HUGE BONFIRE WILL FOLLOW PEP SESSION

Record Sale of Tickets Re- ported—Madison Mer- chants to Decorate

A huge bonfire, 50 feet high and 40 feet in diameter, will be burned on the lower Campus immediately after the Homecoming pep meeting in the gymnasium next Friday evening. Illinois' goat will be paraded around the fire, and the team will be given a final out-of-door cheering.

Practically all the merchants in Madison are giving empty boxes for the fire. Several truck loads have already been collected from along State street and the square, and stores in other parts of town are now being canvassed. A large shed which was to have been used in the Cap night fire last spring is to be used as a nucleus for the pile. Twenty gallons of kerosene will be used to insure a quick blaze.

Reports from the gymnasium office indicate that the largest crowd ever attending a homecoming game will witness the Illinois-Wisconsin contest Saturday. Over 18,000 tickets have been applied for by students and alumni. Requests have come in from alumni in nineteen states.

Student ticket sale for the Illinois game closes today. All applications for tickets at student rates must be made by mail, with fee card enclosed. Those mailed later than today cannot be considered.

Freshman men are asked by the bonfire committee to turn out in a body at 1:30 next Friday afternoon to help build the fire. Each man is asked to bring at least one box to add to the fuel.

Merchants to Decorate

All Madison merchants are urged to co-operate with student organizations in decorating for the Homecoming week end. Prizes of two trips to Chicago and two tickets to the game on November 20 will be offered to the merchants presenting the best window displays in keeping with the idea of the celebration. Two first prize cups will be offered to the best decorated men's and women's organizations or rooming houses.

Homecoming dance tickets are selling fast, according to the committee. A limited number, 400, has been offered for sale. They may be secured for $2.00 at Morgan's, the University pharmacy and at the Park hotel.

TURNER TO SPEAK AT BADGER CLUB

The speaker at the Badger club of the University Y. M. C. A. next Sunday night will be E. S. Turner, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for the Philippine Islands, who will present a few of the problems of the foreign work of the association, and recount some of the work which the Y has accomplished in the Islands.

The hosts and hostesses for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Aust, Miss Adams, mistress at Barnard hall, and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Brandenburg.

"Doc" Dorward will lead the community singing, and refreshments will be served. The meeting starts at eight o'clock Sunday evening, and all men and women are invited.

STUDENT BODY AND TOWN PEOPLE UNITE TO ACCLAIM FAMOUS ARTIST

BY MAX PETERSEN

Last evening's concert was one that will be long remembered by those fortunate persons who heard it as the finest musical treat of many a season. There is not much risk in saying that it is the finest concert that we have had in the armory. The audience did their best to show Mr. Kreisler that they were fully appreciative of the music. The writer has no recollection of any so enthusiastic ovation being given to any artist before this on our campus. And yet it is the regret of some that the folks were so generally minded to leave that the hearing of several more encores was lost. It may not be known by many here how fine a program often follows the printed part in the concerts Kreisler plays in large cities. This practice is not an imposition on the artist when it is the sincere expression of pleasure. It is hoped that when again so great an artist as Kreisler comes to play for us we will not set out to leave until we have heard all that may be given.

The immense following that has long clamored for seats to Mr. Kreisler's concerts has not been won by any other fact than that he is master of the supreme purpose of violin playing—song. His program of last evening was more evidence of this fact. In the first number of the program the outstanding feature was the fact that what in the hands of any ordinary player would have been a piece of brave technic was turned into simple song. The second group, into which Mr. Kreisler so generously consented to add the Bach Chaconne was more amazing still for this same delicacy of melody. There is little that can be said that does not seem trivial in attempt to report what made the evening so much a supreme success. The last group of numbers was mostly given to those things that have become known, some of them at the hearings of Kreisler. The encores at the end of the program were equally well known and for that reason particularly welcomed.

KREISLER SPENDS LEISURE TIME IN VARIED PURSUITS

Famous Violinist is Interested in Many Activities Outside His Own Field

BY MARION GOODWIN

"Spare time!" exclaimed Fritz Kreisler, the world-famous violinist when interrogated by the Cardinal reporter as to what he does with his spare time. "Good Lord! If the day had 36 hours I could use every minute of it. I compose some, play the violin a little, and write reports for the charity committees in which I am interested, study Latin and Greek and find a thousand ways to employ my time."

The kindly, keen, unassuming, and fascinating musician is interested in so many things besides his music that it is difficult to keep in mind that he is the one and only Fritz Kreisler. The twenty minutes which he gave to the Cardinal reporter were full of the interesting thoughts that reflect so exactly the breadth and depth of his interest in all phases of activity.

"Conditions in Austria are simply frightful," he said in discussing the time he recently spent in that country. "Austrian money has dropped to five per cent of its original value, and the poverty and suffering are inconceivable to one who has not actually witnessed it. A pair of leather shoes cost the equivalent of $50 and people are wearing wooden shoes and paper clothes, which," he added with a smile, "are not much good in the rain."

"Yes," he said in answer to the reporter's question, "the money sent over by America for relief work has accomplished wonderful things. The American Relief commission feeds 110,000 children every day in Vienna alone. Contrary to the opinion held by some of your people over here the money given for Austrian relief is all used for the purpose for which it is given."

"There is some of the gay life of Vienna left," he continued, "but it is mostly for the foreigners who will pay. Luxuries can be procured if there is sufficient money to pay, but the majority of the people are in the direst straits. I have known a family to exist for a week on three carrots, and milk is unknown."

Mr. Kreisler exhibited a keen interest in the Wisconsin school of journalism, and when the reporter stammered, in answer to a question, that among other things the student

BADGERS FACE STIFF CONTEST WITH GOPHERS

Weston Will Start Play— Large Crowd Expected at Game

BY AL. W. FROGNER

(Special to The Cardinal)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—A short walk at Northrup field and a chart was the schedule for the Badger football squad after their arrival here yesterday morning. Coach Richards kept the players off their feet most of the time and most of them are in excellent physical condition for the game against Minnesota this afternoon.

Weston Will Play

In spite of his injuries received in the Ohio game, Captain "Red" Weston will be in the line-up at the start of the game today. It is

PROBABLE LINE-UP

Minnesota	Wisconsin
Eckberg	LE Weston
Teeberg	LT Scott
Nolan	LG Brader
Clements	C Margoles
Tierney	RG Margoles
Frazer	RT Stark
Gruye	RE Tebell
Brown	Q Barr
Oss	LH Holmes
Regnier	RH Elliott
McClintock	FB Sundt

doubtful, however, if his running mate "Gus" Tebell will start and Barnes will probably be on the right end. The remainder of the line-up will be exactly the same as the one which started the Ohio State game. While there is no overconfidence among the Wisconsin players, they are determined to whip the Gophers tomorrow.

Coach Richards has nothing to say regarding the outcome of the game but he stated briefly that the Badgers were prepared to avenge the defeat of last year. Minnesota's line-up is still in doubt and the team may go into the contest captainless. Neal Arnston, captain of the Gopher machine, was called to Red Wing yesterday, where his sister died today. Arnston will return to Minneapolis today to confer with "Doc" Williams.

Large Crowd Expected

One of the largest crowds in the history of Minnesota is expected to see the kickoff at 2 p. m. Only a few of the best seats are left and with all stands in use Dr. L. J. Cooke, director of athletics, predicts a 25,000 gathering. With the exception of right tackle the Minnesota line will be the same that faced Illinois last Saturday. Eckberg and Gruye will play ends, Teeberg and Frazer tackles and Nolan and Tierney guards. Clements, injured in the Illinois clash, is expected to start at center. Referee, Masker, Northwestern, Umpire, Schoenover, Chicago.

PLOTS FOR MOVIE MUST BE IN TODAY

The plot contest for the Varsity movie ends today. All manuscripts must be at the office of the production manager in the Union building by noon today to be considered in the running for the $25 prize.

The plot for the movie will be chosen next week by the heads of the several student dramatic organizations. The work of producing the film will begin as soon as selection is made. The camera man, Clifford Tuttle, has already filmed several candidates for places in the cast to find out how well they photograph.

YOU are lucky to have any rockets today. We almost went up to the Beta country. Only a little disagreement with the source of our financial support prevented us.

CAN BE OBSERVED

ON NOVEMBER 10

A partial eclipse of the sun occurs on Nov. 10, visible throughout the northeastern portion of the United States and Canada, according to information given out by the Washburn Observatory. At Madison the eclipse will begin at 7:53 a. m., and end at 8:45 a. m., but only a small part of the sun's face will be obscured.

Mercury will be an evening star at the beginning of November although not well situated for observation. Toward the end of the month and in the early days of December it may be much better seen as a morning star. Venus is coming into view as an evening star, but will not reach its greatest brilliancy until after the end of the year. Mars, although an evening star, is unfavorably placed for observation. Jupiter and Saturn are conspicuous in the morning sky.

The most interesting constellations visible during the evening hours of the month are, to the west, Lyra and the Northern Crown; to the south, Aquila and Capricornus; to the east, the Great Square of Pegasus, and low down in the northeast, Capella, the principal star of the constellation Auriga.

November is a month in which

Taurus and Leo seem to be the

BUSINESS MEN AID IN SENDING BAND TO GAME

Madison Merchants Contribute
$300 Toward Fund—Dad
Morgan Gives $100

With $700 raised by the students and $300 contributed by Madison business men to pay their expenses, the band boys left last night at 10:40 for the Minnesota game, and the strains of "Varsity" and "On Wisconsin" will not be lacking this afternoon when the Badger team gets onto the field.

Although only $650 was cleared by the first day's tagging for the band, $700 had been raised by Friday afternoon, and since the business men of Madison had offered to make up the deficit, the necessary $300 was contributed by them,

"Dad" Morgan volunteering $100.

The band will arrive in Minneapolis this morning at 8:05 and their presence at the game this afternoon will be a big inspiration to the Badgers, as it was at the Illinois game last year.

SUCCESS OF UNION BOARD PLANS DUE TO CO-OPERATION

Stock Pavilion May be Necessary in Future to Accommodate Music Lovers

"Complete success in the plans of Union board to secure musical artists and to arrange for performances which should be enthusiastically received this fall has been due to the whole-hearted support of the student body and to the efforts of William B. Florea who has had charge of the series of concerts this year," said Professor C. H. Mills.

"Season tickets will all be sold out the first week, when a corresponding series of concerts is offered next fall," prophesied Professor Mills. "Students will find it to their advantage to be sure of a seat at the musical program which they desire to attend and will buy season tickets. It may be necessary to bring the stock pavilion into requisition, if the enthusiasm so widespread among lovers of good music continues to manifest itself."

Professor Mills feels that the board is entirely right in making the question of student backing and co-operation a primary consideration. It is the big mass of young men and women who are the ones to be satisfied, and not any little group who form a small percentage of the whole.

At Illinois, Minnesota, and Michigan universities, a concert series is arranged every year. The aim is not only to obtain singers and musicians for the season in question, but also to look ahead and with the assistance of competent advice to be able to ascertain with a fair degree of correctness those who will be future leading figures in the musical world.

of journalism is taught reporting, he said, "Oh, that is an art."

He seemed interested in the fact that the reporter did not have stereotyped questions to ask him. "Men in public life," he said are always asked the same things. Why doesn't the average reporter who is, for instance, interviewing Caruso, ask him what he would do if he lost his great gift?"

When the reporter turned his own question on him he answered "That is quite simple. I would become a teacher of foreign languages." The famous musician is a master of Greek, Latin, French, and Spanish, besides Austrian and English.

Kreisler, who is 46 years old, looks considerably older. He says that his experiences across the water have aged him a great deal. The famous violinist had heard yesterday before his concert of the death of a very dear friend, and it was with a visible effort that he threw off his sorrow to give his attention to the interview.

The only other member of the Kreisler family who is musically inclined is a brother of the violinist, a cellist in Vienna. Fritz Kreisler's father is a physician and the violinist himself studied medicine until he found that it interfered with his musical career. He is the only member of the family who has ever been to this country. His initial trip was made twenty-five years ago.

"I find conditions in America very good," Kreisler said. "There has been a slight industrial set-back since my last visit, but the present state of affairs seems very satisfactory to me."

Mr. Kreisler was entertained after his concert last night at a reception at the home of Prof. Waldemar von Gelch. Dr. C. H. Mills and many other prominent faculty members as well as town people were there.

NEWS FROM RIVAL CAMPS

MINNESOTA

MINNEAPOLIS—Dr. Williams called his first and second string men to work an hour earlier in a last effort to get his men in tiptop shape for the game with Wisconsin Saturday on Northrop field. The first two teams started scrimmaging at 3 o'clock and kept at it for more than two hours. Pete Regnier was kept on the side lines because of a bad shoulder, but will be in the game Saturday. Ekberg was in the scrimmage at full back, but Tierney and Clement stayed on the side lines. The Wisconsin squad will arrive this morning.

MICHIGAN

All the men were in good condition with the exception of Tad Wieman, veteran tackle. Johns will play tackle in his absence. The team which will start against Ohio State will be composed of Goebel and Cappon, ends; Goetz and Johns, tackles; Dunne and Wilson, guards; Vick, center; Dunn, quarter back; Usher and Steketee, halves, and Nelson, full back.

OHIO STATE

COLUMBUS, O.—The Buckeyes were drilled in formations for their last night of hard work before the Michigan game. Tackle Spiers was not in the lineup and will be unable to play Saturday, which will balance the absence of Wieman, Wolverine tackle. It is uncertain how Coach Wilce will arrange his line in the absence of this star tackle.

The back field probably will be the same as that which faced the Maroons, since it was able to gain steadily against the heavy Stagg line. It is hardly probable that Wilce will make any shifts in his back field as long as the regulars keep going like they have been in the last games.

The Buckeyes are looking for a tough battle and are prepared for most any kind of attack. Their offense can be guessed and victory will result unless Yost presents a defense which will stop the Buckeye machine.

INDIANA

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—In order to make members of the Indiana squad fight hard for their positions Head Coach "Jumbo" Stiehm last night picked two varsity elevens, had them select their own signals and stage a regulation game. The result was that a team captained by Elliott Risley defeated one piloted by "Cow" Minton, 28 to 0. Straight football and the forward pass featured the play, which was the first in two weeks in which spectators were admitted.

Kyle, Thomas, and Raymond thrilled the crowd time and again by brilliant end runs with perfect interference. Capt. Risley blocked two passes and intercepted one running to the one yard line.

Stiehm and several members of his squad leave today for South Bend to scout the Notre Dame-Purdue game.

AG-HOME EC PARTY IN LATHROP TONIGHT

Good things are promised for the Agric-Home Ec. party to be given in Lathrop gymnasium, November 6, at 8:30 by the Agricultural College federation.

"Only six hundred tickets have been printed," says B. W. Allin, general chairman of the event. "Half of these will be sold to women and the other half to the men, thus insuring an equal number of each."

Tickets can be bought all day today in the lobby of Ag. hall. No men excepting agrics can purchase them, but all university women can obtain them while they last. There will be no sale of tickets at the door.

There will be dancing, a peppy six piece orchestra furnishing the music. The party will be chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. James, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sumner, and Miss Abbie Marlott.

The committees are:

Carol Parkinson, Walter Koehler, tickets; Russell Frost, publicity; Gilbert Marshall, floor; Henry Katz, program; Vangel Russell, decorations; Lillian Frazee, refreshments.

ILLINOIS OUTLINES BUILDING PROGRAM

"The University of Illinois must have $15,500,000 for its ten year building program," declared President David Kinley in a recent address.

Fifty class rooms and 150 to 200 faculty members must be added to the university's resources by next fall, according to President Kinley.

"The present Agricultural building is a disgrace to the campus," he said. "It is entirely inadequate." Speaking of the rooming situation, he declared that "if dormitories large enough to meet the demand under this system are built it will require an additional six million dollars."

ENGINEERS' SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL HOP

The Chemical Engineers' society will hold its second annual dance tonight in Lathrop parlors. The dance is open to all chemical engineers and their friends. A few tickets may yet be obtained from the committee in charge.

George P. Hampton, managing director of the Farmers' National Council, has sent a letter to the council to President Wilson urging him to use his best efforts to prevent further wars. DO YOU HIKE?

Spend a Pleasant Day Circling the Drive Around the Lake

Autumn weather in Madison is almost as dangerous to the student morale as spring. Everyone is seized with the desire to hike somewhere and forget the trials of a student's life. Those who prefer short tramps find the Lake drive very desirable and its present population is practically equal to that of spring.

An entire afternoon free will induce one to take a longer hike. For this purpose the tramp from Sunset point northwest, by fields and roads, crawling over and under fences, to Merrill springs, is recommended. The return can be made over the Willow drive. Picnickers will find Merrill springs one of the most ideal places for an outing.

A still longer walk is the one around Lake Mendota. It is 23 miles around the lake and the trip requires nearly a whole day. "No one who has good health ought to graduate from the university without walking around Lake Mendota," says Prof. Warner Taylor of the English department. "It is the shortest 23 miles that I know of."

Beyond Merrill springs and emptying into the northwest corner of Lake Mendota is Pheasant branch, which may be made the goal of another hike. A mile and a quarter from the mouth of the branch is another picnic spot at the spring "Belle Fontaine," called that by a party of rangers from the lead region, which camped there in 1832. Charles E. Brown, curator of the state historical museum, has supervised the publication of a pamphlet "Little Walks About Madison," which is prepared for the use of the university students. These leaflets may be obtained at Mr. Brown's office in the library.

OUTING CLUB PLANS NOVEL HIKING PARTY

Outing club will give a bicycle hike Saturday morning to all members and others wishing credit in club work. The hike will start from Lathrop hall at 10 o'clock, and the girls will be gone for an hour and a half or two hours. Those wishing to go may sign up on the Outing club bulletin board in Lathrop.

There will also be a roller skating party at the same time. Girls are to meet at the round table in Lathrop hall, and all that can be urged to bring their own roller skates, as there are very few pairs supplied. Both of these activities will give Outing club credit.

HESPERIA HOLDS WEEKLY MEETING

Hesperia Literary society debated the subject "Resolved that the commerce school of the University of Wisconsin be established as a separate college" at their weekly meeting held last night in the Hesperia rooms. The negative team with M. C. Pearson, closer, Ebert and Risser, won the decision of the judges by a three to two vote. The affirmative team consisted of Tangney, closer, Sabin, and Mountain. H. C. Walther made a short talk on "This Winter's Coal Supply." Refreshments were served after the program.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 55 at 2 p. m. and the lowest was 36 at 6 a. m. Sun sets at 4:45.

A storm is developing in the southern plateau regions that will cause rain or snow here over the week end. The weather has been generally fair during the past 24 hours, except in the lake regions where wind and showers accompany the passage of a storm.

SENIOR PICTURES ARE DUE NOV. 15

A third of the seniors have not yet turned in their photographs for the Badger, according to Margaret Chambers, who is in charge of this section.

"The seniors have been awfully goo about it," said Miss Chambers, "and we appreciate it. But there are only ten days left now, because all appointments must have been made before November 15. Our agreement with the photographers expires then, and we can't hold up the whole section for those photographs which are not in at that time. Most of the seniors have been prompt and considerate."

Only about 200 senior summaries have come in thus far. Seniors should not forget that these must be in by December 1.

Proposed changes in the Monona Park management were discussed by members of the council Monona park committee last night.

The contract made last spring with John Boyd by which he was to expend $6,000 for improvements and repairs on the auditorium in return for the use of the building for five years was considered.

In view of the fact that Mr. Boyd is on the grounds daily, it was proposed that he be given charge of the care of the park.

LAW FRATERNITIES CANCEL GRID SCRAP

The long-heralded football game between the rival law fraternities, the Phi Delta Phis and the P. A. D's, once postponed and finally scheduled to be held yesterday afternoon at Camp Randall, was called off after failure of the P. A. D's to meet the financial arrangements, according to the Phi Delta Phi manager.

The Phi Delta Phis, who won the game last year, were counting on repeating the performance this season and had got together a team from their chapter composed entirely of former college, normal and high school grid stars. A turkey dinner was to have gone to the winning team.

PROGRAM GIVEN BY
Y. W. COZY HOUR

The second of the Y. W. cozies was held in Lathrop yesterday afternoon, with the girls of the cabinet acting as hostesses. The entertainment was provided by Dorothy Dwight, who gave dialect readings, and Martha Buell, who played several selections on the violin, accompanied by Helen Cheetam.

The Y. W. C. A. is offering many inducements in the way of good entertainment to secure a large attendance at these cozies, as it is felt that they will help in the promotion of acquaintances among the girls. It is planned to hold one of the cozies every two weeks and to make them very informal.

DANCING AND DECENCY

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made at some of the more popular of the dance halls that no extreme forms of the Terpsichorean art will be allowed hereafter.

Such a policy is timely and indicates the prospect of a return to sanity regarding dancing. The regrettable feature of it all is that the initiative came from the managers of the halls after several student organizations had brought the matter up for consideration. The situation should never have reached the stage where such a policy became necessary.

Dancing is recognized as a beneficial form of recreation in most of the universities of the country. Blanket criticism of the dance is now out of fashion. However, the fashion may change if abuses set in which offend the established proprieties.

Now cruel and unusual forms of dancing open the way for criticism of all other forms and this is unfair. Something must be done at once to put a stop to disgusting motions that shame the participants and cause the spectators to grieve.

The tea hound menaced us last year and a little pitiless publicity put him out of business. The same means should be employed to curb the activities of those who are making dancing indecent.

ORGANIZATIONS

IT is remarkable how organizations of all descriptions have multiplied on the campus in recent years. The new student is fairly bewildered when he looks about and sees a formidable array of societies, clubs, and associations that vie with each other for members. It would not be difficult for the average student to align himself with a dozen or more congenial groups.

Out of this condition two questions arise. In the first place the number of new organizations must be held down to a minimum. We are facing a situation of over-organization. The result is that the existing organizations suffer and the students are unable to give the necessary support to all the ones with which they are affiliated. In the second place the men and women must exercise discretion in joining organizations. The tendency is to become associated with too many of them. The best plan is to concentrate on a few and work faithfully with those few.

FRESHMAN SCHOLARSHIP

THE consensus of opinion among members of the faculty appears to be that not in many a weary season has the freshman's scholarship record at the university been at so low a level as it is this fall. The complaint is voiced most persistently and vehemently by those unfortunates who must expound to a muddled freshman class how little it actually knows as compared with what it thinks—and sometimes indignantly insists—it knows.

How explain the distressing and indisputable truth? Is it because of the unusually luxuriant burgeoning forth among the girls of corrugated hair effects, beau-catcher bangs, and detachable complexions; among the men of an increased ardor to acquire so distracting a crop of beauty? Certain it is that never before have either the men or women of the freshman class shown so meagre a realization of what they have supposedly been sent to the university for.

This is the deplorable situation, concisely, literally presented. Who, among the Hill sages, will furnish the answer to the puzzling riddle; and—what is of still more burning importance—who will prescribe a cure for the evil?

BULLETIN BOARD

ILLINI, ATTENTION!

The Madison University of Illinois club is making plans for attending the Wisconsin-Illinois game, for establishing headquarters for the time, and for entertainment of Illini. All former University of Illinois people are requested to see Asst. Professor K. F. McMurray, Physics Economics building, or M. E. Dansants are not allowed.

Communication

WHY NOT STUDENT RATES

To the Editor:

Last spring the athletic department informed us that for a period of five years the Wisconsin-Chicago game would be played in Chicago, on the last football date of the season. The department likewise informed us that it was hoped that the game would become the "Classic of the West, as is the Yale-Harvard game of the East." Alumni would be able to come to the game from surrounding territory, and everything would be sweet and lovely. We agreed that it would be a good idea to have the alumni at the games. We also agreed that Chicago was probably more convenient to the alumni than Madison, and that the student body did not count, after all.

Is it fair, however, to spring public prices on us? The students of Chicago university, with no expensive train trip, no hotel bills, no expenses such as are incidental to a trip from here to Chicago, will be given choice seats in the concrete stand for the usual fifty cents plus a fee card.

The Wisconsin man or co-ed who goes to Chicago, must on the other hand, pay public prices of three dollars for seats as good as those of the Chicago students, and this in addition to all the expenses necessary to get him to the field.

The athletic department complains of scalping. Why not use the same method they have used in former years—have each student sign a card here and countersign it in Chicago before he can get a ticket?

If the game at Chicago is merely a money-making venture, then why call it amateur football and call it the great college game. If, however, it is a game by the students for the students, by all means give us a chance to see the game without having to walk to Chicago to see it.

OBSERVATORY NOW PLACE OF INTEREST

Vega was staring as the inquisitive reporter peered through the telescope at the Washburn observatory Wednesday night.

"You are not seeing Vega as it is at present," said the wise astronomer. "The light that strikes your eyes left the star before you were born."

Vega glittered in a way befitting a star which is one of half a dozen of the brightest performers on the celestial stage. Its rays have not been captured in the telescope for so long that the astronomer has forgotten when Vega last appeared in public here.

The inquisitive reporter grew more inquisitive as she squinted up into the sky. Vega was scarcely visible to the naked eye, but through the telescope her light flickered from brilliant blue to orange.

"The colored lights are no part of the star. They are made in the telescope," explained the wise astronomer patiently, as the inquisitive reporter prepared to give up her place to one of the twenty-five impatient admirers of Vega. "Yes, the telescope will be focused on some other body when the observatory is open to the public again on the third Wednesday of this month. Maybe we can catch the moon then."

NEW HATS MUST BE LOW AND SOFT AND COMFORTABLE

By ELOISE.

THE trimming of the new hats is their least important item. They can be made of almost any fabric, draped or folded or fitted in almost any way, but they must be low and soft and comfortable, and they must constitute that picturesque frame for the face which, after all, is their one excuse for being.

In the Parisian world of fashion there is an arbitrary and unwritten rule that felt hats are only for mid-season wear. This rule is being observed more or less on this side of the ocean this year. Blocked felt hats in light colors as well as in dark have been the mode for the past few weeks and now with the real fall season here the hats that appear are built from all sorts and conditions of material. They are of duvetyne and velvet, of tailors' satin and of hatters' plush, of ribbon and of braid, of lace and matine. They come down well about the eyes and face, and hug the hair, but the resulting shapes show a pleasing, almost bewildering variety.

Here are three new chapeaux which follow the new rules, low, soft, comfortable and a pleasing frame for the face.

Wright, and Thelma Johnson left Madison on the noon train yesterday for Minneapolis. They attended a dance at the Pi Beta Phi house last night.

Patsy Watson and Agnes Iverson were among those who left last night for Minneapolis.

FORMS $600,000 ROAD PROGRAM

County Engineer Hirst Draws Up Big Project for Dane County

A three-year road building program, necessitating the expenditure of about $600,000 and concentrating its aim on the gravel surfacing of roads, was drawn up for Dane county yesterday by State Highway Engineer Hirst. Mr. Hirst suggested the expenditure of the sum for bridging, grading, draining and culverting the state trunk highways, estimating that the total cost of the project, distributed over a three-year period, would approximate a one-mill tax per year on the taxable valuation of the county.

Postponement of contemplated concrete work which was to have been ordered done by the county board at its fall meeting next week, is suggested by A. R. Hirst, state highway engineers, who declares that the funds available for road building in Dane county, if expended on concrete highways, are not enough to construct the mileage needed to remedy the conditions in the county. He believes that the money should be used on gravel road construction and in grading, draining, culverting and bridging highways at needed points in the county.

"Let us at least have gravel road,

HAIR NETS!

$1,929.60 Per Month Spent by Co-eds to Restraine
Waves

Why is it that the same angry Zephyrus which chops Mendota into millions of white-capped, turbulent waves leaves undisturbed the marcelled tresses of the fair co-ed in their unwavering ripples?

The whole secret lies in one flimsy article—a hair net. The average girl uses about two hair nets a week, and there being 2,437 women at the university, 4,874 hair nets are worn every week. If all co-eds are economical and undiscriminating enough to wear Woolworth's nets, $487.40 is spent on hair for one week. Again, $1,949.60 per month is the amount which Wisconsin co-eds expend on such filmy nothingness as nets.

But let's have the hair nets!

which, under the present economic conditions are the next best thing," said Mr. Hirst. "We must at all events have passable roads.

"I believe that Dane county should have bonded at the time of the referendum last year for the construction of a complete system of concrete and gravel roads. The voters of the county decided otherwise and this decision having been reached there is nothing further to be done by the public officials of the county and the state but to abide by it and to endeavor to take such measures as will make the best of the situation as it exists.

The November county board meeting of the Dane county supervisors is faced with the proposition: What is to be done? This problem also faces the state highway commission in its consideration of the proper methods of expending $580,000, to be provided equally by the federal government, the state and the county for road construction within the county.

tion on Russell Sage Report

MILWAUKEE — "The Ayres Report ranks Wisconsin thirty-third among the states and other areas of the Union educationally. This report furnishes us a convenient mirror to see ourselves educationally in some fundamental aspects. It reveals to us a dirty face. Judging by the past, the problem before us is, Shall we attempt to smash the mirror, or wash our face? Apparently

NAME OFFICERS
MILWAUKEE — Supt. B. E. McCormick of La Crosse was elected president of the association Thursday afternoon. J. H. McNelis of Beloit withdrew from the race. Lillian McCormack, classroom teacher of Superior, and F. S. Hyer, president of the Whitewater State Normal school were nominated to the executive committee. The office will be filled by election Friday morning the State Superintendent is determined to smash the mirror. I think we had better wash our face."

This is the educational situation at the present moment as it was presented to the State Teachers' Association in an address on "The Wisconsin Educational Situation" by Major Edward A. Fitzpatrick, Secretary of the State Board of Education.

Answer Is Not Criticism

Major Fitzpatrick said: "The answer to the Russell Sage Foundation study is not alibi nor criticism, but constructive program." He continued. "The Ayres study says that we are thirty-third. What are we really going to do about it? Suppose everything the State Superintendent says about the report is true. Suppose it should be that Wisconsin is thirtieth instead of thirty-third, or twentieth, or seventeenth, where we were 20 years ago when the present State Superintendent took office. The challenge of such a situation is not met by alibi nor by explanation which do not explain, but by program and leadership.

Three Corrective Measures

"The correction of the present situation is found in three things:
1. A competent courageous educational leadership.
2. A reconstruction of the machinery of state educational administration.
3. A comprehensive state-wide educational program.

Boy scouts on rocks overlooking swimming hole, in Woodrow Wilson reservation

"The Boy Scouts' Paradise" is what the boys themselves call the Woodrow Wilson boy scout reservation, a 41-acre tract at Burnt Hills, Md., given to the scouts of the District of Columbia by Robert S. Brookings. There are streams, wooded hills, an ideal swimming hole in the tract.

How Large is an Atom?

ATOMS are so infinitesimal that to be seen under the most powerful microscope one hundred million must be grouped. The atom used to be the smallest indivisible unit of matter. When the X-Rays and radium were discovered physicists found that they were dealing with smaller things than atoms—with particles they call "electrons."

Atoms are built up of electrons, just as the solar system is built up of sun and planets. Magnify the hydrogen atom, says Sir Oliver Lodge, to the size of a cathedral, and an electron, in comparison, will be no bigger than a bird-shot.

Not much substantial progress can be made in chemical and electrical industries unless the action of electrons is studied. For that reason the chemists and physicists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are as much concerned with the very constitution of matter as they are with the development of new inventions. They use the X-Ray tube as if it were a machine-gun; for by its means electrons are shot at targets in new ways so as to reveal more about the structure of matter.

As the result of such experiments, the X-Ray tube has been greatly improved and the vacuum tube, now so indispensable in radio communication, has been developed into a kind of trigger device for guiding electrons by radio waves.

Years may thus be spent in what seems to be merely a purely "theoretical" investigation. Yet nothing is so practical as a good theory. The whole structure of modern mechanical engineering is reared on Newton's laws of gravitation and motion—theories stated in the form of immutable propositions.

In the past the theories that resulted from purely scientific research usually came from the university laboratories, whereupon the industries applied them. The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company conceive it as part of their task to explore the unknown in the same spirit, even though there may be no immediate commercial goal in view. Sooner or later the world profits by such research in pure science. Wireless communication, for example, was accomplished largely as the result of Herz's brilliant series of purely scientific experiments demonstrating the existence of wireless waves.

At The Theaters

AT THE STRAND

Robert Warwick in kilts is a feature of "The Fourteenth Man" the picture which is showing at the Strand theater for the last times today. He is the role of an officer in a Highland regiment whose habit of always helping out the underdog gets him into difficulties and forces him to flee the country. In America he encounters more adventures, including a set-to in a prize ring and a certain pretty girl. However, all ends happily. Bebe Daniels is the leading woman, and a clever cast surrounds Mr. Warwick. It is a Paramount Arclight picture. There will also be shown Booth Tarkington's Edgar and the Teacher's Pet.

"The Prince Chap"

Thomas Meighan and an all star cast in "The Prince Chap" will be the attraction at the Strand theater for three days commencing Sunday.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Although none of the acts at the Orpheum for the last of the week are unusual, Jessie Hayward is back with her laugh-getting comedy sketch, "Air Castle Kate." Jessie plays the role of a seasoned actress who takes a timorous young fledgling under her wing. The inexperienced actress who is making her first appearance fits in admirably. Well set and well acted, the sketch takes headline honors.

With chatter that is carried off in good style, Morgan and Gates get lots of applause. Even if some of the jokes are fringed with gray, they get across because of the personality of the two.

Bobby Folsom, a charming girl with a dress of tulle of every color, sings some songs and tells some stories that please her audience.

Grace Le Mar, a clever impersonator, imitates the movie fan and the young married woman who goes on her first shopping trip.

Gabbert Duo open the bill with some difficult acrobatic stunts.

Three Chinamen close the bill with an oriental conception of American jazz. The critic wonders what is left of the piano when the almond eyed actor is through with it.

Junior A. of C. Meet

Charles E. Whalen of the Rotary club addressed seventy-five young business and professional men, members of the Madison Junior Association of Commerce, who opened their second year of activity last night with a supper and jollification at the city Y. M. C. A.

Harry Park, new president of the association, presided. Martin Dunn presented several of his inimitable "Canuck" stories. A feature of the program was the drawing for prizes presented by Madison business men.

CITY GETS PERMIT FOR GARAGE AND STORE ROOM

A building permit was granted to the city of Madison Friday morning to construct a $17,000 fireproof garage and store-room for coal on Patterson st. The garage will be completed soon, but no building permit had been taken out. Leon A. Smith waterworks superintendent, is directing the work. L. B. Gilbert has the contract for the brick work, and O'Dea and Schaefer constructed the concrete foundation.

MADISON MEN TO HOUSING MEET

Local Men May Go To Committee Hearing in Chicago

The United States senate committee on reconstruction will hold hearings on housing in Chicago, Nov. 10 and 11, and the local Association of Commerce has been asked to either send a delegation to these hearings or submit data relative to the Madison situation, or both. It is believed that a number of Madison people will be represented at the hearing. The plan suggested is to have a special committee of the Association of Commerce go over the local situation with representatives of the real estate board, and others, and have drafted a definite statement.

Hearings are to be held in Cleveland, Des Moines, Omaha, Denver, Kansas City, New Orleans and Birmingham, in addition to the hearings next week in Chicago. The purpose is to take testimony with reference to the general construction of houses, manufacturing establishments and buildings and ascertain the effect thereof upon other industries and the public welfare. Recommendations are then to be made which will stimulate building.

UNIVERSITY "Y" SENDS 13 MEN TO STATE MEET

Thirteen men left yesterday to represent Wisconsin at the first annual State Student conference being held at Carroll College this weekend by the State Y. M. C. A. They are John Clark, Walter Koehler, Walter Johnson, Art Wileden, Andrew Ewing, Grant Browne, Wesley Travers, Hans Feldman, Charles McGill, Joe Hopkins, Walter Ingram, Al Willett, and Harry Fuchs. "Dad" Wolfe, secretary of the university Y, accompanied the delegation.

The conference is being held by the Wisconsin schools at this time because many of them were unable to send delegations to the annual Lake Geneva conference of all schools and universities of the middle west, held last spring at examination time. The state conference is intended to foster Y. M. C. A. work in the colleges and universities of the state, and the speakers have been chosen from among the men in closest touch with student Y work in this country.

All three of the principle speakers have spoken before Wisconsin audiences within the last year. A. J. Elliott, student secretary for the central region of the Y. M. C. A., Dr. Charles W. Gilke, of Hyde Park Baptist church, Chicago, who spoke before the "Y" fellowship meeting here a short time ago, and J. Stitt Wilson, who gave a series of talks here two weeks ago, are to deliver the leading talks.

The work of each college will be presented at the meet, and plans for further development of the association in the colleges will be made. The conference, which started yesterday, will last over Sunday.

Test Boy's Sanity—John Lancaster, a high school boy who is charged with breaking windows in the Randall school, has been remanded to the custody of the sheriff, and as soon as his parents arrive he will be given a sanity examination.

ORATORS PLAN FORENSIC FEST TUESDAY NIGHT

"We expect it to be unusually brilliant affair," said Arnold Perstein, one of last year's intercollegiate debaters, in speaking of the forensic dinner Tuesday, Nov. 10, at the Belmont hotel. "For the first time in our history all of the best and cleverest orators in the university will be at the banquet, for this is the first time the women have been invited."

It is hoped that there will be no arguments, but those in charge are not at all sure of their ability to restrain the arguers who will be present.

Brilliant oratory will be the rule as everyone there who is not already an orator either wants to be one or is interested enough in the subject to keep quiet and listen when the fireworks begin. But whether these pyrotechnics will develop into a regular debate or not remains to be seen. The toastmaster will do all that he can to keep the affair within bounds.

A restraining influence ought to be felt, as members of Pythia and Castalia and other interested women are especially invited and will be present in large numbers to lend a refined aspect to the occasion.

START FOR COLUMBUS BUT LAND IN JAIL

It's a long, long way from Urbana jail to Chicago, but that's as close as three students from Ohio State ever got, in their journey from Columbus to Chicago on the "blind baggage."

All went well until they arrived in Urbana where they found a reception committee of police awaiting for them. After spending the night in jail, two of them were released. The third was forgotten by the police and was kept in jail the rest of the day without anything to eat. He finally made himself heard, and the police released him.
