VARSITY WINS RACE

DEFEATS FRESHMAN CREW BY A SCANT QUARTER-LENGTH.

Junior Laws Row in Excellent Form and Finish Only a Length and a Half Behind 1904.

The Varsity won from the freshman crew this morning by a scant quarter of a length in an exciting finish, while the law eight was a length and a half in the rear of the '04 boat. The race which was over a mile course, was a handicap affair. The Varsity took the shore course, the freshmen the middle one and the laws rowed on the outside. The Varsity was on scratch giving the freshmen two lengths with the laws two lengths ahead of them.

It was an exciting contest throughout. The boats took the water about together in an almost perfect start. The freshman eight got in their work early and at once began to crawl up on the law shell ahead. Before the first quarter was over the bow of their shell was even with the coxswain of the leading boat while the Varsity boat had made up only about half their distance. They were gaining steadily, however, and by the time the three quarter mark was reached the nose of their boat was even with the bow oar of the freshman shell, and the law boat had dropped back into a close third. From here on the struggle was nip and tuck. Both boats were pulling well, their shells running well between strokes. The finish was now being neared and the boats were forced to spread on either side of the line of pleasure boats.

This seemed to result to the benefit of the Varsity and they gained slightly on their opponents. Both boats had increased their stroke perceptibly and the result was at once noticeable. In the last few lengths the Varsity shell seemed fairly to leap forward and each stroke put them somewhat to the good. In a final effort the finish line was crossed, with the nose of the freshman boat about opposite the bow man on the Varsity. The time was not given, but Coach O'Dea seemed satisfied with the result.

Too much can scarcely be said in praise of the work of the crews. The Varsity stroke was even and regular while there was no lagging of the shell between strokes, the boat gliding along evenly.

The freshmen also rowed well, but their boat did not appear to ride as easily. There was a precitable rocking at each stroke while the boat dragged more between the strokes. This is almost to be expected in a freshman boat and can be remedied before their races take place. The laws rowed a fine race but were not given a chance to show what they could do in a sprint at the finish, as they were without their regular coxswain. Had they spurred the race would have been considerably closer. The crews rowed as follows:

Varsity: bow, Trevarthen; 2, Lounsbury; 3, Levissee; 4, Jordan; 5, Gibson; 6, Stephenson; 7, Gaffin; stroke, Quigley; coxswain, Sawyer.

Freshman: bow, Banta; 2, Hobbins; 3, Potter; 4, Keith; 5, Kimball; 6, Thom; 7, Christman; stroke, McComb; coxswain, Martin.

Law: bow, Sylvester; 2, Bleekman; 3, Kralovec; 4, Lyle; 5, Palmer; 6, Krug; 7, Kinsley; stroke, Boland; coxswain, Jackson.

ENTRIES COMING IN.

High Schools Will Send Strong Teams to Interscholastic.

In just two weeks now the annual interscholastic field meet comes off. Professor Dudgeon, chairman of the board of control, today sent out the final instructions to all high schools of the association. The entry blanks were mailed on May 11 and will all be in before next Wednesday in order to allow sufficient time to get out the elaborate program which is to be issued this year. The entries are coming in fast now and show that many of the schools are sending unusually strong teams. Mail orders are also being received for seats in the grand stand. About 500 will be reserved and are to be sold for one dollar each to such mail applicants. The remaining reserved seats will be on sale here on and after May 30.

Bleachers are to be put up along the whole front of the grand stand which with the part of the stand not reserved will accommodate fully 1,500 people. General admission to the meet this year has been fixed at fifty cents.

Reduced rates have been secured on all railroads. One fare for the round trip will be the rate. Such tickets will be sold at all points in Wisconsin and in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. The committee have also made arrangements for reduced rates at all Madison hotels. It seems that owing to the many inducements this year and the interest manifested by the high schools throughout the state, the attendance of outsiders will be larger than at any previous meet.

The meeting arranged by Acting President Birge for superintendents, principals and teachers, to be held on Friday and Saturday, will also bring out more of the heads of the schools to the meet, besides being most interesting and profitable to them.

Coach Kilpatrick will have charge of the meet up to the day it is held. Unfortunately on that day Mr. Kilpatrick will have to take the Varsity track team to the inter-collegiate meet at Chicago but he has made arrangements for everything to run off smoothly in his absence. Mr. George Downer of Milwaukee will be at the head of the management on the day of the contest. J. T. S. Lyle will act as clerk of the course and Joe Davies as announcer.

Three Girls' Crews Out.

The girls' crews were given their first work this morning in the eight-oared gigs. Two freshman crews and one sophomore crew were out and considering that it is their first attempt at eight oar work, they made an excellent showing. The crews will be given regular work every afternoon under the direction of Miss Harris and Assistant Coach Stillman.

Important Senior Meeting.

An important meeting of the senior class is to be held in the senior law lecture room at 4 p. m. next Monday afternoon. This will be one of the last meetings of the class and will be devoted to the transaction of commencement business.

The pupils of Miss Winifred C. Card of the University School of Music gave a piano recital at Library Hall last evening which was attended by some 200 people. The program consisted of 21 numbers, including many difficult selections. All of the pupils, many of whom were quite young, showed careful training and many gave evidence of strong musical instincts.

COURTESY IN ROOTING

SUBJECT OF COMMUNICATION BY COACH O'DEA.

Urges Students to Show Magnanimity to Visiting Opponents on Athletic Field.

"Who misses or who wins the prize
Go lose or conquer as you can;
But if you fail, or if you rise
Be each, pray God, a gentleman."

Rooting is an excellent medium by which moral support can be accorded the teams during the progress of the games and there is no doubt that many games have been won by judicious rooting when victory or defeat hung trembling in the balance. Outside of the beneficial effect on the team, there is the effect of enlivening the spirits of the spectators by the occasional humorous rooter who is always appreciated. Of late we have been told that we must root better or we cannot hope to win. Half the game we are told is in the rooting. In judicious and timely rooting, yes, but not in such rooting as I have heard at the last two baseball games. Distinct personal abuse of an opponent is not judicious rooting. It cannot even be dignified by the name of rooting. It is taking a cowardly advantage of a man who is not in a position to protect himself. It is not an inspiring sight to behold ten or twenty men yell all sorts of abuse and make all sorts of threats at some individual who is playing his game the best he knows how, and doing the best he can for his college, just as you wish some of your men would do for your own alma mater.

A visiting team has every reason to expect civil and courteous treatment during their stay in the city. There is a great disadvantage in playing on strange grounds, and if ungentlemanly conduct be added to this then we can blame no one but ourselves if Wisconsin earns an unsavory reputation. Wisconsin has not an unsavory reputation now. Her standing in the east is excellent, as any eastern college man will tell you. Wisconsin can celebrate a victory with becoming dignity and she has shown that she can accept defeat gracefully. Let us not keep all our good manners for outsiders. We can afford and ought to show a sportsmanlike spirit at home. The spirit of fair play is an excellent accomplishment to cultivate, and a little time spent in this direction will not be wasted.

I heard a great number of uncomplimentary remarks on the rooting in the Beloit game and I am glad to state that they emanated from some staunch and true Wisconsin supporters.

A visitor to America is usually astonished at the intensity of feeling exhibited by the supporters of the several college athletic teams. This can easily be accounted for by the highly nervous temperament common to most Americans. With little or no check, it can easily be understood how this excitability can degenerate into abuse, and may possibly lead to violence. Happily in the east there is a much better feeling prevailing in the college athletic world, and undoubtedly it will go on improving until ultimately a Yale man will take as much pride in a good Harvard man's performance, as he does in one from his own college. And a few years ago this statement would require a great stretch of the imagination to foresee.

A good deal of the animosity that undoubtedly exists among the western colleges to-day, certainly emanates from the impressions gained on the athletic field. A visiting team is treated to torrents of abuse, and naturally they depart feeling aggrieved. A desire to get even is taken advantage of and usually "gone one better" when the return match is played. Hence an accumulation of grievances leads to an underlying bitter feeling that will take generations of college men to eradicate.

Feeling that I may bore some I shall conclude, but I hope, and feel that the boys will take this criticism for what it is worth, and in the spirit intended.

Let us accord fair treatment to all visiting colleges, and try and appreciate a good man even though he belong to our opponents. Let us give him a fair show, and if he be good enough to win, don't jump on him.

We can easily eliminate the objectionable features of the rooting without detracting one iota from the effectiveness of it. We can make as much noise as of yore only let us do it in better taste, and with a little more consideration for the other fellow.

Andrew M. O'Dea.

FOR A GENERAL SECRETARY.

Y. W. C. A. Raises Liberal Subscription for That Purpose.

A business meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association was held yesterday afternoon at five o'clock. A matter of great importance was presented to the girls; the international committee has recommended very strongly to the association that it have a general secretary. Everyone feels that it would mean much good to the association and to the University to have a woman who could give all her time to planning and carrying out Christian work among the girls. We have come to a point in the association work where its greater activities and greater possibilities seem to require a general secretary. The plan is to have the offices of state and University secretary combined, two-thirds of the time being given to the association here.

The vote of the association was unanimous in favor of adopting the recommendation which came through the cabinet. The meeting was exceedingly enthusiastic, and pledges amounting to something over one hundred dollars were made by the members of the association who were present. The outlook for the work next year is very promising, and those who go out as graduates this year will look forward to a greater increase in the effectiveness of the association for the time to come.

Mrs. McKinley Better.

The Associated Press dispatch this afternoon from San Francisco states that Mrs. McKinley's condition is much improved.

—Miss Alice Walden, pupil of Miss Ada Bird, will give a piano recital next Tuesday evening, May 21, in Library Hall. Miss Walden will be assisted by Mr. E. R. Williams, baritone.

WISCONSIN TELEPHONE COMPANY.

Unexpectedly Good.

The meet yesterday was a surprise and a great gratification to Wisconsin people. Illinois was reported stronger than last year when we beat her by only a single point. Wisconsin, too, had a number of men on the crippled list, men who will be a factor in the inter-collegiate. In spite of this she more than doubled Illinois' score. One noticeable feature of Wisconsin's showing was the team work exhibited in almost every event where it counts. Heavy work and gamey finishes were the order of the day. With competition the men seem to be rounding into more definite shape and with the added experience of next week's Chicago meet will be in fine condition for the inter-collegiate meet on June 1. If the always possible "if" does not develop to a ruinous degree, we ought to be top-notchers this year. Some of yesterday's records were far ahead of preceding dual meet performances in the west this year. The team seems pretty even and we have good candidates for points in almost every event. That is the kind of aggregation that wins and this one ought to.

Correction.

The personal in yesterday's issue, to the effect that Miss Clara G. Froelich would take a position on the Milwaukee Journal after commencement, proves to be entirely erroneous. The report gained credence through publication in one of the city papers.

The Weather.

Fair tonight and Sunday.

Delightful Hall Party.

Chadbourne Hall closed an unusually lively season with a most successful party last evening. There was an informal reception in the parlors from eight to nine and dancing from nine to twelve. Miss Mayhew and Misses Foley, Noelke, Hackett, Stolte and Swain received the guests.

The weather was perfect and the party was inevitably an outdoor affair. The veranda was lighted with Japanese lanterns and there were chairs and couches enough to accommodate a good many. In the gymnasium Nitschke's orchestra played for the dancing and on the long balcony at the south side of the building ice was served.

Every available space in parlors and reception hall was filled with flowers. There were roses and trilliums on the center tables and masses of lilacs in jars around the sides of the rooms. It was altogether the prettiest party that the Hall has given. About seventy-five guests were present.

Local and Personal.

—Robert K. Coe, '02, is visiting at his home in Whitewater.

—Kappa Kappa Gamma gave a tea at the chapter house last evening.

—Anna McDonald, '03, is spending a few days at her home in Baraboo.

—The Engineers' club will banquet at the Avenue hotel next Friday evening.

—A. W. Andrews '04, was called home to Columbus yesterday owing to the serious illness of his grandfather.

—Professor and Mrs. M. V. O'Shea will entertain the members of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. next Saturday evening at their home, 140 Langdon.

—The Milwaukee Sporting Review contains this week a fine two-column cut of "Pete" Husting and makes the prediction that he will prove one of the star pitchers of the American league this season. He graduated from the Law school in 1900 and was a former Varsity pitcher.

—Miss Agnes Merrill who has been attending the Delta Gamma convention in Lincoln, Neb., this week, will return to-morrow.

Literary Societies.

Athenae.

Athenae elected men last night to complete the Semi-public program for next year. Mr. Thiede was chosen to be president of the evening and Messrs. Marquissee and Trump were selected as orators. The semi-public debaters are at present looking for a question to submit before June 1. Mr. Blackman's team will submit the question to Mr. Arnold's team who will choose the side of the question desired.

The joint committee on the election of intercollegiate debaters submitted the following resolution as their report, which was ratified by the society.

"No society, save by a two-thirds vote of the electoral college, shall within the same year be entitled to more than one representative on inter-collegiate debates until each society has been accorded the privilege of having a representative."

If we were to have but one debate in the year, this rule would of course have no effect, but in case we were to take on Minnesota next year in addition to the contracted debate with Iowa, the provision would make it impossible for the societies to form combinations and give all the debaters to two or three societies to the exclusion of the others. Each would have to have one representative. The change is not radical and everyone feels that a reform is needed. There is so much wrangling that it is impossible to bring about the adoption of any but the most conservative measures. The resolution becomes binding in the Oratorical Association when ratified by all the societies.

Mr. Morgan reported that the oratorical association had a deficit of $120 on account of the recent Iowa debate and submitted that each society be levied at present $15 toward making up the deficit.

The Geneva Conferences.

The Christian Associations will meet tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 in room 16, University Hall. The subject of the Lake Geneva students' conferences will be presented. The talk will be illustrated by numerous lantern slides showing the ideal grounds of the Western Secretarial Institute where the conferences are held and also illustrating many of the happy incidents of the camp life.
Geneva is one of four student centers at which yearly Y. M. C. A. and Y.
W. C. A. conferences are held. Last year the attendance at the Y. M. C. A. conference at Geneva amounted to 429 students and professors from 152 educational institutions of the Middle West. This statement shows something of the cosmopolitan character of the conference. Geneva holds second place in point of attendance, first place being held by the Northfield (Mass.) Conference which was the first instituted. The late Dwight L.
Moody there started these conferences which have grown very rapidly in attendance and in influence on the colleges of America and the world.

All men and women of the University are invited to attend the meeting.

A GREAT MEET.

Wisconsin-Illinois Dual Games Prove Remarkable.

Wisconsin met Illinois in a dual meet at Camp Randall yesterday and raced away from the visitors with such handiness and ease that the Illinois athletes failed to score half as many points as the badgers. When Baird of Illinois won the pole vault long after the other events had been decided the score stood 76½ to 35½ in favor of Wisconsin's team.

The divided point in the score was the result of the finish in the two-mile run, where second place was divided between McEachron and Ketzel by one of the most sensational finishes ever seen on Camp Randall. Smith of Wisconsin finished first, well in advance of the others, and McEachron and Ketzel raced the last hundred yards side by side, both men falling across the tape to the ground from sheer exhaustion as they plunged forward to gain the coveted place. Neither was hurt and in a few minutes both were walking about apparently as fresh as ever.

In the running high jump Meyer of Wisconsin established a new record for the Varsity at 6 feet. Smith in the two-mile also made a new record running it in 10 minutes, 13 seconds. Poage made the quarter in 50 3-5, the fastest time ever made at Camp Randall.

In the mile Keachie reached the tape well in advance of all competitors, but out of deference to Hahn, who was saving himself for the two-mile, allowed him to break the tape for first place.

The 440-yard run was also a sensational race. Cayou, the much lauded Indian sprinter of Illinois, led the bunch well around the track with Chapman well to the rear. But when half the distance had been covered Poage broke his even pace and sprinted away from the runners with scarcely an effort, finishing at least ten yards ahead.

Altogether the records of yesterday's meet are excellent, and the surprising strength of the badger team makes it certain that it is to be a formidable factor in the inter-collegiate meet. One noticeable feature was the excellent condition the Wisconsin team exhibited in spite of the heat. Many of the visitors dropped out of the various races, but the home boys seemed to have the staying power developed to its utmost limit. In the field events, too, the badgers were trained to a point that demanded first places and sometimes both as in the high jump and shot put.

Coach Kilpatrick expressed himself as being greatly surprised at the outcome of the meet. "The results surpassed my fondest expectations," he said, "I had calculated that we would win by a margin of five or possibly ten points."
