CREWS TO RACE ON VENETIAN DAY

St. John's Eight and Junior Varsity to Meet in Exhibition

An exhibition by the varsity crew and a race between the St. John's Military academy and the junior varsity crews have been arranged for Venetian day. Events will be scheduled during the entire day except in the afternoon when the thirty-first annual interscholastic track meet will be held at Camp Randall.

Further details of the various events and the times at which they will take place will be completed within the next few days, according to Max Simkins '26, chairman of Venetian day events.

In the evening program are included the review and judging of the piers which will be especially decorated for the night, a parade of the floats, and fancy diving, including the fire dive which was introduced last year and proved extremely popular with the spectators. There will be a display of fireworks, and night surf riding with search lights playing on the riders so that they will be visible to the spectators from the shore.

Funeral Services Held for Graduate Chinese Student

Funeral services for Chi Chen Hsu, Chinese graduate student, were read at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Frautschi undertaking parlors by the Rev. Edward Blakeman of the University Methodist church.

Hsu, who had undergone a major operation at a local hospital, died at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning. Until about a month ago, he had been working hard for a M. S. degree in chemistry and was to have received his degree and return to Whai-An, China, this summer, where his wife awaited him.

Before coming to Wisconsin, Hsu had studied at the Universities of California and Illinois, but received his B. S. degree here. Not being a government student, Hsu was working hard to attend school on his own resources.

INSTRUCTOR LEAVES POST AFTER ILLNESS

Miss Neva Drummond, an assistant in the zoology department, has just returned from a six weeks illness in the infirmary. She is now going to resume her work at the university but will return to her home in Kansas. Miss Opal Wolf has been selected to fill her position.

PROPOSE INCREASE IN UNIVERSITY BILL

Legislative Committee Acts to Add $80,000 for Operating Expenses

The legislative joint finance committee yesterday raised to $2,800,000 the sum which it will propose for the university for operating expenses during the next two years. This is an increase of $80,000 from the $2,720,000 decided upon by the committee last week.

The university is asking $3,130,000 for the first year of the biennium and $3,267,000 the second year for operating expenses. This sum is exclusive of the $1,700,000 desired for building purposes and includes only what is needed for salaries, upkeep and the like. Last week, it was announced that the university request had been cut to $2,720,000 and the action yesterday was an approach toward the figure asked for.

The finance committee yesterday reported the state normal school omnibus bill for the biennium. The date of the submission of the university appropriation measure is as yet unknown, although members of the legislature expect to take it up in the near future in order to complete its consideration before the proposed date of adjournment June 1.

"Tendencies in Legal Education" will be discussed by Dean H. S. Richards of the Law school.

Announcement of the membership to Coif, honorary law fraternity, will be made at the banquet.

Phi Beta Kappa Lecture to Be Given By Merriam Tonight

MAY COLD STREAK CAUSES SNOWFALL

It may be May, but the weatherman doesn't seem to know it, for hail and snow surprised students climbing the hill for eight o'clocks yesterday morning. This untimely sample of winter weather was explained by Eric R. Miller, meteorologist in the United States weather bureau, as caused by unseasonably cold layers of air condensing the moisture and causing it to fall as snow. Two years ago at this time of the year there was a snowstorm of some proportions, and back in 1899 the Memorial day exercises had to be suspended until paraders could don galoshes. Cool weather is predicted for the rest of the week, moderating about Saturday.

SENATE HEARS OF OWN WEAKNESS

Convention Delegates Report Power of Similar Bodies in Other Schools

The Student senate at its meeting last night learned from reports given by its delegates to recent student conventions that it has very little power and prestige that characterizes similar bodies in other institutions.

W. Ralph Giles '25, who was present at the Eastern conference of student activities, held last week at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y., reported that the student senates have greater power and influence in the East; one of the senates having even the power to drop students from the university. One of the methods shown for gaining money for governing purposes in one Eastern institution is to attach a tax on the registration fees.

The eastern senates are more independent of faculty control, Giles discovered. This independence allows them to control and keep up an interest, in even such matters as traditions, class spirit, and publications.

Hampton K. Snell '25, represented the senate at the Midwest Student conference at Manhattan, Kansas, recently. All the universities in the Big Ten and many smaller colleges were at this convention.

The main problems discussed at this conference were, according to Snell, publications, student government, and athletics.

Only 500 Reserved Seats for Evening Horse Show Left

Mail order sales of tickets for the horse show tomorrow night in the stock pavilion closed yesterday with but 500 seats left unsold. Orders have come from practically every business house in Madison and the committee in charge of the sales expect all seats to be sold before the show starts. They may be purchased at Hook Brothers, Morgan's, University pharmacy, Stock pavilion, and the Badger pharmacy.

By special arrangement with De Longe's studio window displays of committee chairmen, women riders in both shows, and trophies have been set up at De Longe's, Kessnichs, and the Restaurant Athenaeum.

The display at the Studio is made of a large golden horse shoe at the rear-center flanked on either side by pictures of the chairmen arranged on ascending tiers. The governor's trophy is mounted on a pedestal in the center.

Initiation and Banquet to Precede Talk by Chicago Professor

Prof. Charles Edward Merriam, head of the political science department at the University of Chicago, will speak on "Politics and Numbers" at the annual Phi Beta Kappa address at 8 o'clock tonight in Music hall.

Prof. Merriam, who has spoken here before on various occasions is also president of the American Political Science association, and of the National Science Research council. He was at one time a candidate for mayor of Chicago and is at present a member of the civic council. He is considered an authority on political problems, having written several books on political parties and theories.

The initiation of the 50 students who were elected to the fraternity last week will take place at 4:45 o'clock this afternoon at the home of President Birge, where Prof. Charles E. Mendenhall, who is president of the Wisconsin chapter, will conduct the ceremony and give a short address.

Following the initiation a group picture will be taken and the annual banquet will be held at the University club.

SENIORS TO HAVE GRADUATION SONG

Words to be Written by Member of Class of 1925; Music is Selected

In keeping with the generally modified commencement program, the class of 1925 will introduce a special commencement song this year, the words of which are to be composed by some member of the class.

The music for the song, which was selected by Prof. E. B. Gordon of the School of Music, is an arrangement by Edward Hodges from one of Beethoven's compositions. It is known as a "Hymn to Joy." The words for the original hymn are by Henry Van Dyke.

"Because of its fine swinging rhythm, dignity of tone, and simplicity, I believe this selection is ideal for a general class commencement song," Prof. Gordon said, commenting on the reasons for his choice.

The words for the song will be written on the basis of a competitive tryout which all seniors are invited to enter. The song must be two or three verses in length and of a dignified and beautiful kind. Manuscripts are to be mailed to Irene Norman, 15 East Gilman street, by noon Friday, May 15. The winner will be announced the following Sunday.

The words and music of the song, which will become a part of all future commencements, will be printed on the commencement programs. Familiarity with the song will be established through several senior sings which the class committees are arranging for.

NARDIN PRAISES WORK OF WOMEN'S GROUP

"The woman who belongs to the American Association of University Women helps not only herself, but others too," was the statement of Dean F. Louise Nardin in an interview yesterday in which she told of the association and its work.

"The member of the A. A. U. W. helps to maintain scholarships and fellowships for women in connection with home branches of the association. She helps in providing undergraduate scholarships. Part of each dollar given to the national organization goes to fellowships by which graduates of exceptional ability and training are helped to secure further opportunities for study and research," she continued.

All seniors who are at all interested may secure an application blank at the office of the dean of women.

PEABODY GOES TO DISCUSS BUILDING PLANS WITH CRET

State Architect Leaves for East to Confer on Construction Program

Arthur Peabody, state architect, left Madison last night for Philadelphia where he will confer with Paul Cret, architect of that city, in regard to certain aspects of the building program of the university.

Mr. Cret had been asked by the regents of the university at their April meeting to come here to assist in selecting the sites for the new field house, dormitories and Memorial Union in order that these new buildings might be in harmony with a general building scheme for the whole university. Mr. Cret, however, is sailing for Europe next week and found it impossible to come west.

Will Report to Regents

Rather than lose the advice and service of Mr. Cret, who in 1908 aided in the drawing up of a comprehensive building plan for the university and who has been in Madison several times since then, the executive committee of the regents decided to send Mr. Peabody east to confer with the Philadelphia architect there. Mr. Peabody took with him the plans and designs of the proposed new buildings and will go over them with Mr. Cret.

One of the chief points to be settled at the conference, besides the plans and sites of the dormitories, field house and Union, is the manner of development of the lower campus and the upper Langdon street area between Lake and Park streets. Upon his return, Mr. Peabody will prepare a report which he will present to the regents at a special meeting to be called sometime this month.

Final Action Deferred

The decision to call Mr. Cret was reached by the regents after the presentation of the final plans for the Memorial Union as recommended by the Union executive committee. Although the regents expressed themselves as favorably impressed with the plans, definite action was deferred pending the approval of Mr. Cret.

SPANISH CLUB TO GIVE THREE PLAYS TONIGHT

Members of the Spanish club will present three plays at a meeting of the club at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the cabinet room of the Y. M. C. A. The casts are made up entirely of students of Spanish, and were coached by Spanish instructors. The conversation will be entirely in Spanish.

HADAMAND SPEAKS ON MATHEMATICS

French Professor Traces Evolution of Analytical Function in Second Talk

Tracing the evolution and development of the analytical function in mathematics from the time of the Greeks to the present day, Prof. Jacques Hadamand, member of the French institute and the faculty of the University of Paris, delivered his closing lecture on "Some Modern Views of the Function Concept" at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in 112 Bascom hall.

"The difference between the Greek mathematics and the modern science is that the Greeks used numbers to which they attributed fixed values, whereas the modern mathematics give varying values to their numbers," the lecturer said.

The unsolved and partly solved problems are the ones which attract the greatest interest today, he pointed out. The defect of the Greek mathematics was that it only solved problems which could be answered through simple processes. The Greeks dealt with straight lines, circles, spheres, and cubes, whereas modern scientists discuss algebraic curves, differential equations, and infinitesimal segments of arcs.

FROSH LOSE TO FLEET VARSITY RELAY QUARTET

Track Regulars Win Fast Race; Cold Hampers Workouts

Cold winds hampered the work of Coach Jones and his squad of Cardinal tracksters at the Camp Randall track last night. The only excitement of the day was the varsity-frosh two mile relay.

Prior to the long talked of race, enthusiasm ran high on both sides. Mead-Burke, frosh mentor, was backing his team to the limit, and Coach Jones was not backward in advancing the claims of his team.

Both coaches entered two teams in the race. For the varsity Kennedy, Chutt, Carter, and Bergstresser ran on the first quartet, while Petaja, Perry, Piper, and Meissner formed the second string.

Frosh Team

The frosh started Reeves, Chapman, Stowe, and Elleson on the first aggregation; and McKee, Himley, Klevay, and Beckner on the second two mile team.

The varsity jumped into the lead at the start when Kennedy ran a beautiful race to lead the field to the tape by 10 yards in the fast time of 2:01. Reeves and McKee came in together while Piper was behind about 3 yards.

Carter took the baton for the second half for the varsity and increased the lead by 5 yards, when he handed the stick to Schutt. Chapman took up the third leg of the race for the yearlings and picked up about 5 yards on the leading varsity first team. Perry running third for the varsity second quartet lost about 4 yards in the shuffle.

Varsity Wins

In the last lap Elleson ran a great race for the yearlings, but could not quite overtake the lead of Bergstresser. The frosh second two mile team dropped out of the race, giving third place to Coach Jones' second team.

The rest of the squad went through a stiff workout in all of their events. Tuhtar has joined the squad of high jumpers and will be in shape for the quadrangular meet May 16. His addition will strengthen the field events considerably as he is capable of clearing better than six feet.

Cobb Sets New Record At Bat In 21st Year

CHICAGO—Ty Cobb, fiery manager of the Detroit Americans, who was playing big league baseball before some present day players were born, has annexed one of his most brilliant world records—most total bases in one game, scored on three home runs, a double and two singles in six times at bat in the game yesterday against St. Louis. Cobb is playing in his 21st year in the majors.

Three weeks ago, when the season opened, the Georgia Peach was sick in bed with the flu but he has shown that his batting eye is undimmed. His three home runs in one game also ties the major league record.

Plan Enlarged Seating Capacity In Field House For Swim Meets

Fans of swimming can look forward to the proposed new field house the same as those of other sports, said Coach Joe Steinauer yesterday.

A new tank is planned for the field house and if attendance at the meets is an indication of the importance of the sport here, seating facilities will need to be more ample than those of the present. Wisconsin leads all other Big Ten universities in attendance at the contests, according to Coach Steinauer who is familiar with their seating arrangements.

Chicago can seat 574, Illinois, 590; Northwestern, 500; Minnesota, 200; Iowa, 300; Indiana, 200; Purdue, 200; and Wisconsin, 900. Michigan has a new tank and Steinauer is not sure as to the amount of room afforded for spectators.

In the past season, one of the most successful in the history of Badger swimming, the bleachers in the tank room were crowded to capacity at the Indiana, Michigan, and Iowa contests, and were three-fourths filled on the afternoon when the M. A. C. swimmers were here.

The late coach Joseph White of Chicago praised the Wisconsin tank room highly and expressed the wish that the Maroons could have similar facilities.

Attendance at Badger swimming meets has increased each year, the records show, and with the building of a new tank, it is expected that swimming will be benefited the same as basketball and other sports, with seats provided for all who desire to see the contests.

"Interest in water basketball has grown by leaps and bounds," declared Coach Steinauer. "If water polo, replacing water basketball, is as popular it will prove a great drawing power also. As a new sport, water polo should be interesting."

new material. The meet is open to all students in the university.

TID BITS IN SPORTS

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—In the victory of the Illini trackmen over Notre Dame last Saturday, "Bud" Evans, crack sprinter on Coach Gill's squad who has been ill all season, regained his old form as is evidenced by the fact that he equaled his Illinois mark of 94.5 in the century, and tied his conference record of 2-1.5 in the 220. This gives the Sucker track stock a decided boost.

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—Coach Jack Wilce has decided to remain at Ohio for another year. At least this is the latest report to circulate from the Buckeye stronghold. Wilce received an attractive offer from the Southern Branch of the University of California to take over the athletic department. Wilce has served for 12 years at Ohio in various capacities.

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—The Wolverines are out for the tank title in 1926 if present activities are any indication. Coach Mann is conducting an all-campus swim meet this week in the hopes of developing IOWA CITY, Ia.—Coach George Gresnehan of Iowa track and cross country fame, is starting work for next fall's cross country season earlier than usual. This Saturday the Hawkeye mentor is going to hold a spring harrier race to get a line on the material he will have on hand when the official call is given for candidates next fall.

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—A team without a captain was almost the situation at Ohio this last week. It was not until the night before the Wolverine tilt that the Ohio golfers selected a captain to lead them during the 1925 golf season.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Men trying out for Sigma Delta Psi, honorary national athletic fraternity, at Minnesota, find a new requirement to get into their local chapter. A 10 mile hike in specified time is the new addition to the list of tests to be passed.

PRESBYTERIAN BALL MEN PRACTICE TODAY

Presbyterian men who wish to try out for the baseball team will have a chance at a practice at 4 o'clock this afternoon on the lower campus. The first game in the interchurch baseball league is scheduled for tomorrow at 5:30 o'clock with the St. Paul chapel team.

23 SENIORS ON BIG TEN TRACK TEAMS

Losses by graduation will take a heavy toll from the track teams this spring. Among the seniors who are entering their last month of competition are Reinke, Hubbard and Wittman of Michigan; Mieher, Evans, Brownell, Hughes and Sweeney of Illinois; Vellely, Bergstresser, Tuhtar and Kreiger of Wisconsin; Martin and Bouschor of Northwestern; Russell and Bourke of Chicago; Mattice, Schuette and Cox of Minnesota; Snyder of Ohio State, and Coulter, Hancock and Phelps of Iowa.

Maroons to Battle

Illinois Nine Today

CHICAGO—University of Chicago athletes will have a busy day today when they meet the University of Illinois team in a baseball game on Stagg Field in the afternoon.

The Maroon tennis team will tackle Northwestern on the Midway courts at 2 o'clock.

The Maroons and University of Minnesota track teams will meet Saturday at the Midway.

Star Miler Lost

To Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Michigan, with high hopes for western conference outdoor track honors, has been dealt a second severe blow by the loss, because of a major operation, of Grant Hicks of Tacoma, Wash., star miler. James Brooker, captain of the track team and premier pole vaulter, was declared ineligible two weeks ago.

CHICAGO DIAMOND NINE WILL TOUR ORIENT IN FALL

To Leave on September 4; Team Will Return at Christmas

Approval of the athletic board for the proposed trip of the University of Chicago baseball team to Japan has been voted and the Maroon team will leave Chicago on September 4. It will be the fourth trip of a Chicago ball team to the Orient. In 1910, 1915 and 1920 Chicago teams went to Japan.

The team will be gone all fall and will return to college during the Christmas holidays. Most of the members of the team will remain in college during the summer quarter instead of taking the usual three months vacation and will lose no time towards graduation by their absence during the autumn quarter. The team will practice during the summer.

Select Nine

Coach Nelson Norgren will probably not make any attempt to pick the team until August. By the end of June members of this year's freshman team will have arrived at sophomore scholastic standing and several may be added to the squad. No football men will be taken, which will probably keep Capt. Cunningham and Marks at home.

Costumes for the play will be obtained from Chicago.

Fan Sends Ruth Cane

To Help Babe Recover

NEW YORK—The "Babe" Ruth of Whittling has sent a token to the "Babe" Ruth of baseball. It came Tuesday to St. Vincent's hospital, a wonderfully carved cane, made from a piece of floor joist of the old Benedict Arnold house of New Haven, Conn., built in 1774.

The cane, which the donor, George N. Rich of Bradford, Conn., says he hopes will enable the Colossus of Swat to limp back to health, is from a famous collection of twenty.

BADGER BASEBALL TEAM PRACTICES FOR WOLVERINES

WISCONSIN TRACK STARS TO EXHIBIT

Schwarze, McGinnis, Krieger to Perform at Meet at Mineral Point

Arrangements have been made with the athletic department of the university to have Schwarze, McGinnis and Krieger appear in special events at the Southwestern Wisconsin League track and field meet which will be held in Mineral Point on May 8.

Schwarze who holds the national intercollegiate mark in the shot, will give an exhibition in the shot put and discus. McGinnis, who has been clearing the bar well over six feet, will exhibit in the high jump. Krieger who is one of the best pole vaulters in the Big Ten will appear in this event.

The appearance of these stars in Mineral Point will no doubt prove a big drawing card. Mead Burke assistant track coach, has been secured as referee and starter.

Entries now total well over 125 and there is a possibility of a few more late entries. Much interest is being shown by the athletes and fans in Southwestern Wisconsin and the weather permitting, this will no doubt be one of the fastest meets ever staged in this section of the state.

Michigan Has Demonstrated Power by Defeating Badgers 8 to 0

Determined to break the losing streak which has followed them through the last three games, the varsity baseball team is going through long practice sessions this week in preparation for the strong Michigan team which will play here Saturday afternoon.

The Badgers already understand the strength of the Wolverines from last Monday afternoon when they were snowed under by an 8 to 0 score. The Cardinals are also bearing in mind that Jablonowski, Wolverine pitching ace, will be ready for Saturday's fray.

In the game last week against Illinois, Jablonowski held the Suckers to one scratch hit, and lost due to poor fielding by his teammates. Illinois beat Wisconsin 10 to 4, so the Wisconsin nine will have to pay a better brand of baseball than it has been showing so far in order to come out on the long end of the score.

Stoll or Clausen

Although Coach Lowman has not definitely decided who will start the game on the mound for the Badgers, it will be either Stoll or Clausen. Stoll pitched a fine game at Ohio last Saturday and he is apt to get the call over Clausen.

The Michigan team will arrive here Saturday morning from Evanston where they meet the Purple tomorrow afternoon.

Various kinds of ability employed in the bond business

COLLEGE men who are considering the bond business as a career are apt to think only of how they might succeed as salesmen. The bond business is by no means as narrow as that.

Many men who are not suited by inclination or temperament to personal sales work are successful in the bond business as sales correspondents; they either handle the accounts of customers who deal with the house by mail, or they may work by mail jointly with personal salesmen in developing customers and serving them.

There are also very interesting opportunities in the buying end of the bond business, where all the underlying facts concerning a projected bond issue are investigated and weighed before the issue is underwritten.

In an organization as large and active as Halsey, Stuart & Co. there are unusual opportunities for a man to fit in and do the kind of work to which he is best suited.

Our booklet, "The Bond Business as an Occupation for College Men," contains information which will be helpful to you if you are interested in knowing more about this field of business. A copy will be sent upon request without obligation.

"POLITICS AND NUMBERS"

Tonight Prof. Charles E. Merriam, of the political science department at the University of Chicago, will deliver a lecture on "Politics and Numbers" on the occasion of the annual Phi Beta Kappa initiation and open address.

Up until three years ago these addresses were at the initiation banquet, and only the members of Phi Beta Kappa were given the opportunity of hearing them. In 1923, however, the local chapter kindly offered the general public the opportunity of listening in on the lecture, which that year was given by Alexander Meiklejohn, ex-President of Amherst college.

Since that time the local chapter has been cordial in its reception of the general public on such occasions, and last year the gymnasium was packed to the limit when Glenn Frank, editor of the Century magazine, spoke.

These speakers who are brought here by Phi Beta Kappa have been worth hearing, as those who have attended them in the past well know. It is to be presumed that the address tonight will be no exception and that Music hall will be well crowded.

Prof. Merriam is one of the foremost political scientists of the nation. He is president of the American Political Science association and he is a leader in his field. Some time ago he ran for mayor of Chicago against the political element which was generally granted at that time to be corrupt. Whether or not the address will be something along the line of Mr. Meiklejohn's "Democracy and Excellence" in that it will be a discussion of the question: Can good politics and numbers be reconciled? is a matter of conjecture. But it is highly probable that the talk will be extremely interesting, and that those outside of the pale of "scholarship"—poor unfortunates that we are—will find it worth-while to accept the generous invitation of the local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

MOVING THE BAND

As Major E. W. Morphy put it in yesterday's issue of the Daily Cardinal, moving the band to La Crosse Saturday will be much like moving a circus. And certainly you know what that is like, if long years ago, you ever rose in the wee small hours of the morning, walked sleepily out to the largest field on the edge of town and watched the flat cars being unloaded of their wagons and trunks and cases.

But moving the band, and its 70 players, to La Crosse will mean a great deal more. For it will bring another part of the University of Wisconsin to a locality which will be interested in seeing and which should see part of the university in operation. Haresfoot, the Glee Club, the track team have made their trips all, to put it mildly, to the glory of Wisconsin.

Now the band is about to do its part. And power to it. The idea is a fine one; the band might do well to extend its activities to other cities of the state.

LET'S BURN DOWN BASCOM!

Bascom hall was very nearly lost to the hill last March. Professors breathed a sigh of relief when the blaze was finally extinguished, for they knew that their manuscripts were safe again—temporarily, at least. Fire men laughed a bit—or might have—and thought that the old fire-trap had been saved again. Students, some of them, sighed sorrowfully and a few went so far as to suggest, jokingly, that it might be amusing to play the role of fire-bug and watch the thing go up in flame some night, not realizing, perhaps, that there would not necessarily be an enforced vacation as a result.

Anyway, it is generally agreed that Bascom hall, along with some other buildings on the campus, is pretty much of a fire-trap. Because of the straightened financial condition of the university adequate fire-escapes have not been placed on the building yet.

However, there is a group of men, whether they are students or not we do not know, who find it not unwise to have their afternoon cigarettes on the fourth floor of the building. They are evidently trying to carry out the suggestion of the above-mentioned students—or else they are absent-mindedly oblivious to the danger they are causing not only to the building, but to those people who are in it with them.

Experience doesn't seem to be such a good teacher after all, and some people's memories are all too short.

THIS LITTLE MATTER OF GRADES

You know, it's a funny thing about grades. A vast amount of importance is attached to them. First of all, the student worries his head off—unless he is more than unusual good-for-nothing—for a whole semester as to what grade and how many grade-points he is going to make in history. Then the professor spends some time and no little energy combined with patience endeavoring to dope out the fair and correct standing of the student in question. The third person affected is the employer—and there are such rare ones—who inquire about the prospective employee's scholastic record, or who hires a man partly because he made Phi Beta Kappa.

It would seem that grades were a mighty important matter.

But—

What of the person who uses a history topic which two years earlier was given the grade of "fair" much to the disgust of its author, and receives an "excellent" on it?

What of the person who coaches three class-mates the night before a final examination and receives a flunk only to learn later that his three pupils have passed with flying colors?

What of the man who cribs from another's examination paper and gets by with it but incriminates his benefactor to the extent of having him sent up before the disciplinary committee?

What of the good bluffer who persuades his instructor to raise a grade on a topic which he has not written from "fair" to "good" while another—probably more foolish—student, accepts his "fair" without murmuring the slightest suggestion of a bulldozing line to his instructor?

What about hundreds of similar cases which one hears about from time to time on any campus?

Certainly no one goes so far as to say that grades nor the human nature of the graders is infallible. Possibly it is that some employers feel that a man who can "get away with" as much as possible is the kind of a man they want in their firms.

Grades are essential to such an institution as our present-day educational system. Without grades there could be no diplomas. Grades will doubtless last as long as educational systems last.

But, aren't they a bore?

The legislative appropriations committee has recommended a measure which if passed will grant funds for the construction of a new addition to Bascom hall, for a new wing to the library and for the completion of the chemistry building. Do your parents and friends at home know about the university's financial situation? Write them and urge them to tell their representative in the legislature to vote for the bill.

Only three more week-ends with 12:30 nights before the work for June exams is scheduled to begin. That's what the calendar says, but the weatherman seems to be behind the times.

The football squad is putting on some real work these days incidentally for the benefit of those who are interested in seeing what next year's prospects may amount to.

The birds that sing in the spring-time tum-de-deum-dum and the mystic scent of blooms have bestowed on me the vernal itch. Therefore, bear with me a while as Macbeth does ooze forth this first and only collection of springtide poetical inspirations.

Denny Combines Fun and Fist in Bright Comedy Here Today

"The Reckless Age"
Featuring Reginald Denny
Presented at the Strand
By G. S. B.

Reginald has combined his newly discovered comedy talents with his erstwhile pugilistic efforts and turned "The Reckless Age" in to a maelstrom of well placed blows, flying furniture, and absurdly funny situations.

Ruth Dwyer, who plays opposite Reginald as Cynthia Meyrick, is quite typically the pretty, foolish and changeable American heiress. Her vacillations between her fiancé, Lord Halmere (William Austin), and Denny (as Dick Minot, representative of a firm who are anxious to insure Halmere's marriage help the story along beautifully, but they don't add much to the peace of mind of poor Dick, who is torn between duty to his firm and his love for Cynthia.

The plot has possibilities, some of which are rather well developed, but when the racing Ford dashes in front of the railroad train just in the nick of time we realize that we have seen it done before, even though we do hold our breath. However, there are enough chuckles and amusing episodes to make up for a slight triteness of plot.

BOARD ENLARGES JAIL AGREEMENT

Scope of Contract Widened Through Adoption of Resolution

A more sweeping jail contract than the one which was in effect until three weeks ago, was entered into by the Dane county board of supervisors Tuesday night, when it adopted three resolutions providing for (1) renewal of the jail contract with the Milwaukee house of correction; (2) widening of scope of the contract so that any liquor law violator and persons convicted of misdemeanors and sentenced to 60 days or more may be sent to the workhouse; and (3) establishing a permanent committee on litigation empowered to renew the contract in the event it expires between sessions of the board.

The resolutions were passed unanimously, following an address by Dist. Atty. Philip La Follette. La Follette, while discussing the contract brought to the attention of the board that in the near future it should consider the matter of building a workhouse for Dane county.

Makes Important Change
The outstanding change in the jail contract is that heretofore only persons convicted of misdemeanors and sentenced to 60 days or more could be sent to the house of correction. Under the new contract persons convicted of liquor law violations and sentenced to 30 days or more can also be sent there.

Other important matters were taken up by the board. The board—

- 1.—Raised the pay of the assistant district attorney from $125 to $175 per month.
- 2.—Appointed a committee to work out a more economic administration of the mother's pension law.
- 3.—Considered resolution to include road houses under dance law ordinances.
- 4.—Received report of Dist. Atty. La Follette that since Jan. 5 there have been 144 convictions and $10,955 in fines and bond money collected.
- 5.—Heard La Follette say that drunken drivers convicted in the future will be sent to the house of correction.
- 6.—Listened to La Follette's plea for a Dane county workhouse in near future.

Michael Thinner, vice chairman of the board, introduced resolutions including road houses under the dance hall ordinance, and for an increase of $50 per month in the salary of the assistant district attorney. The latter measure was adopted after W. H. Sommers, the board chairman, had taken the floor in its behalf. The other bill was referred to the dance hall committee, and will be reported back to the board at the meeting to open at 7:30 Wednesday night.

County Needs Workhouse
Dist. Atty. La Follette told of the work accomplished since he took office. He advocated renewal of the contract with Milwaukee county and intimated that Dane county should construct a workhouse.

Following up the attack inaugurated Monday afternoon by Dr. F. F. Bowman on the administration of the mother's pension law in Dane county, T. G. Lingard, Mt. Horeb, introduced a resolution to have a committee of three supervisors meet with the district attorney and with the judges of the county to work out a more economic plan of administering the law. The measure was passed and Dr. Bowman, J. E. Broderick, Mazomanie and A. A. Linn, Stoughton, were appointed to the committee by Chairman Sommers.

Mr. Thinner introduced one of the jail contract resolutions. His measure renewed the contract at the new figure of $5 per week per person maintained in the Milwaukee institution and provided for sending any persons there who is convicted of a misdemeanor and sentenced to 60 days or more.

The second resolution, introduced by Robert W. Daggett, makes an exception of liquor law cases and provides that any person convicted of violating the liquor laws and sentenced to 30 days or more can be incarcerated in the house of correction.

Name Litigation Body

The third resolution relating to the jail contract matter was introduced by Emil C. Cady. It provided for the appointment of a permanent committee on litigation which is empowered to renew the jail contract if it expires when the board is not in session. The committee will be composed of the chairman of the county board, W. H. Sommers; the chairman of the claims committee, Michael Thinner; and the chairman of the highway committee, H. C. Rasmussen.

Mr. Thinner's ordinance to amend the dance hall ordinance to include road houses, specifies "any room, place or space where refreshments are served and where dancing takes place which is open to the public, and any room, place, or space where food or refreshments are served which is conducted in connection with any room, place, or space where dancing is held and which is open to the public."

The amendment also provides for the increase in pay of dance hall inspectors from $3 to $4 and gives inspectors jurisdiction over territory within one half mile of places covered by the ordinance and its amendment, and provides that, instead of inspectors, the sheriff, deputy sheriffs, constables, marshal or other peace officers, may be assigned to such places. The county board chairman, between sessions of the board, is given the right to suspend inspectors.

Tells Board of Progress

Mr. La Follette told the board that, since he took office Jan. 5, 144 convictions have been secured in the county courts and $10,955 in fines or bond forfeitures collected. Bond forfeitures, he said, totalled $2,100 and that money will remain in the county treasury, none of it going to the state. As $1,700 of the county special investigator fund of $2,500 has been spent, he declared that the county had made a profit of $400 through the use of the fund.

"On the question of the renewal of the contract with Milwaukee," he said. "I wish to say one or two words. Under the interpretations of the Huber law, your judges have no discretion as to whether a person confined in the Dane county jail shall be confined there if that man has dependents. For that reason the Milwaukee county contract was entered into, in order to send the prisoners to a workhouse because we have no workhouse in Dane county."

"The total number of prisoners sent to the Milwaukee house of correction since Jan. 5 is twenty. The total cost of maintaining these prisoners has been somewhere around $650."

He declared that of 54 convictions for violations of the State liquor law last year but nine were residents of the "Bush" but that this year about half of the convictions have been of residents of that section of Madison.

He cited the Racine county contract with Milwaukee, showing that drunken drivers were sent to Milwaukee from Racine and intimated that the same policy would be followed in Dane county should the contract be renewed.

Mr. Thinner, after presenting his resolution for increasing the pay of the assistant district attorney from $125 to $175 per month, declared that the board had no authority to raise the pay of the district attorney, which is set at $1,800 per year by the legislature, but that "we can raise the pay of his assistant and the two can divide up."

Chairman Sommers told the board that Mr. La Follette and Mr. Roberts "pooled" their wages and, after paying their office rent, had $90 left.

"They have gone into the job on a partnership basis," he said. "Other county officers are given office space in the courthouse but the district attorney and his assistant must pay their own rent. Both Mrs. La Follette and Mrs. Roberts are working in order to help eke out a livelihood."

Upon the invitation of Supervisor H. C. D. Hansen, chairman of the committee on public buildings, the board passed a motion to visit the county farm at Verona Wednesday afternoon.

The Board of Publications

(Editor's note: This is the second of a series of articles on the proposed publications board. The articles are printed to acquaint the students with the details of the measure.

BY HAMPTON K. SNELL.

The first article related the plan's provisions for election and eligibility of board candidates, the filling of possible vacancies, and the composition of the organization.

The last section of the article on elections states, "The election of student members of this Board shall take place in the general student elections between April 15 and May 15, the term of office to be one year. The faculty-instructor members and the representatives from the senate shall be appointed during the above election period.

"Meetings: The Board shall meet not later than two weeks after election to select officers, and at least once a month during the school year. Other meetings may be called by the officers as deemed necessary.

"Officers and Their Duties: (1) The officers of the Board shall consist of a president, a secretary, and a comptroller. The comptroller shall be selected from the members representing the faculty and instructors.

(2) Duties of the officers shall be the usual duties pertaining to their respective offices.

(3) The president shall prepare an annual report to be published in the Daily Cardinal; he shall appoint all necessary Board committees.

(4) The comptroller shall be the custodian of funds which shall be entrusted to the Board by the various publications. He shall be bonded for at least $1,500. He shall be directly responsible to the board for financial accounts of the various student publications.

(5) Four Board members shall constitute a quorum; the Board president shall have voting power at all times."

This section deals only with organization of the proposed body, the officer called the comptroller being the unusual feature of the officers provided for. This comptroller must be bonded, as is done with the Business managers of various publications now, merely a safety provision. This important officer was necessarily taken from the faculty, preferably of course, the business administration staff. His duty is to keep business publications' accounts straight and to eliminate any possible fraud or irregularity, a function now held by a member of the University staff, but not in as great power or control.

After attending the Midwest Student conference, and finding out the details of some 15 plans in other universities, hearing the experiences of these various school in their attempts at regulation, it has been concluded that only concentrated, easily governed regulation of publications is feasible, and that a weak board is worse than none at all. Further consideration of present conditions of Wisconsin publications shows that conditions should be remedied, for financial troubles such as the 1925 Badger encountered, as the Literary Magazine has

SACHTJEN AGAIN MADE DRY CHIEF

Resigned Post at Legislature Opening; Is Reappointed

Herman W. Sachtjen, speaker of the assembly, today was reappointed state prohibition commissioner by Gov. John J. Blaine. The nomination was sent to the state senate for approval.

Mr. Sachtjen said he would confer with some of his friends before deciding whether to accept the post, which he resigned the opening of the legislature.

"I reappoint you for the reason that you have continued to keep the state prohibition enforcement clean," Gov. Blaine wrote to the former commissioner.

Since presenting his resignation, Mr. Sachtjen has served as chief of the state dry forces without pay, pending action by the governor. The executive stated that "the position is no easy one, but carried with it a great deal of responsibility."

"I am also mindful of the fact that the federal prohibition enforcement department in Wisconsin has been constantly in difficulties, many of the force having been sent to prison for malfeasance in office and others having resigned under pressure," the executive continued.

"We have had no such condition in the state prohibition department. It has been free from graft and suspicion. I want it kept that way, and with your appointment I am assured that it will be kept clean."

"While the position is not a pleas-

now, and as the Daily Cardinal and Engineering Magazine engaged in several years ago, are still as likely to occur as ever with but little chance of stopping them unless more drastic controlling methods are used by the student body.

ant one, I trust that out of consideration for the public service, and out of consideration for clean government and administration, you will accept.

"I express my deep appreciation of the manner in which you have discharged the duties of the office since your appointment two years ago."

Slacks are Correct

This season slacks are again proving popular with college men. On campus and in classroom one sees these wide, straight-hanging trousers worn with dark coat, lending variety to every day dress. Style is not the sole reason for their popularity, either, for their convenience and economy are soon apparent to every wearer.
