UNION VODVIL PROHIBITED BY FACULTY EDICT

Alternate Year Rule Revived By Hostile Committee

Plans to hold a Union Vodvil this year to assist in raising funds for the Union Memorial were killed on Monday when the dramatic division of the committee on student life and interest placed a ban on the vodvil because of last year's performance.

The show, which is ordinarily held on alternate years, and which was given in December, had been planned by Leslie Gage, member of Union board and production manager of the show, who obtained the endorsement of Dean Goodnight last spring.

"We had been working all summer to have a Union Vodvil show this year simply to raise funds for the Memorial," Gage said. "Dean Goodnight seemed to favor the project and told us at the time that he would use his influence with the committee on student life and interest to gain their permission. I had made arrangements to get the Parkway theatre for December 15 and 16, but we have cancelled our engagement. The plan was definitely killed on Monday when the committee over-rode Dean Goodnight."

The refusal to permit the staging of the show is based on the argument that last year's show was not conducted properly, Gage said. Many of the faculty were of the opinion that the vodvil was not a worthwhile undertaking, and that the most undesirable acts drew the most applause, according to Gage. The opinion that university girls should not perform in the ranks of the chorus is prevalent among faculty members, the committee's report would indicate.

HAREFOOT PLAYS MUST BE WRITTEN BEFORE OCTOBER 5

Club Needs More Time to Construct Original Scenery

A deadline for the submission of copy for the $100 prize contest for the best Haresfoot book for this year's show has been set for October 5, according to Gerald Kock '23, president of the organization.

The early date for the closing of the contest has been set because of the increased work to be undertaken this year in the building and painting of original scenery. A committee consisting of Hubert Townsend '23, T. Faxon Hall '23, and Sidney Thorsen '24 has already sketched work for the new venture but are waiting for the content of the winning manuscript before continuing further.

Many of the eastern schools have already attempted to construct scenery for original productions and have met with great success. It is felt that the work affords an opportunity for developing a new branch of dramatic talent in the university and also gives a fresher and brighter appearance than rented second-hand drops and curtains.

Plan Big Trip

The committee which has charge of the selecting of the winning play is made up of Hobart Price '23, Joel Swenson '23, and Porter Butts '24. of the selecting of the winnetao. Several books are already nearing completion and many more are expected to be offered before the final date.

The entire scope of Haresfoot work this year is to be enlarged. In addition to the new scenic venture it is planned to take a more extensive trip with the show than ever before in the history of the organization. If present plans are completed this year's trip may include such places as Indianapolis, Davenport, and Springfield. Minneapolis and Duluth are also being considered.

Enrollment in English 30 Goes Over Expectations

The enrollment in English 30, survey course, far exceeds the expectations of English department heads. About eighty per cent of Letters and Science students have chosen English 30 in preference to English 33, a new course.

Dean Nardin Leaves For Club Convention

Dean F. Louise Nardin returned to her office today after an illness of two days.

Miss Nardin left today for Wausau to attend the convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs which is being held there. While there she will make an address before the convention.

Dean Nardin expects to return to Madison Friday.

WESLEY FORUM STARTS SUNDAY

Will Have Prominent Men and Women to Lead Discussions

President E. A. Birge, Attorney General William J. Morgan, Mayor I. M. Kittleson, Dr. Lynn Harold Hough, Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, prominent university professors, and other business and professional men will speak and conduct discussions at Wesley forum which will be held at Wesley Foundation every Sunday evening at 7:30, according to an announcement made today by an executive group of 50 students and faculty men which has the work in charge.

The initial series of lectures begins October 1, when Dean George C. Sallery will talk on "Pupil and Teacher". Social ideals at Wisconsin will be discussed by Dean F. Louise Nardin, Dr. John R. Denyes, for 20 years an educator in Asia, will tell of the Mohammedan menace. President Birge concludes the October series with a lecture on spiritual power.

Subjects are Pertinent

Various phases of the controversies between science and religion will be discussed by Profs. L. A. Kahlenberg, M. F. Guyer, A. K. Lobeck, and Dr. W. D. Stovall.

The Movies and Morals is the topic of Prof. M. V. O'Shea's talk. Social issues, citizenship, and faith are to be discussed during the coming year. Those who will lead the forum meetings on these subjects are Attorney General Morgan, Mayor Kittleson, Mrs. Burr W. Jones, Jerome H. Coe, Attorney Frank W. Hall, Dr. Hough, President Plantz, and Professors D. D. Lescohier, Guy Lowman, J. R. Commons, H. F. Rall, and J. H. Farley.

The forum idea has been growing rapidly in cities. In 1913 a forum of applied religion was started at the University of Wisconsin by Dr. Edward W. Blakeman and a small group in the University Methodist church. In 1916 that group was succeeded by the Wisconsin forum which confined its debates to social and political topics.

ELECTRIC STUDENTS HEAR PROF. ROOD

"Membership in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers is very desirable and almost necessary if the student wishes to keep in touch with the electrical work of today," said Prof. James T. Rood of the College of Engineering in a talk before the student section of the A. I. E. E. Wednesday evening in the Electrical Engineering laboratory.

"If you wish to become acquainted with such men as Charles P. Steinmetz, the great electrical genius, there is no better way than in the discussions at the clubroom of the institute," said Professor Rood.

"When you are alone in a great city and know no one with whom you can talk to on electrical subjects, the institute clubrooms will always be open to you. And if you should find a job in an unsettled country, the journal of the institute will always keep you in touch with the electrical world."

HIGH AVERAGE WON BY FARM HOUSE GROUP

Leads Professional Fraternities With Average of 2.057

Farm House led in scholastic averages among professional fraternities for the second semester 1921-1922 with an average of 2.057 grade points per credit, according to figures announced by Dean of Men S. H. Goodnight. Alpha Chi Sigma, chemical fraternity, was second with an average of 2.033 grade points per credit.

Alpha Chi Sigma heads the list among pledges to professional fraternities, with an average of 2.000. the average of 309 undergraduate various groups was .021 less than the average of 309 undergraduate members. Pledges of Sigma Alpha Iota, only professional women's fraternity, averaged 2.187 a higher figure than that of any other professional group listed.

Following is a table showing the average scholastic standing of the active undergraduate members and pledges of professional fraternities for the second semester 1921-1922.

'New S. G. A. Rules' Pass Is Declared Only Rumor

The rumor afloat on the campus during the past week that S. G. A. had passed several new rules is without foundation, declared Cleo Parsley, president of the Self Government Association, yesterday. Furthermore, it was declared that it would be impossible for any new rules to be made, or any old ones changed, until after the meeting of the Legislative board of S. G. A. which will take place on October 11.

Annual All Pre-Medic Mixer Friday Night

An All Pre-Medic mixer will be held tomorrow night in Science hall from 7 o'clock to 9. It is an annual affair for the purpose of getting prospective medical students acquainted with the faculty and those already in the medical school. A free lunch will be served.

Faculty members will give short talks that will be of interest to all.

WEATHER : WARMER

Fair weather with slowly rising temperature is in prospect for Madison and vicinity today. Tomorrow also is expected to be fair and warmer.

Former Editor Attending Harvard Graduate School

William M. Sale of Louisville, Ky., graduate of the class of '22 and last year's managing editor of The Daily Cardinal, is attending the Harvard graduate school. He is taking his master's degree in English which he will complete in this year.

Birge Will Give Address In Honor of Dr. Harvey

Pres. E. A. Birge will give an address commemorating the life of Lorenzo Dow Harvey at a memorial service which will be held tonight at 8:30 p. m. in the capitol.

Dr. Harvey was president of Stout Institute from 1909 until his death two months ago and was a prominent leader in educational work for Wisconsin.

SCHULZ DEATH IS ACCIDENTAL

Coroner Says Student Died as Result of Attack of Asphyxia

That the death of Paul Schulz, senior in the Medical school, who was found dead in the bathroom of his rooming house Tuesday afternoon, was accidental was pronounced by Coroner W. E. Campbell last night. Schulz's death was caused by asphyxia brought about by asthma, Mr. Campbell said after an examination by Doctor C. H. Bunting, university pathologist. It seems that Schulz was bothered every fall with hay fever, but this had little or no bearing upon his death.

Schulz was found dead by his room-mate, Edward Poehling, who beat his way through the locked door into the bathroom, and discovered him lying unconscious on the floor.

Rev. and Mrs. Schulz arrived in Madison early yesterday morning from their home in Sheboygan to take care of the body of their son. The remains were taken to the home in Sheboygan yesterday at 1 by his brother, Karl.

Schulz was a member of Phi Beta Pi professional medical fraternity. During his first year here he was on the freshman baseball team and last year played on the varsity squad. He has been doing some outside work this season in order to defray a part of his school expenses.

CHORAL UNION TO START PRACTICE FOR 31ST SEASON

Rehearsal Tuesday; Union Plans Christmas Concert

Next Tuesday at 7 p. m. the choral union will begin its 31st season under the direction of Prof. Peter W. Dykeman of the school of Music. The weekly rehearsals of the union are open to men and women residents of Madison as well as university students.

The only qualifications are the possession of a fair voice and the ability to follow a part. Usually anyone who has been in a high school chorus, or has had similar training, can do this.

University students may do the work with or without the 1/2 credit a semester which is given if desired. Rehearsals give to the members of the union a chance to become acquainted with some of the best of the world's music and to practice for the two concerts which are given during the year.

Give Christmas Concert

One of these concerts is given shortly before the Christmas holidays. It consists of the more beautiful and typical of the Christmas carols from England, France, Bohemia, Germany, and Russia, mostly in English translation.

During the late winter and spring selections from grand opera will be studied. The second concert, given in the spring, will probably be a presentation of Gounod's "Faust."

THOMPSON WILL REPLY TO HIGH PRICE CHARGES

Orchestra Manager to Present Case to Social Groups

A promise of an answer by this noon to the demands of the Pan-Hellenic association and Interfraternity conference on orchestra prices was made yesterday by A. S. Thompson, music magnate of Madison. The student organizations were represented by a committee appointed Tuesday evening when an agreement hitting at the high price of Thompson's music was effected.

The committee, consisting of Lloyd Brown '22, Edith Jackson '24, Sherman Green '23, and E. W. Hooker L. 2, has demanded of Thompson that he publish a complete list of the personnel of all his groups and that this be kept on file at Dean Goodnight's office; that he charge no more than $50 for any collection of men, including Chudnow's and Gilmore's groups which were formerly excluded; and that he hold all of his orchestras open for student use at a month's notice.

Thompson Says Nothing

Until the demands of the two bodies have been satisfied they have agreed not to employ at any of the fraternities or sororities any of the Thompson orchestras. A penalty of loss of social privileges has been set for the breaking of this agreement.

Thompson, when interviewed yesterday afternoon, would give out no information as to his stand and as to his side of the case. "I refuse to say anything for publication, and that's all," he said.

Boyd Cooperates

John L. Boyd, manager of the Boyd orchestras when interviewed expressed himself willing to cooperate to the fullest extent with the student bodies. "I believe that $50 as a top price with a graduated scale for cheaper orchestras a fair demand and allows a reasonable profit for the manager," said Boyd. "I am willing to cooperate with all the requests of the students."

Student opinion on the question yesterday was divided but the prevailing sentiment was that dance music has continually been too high in the past and that such a sweeping measure as adopted by the combined bodies was a legitimate means toward securing a lower rate.

Law More Interesting to Women Than Engineering

The attraction of engineering has proved less than that of law for the women of Wisconsin. There are no women registered in the College of Engineering this year, while there are seven in the law school who are taking a full course and three who are taking some course in law. This is the same number that was enrolled last year, though there are only two of last year's women students back. Miss Gena Thompson, secretary for the last two years of the Women's Progressive association, is one new student.

Selling Tickets For Agric-Home Ec Mixer

"Two hundred fifty tickets already have been sold for the Agric-Home Ec freshman welcome which will be held in Lathrop hall tomorrow night," declared Marvin Schaars '24, in charge of ticket sales, yesterday.

The event is an informal welcome by upper classmen and faculty members of the College of Agriculture and the department of Home Economics school to freshmen and new students in the college.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Thompson's orchestra. Both Lathrop gymnasium and the concert room are engaged for the event. Those who do not dance will have an opportunity to use the concert room for plays, games, and mixing stunts.

LIB RULES BAN INK IN BOTTLES

Restored Anti-Bottle Rule Is Only Change This Year

No marked changes of the library rules have been made for this year, but there will be a very rigid enforcement of old rules.

No bottles of ink may be brought into the building. For the first time in 22 years this old rule will go into effect.

Students wishing to draw books for a period of two weeks must be sure that the desk attendant understands this fact.

Will Levy Fines

Books which are subject to reservation as class reference works may be drawn only during the last library hour of each day and must be returned by 8:15 a. m. the next day the library is open. The library opens at 7:45 a. m. Failure to return a class reference book will subject the person to a fine of $1 for the first hour or fraction thereof that the book is overdue, a fine of 25 cents an hour for each subsequent hour, and to a forfeiture for one month of the privilege of borrowing reserved books.

Seminary rooms will be for the use only of those doing special work in connection with the books shelved in the rooms.

Books drawn on reading room slips must not be taken from the building without being properly charged at the loan desk. For each infringement of this rule, a fine of $1 will be imposed. University credit will be withheld until all library accounts are clear. Encyclopedias, dictionaries, atlases, unbound periodicals may not be drawn from the library by students.

"Protect Innocent"

"Rules are the product of experience and are made with the idea of giving everyone a square deal," said L. C. Burke, assistant librarian, "and in order to enjoy the privileges, no one should abuse them."

"Our purpose is to protect the innocent from the misuse of the offenders. Quite naturally, the library officials are blamed for the work of the violators of the rules. Consequently, the reason for rigid enforcement is evident."

"Material in the historical section is mainly for use in the building only. However, when documents are replaceable, the staff is always glad to loan material."

"The necessity of preserving material for the future scholar is the reason that unreplaceable material is withheld from use except to those who cannot find the material elsewhere."

Watson's Home City in Mourning for Senator

THOMSON, Ga. — The town of Thomson is in mourning today for Sen. Thomas E. Watson who died early yesterday at Washington. Hickory Hill, the Watson home has been visited by hundreds of persons during the last 24 hours while telegrams of condolence continue to pour in to Mrs. Watson from all parts of the country.

Sen. Watson's body, accompanied by a delegation of U. S. Senators, is due to arrive here tomorrow morning at 11:55 and the funeral is set for 1:30 tomorrow afternoon.

MERLE SYMONDS, CLEVER STAR, AT THE ORPHEUM THIS WEEK

Program Ready to Honor Harvey

Educationalists from all over the state and United States will gather at the state capitol tomorrow evening to pay tribute to L. D. Harvey, well known Wisconsin educator who died about two months ago.

Pres. E. A. Birge, E. A. Fitzpatrick and John Callahan will be among the speakers at the exercises.

An oil painting of Mr. Harvey which has been purchased by friends will be presented by E. A. Fitzpatrick and will be accepted by Mr. Callahan.

Pres. Birge will give a short speech on "Mr. Harvey's Contribution to Higher Education."

Powers, English Actor, Discovered Here Working

For fourteen months Madison has sheltered a man of fame. This man is John Power, English comedian, who appeared with Elsie Janis at the Palace and Queen's Theatre in London. He was discovered closeted in an office suite on the third floor of the State Bank building, Pinckney street, where he is engaged in advertising and real estate.

For fourteen months Mr. Powers has dropped his professional name and has assumed the name of "John Hyman, the Advert Man". During his spare time he writes short stories and plays.

"Since I have been in Madison I have lived a life of seclusion and I have not come in contact with any of the university life, but I am familiar with my native universities, Oxford and Cambridge. I have sudden attacks of malaria, but since I have been in Madison I have felt better. Perhaps I will return to the stage when my health permits."

To Get 1 Million Tons Hard Coal

An allotment of 2,100,000 of hard coal has been made to the Northwest states, C. E. Spens, federal fuel distributor today advised P. H. Pressentin, secretary of the Wisconsin fuel committee. The allotment to Wisconsin, to be decided on in a conference at Washington this week will probably be 1,000,000 tons, Mr. Pressentin believes.

Shipments of soft coal for Saturday and Sunday of this past week were 426,500 tons, exclusive of rail coal, the state committee announced. An increase of 150,000 tons for the week.

First shipments of anthracite are to be made to Wisconsin this week.

4C Gun and Blade Club Elects Officers

The 4C college Gun and Blade club, composed of ex-service men will begin the social season with a dance in the Cameo room of the Beaver building tonight. The dance will be open to the public.

Election of officers for the club was held last week. The officers named for the coming year are: John O. Boehm, president; Charles W. Thompson, vice president; Myrtle Rand, secretary; Rollin S. Hart, treasurer, and Leonard O. Otterness, sergeant-at-arms. The club has a membership of 41 men.

Prof. Fish to Begin Series of Voter Talks

Prof. Carl Russel Fish, speaking on "The Prospect of Peace" Oct. 9, will be the first of a series of lecturers who will address the women of Madison under the auspices of the Dane County League of Women Voters and the city Y. W. C. A.

The lectures will be given every Monday evening at the city Y. W. C. A. from 7 to 8, and are free to all. They form part of the educational program of the Dane County League of Women Voters. In addition to the lectures, the Y. W. C. A. will establish discussion groups with members of the League as leaders, and will consider citizenship and the mechanics of government. Similar classes are to be established elsewhere in the city, probably at the Woman's Building.

Judge C. D. Rosa will speak Oct. 16, the Monday following Prof. Fish's lecture. His address will be on "Taxation." Prof. Graham Stuart of the department of economics of the university will speak Oct. 23 on "Constantinople and the Far East."

LITERARY MAGAZINE OUT ON WEDNESDAY

The Wisconsin Literary Magazine will be ready for circulation on Wednesday, October 4. Students will not recognize in the new buff colored magazine, the old "Lit."

As a special feature for each edition, the best two freshman themes of the month will be published. The English department will aid the editors in a selection of this material.

In addition to this feature, the October issue will contain the essay on Walt Whitman which last spring won the Vilas prize; poems; a short story on "Sweethearts While

You Wait;" and other stories. Hill sales will be limited, but the subscription campaign now on enables students to sign up in advance. The price is $1.50 for 8 copies. This covers the entire year.

Consumers League Plans Legislative Program

A legislative program for 1923 is announced by the Wisconsin Consumers' League. Legislation for which the league will work during the 1923 session includes the extension of principles of existing legislation, such as the supervision

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

$12,000 STATE BILL FOR GYM IMPROVEMENTS

University Business Manager Itemizes Improvement Cost

"$12,000 will be spent by the state in fixing up the university gymnasium for the coming year." This was the statement made yesterday by J. D. Phillips, business manager of the university. "Concrete work amounting to $3,095 has already been completed, and the tile contract calls for $1870 more. With the showers, sterilizers, filters, and so forth, the total cost will amount to about $12,000," Mr. Phillips said.

The plans call for a new swimming tank of standard 60 foot length to take the place of the old 75 foot tank. It will be lined with glazed tile and surrounded by a walk of unglazed tile to prevent slipping. The new tank will be modern throughout. The mosaic walls will be marked off in feet. There will be a gutter to remove the impure surface water, insuring a clean pool at all times.

Two new filters will operate 24 hours a day, in addition to the old filter that was in operation last year. The water will be further purified by a sterilizer, which will pass chlorine gas through it. This work is expected to be completed inside of three weeks.

The 41 new showers will probably be in operation by Monday of next week. The old shower rooms which occupied either side of the tank, have been torn down, and the new rooms built in the rear of the building. This greatly increases the locker space available, and will relieve the congestion that was observed last year.

The new plans also call for a steam room, to be finished sometime soon.

GYMNASTS SEEK VOLUNTEER MAN TO TRAIN SQUAD

Twenty Present at Meeting in Gymnasium Last Evening

Twenty men were present at a meeting held in the Trophy room of the Gymnasium last evening to consider ways and means of continuing gymnastic meets and exhibitions this season. Of the 13 gymnasts who competed in conference meets last year, 12 are eligible and out again this year.

The absence of Coach Slaughter, who is taking a year's vacation, leaves the squad without a director. A call has been sent out for anyone who is able and willing to coach the squad for one year. Anyone fitted for the position is asked to report to Instructor Linden of the Physical Education Department. Athletic Director T. E. Jones promised to try to find a coach before next Thursday evening, when the squad will meet to make final plans.

In case no coach can be found the squad will get along as best it can without one. Three or four dual conference meets are being arranged, in addition to proposed meets with Ames and a Campus Meet at Columbus, Ohio.

Five fencing candidates were also present at last night's meeting. H. D. Kitchen was elected captain and Frank Litz temporary manager.

Music Contest Selections Will Be Ready in a Month

No definite plans for the fourth music memory contest have been announced as yet. Prof. Peter W. Dykema of the School of Music, chairman of the committee, says that the list of selections for the contest will be ready in about a week.

The three of these music memory contests held in Madison in past years have been successful in arousing interest in good music. Contests are open to citizens of Madison as well as students.

Meanwell Issues Call For Frosh Basketball

The first tryouts for the freshman basketball team will be held in the men's gymnasium Tuesday evening at 7:30. This year coach Meanwell wants to get the yearling basket tossers started earlier than in previous seasons and consequently he is calling for candidates nearly two months before the tryouts have been held in the past.

The first year squad will be placed under the supervision of a former W man. All freshmen who have had previous basketball experience and any who wish to try out for the management of the team are urged to be on hand Tuesday night. This will be the first of the regular practices.

FRAT MEN PLAN WINTER BOWLING

First Match in Season Tourney To Be Rolled Next Tuesday

Inter-fraternity bowling will begin when the first ball is rolled next Tuesday evening. A meeting was held yesterday afternoon at which representatives from the various fraternity houses were present.

Instead of being under an inter-fraternity bowling league as in former year, the organization will work with the inter-fraternity conference. Three men, French, McQueen, and Emanuel were appointed as representatives to act with the conference.

There will be two divisions this year as before, with fourteen teams in each division. Drawings were made yesterday afternoon for divisions.

The preliminaries will be over with by the end of the first semester according to present plans. This will leave the second semester in which to play off the semi-finals and the finals.

At the meeting it was decided not to observe the foul-line rule.

TWELVE POUNDS AND "SHORTY" MUST PART

Coach Richards has decided that "Shorty" Barr shall hit the enemy lines with 180 pounds of fast moving brawn. This means a reduction of 12 more pounds for our stocky quarterback, who has already departed from something like 30 pounds of perfectly good flesh.

Two years ago, when Barr was in fighting trim, he weighed 185 pounds, but this season Richards is planning on an unusually fast back field, and for this season has put "Shorty" on short rations to train him down to the very prime of condition.

Just before "Shorty" rested up over last Sunday and gained four and a half pounds, the trainer wrapped him in a blanket, placed him in his heavy football togs and chased him around the field with the result that Wallace not only lost the four and a half pounds, but a half pound extra. If losing weight will make Barr any better than he already is, they might just as well pick the All-conference quarterback and have it over with.

Help For Frosh Aim Of New Y. M. C. A. Plan

A new method of helping the freshmen during the first couple of weeks of school is being sponsored by the Junior council headed by Rudolph Noer '24, vice president and J. F. Murphy '24, secretary.

Each man in the junior council, sophomore commission, and all other committees of the university Y. M. C. A., making 180 men in all, will call on 10 freshmen during the next 10 days, in order to help the new men get adjusted to their new surroundings.

They will help the freshmen in their studies, if any help is needed, and tell them where to go in case of sickness or financial difficulties. They will keep in touch with the new men constantly during the next two weeks, at the end of which time, a banquet will be given at the university "Y" for them and all other university men who wish to come.

Dr. Gilkey of Chicago, who headed the religious conference here last year, will be the principle speaker at the banquet. Worth E.

MAKE CHANGES IN CONFERENCE GRIDIRON RULES

Try For Point After Touchdown Gives Thrill

Two very important changes have been made in the football rules and regulations for this year that will have a far-reaching effect on the game both from the standpoint of the player and the spectator.

The more drastic of these changes is the new try-for-point after touchdown which replaces the old goal after touchdown. The unfairness of the old rule was made apparent when time and again in the course of every football season games were lost simply because of the failure of one man to kick a goal after the eleven men of his team had worked together in the scoring of a touchdown. So when the Rules committee met last winter they decided to eliminate the goal after touchdown. They did not, however, do away with the one point following touchdown.

Beginning with this season the one point after a touchdown must be won by the combined effort of the entire team. The side making the touchdown gets the ball, for scrimmage, on or any place outside of the five-yard line. The offensive team must annex the additional point in one play by a drop or place kick from scrimmage, by a running play, or by a forward pass. The change will add a thrill to the game in the opinion of experts. On the other hand the new ruling is strongly opposed by many coaches as shown by the fact that the Rocky Mountain conference officials have practically declared the rule inactive as far as they are concerned.

The second change in the rules is in reference to shift plays. During the past two seasons complaint was made of some of the exponents of the shift plays that the shifts were timed so that the shifting players were in motion before the ball was snapped. Therefore, the rule now reads that players shifting to new positions must come to a full stop with both feet on the ground before the ball is put into play. Such a change is likely to be harmful to teams like Notre Dame and Minnesota who have been trained to time their shifts so that there is almost no, is any, cessation of motion before the ball is put into play.

DR. TITTLE OF N. W. TALKS AT PARLORS

"As religion tends to become intellectualized it also tends to become deethicalized," declared Dr. Ernest F. Tittle of Northwestern university, in addressing a Fellowship meeting Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. parlors.

Discussing "The Christianity that Failed and the Christianity That is Needed," Dr. Tittle explained that religion as he understood it, had not failed, but that the spiritualistic intellectualized religious orders have failed because they make no great ethical demands, and that their effort has been exerted to maintain the "existing order."

"Patriotism is not enough," he continued. "Love of country leads to love of one's own political party and group, and ends in loving self more than all else. Our national policy must be formulated with an ever increasingly intelligent regard for the whole world's good."

"We must dare to be servants not to the existing order, but to the order that points to a better civilization," said Doctor Tittle. Jesus Christ is the supreme revelation of the constitution of the world. Religion must be tested by its effect on human life."

Shoults 23, president of the "Y," will preside, and all the cabinet men will give short talks.

While this idea is a new one in this university, it has been tried at the University of Illinois and several colleges, and has proved to be a great help to the freshmen.

"Eckie" Forecasts Bright Hopes For Badgers

"Enough candidates were on the field for five full teams and the material in general is way above the average."

That is what Walter E. Eckersall, Chicago Tribune sport critic, declared in the W. G. N. after he had watched coach John Richards drive his men through scrimmage at Camp Randall on Tuesday afternoon.

"Unless all indications go astray and the men fail to deliver in important struggles, Wisconsin, under the guidance of John Richards, should be a strong contender for western conference football honors this fall," Eckersall forecasts.

"Eckie" found that "the veteran coach is optimistic." He compliments the eleven on its catlike following of the ball, and the blocking and tackling ability by Varsity men.

MANY OUT FOR CROSS-COUNTRY

Number of Juniors and Seniors Show Unusual Promise

The outstanding feature of the Varsity cross country squad, as brought out by the practices of the last few days is the unusually large number of promising junior and sophomore candidates.

With 37 sophomore and junior runners, ten or twelve of whom are doing very good work, on the job, the nine senior harriers, including all of the previous W and AWA winners on the squad, are scheduled for a hard fight to win positions on the regular varsity team. The total number of candidates this season is the largest it has been for at least six years.

Coach Mead Burke gave his men the first dose of hard drill on Monday when he sent them on a two and one half mile jaunt which took in some hill climbing and rough running. The squad will do a great deal of hill work this season in preparation for the conference meet at Purdue on Nov. 11 which is traveled over rather hilly country.

Tschudy, Wade, Ramsay, and Moorhead are the seniors who have been going strong in the daily drills. Schneider, a junior long distance man, has been consistent in placing well in front; Paciotti, Link, Williams, Smithyman, and Dowling are the other juniors who show promise. Among the sophomores who are working hard to make the squad are Valley, Trier, Bergstreser, Perry, Lang, Grubb, and Cizon.

The first meet of the year, Coach Burke announced last night, will probably be held over the university short course against the All-American squad. This squad, composed of men ineligible for conference competition this year, is strong enough to give the Varsity runners real opposition. Headed by Captain Powell, the men performing with the All-American squad are Sherman, Stewart, Swingle, and Lessing.

Birge Talks to a Large Badger Club Attendance

President Birge gave an address before a large audience of enthusiastic students at the first meeting of the Badger club in the University Y. M. C. A. parlors Sunday evening.

President Birge's talk was upon Christianity and its application to modern life generally, the life of the university and college student in particular. He cited the story of Christ and the young man who would go to heaven but knew not the way. The advice which Jesus gave the young man, "Keep the commandments, and give of thyself," should be followed by every student in the modern society as well, said the president. As people become more educated they act more according to principle than by habit, and for this reason university students should find it easier and best to follow the words of the great founder of Christianity.

Music for the evening was furnished by Lester Cappon, Lloyd Hanson, Duane Longaker, and J. W. Thompson.

RICHARDS GIVES GRID RESPITE AT PRACTICE

Huge Crowd Presses to See Wisconsin Stars in Action

Varsity was given a brief respite yesterday afternoon and Coach John R. Richards canceled the scrimmage part of the daily program which has been dished out to his athletes for the past week or more.

The regulars added to their repertoire of plays by trotting over to the regular Camp Randall gridiron and learning "their stuff" while guards kept the crowd from pressing too close to the field. Just which way the wind blows in regard to Varsity positions may be guessed by taking a slant at the regular line-up last night.

"Shorty" Barr directed the team at quarterback with Capt. "Rollie" Williams and Gibson at the half-back positions and Taft at full. "Gus" Tebell and Irish were assigned to the wings, "Jab" Murray and Below held down the tackle jobs, Christianson and Hohlfield flanked Nichols, who played center.

Radke, a sub fullback, followed the eleven, as did Pearce, who is giving Nichols a mighty hard battle for the pivot job, and Whitten Harris was on the second team, but the Racine lad has been out because of an injured arm, and he will undoubtedly be transferred back to the upper flight as soon as his injury heals.

Pulaski was stationed at left end on the second team. Coach Richards appears to give Irish an edge for the end opposite Tebell and "Russ" may grab the job tentatively at least. He has had more Varsity experience than Pulaski and has a more powerful build.

Al Schneider and Eagleburger directed two teams of scrubs who engaged in a fierce scrimmage after signal drill. Eagleburger broke away for good runs, once picking his holes and skirting the end for a touchdown. Schneider is a good candidate for sub quarterback.

That South Dakota State college will "put up a much better scrap against Wisconsin this year than it did last," was the declaration of Coach C. A. West in a letter received here yesterday.

"Personally, I do not care to make any predictions as yet other than that the contest will be much less one-sided than it was last year and I think that State will score more than the three points which she made last year," West said.

South Dakota plays Wisconsin in the second preliminary game of the season at Camp Randall on Oct. 14. The aggies line will average 182 pounds and a veteran basketball averages about 163 pounds. They swing into action this Saturday with a letter man in every position, and play two scheduled games before they meet the Badgers here.

With a veteran team, South Dakota will surpass the record hung up last year when its football eleven totaled 253 points while only two teams, one esides Wisconsin, were able to cross its goal line.

During the Wisconsin-South Dakota contest in 1921, the ags made one less first down than Wisconsin did, and in the last three quarters, made several more than Richard's men.

With an improvement in their punting game, the team will be on edge and pointed for Wisconsin and some of the Dakota fans believe their team will emerge with a victory, Coach West says.

Club House Planned For Graduate Women

A club house to give graduate women at Wisconsin a "home and a hearty welcome" is being planned by a group of graduate students at Lathrop hall.

A house at 420 North Carroll street, the corner of North Carroll and West Gilman streets, is being considered by a committee of the graduates at the present time. The house is to offer a convenient headquarters for social and lodging purposes and will be conducted by a hostess who maintains a permanent "open-house" for graduate women.

MADISON DRAMA

MADISON'S dramatic season will open Saturday with the presentation at the Parkway theatre of Margaret Anglin in her tremendous melodramatic success, "The Woman of Bronze."

Miss Anglin is one of the world's greatest emotional actresses, and the vehicle in which she will appear has run for a solid year in New York and for six months in Chicago.

Both player and play have received from metropolitan critics, salutations superlative in their enthusiasm.

The management of the Parkway is to be commended for the high grade of theatrical productions it has brought and is bringing to Madison.

The presentation of high grade drama in Madison is a great thing for the university.

Mere absorption of an academic curriculum does not make an education. He who takes discreet advantage of social and cultural opportunities at college is he who becomes the well educated, well rounded alumnus.

The drama is one of the highest manifestations of literary culture. A knowledge and appreciation of good drama is part of a liberal education.

As well as the university faculty, the Parkway is providing part of a university education by bringing good plays and good players to Madison.

Wisconsin students have a reputation for appreciation of and support of good drama.

A prominent producer of road shows last year made the statement that Madison supported good plays better than any other college town. Worth-while productions that played to empty seats in most mid-western university centers played to packed houses in Madison, he said.

That statement is a fine complement to Wisconsin's undergraduate intellect. That, as well as the rapid sale of tickets for Union board concerts, shows that at Wisconsin, at least, student craving for entertainment and aesthetic enjoyment is not satisfied by photoplays and cheap vaudeville.

Freshmen's Opportunity

FRESHMEN and other new students are to be given an opportunity during the first week in November to contribute to the Union Memorial fund.

Upperclassmen and alumni have already subscribed generously to the fund as a matter of loyalty and love for the university, as a tribute to those Wisconsin men who served.

New students also will wish to subscribe for the same reasons, but they will also have a more practical reason for wishing to subscribe. They alone of all who have subscribed and will subscribe this year, will have a chance to use the building and reap the benefits of its realization.

TESTING MINDS

TESTS of mental alertness have been adopted to relieve congestion at Northwestern university. Students of exceptional ability are to be permitted to take heavy schedules in order that they may shorten their courses to three years.

The problem of the brilliant student who is held back by those less capable is one which all universities should face. Students of intellectual superiority should be developed to the limits of their capability.

Northwestern has taken a step in the right direction, but the mere loading of work on the brilliant will not solve the problem.

Brilliant students, under the present system, are generally instructed in the same classes with those less brilliant. They hear the same lectures, use the same texts, work at the same assignments, progress at the same rate.

A brilliant student may be retarded by the intellectual plane of a course as well as by the volume of work he is allowed to undertake. A lecture which is difficult of comprehension for one student may waste the time, hinder the progress, of another student.

It is better for a good student to put in his time on a few courses adapted to his needs than to take many simpler courses.

Wisconsin has met this problem to some extent, and in a logical manner.

Freshmen who show a knowledge of English composition are not kept in elementary classes but put in advanced sections. Some courses in the department of economics have separate sections for upper grade and lower grade students. In history courses, special advanced quiz sections are sometimes organized.

This system is good; it permits more development on the part of the good student. But it should be further developed.

If combined with tests of mental alertness, the advanced section plan would be a real method for obtaining educational efficiency.

It would make more nearly possible the development of each student to the limit of his potentialities.

NO CHEERING

THE university dairy cattle judging team has won second place in intercollegiate competition with nine other university teams. Its success deserves congratulation.

But it will get little more than congratulation for its work. No band went with it, no cheer leader, no throng of enthusiastic rooters. There is little pomp or glory in the competition of the cattle barn.

Yet those students who went to Iowa and judged dairy cows represented what is perhaps the greatest work of the University of Wisconsin.

Far-sighted men of the College of Agriculture have taught the Wisconsin farmer how to judge cattle. Through their teaching the farmer has come to know that blooded cattle will produce much milk. And from that knowledge of cattle quality has developed the basic industry of the state.

The dairy cow is Wisconsin's gold mine, owned in common by myriad share-holders. Knowledge of the dairy cow, cattle judging, has made possible the university education of thousands. Her butter and cheese are putting hundreds through the university today.

A football game will call forth thousands. Throats will be dry and hoarse with cheering.

But no band will meet the stock judging team; its return will cause no cheering.

Starr Yale Fullback Film Star at Grand

It isn't often that a man or woman passes from the position of star in one field to star in another. However, it does occur betime. For example, there are many who applauded "Lefty" Flynn as star fullback of the Yale football team of 1913 who have failed to recognize the Maurice Flynn of the Fox screen forces. Yes, he's the same person.

Besides, Flynn, of the screen, has not forgotten Flynn, of the gridiron. During the last football season he took an active part in coaching the eleven made up of employees of the William Fox West Coast studios in Hollywood. He is also preparing the team for its 1922 season. If any one doubted Flynn's agility and athletic power for the most strenuous picture roles, that doubt was removed when he was seen in action. Nothing makes him happier than the announcement of practice day.

Flynn is appearing in support of Dustin Farnum in the star's latest vehicle, "Oathbound," which will open at the Grand Theatre beginning today.

Dairy Products Judging Team Will Go to St. Paul

At a special meeting last night, the Babcock Dairy Science club voted to send a dairy products judging team to the National Dairy Show at St. Paul, Oct. 7 to 14.

The team will consist of three members of the club to be chosen from a try-out group of ten men. Professors Sammis, Harrington, and Sommer of the Dairy Department are acting as coaches for the team. This team is separate from the stock judging team which will also go to St. Paul to represent the College of Agriculture.

FIELD WILL BE CADET COLONEL

Atkins Reports Enrollment of
1,675 Students in
R. O. T. C.

An enrollment of 1,675 students in the department of Military Science and Tactics was reported on Wednesday by Serg. W. H. Atkins of the Military department. Of these, 875 are freshmen and 650 are sophomores. To these are added 150 juniors and seniors in the advanced courses.

Among the cadet officers already appointed are William A. Field, who will act as Colonel, and Robert Luening, Lieutenant Colonel. Howard B. Lyman has been appointed Captain and Adjutant. Other cadet officers have not yet been chosen.

Receive Pay

The object of the basic course in the department, required of all Freshmen and Sophomores except those with special exemption, is to turn out men fitted to be noncommissioned officers of the national forces in time of war.

The advanced course for juniors and seniors is given for the purpose of turning out men for commissions in the Officers' Reserve corps. Students who have completed the basic course are eligible for admission to the advanced course, which carries the academic credit equivalent to a three-fifths course, granted in accordance with the regulations of the university, and remuneration to the extent of $9.00 per month.

Must Attend Camp

Before enrolling in the advanced courses, the student signs an agreement whereby he promises to continue his work in the Reserve Training Corps during the remainder of his course at Wisconsin, and to devote five hours per week during that time to military training as prescribed by the secretary of war. It is probable that legislation will be passed through congress soon, authorizing credits toward the advanced course for service rendered.

During the time in which a student is enrolled in the advanced courses, the attendance at one camp of not more than six weeks duration is required. This occurs ordinarily in the summer between the student's junior and senior years. Credit will not be granted until the camp has been attended. A salary of $30 per month is paid during this attendance.

Upon graduation from the university, students who have completed the advanced course are eligible for commissions as second lieutenant in the Infantry, Ordnance or Signal Corps, or the Officers' Reserve corps.

The distinguished college rating, awarded to the department at Wisconsin for the first time in 1915, and again in 1916 and 1921, was awarded again after the government inspection this spring.

The first Madison high school football game this year is scheduled with Beloit high Saturday at 2:30 at Camp Randall.

Ruling Bars Women From Public Dances

"No women students of the university may attend public dances", is the late ruling of Dean Goodnight. The S. G. A. interpretation of this provision reads that woman student is permitted to attend any public dance outside of regular Friday and Saturday night student parties at Boyd's Studio and Thompson's Cameo Room, Union Board dances in Lathrop parlors, university mixers, and approved fraternity parties.

The 12:30 privilege is granted for Friday and Saturday evenings, and evenings directly preceding legal holidays. Women are required to leave ordinary parties at 12 o'clock. Special 1 a. m. permission is given for fraternity formals. Later in the season, the Badger room will be rented out for special student parties.

Application must be made to the Student Life and Interests Committee by any organization desiring to run a subscription or commercial dance. A list of chapmen for all affairs where both men and women are to participate, must be registered in the office of Dean Goodnight, at least four days before the event. Students may not attend mid week parties except with the permission of the Dean of Women, who will notify the house mother.

Strict enforcement will likewise be made of the driving rule which states that: "No women students, whether alone or accompanied by men, shall motor within city limits after 10 p. m., nor outside city limits after 8 p. m. except by special permission." Motoring to and from parties at the above mentioned hours is allowed.

AMBULANCE BACK

Thoroughly overhauled and repaired, the old city ambulance which was withdrawn from service when a new vehicle was purchased six months ago, was put into service again today. Three ambulances are now operated by the city.

Ask 17 Million For Wisconsin Higher Schools

Board of Education to Pass on Request of Institutions

Financial budgets of the University of Wisconsin and of the nine Wisconsin normal schools are being drawn up at the present time for submission to the state board of education and the state board of public affairs for approval before requests for money are placed before the 1923 legislature.

Requests of the higher educational institutions for funds are expected to total approximately $8,500,000 annually or $17,000,000 for the next biennium. The 1921 legislature authorized expenditures of $14,000,000, which excluded practically all construction projects.

The state board of normal regents meets on Monday and Tuesday of next week to draw up their budget of estimated expenditures. When completed their estimates are expected to call for an appropriation of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 for the next biennium. Expenditures of approximately $3,700,000 were made during the past two years.

The increase in estimated expenditures for 1923-24 is brought about by inclusion of an extensive building program made necessary by the increased enrollment in the school and by deterioration of old buildings.

Requests of the university for the past two years were for an appropriation of approximately $13,000,000 including a building program which was not pushed before the legislature. An appropriation of $10,000,000 for the biennium was allowed. This amount included a revolving fund of approximately $4,000,000, which was not an expense to the state.

Thinned Kansas Of G.A.R. Men Pass In Review

Aged Veteran Drops from Fatigue and Dies

DES MOINES, Ia.—One of the veterans of the civil war in the annual G. A. R. parade dropped from fatigue at noon today from the line of march as it neared the capital extension grounds and died within 15 minutes. He is a veteran from Minnesota and is believed to be M. J. Matekenhausen of Great Bear Lake, Minn.

DES MOINES—Bowed in body and thinned in ranks, but stalwart in the spirit that sent them marching through history from Fort Sumpter to Appomattox Court-house, the surviving veterans of the G. A. R. marched again triumphant through the streets of Des Moines and passed in review before their commander-in-chief today.

Side by side in the first auto of the parade, Gen. L. S. Pilcher, Brooklyn, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. and Hanford MacNider of Mason City, Iowa, commander of its twentieth century counterpart—the American Legion—occupied the position of honor at the immediate head of the marching host of veterans.

Myriad flags fluttered and showers of autumn flowers fell in the path of the marchers. A tremendous volume of applause went up when the "Boys in Blue" appeared.

The Wisconsin veterans drum corps including men who fought with the old Iron Brigade, led the Wisconsin department, swelled in numbers by the eagerness of its veterans to take back home with them the general order granting next year's encampment to Milwaukee. In the ranks of the Ohio department, inconspicuous among his comrades marched the Father of the President, Dr. George T. Harding of Marion, Ohio.

Pythian Sisters To Raise Welfare Funds

The Pythian Sisters will hold a sale at the Service Shop Thursday and Friday of this week, as the first step in a campaign to raise funds for the Public Welfare car which the Pythians have pledged to the association. Mesdames Joseph Dean, Milo Kittleson, William Kittle, W. B. Tenney, Edward Smith, E. B. Steensland and E. C. Hoebel, have been appointed by Mrs. E. B. Steensland to work in co-operation with the Pythians.

Harding And Lorenz in Parley

The government's program for caring for former service men, particularly treatment of those suffering from nervous and mental disorders, was the subject of a two hour conference at the White House today between Pres. Harding and A. A. Sprague, Chicago, chairman of the American Legion hospitalization committee, Director Forbes of the Veterans' Bureau and Doctors T. W. Salmon, New York and W. F. Lorenz, Madison, Wis., according to an Associated Press report received here at a late hour this afternoon.

These men have been advisers to the American Legion on hospitalization matters. None of the president's visitors would discuss what had taken place at the conference except to state that the policy of the American Legion in regard to increase families was discussed at length.

NATIVE FRENCHMEN LIVE IN THE FUTURE

"American people live in the present, but the French people live in the future," is the opinion expressed by Mrs. Frederick A. Ernst of the Romance Language department. Professor Ernst has lately returned from France, where he has been studying French journalism.

"I am in love with Boston," said Mrs. Ernst enthusiastically. "It reminds me of the old country, especially England; it is so quaint. And Madison, the people are so cordial, the city is so beautiful, and your lakes, they are wonderful. But really, it is so hard to be away from one's people."

Speaking of reconstruction in Europe, Mrs. Ernst expressed the opinion that Belgium is coming back to pre-war conditions much more rapidly than France; this is shown by the marked progress which they are making in manufacturing.

Professor and Mrs. Ernst returned Sept. 12 on the "Majestic" from an extensive tour through Belgium and France.
