ALL SET FOR MILITARY HOP FRIDAY NIGHT

Colored Films of Dances and Capitol Will Be Taken

PLAN DEMOCRATIC BALL

With the first note from "Husk" O'Hare's 12-piece orchestra from Chicago, the university's greatest and most democratic Military ball will become a reality at 9 o'clock tomorrow night. The reception is to take place in the executive chambers of the state capitol at 8:45 p.m.

Using 350,000 candle power artificial lighting, the most powerful ever connected up in Madison for such a purpose, M. E. Diemer, director of the university photographic laboratories, will take motion pictures of the reception, grand march, and several of the dances.

To Show Colored Films

The films are to be of colored stock in order to bring out the architectural beauty of the inside of the capitol and to receive the benefit of the unique lighting effects that have been planned for the ball.

Dr. Diemer has arranged to take close-ups of Gov. John J. Blaine, Pres. E. A. Birge, and notable army officers attending the social function and by means of a special lens will take pictures of the outside of the state capitol as it appears after dark.

Strand to Present Pictures

All of the work from taking the pictures, to finishing the films and writing the subtitles, is to be done by Dr. Diemer's staff. The pictures will be shown at the Strand theater during the first part of next week.

Music for the Military ball will be of the highest class, according to students who have heard "Husk" O'Hare's orchestra at Chicago. This orchestra furnished the music for President Harding's inaugural ball, as well as for the Chicago and Northwestern university proms. It has regular engagements with several of the best known clubs in Chicago.

HARESFOOT WILL USE 3 NEW SETS

Three special sets and several close in drops for "Kitty Corner," the 1922 Haresfoot production, are being constructed in Chicago by the Universal Scenic Artists studios, recognized leaders in scenic equipment.

The enlarged scope of this year's show requires several special drops to be inserted in various places where the production will assume the revue type. In the first act there is a moon drop and a moon box which are to accompany the song, "Golden Moon," sung by Jack Cornelius '23 and the men's chorus.

When Porter Butts '24 and Jack Cornelius sing "Raindears," they will do so in a setting of snow and rain effects made by tinsels on a purple sateen drop. Another close in drop will be made of burnt orange sateen.

"Kitty Corner" will come to Madison after its 10 day tour on April 21 and 22 with a matinee Saturday afternoon. Many orders for tickets are now being mailed to the Haresfoot office.

FOUR ANNOUNCE CANDIDACY FOR APRIL ELECTION

Conine, Mead, Risteen, and Parker Run For Campus Offices

Yesterday's developments in the political campaign which terminates in the spring election on April 28, showed a number of new candidates entering the field for positions.

William H. Conine '23, and Edwin Mead '23, announced their candidacies for Union Board positions. Horace W. Risteen, '24, is a candidate for one of the two sophomore non "W" positions on the Athletic board, and George M. Parker, '22, is seeking the Senior seat in the Senate.

Two Run For Union

Conine, who has been recommended by the Union board to fill one of the junior positions on the board, has assisted at dances given by the board this year. He was on the production staff of Union Vodvil, in 1918, and was assistant business manager of the Edwin Booth-Twelfth Night-Red Domino' production in the following spring. Conine was on the advertising staff of Who's Who at Wisconsin, which was published two years ago. He is a member of Chi Phi fraternity.

Mead is junior track manager, an officer in the cadet corps, and a member of the International relations conference. He was track manager of his class during his freshman and sophomore years also. He is a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

Parker And Risteen Out

Horace Risteen, candidate for Athletic board, won his numeral sweater for playing sophomore football last fall and was also a member of the all-American squad. He was on the second freshman crew during his first year and was first sergeant in the President's guard last year. He is a member of the Inner Gate and Ku Klux Klan.

George Parker, Senate candidate, was a member of the Prom decoration committee, and was on the Badger Board of Control last year. He is on the Varsity tennis squad, this year, and has been a tennis club member for three years. He is at present one of the quartette for Haresfoot. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Williams Lectures On German Labor

"Labor Conditions In France And Germany" is the subject of an address that will be given by Whiting Williams, 4:30 this afternoon, in 165 Bascom hall. The address was originally scheduled for last Monday but postponement until today was necessary.

Mr. Williams has spent a great deal of time studying the labor conditions not only in Europe but also in this country. He worked as a laborer during the summer of 1921 in the coal mines and metal industries of the Ruhr valley in Germany. Previous to that he had worked in the industries of various parts of the United States and England.

BIRGE IS RECOVERING FROM EFFECTS OF FALL

Pres. E. A. Birge, who has been confined to his bed because of a fall on the icy pavement last week, is up, although unable to be at work. He will be at his office in Bascom hall in a few days.

SENATE CENSURES SCIENCE CLUB BUT CHARTER NOT WITHDRAWN; FOR VOLUNTARY CAP WEARING

Fewer Malted and Baggy Trousers Are Now In Vogue

That students are economizing to the limit is evidenced by the fact that business of Latin Quarter merchants, who cater largely to the student trade, has fallen off from 10 to 40 per cent in the last year or two.

"Dad" Morgan blames this circumstance, not to the fact that the students are unwilling to trade as much now as they have in previous years, but to the fact that their allowances have probably been sliced severely and that what money they do have does not go as far as it used to.

"My entire business," Mr. Morgan said yesterday, "from cigarettes and malteds, to pool and billiards, has fallen off at least 25 per cent since last year. The students haven't the money to meet the outrageous pre-war prices."

"Not only rent, but cigarettes, ice cream, milk and malted milk itself have almost doubled in price since two years ago. As a consequence I have had to raise my malteds from 10 to 20 cents, and the students now buy about half as much as they used to several years ago when business was booming."

At the Pantorium, next door, Mr. Rideout, the proprietor, had the same story.

"The students are not having the pressing and cleaning done that they had done last year and business has dropped about 25 per cent as a result," said Mr. Rideout.

To Aid Next Year's Freshman Women

Next year's freshmen are already receiving attention, in the junior advisory system which is being perfected and put into operation under the direction of Jeanette Kennan. The five juniors assisting her are: Marion Metcalf, Nina Ferris, Lois Jacobs, Julia Jackson, and Lela Staab.

Volunteers among the present sophomore women who want freshmen advisees next year are signing up in Lathrop on the central bulletin board now. After all those volunteering have signed up, other women will be appointed from among all the classes to act as advisors.

Personal contact among the advisors, making clear the duties of the advisors for their advisees, will be brought about by big meetings this spring. During the summer cards will be sent to all advisors giving them the names of their advisees, while the freshmen will also receive cards telling them the names of their junior advisees. This system will act as a check.

NEW S. G. A. OFFICERS INFORMED OF DUTIES

The new S. G. A. officers held their first meeting since installation yesterday.

Ellen Correll '24, former president, spoke to the different officers of their duties for the coming year and discussed some general policies to be carried out.

Position of Individual Senators To Be Given Next Sunday

CLOSE VOTE RESULTS

The Student Senate went on record as not favoring the withdrawal of recognition of the Social Science club as petitioned by the local post of the American Legion, but censoring the indiscretion of the organization in bringing Kate Richards O'Hare to address university students, and warned it against further moves of similar nature, at a meeting held last evening in 1 Law building.

Make Green Caps Voluntary

Feeling that it was the belief of the Traditions commission and the spirit of the student body at last fall's election that the wearing of the green cap be a tradition to be accepted by the freshman class and not one to be enforced by hazing, the Senate adopted its executive committee's report, providing for the following procedure:

1. That all freshmen wear the green cap starting April 19, the day after spring vacation, and continuing until "Cap Night."

2. That the wearing of the cap should be voluntary.

3. That a meeting of the freshman class be held at 4:30 Monday afternoon, at which time members of the Senate would address the freshmen, asking their co-operation in supporting the Wisconsin tradition of the green cap as a symbol of class loyalty.

Vote Is Close

Both of these questions precipitated heated discussion in the Senate, and were decided by a six to five vote, Pres. Robert Stewart '23

PROF TELLS OF ITALIAN CRISIS

That the present European financial crisis is particularly acute in Italy because of that country's lack of coal and metals during the war, was the statement of Miss L. P. Castelvecchio, professor of Italian language and literature at the University of Birmingham, England, in an address at Music hall yesterday.

During the war Italy had to import her coal as well as the metals used in making war materials, because Italy has practically no coal. She paid for the material from her treasury, because she had no exportable goods. This, according to Miss Castelvecchio, is the cause of the present low exchange rate.

Since the war that low exchange rate has prevented the importation of raw materials and caused factories to close down and industrial concerns to go into bankruptcy.

casting the deciding vote in each case. Senators will state their positions in full in Sunday's Cardinal.

The vote on the motions was as follows:

That green caps be worn voluntarily by the freshmen class after April 19:

Ayes—Senators Morse, Axley, Frautschi, Stolley, Sale, and Stewart.

Noes—Senators Aspinwall, Kinman, Brown, Peterman, and Powell.

The lineup was the same on the motion concerning the abolition of the Social Science club, with the first named senators opposing the withdrawal of its charter, and the last named group favoring it.

Science Club Censured

Those senators who did not favor the withdrawal of recognition from the Social Science club did not approve of many of the irregularities of the club's present program and felt the need of certain restrictive measures. The motion to discontinue recognition of the body, made by Senator H. B. Powell, was backed on the grounds that the state and the student body felt that the Senate should express definitely its disapproval of such proceedings as surrounded the speech of Kate Richards O'Hare at the state capitol on March 30.

The petition of the legion, submitted to the Senate for action, based its appeal for withdrawal of charter on the grounds that the club was "a source of irritation to the majority of the student body."

The senators voting against the petition of the legion felt that the matter was based on a broader principle than appeared on the surface and that the question should be decided by action of the Board of Regents which is expected on April 26. At that time, the Regents will consider the adoption of the Student Forum board program, placing the sanction of speakers in the hands of the students themselves.

This is the program outlined by a special committee of the Senate and presented to the Regents, and it was in anticipation of the board's action that the senators voting unfavorably took their stand against the motion for abolition of the club.

Take Spirit of Law

In placing the wearing of the green cap on a voluntary basis, the favoring senators based their conclusions on the fact that the freshmen class would accept this tradition as a part of what Wisconsin stood for, and would consider it as a mark of class spirit and university loyalty.

The senators objecting to this stand believed that the wearing of the cap would not be enforced without the action of the upperclassmen, and felt that the student body had so voted at last fall's referendum. Senators favoring the motion felt that the spirit of the student body favored a voluntary wearing of the cap if this could be obtained and were willing to leave the matter with the freshmen for trial.

motion as passed with Senator Maynard Brown making a minority report of the same committee, favoring the compulsory wearing of the cap.

The legislative committee, Ralph F. Axley, chairman, made an extended report giving the Student Court jurisdiction over hazing violations, disorderly conduct, rioting, etc., and providing penalties of disciplinary probation to be awarded by the court. The Senate went on record as favoring the use of extra credits for graduation as an additional penalty to be used by the court in extreme cases. The report of this committee will be made public when approved by Pres. E. A. Birge, within the next few days.

Reporting for the election committee, Senator Brown called attention to the fact that there were two senior positions and one sophomore position on the Student Senate open because of ineligibility and to be filled at the spring election. Senator Brown, as chairman of the Varsity Jamboree, was given a vote of thanks and appreciation by the senate in this regard.

Everything is Ready For Military Ball

Federal and state officers, local police, and ushers chosen from among the members of the cadet corps have worked out an elaborate scheme of enforcing the prohibition law during the ball. No drinks of any kind will be permitted within the building.

Every effort has been extended by the committee members to keep the Military ball as democratic as possible. Flowers are prohibited. Military uniforms are considered the proper dress for the occasion, although those not ex-service men nor members of the cadet corps will probably wear full dress.

Tickets will be kept on sale until Friday noon. A few boxes have not yet been reserved, while those not connected with any organization have an opportunity to occupy the American Legion box.

WITH plans more elaborate than ever, the tenth annual Military Ball will be held

GET THAT DATE

Friday. The rise in importance of this function is one of the remarkable developments in the social life of the university.

Originally, the affair was one of interest only to the cadet corps. No one else cared anything much about it. Since the war there has been a marked rise in prestige. The large number of service men who came to the university was largely responsible for this. The organization of Gun and Blade and Scabbard and Blade added great impetus to this development.

This year the ball has been planned to appeal to the entire corps, and all the organized and unorganized service men. Every man connected with any of these organizations should attend the ball.

The attractiveness of the plans has naturally interested scores of men who have no connection whatever with any military organization. There is a distinct flavor to a military ball that cannot be duplicated by any other social function. Then, the economy and democracy of the affair are features which recommend the ball to all students.

The ball this year should be the best of its kind that Wisconsin has seen. All the plans have been made with this end in view. The time is not too short to arrange that date and participate in a function that is a distinct pride to the university.

THE FACULTY SHOULD APPROVE

AT the suggestion of the local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the scholastic honor societies of the universities have proposed a student adviser system for freshmen. The plan will be applicable only to the College of Letters and Science. It is proposed to have 50 seniors and 25 juniors of recognized standing act as advisers to the freshmen, each upperclassman having under his care from five to ten first year men. The women already have a system of this kind. The Commerce school also has a similar plan.

There can be no doubt that the approval of this plan will help to solve the problem presented by the freshman class. The large number of failures and examples of disappointment and discouragement are enough to justify such an attempt at remedial measures. The system will be in no sense tutorial, nor will it duplicate the work of the faculty advisers. It will establish a wholesome contact between freshmen and upperclassmen. It will help the freshmen to get started right and be warned in time of the pitfalls that they inevitably encounter.

The plan is now before the faculty for approval. It is hoped that it will be received favorably and that the machinery may be put into operation for next fall.

THE "REAL" COLLEGE MAN

Sometimes one of a group in speaking of a fellow-student will sum up his opinion in "he is my idea of a real college man." And all the rest, having a vague idea of what a college man should be, believe they understand the characterization. As a matter of fact, the statement only raises a problem. Just what is a "real" college man? Is he, as some think him, a modern version of the barbarian whose chief delight is in inventing and executing new and thrilling forms of deviltry? Or is he a stoop-shouldered, lean-faced, bespectacled student buried alive in the dust of his book-shelves? Is the "real" college woman a flapper, interested in nothing except automobile rides and Germans and midnight chafing-dish suppers? Or is she an elderly spinster who grimly hunts down higher learning and advocates the latest development of feminism?

From the standpoint of strict reality, the student is some of these. A "real" college man is like nearly all other people, whether they are in college or not. He is perversely given to rating low those things we rate well but cannot lead, he sees nothing beyond the immediate good, he rebels at the mention of any sustained attempt to think, and he lacks even the rudiments of individuality. His "real" sister is very much like him.

In an ideal sense, however, and it is in that sense that the phrase "real" college man is most often used, there is one important difference between him and the type of college student most of us are. That is his possession of individuality, the one best thing he can get (though he only too seldom does so) from college. A man may have had cultivated in him only a slight love for recorded moral and religious precepts, only a nominal regard for literature, and positive contempt for the governmental and social order that now exists; but if he has achieved and can sustain an intelligent, independent, individual point of view, he has achieved the one thing that should mark a man with college training or its equivalent. Then he is a "real" college man.—Daily Texan.

Varsity Movie Shows Tomorrow at Grand

The Varsity movie, "Not Responsible," which has been booked for a re-showing at the Grand theater tomorrow night, has been secured for one day only. This will be the last Madison exhibition of the picture.

Numerous bookings in western towns make it impossible to keep the film here for more than one showing. The picture has had a wide showing throughout the country and has made an enviable record for the Edwin Booth club, the producers, and the university. The film was acted, directed, and produced entirely by students and has been seen by thousands of college people, all of whom have praised it highly.

BERTHS GIVEN TEN ILLINOIS MEN BY COACH

Northwestern Mentor Favors Chicago Tank Men

Swimming Coach Tom Robinson of Northwestern honored 10 Illini natators by placing them on his all-conference swimming and water-basketball teams for this season.

The Purple coach split the number, placing five on his first team and five on the second. Condon, Taylor, Bowen and Wheeler appear in the first. As a fancy diver Condon entered the conference swimming meet a favorite for first place but was forced to take the third berth. The Illini fancy diver is a sophomore and will be back next year with the squad.

Taylor Consistent

Taylor was a consistent first place man in all of the dual meets he entered this year but in the final conference swim took second to Atwood of Minnesota. Coach Robinson considers Taylor one of the best plunger in the conference and is a little disappointed that the heavyweight did not come through with a new record this season. He will also be back next year.

Bowen and Wheeler both took second places in their races. Bowen swam the back stroke while Wheeler was given second place in the 440 yard swim after his wonderful showing against Lampher of Minnesota. The Purple coach chose Wilson and Fox for his first water-basketball team.

On Coach Robinson's second swimming team appear Captain Postle, and Gale in the 40 yard swim, Beebe in the breast stroke, and Wheeler and Postle in the 220 yard swim.

Agrics Defeated By Commerce Quintet

The Commerce basketball team defeated a team of the College of Agriculture last night by a score of 23 to 8.

The inter-college basketball championship will be played off tonight in the gymnasium when the Commerce and L. and S. teams meet. Although Letters and Science has been leading in the tournament thus far, it is expected that tonight's game will be close. The L. and S. aggregation is composed mostly of men from the freshman basketball squad.

To Hold Third Egg Show April 20-22

Wisconsin's third annual egg show will be held in the Poultry building, April 20, 21, and 22, according to an announcement just issued by Bill Fredericks '23, secretary of the show.

"It is the custom for the Badger Poultry club to hold an annual egg show," according to Fredericks, "where other agricultural colleges, private concerns, and poultry raisers may compete in contests for the best display of eggs."

More than 100 dozen of eggs were shown last year. Competition in the different egg exhibits is increased by the entries of the different experiment stations through the co-operation of the poultry extension department.

Eggs produced by university chickens are displayed by agricultural students. Cups and prizes are awarded by poultry feed manufacturers.

IOWA NINE TAKES WIN FROM SECOND TEAM

The Iowa first baseball team took the second nine into camp by a 2 to 1 score in the first game of the season at Iowa City, Ia., yesterday afternoon. Twenty-five men participated in the five-inning contest.

Football Squad to Open Spring Season Grid Training Today

Spring football practice will begin at Camp Randall this afternoon. There are over 75 men enrolled at present, and Coach Berg wants all the men who have played any football to report for practice at Camp Randall.

Prof. Warner Taylor, who is in charge of eligibility of members of various athletic squads, addressed a meeting of football candidates at the gym last night. He explained the eligibility rules of the university and the conference, and urged the players to keep eligible, and not to neglect their studies because of participation in athletics.

Coach Berg will be in charge of spring practice this year, and will be assisted by "Jimmie" Brader. Coach Berg requests that anyone who knows of any men who would be good football material, report them to him, and he will look them up personally.

Large Frosh Squad Starts Ball Season

Sixty-five candidates for the frosh baseball squad reported last night at the first meeting. Practice will start the Wednesday after vacation.

Frosh battery men have been practicing with the Varsity men since last January. Coach A. Meinert, who has charge of the frosh squad, said that there is better material for catchers this year than there has been for several years past.

In addition to the 65 men who were at the meeting last night, Coach Meinert expects about 25 more men to report. The squad will be cut to about 35 after a couple of weeks. Practice will be held from 2:30 to 5 every afternoon, starting after the spring vacation. Any men who were not at the meeting, and who want to try out for the squad, may see Coach Meinert at the gym.

During his lecture Mr. Marschall discussed not only the cultivation and care of this tree but also living conditions among the natives.

LETTERS AND SCIENCE COP SWIM MEET

Elder Stars in Inter- College Tank Meet

The Letters and Science school, with the aid of "Josh" Elder '22, defeated the engineers for first place in the inter-college swimming meet yesterday afternoon, at the gym tank. The final score of the two day meet was as follows: L. and S. 29 1-2; Engineers 26.

The L. and S. team went into the second day's swim with a two and a half point lead over their rivals and the fight for supreme honors was close all the way yesterday. Without the aid of Elder, the winners would have trailed the engineers and finished a poor second. As it was Elder proved to be the iron man of the day and totaled 11 points out of the 15 made by L. and S. yesterday. He won the 220 yard swim, took a second in the plunge and a like place in the 100-yard swim.

Elder Stars

In the 220 yard swim Elder took the lead from Ewald in the first lap and finished with a beautiful sprint in the time of 2:43 4-5. Ellicott finished a close third.

Saltzstein of the engineers took the plunge from Elder, going over the distance of 58 feet in faster time than did the L. and S. star. Gehrand, also of the engineers, took third place.

Winners Receive Insignia

Ellicott of the College of Agriculture came to the front in the backstroke and won hands down from a large field. Lyons placed third.

Ewald, engineer, won the 100 in 1:02 3-5 from Elder and Hippie who finished in the order named.

Members of the winning Letters and Science team will receive their college insignias for taking first place in the meet. About 10 men will receive the letters.

Smith Addresses Engineer Meeting

"Two thousand years ago, the water that we people of Madison are now drinking, fell on the region around Green Bay," said L. A. Smith, '12, in a talk before the student branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers, at the Engineering building, last night.

"Since that distant time, it has been seeping down toward Madison through a strata of sandstone, which lies at a depth of 750 feet in the vicinity of Madison," he continued.

The capacity of the Madison plant is now twenty million gallons per day, but will soon be inadequate if the population continues to increase.

Speaking of Vacation

When the train pulls in at the old home town and you grab your bag full of soiled laundry and you hot foot it at the rate of something around ten flat for the old homestead, "ain't it a grand and glorious feeling?"

Mother and dad, who have waited lunch twenty minutes because your train was late, greet you with open arms; shortly you put your feet under the family table in the place you occupied since childhood.

"It's great to be alive! you say; and so it is, for what could be sweater than having plenty to eat, to wear, to spend, and a good place to sleep, while mother and dad pay the bill."

You say it's good to be alive? Suppose—just suppose the old black wagon met you at the station to take you on your last journey.

Still—mother and dad pay the bill.

Better have a policy of Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance with the university agency (talk it over with mother and dad).
