HARESFOOT ENDS SUCCESSFUL TOUR, HOME TOMORROW

"Twinkle, Twinkle" Played to Packed Houses at Every Performance

Playing its final road engagement tonight at the Pabst theater, Milwaukee, the Haresfoot club completes its twenty-sixth annual tour with the tenth performance in as many days. The company will return to Madison tomorrow morning.

Reports from cities where the club played indicate that "Twinkle Twinkle" has been the most successful production ever undertaken. With the exception of an extra matinee at Appleton, in which only a limited time for advertising was possible, the club played to capacity houses in every city. In several places it was necessary to return orders sent in too late.

Box Office Monday

The Madison sale has been heavy also according to the management of the Parkway. Students are advised against sending in orders for $1 seats for the Saturday matinee because it will be necessary to return them. All of the lower floor for the Friday night performance is sold out also. Fraternity and other groups taking advantage of the formal night ordered so many seats for this performance that the entire first floor was sold out early.

"No seats will be sold at the box office until Monday morning at 10 o'clock," Walter A. Frautschi '24, production director said yesterday. "All orders for seats must be sent in by mail. It will be impossible to take care of the requests in any other way until next week."

Thursday "Madison Night"

There are plenty of good seats available for the Thursday night performance, Frautschi reported. The management is desirous of making Thursday night "Madison night" for the accommodation of city persons. In other years it has often been impossible to accommodate Madisonians on account of the heavy demand on the part of students, but club members believe that the extra performance will give all an opportunity to get tickets.

WISCONSIN GRADUATE WINS MEDICAL FAME

Dr. Joseph C. Bloodgood, of Baltimore, Md., who was graduated from the Medical school in 1888, has achieved nation-wide fame among members of the medical profession as one of the foremost specialists in the treatment of cancer. Recently he contributed greatly to this branch of medical science by perfecting a new type of X-ray tube.

According to Dr. Bloodgood, with this tube discovery, the patients need be exposed to the rays only about twenty minutes, as the tube radiates five or six times as many curative rays as the old type of tube.

Apparently the tube increases the emission of specific rays which cure some forms of cancer, and at the same time are less injurious to the healthy flesh.

URGE CITY TO MAKE STREET EXTENSION

The first steps toward effecting an extension of Breeze Terrace were taken last Thursday afternoon when the street committee decided to recommend to the common council that the city attorney be empowered to start condemnation proceedings to acquire from the Illinois Central railway company land necessary for extension of Breeze Terrace from Regent to Monroe street.

MEAD FAVORS PRIVATE POWER DEVELOPMENT

Prof. D. W. Mead, of the College of Engineering, defended the development of hydro-electric resources by private interests rather than by state or federal governments at a spring meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers, last Wednesday in Atlanta, Ga.

Six Quit Social Science Club; War Issue Causes Row

Because the Social Science club refused to take a definite stand on the war issue, six members resigned at the last meeting and the club will be reorganized at a date to be announced later, according to Harold Schier, '24, who will have charge of the reorganization meeting.

"I plan to reorganize the club on the same basis. It was organized at first for the purpose of bringing speakers to the university, to act as a discussion group, and to take no stand on any matter," Schier declared yesterday.

That the club is not radical enough to suit the group that withdrew, and that this group believes the club is not progressing because it refuses to take any stand on matters, are the reasons for the resignations, is the belief of Schier.

GLEE CLUB ENDS SUCCESSFUL TRIP

Crowded Houses Greet Singers at Concerts in Three States

Crowded houses and enthusiastic audiences received the Glee club at the concerts on its annual spring tour. The club returned at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon from an eight day trip in a special car to cities in Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin.

In every respect this year's tour was the most successful the club has ever taken, in the opinion of Prof. E. Earle Swinney, director. A program of 20 concerts which is the largest the club has ever attempted will have been presented after the two concerts to be given at Richland Center April 24 and at Columbus April 25.

Complete reorganization of the club into an incorporated society for the purpose of forming a more active organization will be effected when preliminary plans drawn up during the tour are completed.

More than 2000 persons heard the Wisconsin singers in the Midway theater at Rockford, Ill. Many were turned away from the concerts at Wisconsin Rapids and Davenport, Iowa. At every city the club has been asked to return.

The Tri-City Alumni association gave a dinner and dance for members of the club at the Outing club Davenport. At Rockford the club was entertained with a dinner at the Elks club by Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Twomey, parents of Charles Twomey '24.

THUNDERSTORM SOAKS UNSUSPECTING CITY

An "April shower" hit Madison last night with a vengeance, and with thunder and lightening to boot. For half an hour the city was deluged with a downpour that threatened to play hob with the city drains. At State and Henry the street was awash for half a block, to the great discomfort of pedestrians who were not prepared for the sudden storm.

A brilliant display of lightning accompanied the rain, and sharp crashes of thunder jarred the ears of Madisonians too long used to winter quiet.

Wet feet and soaked clothes are not pleasant to anyone, and especially to the many co-eds who so bounteously replenished their wardrobes during vacation; but April showers are another sign of spring, and perhaps for this reason they will accept it with better grace than otherwise.

SINCLAIR SPEAKS ON EUROPEAN FINANCES

The result of the study of the financial situation of 16 European countries will be given by John F. Sinclair in his lecture at 8 o'clock tonight in Music hall on "Can Europe Hold Together." Mr. Sinclair, a graduate of the University of Minnesota, was formerly in the legislative reference library in the capitol here. He has traveled abroad studying the financial conditions in the foreign countries and is considered an authority in banking and law.

STUDENTS RETURN TO SCHOOL AFTER SPRING VACATION

Heavy Traffic Shows Increase of Automobiles as Classes Are Resumed

Returning from a week's reprieve from study, the student body settled down to work on the last stretch of the school year, yesterday. The hills and all the streets and avenues leading up to the university presented a strange contrast to the quiet of vacation; where few walked the day before hundreds rushed to report to classes on time.

Enforce No-Cut Rule

The no-cut rule was in effect and the haste exhibited by students on foot and in automobiles, as they traveled the shortest way to class, demonstrated their dislike to be caught in its meshes.

Above all others, one thing was noticeable. Automobiles of all kinds, colors, and conditions of repair had increased in numbers to such an extent that traffic between classes, and particularly at noon, transformed Langdon and State streets into avenues of whirling, roaring traffic. The mechanical population of the student districts has increased considerably.

Many Go On Trips

During the recess, the university was represented in many extra-curricular. Haresfoot went on its annual tour, the Glee club concerts in three states attracted large crowds; the baseball team completed its annual southern training trip, winning four out of six games; and journalism student engaged in practical editorial work on newspapers throughout the state.

EXTENSION DIVISION SENDS INFORMATION TO HIGH SCHOOLS

About 1735 loan packages of selected material on 850 subjects were lent to 303 communities of which more than half were without public libraries word from the department of debating and public discussion of the Extension division revealed today.

The service begun during the war in supplying suitable orations and readings for high schools has developed tremendously during this year. During the month of February alone, 884 loans in this field were made.

According to the Extension division only those libraries are supplied with material which have submitted all possible references in their possession on the subject and can likewise show that they are without the immediate material desired. Some of the subjects upon which requests were made are economic effect of prohibition, government ownership of railroads, international peace court, Japanese exclusion and Phillipine independence.

KAHLENBERG DISCOVERS CANCER TREATMENT

Prof. Louis A. Kahlenberg explained his discovery that colloidal gold may be used as a treatment for cancer in a talk before the Lions club Tuesday.

This treatment, as described by Professor Kahlenberg, has caused cancer growths to become absorbed and disappear in cases where surgeons had given up hope.

Experiments to accomplish such a discovery were started by Thomas Graham, Glasgow, many years ago. At the laboratories in the chemistry building as many as 50 pairs of salts have been separated from each other by this method. This is new in the history of chemistry.

SIGMA DELTA CHI PLEDGES NEW MEN

Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, announces the election of the following men:

Richard H. Crosse '24, Tracy Johnson '24, Byron Heal '24, Elsworth Bunce '24, Eliot H. Sharp '25, Vilas J. Boyle '25.

15,000 COPIES OF SUMMER SESSION BULLETINS READY

Bulletins for the summer session are ready now and can be obtained at the registrar's office. Because last year's publication of 12,000 copies was found to be insufficient 15,000 copies have been printed this year.

The course in "Field Geology in the St. Lawrence Section," which was to have been given by Prof. W. H. Twenhofel, has been cancelled for this summer.

The bulletin gives a complete summary of all the courses to be offered in the colleges and schools.

The summer session for the colleges and the Graduate school extends from June 30 to August 8, and the Law school session lasts from June 23 to August 29.

STUDENTS PUT OUT COUNTRY WEEKLIES

JOURNALISM MAJORS GET PRACTICAL NEWSPAPER EXPERIENCE DURING RECESS

Five progressive country weekly papers in Wisconsin benefited by the university's spring vacation having a staff of four students from the Course in Journalism during the past week. These students, under the direction of the editor of the paper did all the work connected with getting out one issue, from gathering the news and writing it, to soliciting the advertisements, and even, in some cases, setting type and running the linotype machines.

Victor Zierke, '25, Martha Dairymple, '25, Edith Sirakko, '24, and Ephraim Petersen, '24, had charge of the Prairie du Chien Courier. The Richland Center Democrat was issued by Richard Crosse, '24, Arlene McKellar, '24, Doris Berning, '24, and Mary Hussong, '25. The group that took over the Iowa County Democrat at Mineral Point was composed of Kenneth Butler, '25, Vernon Beardsley, '24, Irene Davis, '24, and Dorothy Lawton, '24. The Shawano County Democrat had as its staff Leon Pack, '24, John Davis, '25, Gordon Hecker, '25, and Elizabeth Milligan, '25.

The Reedsburg Times, the fifth paper, is published on Fridays, and consequently the students who were sent to Reedsburg will not be able to return to Madison until tomorrow. These students are Stuart McCay, '25, Don Trayser, '24, Dorothy Wiesler, '24, and Harriett Jaeger, '24.

GOODNIGHT ATTENDS WALTON LEAGUE MEET

Dean Scott H. Goodnight was numbered among the delegates to the meeting of the Isaac Walton league in Chicago last week. The delegates left Madison last Thursday in order to attend the sessions which lasted through Saturday.

The questions brought up at the meeting related partially to the illegal removal of fish from lakes and streams in and near Madison.

Before leaving for the convention, Dean Goodnight stated that poaching rules would be enforced from now on, and that violators would be brought to court.

TWENTY OF BARABOO GRADUATES ORGANIZE

MUSIC SCHOOL GIVES PRACTICE PROGRAMS

A weekly convocation on the part of the school of music was presented at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The convocations, it is explained, are merely practice programs for the students, which, though informal, are open to the public.

Y. M. TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS AT BANQUET TONIGHT

Will Also Choose Honor Man For Sterling Day Memorial

Election of officers for the coming year, and the choosing of the honor man of the university, will take place at the annual banquet of the Y. M. C. A. at 6 o'clock tonight in the parlors of the building.

Prof. A. B. Hall will give an address on "The Y and its Relation to the Campus." A brief resume of the activities and progress of the Y. M. C. Choose Honor Man
The election of the university honor man is a new feature of the annual banquet; the man will be elected by the members assembled, but the announcement of the honor man will not be made until the university convocation to be held soon. Six men have been nominated, the names having been withheld, and the qualifications of the nominees will be presented at the banquet. A committee composed of A. B. Hall, S. W. Gilman, A. F. Wileden, A. W. Trost and L. T. Williams, with President Birge and Mr. Wolf as ex-officio members, will pass upon the merits of the nominees. The trophy election will be made upon the bases of scholarship, efficiency in religious work, Christian character, activities for the general good of the campus and interest in physical exercise. The name of the honor man will be engraved on the Sterling Day memorial.

MICHIGAN EDITOR LAUDS CARDINAL

Robert Mansfield '26, Received By Cardinal Staff Men in Visit Here

Robert Mansfield '26, an assistant night editor of the Michigan Daily, student publication of the University of Michigan, visited The Cardinal office yesterday. Mansfield is making a short visit in Madison during his spring vacation, and will leave for Ann Arbor this morning. His comment on his visit is as follows:

"Wisconsin and Michigan can hardly be said to be "on the outs" if the reception which the staff of The Cardinal gave a Michigan Daily reporter yesterday can be called representative. Figuratively, the doors of the editorial rooms were thrown open, and all available information placed at my disposal in seeing how Wisconsin puts out her paper.

"Unfortunately, mention was made of the greater length of Michigan's spring vacation, all of three days, and I became the object of considerable envy. I have hastened to assure those concerned that the greater length of our school year more than makes up for the difference.

"Wisconsin is to be congratulated, I feel, on the splendid calibre of her daily paper, and the consistently good work which the staff is doing in putting out The Cardinal under the present difficulties which I have been told they are encountering in printing."

BOYD DIES AFTER PNEUMONIA ATTACK

John L. Boyd, well-known proprietor of Boyd's studio, a student and public dance hall, died at his home on Saturday and was buried on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Boyd died after an attack of pneumonia. He has been in the candy and catering business in Madison for 12 years.

WASHINGTON — Robert Lansing, former secretary of state, has been selected by President Coolidge as one of the American members of the new Mexican claims commission.

"Cap" and the Isabel Prepare for Action as Ice Disappears

"Go to it, the 'Isabel' is ready," said "Cap" Isabel yesterday as he shoved the first canoe out into Lake Mendota, opening the canoe season for this spring.

Mendota was the last of the three lakes to open, according to the captain. Lake Wingra was open first, Monona was clear early Monday while Mendota broke up about three hours later.

"The lakes are about three days late in clearing away," said Cap. "Last year canoes were on the lake by April 13."

Captain Isabel has been in charge of the university life-saving station for nine years and during that time he has rescued 400 people from the lake. Only two university students have drowned during that time. During the winter months when the lake is frozen, while the "Isabel," the university lifeboat, is laid up, Captain Isabel is the engineer in the university pumping station.

"About 200 more canoes will be available for use this year," Captain Isabel said. "If every student carefully regards the rules, the 'Isabel' will have an easy summer."

WHO WILL BE FIRST?

Spring is here! From every quarter comes the joyful cry. Spring is here! Warm breezes blow, a comfortable softness fills the air and makes the library an exceedingly dull place and study a frightful bore. The lake is open, blue and inviting, rippling gently against the shore. Spring is here; and it is warm!

Yes, the air is warm, but not so the lake. Mendota may be open, may invite the canoeist out upon it, tantalizingly. But the lake, unlike the air, is cold. If you don't believe it, take a dip and find out for yourself. But be wary as to how you take that dip.

There are four kinds of swimmers; those who make it a point to be the first to be in the lake, to set a record if possible; those who wait patiently until the water is warm before they so much as stick their toes into it; those who never swim at all, and those who, careless of consequences, are suddenly dumped from a canoe into the icy waters and are forced to sink or swim whether they will or not. And that last kind! What fools these mortals be!

Not a recorded year has passed that some one has not been drowned in the waters of Mendota. The university life-saving station has cut down the number well, but no service can be all-sufficient and no matter how adequate it becomes lives will be lost in that lake every year just so long as people continue to prove that Barnum was right.

It only remains to be seen who will be the first this year. Are you a fool or not?

MAXIMUM PENALTIES

In the fight against speeders, it has been suggested that the maximum penalties be given offenders. Such would be a very desirable and constructive course. The judges before whom offenders have been brought have been altogether too lenient in the past. Too many drivers have come to regard a five or ten dollar fine for speeding as one of the incidental expenses of driving. Knowledge that the performance of their duty in arresting speeders will accomplish absolutely nothing under the present leniency of the courts has led the officers of the law to be negligent, and thus has fostered speeding. The speeding done on University avenue and on Langdon street is criminal. There is neither sense nor need of waiting until someone is killed before taking action. The administration of a few maximum penalties would stop it almost overnight, and is the only sane and constructive course to be taken.

LOW SUMMITS

Those Greek letter organizations at the head of the list in scholastic averages are to be complimented upon their good work. They have demonstrated their beneficial and helpful influence upon their members.

They have shown their worth to themselves and to the university.

As for those organizations which are at the bottom of the list, fortunately numbering only seventeen, little may be said for them. They are to be pitied and scorned for their failure to maintain a bare average of one grade point for each credit. Scholastic standards here are sufficiently low to make failure to live up to them inexcusable, and the possibility of doing so and better has been demonstrated by the 65 other organizations.

Student Activities Conference
O. K.s Athletics and Hits Grind

EDITOR'S NOTE

The following article telling of the Yale conference is taken from The New Student, published every fortnight during the academic year by the National Student Forum in New York. Because of lack of space it is possible to print only half the article. The other half, dealing with fraternities and standards, student government and the "New Student" movements and proposed new activities, will be published tomorrow.

The most thorough-going canvass of extra-curricular activities made this year was probably the one made at the Yale conference on March first and second, when representatives of student governments, student papers, Christian associations and various forums and discussion groups met to find the answers to the critics of the American student, by silencing those who make unjust accusations of present student interests, and by taking action which eventually would silence those who make accusations now just.

It was at the second and third meetings that present interests were gone over more or less in detail.

Under the leadership of E. G. Jenkins of Yale university, the second session discussed "Education or Enervation." Athletics, managements, the college press, and college literary magazines came in for most of the attention.

It was found that all of these are sufficiently organized; there is no need for any more organization. If anything, there is too much work to be done on these enterprises, which results in a poor quality.

Some found the present athletic system satisfactory. No one had a kind word for the grind. The ideal seemed rather to be "the well-rounded man" and athletics further this ideal. No criticism was directed at athletics. There was only the belief on the part of some that the system should be changed to meet the criticism of those who feel that there is an overstrain on a few men.

The average schedule of eight games is too much for a team to go through. The nervous and physical strain is too great. At night the athlete is too tired to study. Friday and Saturday he is too much tensed up to concentrate, and Saturday night and Sunday he suffers from a reaction after the strain," wrote a college player, who was trying to do well in his studies. Endorsement was given to the kind of athletics which would train all students and not take too much time away from their activities. The recommendations of the conference were in line with the Atlanta conference of football administrators (a copy of the paper read there by Prof. C. W. Savage of Oberlin college will be found in The New Student for January 19).

The competitions for managements of glee clubs, dramatic associations and similar undertakings were endorsed because they accustomed those who went into them to "the drudgery of life." It was thought no one would be harmed by carrying baggage and running errands now and then.

Others maintained that the real reason why people undergo drudgery in these activities is that they hope to get advancement and personal recognition.

A member of a boxing team expressed contempt for heelers who did lackey service for him.

"Heeler, get me some better shoes." And off runs the heeler like a little funkey.

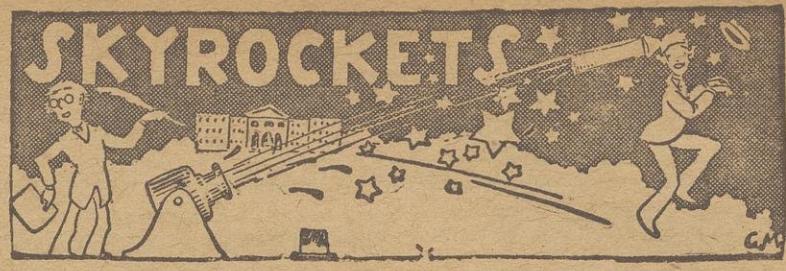

"Heeler, get me some soap." And the heeler dittoes.

He is becoming a lackey when he might be concentrating his mind on studies that would train him for real service, studies which he cannot get later.

Nevertheless representatives of technical colleges maintained that there was distinct value in these competitions and that those who actually made the managements had to exercise real executive ability. As displayed in such a thing as the student management of the trip of the Harvard glee club through Europe entirely under student management this ability was not to be disdained.

All who were present seemed to be satisfied with the literary papers, although individuals during the conference spoke of the fact that some of these depended on gathering from the professors the best themes these had received. They felt that these themes very seldom carried an atmosphere of real creative literature.

Some of the newer literary supplements of college weeklies have real merit (description of some of these will be found in a future issue of The New Student).

HARPER'S OFFERS BIG CASH PRIZES

Will Give $2,500 in Three
Awards For Best Short Stories

Large cash prizes are being offered by the Harper's magazine for the best short story to be submitted to this company before June 30. The first prize is to be $1,250; the second, $750; third prize, $500.

"Students of the University of Wisconsin are as capable of winning these prizes as students of any other school" Dean Roe said yesterday when asked if he thought that it was worth while for students to compete.

"Often times valuable stories are written by inexperienced writers. I feel that students here have not had a chance to show their ability."

"There is ability in Wisconsin and I urge every student who has talent to enter this contest," John Weimer '25, editor of the Literary magazine said.

Manuscripts should be addressed to the Harper's magazine, 49, East 33 street, New York city. For further information concerning the rules of the contest, which is open to every one in the United States and Canada, see the announcement posted on the English department bulletin board, Bascom hall.

One of a very rare species of dog, a branch of the Irish wolf hounds almost extinct, Fifi has attracted great attention whenever he ambled out to sun himself lazily, or loped up the street in a lopsided manner. He weighs 160 pounds.

Parties of Eight Can Get Seats
Together at Football Games

Badger alumni will be allowed to purchase four tickets instead of two for the football games next fall according to an announcement made during spring vacation by Prof. J. F. A. Pyre chairman of the Wisconsin athletic council.

Students will be able to purchase two tickets together this year, one at the student price and the other at the public price, an opportunity that was not allowed last fall.

Prices for all the big games will be the same as in the past, 50 cents for student tickets and $2.50 for the public. The public will be allowed two tickets to the person as before but arrangements have been made so that a party of four or eight, for instance, can pay for the tickets with one check though separate applications must be made for each ticket.

Applications will not be received prior to September 1. "Some that have come in already had to be returned," Professor Pyre said. "It is impossible to keep a force working all summer."

College men made good money selling Fuller Brushes last summer

Your summer vacation is all too short to waste any part of it in exploiting new or little known articles. Your business is to make sales and the profits on those sales. Your time should not be wasted in doing the work that should be done by the company at ITS expense.

College men chose Fuller Brushes because of the fact that they are almost a household word in the majority of homes. The extensive advertising of Fuller Brushes (color pages in the magazines of largest circulation) paved the way for these several hundred college men—made them welcomed as Fuller Men. Had they sold unheralded products—had they been compelled to spend more than half their time telling what company they represented, and more time in trying to explain what the product was they were trying to sell, these college men would not have made half the money they made during their summer vacation period.

There are some fine territories in which we can place a limited number of college men who desire to work during their summer vacation. If you are one of these men desiring profitable employment, talk with

LECTURE SYSTEM OFFERS PROBLEMS

—SHARP

Proportion of Real Workers to Drones Increasing, Declares
Psychology Prof

"The demoralizing effect of the present system of education on the able students in American universities is today one of the greatest problems facing educational leaders," said Prof. F. C. Sharp of the department of philosophy, during an interview recently.

Since the war, the proportion of real workers to drones in the universities has greatly decreased. Not that the number of able minds is less, but the number of sluggish ones is so much greater, as colleges, in recent years, have become a matter of fashion—going to college "is being done" now, in Professor Sharp's opinion.

"A professor must spend an hour elaborating his lecture so that the majority of the class will comprehend it, while a few active minds grasp it easily in three minutes. The rest of the hour is wasted for these top few, who are agonized by the prolonged monotony. Without sufficient stimulation, intelligent persons naturally fall into bad habits of laziness, and mental inactivity, and are pulled down to the drone level, instead of developing those should."

"It is no fault of theirs," said Professor Sharp. "It is the system, and something must be done to correct it. Some plan must be worked out by which those of higher mental capacity may employ their time to their best advantage, attending classes and receiving aid from their instructors as they see fit, and not be restricted to boredom by being compelled to sit through hours of lecturing which yield nothing to them," Professor Sharp said.

Are You a Winner—
or a Loser?

YOU have undoubtedly chosen to be a winner.
You are training your mind and strengthening your will.

But what of your body?
Will it sustain you when the race becomes fast and strenuous?

To keep in a winning condition, you must exercise every muscle and organ in the body. The fuel-supplying organs—the stomach and the digestive organs—need exercise in the form of digesting rough foods such as: whole-wheat bread, bran, and hard cereals.

Grape-Nuts not only exercises these fuel-supplying organs, but its nutritive elements of whole-wheat and malted barley, toasted to a nutty crispness, make it the most delicious breakfast food you have ever tasted.

For a well-balanced diet, try Grape-Nuts—four teaspoonfuls sprinkled with sugar, half cream and half milk. You will call for it every morning. There's a reason.

PREDICTS INCREASE IN ALFALFA YIELD

Prof. Moore Expects Wisconsin Farmers to Double Crop of 1923

That Wisconsin's ability to produce good alfalfa seed is one of the main reasons why more than twice as much alfalfa will be raised by Wisconsin farmers this year than last, was the statement made by Ransom A. Moore, professor of agronomy of the College of Agriculture.

"Wisconsin farms used to depend upon the west for their seed. They felt that they had to have the hardy Western grown seed in order to insure a successful alfalfa crop under Wisconsin conditions," said Professor Moore. "But in 1920 our every energy was spent upon the successful production of alfalfa seed in Wisconsin."

"We secured 2,500 bushels of fine homegrown seed in 1921. We increased the amount to 3,000 bushels in 1922 and to 4,000 bushels last year. We have found that we can grow eight bushels of Grimm alfalfa seed per acre—a very creditable yield."

More than 150,000 acres of alfalfa were planted in Wisconsin in 1923. Indications are that we will easily pass the 300,000 acre mark during 1924 Professor Moore said.

"Soybeans is another crop that will be more than doubled in acreage this year, according to reports from counties all over the state."

Last year there were 4,000 acres of soybeans for silage use.

"The experiment station at Wisconsin grew the first soybeans ever raised in Wisconsin," said Professor Moore. "This crop was scarcely known in our state before 1898. For several years we hesitated about giving out information with regard to the plant, but since the trials have shown the general success and fine feeding value of the soybean, its acreage has increased steadily."

BADGER FOOTBALL STAR IS HOST TO WALES

Gerald Kiley, Badger football star in years gone by, was the honored host to the Prince of Wales, in Paris, several nights ago. The prince, while invading Paris high spots with two Americans, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bate, of Chicago, visited Kiley's place and danced. While there, he inadvertently "shimmied" his knee and everyone of the elite who followed him as he danced, followed suit. Thus, in Gerald Kiley's dance rendezvous, the new step "Prince de Wales Trot" became popular.
