BADGERS AWAIT GOPHER ATTACK

MASSMEETING AND CARNIVAL OPEN PROGRAM

Huge Crowd Gathers on Lower Campus For Bonfire

Massmeetings at the gymnasium and Music hall, a bonfire on the lower campus, and a carnival at the gymnasium successfully opened the Homecoming festivities early last evening.

"If we start off on our toes, we can beat Minnesota, and with this kind of start we can beat any team," said Coach John Richards at the Homecoming massmeeting. "It's just a matter of starting out with all cylinders hitting, and I think that they will all be there tomorrow."

Long before 7 o'clock the gymnasium was filled to capacity, and outside a spirited throng clamored for admittance.

Karel Presides

After the First Regimental band entered and "Gus" Tuckerman had led in several yells, John C. "Ikey" Karel, chairman of the massmeeting, was introduced by Arthur Kinan '22. After a short talk in which he predicted an easy win for Wisconsin, Judge Karel presented Prof. Carl Russell Fish, who appeared with the well known cardinal tie and vest.

Edward S. Jordan '05, who spoke next, predicted that the outcome of today's game would be favorable, and Edwin H. O'Hara '92, told about early football history at Wisconsin.

Sundt and Bunge Speak

After Coach Richards' talk, Captain Guy Sundt, and George Bunge told the crowd what they might expect from the team today, and with the singing of "Varstiy," the massmeeting proceeded to the lower campus where the bonfire was just starting.

At the overflow meeting in Music hall, arranged for those who were

BIRGE'S WELCOME

The University extends a hearty welcome to all who return to the Homecoming game. "Homecoming" is a good word and we hope that it is more than a word to you—that Wisconsin will always be more than a word to you—that Wisconsin will always be home to you, the center to which your hearts return wherever you may be. You come back not merely as to a home which you have left but also as to the home of many successive generations of students, past, present, and future. Such a home is our University, and it therefore claims your permanent affection, your constant care, and your ready help.

E. A. BIRGE,
President.

Cartwheels Clink Into Tin Buckets At Game Today

Hundreds of silver dollars clinking into the buckets of the Memorial Union workers will be one kind of music which will be heard at the game today.

Having rested in the vaults of the Commercial National bank last night after they had been brought to Madison by special express, the silver will be exchanged for paper at the distribution booths at Camp Randall today. Armed guards will watch over the booths at the football field, as they will at the exchange stations on Park street and University avenue.

The idea for a "Silver Dollar" day originated at Ohio State university when money was being raised for the new memorial stadium, and at Ohio's Homecoming game $20,000 was raised in this manner.

A team of 150 women under the direction of W. A. A. will pass through the stands between the halves with large metal buckets, and catch the heavy coins as they are offered.

Information giving full particulars about this novel form of drive will be distributed from the two airplanes which will fly over Madison at all times today. The special airplanes used were chartered by the Memorial Union committee from an aero concern in Milwaukee.

GAMMA PHIS AND CHI PHIS HAVE BEST HOUSE DECORATION

Gamma Phi, Chi Phi, Barnard, and Grady's were awarded first honors for the best decorated houses after the judges toured the Latin quarter last night.

The judges, Dean F. W. Roe, Major John S. Wood, and Prof. Wm. H. Varnum, based their decisions on the following points: artistic qualities, ingenuity shown, the effect as a welcome, and the lighting.

Alpha Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta were given second and third places respectively among the sororities, and Sigma Nu and Kappa Psi carried off second and third places among the fraternities. In the rooming house contest Frawley's was judged second and Mahoney's third.

The Gamma Phi decorations were carried out in an oriental fashion having a background of lattice work supporting Japanese lanterns. In the yard, bushes with small white flowers showed up well in the unusual lighting arrangement.

Accentuating the spirit of Homecoming, the Chi Phi decorations combined a unique lighting effect, consisting of a flashing "M" and "W," with a background of autumn leaves. The house was outlined with a garland of colored lights, and the porch roof represented a rustic pagoda.

Both Teams Crippled; Oss and Gibson to Be on Sidelines

By CHAS. J. LEWIN

Gaily attired in brilliant Homecoming trappings of Cardinal and White, Maroon and Gold, Wisconsin today awaits with impatient expectancy two onslaughts, both potentially awesome and fear-compelling.

The biggest, and also weakest, will be the sortie of more than 500 Minnesota football fans who arrive in Madison this morning to cheer their team on to victory or defeat. The most terrific aggression will

FAKE TICKETS IN CIRCULATION

Bogus Cardboards Differ From Genuine in Details

A scheme to sell counterfeit tickets for the Homecoming game today was uncovered by the Athletic department yesterday noon when five of these bogus tickets were purchased on State street for five dollars apiece by Major G. E. Smalley, 271 Langdon street, an alumnus of the university.

These counterfeit pasteboards differ from the genuine ticket in many small details, and the Athletic department urges every person buying tickets from irregular sources to inspect them carefully, since the holders of such tickets will not be admitted to the stands this afternoon.

The tickets bought by Major Smalley are in Section E, Row 11, and the seat numbers run from 25 to 28 inclusive. On the face of these bogus tickets, the price is printed as $2.50, while all tickets in Section E sell for $3.00 and are so marked. The genuine tickets bear the regular union label, local number 95, and carry the style name of the firm which printed them, the Argus Ticket Co., Chicago.

These marks do not appear on the counterfeit ones. The type used in printing the bogus pasteboards differs in many respects from that of the regular ones; the stock of blue pasteboard used is a shade of blue darker than the genuine ones, and the size is slightly narrower. On the back of the illegal tickets purchased by Major Smalley is printed the following instructions: "Hold-

KNIGHTS OF ROAD PROMENADE TODAY ON STATE STREET

Powder up girls, and cheer your hobo Adonais as he shuffles down State street in the second annual hobo parade at 10 o'clock this morning.

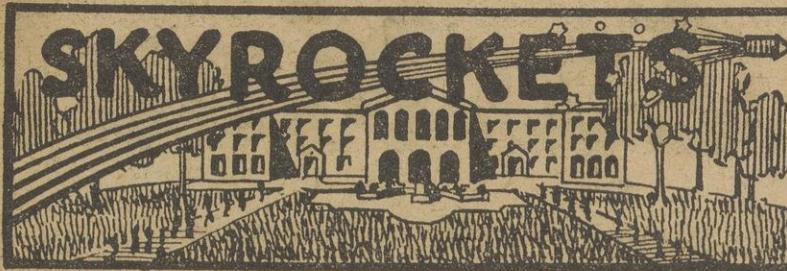

Over 300 knights of the dusty road will assemble on the lower campus at 9:45 a. m. The hobos will parade up State street to the square and back again, led by the famous Jesse Cohen hobo band.

Strange sights and thrilling races will decide on merits of the promenade. The judges will be located on Park street near the library and will decide on the merits of the contestants. Various prizes ranging from silver loving cups to candy and trade checks will be offered to the best groups and individuals.

ALUMNI AND ALMOST NIGHT

YOU probably realize that the rest of the Cardinal is full of the same old stuff about Homecoming and the Wisconsin-Minnesota football games; nothing new about it but the date. But this column—well, that's a different story. It's all new and hot, so don't waste any of your time looking elsewhere for something to read. You can get just as bored here as any place else

IT is our notion that the Minnesota delegation ought to go out to the field early today, in order to warm up the new stands by game time.

WHAT a college graduate knows about love depends upon which sorority he learned it from.

THE Deltas have installed two new showers for their revival meeting this evening. A large and enthusiastic crowd is expected to attend.

THE Sigma Nus have served notice on us that they are going to press Pete's suit for libel. They represent the above exposition of Petah's chawactaw.

Teddy: "It doesn't take much to put a man out these days." Bear: "No, a couple poors will do it."

WE hate to put a fly in your soup, alums, but you mustn't forget to have a good explanation for your wife when you have your second Homecoming.

OUT AT HOME!

When the grad meets his wife at the door,
Then she'll see the results of the game
As he picks himself up from the floor
When the grad meets his wife at the door,
Though she'll love him, he'll not be the same,
And he won't go to lodge any more.
When the grad meets his wife at the door,
Then she'll see the results of the game.

OUR DAILY EDITORIAL

Of course you want a Memorial Union building. Of course you do. So do we. Therefore be liberal. Somebody's got to be the goat. And when you stop to think (we never do) that some day you and I may want to get in out of the rain, and the proposed building is to have the best roof on the campus. Subscribe now. We hate the notoriety of being the first in line. Let us all get together and put this over on somebody. Between you and me, we hope to get a new office and typewriter out of the deal and in the building.

WE submit the following advice for the full enjoyment of the game:

If your tickets came on Thursday or thereafter, use the telescope on Observatory Hill.

Dress warmly, preferably in white flannels and gym shirt.

When we make our first touchdown, throw your neighbor's hat in the air. You may need yours later.

Keep your mouth shut when watching the airplanes. Remember, they are going to drop circulars and they might mistake you for a waste paper basket.

TWO STARS ON SIDELINES FOR TODAY'S GAME

Both Elevens Expected to Play Straight Football

much smaller and lighter, but faster. It will be a battle to delight the gods.

Awaiting the battle, both teams find themselves confident, itching to fight, but crippled by the loss of important cogs in the respective football machines. As the time for the struggle approaches, more and more doubt is expressed about Gibson's ability to start in the quarterback position. The plucky little pilot was badly hurt in the Illinois game, and although he worked out with the first team in drills of the past week, it is unlikely that his condition has improved enough to permit him to run the Badger eleven.

With chances only even that Gibson will play, Wisconsin partisans have lost much of their confident air and realize that it will be a steady grind all of the way. Breaks of the game may be the deciding factor in victory for either team.

Minnesota has lost the services of Arnold Oss, one of the greatest halfbacks who ever played on a

What Coach Richards said:

"We intend to have a team out there that will fight all of the way. We have a good Varsity team. It is going to be a hard game, and we do not want our team to lose."

What Capt. Sundt said:

"Remembering the way that Minnesota has fought Wisconsin in past years, we expect a tough battle with the Gophers. We thought it would be an easy game last year, but they held us to a 3 to 0 victory. The team is just rarin' to go. It expects a tough battle and will fight hard."

What Capt. Teberg said:

"Minnesota is not disheartened by its only defeat at the hands of Ohio State. The Gophers will show all of the old fight that they are capable of when the teams battle here Saturday."

western gridiron. The Gophers, however, have had two weeks in which to prepare another player to fill Oss' shoes, while Gibson's injury was so recent that Coach John Richards was forced to make last minute changes.

If Gibson is out of it, doppers figure "Rollie" Williams for the pilot job, with Gould at left half, and Horne in Gould's wing position. Gould is a good ball-carrier and one who is hard to stop. He might play half on the offense and then fill left end when the northmen were in possession of the oval. This arrangement, although somewhat complex, would be entirely effective. "Jimmy" Woods is another possibility for left half. He played good ball in the Illinois game.

In addition to Oss, the Gopher casualty list includes Brown, Johnson, and Gross. All three of these men are available for service, and "Doc" Williams is fairly sure to use them before the final whistle stops the contest this afternoon. The great Oss will probably view the game from a wheel chair on the sidelines.

Gopher Backs Powerful

Martineau and Gilstad are two powerful Gopher backs. Gilstad is likened to Solon, Wyman, and Kingsley, heroes in past days. Martineau has done a great deal of punting in the early season contests. He is a hard line plunger and a good defensive man. If the two teams are unable to gain from scrimmage, a brilliant punting duel

COUNTRY MEN MEET GOPHERS THIS MORNING

Badger Harriers Determined to Retain Lead In Dual Meets

When the Wisconsin cross country squad meets the Minnesota harriers at 11 o'clock this morning in the first meet of the season it will be with a grim determination to do their full share towards sending the Gophers home doubly defeated. While Minnesota has always been one of the leading conference schools in cross country work, Wisconsin has won six of eight dual meets with the Northerners.

Results of Former Dual Meets:
 1913—Won by Wisconsin; Bresnahan, "W", first place.
 1914—Won by Minnesota; Watson, "M", first place.
 1915—Won by Wisconsin; Goldie "W", first place.
 1916—Won by Wisconsin; Schardt, "W", first place.
 1917—Won by Wisconsin; Dayton, "W", first place.
 1918—Won by Wisconsin; Elsom, "W", first place.
 1919—Won by Wisconsin; Burr, "W", first place.
 1920—Won by Minnesota; Sweitzer, "M", first place.

In today's race the Badger runners will have a double purpose in trimming the Minnesota squad: to uphold the record set by former Wisconsin team, and to wipe out their defeat of last season.

The lineup for the rival schools will be:

Wisconsin	Minnesota
Wall	Halverstadt
(Captain)	(Captain)
Finkle	Sweitzer
Ramsay	Winters
Moorhead	Moon
Rossmiessel	Steenman
Daniels	Hulpricht

Although three of the Badger men will be running their first cross country race, the team is confident of its ability to win. In contending for places with the experienced Gopher squad, the ability of these three novices, Moorhead, Rossmiessel, and Daniels, will be conclusively tested. Ramsay, who ran on the

Honor Societies Raise Standards

Honorary fraternities and societies have done much to keep the standards of Wisconsin high, and have been a constant incentive in bringing out the best in the people at the university. Honorary societies have been organized in most of the colleges and departments so that unusual merit and ability may be fitly rewarded according to the branch of work in which it is displayed.

The only honorary fraternity which draw its members from the entire university is Phi Kappa Phi, senior scholastic and activity fraternity.

Phi Beta Kappa elects its members from the juniors and seniors in the college of Letters and Science, elections being based upon scholarship. The Wisconsin chapter was established in 1898. Prof. Frank Chapman Sharp is its president.

Tau Beta Pi, the honorary engineering fraternity, was established at Wisconsin in 1899. It was founded at Lehigh university in 1885. There are 32 chapters in existence at the present time.

Alpha Zeta elects its members from the College of Agriculture. The Wisconsin chapter is named after Professor Babcock and was established in 1905.

Excellence in the course in Commerce is rewarded by membership to Beta Gamma Sigma. The members are drawn from the faculty and seniors only. Women doing exceptional work in Commerce are rewarded by membership to Alpha Gamma Pi.

Eta Kappa Nu and Pi Tau Sigma are departmental fraternities of the engineering school, the former being composed of electrical engineers and the latter, mechanical engineers.

Ability in forensic activities is rewarded by Delta Sigma Rho membership.

Interest in journalistic scholarship, university activities, and professional aims are qualifications for membership to Theta Sigma Phi, the national women's honorary journalistic sorority. Sigma Delta Chi, the men's journalistic fraternity, bases its membership on much the same lines. It was established at Wisconsin in 1901.

The Wisconsin chapter of Artus, the honorary economic fraternity, was founded in 1912 and was the first chapter to be organized. Omicron Nu, the Home Economic society, was founded in 1912 for the promotion of leadership and scholarship. Election is based upon general participation in all activities and ability in scholastic work. The organization maintains a scholarship fund for students in Home Economics.

Pi Epsilon Delta is an honorary dramatics society with chapters in the larger universities which offer special facilities for dramatic work. Elections are based on dramatic attainment in acting, managing, direction, and research. All members of the medical faculty of the university are ex-officio honorary members of Sigma Sigma. Student members are elected from the senior class of the Medical school.

NINE WOMEN WEAR BIG "W"

Eleven Sports Are Recognized by W. A. A. in Awarding Emblems

Nine of the 150 members of the Womans Athletic association are big "W" wears. They are, Marjorie Severance '23, Ima Winchell '22, Auta Lyman '22, Zirian Blish '22, Marion Strassburger '22, Mary Maxwell '22, Mabel Winter '22, Alice Tucker '22, and Louise Fritsche '22.

W. A. A. has an executive board consisting of the officers, Mabel Winter, president; Elizabeth Kirk, president of Outing club; and Margaret Croskey, head of graduate athletics; and the heads of the 11 sports: hockey, tennis, volleyball, archery, swimming, indoor baseball, basketball, bowling, track, dancing, and out-door baseball.

A point system with a basis of 100 is used. 1200 points are required to wear a big "W", 900 points for a small "W", 450 for a pin, and 125 for admittance.

Here is the way one gets into W. A. A.

1—Keep off probation.
2—Keep scholastic average above 77 and have no incompletes, condonations, failures or faculty actions.

3—Earn 125 points in one of the ways listed below.

4—Have a written application for membership listing one's points in the W. A. A. mail box before noon on the Thursday before a regular W. A. A. meeting. Meetings are held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month.

5—Your record will be examined and you will then be notified of further moves.

Points are won as follows:
100 Points—First team
25 Points—Squad.
15 Points—Second team.
50 Points—Honors in apparatus.

swimming, tennis, archery, or dancing. (Watch bulletin boards for notices of tryouts.)

25 Points—Hiking 40 miles with W. A. A. member. (Notices of hikes on bulletin in Lathrop hall.)

25 Points—Perfect record in gym one semester.

5, 10, 15 Points—Posture grades of B, B plus, or A for 9 consecutive weeks.

W. A. A. has charge of the selling of buttons and programs for Homecoming. The commission received for the sales plus the profit on Field day and the dues represent the annual income which is being used to maintain a scholarship of $100 for one of the W. A. A. members, to pay for the Victrola in the dancing room, for the Freshman welcome party, the Dance drama expenses, to send delegates to the national and sectional conventions, to purchase a $50 buffet for the S. G. A. Co-operative house, and for general expenses.

"Coots" Cunningham, Wisconsin's 120 pound bundle of nerves, played halfback in 1907. "Coots" was the only man on the team who was able to gain consistently through the heavy Minnesota line. It was in this game that Capron made 17 points for Minnesota and tied the score.

"Hurry-up" Yost, "Old Man" Stagg, and "Doc" Williams are the three landmarks among Conference coaches.

Zuppke of Illinois, Stiehm of Indiana, Wilke of Ohio State, and Richards are all former Wisconsin football stars.

Walter Powell, center on the Wisconsin team of 1911, is coach at Leland-Stanford this year.

The first big inter-sectional game of recent years was in 1914 when Oregon Aggies came from Corvallis and beat Michigan, 28-0.

The Suckers claim Wisconsin is their jinx, Minnesota claims to be Wisconsin's jinx. Wisconsin doubts it.

NEW YORK GRADS NAME SCHOLARSHIP FOR ZONA GALE

The Zona Gale scholarship of $700 has been recently established by the New York branch of the Wisconsin Alumni association for the benefit of some student who has exceptional ability in one particular field and is handicapped by deficiencies in others.

The type of student benefiting by this scholarship might be one who, not having completed a required high school course of study, still was exceptional in one branch. Receiving this scholarship, he would be able to pursue just those university courses which would develop his special talent.

The scholarship is open to any one in the country, regardless of age, sex, or race. It is thought that this experiment may yield some evidence as to whether or not it is desirable to modify the entrance requirements for persons of special talent. A committee consisting of Dean Henry Glucksman, Prof. V. A. C. Henmon, Prof. W. E. Leonard, Prof. C. E. Mendenhall, and Prof. M. V. O'Shea (chairman), will administer the fund, and keep watch of the student beneficiary.

McGovern, playing quarter for Minnesota in 1909, 1910, and 1911, was one of their most famous players, making the All-American team for two years. Al Baston, captain of Minnesota's team in 1916, was All-American end two years.

Out of twelve games Wisconsin has played with Illinois the Badgers have won six, tied one, and lost five. Wisconsin has played Illinois every year since 1914.

HOOMEOMING GRADS

WELCOME home!

This is the message that blazes from every illuminated "W" and sounds from every lip as the younger sons and daughters of Wisconsin greet the old grads who are back for the happiest day of the year.

There is always something magical about Homecoming—something that gets into the blood, bringing newer life, keener enjoyment.

Perhaps it is because the very conception of Home has always deeply stirred the heart of man. Home is the sanctuary of friendship, of brotherhood, of love. Home is the great liberator of the human spirit, the haven where every care becomes lighter and every joy more intense.

No wonder, then, that Wisconsin's children are happy when they come back. They live over again for a day all the years they spent on the campus. They forget for a time the heat and burden of the day and abandon themselves to the spell a kindly Alma Mater weaves for them.

But they do more than this. They help the students already here to discover the university. Too many students take the university for granted and in the daily routine lose sight of its power and its majority. The natives of Athens seldom become enthusiastic about the beauties of the Parthenon. It takes the pilgrims coming from far and near to keep alive a due sense of admiration for this monument to Hellenic genius. In somewhat the same manner, it takes the return of the old grads to impress upon the students here the real worth of their university.

The grads are welcome for the inspiration they bring and no pains should be spared to make their stay one of happiness and rejoicing.

WITHOUT A HOME

IT is impossible to separate the spirit of Homecoming from the hope that before long Wisconsin will have a Memorial Union in keeping with the prestige of the university.

One week from today a campaign for funds to build this union will begin. The campaign slogan is: "Build a home for Wisconsin spirit." No one has ever been able to define completely Wisconsin spirit. Whatever it may be, this is certain: Wisconsin spirit is without a home.

Thousands of fine spirited alumni and students have resolved that this shall be no longer. They have determined that the union shall be a reality.

Just a sketch of the plan will reveal its magnitude.

A beautiful memorial rotunda is to be erected in honor of the scores of Wisconsin's sons who died on the battlefield and the thousands of others who served gallantly in the Great War. Who now, in moving about the campus, could tell that there had ever been a war, and that Wisconsin's services will go down as one of the most splendid heritages of the war?

Then, the union will make it possible for the grads to get together when they come back for Homecoming, commencement, and reunions. The facilities for such meetings now are woefully inadequate. The fraternity men may meet in their individual chapter houses. But where is there a place where all the men, fraternity and non-fraternity men alike, may get together? To make possible such a meeting place would do more to solidify and unify Wisconsin men—yes, Wisconsin women, too—than any other single thing that could be done.

The Memorial Union will provide handsome quarters under the same roof for every campus activity. At present the activities are scattered about hither and yon with little cohesion. They need to be brought together. All the publications need offices in the same building. The literary societies should have permanent quarters for themselves instead of using class rooms. The various boards and self-government organizations at present have no abiding place.

The Memorial Union will have a beautiful auditorium to fill a need that has been felt for years. It is disgraceful to invite any speaker to address the university students in Music hall, the armory, or the stock pavilion.

The Memorial Union will utilize the lake front to the best possible advantage. By so doing, Wisconsin will boast superiority over every other university union in the country in beauty of situation. Balconies will be arranged overlooking Mendota, so that hundreds may witness the crew races and Venetian night entertainments.

The Memorial Union will provide in countless ways for the comfort and convenience of students. There will be a spacious ball room for dances. There will be rooms for alumni to stay when visiting the university. There will be committee rooms, parlors, a lobby, a soft drink fountain, billiard and pool tables, and many other features making for service and recreation.

All this is but a sketch of what the Memorial Union will mean. Surely, it is an undertaking to call forth the loyal support of every Wisconsin man and woman. Its erection will mean a new epoch in the life of the university.

Build a home for Wisconsin spirit!

HAIL AND FAREWELL

IX of the eleven men who represent Wisconsin on the football field this afternoon are playing their last Homecoming game. Most fittingly, the team meets Minnesota—traditional rivals of long standing; most hopefully we look for a victory.

But in the midst of the excitement this afternoon, when thousands will center their attention on the playing of the team, we cannot but look ahead to the Homecoming game of next fall when six of the men will be but a small part of the Badger alumni, back to watch the game as we do now.

Exactly 5,042 Homecoming buttons were sold by 12:00 noon yesterday, when the sale closed.

"More buttons were sold this year than ever before," declared Dorothy Ware '22, who has been in charge of the sale. "Last year about 4,000 were sold. The hill sale alone has been a thousand more than that this year."

A total number of 650 sales was made by team 14, headed by Elizabeth Kirk '23. Louise Fritsche '22, captain of team 2, reported a total of 610. Team 15, under the direction of Alice Tucker '22, was third, with 430 sales.

The rest of the buttons are on sale down town for the alumni.

LARRY AND RED TO LEAD LOCOMOTIVES

Larry Hall '18, and Red Parker '14, varsity cheerleaders of their respective classes, will be on hand at the game today to assist in leading cheers. Parker and Hall were two of the best known cheerleaders Wisconsin has produced.

The regulars who will lead off with the "locomotives" are "Gus" Tuckerman '23, varsity cheerleader; "Chuck" Hawks '24, "Johnny" Blossom '24, and three first year men, Kingston, Derry, and Walstead.

Chicago has been Wisconsin's opponent in 24 games, the results being even for the schools, each having won 11 to 2 being tied. In regards to points, however, Chicago has piled up only 190 against Wisconsin's 312.

METHODISTS PLAN SPECIAL SERVICES FOR HOMECOMING

The Sunday program of the University Methodist church, opposite the Chemistry building, is designed to interest the former graduates and other visitors. At 10:30 a. m. the student vested choir under direction of Prof. L. L. Townsend will sing several sacred numbers and the sermon by the Rev. Edward W. Blakeman, who has been one of the university pastors for more than 14 years, will be upon "The Up-lifted Christ at Wisconsin" from the text "And if I be lifted up I will draw all men unto me." John XII: 32.

The Oxford club, an organization of graduate students, which meets in the Eaton parlor at noon will be the rallying place of former students. Gordon A. Beebe, Helen Crosby, Frankie Post, Laura Harker, George Garrigan, and Merl S. Nichol will have charge of introducing the strangers.

The Frank Hall Bible class, which has been frequented by students at the university for the past thirty years will meet at noon also and welcome back any former members.

In the evening at 5:30 a cost supper will be served in the dining room and at 7:00 the discussion will be upon "Sunday Study, Does It Pay?" a debate of the merits of the practice vs. its evils.

At 8:00 o'clock Dr. E. L. Eaton, well-known lecture-minister, will speak upon "The Starry Heavens." The Rev. Howard Hare will sing.

What is said to be the greatest game ever played in the west was the Minnesota-Wisconsin game of 1911.

On the kick-off Capron, Minnesota's fullback, ran the entire length of the field for a touchdown. With a score of 6-0 against them Wisconsin battled against Minnesota's 6 inch line and three downs left.

Baffling Minnesota Shift May Be Factor In Badger-Gopher Contest

Play as Developed by Coach Williams Has Been Used With Variations by Teams Throughout Country—Diagram Shows Simple Form of Shift

The famous Minnesota shift, one of the most baffling of all football formations, was originated by "Doc" Williams, present coach of the Minnesota eleven. His shift has not only played a decisive part in western football but has reached out to change the character of the eastern game.

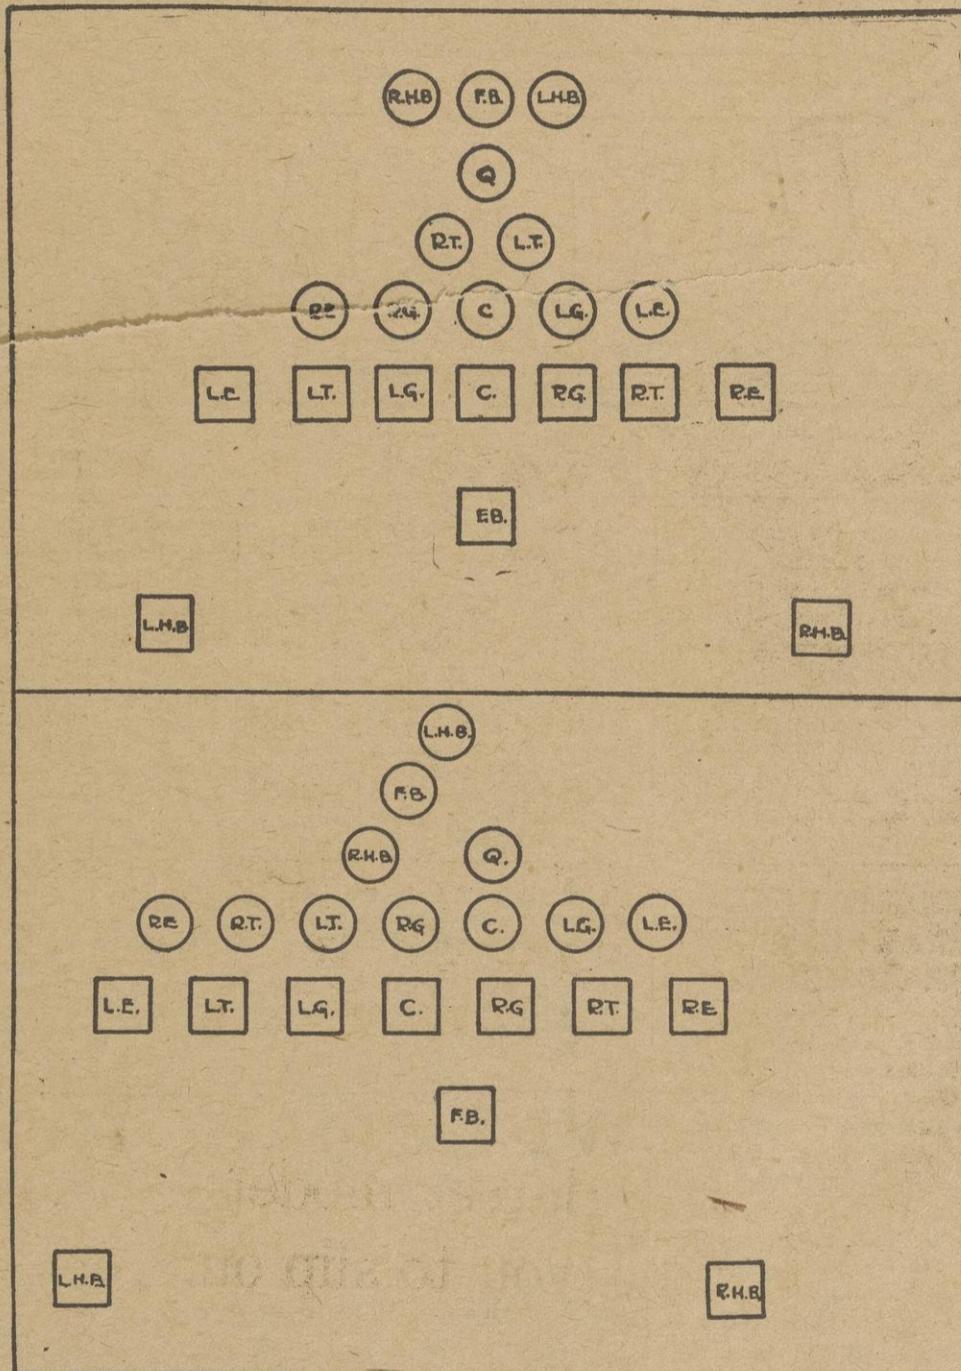

The shift requires a heavy, fast team with especially heavy backs for its best execution. From 1890 to 1895 Wisconsin suffered defeat at the hands of Minnesota. The following five years, however, while Richards, Karel, and Pyre were playing saw the situation reversed.

as tackle in this game and was awarded the honor of being the first All-American Badger player.

Introduced at Yale

A heavier team aided the operation of the shift in later years. The value of the Minnesota play was demonstrated when Tom Shelvin taught it to Yale in 1914 and 1915 and old Eli beat Princeton and then Harvard, having won no other game during the season. In 1917, Carpenter, Simpson, Scott, and Weston broke up the Northmen's shift in a 10-7 Wisconsin victory at the dedication of the concrete stadium at Camp Randall, the last game Presi-

The diagram represents the Minnesota shift in one of its simplest forms, as used by various schools. This is not Dr. Williams' shift, as he has played it in many variations, but it is a fair notion of the shift in theory. On the original line-up, the tackles drop back behind center; on the shift signal, they slip into the line between end and guard, which side depending on the way the play is to go. The back-field takes a Y formation and center may then pass the ball to quarter, who relays it to either the fullback or left half, or the center may pass it direct to either of these men. The

The defensive quarter is playing back.

The shift was a great play in this stage of football, and Coach Richards, who is said to be the only man who has stopped it, got his first experience with the formation during these years.

A string of defeats followed after 1902. The shift proved a powerful factor in these defeats, although Minnesota's men were not very heavy. These defeats were stopped in 1911 when Richards first coached the Badgers. With "Keckie" Moll, one of Wisconsin's greatest quarters, and Al Buser playing, the shifty Minnesota squad was tied 6-6. In 1912 when Wisconsin won the western championship under the tutelage of Bill Juneau the shift was again beaten by a score of 12-0. Buts Butler did his part dent Van Hise saw before he died. Richards' play executed by Carpenter at Center was the defeat of the shift in this game.

The tackles are used on the side of the line the play starts on in the Minnesota shift. The half who takes the ball usually fakes a run on the end with the heavy interference of tackles and backs and then dodges back to the other side where his interference has taken care of the light defense left on that side. There was sentiment among the students at Minnesota last year to give up the shift and use open game more this fall. The old shift remains an important factor in past and present football, nevertheless.

where the ball is, and which way it will go. Coach Richards has beaten the shift at various times, but no one knows the precise play he used. This explanation of the shift does not claim to be authority; it is merely an attempt to explain a very famous and effective play that has had a great influence on football history all over the country.

4,000 CONCRETE SEATS ADDED TO RANDALL STADIUM

Flight Crew Finishes Work in Glare of Electric Lights

Seats for 4,000 people have been added to Wisconsin's stadium at Camp Randall during the past summer. An entire section has been built on the east side, raising the available seating capacity to nearly 3,000. Other sections will be added as the athletic department raises the money, till the completed stadium will seat 53,000 persons.

The east section has been completed in time for the Homecoming game only after great effort on the part of the athletic department, George Nelson, contractor, and C. B. Fritz, carpenter. The entire process was supervised by J. G. D. Mack, state engineer.

Work at Night

By stringing electric lights over the section and putting a 24-hour crew at work the department succeeded in finishing the section in record time, and in adding enough seats to accommodate a much larger crowd than last year with less inconvenience. The concrete was poured three weeks ago, and the risers and seats have been entirely completed.

"The plan for adding to the stands is to keep abreast of the needs, adding new sections as they are needed, providing we have the money," said T. E. Jones, director of athletics, in explanation.

Income from the present season looks as though it will enable us to go ahead with the next step in the program which calls for an addition to the section built this year, making it 28 rows high. Permanent dressing rooms will be installed underneath this section. Tunnel entrances from Breese Terrace will be added if the necessary money is earned this year," Mr. Jones continued.

Money Raised

"The money for the stadium is being raised by various means. The total appropriation was made by the state legislature in 1915, when $20,000 was given to build a new field. This appropriation was used to level the field and construct 5,300 permanent seats on the west side. Since then all construction has been financed by the stadium contributors and by the athletic department from gate receipts from athletic contests."

Completion of the lower deck of the west side in concrete 50 rows high with the superstructure for the upper deck is the next step after the tunnel entrances are added. Then 28 rows will be built on the south side of the field, the lower deck of 50 rows will be completed on the east side, and the final construction will be finishing the upper decks of 22 tiers on the east and west sides.

The completed stadium will resemble a horseshoe in shape, with the open end to the north. If necessary this end can be closed with concrete stands, raising the seating capacity to 65,000.

ALUMNI MAGAZINE CALLS BACK GRADS FOR HOMECOMING

The November issue of the Wisconsin Alumni magazine announces Homecoming to the alumni association. Porter F. Butts '24 describes the three day event in an appeal to the grads to come back for the 1921 celebration October 28, 29, and 30.

"Half a Million Secured for Memorial Building," by Prof. Edward H. Gardner, who is conducting a salesmanship course for canvassers in the student drive to complete the fund, tells about the dual role of the building as a memorial, with its beautiful rotunda, "a shrine for the memories of Wisconsin's soldiers," and as a unified center of university life.

Professor Gardner describes the relation of the building to the alumni, calling it "A meeting place for old grads, your home at Homecoming and Commencement; your place of gathering for business meetings and reunions; your club house to live comfortably on visits to Madison; the lure to draw you back to greet the friends who means all the world to you. It will mean to you Wisconsin.

sin; its image will rise in your thoughts first when you think of Alma Mater."

Tribute was paid to the work of the late Dr. Charles McCarthy in an article called "College Spirit and Patriotism," by Irma Hochstein. Letters from alumni including J. W. Wilce and T. E. Jones tell of the work of Dr. McCarthy as coach at Wisconsin.

A report of Israel Shrimski, the retiring president of the alumni association, the usual alumni news and a review of athletics are also included in the November issue.

CONCENTRATED FUN TO SURPRISE CROWD AS FOOTBALL HALTS

"Concentrated entertainment plus," is the way in which Reginald Garstang '22, chairman of the committee on special features for the Homecoming game, expressed the plans that have been made for the amusement of the crowds at the contest.

"We have only 10 minutes in which to put on several original stunts," said Garstang last night, "but, nevertheless, we are going to surprise the alumni and all others who attend the game."

The movements of Butt's manual by the president's guard, in conjunction with the university band and the firing of parachute bombs are among the many features to be presented between halves, according to Garstang. Entertainment will also be provided for the fans before the game.

About 80 sophomores belonging to the guard have been practicing under the direction of Robert Luening, major in the cadet corps and commander of the organization, for the past month in order to give the drill perfectly at the game. The drill is given almost entirely by music, spoken commands being used only to get the guard in the proper formation.

Paper parachutes with trailing flags of various colors will fly over the field during the intermission. These will be fired from a small cannon to be set up near the bleachers.

Sammy Becker '22, and several other burlesque actors in the university have completed plans for a number of entertaining stunts to be given before the game and also during the 10 minutes of intermission. The costumes have been designed to fit the occasion, according to the committee in charge.

COACH WILLIAMS

GRADS TO FROLIC AT LATHROP HALL

The Alumni Council, the legislative body of the General Alumni association, will hold its annual meeting after the game this afternoon in Muisc hall. Representatives of every class and U. W. club throughout the country will meet at that time to participate in the yearly business meeting. Notices were sent out by the Alumni board a few weeks ago asking that class and local club to send an official representative to the conference. Representatives who could not come to Madison were asked to send proxies so that every organization could be represented when the general Legislative work of the council is undertaken.

In addition to the regular business meeting, a special program has been arranged for the council. President E. A. Birge will give an address and Dr. M. E. Diemer, official photographer of the university and member of the class of 1911, will show moving pictures of campus life and activities.

It is expected that representatives from classes as far back as 1870 will be present at the meeting. Invitations were sent to Wisconsin clubs as far south as New Orleans and to clubs as far west as San Francisco. A large number are also expected from New York and the East. All members of the alumni and friends interested in the work of the council are invited to attend the session.

The Alumni board will hold its annual meeting this morning at 10:30 in the offices of Robert S. Crawford '03, general secretary of the board, in the Alumni headquarters at 821 State street. The regular business for the next year will be the subject of discussion. The board officers and members are as follows:

Israel Shrimski '88, president, Chicago; R. N. McMyn '94, Milwaukee; Helen B. Smith '19, recording secretary, Madison; Chas. N. Brown '81; F. H. Clauson '97, Horicon; Mrs. T. E. Brittingham '89, Madison; J. E. McConnell '87, LaCrosse; L. F. Van Hagan '04, Madison; Victor S. Falk '11, Stoughton; Stuart W. Reid '15, Oconomowoc.

of Fame, however, it continues its solitary existence, almost unnoticed, except by freshmen who gaze at the awe-compelling names with something of idolatry in their hearts.

For in this old relic, Badger athletes of yore were wont to carve their names. Sitting in Morgan's place while they talked over the results of many a hard-fought battle on gridiron, track, and diamond, heroes of the day drew out the old jackknife and hewed great chunks out of the table top.

It takes Walter Camp and Eckersall an entire season to select their All-American and All-Western football teams, but the lover of football can study names in the Round Table for 10 minutes and then pick a mythical eleven composed of former Badger stars who if in their prime could do battle with any team in the country and probably beat it.

Men who were the recipients of unlimited adoration when they brought Wisconsin to the fore in football would be given places on the squad. It would be a truly great All-Western football team, and one that would make Badger partisans proud of it.

1901 Backfield Intact
The chances are that the old 1901 backfield, consisting of Driver, Larsen, and Cochems, would be left intact. It is to be doubted whether or not the present Badger backfield is capable of gaining any more ground than were those old-timers, Eber Simpson would probably be retained as the third half-back. He was a three sport man, and the athletic record that he left at this institution will probably never be excelled.

Gillette and Karel would be assigned the quarterback position. The former piloted the championship team of 1912, and is known as Wisconsin's greatest light-weight athlete. Karel ran 5 yards for the touchdown to gain the first Badger victory over the Gophers.

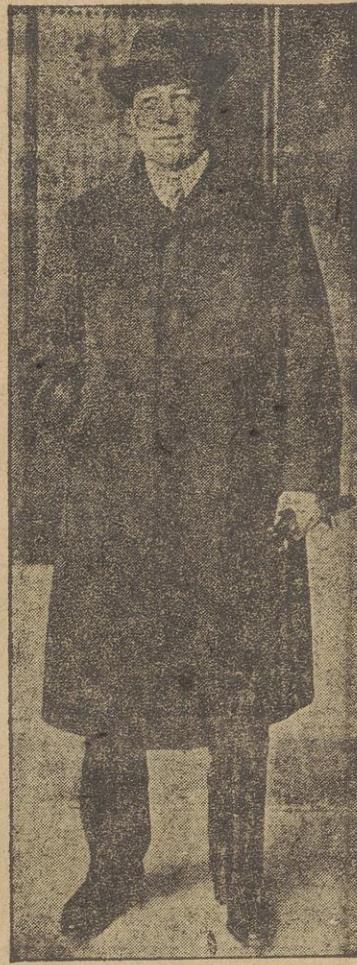

The forward wal would be composed of stars whose records will ever be cited as true examples of real Badger athletes. "Chuck" Carpenter, captain and All-Western center two years ago, would be placed at center, and would have flanking him Riordan and "Tubby" Keeler. The latter is yet to be surpassed as a Badger guard, and was placed on the All-Western team of 1912. Two years later he was captain of the Badgers.

Plenty of Tackles
The team would be well supplied with tackles, but Butler and Buck would be the first choices, with Scott alternating with them. But

The only game Wisconsin lost in 1911 was to Chicago by a score of 5-0. This gave Minnesota the Conference title, for they had not lost a single game and had tied the game with Wisconsin. Over-confidence was the cause of the defeat by Chicago.

Northwestern has never beaten Wisconsin in football. Dopesters figure they should beat the Badgers in 1916.

Ruth Blushes as She Registers; Co-ed Loses Pen

"Should I sign for you, dear?" he asked as he picked up the pen at the Registration booth.

"I should say not—I'll sign myself, Frank," she retorted indignant, winking at the co-eds in the booth. "Woman's rights, you know."

Carefully he started to sign, pen poised in hand. "I wonder who's back," his twinkling eyes scanned the list anxiously. "There's George, only one I know. Staying at the old Beta house. Guess I'll drop around."

She took the pen, blushed a bit. "Funny to put my name right under yours. . . . Oh, same address! Heavens! That looks bad!"

Don't you know any ETAOIN? "Don't know anybody else here, do you Ruth?"

"Guess not."

"There's a 'fifteener.' Know her?"

"No, I. . . . Mercy me, that's Irene. I. . . ."

"So it is; so it is; she was a great old girl."

"I just can't wait to see her. . . . I'm so thrilled—" she chuckled as she looked at him coyly. "Just like a little kiddo take down her address, Frank."

Frank obeyed, and they walked off.

"Soon the wedding bells will chime in Oshkosh," grinned one co-ed to the other. "Werent they darling?"

"I should say. . . . but ye gods, they walked off with my only fountain pen," wailed the other one sadly.

Trying the Harvard tactics in 1916 lost us the game with Minnesota played at Minneapolis. After that year Wisconsin held to her own tactics.

STEVE GILMAN TO TALK AT Y. M. C. A.

"What's Under the Hat" will be the topic discussed by Prof. Steve Gilman at the Sunday morning discussion held at the Y. M. C. A. Prof. Gilman has given this address at Chicago, Minneapolis, and New York, and it is common opinion that it is one of "Steve's" best. In his talk he points out the qualities which are necessary for success in the business world.

All the groups of the various colleges will meet together for this talk. All freshmen especially, whether they are members of a group or not are invited to be present.

The discussion groups are the revival of a plan of two years ago. Prof. A. B. Millar has charge of the Engineers, Prof. G. C. Humphrey conducts the group for Ag students, and Milton Borman has the Commerce and Letters and Science students. Various phases of civil, campus, and religious life are discussed at these meetings.

Some of the future topics and speakers are as follows: Dean F. W. Roe, "The Educated Man and Literature"; Dr. H. H. Lumpkin, "Religion in Education"; and a personally conducted tour through the Historical Library by Walter M. Smith, head librarian.

"T" Gould came to the front in 20 yards for a touchdown.

ALUMNAE PLAY HOCKEY TODAY

Much Interest Shown in Women's Sports This Season

Two all-star teams will compete this morning at 10 o'clock in a championship encounter, when an alumni hockey team plays a team of W. A. A. women at Camp Randalia.

"We hope to make it a tradition for the 'alums' to take part in a hockey contest at every Homecoming," said Miss Wesson, instructor of hockey. "All the grads have been notified, and we expect a brave array out for the game."

This year has witnessed especially keen interest among the co-eds, and hockey has claimed a great amount of competition and interest. Class squad have already been chosen, and teams will be announced next week.

Material Good

Material is especially good, and it is hard to pick the teams from the many who are trying out. Hard and fast will be the inter-class games, which start next week. Each year, more and more interested spectators come out for these contests, which have gained a reputation almost akin to the interest displayed among men for football.

Swimming has also proved popular as a fall sport. Over 500 are registered in the classes.

"Interest in swimming has been greatly advanced since the introduction of four tests, the passing of which enables each swimmer to add points toward the class score," said Miss Brownell, of the physical education department.

Another series of tests is being used which everyone is expected to pass after six weeks' work. Included in these test are the front dive, picking up an object in the bottom of the tank, and floating for one minute.

Class Teams Chosen

Class teams, which are larger than usual because of the increased enrollment, were chosen last Saturday. Competitive class contests will begin November 10.

"A new feature of the year is our 'grad' team," announced Miss Brownell. "This is the first year that there have been enough graduate students for a team."

Tennis and dancing are also favorites, to judge from the large enrollment. Teams in these sports are not chosen until spring.

Over 200 more women are out for athletics than there were last year. A total of 1622 are registered, 320 of which are upperclassmen.

"ARNEY" OSS' HISTORY

Arold Oss has had an interesting history. In 1919 Coach Williams asked Minnesota's track coach for a man who could run; and Oss, who had never played a game of football before in his life, was the man distinguished. In the game with Wisconsin that year Oss was the mainstay of the Gophers, winning the game for them.

In 1920 it was Oss with a cast around his leg who was the backbone of the losing Minnesota team. He is playing left half back this year.

The forward pass was successfully introduced into football by Notre Dame in 1913 when they beat the Army 35-7, Chicago, 30-0, Texas Long Horns 35-0, Nebraska 37-0, and then to make the victory complete beat Yale at New Haven. They were the undisputed champions of the world this year.

Notre Dame's defeat by Iowa this year is the first game she has lost in five years. However in 1916 Wisconsin battled them to a tie score of 0-0. It was in this year that Notre Dame beat the Army 7-0.

In 1919 Michigan did not want to enter the Conference because she said there was not enough competition. In that year she did not win a game. Last year Michigan won two games, from Chicago and Minnesota.

"Bobbie" Marshall, Minnesota's colored halfback, was the lightest man on their team in 1909, weighing 170 pounds.

EVENTS PROGRESS IN SOCCER LEAGUE

Sport is Popular Among 20
Teams Competing for Championship

Soccer has fairly forced its way into the limelight during the past two weeks and as the twenty-team league goes into action much interest is being manifested in the national game of Scotland.

The fact that Coach Schlatter was able to organize twenty teams to enter the league should be enough proof that the game has taken a firm hold at Wisconsin, and the next step will be to recognize soccer as a minor sport. Many colleges throughout the country, Cornell among them, have recognized the game as a regular minor sport and letters are being awarded to players who make the squads. The game is still in its infancy here but it is safe to say that it has come to stay.

Thursday morning at 11 o'clock the crack squad from the International club was pitted against the picked team from the gym classes, in an exhibition game, on the lower campus. Wednesday in the first game of the season the Red Stars and the Red Wings clashed on the lower campus, putting up an interesting exhibition. At 5 o'clock the Black Triangles and the Crescents mixed in their scheduled game.

The following is the schedule up to the semi-finals. It is being run off by the elimination method. Oct. 31, Spades vs. Red Arrows; Nov. 1, Horse Shoes vs. Giants; Nov. 2, Blue Streaks vs. Pawn Brokers; Nov. 3, Red Circles vs. Clubs; Nov. 4, Shamrocks vs. Red Triangles; Nov. 5, Pirates vs. Black Circles, at 1:30, and Skul land Cross Bones vs. Black Squares at 2:30. All other games will be played at 4 o'clock unless otherwise announced.

The championship game between the two runners up will probably be played not later than November 9. Immediately upon the conclusion of the tournament, the inter-college series will be started. Coach Schlatter ask that the colleges get together and elect their captains and managers for the season now and as soon as this is done the officials of the association will be appointed.

Clef club held its regular meeting at 7:15 last night in Lathrop parlors. A banquet for old and new members will take place in the Badger room at 6:30 on November 10.

The program for the coming year will consist of a discussion of the history of music, of the opera, and of prominent musical composers. "Tryouts will be based upon technical ability, general appearance, musical selection, and interpretation," said Reba Hayden '22, president.

At the Theaters

AT THE GRAND

A thrilling football game is one of the big features of "Two Minutes to Go," starring Charles Ray, who is himself an ex-gladiator of the gridiron. This picture is now showing at the Grand.

Ray has the role of a football hero, Chester Burnett, temporarily fallen into disgrace with his fellow players because of some unknown reason to them, he suddenly quits the team. Financial reverses suffered by his father force Chet to earn his own living. Then comes the day of the big game, when only Chet can save his team from defeat. He jumps into the contest and things begin to happen all around. "Two Minutes to Go," a fascinating and humorous story of college life, provides Ray with just the sort of role best suited to his own peculiar and exceptional talent. It will be shown today only.

AT THE STRAND

Sydney Ainsworth, House Peters, and Irene Rich are now playing at the Strand Theatre in "The Invisible Power." It is an engrossing story of the underworld. Although the characters belong to the submerged tenth, the story deals entirely with the efforts of a reformed convict to lead an honest life. The fact that he has once been in jail, makes him a marked man for the secret police; and his attempts at reform meet with strange handicaps.

A Hal Roach comedy will also be shown.

AT THE ORPHEUM
Homecoming visitors and local theatre goers are assured a treat in the line of vaudeville at the Orpheum today and tomorrow, for one of the best balanced six act bills is the offering. A variety of acts, not one conflicting with the other in style, is headed by the well played and swiftly moving playlet, "Now What," starring Wilfred Clarke, assisted by Grace Menken and company. Zuhn and Dreis, in a cross-fire conversation act, proves a scream and Emma Francis and Harold Kennedy, offering laughs, songs and dances hold up their position on the bill nicely. A cycle of thrills and smiles are provided by Jack and Jessie Gibson and Rodero and Marconi, with their violin and accordion prove a musical treat. The show opens with Pathé News and Aesop's Fables reels, followed by Juggling De Lisle, offering a new assortment of stunts. There will be matinee performances today and tomorrow, with two shows nightly at 7:15 and 9 o'clock.

"DAD" WOLF TO TALK
ON GERMAN POLITICS

At the weekly meeting of the Badger club next Sunday evening, F. E. Wolf, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will speak on the political situation in Germany. This talk will be a sequel to his address of two weeks ago in which he outlined the religious tendencies of Germany since the war. The title of his talk is "Imperialism, Bolshevism, or Republicanism; Which Will Win Out in Germany?"

"Dad" Wolf has made personal investigation this summer while in Germany. He had conference with many prominent politicians and did considerable research among the laborers.

"Doc" Dorward will furnish the music for the evening.

BIG MEETINGS OPEN PROGRAM

unable to crowd into the gymnasium, Walter Alexander '97, presided, and introduced the speakers as they were relayed from the big meeting.

Stacked more than 50 feet high, boxes and crates formed one of the biggest bonfires ever seen at Homecoming. At the top of the pile the figure of a Gopher stood until the licking flames consumed it, while an excited crowd filled every available space on the lower campus and in the vicinity of State and Langdon streets.

Feature Carnival

Long before the bonfire began to die the gymnasium was filled with a capacity crowd awaiting the Homecoming Feature carnival. The doors were forcibly closed while a large crowd still remained about the entrance.

A wrestling match, in which Ivan "Cy" Peterman, varsity wrestler, and Dave O. Farrand, captain of last year's freshman team, fought to a draw, opened the program. Edward Bourgett, wrestling instructor, refereed.

Haresfoot dramatic society presented "My Mexican Musketeers," with Mord Bogie carrying the lead, and Hobart Price, George Bartlett, Everett Yerley, and Huston Schee, were the musketeers. Samuel Beck-er coached the cast.

Ballads were sung by Kenneth Damon, an impersonation by Hanque Ringold, and songs by the "Rusty Hinge" quartet were features of the carnival drawing prolonged applause. Edwin Booth staged a melodramatic farce of "The Shooting of Dan McGraw."

A plea for the Memorial Union building was given by Scott H. Goodnight, dean of men, "All of us must have a part in it," he said.

Gymnastics closed the program. The varsity gym crew, coached by Fred E. Schlatter, kept the audience till the close of the show. The following men performed: Frank Furosch, Elmer Kletzen, Frank Bumer, Walter Porth, Norman Koch, Leslie Tache, and William Hamman.

MICHIGAN SEAT SALE NOW OPEN

Applications for tickets to the Michigan game next Saturday can be obtained at the gymnasium today. Applications which are in today will be given seats on the 50-yard line, according to Robert Quick, ticket sales manager.

NO UNION BOARD DANCE SATURDAY

The regular Union board student dance at Lathrop hall parlors will not be held on Saturday because of the Homecoming ball.

The Friday dance will, however, take place as usual, with Thompson's orchestra.

MENORAH ALUMNI BANQUET TONIGHT

After the Wisconsin-Minnesota game this afternoon the Menorah alumni and guests will be entertained at the annual Menorah Homecoming banquet in the Badger room at 6:00 o'clock.

About 200 members, alumni, and guests have already made reservations for the banquet which will be followed by a Hallowe'en dance at Wheeler hall.

COUNTRY MEN MEET GOPHERS THIS MORNING

1919 team, is expected to trail Wall and Finkle closely at the finish.

There is some doubt as to which of Coach Burke's star runners, Wall and Finkle, is the better man. Finkle is running for his first season with the hill and dale squad, but in all of the time trials has tied with the captain. After their yesterday's rest, the men are all in excellent condition, and will put up the fight of their lives against the Gophers.

Coach Frank, of Minnesota, arrived in Madison with his men yesterday morning and is staying at the Park hotel. They were taken over the course in automobiles yesterday afternoon.

It is reported that Sweitzer, Minnesota's best man, has been slightly sick for the past few days, and although he will be on hand for the race this morning, it is doubtful whether he will be able to offer Wall and Finkle the opposition which was expected of him.

In the time trial which the second Varsity squad held yesterday afternoon, Herrman finished first in 28 min. 41 sec. He was closely followed by Kover, whose time was 29 flat, Sommer, 29:10, Suzuki, 29:31, and Chase, 29:59. It is from these men that Coach Burke will choose the seventh man for the team which goes to Chicago next Saturday.

BOGUS TICKETS ARE CIRCULATED

er of this ticket enter Gate 3 from Breese Terrace." This labels the ticket as illegal, since all tickets for Section E instruct holders to enter Gate 2.

These five tickets discovered are believed by the Athletic department to be only part of a large number printed and sold. Seats in other sections were probably run off at the same time, in the opinion of the department, and men will be stationed at each of the 16 entering aisles at the game today to inspect every ticket issued. Police in uniform will be with these inspectors, and every effort will be made to protect the rightful owners of the seats from those who have picked up bogus tickets at scalper's rates.

The person putting these tickets up for sale has not been located, and the Athletic department has found no indication of what printing office these tickets have come from. Every purchaser of tickets from the box office in the gymnasium has been registered with the location of his seats, and the Athletic department can easily ascertain the rightful holder of the coupons.

Combined Band of 128 Pieces To Put Pep into Throng Today

A total of 128 pieces combining the First and Second Regimental bands of the university will furnish Wisconsin's share of the music at the game today. This with the visiting Minnesota band of 50 pieces should serve as sufficient music, no matter how large the crowd.

"Good music on the field seems to help foster clean sportsmanship. The goodfellowship of the consolidated bands at the game at Urbana certainly had a remarkable effect on the audience and brought favorable comment from 'The Daily Illini,'" said Major E. W. Murphy, conductor of the bands.

Bands Developing
In explaining the development of the bands, Mr. Murphy went on to say:

"College bands are developing rapidly these days, but not every institution is so favored as Wisconsin in having two bands equally complet in their instrumentation to meet present day requirements.

"Bringing musicians from all quarters of the globe and moulding them into an organization capable of performing high grade music in perfect time, tune, and satisfactory ensemble is no small task.

"Only a month ago many of the players in our Wisconsin band were not even acquainted with each other, but by careful drilling and the proper kind of discipline and organization these men are now capable of producing a grade of work that is highly satisfactory."

Many Try Out
Players are selected by 30 minute try-outs, and about 70 men try out every year.

"In filling out the instrumentation it is necessary to change players from their favorite instruments to others. This means much instruction on the part of the director and patience on the part of the players," Mr. Murphy explained further.

"It is certainly a great educational privilege when a person can attend an institution, secure a liberal education, and at the same time have an opportunity to practice music of a type only presented by the best professional bands."

Gives Concerts
The band is not only for purposes of football games and celebrations. It also aims to spread the "gospel of better music more artistically performed."

In its repertoire are such composers as Wagner, Tschaikovsky, Leoncavallo, and Dvorak. At musical programs during the winter it renders classics like Wagner's Prelude from the Third Act of "Lohengrin," or Mozart's Overture to the Opera "The Magic Flute."

"That band gives me a line on what has made the University of Wisconsin so famous. Any educational institution that can take the raw material and develop it into the finished product such as this band, is truly great; and if the band was its only product, it would have justified every cent the university has cost the state," was the remark of a well known citizen at one of the concerts.

The present uniform of blue with white trimmings, and the brass lyre and "UW" insignia for collar ornaments has been the official uniform many years.

Organized in 1887
The first university band was organized in 1887 and contained only 13 members. Growth was slow at the beginning but after the first few years, development was assured, for the number increased annually.

Having two bands was not started until 1914. Then the Second regiment band was formed. Since then the first band has been called the University of Wisconsin First Regimental band. This is the band that gives the concerts.

At our Homecoming game in 1915 there was a collapse of a section of the bleachers between halves. The game was with Minnesota. "Cub" Buck, All-American tackle, was captain of the Wisconsin team this year.

"PAT" O'DEA'S KICK

Way back in 1899 the greatest football play ever known was pulled off by "Pat" O'Dea, the kangaroo kicker. The score was tied in the second half. On a dead run O'Dea started to the side lines with the ball, turned towards the stands and still on the run, made a drop kick. The ball traveled straight down the side lines for nearly two thirds the distance. At this point it turned, neatly went over the goal posts and over the fence to the railroad tracks beyond the Minnesota field. Four other drops won the game by a score of 19-0.

In 1894 "Ikey" Karel, Wisconsin halfback, made the only touchdown of the game. In a later campaign for governor of Wisconsin the slogan was used "Give the ball to 'Ikey' Karel for another touchdown." Prior to 1894 Minnesota had beaten Wisconsin four consecutive games.

Wisconsin spilled the dope in 1908 when all the papers had given Minnesota the victory before the game was played. Doctor Williams' aggregation was defeated 5 to 0. This was way back when touchdowns counted five points. The game was played at Minneapolis.

Up to date Minnesota has 475 points to her credit against Wisconsin's 240.
