TICKET SALE OF INTERNATIONAL IS STATE WIDE

Arrangements Made For Student Groups; State Officials Invited

State-wide distribution of tickets is being secured by J. L. Pelton '25, ticket chairman of the 1925 Wisconsin International. The university stock pavilion has a total capacity of 2,500 seats, including special boxes.

"The ticket committee desires to make satisfactory and desirable arrangements with all student groups and organizations desirous of procuring seats in blocks," explained Pelton. "An open ticket sale will be held next week on the campus and over the entire city. The Pelton distribution of DeLonge tickets has been made possible throughout the entire state due to the cooperation of alumni of the university and agricultural college."

The committee has extended invitations to the Governor of Wisconsin, executive officers of the state, President Birge and every member of the state legislature. A new seating plan has been adopted whereby all honored guests at the show will be excellently accommodated.

BIOLOGISTS TO MOVE 5,000 PRIZED SHELLS

Professor Wagner of the Biology department is supervising the unpacking of a collection of 5,000 shells which have been gathered since the Biology department moved 12 years ago to the building which it now occupies. The collection is very valuable and quite complete. Cases containing a few of these shells at a time have been placed in the lobby of the Biology building. These exhibits are changed monthly.

NEW WAVE LENGTH SUCCESSFUL AT WHA

Results of the new wave length 535.4 meters, which was assigned by the Chicago inspector, to WHA, the university radio station, have been very successful, according to reports given out at the broadcasting station. The number of letters which are received daily commanding the station has more than doubled since the installation of the new wave length. Milwaukee and other Wisconsin cities have expressed their approval of the change.

DANCE TICKETS PLACED ON SALE

Ducats May Be Purchased Now
For Engineer-Barrister
Hop

Tickets for the "Engineer-Barrister Ball," to be held in Lathrop gymnasium next Friday night, will be on sale today and all next week by members of the committee arranging the dance. Wenzel Fabera '25, of the College of Engineering is directing the sale.

The lawyers and engineers, enemies since the founding of their respective branches, have agreed to drop all differences and join hands in a dance for the first time in history. Proceeds from the dance will go to the scholarship fund in the Law school and the Engineering college.

Several special features will be run off during intermission but the managers of the dance are keeping the details secret for the time being.

The dance will not be restricted to engineers and lawyers, according to the chairmen, although the majority of those in attendance will be from these departments.

A ten-piece Thompson orchestra will furnish the music.

GEORGE HAIGHT IS DRAMATIC FIGURE IN WISCONSIN LIFE

Wisconsin men can well afford to pay tribute to George I. Haight '99, and to listen to him. He is one of the new dramatic figures on the Wisconsin stage.

George Haight is a great lawyer, a great orator, and a great alumnus of the university. More than any other man I know he is keenly conscious of what the university has done for him, and is working to repay it.

He has been a conspicuous success in his profession, from which he is now taking a considerable part of his time in working for the university as president of the General Alumni association.

It will be well worth the time of every man in the university to hear this one of the "Georges" on Wednesday night.

JOHN DOLLARD '22,
Secretary, Memorial Union building committee.

W. F. VILAS ESSAY SUBJECTS CHOSEN

Money Prizes Given Two Best
Works; $50 first Prize,
$25 Second Prize

Subjects for the William F. Vilas Award for English essays in which all under-graduates can compete has been announced by the department of English.

The Vilas contest has existed on the campus for the past 15 years and two money prizes are awarded to the two best essays submitted the first prize being $50 and the second $25. The type of subjects is alternated from year to year from subjects in literary criticism to those in the field of undergraduate life. This year the subjects which may be written upon are of the latter type.

The essays should not exceed 6,000 words and should be typewritten on thesis size paper. The manuscripts should be signed with pseudonyms, and accompanying each should be a sealed letter with the pseudonym on the outside and the writer's real name on the inside of the letter. In years past there have been between six and 12 essays submitted for the prizes.

The essays must be turned in not later than Monday, May 4, in the theme box of Prof. R. E. N. Dodge.

The subjects for this year are:

Undergraduate leisure, self-expression and the curriculum, rooms and board, the art of self-advancement, the student and his thinking cap, the student and music, and the student and the outer world.

The committee which will judge the essays is composed of Professors Leonard, Perry and Dodge.

NATIONAL UNION OF COLLEGES ADVOCATED

BERKELEY, Calif.—A national union of American college and university students, designed to promote better relations between themselves and closer cooperation with foreign students, is the aim of the National Student Federation of America, organized by students from seven western universities, on January 1, at the University of California. The Federation is built on the plan of the European Student union. There are already almost 50,000 students included in this organization.

RADIO SOON TO SERVE PAPERS, IS PROPHECY

EVANSTON, Ill.—That the radio will soon give news service to papers when with the development of low wave lengths it will broadcast news to individual papers from correspondent, acting much like a private wire, was predicted by Dean Harry F. Harrington of the Medill school in a recent talk over WMAQ Daily News station. Dean Harrington points out the fact that more than 50 city newspapers are operating stations and believes that this should quiet glib gossip that newspapers fear the radio. Printed page invites the eye and arouses desire to buy through picture, headline, and reading matter, and this the radio cannot duplicate, states the dean.

The state has invited commissioners of roads here to enable them to see what others in their work are doing.

GLEE CLUB HAS BIG RECEPTION ON FIRST TRIP

Singers in Two Recitals at Milwaukee; Hear Little Speak

(Special to Cardinal)

MILWAUKEE—The Men's Glee club opened its concert tour with two programs here this evening. After its opening concert at the Washington high school, the club was taken immediately to the Milwaukee University club where it gave a second short concert to the university alumni gathered at a banquet in honor of George Little.

Little Gives Talk

The concert at Washington high was well received, but the one before the alumni of Wisconsin and other universities was a riot. The club sang encore after encore while the alumni cheered and clapped.

The banquet at the university club was Little's first introduction to Wisconsin alumni and he was enthusiastically received. A 45 minute talk was given by Little. Merrill Taft '24, football star; Chuck Carpenter '19, football captain, and Gilbert E. Seaman, regent, gave talks to the alumni at the banquet.

The Glee club concert with "Varsity" and other Wisconsin songs, made a decided hit with the alumni and was the closing event of the reception to Little.

Club Returns Tuesday

The club stayed over night in Milwaukee and will leave tomorrow for Sheboygan. The concert to be given there tonight will be held in the auditorium of the Sheboygan high school, the largest auditorium available with a capacity of 1,900.

The club will arrive in Madison Tuesday morning in time for 8 o'clock classes. It will start out Saturday on its second week end tour which will include concerts at Rockford and Chicago as well as competition in the inter-collegiate glee club contest at Chicago.

Friday the 13th Jinx Fails to Put in Appearance Here

Friday, the thirteenth, has come and gone!

The old jinx who is popularly supposed to make his appearance on that day must have been sleeping on the job, or else he was busy in another quarter, for at a late hour last night the inquisitive reporter could find no traces of his visits.

The only exception to the general run of routine luck—neither very good nor very bad—that could be found was in trailing the mail man on his beat. Neat little valentines from the dean's office told not a few they had been elected to the well known "pro bete" fraternity, with all dues paid until June.

Much of the failure of Friday the thirteenth to do its stuff can be laid at the door of its press agent. He failed to get out advance press notices. Be warned now that the thirteenth of March comes on Friday.

GOOD ROADS PROGRAM URGED BY EXHIBITION

An exhibition to promote better roads throughout the state of Wisconsin is being held at the state capitol from February 10 to 14 in connection with the convention of road commissioners from all counties in Wisconsin. Road scenes taken in various parts of the state and showing improved methods in road building form a picturesque part of the exhibition. Long ribbons of asphalt and cement winding through stretches of Wisconsin's beautiful country are photographed for the occasion. Scenes of tourists' camps, modern bridges, and types of paving are pictured, one showing a rubber paving in Racine, the first of its kind in the United States.

The state has invited commissioners of roads here to enable them to see what others in their work are doing.

Who Named Octy? Haresfoot, Staff Claim Distinction

Did Haresfoot help name Octopus? That is the question of the moment in the brown building between the Y and the ticket office.

"It did," comes in a deep masculine tones from the loft, while from the floor below emerges the answering roar, "It did not!" The Lit staff, which occupies a room in the attic next to that of the dramatics, is completely demoralized by the quarrel and is contemplating removal to the Madison Bowling alleys, or Dad Morgan's, or some place where it is quiet at least part of the time.

The entire wrangle arises out of the fact that in 1913 the Haresfoot club produced a musical comedy entitled "The Orphan and the Octopus." And when the humorous magazine was started, some years later, its founders, searching for a name, chanced upon and adopted a seven-letter word meaning an eight-armed cuttlefish.

Did the memory of the quips and jokes of the comedy influence the founders of Octopus in their choice of a name for the magazine? So claim the Haresfoot. Or was it pure coincidence? Such is the contention of the Octopans.

"Nothing about the Octopus can be attributed to any other campus organization, especially not the name of the publication itself," says Gordon Lewis, '25, editor.

Comment is declined.

NOTED ORGANIST TO APPEAR HERE

Farnam, Master Virtuoso, in Recital at Luther Memorial Thursday

A program of such unusual variety and exceptional originality that less than half a dozen organists in the world could play it, will be presented by Farnam, the master virtuoso who appears in recital at Luther Memorial next Thursday night.

"It is truly the most wonderful and daring program I have ever seen," was the exclamation of Dr. C. H. Mills, when shown the numbers. "No one but Farnam could have thought of it, or would dare to attempt it."

Bach is the favorite composer of Mr. Farnam and on the Madison recital, two Bach numbers are presented. Regarding Bach, Farnam has the following comment:

"The longer I live the more wonderful he becomes. With what other composer or, indeed creative artist of any kind, does one get such a crescendo of enjoyment throughout life?" Of present day composers Farnam is more inclined toward the French school.

"As you will have gathered," he says, "my taste runs very much in the direction of the French musicians. About half of my repertory is made up of it. Some of the contemporary English organ music appeals to me very much, but frankly, of such modern English organ music as I have played, I do not find a large portion which stands the test of frequent repetition."

"What of the American composer?" he has been asked.

"I think we have a very live school coming along," was his reply. "Such men as Barnes, Bingham, Chadwick, Delmaeter, James, Jepson,

"So far as players are concerned, we are well off, too. We have a particularly good group of players at Boston, quite a little school of itself, with very high ideals both in choice of music and in style of playing. It is of course, liable to have its leg pulled for being high brow, but we know that no group of real Americans can be highbrow."

TWO DAYS, TWO BLAZES TOO MUCH FOR A. D. PI'S

Members of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority, 112 Langdon street, asked Fire Chief Heyl for a building inspection yesterday, following a second fire in the last two days. Both blazes, the first Thursday morning and the second at 7:45 yesterday morning, started in partitions in the basement when a furnace pipe became overheated. The damage caused was slight.

CAMPUS LEADERS ENDORSE PLANS FOR MEN'S MEET

Heads of Student Organizations Urge All to Turn Out
Thursday Night

Plans for the all-university men's Union massmeeting in the gymnasium next Wednesday night were given an impetus in two directions yesterday when George I. Haight '99, president of the Alumni association and one of the two "Georges" who will address the meeting, spent the day in Madison conferring with members of the faculty and student leaders, and when the presidents of the Union board, the athletic council and the "W" club pledged their support and cooperation for the undertaking.

Haight Meets Seniors

John Bergstresser, president of the senior class, and Erwin Gerber '24 had luncheon with Mr. Haight yesterday, and following this conference Bergstresser, who is arranging the program for the massmeeting, announced that the details and purpose of Mr. Haight's address had been carefully worked out. These plans were not divulged, as the alumni president desires that no previous announcement be made concerning the subject of his address which is said to be in the nature of a surprise.

Bergstresser also stated that he had invited Mr. Haight to attend a meeting of the senior class Wednesday noon at 12:45 o'clock in Music hall, at which time the subject of joining the alumni association will be discussed. Last year the senior class voted unanimously to join the association as a group, and Mr. Haight will briefly speak at the meeting Wednesday noon urging the class of '25 to do likewise.

Urge Attendance
The massmeeting in the evening has been set for 7 o'clock, in order that all men in the university will

COMMERCE MAGAZINE TO APPEAR FEB. 18

One of the most interesting features of the coming issue of the Commerce magazine which will appear February 18, is an article by Herbert D. Dorau, a research instructor in land economics. Mr. Dorau who is an authority on the subject, will cover every field of real estate value in his discussion on "Real Estate as a Coming Profession." Another article in this issue will be an explanation by Professor C. L. Jamison on the manner of placing commerce students that is employed by the school. He will tell of the corporations that visit the school of commerce every year and the questionnaires that every graduate is requested to sign.

PEP BAND SEEKS MEN, INSTRUMENTS

Faust Issues Urgent Call For Additional Musical
Talent

"We need more men and instruments in the pep band," said Paul Faust '26 when commenting on the work of the band. "There is an especially urgent call for those playing tubas, snare drums, cornets, and trombones, but any instrument will be given a chance to make good."

The pep band is a growing organization and indications are that it will be a permanent one. There are more men in the band now than there have been at any time and those in charge of it want to increase the number as much as possible. Plans are under way for incorporation and it is hoped that these can be carried out in the near future."

The athletic department has expressed its appreciation of the work done by the band in stirring up enthusiasm among the students. It is planned to have the organization appear at the baseball games in the spring.

Fleet Gopher Hockey Team Freezes Out Badgers, 5 to 1

Cardinals Play Good Defensive Game; Sarles Makes Point

Outplayed, outgeneraled, and outshot, the Wisconsin hockey sextet went down to a 5 to 1 defeat at the hands of the veteran Minnesota pucksters. The fleet Gophers through their superior team work were able to advance the puck far down the rink time and again. However, the Badger defense was an outstanding feature, and through the efforts of the men more scoring by the Minnesota team was staved off.

Captain Gross and Jansky played stellar games for the Cardinals. These two men bore the brunt of the offense, and through their fast skating were able to bring the puck down to the Minnesota goal only to lose it to one of the Gopher defense men.

Gophers Score First.

For Minnesota, Bros and Olson played especially well. Each man contributed two goals for his team, and were the fastest players on the rink.

Minnesota started out with a rush, scoring two goals in the first period on shots by Olson and Bros. During this stage of the game the Cardinals seemed to be under a temporary form of stage fright, and teamwork was altogether lacking. The Badgers were unable to penetrate the Minnesota defense, mainly due to the fact that only one man was used to advance the puck.

Last Period Is Fast

In the second period, the Badgers started to show a revival of the form they exhibited against the Janesville Y. M. C. A. several weeks ago. They started off with a rush, and a pretty shot by Sarles gave the Badgers their only score of the evening. Minnesota came back, and scored two counters on shots by Kuhlman and Olson. This period was very close, the Badgers starting to exhibit teamwork, taking several shots at the goal, and failing to score only through the work of Schade, Minnesota goal.

The final period was close. Minnesota's fast skaters advanced the ball down the rink many times, but superb work by the Badger defense took it away. Bros, fleet Gopher center, made the only goal of the period. During this part of the game, Wisconsin exhibited excellent teamwork but through the fine efforts of Schade was prevented from counting.

Skating Exhibit Given.

Between the second and third periods Coach Emil Iverson of Minnesota gave an exhibition of fancy skating. Nearly 300 people attended the match, and music was furnished by the pep band. The second game will be played tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. After the Badger-Gopher game, the Minnesota team will play an exhibition match with the Janesville Y. M. C. A.

The lineup of last night's game follows:

WISCONSIN

LAKE RINK READY; TOBOGGAN FIT SOON

A large skating rink has been prepared on the lake front and announcement made last night by George Martin, in charge of winter sports. The ice was too rough to prepare the lake for skating previously. The campus rink is also being repaired, the recent thaw having made it necessary to rebuild the entire rink. The toboggan slide will be ready for use as soon as the water freezes in the trough. Outside of the slide section the ice is in excellent shape.

TANKMEN MEET MICHIGAN TONIGHT

Loss By Ineligibility Makes Outcome Look Doubtful to Coach Steinauer

After losing men by ineligibility, many grave problems face Coach Joe Steinauer with the tank squad meeting Michigan tonight.

Coach Steinauer revealed yesterday that he is so handicapped by loss of men that he will not know just which men will swim in the events until the meet is well under way. What few good men there are will have to be entered in the events in which they are most likely to gather points.

"Two seconds and a third are worth more than a first and two fourths, and it will be hard to put the men where they can take in the mass of the points," said Coach Steinauer.

The Badgers have a chance to win the relay if the fastest men are used.

CARDINAL EDITORIAL QUOTED BY MAGAZINE

An editorial, "The Undergraduate Idea of Distinction," written by Clyde Kluckhohn '27, appeared in the February number of "The Intercollegian," under the title of "What College Papers Are Saying." The article appeared in the December issue of the Daily Cardinal. It makes an appeal for the spending of the four years of college in the pursuit of joy, beauty and ideals.

MUSICALES FEATURE SUMMER PROGRAMS

Informal musical evenings for students will be one of the features of the summer session. Community singing and special numbers accompanied by the summer session orchestra will compose the programs which are under the direction of Prof. E. B. Lewis. Last summer 300 to 500 people attended every Monday evening. Dr. C. H. Mills also gave two organ recitals at the New Lutheran church under the direction of the summer session which were attended by capacity audiences.

Printers and printing contracts would be included in the law that all men engaged in construction of state buildings, or doing similar work on state contract shall work only eight hours a day, in a bill introduced by the assembly committee on labor, of which Anton M. Miller of Kaukauna, is chairman.

Referee—Thompson, M. A. C.
Scoring: Wisconsin—Sarles, 1;
Minnesota—Bros, 2, Olson, 2, Kuhlman, 1.

GYM TO BE SCENE OF TUMBLING AND FENCING TONIGHT

Depleted Badger Squad to Meet Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. Gymnastic Team

Varsity gymnastic performers and fencers will meet the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. squad in return meet at 7 o'clock tonight. The match will be held on the top floor of the gymnasium before the swimming meet as the Milwaukee team is unable to come in the afternoon as was planned.

Although the "Y" team lost to Wisconsin by 16 points in the first meet, the Badger squad has since lost several men by ineligibility and may be weak in the tumbling and parallel bar events.

Capt. "Huck" Schmidt, who has proved to be the most consistent performer on the Cardinal team the last two years will win several firsts, Coach Schlatter believes. Schmidt is entered in five events.

W. Huxley will compete in the horizontal bar, flying rings, parallel bars and tumbling competition; H. Hiemke in the horizontal bar, parallel bar and tumbling work; E. Hicks on the side horse and flying rings, and G. Kress will work on the side horse.

Three Badger foils men and one sabre man will meet the Milwaukee fencers. W. May, E. Freytag, A. Hollister will handle the thin blades and W. Parson the sabre.

PRESS CLUB MOVES TO TAKE MEMBERS

Applications for a second group of new members in the Press club are being received by Max Ninman '26, chairman of the membership committee. All students interested in journalistic activities or enrolled in the Course in Journalism are eligible for membership in the club. Only a limited number of students will be admitted.

Press club will meet at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening to vote on the new members.

Applications, the deadline for which has been fixed at 5 o'clock Tuesday, may be left at the Cardinal office for Ninman.

WASHINGTON—A complete investigation of the radio row in Cincinnati in which stations WIW and WMH have been broadcasting on one wave length simultaneously, was ordered today by Secretary Hoover.

DAD CARDINAL'S LETTERS

FIVE WISCONIN TEAMS TO SEE ACTION TODAY

25 TRACKSTERS LEAVE FOR QUAD CINDER CONTEST

Stiff Competition Evident in Meet; Wisconsin, Ohio, Purple,
Chicago Compete

Coach Jones and 25 Badger tracksters left this morning for Evanston to make their first appearance in Big Ten track circles at the quadangular meet tonight.

The quadangular meet was started last year when four universities, Wisconsin, Ohio State, Northwestern and Chicago, combined for the purpose of competition in both indoor and outdoor tracks. The first meet was held indoors last year at Chicago and the Badgers easily won. Last spring the outdoor meet was held at Camp Randall and again the charges of Coach Jones came off with flying colors.

The indoor meet is more after the fashion of a relay carnival than a track meet. In place of the quarter, half mile, mile and two-mile runs, four relay meets have been substituted.

Special Relays Run

A mile, two-mile and four-mile relay plus a distance medley relay, are the four new events that take the place of the regular runs. In these relay races each university enters a team of four men. In the mile relay each of the four competitors runs a quarter mile; in the two-mile they run a half mile, while in the four-mile each man runs a mile.

The total distance of the distance medley is two miles and is divided equally among the four runners. The first two men run a quarter mile each, the third man runs a half mile while the last man runs a mile.

With the exception of these four relays the remainder of the indoor quadangular is the same as a regular track meet with such events as the hurdles, dashes and field events.

A special point system for scoring has been adopted for this indoor meet. Ten points will be given to the winner in each of the relay races with six, four and two points given to the other places respectively. In the other events the regular system of five points for a first place and three, two and one points for the other three places.

Chicago Mile Favorite

To a certain extent fairly accurate dope can be forecasted as to the winners in the various events. Chicago rules the favorite in the mile relay with McFarlane and Cusack as the chief performers. However, the Badger quartet will press them hard all the way. The two and four-mile relays are generally conceded to the balanced Badger quartets, while Chicago and Northwestern look good in the medley relay.

Two of the special events are already spoken for. Russel, conference indoor high jump champion last season, made a pretty leap of six feet five inches in the recent Chicago-Indiana dual meet and there is no one else who can come within three inches of that mark. The other event is the shot-put, which goes by unanimous vote to Herb Schwarze, star Badger shot-putter.

Schneider and Guthrie, Olympic performers from Ohio, are fairly sure of winning the high and low sticks, while Pat McAndrews seems to be the logical man to win the dash. The pole vault is any man's event.

GYMNASTS, SWIMMERS, AND HOCKEY TEAM IN CONTESTS AT HOME

Tracksters and Wrestlers in Important Tests on Foreign Ground

Wisconsin's skill in both major and minor sports is on exhibition today in three contests here and two away, as the track, wrestling, gymnastics, hockey and swimming squads meet opposing teams.

The track squad led by Captain Vallely participates in the first dual meet of the season at Northwestern against the Purple, Buckeye and Maroon teams. At Carleton, Minnesota, tonight the wrestling team engages a team of unknown strength in the second match of the year for the matmen.

On the hockey rink at 4 o'clock, the pucksters have their second match against the Iverson sextet of Minnesota.

Gymnastic skill as exhibited by the Badger and Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. squads is the first attraction here on the third floor of the gymnasium at 7 o'clock tonight.

The basketball team will spend hours of hard practice today in preparation for the game with the Hawkeyes here Monday night.

Frosh Track Men Prepare to Meet Michigan, Iowa

While the varsity tracksters are winning honors at the quadangular meet, the frosh tracksters will put in some hard work in preparation for the coming telegraphic meets with Michigan and Iowa.

All the varsity men are requested by Coach Jones to report to Coach Burke in the annex this afternoon at 4 o'clock for a workout which will probably take the form of a meet with the yearling squad to assist them in developing for their meets.

A great addition to the hurdling end of the first year squad came in the form of "Pal" Pahlmeyer, star Madison prep school hurdler, who entered school this semester. Pahlmeyer was one of the best prep school stick men in the state last year, and as the frosh are especially weak in this event his addition will bolster up the team to a great extent.

JOURNALISM LAB FEE IS DUE ON FEBRUARY 21

A fee of one dollar for all Journalism students for the second semester is now due. Fee cards may be obtained from Miss Bauer, 303 South Hall, any time after Tuesday next. It is necessary that this fee be paid to the bursar on, or before Saturday, Feb. 21. Attendance at classes after that date will not be credited unless the fee is paid. This fee is collected for the purpose of keeping the typewriters in repair, furnishing copy paper, and various other necessities of the course.

WRESTLERS OFF FOR CARLETON MATCH

The varsity wrestling team left for Northfield, Minn., last night with a new lineup to meet the Carleton college team this evening.

Elmer Hansen, Ivan Phelps, William O'Laughlen and Raymond Stipek did not wrestle in the Chicago meet and their performance at Carleton will give Coach Hitchcock a good outlook as to the Badger's strength for the season.

The Wisconsin lineup tonight will be:

Elmer Hansen, 115-pounds; Ivan Phelps, 125-pounds; William O'Laughlen, 135-pounds; Capt. Lisle Zodtner, 145-pounds; Harvey Chada, 158-pounds; William Splees, 175-pounds; and Raymond Stipek, heavyweight.

FIELD HOUSE IS NOW POSSIBILITY

To Be Erected With Proceeds From Athletic Events

Wisconsin's chances of having a new field house in the near future were given a boost yesterday when the senate judiciary committee reported favorably on the passage of the Sauthoff bill.

The bill introduced by the Madison senator will give the regents of the university the power to organize a non-profit holding company for the purpose of erecting a field house. The funds for this project will be raised from receipts of athletic events.

Guy S. Lowman, of the athletic staff, appeared in favor of the measure. He presented figures showing how other institutions far behind Wisconsin in athletic standing, have larger and better field accommodations. He also showed the need for such a structure, and showed that it would cost the state nothing, since it could be paid for from athletic receipts.

PURDUE ELEVEN GIVEN TOKENS BY STUDENTS

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Members of the Purdue football team will be presented with gold footballs as a token of appreciation from the student body for their excellent record during the past season.

DIRECTOR LITTLE ON JOB; SENDS OUT CALL FOR GRIDDER

George Little, newly appointed director of athletics, arrived in Madison last night and immediately sent out a call for a meeting of all men who are expecting to be candidates for the football team during the coming season, in the Trophy room of the gymnasium this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Mr. Little considers this preliminary meeting very important, and he desires that all varsity men, all-Americans, and members of the freshman squad, as well as all others who wish to try out for the is making plans to have a large squad at the beginning of the season, and he wants all likely candidates, whether they have had experience or not, to join the squad.

Plans for spring practice and a general outline of the coming season will be discussed this afternoon.

FRESHMEN APPLY FOR MONEY AID

First Year Students Submit Requests to Scholarship Committee

Seventy freshmen have sent in applications for the 50 Wisconsin scholarships, of which 50 are men and 20 are women. The Committee on Loans and Scholarships will meet Monday afternoon to consider these applications and to make recommendations to the regents. The successful applicants will be announced by the regents the latter part of March.

The Wisconsin Scholarships were established by the regents of the university in 1919. Each of the 50 awards is of the value of $100. Only freshmen students who are registered as residents of Wisconsin are eligible. They must have shown worth and ability and to be in need of financial assistance. Students who are receiving a monthly bonus from the state are not eligible.

No student in the Law school, the Medical school, or the Graduate school is eligible for one of these scholarships.

In applying for the scholarship the students submits one letter of recommendation as to character from a person well known in university or home town circles, and another letter from some one to verify his financial needs.

The members of the Committee on Loans and Scholarships are: Prof. Julius E. Olson, chairman; Prof. L. W. Dowling, Prof. J. G. Dickson, Dean S. H. Goodnight, Prof. B. F. Dodge, Prof. A. V. Miller, Miss M. Scallon and Mrs. C. B. Flett.

MEANWELL WORKS ON FORWARDS AS IOWA TILT NEARS

Shooting on Free Throws Must Be Improved Before Monday's Game

Coach Walter E. Meanwell sent his cage men through a hard day of practice yesterday. The game with the Franklin team showed that the doctor has much to do in order to mould a team into shape to make a formidable showing against the Iowa quintet Monday night.

The practice of the next week will be in drilling a new set of forwards to take the place of Wackman and Martell. Harget, Anderson, Varney and Merkel are all being tried at the forward berths in an effort to find an effective combination. Brooks and Barnum are the logical men to carry the center position for the rest of the season. Brooks has somewhat the advantage with his height, but Barnum is giving him much trouble to keep the position.

Weak on Foul Shots

The two guards are still the same. Barwig was taken from the game against the "wonder five" because of his fouling, but it is likely that he will start the most of the conference games with Captain Diebold. Diebold seems to have gained his old form and is playing a great defense game.

The shooting of the team for free throws must be improved before the next conference battle. Many of the games that have been lost by a few points would have been won if the Wisconsin men had made more than half of their free throws. The hardest problem of the Badger coach is to find a pair of forwards who can pass and handle the ball with real ability. This offense problem will be the main work of the practice next week.

FANCY SKATERS GIVE PERFORMANCE TODAY

Between periods in this afternoon's hockey match, the Iverson brothers and two women partners will give a fancy skating exhibition. Due to a professional engagement in Duluth last night, the young women were unable to appear, but will do so this afternoon.

COLUMBIA GRIDDER MUST MAKE GRADES

Dr. Paul G. Withington outlined plans for the 1925 season of Columbia's football team at a banquet following the Syracuse game. As part of the preparations he stated that members of the squad would have their scholastic work closely watched to avoid ineligibilities. Withington coached Wisconsin elevens in the years just previous to John S. Richards' work as coach here.

Of course we don't say this or anything like that, but man,

you ought to hear 'em—

THE TWO GEORGES

A magic word of power and well-founded, forward-looking optimism has this name of "George" suddenly become wherever two or more men gather together with the common interest of Wisconsin. To the alumni, the faculty, the state officials, and those of the student body who have cared enough about their alma mater to follow the course of recent events, GEORGE I. Haight personifies that closer union between the university and its graduates which will strengthen the alumni organization, bring pressure to bear upon the state in the interests of its greatest institution, help solve our administrative and social difficulties, hasten the coming of the Memorial Union, and make future commencements and Homecomings glorious gatherings glorious gatherings of the entire Wisconsin family.

To those interested in athletics, which of course includes all of us—students, professors and janitors, the state government, the lay citizenry, yes, and even all the columnists and feature writers the country over—to all these GEORGE Little spells the beginning of a new chapter in the Wisconsin athletic history, a period of success in all sports, with our due share of championships, an era of intramural athletics that will draw in every rough-neck and bookworm, a campaign of constructive publicity that will attract, and not repel, an all-inclusive program of health building and character building physical activity.

All such persons of the masculine gender as hold the above propositions to be true will flock to the gymnasium on Wednesday evening next; they will listen attentively, and with much inspiration, to the words that the first George will have to tell them about their university, and they will give an ovation of welcome to the second George, eagerly listening to the director's program and policies. Whatever these two men have to say directly concerns every man in the university, for as Wisconsin becomes a greater Wisconsin through such efforts as they are putting and will continue to put forth, each individual on the campus will greatly profit.

Both of the Georges have expressed a desire to meet the men of the university, the entire Wisconsin Union; and those who bear the privilege of membership in that Union with any degree of pride and interest whatever will count themselves among those present when the gym has been filled to capacity next Wednesday evening.

HOCKEY AND THE CARNIVAL

Little words of profanity are never amiss in the proper surroundings when there is sufficient cause to warrant them, and every lover of winter sports is certainly justified today in seeking out a lonely spot and giving vent to all the cusses inspired in him by the weather. A week ago today one of the most unique and characteristic of the university's many activities was utterly ruined and all but halted when the mid-summer heat and the fog conspired against the International Ski tournament. Today winter sports have nearly been forgotten, while the university calendar calls for a hockey match with Minnesota and the annual Winter Sports carnival. Warm weather has necessitated the postponement of the carnival until next Saturday.

The hockey team certainly has been working under difficulties, with a rink in such a condition that more speed could be made in rubber boots than on skates. This is one of nature's caprices, and all the editorials in the country cannot do much of anything about it, except, perhaps, to suggest that a refrigerating plant be set up to keep the rink in condition. But the larger loss is that the thousands of students who love to skate, ski, and toboggan are lolling around in a sort of pseudo spring, and the ice carnival must necessarily be a meager affair.

But the meagerness of the ice carnival cannot entirely be blamed on the weather. Never, even under the most favorable conditions, has Wisconsin had a carnival that did it justice; for with their natural surroundings Madison and the university should rival the Twin Cities, Dartmouth, Toronto and St. Mauritz in the magnitude of their carnival season. Under its new regime the athletic department is said to be planning wide extension in the field of intramural sports, and one suggestion is that attention be given to the annual ice carnival.

SHE WHO SMOKES

Far be it from just for a group of ill-smelling, smoke begrimed, selfish males to pass judgment on their sisters when they take a fancy to nicotine. Such criticism, although it is frequent enough and perhaps is wise, cannot be denied to be based on mere prejudice or even on a false sense of superiority, with the idea that men can do things which are definitely beyond the sphere of woman, more often than on scientific knowledge or even on sound moral reasoning. It is a favorite indoor sport for people to pass judgment on their fellows and those who suffer such criticism most, of course, are those who are constantly breaking the accepted order of things in favor of some new idea or custom.

But when criticism against the use of tobacco by women comes from a source that is neither masculine nor prejudiced, and from a woman who probably is popularly supposed to be an exponent of smoking and all kinds of other privileges for the feminine sex, it is worth reading, and, perhaps, seriously considering. The following paragraphs are quoted from a letter written by Pola Negri, a star of the silver screen, by the Leader, of Springfield, Missouri, and reprinted in the No-Tobacco Educator:

"Tobacco insidiously destroys a woman's beauty. I have watched its effect in many cases, and have come to have a wholesome dread of it. Unfortunately, the use of tobacco is a pleasureable vice. But I have observed the havoc it played with promising, fresh, young girls, who were beginning their career in motion pictures.

"As the habit becomes fixed, the red lips fade, the cheeks lose their glow, the eyes become dimmed, the features are sharpened, and wrinkles appear. In spite of this, women the world over are smoking more than ever before. In America, millions of cigarettes are consumed by the fair sex.

"I am always sorry when I get a picture role that demands smoking. Not that I can not perform the part, for I used to smoke. But I quit, and I deplore the influence the screen may have in propagating the habit. I am always concerned lest my example may induce some girls to smoke, who may take an actress as an example.

"Many feminine screen stars and featured players smoke. Many use tobacco in private, whose film roles, they feel, will not yet permit them to indulge nicotine on the stage. But intelligent women, who are anxious to retain their physical bloom and beauty, do not use tobacco."

"Forever and a day" is said to be a long time; and yet if you take away the "forever" you have left something so brief and fleeting that to a busy man the interval between dawn and twilight seems to be as the winking of an eyelash.

GOOD MORNING, survivors of the past week—sound the zither and the harp—bath time and stay in college! The dirge from South Hall didn't materialize.

GOOD-BY—COME AGAIN!

A couple of our contribs are missing since the first of the current week—one of the lads—bless his little soul—pasted a last year's homecoming label on his trunk—you know—"We are Badgers, homeward bound."

WHAT A BLOW!

According to the North hall weather bureau "We are having a taste of premature March weather." Oh yes—and right along the same line one of the dizzy playmates was trudging manfully up the hill the other day and while observing a dimpled knee (heavy breeze, you know) he darn near broke his neck on a slippery stretch of ice. "Ah—beware the hides of March," sez he in commenting on the situation.

Explanation of one woman as to why she broke up with the boy—"Oh he's like a promissory note—I'm tired of meeting him."

A WEEK AGO

What said Bernadine
At the door,
When they couldn't
Dance some more
As Cliff began to turn
To turn away?
How I wonder!
Did she say—
"Call me up
Some afternoon,"
Or, "look up there—
See the moon?"
Or, "I must go
Right inside—
Thanks for the peanuts
And the buggy ride?"
"No," she told him,
"I believe
I'll be busy
Sunday eve."

SLIVERS!
Did you ever see a person with a wooden neck, dummy?
Dummy: No, hoo?
Maxine said she wouldn't.

CUTTING CUMBACK
Dear Rockets: My hair is very dark, can't you tell me how to make it lighter?

BRUNETTA
Ans: Take the shears to it and then it will be lighter.

STEW SAYS

The Literary Magazine is coming out next week or so, featuring Prof. O'Shea's story, "What I should get out of college." Yes, that's what the dean said—that I should get out of college.

PARDON US!

"Whose mail is this?" says the coed as she lumps the hall table.
"I am waiting for Peggy," answers the sweet young man on the sofa.

Prof: YOU can't sleep in this class!
Us: I guess I could if you'd quit talking.

What to do tonite? We walked the weakness down to the Orp Wednesday night, and now she is out to the infirmary with busted arches. What kind of a wren is it, I ask you, that never has had an auto ride?

Say, isn't it great to see the action in the lecture rooms at the first meeting of the class? Watch the fusers trying to get next to the keen women, and the keen women trying to get next to the door and the dream daddies trying to get in the rear seats?

So goodbye, those of you who have been spared to us for another semester.

JAY &amp; STEW.

Y. W. C. A. ISSUES ELECTION ORDERS

No Pledge, No Vote, is Edict of Organization's Cabinet

That all women will be barred from the spring elections of Y. W. C. A. officers unless they have signed the pledge card for 1925 before March 1 was the decision reached by the cabinet at its last meeting.

To become a member of the organization and to renew that membership the pledge, "It is my purpose to live as a true follower of the Lord, Jesus Christ," must be signed. All women interested and active in Y. W. C. A. work are urged to go to the office in Lathrop hall to sign the pledge if they have not already done so and to assure themselves that there is no mistake in the records.

"It is not the purpose of the cabinet to limit the number of votes cast or to keep any who are really interested from voting, but to do away with wholesale signing of pledges on election day, thus defeating the fundamental Christian principle of the association." Lillian Twenhofel '26, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., explained.

They will be at home at 321 G street, San Mateo, California, after March 10.

PHI CHI THETA NAMES HELLENIC DELEGATES

Although meetings will be held every Thursday and many activities are planned, there has been no pledging yet and no date for formal installation has been set.

PAXSON'S HISTORY CAUSES COMMENT

Book is Fascinating Account of American Frontier Life

The new book, "The History of the American Frontier," written by Prof. F. L. Paxson, and published by Houghton-Mifflin, has created considerable comment in literary and historical circles. Much favorable comment and criticism has been awarded to this latest products of Professor Paxson's pen.

The book, as criticised by Nicholas Roosevelt, is one of fascinating accounts of the history of the American frontier from 1763 to 1923. It is a presentation of the history of the frontier as a whole, and brings out the story of the frontier in perspective.

"The History of the American Frontier," is the story of the conquest of a continent; it is this which is distinctly American, and is the contribution of the frontier in the development and molding of the various races in the homogeneous America of today.

Turn Varsity Inside Out For Everyone to View During Expo

Blueprints and questionnaires have nearly all been returned to the chairmen in charge of the university exposition by the supervisors of each of the 80 exhibits which will be spread out on the gym floor of the armory, the annex and in the swimming tank and locker rooms from April 16 to 18 inclusive. Detailed information has been provided by the supervisors as to all the fixtures and accessories they will need in their respective booths.

The exposition, which is given every fourth year, is an effort to show graphically the position, the history and the ideals of the university. An immense amount of work has already been done by the general chairman and his assistants and by the managers of the respective college exhibits.

Briefly, the general purpose of the exposition has been summed up in the circulars sent out by the committees. It is virtually to turn the university inside out for the examination of the people of the state as well as the students and faculty members, to show the working machinery of the various departments, together with their major accomplishments and methods of putting their work across. It exhibits also scientific experiments or displays which, when possible, are a few jumps ahead of the time to typify the lead in science which the university should represent, and to demonstrate the efficiency of the teaching processes of the university with instructive exhibits.

More directly the exposition aims to acquaint the taxpayers of the state with the nature of the university's accomplishments as well as prove to them its right to existence, and to establish better spirit of cooperation between the legislature of the state by wiping away much of the unfamiliarity with the university work which exists at present.

Those in charge are even more desirous of making the exposition the beginning of a comeback for the university by neutralizing many of the bad effects which have resulted from the criticism and harmful talk which has been spreading throughout the state about the university.

ENDOWMENT FUND NOT FOR BUILDING

Total Amount Now Approximately $3,150,000; Small Sum Earning Interest

There is no chance that any new university buildings will be built from the income from the university endowment funds, was the statement made by M. E. McCaffrey, secretary to the regents, when questioned on the $5,000,000 endowment fund that the 1925 World's Almanac claims the university possesses.

"I only wish it were so," was Mr. McCaffrey's first comment on the almanac's figures. The total endowment amounts to approximately $3,150,000 of which a relatively small part is at present earning income for the university.

More than $2,000,000 of the total sum is composed of the Vilas estate which is still being taken care of by the trustees. It will remain so for some time and in the meantime no use can be made of it by the university. When the estate is finally turned over the will provides that $500,000 will be used for the erection of a university theatre. After the principal reaches a total of $5,000,000 the university authorities may set aside half of the income for new buildings and campus improvements; when it has reached a total of $20,000,000 half of the income is to be for the procuring of special lecturers, professors, scholarships and research work; one quarter of the income will be added to the principal till it reaches the total of $30,000,000.

The Tripp estate the only large estate figured in the endowment fund provides for the use of $200,000 for the Memorial Union building. The estate is at present in the hands of Mr. McCaffrey and the checking up has been almost completed.

MASSMEETING PLANS RECEIVE ENDORSEMENT

find it possible to attend immediately after dinner and still have the major part of the evening free for study. The massmeeting will probably not last more than an hour.

Statements were received yesterday from Lester Kissel '24 in behalf of the Wisconsin Union, from Jack Harris '24, captain of the football team last year, in behalf of the "W" club and from Byron Barwig, guard on the basketball team, in behalf of the athletic council. These students urge that all men in the university be sure to attend the massmeeting, especially because they feel that a rousing welcome to Director Little will go far in aiding him in starting his work here. The statements follow:

Wisconsin Union

A massmeeting of the Wisconsin Union, the first for years, to welcome George Little and hear George Haight, president of the Alumni association, should be of vital interest to all men. Two men should be close to the student body—Little, because we are working with him for a greater Wisconsin in athletics, and Haight, because he is making for a greater Wisconsin by gaining the active loyalty of all alumni—should bring every man to give them a sincere welcome.

LESTER KISSEL
President, the Wisconsin Union.

The "W" Club

Let's all turn out Wednesday to help make the "two Georges" realize and know that the men of Wisconsin stand back of them to a man. I'm sure everyone wants to, and will do his part, by being present, to make this welcome a real one. George Little is very enthusiastic about his new position and it is up to us to cooperate in every way possible to help put "Old Wisconsin" up where it belongs. Every man in the university should make it a point to hear what these two men have to say. Again—let's all be there.

JACK HARRIS,
President, the "W" Club.

The Athletic Council

Inasmuch as Wisconsin is at the beginning of a new era of growth and success in all fields of athletics, it is certainly the duty of every man in the university to attend the Union massmeeting next Wednesday. This will be the first opportunity for the student body to meet George

DISCIPLINE BODY DECIDES CASES

Few Charged With Cheating
in Final Exams,
Report

"Few cases of cribbing in final examinations have been reported to the disciplinary committee," said Prof. Ray S. Owen, chairman, who commented yesterday on the large number of cases the committee dealt with in the last two weeks.

"The reason there is so much cheating in the last week or so of classes is that students who have let their work lag all semester, become panic-stricken when they realize the large number of reports, topics, drawings, and problems which they must finish in just a few days. They plagiarize in these rather than crib in exams."

A freshman engineer copied drawing plates from a senior agricultural student. Both were fined five credits and placed on probation at the meeting of the disciplinary committee last night in South hall. The senior will have to withdraw from athletics for the rest of this semester.

Suspected of dishonesty but not convicted, a sophomore civil engineer was dismissed with the warning that another appearance before the committee would be regarded as a second offense. Another man of the same classification had gone all through last semester doing practically none of his work, but covering his tracks with schemes involving fake clinic appointments and copied drawing plates. He was dropped by the university because of his low scholarship, but if he ever re-enters he will first have to pass a satisfactory mental and physical examination given by the clinic. In addition he will have to make up at least a semester's work because of his plagiarism.

Other cases dealt with included a man whose field trip report was identical with that of his friend, a junior, who falsified data in a chemistry problem; a freshman who handed in an English theme copied out of a book of stories; a commerce sophomore who cribbed in accounting, and a youth who took a library book out on some one's else name. In all these cases probation and penalties of from one to eight credits were given.

MAKE PLANS FOR RELIGIOUS CONVO

Annual Conference to Be Held
March 27-29; Dr. Fosdick
Speaker

A tentative program for the annual all-university religious conference, which will be held March 27 to 29, has been submitted to Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, speaker for the occasion, for his approval, it was announced yesterday.

Four addresses are included in the program, the all-university convocation Friday night in Lathrop gymnasium, a meeting Saturday night, others Sunday afternoon and evening. It is possible that the university gymnasium will be used. Dr. Fosdick will speak at a luncheon for the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. cabinets and other Christian leaders on the campus Saturday noon.

The all-university religious conference is later than usual this year in order to meet with Dr. Fosdick's convenience. This will be his first western appearance after quitting his New York city pastorate.

"Wisconsin was able to obtain Dr. Fosdick for the speaker at the annual religious conference because the university has asked him to come for the past few years, because he has time for this kind of lecture work since giving up his church in New York, and because the religious forces on the campus combined in requesting his appearance," said C. V. Hibbard, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

PANTRY WILL OPEN NEW PLACE TONIGHT

Among scents of roses and strains of music the "Pantry" will make its formal debut at 9 o'clock this evening in its new home on State street. Three weeks ago it moved from its old residence at 323 North Lake street, where it had been conducted by Joseph Allabough, Jr., the owner.

Entertainment will be furnished throughout the evening by "Chubby" Goodlad, who as an Italian impersonator, will tell funny stories; by Don Patterson and Jack Sampson, the composers of "Promise," who will sing and play their own musical compositions; and by Mr. Allabough, who will sing his own pieces as well as popular numbers.

Favors will be given to the women and flowers will cover each table. The tapestried walls and the glow from tiny individual lambs will give the place "atmosphere."

Last summer Mr. Allabough sang with the Oriole orchestra at the Edgewater Beach hotel, Chicago. Two years ago he was a motion picture actor, having parts in "The Fighting Parson," and "Parsifal." Allabough worked for the Standard Cinemas of Chicago, a company which makes pictures for Paramount.

The owner of the Pantry is also an oil painter. Last fall he made a portrait of Charlotte Nye '24. Previous to coming here he served as staff artist on the Cleveland "Plain Dealer."

HARRIS WILL ADDRESS MADISON MEETINGS

Prof. J. P. Harris of the department of political science, will speak on the "Qualifications for a Chief of Police" at the luncheon of the Civics club, Saturday noon at the Lorraine hotel. He will speak on the same subject Monday before the Catholic Women's club and before the Dane County League of Women Voters, Feb. 17.

Milwaukee Club Praises Fish For Series of Talks

In appreciation for the series of the four comparative biographical studies given by Prof. Carl Russell Fish before the City club in Milwaukee recently, the following notice appeared in the City Club News:

"A sincere tribute of appreciation was paid to Dr. Fish recently by a man who had been reluctantly persuaded by his wife—we might almost say dragged—to attend the second lecture of the series on "Revolutionary Heroes". The member's interest, it seems, was awakened three minutes after Dr. Fish began his address, his enthusiasm grew and grew as the speaker developed his theme until before he left he was asking every neighbor if it wasn't worth $2.50 to hear such a speech. Needless to say he attended the other lectures and regretted his absence at the first one."

"The four comparative biographical studies just given by Dr. Fish were of such unusual charm, interest and clarity that every member who attended one or all of them will long think with appreciation of Dr. Fish's wealth of knowledge, his delightful sense of humor and his art in making his characters live."

"Y" CLASS CONSIDERS WORK OF APOSTLES

"What the apostles knew or thought of Christ before He came to earth in human form, as found in the writings of Paul and other apostles," will be the subject for the first Sunday morning class at the Y. M. C. A. The class is a continuation of the one conducted last semester by C. V. Hibbard, Y. M. C. A. secretary, on the general subject of "Conceptions of Christ in His Own Day," meeting at 9 o'clock each Sunday morning, in his office. Men students of the university are welcome to the classes.
