THE NEW FOOTBALL RULES.

The following are the rules which contain the more important changes in the rules which will govern football this fall:

Rule 8—"A fair catch is a catch made direct from a kick by one of the opponents (or a punt out by one of the same side) provided the man intending to make the catch indicates that intention by holding up his hand when running for the ball, and also makes a mark with his heel when catching it and no other of his side touches the ball. If he be interfered with by an opponent who is off-side, or if he be thrown after catching a ball, he shall be given fifteen yards, unless this carries the ball across the goal line. In that case he shall be given but half the intervening distance. After having raised his hand, he cannot run with the ball, but must take his fair catch if he succeeds in making one.

Rule 14—"There shall be an umpire, a referee, and a linesman.

Rule 15—(a) "The umpire is the judge of the conduct of the players, and his decision is final regarding fouls and unfair tactics. The umpire may appeal to both the linesman and the referee for testimony regarding cases of unnecessary roughness, off-side play, or holding; but they shall not volunteer their opinion, nor can they be appealed to upon these points by the captains or players.

(b) "The referee is judge of the position and progress of the ball, and his decision is final in all points not covered by the umpire.

(c) "Both umpire and referee shall use whistles to indicate cessation of plays on fouls and downs. The linesman shall use a stop-watch in timing the game.

(e) "The linesman shall, under the advice of the referee, mark the distance gained or lost in the progress of the play, and upon request of the umpire shall give testimony upon any unnecessary roughness, off-side play, or holding; but he may not be appealed to by any player or captain. He shall also, under direction of the referee, keep the time.

(f) "Only one official representative from each side shall come upon the field of play in case of an accident to a player.

Rule 16—"The playing time is two thirty-five-minute halves.

Rule 18—"The captains shall toss up before the commencement of the match and the winner of the toss shall have the choice of goal or kick-off. The same side shall not kick off in two successive halves. In all cases where the rule provides for a kick the ball must be actually kicked the distance of at least 10 yards into the opponents' territory unless stopped by the opponents.

Rule 24, Section C—"If a player, when off-side, touch the ball inside the opponents' ten-yard line, the ball shall go as a touch-back to the opponents.

Rule 25—"No player shall lay his hands upon, or by the use of his hands or arms, interfere with an opponent unless he, himself, or that opponent has the ball. That is, the players of the side which has possession of the ball can obstruct the opponents with the body only. But the players of the side which has not the ball can use the hands and arms as heretofore, that is to push their opponents out of the way in breaking through when the ball is snapped.

Rule 26—(a) "A foul shall be granted for intentional delay of the game, off-side play, or holding an opponent, unless he has the ball. No delay arising from any cause whatsoever, shall continue more than three minutes.

(b) "The penalty for fouls or violation of rules, except where otherwise provided, shall be, when the offending side has the ball, immediate surrender of it to the opponents for a down, or when the offending side has not the ball, the advance of the ball 10 yards. In this, as in other penalties of a similar nature, if the distance given will carry the ball across the goal line, only half the intervening distance shall be given.

(c) "The offended side may refuse to accept the penalty when it is to its disadvantage, but in case of a run resulting, should it be over 15 yards, that distance shall be the limit allowed."

As soon as a runner attempting to go through, is tackled and goes down, the referee shall blow his whistle and the ball shall be considered down at the spot. Any piling up on a man after that shall be punished by giving him fifteen yards, unless this carry the ball across the goal line, when he shall have only one-half the intervening distance. The snapper back and the man opposite cannot pick out the ball with the hand until it touch a third man, nor can the opponents interfere with the snapper back by touching the ball until it is actually put in play. Infraction of this nature shall give the side having the ball five yards at every such offense.

(c) "No momentum-mass play shall be allowed. A momentum-mass play is one in which more than three start before the ball is in play. Nor shall more than three men group for that purpose more than five yards back from the point where the ball is put in play.

Rule 35—"A side which has made a touch-back or a safety must kick-out, except as otherwise provided, from not more than twenty-five yards outside the kickers' goal. If the ball go into touch before striking a player, it must be kicked-out again; and if this occur twice in succession, it shall be given to the opponents as in touch on the twenty-five yard line on the side where it went out. At kick-out the opponents must be on the twenty-five yard line, or nearer their own goal, and the kickers' side must be behind the ball when kicked or be adjudged off-side. Should a second touch-back result before four downs have been played, the side defending the goal may have the choice of a down on the twenty-five yard line or a kick-out.

Exception—"Whenever a side has tried a drop kick at the goal upon the first down inside of the twenty-five yard line, and the result has been a touch-back, the line of kick-out shall be the ten yard instead of the twenty-five yard line in determining the position of the opponents, and the kickers' side must be behind the ball when it is kicked."

GONE TO CORNELL.

Prof. Van Cleef Left for Ithaca Yesterday.

Cornell college has made an addition to its faculty in the person of Prof. Frank L. Van Cleef, who for the past three years was assistant professor of Greek in the University of Wisconsin. Prof. Van Cleef will continue to teach the same branch in his new position. He was educated at Oberlin and Harvard in this country and at European schools and is a perfect master of the language which he teaches. The professor left Madison for Ithaca yesterday, and will be followed in a short time by Mrs. Van Cleef. They have many friends in Madison who will part from them with regret.

GOES TO WASHINGTON.

O'Keefe Will Enter the Columbian Law School.

David F. O'Keefe, who graduated with the class of '94, is in the city for a few days, shaking hands with the boys before setting out for Washington, D. C., where he will enter the Columbian law school. Mr. O'Keefe had intended to pursue the study of law here, but has decided that he will investigate a new section of country, and become acquainted with the ways of national statesmen. We wish him success.

FENCING CLUB.

It Will Reorganize Soon—Heim Still Instructor.

The U. W. fencing club will probably be reorganized during the coming week. Mr. Wild of the class of '97, one of Milwaukee's best fencers, will be a great help to the club this year. Mr. F. E. C. Heim will hold his old position as instructor. All students interested in this noble sport should attend the first meeting without fail.

Last spring when the song contest was decided as not decisive it was announced that the first prize would not be given but would be left open to competition until this fall. If we are not mistaken the date fixed for the closing of this second contest was Oct.
1. Therefore any students new or old desiring to compete should remember that this date is not far off and act accordingly.

Yesterday the "Aegis" announced that it offered a prize for a short story contest. It is by some such contests as this that the literary ability of our students is to be brought to light. In a university of our size there should be a great deal of such ability and there is no doubt but that this is so, but it has never been truly brought out. Our embryo poets and authors are entirely too modest.

The literary publications of most colleges are full of short stories, sketches and verse and Wisconsin has always been sadly behind in this matter. Last year, however, there was an increase in this sort of work to a marked degree and it is to be hoped that this year will show a proportionate increase along the same lines.

PROF. CHAMBERLAIN RETURNS.

He Was with the Peary Expedition and Studied Glaciers.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Prof. Chamberlain, of the University of Chicago, and a member of the Peary relief party which left for the arctic regions last June has reached Chicago. When seen at his home on Monroe avenue the professor positively refused to give out anything definite concerning his trip for publication. Before the party embarked all were pledged not to make any statements for the public until five days after the Falcon should reach Philadelphia on her return. This was done in order that official reports might be prepared and placed before the public in their true light.

The professor, however, volunteered to state that the expedition had on the whole been successful and he had profited greatly from the trip. His personal desire in visiting Greenland was to make a special study of the glaciers of that region, which is a particularly advantageous place for this work, since it is one vast area of moving ice.
He considered himself particularly fortunate in casting his lot with the Peary party in stead of the less successful expeditions which have been sent out on the same errand.

dreth & Cochran are now manufacturing the Cochran parallel rule. It will be remembered that Cochran had one of these rules at his desk last year in the draughting room. It is a simple and ingenious device that promises to become a boon to engineers. Cochran is carrying on his work on the hill with his class. The firm of which he is a member gives special attention also to light experimental and model work as well as gun repairing.

—Wrenn, the tennis champion, will not play for Harvard in the inter-

is trying for the football team.

THE QUESTION OF CREMATION.

Miss Kate Kane, a member of the Chicago bar, has sent to the trust companies of Chicago inquiries as to what action would be taken by each company if it were the executor under a will by which the testator directed that his body should be incinerated. She desired to know whether the company acting as an executor would enforce such a provision regardless of the protest of relatives and friends against cremation. She is evidently herself not friendly to the usual form of burial. The answers received to the inquiry were usually evasive but the Title guarantee and trust company answered that the company would, without question, regard the protestations of relatives or friends in regard to the disposition that should be made of the body of the testator. The Chicago Legal News, which prints some of the correspondence, argues that it is the duty of an executor to carry out the legally expressed provisions of the will, or to resign his trust. A testator is commonly supposed to have the right to dispose of his body in any legal and decent way, and the Chicago Legal News believes that the executor would have no right to disregard the provisions of the will, which he is sworn to execute, simply because some relative objects.

CRADLE OF ENGLAND'S HEIR.

All the environment of the new royal baby in England is ancestral and in close touch with his distinguished lineage. Even the swinging cradle in which the wee boy takes his long baby sleeps has held the infant forms of many of his royal granduncles and aunts. It is the one the queen had in the royal nursery for her own children and it is deemed proper and suitable that his important successor in the line should have a resting place dignified with heredity.

The cradle swings from a graceful frame of rich old mahogany inlaid with gold. Draperies of handsome brocade of a delicate pearl tint are attached and used to shut off intrusive draughts. The sheets for this downy nest are of fine Irish lawn, lace trimmed; the blankets are softest embroidered Pyrenean wool, and the coverlid matches the pearl brocade. The crown and three feathers which surmount the framework are further typical of the royal state of the small occupant, whose baby eyes look out on many suggestive emblems.

The layette of the little prince is peculiarly delicate and dainty. Irish linen and Spitalfields silk were used wherever it was possible, and some of the lace comes from Northampton. The work is exquisitely fine, the robes given by the queen being peculiarly lovely. One robe is of Irish lawn hand-embroidered, and as fine in texture as the famous 'woven wind' of India, and the other a rich cloak and hood of pure white zibeline, a beautiful silken material. The tiny hood is adorned with the prince of Wales' feathers in pure white ostrich tips.—Washington News.

Very Deceiving: Brooks—Don't you consider Brown an honest man? Russell—Yes, I do. All the same he deceived me once in a matter that cost me fifty dollars. Brooks—Intentionally and deliberately. He stood "pat" on a pair of fours.—Harlem Life.

Business men read it for relaxation.

College men make it a hand-book, for it comes in closer touch with them than any other publication.

College graduates find it a pleasant reminder of college days, and following its precepts keep good health in attendance.

The sporting enthusiast files it away as a record of the doings in his particular line of sport.

Mothers and daughters pronounce it the best because of its pure and healthful influence. They are especially interested in the department of Fiction which gives "Outing" first place about the family-hearth and in the reading-room.
