BADGERS MEET ILLINI BEFORE 20,000

MASS MEETING IS FIRST EVENT IN HOMECOMING

"Pep" Session and Bonfire Are Opening Features of Week-end

"This team is as good as any team that ever represented Wisconsin, not barring the 1912 championship eleven," declared Coach John Richards, speaking before the 1,800 enthusiastic rooters who packed the gymnasium to the doors at the Homecoming massmeeting last night.

Although the massmeeting was scheduled for 6:45, the doors were closed shortly after 6:30 and it was estimated that more than 3,000 disappointed Badger followers were turned away. The overflow meeting which had been planned was canceled on the advice of the Athletic department; but as a large crowd went to Music hall expecting a meeting there, the massmeeting committee arranged to relay some of the speakers from the regular meeting.

"Eddie" Gillette who was introduced by Lothrop Follett, general chairman of Homecoming arrangements, is winner of seven "W's" and is one of the most famous men in Wisconsin football history.

Fish and Vest Present

Prof. Carl Russell Fish appeared in his red vest and pink necktie. He said several glowing things about the football team and predicted that the game today will be a Wisconsin victory. He was interrupted in the course of his speech by the entrance of the team which was given an enthusiastic ovation.

Judge John "Ikey" Karel, the greatest open field runner in Wisconsin history, who played for six years and was with Richards on the first team to beat Minnesota, made a speech that was greeted with cheers and enthusiasm.

"Red" and Scotty Talk

"Red" Weston and Ralph Scott represented the team on the evening's program. They both mentioned the fact that this was their last game on the home field and they declared that the team was prepared to put their greatest effort into the game and to play until the last second.

The massmeeting was followed by the biggest bonfire ever seen on the lower campus. Boxes had been piled to a height of 60 feet, and the top was crowned with a banner carrying the words "Illinois' Hopes." When the flames reached the top and destroyed the banner there was a great display of enthusiasm.

DECORATIONS ARE JUDGED TONIGHT

Homecoming decorations will not be judged until tonight, as a result of a request from the athletic council. At 7 o'clock fraternity, sorority, rooming houses and Chadbourne and Barnard halls will be inspected by the following judges: Professors Showerman, West and Varnum.

Shop windows competing in the business men's contest will be judged at 7:30 by D. E. Mowry, F. W. Cantwell, and R. A. Overholser.

HOBOS TO FORM FIRST PARADE AT 10:30 TODAY 80 Piece Band to Lead Long Columns of Students and Alumni

Promptly at 10:30 this morning the first Hobo parade in the history of Wisconsin Homecomings will move from the foot of Park street to State street and on toward the capitol. All who expect to participate are asked to be in line by 10:15.

The parade will proceed to the Northwestern station where at 11:15 the special train from Milwaukee will be met. After its arrival the incoming alumni will fall in behind the motley array of students and will march back to lower campus.

A hobo band of 80 pieces will blare more or less discordant notes ahead of the procession, and innumerable stunt groups and individuals in tacky attire will follow. Entries have come in rapidly to Everett Grubb, chairman of the parade committee, and from all indications there will be a record lineup. There is no objection to last minute entries and all who desire may fall in line at 10:15.

Four Judges

Eddie Gillette, '12, "Red" Parker, ex-'12, Paulie Meyers, '20, and Pete Burns will be stationed at a point of vantage on the line of march and will determine which groups and individuals are worthy of the prizes which have been offered.

A steak dinner at Hick's goes to the best group, a smoking stand will be awarded the second best and a box of cigars will be won by the third best. Individual prizes are an $18 pair of high boots, an $11 hat and a $6 pipe. To the tramp with the longest home-grown beard a cigarette case will be given.

SENATE PROBES TICKET SALE

Report Public Sale Has Precedent Over Student

In view of the present dissatisfaction manifested by the student body at large over the sale of tickets for the Illinois-Wisconsin game, an investigation committee of the Student Senate reports the following:

That the sale of seats at public rate has been given precedence over the sale of those at coupon or student fee card rates.

The athletic department informed the senate committee that 922 seats in section C of the concrete stadium were sold at public sale, and also that seats in sections H and A in the concrete stand were sold at public rates.

The committee finds this in direct violation with the second condition of the contract of the athletic department with coupon holders which reads:

"Owners of coupon books will be given first consideration in the allotment of seats at all games where reservations are made."

The following further charges have been made and are being investigated in detail by the Senate committee:

ALUMNI FLOCK BACK TO WATCH TWO POWERFUL ELEVENS DO BATTLE AT RANDALL TODAY

Badgers' All-American End-Captain

"RED" WESTON
End

"Red" is perhaps the greatest end that Wisconsin has ever produced. He played an excellent game all through his sophomore year and last year won a berth on nearly every honorary All-American and All-Western team chosen. He is also a "W" man in basketball and his departure from Wisconsin will be keenly felt in athletics as well as in many other activities.

One of the greatest football games in the history of the Badger gridiron sport will be played today when Wisconsin and Illinois, recognized throughout the entire country as the most powerful elevens in the middle west, meet on Randall Field.

The largest crowd that has ever witnessed a football game in Madison will watch the Badgers and Suckers clash today and it is estimated that there will be more than 20,000 people in the stands. The weather conditions are perfect for football and this is unquestionably the greatest Homecoming game of all time.

Players in Condition

According to reports from the trainers of both the Badgers and the Suckers, the 22 men who line up at the kick-off this afternoon will be in perfect physical condition and will represent the most powerful combinations that Richards and Zuppke have developed.

The Badgers went through a short limbering up and signal practice yesterday afternoon and following the great massmeeting last night, they went right to their rooms where they retired at an early hour. They displayed unusual drive during the short workout yesterday and they will be the most formidable machine when they take the field today that they have been this year.

It is certain that Captain "Red" Weston will start at his old position on the left end. With the great Badger leader back in the line-up, Wisconsin will be a great deal stronger than she was against the Gophers last week-end. "Gus" Tebell will probably be Weston's running mate.

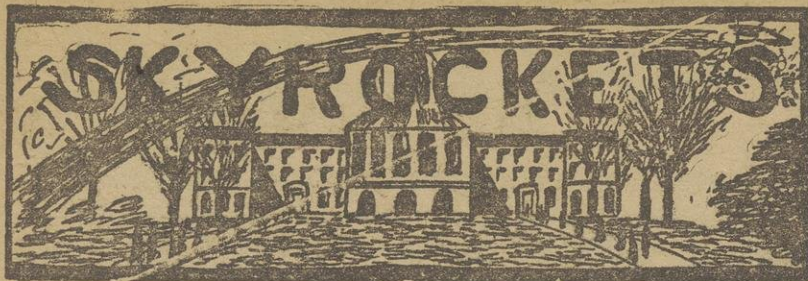

The great Wisconsin line was never in better fighting condition than it will be this afternoon and from the invincible pair of tackles to the powerful Bunge, in the center, every Badger linesman is ready to fight the battle of his life.

Illini are Ready

Headed by their scrappy leader, Captain "Fat" Depler, the Suckers arrived in Madison yesterday and went through a light work-out in the afternoon. The Illini have a powerful squad and they will be a hard team to whip. There was no over confidence among the Sucker players as they loitered about the hotel lobby in the afternoon and evening; they expect a hard game from the

IN the days gone by 'twas the custom to offer the oncoming guests the cork-screws of the city, and bid them welcome.

TODAY we can offer no such greeting. Our hearts reach out to ya just the same though, and we're glad you're here, just as though we had the same spirits as back in 1910.

IN lieu of anything better, we offer the following schemes.

HOW TO KEEP WARM AT THE GAME

1. Select the right company.
2. Don't go.
3. Smoke one of Morgan's pure Havan-hemps.
4. Speak to the pretty girl two rows above you — her escort will make it hot for you.
5. Forget to remove your hat during the "Varsity Toast."
6. Swear at the team.

WHAT TO DO AFTER THE GAME

1. Never mind, you'll try to do it.
2. So'll we.

AND THEN SHE KNEW

One of those sweet young things from the Delta Zeta house on being called for not speaking to a friend on the hill, answered that she didn't recognize him in the light.

—Cozy Corner.

Apologies to Briggs

Ain't it a grand and glorious feeling, when on arriving from a heavy day of class you find a large package from home and spend the next half hour in contemplation trying to decide whether it contains a monster layer cake or only a couple o' pies?

AND as you open it, your nostrils prepare to be assailed by savory odors reminiscent of your dotting parents (sounds like the "LIT"), then cruel fate; it is your heavies.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

Sigma Delta Chi, ornery journalistic fraternity, announces the election of Rodney C. Welsh. There Rod, we knew it would happen if we featured you enough in the col. When we congr'd the poor chap yesterday he blurted out "Well, I was sorta surprised m'self!"

FIRST GRIDIRON GAME PLAYED HERE IN 1886

Inexperienced Cardinals
Loose to Milwaukee
Eleven

The American Rugby brand of football was first played at Wisconsin 31 years ago this fall. Prior to that a brand somewhat akin to the soccer game was indulged in until 1886, when the arrival of Andrew Alexander Bruce from England caused several teams to be formed, and daily practices were held under Bruce's guidance on the lower campus. Minnesota and Michigan had already taken up the sport, and it was not until October, 1889, that a number of Wisconsin football enthusiasts met in a room in Bascom hall to perfect an organization for the encouragement of a sport that is now the leading college game.

The one student at the university who knew anything about the new style of football was chosen captain and quarterback of the first squad. A few scrimmages had convinced even some of the heavyweights that the game was "too rough" for them, and the student body took no interest in the "brutal sport."

Practice Under Difficulties

Combating these obstacles, and without the conveniences of training equipment, the resolute pioneers of football at Wisconsin pounded away at perfecting a half dozen plays, running signals, scrimmaging with whatever martyrs could be induced to join the scrubs, and working themselves into shape to play the first game on the Badger schedule. November 23, 1889, the first Wisconsin football squad journeyed to Milwaukee to play a team there which was composed of former players from Cornell, Yale, Princeton, and Stevens Institute. On the Milwaukee team were A. P. Klettsch, P. P. Klettsch, Schultz, Forsyth, Stranahan, Wambold and Kemper in the line; Andrews, quarterback; W. L. Mason, G. G. Mason and McGrath, halfbacks, and Bloodgood, fullback.

The Wisconsin varsity line was composed of "Bill" Blackburn, "Taffy" Sheldon, "Jake" Kerr, "Ajax" Myrland, Logeman, Brooks, Clark and Loope; in the backfield, Mayers, called the signals, Prael and "Billy" Brumder, worked at the halves, and "Shorty" Achard was at fullback.

Ambulance Has Busy Day

At the end of the first half, Milwaukee had piled up 21 points to Wisconsin's 0. In the second half Wisconsin strengthens and while they could get no nearer to their opponent's goal than the two-yard line, they kept Milwaukee's score down to a single touchdown. The old style, smashing brand of football wrought havoc with the men of both teams, and the city ambulance worked overtime carrying the injured to the hospital. Captain A. P. Klettsch was the best ground gainer for Milwaukee, while for the inexperienced Badgers, Prael and Brumder made most of the gains.

Beloit college had the beginnings of a football eleven and three weeks later, the determined Cardinal team met the state-line college eleven and was beaten by a score of 4 to 0. The varsity players returned to Madison with an alibi, and the claim that the final score should have been 0 to 0. The Wisconsin linesmen in the contest against the Beloit team were "Bill" Blackburn, "Jake" Kerr, McNaught, Logeman, Clark, Brooks, and Loope. Mayers handled the team from the quarterback position, and "Billie" Brumder, "Louie" Sumner and Prael tore around the ends from the halfback positions, with "Andy" Bruce playing fullback.

BADGERS AND SUCKERS MEET IN FIRST HOMECOMING-CARD GAME

Replace Maroons and Gophers Because of 5 Year Chicago Contract

The Badger-Illini game at Camp Randall this afternoon will be the first Homecoming battle ever staged between the gridders of Illinois and Wisconsin. A glance into the past history of Wisconsin elevens discloses the facts that on every Homecoming Day either the Chicago Maroons or Minnesota have furnished entertainment for the throngs of alumni and Cardinal students. It was the custom to alternate between these two schools.

Last season a contract was drawn up with Stagg by which the Badgers agreed to conclude their schedule with the Maroons at Chicago for the next five years. This action prevented further Homecoming games with the Chicagoans. Thus it came about that Coach Zuppke and his band of Illini football men are to offer competition to Coach John Richards' men this afternoon. Without a doubt the Suckers will continue to substitute for Chicago on Wisconsin's Homecoming schedule. The Gophers still alternate each year on the Cardinal chart.

Crowds See Minnesota Game

One of the greatest Homecoming crowds in the history of the university gathered at Camp Randall last fall, and witnessed "Doc" Williams' triumph over the Badgers in easy style. The famous Minnesota shift proved too much for Captain "Chuck" Carpenter and his men. The Gophers handed Wisconsin a 19 to 6 defeat, and cast no little gloom over the week-end celebration.

The S. A. T. C. year saw a shut-out at the hands of Illinois, 22 to 0

Owing to the military conditions at that time, the team was not up to standard. The previous year Coach Richards celebrated his return to the Badger camp by downing Minnesota in a hard game, 10 to 7. Eber Simpson piloted this 1917 team to victory over the Gophers, and was later named as All-conference quarterback. A combination of work, spirit and confidence on the part of the team, coaches and students caused the defeat of Chicago in 1916. The final score was 30 to 7.

Wisconsin Defeated in 1915

Howard Buck's 1915 eleven met defeat before a Homecoming crowd here, Minnesota again wrecking the Badger celebration. The final score stood 20 to 0 with Williams' men at the long end. In 1914 Chicago and Wisconsin fought to a scoreless tie. This was probably the best game ever staged at Camp Randall before the Homecoming crowd of alumni and students. The previous fall Minnesota came down and disappointed another Homecoming crowd by a 21 to 3 score.

One of the greatest football teams ever turned out by the University of Wisconsin took the field against the Maroons in 1912. This aggregation defeated the Stagmen, 30 to 12, and finished the season with a thousand per cent average. Nine men of this conference championship combination were named on Walter Eckersall's All-conference team.

Wisconsin's first Homecoming took place in the year 1911, and has been held annually since. The Gophers stepped in and ruined the Badgers' initial celebration with a victory at Camp Randall, and ever since have proved a jinx on this special occasion.

282 SHORT COURSE

AG STUDENTS ARE ENROLLED HERE

The total number of students enrolled in the short course of agriculture is 282, of whom 155 are first year students, 127 are second year men, representing 60 counties. Ten are entered in the special testers course.

Besides Wisconsin, various states are represented, the number from each being: Illinois, 26; New Jersey,

2; Minnesota, 1; Michigan, 1. There is also one man from Canada enrolled.

A much larger enrollment is expected next semester. The reason the enrollment has not been larger at this time is due to the fact that the open weather has made it possible to do more farm work than is usually the case.

Unlike former years, there has been little difficulty in securing rooms for the short course students.

"BROAD STUDY IS BEST FOR JOURNALISTS"

Washington Editor Praises Plan of Wisconsin's Course

"I talked the other evening to the Press club. The next day I went into the school of journalism and talked to the senior class. Each group was symbolical of our alliance between state-planned and state-supported education of journalists for their calling and practical journalism which these mid-West and Western educators and publicists have worked out."

So writes George Perry Morris, of the editorial staff of the Washington Herald, in a recent issue of that paper.

"Here at Wisconsin University (most of the time under Willard G. Bleyer's direction) this project has been taking root and flowering out. Fifteen years of test have proved the worth of the plan; and now the school enrolls not only its own state's fair quota of pupils, but graduates from other universities seek it for specialized training. Nor are all the pupils Americans. Asia and Europe also are represented."

Lays Foundation of Culture

"Professor Bleyer's theory of administering the school and shaping its effect on the political economics and social life of the upper Mississippi Valley, is shown by the school curriculum and the school methods. He has not been as desirous as some heads of schools of journalism have been to make the Wisconsin school a technical school. His effort has been to co-operate with other departments of the university in laying broad foundations of general culture, leaving to the last years of the course such guidance as is given in the technique of editing, printing, distributing and winning financial income for journals of all kinds. He has not attempted to make his pupils editors and publishers while yet students. The school does co-operate with the university daily; but is not responsible for it, as is the case with some schools of journalism.

"The success that graduates of the school have when they get into responsible positions (and most of them do) justifies Professor Bleyer's theory. Their breath of training, disciplined minds, habits of sustained intellectual work, and combined general and specialized knowledge, soon win recognition for them even in conservative newspaper offices."

Power of East Wanes

"The crying demand in American journalism today is for editors informed on international affairs and sympathetically intelligent on contemporary domestic issues. The students of this school make detailed studies of the economic, social, and political development of various historical periods and geographical sections of the country. They are led to consider the diplomatic relation of this country with reference to the progress of international law as it has been affected by the United States. The history of foreign and American journalism is studied. Principles underlying the ethics of the calling are defined. The psychology of both news publication and advertising is taught."

"It is because just this sort of work for future publishers, editors and reporters goes on in this region of the country and in Kansas, Missouri and Washington (not D. C.) that the balance of cultural as well as political power of the East wanes relatively."

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS CARRIED ON BY 3 ACTIVE ORGANIZATIONS

Physical Education Department Has Enrolment of 158—130 Majors

Women's athletics at the University of Wisconsin have become stronger and more eventful each year. At present there are 158 women enrolled in the department of Physical Education, 130 of whom are taking the course as their major subject. The remaining 28 are taking physical education as a minor activity. This year there are eight more women enrolled in the course than last year.

W. A. A. Heads List.

Of the three organizations that have been founded for the furtherance of women's athletics, the Women's Athletic association is the most instrumental. It is a national association that has been active on the campus for about ten years and is still clinging to its initial purpose to "promote high physical efficiency among women by fostering interest in gymnastic and athletic activities."

At present Margaret Swift, '21, is president of the association.

The other offices are filled by Marguerite Shepard, '21, vice president; Mabel Winter, '22, secretary; Belle Knight, treasurer. The membership roll of W. A. A. holds 200 names, 10 of whom are "W" wearers, 8 have won small W's, and 70 have earned their pins. Those who have won their "W's" are: Margaret Swift, Marguerite Shepard, Dorothy Kropf, Hazel Wright, Elizabeth Markham, Marcia Hinkins, Helen Thompson, Selma Albrecht, Grace Gleerup, and Liela Sinaiko.

Membership in W. A. A. is attained only by gaining 125 points. These may be won by making teams, honors, perfect gymnasium records and by hiking 40 miles each semester. Positions on teams entitle the member to her class numerals. For winning 300 points the pin is merited, for 600 points the small "W" is given, and for 800 the large "W" is awarded. All wearers of the large "W" are eligible for the final emblem—a gold locket,—which is awarded upon a basis of service, scholarship, womanliness and athletic ability.

National Convention Held Here.

The first national conference of W. A. A. was held at the University of Wisconsin in 1915. Since then Wisconsin has been represented at all the national and sectional conferences of the association, and was the originator of the plan to transfer points from one college to another. At the sectional conference at Columbia, Mo., last March, Wisconsin was represented by four delegates, one of whom read a paper on "The Intertransference of Points." The next national conference will be held in March.

The latest sports to be recognized by W. A. A. are quoits and volleyball. These were accepted last spring. Soccer football is at present being considered for recognition. Dancing has been a recognized sport for three years.

W. A. A. keeps abreast of campus activities throughout the year. Beginning with its welcome party during the first three days of the academic year and continuing through its matinee dance, its "spreads" at the close of the season for each sport, its sale of Homecoming buttons, and its Field Day attractions in the spring when the final events in baseball, field and track, archery, tennis and dancing are competed.

200 in Outing Club.

Outing club, which has existed since 1917, supervises the sports that are not included under W. A. A. It claims 200 members and about 150 pin-wearers. Among the activities that Outing club fosters are ice skating, distance hiking, riding, canoeing, bicycling, roller skating, tobogganing and skiing. The addition of golf and ice hockey are at present being considered. The officers of the club are: Ellen Corell, '21, president; Zirian Blish, '22, vice president; Louise Fritsche, '22, secretary; and Esther Haven, '22, treasurer.

The addition of a major emblem is now under discussion, and the plan to provide farm-houses for Thanksgiving dinners for women who wish to attend them is the present project of the club.

Dolphin Club Last Addition.

The youngest women's athletic organization is Dolphin club, which was founded here last year by Evelyn Voss, formerly of the University of Minnesota. There girls comprised the charter membership, but at present there are 40 active members. The Dolphin club has achieved a great deal in the promoting of interest in swimming, and has already presented three successful exhibitions. The first two were exhibitions of swimming and fancy diving, and the third, given last spring, was a water carnival in which the members of the club brought themselves into the lime-light of athletics through fancy stunts. The first exhibition this year will take place during Thanksgiving week, for which the members of the club are receiving special coaching by members of the varsity swimming team.

Officers of the club are: Olga Anderson, '23, president; Julie Watson, '22, secretary and treasurer; Elizabeth Waterman, '21, chairman of exhibitions. Miss Mary Brownell of the Department of Physical Education, is sponsor for the club. Last year an emblem was awarded for the achievement of certain required feats; this year the awarding of a minor emblem has been added. Of the 60 new women who tried out for membership this fall, 20 were accepted. A similar organization, "The Texas Turtles," has been founded at a Texas college by Helen Kahn, '20, who was a charter member of Dolphin.

As a result of the recent tennis tournaments the four girls who head the list are: Doris Wyatt, Katherine Kimbrell, Frances Beecher and "Ellie" Voorhees. During the next week Miss Wyatt and Miss Beecher will play, Miss Kimbrell and Miss Voorhees will compete.

The champion of quoits for this season is Della Powell who has 126 points and 5 ringers as a score.

The Milwaukee Athletic club has sent an invitation to the university to send eight girls to Milwaukee to swim in a meet to be held during Christmas vacation. The offer has been referred to the president of the Dolphin club, who will choose the girls. The teams will be made up of members, two for crawl strokes, two for side, two for back and two for breast stroke.

Philadelphia announce that, of more than 3,000,000 men in the country who have the right to wear the medal, only 379,214, or 10 per cent, have been awarded upon application. For service in this country 117,194 have been issued, and for foreign service 79,192. Applications are received on the average of 6,800 a day.

FEW SERVICE MEN MAKE APPLICATION FOR VICTORY MEDAL

Like World war veterans elsewhere, only a small number of former service men now attending the university who are entitled to receive the Victory Medal given by the government, have made application to the university post of the American Legion for the necessary blanks and data.

Every service man honorably discharged, including the S. A. T. C., is entitled to one of the bronze medals, hung from a band of rainbow ribbon. Additional battle clasps are given for each war operation.

RECORD CROWD WILL SWARM TO BIGGEST GAME

Expect 20,500 Attendance—
Bleachers and Ring Side Seats Erected

Over 20,500 people, including 7,000 Wisconsin students and 1,500 alumni, will form the crowd of spectators at the Homecoming game this afternoon. The attendance of the annual event which brings alumni and former students from all parts of the country, will surpass all previous records. Never has the demand for the sale of reserved seats at the game been so great as this year, states Robert O. Quick, manager of the ticket sale at the athletic department.

Additional bleachers providing 500 seats for alumni who have been unable to procure seats are being rushed to completion. The bleachers are being erected at the south end of the amphitheater. Sale of these seats at $1 each will be opened at the box offices at the field at 1 o'clock, an hour before the game begins.

Office Nearly Swamped

The demand for seats at the game this afternoon has been unprecedented. An alumnus from Montana, Thomas J. Mathews, is but one of the host of loyal Wisconsin supporters who have written. Hundreds of further orders have been turned down this week from applicants by mail orders and telephone, as well as by telegram. Interest in the outcome of the game and in the Homecoming activities of the university is indicated by the large demand for seats from Badger alumni and former students.

Orders in Month Ago

Orders began to arrive over a month ago from alumni. Like a landslide into the office of the athletic department has been the mass of letters arriving daily. The mail for one day last week brought 541 applications for the $2 seats.

Out of the 20,500 seats for the event, 17,000 have been sold at $2, while 3,000 seats at the ends of the concrete bleachers have brought $1.50 each. The remaining 500 seats in the temporary wooden bleachers will be sold for $1 each.

Box seats along the track with a seating capacity of 2,500 people have been constructed. These seats, despite the fact that they are located at ringside distance, have been sold for but $2, the maximum fee permitted by state law. This price is considerably below the charge made at other schools in the conference.

Illinois Rooters Come

An army of about 350 rooters from Illinois will invade the Badger stronghold today in support of their team. While this number of seats have been officially sold by the athletic department, it is understood that many others will accompany the delegation to the city.

MEMORIAL FUND NEARS $300,000

Committee Now Located in Madison Completes Plans to Push Drive

Wonderful progress is being made now on the Memorial Union Building project. The memorial committee's office, which recently moved to Madison from Milwaukee and is located in the alumni headquarters building, 821 State street, has completed plans for continuing the campaign for funds along broader and more active lines.

The committee recently announced that total pledges and subscriptions are nearing the $300,000 mark. The collection of outstanding pledges is now under way, practically all subscribers having waived the original condition which required a minimum of $500,000 to make pledges binding. In suggesting this plan to subscribers the committee stated that success of the campaign was assured.

An active campaign among alumni and business concerns of Madison is now under way with prospects of good success.

The committee invited all visiting alumni who are interested in the memorial project to visit its quarters in the alumni building. Visitors wishing to subscribe to the fund at this time will be accommodated at the committee's office.

PLAN THANKSGIVING DINNERS AT FARMS

Thanksgiving dinners at farm houses for women who would enjoy a "homey" meal are to be arranged for by members of the Outing club this year, as in the past, according to Ellen Corell, representing the organization.

"We will make arrangements with farmers nearby and on Thanksgiving day the young women will either hike or go by bicycle to the farm houses," says Miss Corell. "Each family can probably accommodate three so that it will be like a little family party rather than a function."

Lists will be posted at Lathrop hall and all who are desirous to take advantage of this opportunity are urged to sign 1234566N..6N..N6 urged to sign up early next week. The arrangement is for the benefit of all university women.

FIRST YEAR OF HOMECOMING WAS IN 1911

Students and Faculty Conceived
Idea of Getting Alumni
Back For Big Game

Homecoming, which has come to mean so much to Wisconsin, originated in 1911. Founders of the event began by setting aside one day in the year when there would be an attraction important enough to draw even the unenthusiastic back to their alma mater. This naturally fell at the time of the Minnesota or Chicago football game. With this for an inducement the students and faculty co-operated in an endeavor to make these few days spent in Madison so full of pep and enjoyment that visitors would spread the news among fellow alumni so that the future would see the return of more and more graduates.

This was the beginning of the present organization which aims to welcome and entertain the returning alumni. The first Homecoming had a committee to arrange for rooming facilities, another to supervise the massmeeting; and a third to direct the burlesque between halves of the game. The band met the arrivals. Word was sent out to the alumnus that he must return as did the prodigal son and join in the killing of the fatted calf—Minnesota.

The general secretary of the Minnesota alumni association said of the venture, "I came here for the express purpose of learning what that indescribable something called 'Wisconsin spirit' is. I was not disappointed. I have seen and heard it."

The next year the Chicago game claimed the second Homecoming celebration. A "Big Bouncing Torchlight Parade" was the innovation of the 1913 program. A ribbon of dancing lights led by the band extended several blocks down State street. Students and alumni in grotesque apparel served to heighten the interest of the occasion. Saturday morning witnessed Wisconsin conquer the victor over Minnesota in the cross-country marathons. At the game the Badger band formed a "W" with cardinal and white flags. Minnesota formed an "M" with maroon and gold flags. Between halves a group of clowns faked a football contest.

In 1914 Wisconsin played the Homecoming game with Chicago, which resulted in a tie.

The alumni welcome of 1915 was conducted for the first time entirely by the students. The general chairman was appointed by the "W" club and the Athletic board. Women students had a place on the general committee. All the funds collected were expended for the affair, which permitted the committee to pay the Regimental band, provide free torches, supply alumni registration books, purchase hundreds of yards of bunting, and entertain the guests with luncheon and tea. In the evening the "W" club gave a dance in the gymnasium.

Dedication of the new stadium at Camp Randall was an important feature of the 1917 welcome. The fall of 1918 saw Homecoming in the shadow of war.

The 1919 reunion was perhaps larger than any of previous years. On the eve of the game students and alumni to the number of 5,000 joined in a torchlight parade down State street to the tune of "On Wisconsin."

WELCOME HOME

WISCONSIN throws open her arms to welcome back home once more her sons and daughters returning from far and near. We have flung to the breeze the cardinal and white, we have arranged our blazing lights, we have adorned our homes with splendor befitting the occasion.

But better than all these preparations we have opened our hearts to the spirit underlying Homecoming. The air is surcharged with cheerfulness and hope as friend meets friend and old associations are brought to life again.

Old as the tradition of Homecoming is, there is a freshness and buoyancy each succeeding year when the time rolls around. Why not? Family reunions never grow old, but rather offer keener pleasure year by year.

The present Homecoming is especially significant because Wisconsin is getting back in the old swing that carried the varsity high before the war. The school has fully awakened to the new challenges and solemn responsibilities lying ahead of her. Never has the future held such opportunities nor the present such willingness to meet the resultant obligations. The presence of the old grads who are back with us reminds us that soon we will be shoulder to shoulder with them translating Wisconsin ideals into the realities of the new world in the making. Such is the significance of the 1920 Homecoming.

Now about the festivities. The advance information is that there were never more brilliant. The engineers bestirred themselves and the results last night speak for themselves. Hats off to St. Patrick and all his progeny.

Then there was the pep session and the bonfire—the stiffening of morale on the eve of the battle around which centers all the spirit of every Homecoming. Wisconsin is confident. The team is ready to put every ounce of power into the struggle today. Tens of thousands of loyal Badgers will be there to cheer. Victory is in the air.

On this morning of rejoicing the students extend their greetings to their brothers and sisters who are here to enjoy what is hoped will be the best Homecoming in the annals of the varsity.

SPECIAL PRIZE FOR HALL DECORATIONS

Chadbourne and Barnard halls will compete for a separate prize in the house decorations contest. It has been decided by the Homecoming committee that a prize of a silver vase should be offered for the two halls rather than to include them in the sorority and rooming house contest.

The prize which has been offered for the latter is a silver basket. Both of the prizes are on display.

J. N. Manson Stricken At Park Hotel While Talking With Friends

J. N. Manson, Wausau, father of Charles L., John N., and Steward, students in the university, was stricken with heart trouble and died suddenly in the Park hotel early last evening, while he was talking with friends of his sons. Mr. Manson had arrived in Madison to spend the Homecoming week-end.

VARIETY

Dancing, Vaudeville, and Reception Big Features of Homecoming Ball

Variety of entertainment will be the feature of the big informal Homecoming ball which will be given for alumni and students tonight in Lathrop hall.

Dancing will be the main diversion, but there will also be ample room for grads to mingle with old friends.

During the intermission two of the feature acts from the Engineers' minstrels will entertain the dancers. The blackface singing quartet and another high-class act which made such distinct hits last night at the gymnasium theater have consented to appear for several numbers in Lathrop hall.

Alumni will find tickets on sale at the Park hotel, the University pharmacy and Dad Morgan's. Fraternity groups should notify A. Hotten, B. 4504. The committee plans to throw open the doors at 8 o'clock and from then until 8:30 a general reception will take place.

Those on the ball committee are: David Mahoney, chairman; Reginald Garstang, Don Murphy, Carroll Ade, Katherine Rosenberry, Alfred Hotten, Fred Ellison.

Communication

RESERVED SEATS AGAIN

Editor Daily Cardinal:

Since yesterday morning I have gathered considerable documentary evidence concerning the way in which the ticket sale for the Homecoming game has been managed. Literally hundreds of early orders, sent in with coupons, fee cards, "W" cards, and by alumni, have been filled with rush seats, to make room in the grandstands for applicants at public rates.

Evidence of all this, in the form of signed statements, has been placed in the hands of the proper university authorities. One man sent his order in on September 29, and received seats on the track. One fraternity sent in an order for 65 seats, not later than four days after the mail order opened, and received 65 seats on the track. They later sent an order for public rate seats and this time got grandstand seats.

Another fraternity sent in an order for 103 seats, the day after the sale opened. These orders were practically all for coupon book owners, "W" men, fee card holders, and alumni. Later a second order was sent in for 27 seats, followed by a third order for five seats at public rates. The last order was honored with five seats in the North bleachers. The other two orders have not yet been heard from.

I can get a signed statement from a faculty member concerning a case where two fee card orders sent in weeks ago have not yet been heard from, although an order at public rates sent in two weeks later was honored immediately. I know of one coupon order, accompanied by three public rate applications, which was honored with four seats in Section D, but I was told at the gym that not one student had been given tickets for that section.

The facts I have already cited show conclusively that money was put above the rights of the students, the loyal supporters of athletics in the university, by those in authority, whether they be the Athletic council, the heads of the department, or someone else.

The promises made to the students in circulars and in the coupon books are binding contracts, and they have been broken. The Athletic department has given cause for civil suit for obtaining money under false pretenses. After definitely promising coupon holders first choice of "Any reserved seat except in Sections D and E" they have no legal right to make any further reservations of any part of the concrete grandstand; yet not only was this done, but orders were given seats on the track when there were still vacant seats in the grandstand from which these orders could have been filled, even with the additional reservations.

In the name of the hundreds whom I know to have been bunced out of their rights I ask that this affair be thoroughly investigated by those who have the authority to do so, and that those responsible be given adequate punishment. I would like to hear from others who have cause for complaint, to the end that evidence shall not be lacking when the investigation is made.

KENNETH SCOTT, E. E., '21.

ENGINEERS HAVE GOOD SHOW FOR VARSITY GUESTS

Minstrels, With Their Songs and Ballads, Make Hit
With Alumni

BY WALTER K. SCHWINN

Gather a gang of engineers together, give them a song to sing, a greeting of "Well, well, well!" and you have the beginnings of a lively time.

That is what happened last night at the revival of the Engineers' minstrels at the gym before a good crowd of Homecomers. The knights of the slip-stick presented a good crowd of men, a well-trained chorus of voices, and individual talent of a high order. From the first "Gentlemen, be seated" to the final chorus, on promenade, the show was a lively medley of song and color.

There were solos, duets, quartets, banjo solos, and saxophone sextets; there were humorous end men and circle men; there was an interlocutor of dignity—as well as an excellent "feeder" for the comedians. Melvin Pierce and Lewis Schmidt did good work on the extreme ends, and "Red" Taylor, the interlocutor, played up to them in good fashion.

The best singing voice of the evening was discovered in Ken Damon, who sang ballads in an excellent lyric tenor. The music was all quite new, "I've Got the Blues for My Old Kentucky Home" being one of the best songs in the group.

"Hap" Davies performed expertly on the banjo; while the saxophonists seemed to evince the hearty approval of the audience. Henry Stegerman in "When I See All the Loving They Waste on Babies" was the humorous high spot of the performance. An excellent orchestra supported the singers, and despite the acoustic defects of the hall the chorus effects were well brought out.

The Engineers really put on quite a show.

Polo Artists Will Furnish
Thrills For Stands
Today

A quartet of thoroughbred equine quadrupeds, straddled by a like number of rollicking riders, will at 2:20 p. m. today gallop gaily onto the football field. Once there, after roll has been taken, and all have been accounted for, these domesticated beasts will be put through a short silent drill, unaffected by the hilarious Homecoming huzzas. Dressed in the gorgeous garbs of the English police, the four riders will then "choose up," and immediately begin to play that famous old game of English polo. The following men, who have been carefully chosen by competitive competition from the cream of the college's comedians, will be the riders: C. Harold ("Sunny") Ray, Howard M. ("Sparks") Dodge, William H. ("Bill") Purnell, and Wells F. Carberry.

SURPRISE

Engineering Student Gets
Belated Notification of Surveyor's Appointment

Elected county surveyor while attending the university isn't the political lot of many students. Devere Button, sophomore in the School of Engineering, hadn't thought much about a political career until yesterday when he received word from the county clerk of Monroe county at Sparta, Wis., that he had been elected county surveyor.

His political fortunes will not deter him, however, from continuing his university course, for he expects to attend to his duties during the week-ends.

As a joke with some of his friends, Button entered his name on the county primary at Sparta before the last primary election. As the notification that he had successfully won the office did not arrive until yesterday, the "candidate" previously concluded that the fates of fortune had punctured his joke and that the spoils of office were lost.

"You are now county surveyor for Monroe county," was the brief message received yesterday by the engineer student. In passing around cigars at the Delta Sigma Phi house, he declared that the railroad mileage from Madison to Sparta will cost him more than the job will pay.

MINSTREL TICKET HOLDERS

The Saturday night performance of the Engineers' minstrel show will begin promptly at 8:15, instead of at 8:45, as announced on the tickets. Friday night the show will start at 8:45, but Saturday it will begin earlier in order that those who wish to attend the Homecoming dance may do so!

BADGERS PLAY ILLINOIS FIRST TIME IN 1899

Suckers Have Edge in Number Games Won and Lost

Football relations between Wisconsin and Illinois commenced in the fall of 1899 when, headed by the great "Pat" O'Dea, the Badgers triumphed over the Illini 23 to 0, the game being played in Milwaukee. In the 10 games that the football teams of these two great middle west universities have battled against each other, the Illini have been victorious five times, the Badgers four, and one a tie, the no score game in 1916.

With the count 5 to 4 against them, the Badgers have a glorious opportunity to even up the score in the game on Randall Field this afternoon. Wisconsin was the only team in the conference to defeat the Zuppke eleven last fall, and today playing at home, the added support of thousands of returning alumni will instill the Badgers with a greater determination to win.

The 1899 game was an easy victory for the Badgers, the outstanding feature of which was the wonderful drop kick by Captain "Pat" O'Dea from the 60 yard line. This has gone down in history as the longest drop kick ever made during a football game.

The next year Wisconsin met the Illini in Madison and by the stellar playing of "Keg" Driver and "Bill" Juneau the Badgers were victorious by a score of 27 to 0. This game was played on a wet, sloppy field and under very unfavorable weather conditions.

Two shut-outs in succession evidently frightened the Suckers and the Wisconsin and Illinois teams did not meet upon the gridiron again until 1906, when the Illini crossed the Badger goal line for the first time but lost 16 to 6. Among the Wisconsin players on this team were "Jumbo" Stiehm, "Coots" Cunningham, F. F. Clark, and J. Messmer.

Illinois won her first victory over the Badgers on October 26, 1907, by a 15 to 4 score on Camp Randall. The Illini had a powerful smashing eleven which tore through the inexperienced Badger line for large gains.

Following the first Illinois victory football relations were again broken with Illinois and the two teams did not meet again until "Tubby" Keeler led the Badgers against the Suckers in 1914, when the latter won 24 to 9. This was the year of the memorable Pogue-Clark combination and the brilliant playing of these two Illinois stars worked havoc with the Badger defense. Prominent among Badger players this year were "Eddie" Stavrum, "Cub" Buck, "Arlie" Mucks, and "Red" Kelly.

Illinois administered another decisive defeat to Wisconsin the following year at Urbana by a 17 to 8 score. The powerful Illini backfield had the Badger team on defense throughout the entire contest and it was not until the last quarter that Wisconsin was able to get close enough to the Sucker goal for Eber Simpson to kick a drop kick. Such well known stars as "Cub" Buck, "Paulie" Meyers, and Howard Hancock played with the Badgers in this game.

The following year a crippled Badger eleven played through four quarters of gruelling football only on their nerve and held the Illini to a scoreless tie. Wisconsin had just been given the worst defeat in the history of Badger football by Minnesota a week before, and the remnants of the Gopher slaughter fought gamely against the powerful attack of Zuppke's men. "Paulie" Meyers captained this team, and among other varsity members were "Louie" Kreuz, "Marty" Fladoes, "Chuck" Carpenter and R. J. McCrory.

In 1917, Coach Richards' first year as coach of the Badgers following a six year absence, Wisconsin lost out in a sensational 7 to 0 game with Illinois at Urbana. The

GEORGE BUNGE Center

Following in the footsteps of his father, Bunge in the center of the Badger line is one of the most powerful linemen that Richards has. Opposing teams have always failed to gain through the center of the Wisconsin line, while on offense he is a power in opening up holes. Bunge has played on the varsity for two years.

two teams were evenly matched and it was as much Wisconsin's game as the Illini's. The Badgers simply could not stop Charpier, the great Sucker fullback, who tore through for long gains and finally crossed the Wisconsin goal for the only score of the game.

With nearly all of the veterans from the 1917 in service, the Illini won her fifth victory over the Badgers in 1918 by a 23 to 0 score. This was the first time that the Illinois game had been a Homecoming game but it was during war time and it was nothing like the great Homecoming that the sons of Wisconsin are living today.

The 14 to 10 defeat over Zuppke's eleven last year is fresh in the memory of every Badger and it is a game that they like to remember because Coach Richards' team was the only eleven in the conference who prevented the champions from having a clean list of victories. The Illinois backfield could not gain against the powerful Badger linemen, among them Ralph Scott, "Chuck" Carpenter, and George Bunge. Jacobi's terrific line plunging was a sensational feature of the game. "Red" Weston, "Jimmie" Brader, "Scottie," Howard Stark, "Paulie" Meyers, "Al" Davey, "T" Gould, Guy Sundt, and "Jake" Jacobi were members of the Wisconsin team.

CHOCOLATE SHOP OFFERS PRIZES

A box of candy to the oldest grad to attend the Homecoming festivities, a chocolate football to the first Wisconsin man to make a touchdown, are being offered as Homecoming prizes by the Chocolate Shop.

The graduate who can lay claim to the greatest number of years will be given a 5 pound box of assorted chocolates. Any alumnus who feels qualified to compete in the contest is invited to register his name, address, and year of graduation in the Chocolate Shop. The list will be verified in the registrar's office and the prize awarded.

The solid ball of fudge to be given to the man who makes the initial touchdown for Wisconsin weighs fifteen pounds, according to "Happy," the candy maker.

ALLEN DAVEY
Quarterback

Three years at the helm of the Wisconsin team have given "Al" Davey unusual ability in piloting the Badgers while he is an exceptionally good open field runner and an able drop-kicker. Among the many things for which Davey will always be remembered at Wisconsin is his sensational run in the Chicago game last year, and his drop-kick against the Gophers this year.

ROCKFORD ROOTERS TO ARRIVE TODAY

Rockford, Ill.,—More than a hundred Rockford football fans, half of whom are Wisconsin alumni and former students, will invade Madison today to watch the western classic gridiron battle, when Illinois defends her title against the Cardinal of Wisconsin.

Rockford followers of the Cardinal are banking on Wisconsin spirit to check the onrush of Zuppke's men, and will cheer for Richard's men, win or lose. If that old slogan is still true "There are no quitters at Wisconsin"—the same holds true here, for Badger followers have "dug deeply" to silence the bragging tongues of Illini grads here.

CAPITOL CAKE WILL BE PROGRAM PRIZE

The Capitol cake, displayed in the Candy Shop windows, is to be the fourth prize in the Homecoming program sale contest.

White as marble, the state capitol is all there, even to the goddess ruling serenely from the dome. The smooth green lawns, and well trimmed trees blot out the thought of winter. The narrow pavements of the surrounding square are the work of an expert contractor.

The cake is the work of the Candy Shop's professional French pastry chef and is valued at $50.

To contrast with the modern capitol is a reproduction of the original one in candy logs placed in the right side window. This display is historically exact, complete to the red cinnamon deer.

Shows Promise of Great Halfback

HAROLD H. HOLMES

No Wisconsin rooter who saw the Northwestern game will forget the long gains made by Holmes. This halfback has been a strong member of the Badger backfield in nearly every game this season. He has two more years to play.

Brader is another member of the powerful Wisconsin line and he is a tower of strength in tearing through and nailing the man with the ball. ## DORMITORIES URGENT NEED REGENTS SAY

Legislature to Hear Plans For Two Buildings to House 150 Each

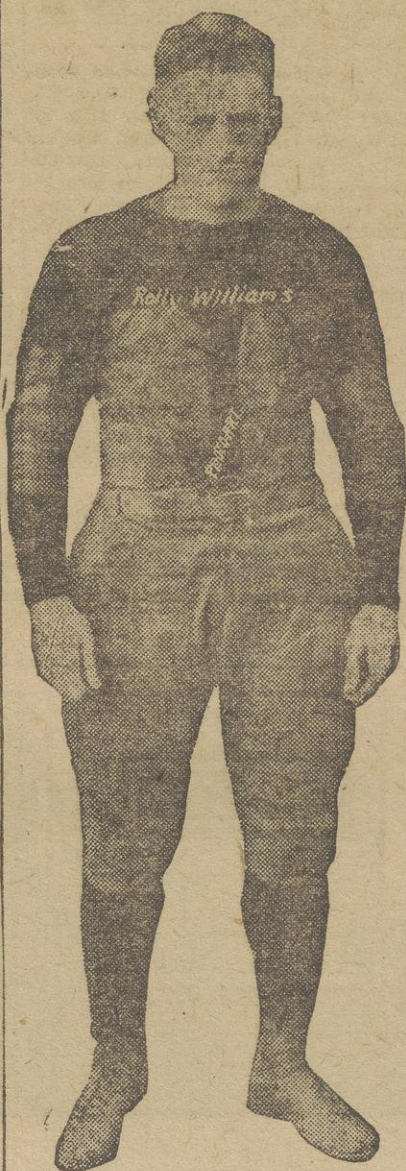

The erection of two dormitories, each to accommodate 150 students, one for men and one for women, will be asked of the state legislature at the session this winter to aid in solving the housing shortage here. Need for the buildings was found urgent by the Board of Regents at its last session when it considered the biennial estimates for the State Board of Education.

With the increased enrollment, officials deem the erection of new dormitories to be advisable. The institutions also have a stabilizing influence in keeping down the general price of room rents. The present dormitories, Chadbourne and Barnard, accommodate only 266 women from an enrollment of 2,427. The enrollment of men reached a high mark of 4,608 this fall. Need for accommodation of the additional students is declared to be the most pressing need of the university at this time, and the proposition will be pushed urgently at the meeting of the state solons.

ILLINOIS DEDICATES MEMORIAL CHIMES

The dedication of the senior memorial chimes was the most impressive ceremony of the 1920 Homecoming celebration at Illinois. The largest bell is dedicated to President James James; the second is hung in the memory of the men of the United States School of Military Aeronautics which was established at the university during the war. The chimes are the gift of the graduating classes from 1914 to 1921.

NEW BUILDING IS STARTED IN HOSPITAL UNIT

Central Structure Part of $1,250,000 Outlay for Cause of Medicine

Work was begun this week on the central building of the Wisconsin General hospital which will cost $1,250,000 upon completion, and will constitute one of the most modern medical units in the Middle West. The foundations of concrete are being made, for the main building at University avenue and Orchard streets. The remainder of the preliminary construction will be pushed as fast as possible.

The new building, costing approximately $750,000, will be the main structure of the unit. The entire hospital system will include the main hospital and the other special branches to be built later. The plan is very comprehensive, and when completed will comprise both a medical school and state hospital for public use.

Follows Type of Bradley

The building, following the general architectural type of the Bradley hospital at North Orchard street will be of buff brick trimmed with Bedford lime stone and will be six stories in height. An imposing facade fronting on University avenue will be 275 feet in width. At each end will be a wing extending front and back 52½ feet each way. At the center rear of the main building there will be another wing 88 feet in length and 48 feet in width.

Because of the high cost of building material, transportation difficulties, and labor shortage, no building program has been undertaken since 1918. The Bradley hospital which now accommodates the students of the university was completed in 1918. During periods of influenza epidemics the accommodations at the hospital have been unable to take care of the heavy demand. The new units while creating a state hospital for the public and a training school for medical students, will also be available for the students, affording them the benefit of an unusual outlay of medical equipment.

STADIUM TO BE ENLARGED NEXT YEAR IS PLAN

4,000 More Concrete Seats to Be Added to West End

The addition of 4,000 more concrete seats to the stadium next summer is the hope of the athletic department. The plans for the completion of the stadium, however, call for the addition of 45 rows of concrete seats to the west stand, which will seat 15,000, with eight tunnel entrances from Breeze terrace. After this is finished the plans call for a duplicate stand on the east side, and eventually the field will be entirely surrounded by an enormous concrete bowl.

At Homecoming last year about 20,000 people were crowded into the stands, 5,000 more than had ever attended the game before, but the capacity of the stadium cannot be stretched any further.

The present athletic stadium was dedicated at Homecoming, 1917, with the stands filled to capacity. It was built with money appropriated by the state, gate receipts, and a small amount contributed by alumni. As the war period came immediately after the dedication of the stadium, very little was done toward finishing the work just begun.

How soon the stadium is to be completed depends entirely upon the legislature, because gate receipts cannot increase until the seating capacity is increased.

TO DECIDE HOCKEY CHAMPIONS TODAY

Sophomores Meet Seniors in Game at 10 O'Clock—Graduate Women to Play

The women's inter-class hockey championship will be decided this morning when the sophomores play the seniors at 10 o'clock in the final game of the series.

The sophomores have defeated both the juniors and freshmen, thereby giving them an excellent chance to win the championship.

Two other games are scheduled for this morning, one at 9 o'clock, when a team composed of graduate women will demonstrate to the undergraduates that they have not lost their ability to play, nor their enthusiasm for this sport. All graduate women interested in hockey are requested to be at the field in order that enough spirit may be shown to recommend making the graduate game in the future one of the annual events during Homecoming week-end.

The last game, at 11 o'clock will be played between the juniors and freshmen.

All the teams are well matched, and the members of the teams have kept strictest training rules for the last three weeks.

All university women and their guests are urged to be at the field for these three games at 9, 10, and 11 o'clock.

ALUMNI FLOCK TO SEE BADGERS PLAY

Badgers and are ready to fight to the last whistle.

Brawn will meet brawn when the mighty Crangle, powerful Illini fullback, attempts to pierce the Badger line by his terrific line plunging. The Wisconsin team has worked for weeks against the Illinois plays and they are prepared to stop Zuppke's attack. In the two Fletchers, the Illini have a pair of backs of unusual ability, both as field runners and as kickers.

Zuppke is Silent

The Illinois coach, Robert Zuppke, refused to make any statement regarding the game tonight, but stated that his men were in excellent condition and had fully recovered from their game against Chicago last Saturday. He was pleased with the present weather conditions.

The Wisconsin cheering section is to be filled with male occupants only today, especially selected rooters who have husky lungs, and led by Varsity Cheerleader "Bill" Pickard and his staff of assistants there will be some of the old fashioned Wisconsin spirit displayed on Randall Field this afternoon. The Badgers will have opposition, however, for hundreds of Illini rooters will arrive on special trains this forenoon to support their team in what they consider the most critical game of the season.
