays at 10 p.m. WPT and Badger sports have been partners for more than 25 years.

The Barry Alvarez TV Show

The "Barry Alvarez Television Show," produced by Learfield Communications / Badger Sports Properties and WISC-TV, is a 30-minute program of highlights, interviews and features on Badger football.

The show airs twice on Sunday in the Madison area on WISC-TV at 10:30 a.m. and on UPN14 at 10:30 p.m. The show can be seen statewide on Fox Sports Net North at 6:30 p.m. on Monday.

uwbadgers.com

The Department of Athletics has made a strong commitment to bringing its news straight to the fans. The Badgers' Web site (uwbadgers.com) produces news updates multiple times daily to keep fans up-to-speed on the happenings in the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Web users can tune in for live video streaming of media news conferences, chat with coaches, staff and student-athletes, order tickets online or listen to live radio broadcasts of games.

■ ALL-TIME TEAM

In conjunction with the centennial celebration of college football in 1969, Wisconsin fans selected the school's all-time team. The 11-man unit features 1954 Heisman Trophy winner Alan Ameche, who was voted "All-time Greatest Player."

ALAN AMECHE (1951-54): 1954 Heisman Trophy winner ... set NCAA career rushing mark (3,345)

KEN BOWMAN (1961-63): 10-year NFL career with Packers ... played in East-West Shrine Game

HOWARD "CUB" BUCK (1913-15): Labeled by some as the best lineman of his era ... consensus All-American

PAT HARDER (1941-42): Second pick in NFL draft ... MVP of Chicago Tribune College All-Star Game

ELROY "CRAZYLEGS" HIRSCH (1942): Set many receiving records with Rams ... eventually served as Badger A.D.

DAN LANPHEAR (1957-59): Madison native was a 1959 All-American before pro career with Oilers

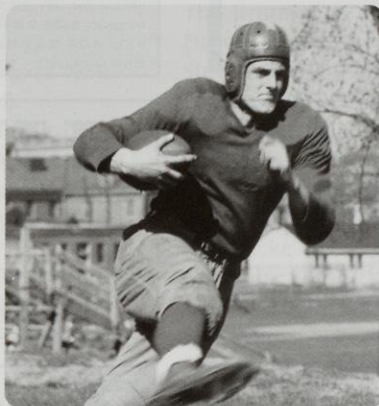

ARLIE MUCKS, SR. (1914): All-American on gridiron and silver medalist at Olympics (discus)

PAT RICHTER (1960-62): Hall of Fame inductee both on field and in classroom ... former Badger A.D.

DAVE SCHREINER (1940-42): First two-time All-American ... three TD catches in one quarter still a school record

RON VANDER KELEN (1962): Passed for 401 yards vs. No. 1-ranked USC in the 1963 Rose Bowl

ROBERT "RED" WILSON (1946-49): Big Ten MVP in 1949 ... played baseball for the Chicago White Sox, Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers

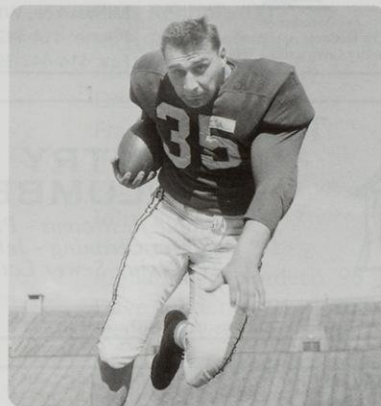

#40 Elroy Hirsch

Elroy Hirsch played only one season (1942) at UW, but he was one of the most beloved sports figures in school history. Hirsch, nicknamed "Crazylegs," rushed for 786 yards for Wisconsin's 8-1-1 team in 1942. He starred for nine years with the L.A. Rams and later served as UW's Director of Athletics (1969-87).

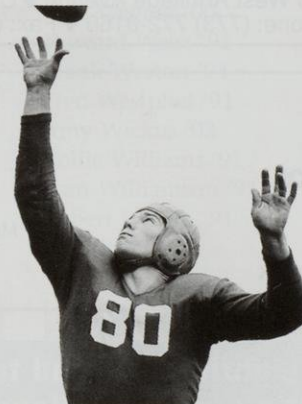

#83 Allan Shafer

The memory of former quarterback Allan Shafer is continued with the "Living Memorial" Scholarship that is given in his name. Shafer was fatally injured during the 1944 Wisconsin-Iowa game. Shafer is one of two Badgers (Jay Seiler is the other) to die from a football-related injury.

#35 Alan Ameche

Alan Ameche, the 1954 Heisman Trophy winner, was a three-time All-American and ended his career as the NCAA's all-time rushing leader. He led the Badgers to the 1953 Rose Bowl and rushed for 133 yards in that game. The four-time NFL Pro Bowl pick was inducted into the College Hall of Fame in 1975.

#80 Dave Schreiner

Dave Schreiner, the two-time All-American end, was named Western Conference Player of the Year in 1942. Schreiner lettered three years at the UW as an end, both on offense and defense. He is a member of the National Football Foundation and W Club Halls of Fame. He was voted to the UW's all-time team in 1969.

What Every Badger Fan Should Know

With increasing numbers of NCAA rules governing outside intervention in recruiting, coaches cannot afford to have any extra "help" in recruiting elite student-athletes to the University of Wisconsin. The penalties are too severe.

Here are some tidbits of information concerning you and Badger athletics ...

You are a "representative" of the UW's athletics interests (i.e., booster) if any of the following apply:

- a) you are an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin;
- b) you have ever made financial contributions to the athletics department, to an athletic booster organization of the UW, or to a UW athletics program;
- c) you have ever helped to arrange employment of enrolled student-athletes and/or National Letter of Intent signees;
- d) you have ever been involved in any way promoting the Badger athletic program.

Once an individual is identified as an "athletics representative / booster," the person retains that identity forever, even if that person no longer contributes to or supports the athletics program.

NCAA Bylaw 13.01.5 states: In Division I, a representative of the UW's athletics interests is prohibited from making in-person, on-or-off campus recruiting contacts, or written or telephonic communications with a prospect or the prospect's relatives or legal guardians.

A prospect is any student who has started classes for the ninth grade. In addition, any student younger than ninth grade could become a "prospect" if they receive any benefits from an institution or a booster. Student-athletes enrolled in preparatory school or two-year colleges are also considered prospective student-athletes.

What Can You Do?

If you know of a high school or junior college student-athlete who might want to attend the UW, the only permissible activity for a representative is to call the appropriate UW coach.

Extra Benefit Rule

A representative of UW athletics interests cannot provide an "extra benefit" to a prospective or enrolled student-athlete. An extra benefit is any special arrangement by an institutional employee or a booster to provide for a student-athlete or a student-athlete's friend or relative not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation. Some examples of prohibited activities are:

- a) providing gifts or reduced cost services;
- b) providing a loan, or arranging for or co-signing a loan;
- c) employing relatives or friends of a prospective student-athlete as an inducement for the enrollment of the prospect;
- d) providing use of an automobile;
- e) providing rent-free or reduced-rent housing;

f) providing tickets to an athletic, institutional or community event;

g) entertaining or contacting a prospective student-athlete or a prospective student-athlete's family on or off campus;

h) promising to provide any of the above;

According to NCAA rules, the University of Wisconsin Athletic Department reserves the right to withhold any benefit or privilege associated with their athletic department (i.e., booster clubs, ticket privileges, etc.) from individuals that are involved in a violation of NCAA legislation.

Employment

NCAA rules are such that opportunities for your interaction with student-athletes are very limited. One of the best opportunities for alumni or friends of the program to assist student-athletes financially and provide them with a valuable internship experience is through employment. A representative of athletics interests is permitted to provide employment for student-athletes under the following conditions:

- Compensation can't include any remuneration for value or utility that the student-athlete may have for the employer because of the publicity, reputation, fame or personal following that he or she has obtained because of athletics ability;
- Compensation for only work actually performed; and
- Compensation at a rate commensurate with the going rate in that locality for similar services.

With more than 700 student-athletes competing at the UW, the Department of Athletics encourages businesses to hire Badger student-athletes. Please contact John Chadima at the UW Football Office (608-262-1861) or the UW Department of Athletics if you are interested in pursuing these opportunities further.

For more information regarding rules and regulations, or for an informational brochure regarding rules for alumni and friends of Badger athletics, please contact the UW Compliance Office at 608-265-2973.

Today's athletes, tomorrow's leaders

BOB RASHID

Badger student-athletes excel in the classroom and in their sports because they are surrounded by a strong support team. The University of Wisconsin Foundation is a member of that team. We work with people like you on behalf of Badger athletics to provide opportunities for financial assistance. Your support enables student-athletes to concentrate on studying, training and competing. It's an investment that pays off in today's competitions and tomorrow's careers.

You can help Badger athletics through a variety of gift options including endowments and deferred gifts. Through an endowment, your gift is invested to provide annual scholarship aid for student-athletes while the principal is conserved. Thanks to you, Wisconsin's winning tradition will continue into the future.
