MICHIGAN UNION IMPRESSES ALL BADGER GUESTS

Wisconsin Visitors Enthusiastic In Praise Of Building

Great enthusiasm for the Michigan Union and realization of the vital need for a similar Union building here at Wisconsin exists among the student leaders and the members of the team who visited Michigan last week end. That a spirit of friendliness, cooperation and service for others results from the existence of the Michigan Union is the common opinion of those who were at Ann Arbor.

Norman Clark '24, football manager, said yesterday:

"The Michigan Union creates a spirit of fellowship that we haven't got here. Everybody goes to the Union for everything. It was crowded every minute and before and after the game you could scarcely walk through the mob."

Visitors Welcomed

"I reached Ann Arbor ahead of the team and the fellows said, 'We'll take you to the Union.' They all go out of their way to make you feel at home. A stranger is not a stranger as soon as he enters the Union building. An activity center like that is the real thing; its aim seems to be friendliness and service to everyone."

The members of the team were taken immediately to the Union building. They found all the Wisconsin people who made the trip gathered there. Supper was served to the team in the Union. Everybody trooped in and out during the entire week end.

Wallace "Shorty" Barr, who attended Michigan summer school, declared:

"It's a big improvement on anything we have at Wisconsin. Here there is no way of getting the whole student crowd together."

"Lots of old-time Wisconsin men came down to see the game and we found them at the Union ready to greet us. If you want to meet anyone from anywhere, you just go over to the Union and find them there. Of course the co-eds have to go in the side entrance, but they seem to like it fine."

"Shorty" and Clark both spoke of the many banquets that were going on all at once in the Union. The "M" club, the Harvard club and other types of student organizations all were having celebration simultaneously.

Best Yet," All Agree

Captain Rollie Williams and Gus Tuckerman also came back more firmly convinced than ever that Wisconsin needs the Memorial Union above anything else.

"Golly, it's the best thing I ever saw," was Gus's spontaneous reply. "They had their frosh-soph contest there Saturday morning,—like our class rush; all the freshmen, and all the sophomores gathered in the Union building before and after the fight."

"How badly we need our Memorial Union was clearly demonstrated the night of our Homecoming mass-meeting. There was no place where we could all get together at once."

Flickinger Calls First Frosh Meeting Monday

The first freshman class meeting has been called by the class president, James R. Flick, for 4:30 o'clock Monday in 165 Bascom hall.

All freshmen are urged to come. Freshman activity plans will be discussed for the coming year and members of the class will have an opportunity to get acquainted.

Plans are being made to hold more class affairs than the freshman classes have in the past. They include ideas for several frosh mixers as well as the yearly dance.

The committees appointed last week are to be assigned to their various duties immediately. All committee members are to be present at the class meeting, Monday, to meet with the president and have their work assigned.

PLANS OF GREEK BASKET TOURNEY ARE UNDER WAY

Plans were formulated for the coming interfraternity basketball tournament at a meeting held in the Sigma Nu house last night. Representatives of 24 fraternities were present to discuss plans and elect an executive committee.

Arthur J. Platten '23, Sigma Nu who is in charge of all interfraternity athletics, took charge of the meeting and presented the plans to the students present.

An executive committee composed of five men from different fraternities was elected. The functions of this committee working in conjunction with Coach W. E. Meanwell are to plan the schedule for the games, time when they are to be played to settle disputes and to draw up rules governing the games.

The members elected were Kenneth S. Mainland '26, Sigma Nu; I. O. Hembre '24, Alpha Chi Rho; E. E. Smith '24, Sigma Phi Epsilon; and William Fern '25, Theta Xi. Platten is also a member of the committee.

The officials for the final games picked by the representatives are George Berg, Joe Steinauer and Guy H. Lowman. A 15 minute period in place of the 12 minute period, which was in force last year, was adopted by the members present.

LOWDEN LECTURE TICKETS GO FAST

Tickets are selling rapidly for the Wisconsin Union all-university convocation Thursday night in Music hall, according to the proprietors of the three State street stores where they are on sale.

The opportunity which the Union board offers to the students and the people of Madison Thursday is said to be an exceptional one. Ex-governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois has made a close and extensive study of the financial and political conditions in Europe and is touring the country lecturing on his observations.

Mr. Lowden is one who believes in entering into close relationship with the European nations. Such a policy has been much disputed in this country since the League of Nations was first suggested.

Tickets for the convocation can be had at Smith's Music store, Morgan's and the University pharmacy. The prices are 25 and 35 cents. Admission is charged only to defray administrative expenses.

Articles on Business Feature Commerce Mag

"The Office Personnel" by Charles L. Jamison, professor of business administration, is the first of a series of articles on modern business problems by various business executives and faculty members presented in the Commerce Mag which goes on sale today. "Statistics and the Business Man" by Edwin Schujahn '24, and "The Association of Commerce and Community Progress", by Don E. Mowry '06, secretary of the Madison chamber of Commerce, also appear in the issue.

Chi Phi Leads 37 Fraternities in Scholastic Average Compiled by Dean Since 1914

The final result of the compilation of social fraternity scholastic averages for 13 semesters shows Chi Phi at the head of the 37 fraternities listed.

Complete tabulations of the 22 fraternities whose records for the entire 13 semesters are complete show that Chi Phi fraternity holds first place with an average of 5.92. The numerical rank of each fraternity each semester was added and the sums divided by the number of semesters recorded. Chi Phi had three first and one second to its credit.

Beta Theta Pi holds second honors with a score of 8.77 and Acacia is third with 9.23. Sigma Phi is fourth with 11.23. Sigma Nu and Delta Upsilon are tied for fifth title, both having an average of 12.77.

HARDING URGES EDUCATION - AID TO GOVERNMENT

Birge Has No Plans For Education Week, Dec. 3-9

Plans for the university's participation and cooperation in the American Education week, set for December 3-9 in a public proclamation by President Harding, Sunday, have not been formulated yet.

"Every week here at the University of Wisconsin is an education week", President Birge declared in speaking of the matter. "The affair has not been called formally to my attention yet and I can not sure what action will be taken", he said.

President Harding's proclamation sets aside the week of December 3-9 inclusive as an American Education week.

Urge All To Cooperate

He urges the national, state and local authorities to cooperate in bringing about a closer relationship and a clearer understanding between the home and the school and to stress the vital importance of good education in bringing about the best possible government in the future. The parents also are urged to give their support to the movement.

"The ideals of democratic governments and democratic education," says the proclamation "were planted simultaneously in our country. The fathers rightly believed that only a people trained to vision of public needs and duties could develop and maintain the institutions of popular government. The system of universal education established in the beginning has developed with the country and become one of the characteristic features of our life.

Need Educational Improvement

"In it we have laid the foundation of that system of American culture which has enabled us to assimilate millions who have come to us from many countries, bringing the traditions of widely varying institutions.

"In order that we may keep in mind the need constantly to improve our educational system it is proposed to set aside the week of December 3-9 inclusive for special observance as American Education week. It is recommended that the governors of the states cooperate with the educational and civil authorities of their commonwealths to make the week a period for revival of interest in the broad work of national education.

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair weather is forecasted for today and tomorrow. A rise in temperature is predicted for tomorrow.

NEW HUMANITIES STUDY APPROVED IN NEW REPUBLIC

The Humanities course which was established at the university last year has not gone unnoticed. In a recent issue of the New Republic magazine a symposium was held on "The American College and its Curriculum" in which Wisconsin's forward stride was given special mention.

"At the University of Wisconsin the most notable recent change has been the launching of a new Course in Humanities. In general terms one may say that this new degree makes substantial requirements in each of five groups of studies: (1) English composition and literature, (2) foreign language and literature, (one ancient language being included), (3) economics, history and political science, (4) natural science and (5) mathematics and philosophy."

In addition the student is required to devote a longer period of time to a major subject which he may choose and to write a thesis before graduation.

The future success of the new course was spoken of by the magazine as follows "Since the curriculum must compete on even terms with the less exacting curriculum of the general B. A. degree one cannot predict its success with certainty. The faculty and students received it cordially, and certain of the most promising among the latter have promptly enrolled under it. All agree that the new course provides an orderly introduction to the essentials of human nature."

BOUQUET PIES TO GO ON SALE TODAY

An auction sale of all the pies baked by home economics students who are competing for the bouquet to be awarded by the Grafters club is the principal feature of the annual pie and apple show that is being held in the Horticulture building today. More than 60 pies, and approximately 100 plates of apples will be on exhibition at the show.

"This has been an unusually good year for apples," Prof. J. G. Moore said yesterday. "An exceptionally large exhibit is anticipated on that account."

Twenty varieties of chrysanthemums and exhibits of other flowers may be seen at the show. Keen competition is expected among the agries to buy the pies on the silver dollar which will be auctioned off in the evening.

Fruit displays from Michigan, Missouri, New Hampshire, New York and other states are on exhibition.

250 Haresfoot Follies Tickets on Sale Today

Tickets for the Fifth Annual Haresfoot follies and dance to be held December 2 were placed on sale yesterday at Morgan's and the University pharmacy by Sidney Thorson '24, and Samuel Thompson '24 in charge of the ticket sale. Only 250 tickets are being sold in order that Lathrop concert room and gym may not be crowded. Tickets are priced at $2.

START PETITION FOR HOLIDAY ON FRIDAY, DEC. 1

Student Opinion Favors Suspension of Classes After Turkey Day

A wave of sentiment in favor of suspension of classes on the Friday following Thanksgiving day swept the campus yesterday when petitions advocating the move were circulated among students.

Last night students using automobiles visited all homes in the university district with 200 petition forms in search of endorsers.

For those who have not signed the petitions and desire to do so, there will be a table on the first floor of Union building from 8 o'clock until 5 today where all signatures will be taken. Tonight the petitions will be taken to the dean's office to be acted upon.

Student Heads in Favor

Representative student opinion as expressed to The Cardinal last night was unanimous in its approbation of suspension. The opinions of organization head follow:

Leslie Gage, president of Union board—I am heartily in favor of having a week end at Thanksgiving time to enable people to go home.

Robert Stewart, president of the Council of 40—I don't see that the university is going to gain anything by having classes on Friday. Nobody will be prepared or in a condition for school. Let's go home for a good turkey dinner and come back in good shape for classes on Monday.

Cleo Parsley, president of S. G. A.—It seems to me that the tradition of having the family together at Thanksgiving time should be encouraged. I believe that there would be more satisfaction from every standpoint to have classes suspended on Friday so that students may spend Thanksgiving with their families.

Howard Lyman, business manager of the Badger—I feel that the good will of the students gained by granting their request to have classes excused on Friday would more than offset the loss of a day's work.

Senate Prexy Approves

Maynard Brown, president of the Student senate—Friday is probably the lightest day of the week. I feel that students will appreciate the faculty action which will permit them to spend Thanksgiving at home and that they will make up the four hours work they lose.

Gamber Tegtmeyer, editor-in-chief of the 1924 Badger—No school on Thursday spoils the week end as far as studying is concerned and it seems only logical to suspend Friday classes. What is one day of school compared to the good will of thousands of students who will be required to spend Thanksgiving away from home unless the petition is granted?

"With the approach of Thanksgiving day the feeling has grown on the campus to have classes suspended so that students may go home to enjoy their turkey and cranberry sauce," Lee Hanson '24, one of the backers of the movement said yesterday. "The desire to have no classes on Friday has been expressed by many and it is expected that many signers will be found for the petitions."

"Punkin Holler" Goat is Learning Mule Tricks

That residents of "Punkin Holler" are adopting the latest fads of Dame Fashion was learned yesterday when rumor became current on the campus that a goat will be auctioned off at the annual "Punkin Holler Community Meetin'" to be held in Agricultural hall Friday night.

The pet goat is owned by Clement J. Weyker '25, general chairman of the event. The ruminant has been pasturing with the famous "Punkin Holler" mule and is said to have acquired many of the tricks of the mule.

LEITH GIVES QUAKE CAUSE

Geology Professor Says Chileans Ignore Frequent Ground Tremors

"Slow, creeping movements in the upper portion of the earth's surface causing a strain on the rocks and finally an upheaval or breakage are usually responsible for earthquakes" Prof. Charles K. Leith of the geology department said yesterday referring to the recent quake in Chile. Professor Leith spent last winter in Chile.

"The memory of the people is short when earthquakes are concerned. Towns are destroyed time and time again, but few people, in spite of warnings, seem to profit by the experience," Professor Leith said.

"Scarcely a week passed last winter in Chile without a mild quake. They were always a common topic of conversation," he added.

A delicate instrument, the seismograph, records even slight movements of the earth caused by traffic and it registers earthquakes best at a distance of 500 miles or more, Professor Leith said describing methods of detecting quakes.

Seismographs have been installed in many parts of the country and especially in large universities. The instruments are self recording and a ribbon of paper on which tremors are recorded is kept moving by clock work.

Earthquakes travel around the world at the rate of 2 miles per second and it takes about 20 minutes for a quake to pass through one of the earth's diameters," Professor Leith said.

In the regions where there are young mountains, and especially in the Andes, earthquakes occur frequently. In the earthquake zone the tremors tend to be severe. The exact relation of tidal waves to earthquakes is not known, according to Professor Leith.

GIVES $1,000,000 TO SCHOOLS IN ORIENT

Mrs. John D. Rockefeller has promised $1,000,000 for the support of the seven colleges for women in the Orient if the women of America will raise $2,000,000 more.

A meeting was held in Chicago Sunday at the Grace Methodist church to arouse interest in the campaign for funds. It is reported that about half of the $2,000,000 has been subscribed.

The meeting Sunday was addressed by Ellen F. Pendleton, president of Wellesley college, who came from Boston to speak at the massmeeting.

"There is a small but strong group in Japan that is working for democracy and who look with favor upon the education of women," President Pendleton said, "But co-education with the moral standards now prevailing are looked upon with fear."

"The government itself makes no provision for the higher education of women, and it is necessary for the women of America to help."

Class Hears Indian Sing of Ancient Lore

An Indian concert by Brave Eagle of the Sioux nation accompanied by Harold A. Loring, who spent 12 years at various Indian reservations studying the music and lore of these tribes, was given before the musical appreciation class conducted by Charles H. Mills, director of the School of Music, yesterday.

Dressed in his native costume, Brave Eagle sang Indian love songs and played weird Indian music on a "tom tom".

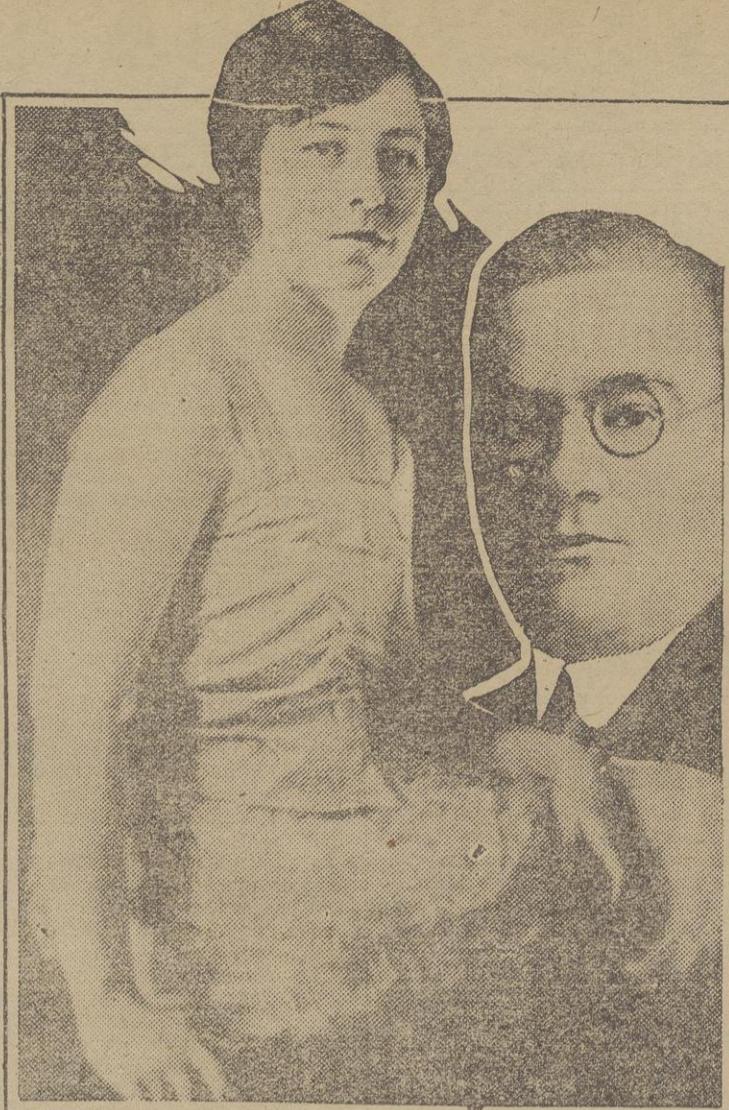

The illustrations of Indian songs accompanied by Mr. Loring on the piano were fascinating accounts of the customs and folklore of the Indian. It gave the students a glimpse of the real Indian as few know him.

President Roosevelt appointed Mr. Loring to visit the Indian tribes and record their legends and music for the United States government.

"Brave Eagle belongs to the buffalo clan," Mr. Loring said. "When he was a boy, he was sent to a dream nest. Here he remained alone and without food for three days."

"During his sleep he dreamed of the buffalo, and thus, the buffalo became his clan spirit. This is the custom of certain Indian tribes in choosing the society to which the young Indian is to belong."

Mrs. Morrison Tells of Feature Story Future

A clear cut exposition of both the news and the feature type of story was made by Mrs. Frank B. Morrison at Esther Vilas hall Monday night in her talk on "Feature Writing."

"The human interest story and the straight special feature article constitute the two chief types of real feature writing. The first makes a desperate appeal to human emotions; the second may deal with any subject under the sun."

Mrs. Morrison emphasized the great opportunities for the writer of vision in the free lance field of special features.

"What the public wants," was Mrs. Morrison's answer to the question of what made real news. "The right word in the right place is the biggest job of the most accurate reporter. The five W's, when, where, what, why, and who must be shuffled properly into the first paragraph to accommodate the hasty reader," she said.

Mrs. Morrison will deliver the third and last talk of her series at 8 o'clock Monday evening in Esther Vilas hall.

NEWSPAPER SHORT COURSE IS PLANNED

The Course in Journalism will give a newspaper short course for the newspaper men of Wisconsin February 1 to 3. The course is being given at the request of the Wisconsin Press association and is to be held in conjunction with their annual meeting.

The purpose of the course is to aid Wisconsin journalists in putting out better papers and in solving some of their common problems. Plans are well under way to present three days of intensive work for editors and other workers on the newspapers in the state, especially those in the weekly field.

In order to have as large an attendance as possible, special attention is being given to the matter of expense. Arrangements will be made to get rooms and board at the lowest possible figure if those who are planning to enter the course enter early.

The classes will be conducted as are the regular classes in the Journalism course, but will occupy only the mornings. The afternoons will be given over to the talks of prominent men secured by the association. The evenings will be devoted to entertainment.

TIGERS RANKED CHAMPS AFTER YALE CONTEST

Win Eastern Pennant; May Hold National Title

The gridiron classic of the East was settled last Saturday when Princeton walked off with the championship of the Big Three by nosing out Yale in a 3 to 0 score.

The dropkick of Smith in the third quarter was the factor which placed Yale in the downtrodden class with Harvard.

Princeton officially closed its football season and now looks back on a clean slate. Old acquaintances were renewed in the game at Chicago where the Tiger evened old scores by slipping the Maroons a 21 to 18 defeat.

May Claim National Title

Should Chicago win over Wisconsin next Saturday they will be champions of the Big Ten which might allow Princeton to claim the championship of the United States.

Yale will not close its season until this coming Saturday when they play Harvard in the Yale bowl. A great battle will result in this engagement.

Harvard's defeat at the hands of Brown last week makes them look somewhat weak while the Princeton victory over the Bulldog places them on about the same level.

Brown Upsets Harvard

Brown's 3 to 0 win over Harvard was quite an upset. The defeat of the Crimson at the hands of Brown makes it appear that Harvard ignored the Brown game and pointed all its efforts to a victory over Yale. If this is true the contest in the Yale bowl Saturday, will, no doubt, be a terrific battle.

Cornell strengthened the belief of the sport writers that they have one of the strongest teams in the East by smothering Albright under a 48 to 14 score.

The 7 to 6 victory of Pennsylvania over Penn State was a fluke. No two teams could be more evenly matched than were the above. Inability on the part of Penn State to acquire the point after touchdown changed their status from a tie to a defeated team.

Saturday Closes East Season

Dartmouth gave Columbia its annual drubbing with a 28 to 7 defeat. Dartmouth has been playing remarkable football this season and as a result entered the Columbia fray the favorites.

Pittsburgh's 19 to 0 victory over Washington and Jefferson was another upset of the past week. It was the team that held the powerful California eleven to a scoreless tie and the team which has gone undefeated for three years that Pittsburgh upset.

Army's 39 to 0 win over Bates was more or less expected and merely added another victory to its long list.

Next Saturday will be the close of the season for the larger colleges and universities of the East and it will be then that their record for the year can be compiled.

NORTHWESTERN WORKS HARD FOR WIN FROM IOWA

(Special to the Cardinal)

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 21.—After easily defeating Monmouth College, 58-14, Coach Glenn Thistlewaite will bend every possible effort in attempting to upset the dope when Northwestern clashes with Iowa here next Saturday.

According to all indications this will be one of the hardest games of the season for the Purple.

The team is loaded for the Iowa contest. Coach Maurice Kent has been in the press box at three Iowa games including the Gopher contest. This fact in itself indicates that nothing would please the Purple mentor more than to upset Iowa.

All of the Purple men ended the game Saturday in fine condition. At present there are no men on the hospital list and every man will be in the pink of condition when the team trots out on the field this Saturday.

Harvard's Success Against Yale Depends on Generalship of Buell, Crimson Star Captain

Charley Buell in action, passing ball to Farback, Crimson back, and a closeup of the fiery leader.

The wonderful generalship and intrepid leadership of Charley Buell, captain and quarter of the Harvard football team is the life of the Crimson's game this year. The team showed in its attack on

Princeton that it is rudderless and dazed without the fiery little leader. Buell, injured, was forced to retire in that contest. His condition will determine Harvard's success against Yale in their annual clash. Now on crutches to rest an injured ankle and leg he hopes to be in shape to at least start the game against the Bulldog when the teams meet Nov. 25.

VARSITY TANK NEARLY READY

Pool, 60 by 20, to Have Complete Filtration and Purifying System

The reconstruction work on the swimming tank in the men's gymnasium will be completed within the next few weeks, according to A. F. Gallistel, superintendent of the university buildings and the grounds.

The present delay is due to the late shipment of the tiling to be used in finishing off the walk around the outside of the tank, Gallistel said yesterday.

The size of the new tank is 60 by 20 feet as compared to the standard size 60 by 30 feet. Two filters are being installed through which the water will be passed in order to remove any materials which are held in suspension.

A chemical purifier also will be included in the filtration unit to deodorize and destroy any harmful bacteria. With this new system the water in the tank will be changed only about every 60 days whereas formerly the tank was drained every Saturday during the winter season.

One of the features on the new tank is the splash trough running around the tank at the water level. This trough will drain off any scummy material and act as a wave breaker in keeping the surface of the water quiet.

The tank is 4 and 8 feet deep at the shallow and deep ends respectively. It has three inlets on the north end and one outlet at the bottom toward which the incline of the basin slopes.

The total cost of the reconstruction work will be more than $15,000. The tiling is being done by Nieder and company of Milwaukee. The biology department of the university is supervising the filtration work.

AMES DOPED AS POSSIBLE CROSS COUNTRY VICTOR

When the Wisconsin cross country team lines up for the start at the Conference meet at Purdue next Saturday, it will find some competition which it will have to make real time against to beat. The pick of distance runners from 12 universities are entered.

With Tschudy and Wade of the Badger team vying for first honors and Moorhead and Valley stepping some fast time in the daily workouts, Coach Mead Burke does not need to fear a poor showing from his men. While hope for a first place is strong among the me points that the Badgers are not likely to place higher than third.

Looks Like Ames

Dopers point to Ames as the probable winner of the meet. The Iowa School recently romped off with the Missouri Valley meet without having any close competition, in spite of the fact that Rathbun, one of the fastest distance men in country, was not running. With its full team of runners Ames is bound to place near the top.

Besides Rathbun, Seaton and Briebaum will be running for Ames. These men have been doing some fast stepping this fall and the victory in the Valley meet was due directly to their good work.

Michigan, with captain Bowen and Isbell, is rated high from past work. Isbell was the dark horse in who took first place in the meet when the Wolverines eked out a 28-27 victory over Wisconsin a month ago. Bowen runs a fast race and has been coming in behind Isbell in the dual meets which Michigan has run this fall.

Illinois May Show Well

Illinois may be expected to put up a good showing. Four men of ability are running on the Indian harrier team and they will probably do much toward placing Illinois near the top of the column. Toppen, Scott, Thrasher, and Wells are men upon whom Illinois depends.

While Ohio is not expected to place high, the Buckeyes have two men who may be feared. Gurney and Wikoff have been showing speed which will make them dangerous.

20 FROSH WILL GO TO CHICAGO

Yearlings End Successful Year With Good Varsity Prospects

Twenty of the best men on the freshman football team will be picked to go to Chicago this week with the Varsity as a reward for faithful services.

The freshman team is closing one of the most successful seasons the first year men ever have had in Badger history. Many of the men will bid high for positions on the Varsity next year.

The strength of the frosh team is not to be underestimated this year. Not only did it hold the sophs to one touchdown and add one to their own string, but it has been a great help to the Varsity in scrimmage. Time and again the frosh have held the Varsity and even have scored on them.

Nelson at end will be a great help to the Varsity next year. With Gus out of the lineup a new wingman will have to be developed, and Nelson looks good in that position.

Next year will find the pivot position rather weak, and here again is a frosh, Scanlon, that has been showing up well. Scanlon has proved himself a real lineman this year and should bid high for the pivot position next year. Short and McCormick are two more frosh linemen that will aid in strengthening the varsity forward wall next year.

Reuland was the big find of the season for the frosh. The fore part of the season the little speed demon played at the half back position until Williams the frosh quarter was injured. Then Reuland was shifted to quarter. Reuland can run a field that would remind one of a real all-American quarter. And he can pass and kick. Reuland hails from Reedsburg.

Williams and Wallace, two frosh that met with injuries this season, will add much to the material for Varsity next year. Both of these men proved themselves real football players before injuries forced them out of the game.

"BEAT CHICAGO" IS WAR CRY OF 9,000 BADGERS

Maroons Not Given Edge Over Richards' Fighting Eleven

"Beat Chicago" is the slogan of a Wisconsin football team and about 9,000 Badger partisans, all of whom will be at Stagg field when Maroons clash with the proteges of Coach John R. Richards in the annual Midwestern football classic this Saturday.

With only three days more in which to prepare his men for the Chicago game, Coach Richards is permitting no let-up in drills. A portion of signal practice and scrimmage with Coach Lowman's omelettes was served the Varsity yesterday afternoon.

Using Chicago tandem formations, the reserves had fair success in piercing the Badger line. Although the first team line was changed from that which started in the Michigan game, it worked well on offense and opened up big holes through which Varsity backs ploughed.

Harris Will Get Chance

Jack Harris took a turn in the backfield during the signal drill. He carried the ball a few times in the short skirmish and was then withdrawn. The injury to Harris' leg has healed enough so that the rippling halfback is in condition to play.

Gibson and Williams will participate in their last game of collegiate football against Chicago, but it is likely that Harris will be given a chance before the last whistle ends the game and draws the curtain on Wisconsin's Conference football season.

The Wisconsin squad is in good condition after its tough struggle with Michigan. Some of the men are still suffering from minor injuries, but every gridiron will be in condition to "swat Chicago" if necessary. With nothing to lose and everything to gain, Coach Richards will throw every reserve force into the breach in an effort to best the Staggmen.

A fairly successful season will be made more satisfactory if the Williams gang administrators its first defeat to Chicago. While the Maroons have gone through without defeat, their playing has not been impressive enough to give them an edge over Wisconsin.

Thomas, A Dangerous Back

Northwestern, Purdue, Ohio State and Illinois lost to the Chicago outfit. No team was badly beaten and some glaring weak spots showed in the Stagg eleven. Strohmeier, originally an end, has been shifted to quarterback with the result that his judgment on calling plays has been questioned several times. Lampe, another wingman, is hurt, and it is doubtful if he can play against Wisconsin. This loss is counteracted by the return of Dickson, who was injured in the Ohio State game.

It is the Maroons backfield, and one player in particular, which will offer the most trouble Saturday. Any team that can stop John Thomas as can stop Chicago. Harold Thomas, Jimmy Pyott, Bill Zorn, Strohmeier, and Felice Caruso are all good backfield men, but they form only the wheel held together by the king-pin, John Thomas.

Marty Below, star Wisconsin tackle, is expected to perform some effective work in halting the Maroon offensive. Below has been one of the most brilliant linemen in the Conference this season. He is a hard tackler. In games played this year, Marty has been down the field under punts simultaneously with the ball and Gus Tebelle.

Kipke was thrown for losses in the Michigan tilt and other Big Ten halfbacks suffered the same fate. Because of his consistent effectiveness, Below will be under consideration for a tackle post on many honorary elevens selected after the close of the season.

With war-horse Gus Tebelle, Below, Fat Smith and the other forwards "roarin' in there" Saturday, the Wisconsin team may be able to hold the Maroons offense and score a victory in its last game.

Approximately 410 electrical engineers were in training in the College of Engineering last year.

SOCIALISM IN EDUCATION

CHANGING years bring new ideas in the progress of society.

Changing years also bring a solidity in the prospect of an older generation.

It is always the old-timer in the crowd who sees destruction and ruin in modern society if frivolity of youth is not halted or perhaps if amendments to the government continue as needs of the people demand them.

What is more to be pitied is that a distinguished man of journalism, Melville E. Stone, founder of the Associated Press and former editor of the Chicago Daily News, has made the mistake of false accusations against the University of Wisconsin.

And all because one of the new ideas in modern life is presented to the students in much the same freedom that evolution is offered for study.

In a recent address to the Michigan Press club, at Ann Arbor, Mr. Stone made a scathing attack upon Harvard and Wisconsin. He declared:

"The atmosphere of Harvard has been surcharged with socialism. I make no pretense that our government is perfect. I dislike the man who talks about being 100 percent American."

"Whatever may be said fairly to the contrary, our government is the best the world has seen and I do not believe that the fact that it is imperfect justifies an attempt to displace it and to substitute mob rule.

"It is time to take this matter very seriously in mind. The very civilization of the world is trembling in the balance."

"I have spoken freely of Harvard because it is the oldest, and I think, our leading university. It can stand best the attack. But it is not the only one of our schools that is open to justify criticism."

"There are others. Certain of the professors at the University of Wisconsin and certain at Wellesley, Vassar and even Bryn Mawr have attracted attention."

When a professor presents the truth of a new idea in political science, he certainly is not attempting to overthrow the government and "displace it with mob rule."

Free thinking and the presentation of the truth about various subjects are the tests of a great university. Progress of society is determined by the thought given to its needs and its conditions.

Because Mr. Stone has in previous attacks deplored the recent amendments to the constitution and also the direct primary for the people, we do not believe that Americans are going to return to the convention system for selecting their candidates or be content with the constitution for all time to come.

Even President Harding, conservative statesman that he is, has recommended changes to the constitution. And certainly Mr. Harding is no socialist.

The attack upon the University of Wisconsin is not justified. Mr. Stone is 30 years behind the times.

SEATTLE TO MADISON

A HIGH school editor at Seattle, Wash., has written to the local director of the Central Interscholastic Press association, inquiring about railroad rates and details of the convention here December 1 and 2.

Conventions are now the ordinary. Organizations are so abundant and poses that we are inclined to remain:

"Just a convention of some sort by another one of these organizations."

The young man at Seattle on the Pacific side of our continent is only a high school student. And yet he has signified his intention of attending a convention of other high school men here at Madison, Wis., many hundreds of miles distant.

The interest which the high school editor at Seattle is taking in the coming convention of the Central Interscholastic Press association is only one instance. Many others in the far West have written to Harold E. McClelland '23, director of the association, announcing their plan to be present.

The convention is not an ordinary one. High school students don't participate in many conventions and seldom do they go to the trouble of making trips from the coast to attend them.

And yet the high school has long been neglected in consideration of movements to improve the students through professional instruction. Vocational training has been introduced only recently in the class rooms. Classical subjects of humanities were given. The student was expected to obtain his professional or business training after graduation.

A professional inspiration in the high school editors will do much to instill in the students of the high school a higher respect for their school papers and annuals.

This is one of the unique aims of the association which will convene here next month. The result will be worth watching.

When The New York Sun deceived thousands of readers by the fake story about human beings on the moon, journalism was in its infancy. The defects of the profession at that period are now apparent. The weaknesses and shortcomings of that personal period of newspaper editing were many. History has exposed them in a critical fashion.

We now smile as we think of the moon hoax. It seems too extravagant for acceptance.

But the moon hoax of long ago still lives to some extent in the journalism of today. While many of the defects of the profession have been eliminated, others remain which should be purged.

The profession has improved to the extent that the personal type of journalism has gone, the biased political organ is less popular, and the yellow sensational papers are waning in their strength.

The era of constructive journalism is beckoning for youth. It is an opportunity. The Central Interscholastic press association is worth while 100 per cent. It deserves the very best that Wisconsin can give it.

THANKSGIVING TURKEY

IT is an undeniable and inalienable right of every American citizen, free, white, and more or less than 21, to gather 'round the Thanksgiving board at home. Thanksgiving, that typically American holiday, is a time for family felicity about a table heaped high with the fruits of the harvest.

To be forced to eat boarding house duck or cafeteria cranberries on Thanksgiving day is a cruel and unusual punishment for any youthful individual far from home. Of this we emphatically remind the deans and other administrative officers who, a week from Thursday, will line themselves with the good things which their wives provide.

Thanksgiving is a holiday, and on that day no classes are held. But with classes on Friday and the no-cut rule in effect it is impossible for more than a few to eat mother's mince pie.

A petition is being circulated asking university authorities to sympathize with the student stomach and dismiss Friday classes.

To the students we say, sign that petition!

To the deans we say, have a heart!

MORE RUSHING PROGRESS

LIKE the fraternities, Wisconsin sororities are grappling with the problem of removing objectionable features from rushing. Their efforts are to be commended heartily.

Sorority rushing, with a small number of parties and a large number of rushees, has been necessarily a matter of hurried judgment involving many snap decisions on first impressions. The committee's proposal of lengthening the rushing period and increasing the number of parties will do much to eliminate snap judgement.

The method of financing the lengthened season appeals at first to one's sense of humor, but further consideration makes it seem quite worth trying. It is said to have been decidedly successful at Minnesota and other institutions and it is worth while if it makes possible more deliberate rushing.

The proposed elimination of such hokum as not wearing sorority pins during the rushing and the simplification of rules extending invitations to parties are decidedly encouraging.

One aspect of the situation, however, has not been touched. That is the system of extending bids. The preferential bid system has marked advantages, but it does not provide that rushees shall be informed concerning the ideals and purposes of the organizations they intend to join or concerning the financial obligations they will assume.

PARKER FAILS TO OBTAIN AID

U. S. Will Not Interfere in Louisiana Against Ku Klux

WASHINGTON—The federal government will not at this time mix into the Ku Klux Klan activities in Louisiana, which are alleged to have been of such scope and character as to frustrate the administration of justice by the officers of that state.

Announcement to this effect was made here last Monday by the white house following a lengthy conference between President Harding, Atty. Gen. Daugherty, Gov. John M. Parker, and Atty. G. V. Coco of Louisiana.

Gov. Parker made a full report on the Klan activities in Louisiana to President Harding and Mr. Daugherty.

It appeared that neither the president nor the attorney general considered the situation sufficiently serious to merit federal intervention, for when the conference was concluded, the following statement was given out by Mr. Daugherty on behalf of the president:

"It appears the state of Louisiana will be fully able to take care of the situation. There is nothing at this time for the government to do except to give assurances to the state authorities that whenever federal interests are involved, the federal authorities are ready to extend full co-operation."

To this Governor Parker added the following statement:

"The responsible government of Louisiana is determined that, regardless of cost or consequences, a most thorough investigation will be made of the outrages reported to have been made by the Ku Klux Klan in Louisiana.

"Certain terrorizing outrages have been committed, certain terrorizing crimes have been reported, and it is vital that responsibility shall be fixed and the offenders punished, not because of any organized association, but in spite of it.

DIST. ATTORNEY ISSUES APPEAL FOR ASSISTANTS

An appeal for a special county investigator and an assistant district attorney were made this afternoon by Dist. Atty. T. G. Lewis to the information committee of the Dane county board of supervisors.

"This year I am handling over 100 more cases than last year," said Mr. Lewis. "In 1921 I handled approximately 100 more cases than Roman Heilman did in 1920. The number is on the increase and courts are becoming clogged.

"The situation compels me to 'guilty,' for no human being can get down and bargain for pleas of properly investigate, prepare, and try the number of cases that come before the court.

"A special investigator is absolutely necessary. None of the outlying districts have enforcement officials. All classes are protecting bootleggers by not wishing to become entangled in a legal procedure to punish him. I need a man that can get into the heart of matters about the county and investigate in a manner that will bring criminals into court.

The Secret of Business Leadership

If you have taken advantage of your college training—if you have made the most of the opportunity presented through your various associations in school, you have become inspired with certain fixed ideals and definite ambitions. Your aim is high. You are anxious for progress and growth. You wish to become a credit to yourself and your family. You want to become a leader and establish a reputation for yourself in the field you have selected for your life's work. Have you chosen business? If so, and if you seek leadership in the commercial world — here are facts worthy of your deepest consideration.

The principles of leadership in business are not many in number. They are not hard to grasp. Yet less than two men in one hundred ever learn them.

The two chief reasons for this failure are: (1) — lack of an all-round business experience. (2) — the difficulty of drawing sound conclusions from the relatively few experiences that any one person can have.

A Study of Leaders

Through your studies thus far you have created for yourself a substantial background—a foundation upon which you can build high. Why not use this foundation in the largest possible way? If you are truly ambitious for steady and permanent progress, it will be well for you—in addition to your undergraduate work—to consider the advisability of special training which will cut off years of apprenticeship in the business world. This training is available at the Babson Institute—an educational institution organized under the laws of Massachusetts not for profit.

Every man who hopes to be a leader in the business world needs special training—a training that can be had only from actual experience. A study of the successful business men of today shows they are those who have—(1)—a fundamental knowledge of business principles; (2)—a faculty for the practical application of these principles to daily business life.

These tried and proven principles, this gift for application may now be yours.

The Business of Learning Business

The specialists of the Babson Institute have spent years in business research, laboratory work, and the study of the lives of successful men. They have arrived at the fundamentals which every one must have to achieve leadership in business. These vitally important facts have been put together in clear, understandable form and con-

The Laboratory Method

Since it is the purpose of the Babson Institute Course to train men for business, all work and all study is conducted in the same manner as work is conducted in any regularly established business house. For instance, there are regular office hours not merely school hours. Lessons and reports are dictated by the student as in an office—not written. Thus the student acquires a mastery of business English and the ability to transform quickly his thoughts into definite form.

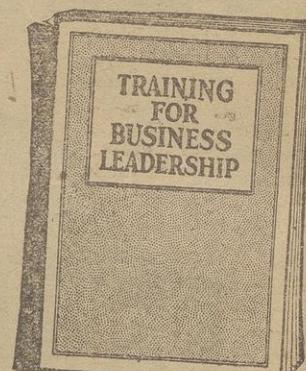

Teaching in Conference

Classes are conducted on the conference plan. The teachers, or directors as they are more properly called, are experienced business men, successful in their own line. Factory inspection trips are not long distance walking matches, but personally conducted tours by experts in that particular industry. The problems discussed are present-day ones and are drawn from actual experience. They are the same problems on which over 17,000 of America's keenest executives are seeking aid and solution from the largest organization of business advisers in the world. The student at Babson Institute works on actual cases—not hypothetical problems—and consequently he develops the business man's point of view.

Business Clinics

The student at the Babson Institute learns to do the things he will be expected to do in business by constant contact with actual business procedure. He participates in the clinic instead of sitting in a class. The training covers the four major divisions of business, Manufacturing and Production, Financing, Distribution and Marketing, and Management.

If you are anxious for achievement, if, by inheritance or initiative, you seem destined to become one of our leaders of business, send for particulars about this training and its unusual teaching methods.

Send for this Booklet!

HARDING URGES SUBSIDY BILL

"Wobblies" Misrepresented,
Says Prof. Lescobier at Lions' Meeting

WASHINGTON—Enactment of the administration merchant marine bill was urged upon congress today by Pres. Harding as necessary to relieve the government of present "staggering losses" in operation of the war built merchant fleet, and to establish a program of assured shipping to serve the nation in war and give a guarantee of commercial independence in time of peace.

Personally addressing a joint session of the House and Senate the executive declared an actual monetary saving to the government would result from the proposed law. He challenged every insinuation of favored interests and the enriching of the special few at the expense of the public treasury. The legislation, he asserted, automatically guarded against enrichment or perpetual bestowal.

If success attend, as we hope it will, he added, the government outlay is returned, the inspiration of opportunity to earn remains, and American transportation by sea is maintained. The president said concern about the American merchant marine policy was not limited "to our own domain" adding that the maritime nations of the world "were in accord with the opposition here to the pending measure."

Mr. Harding declared it would be most discouraging if a measure of "such transcending national importance" must have its fate depend on geographical, occupational, professional or partisan objection.

"It is a common cause with its benefits commonly shared," said he.

If government is a fair term to apply to authorizations aggregating $75,000,000 to promote good roads for market highways, the president, added it is equally fit to be applied to the establishment and maintenance of American market highways on the "salted seas."

SAYS I. W. W. NOT CRIMINALS

Would Be Aid in War and Peace, President Tells Congress

"The I. W. W.'s are not as a whole criminal or dangerous, but merely the underdogs of society," said Prof. D. D. Descobier of the economics department this noon in a speech before the Lion's club. Prof. Lescobier has made an extensive study of labor conditions in the west for the U. S. department of agriculture.

"In the great wheat fields of the west a large amount of seasonal labor is needed in harvest time, and this labor is supplied by migratory laborers, who drift from one place to another," said Prof. Lescobier. "Investigations have proved that these men are not dangerous criminals, but they come in contact with the worst classes of society and are embittered against society as a whole."

"Most of the cases of sabotage that I have investigated are done because of some personal enmity, or no explanation can be found. Newspapers and the people of the country too readily ascribe these deeds to the I. W. W."

"Society has nothing to fear from the I. W. W. because in the camps which I investigated I found very little disorder or violence."

Breaks Record

Burgess Battery Trial Still Going After 80 Days

The suit of the Burgess Battery Co. against the French Battery & Carbon Co. has gained the distinction of being the longest trial on record in the Dane county circuit court, and as far as can be determined is one of the longest, if not the longest, trial on record in this state.

The trial has been in progress since Aug. 28, about 80 days. It will last several weeks more.

"I have known trials to go three and four weeks," said Judge E. Ray Stevens today, "but this is the longest of any trial on record to my knowledge."

The case involves an alleged infringement on patent rights. Most of the testimony is of a technical nature. Two tamping machines, one of which is claimed to be an infringement on the other, are now on exhibit in the circuit court. On these two machines and the testimony hang the results of the trial.

Engineering Sells, Too!

A whole lot of the make-believe has been eliminated from selling operations in the past ten years. The old idea that salesmen were born to the sample-case, that they carried some sort of a special diploma from the University of Pooh, has had to break camp, along with the other exploded theory which insisted that a salesman must be a "good fellow", a man of strange habits, tremendous stories, and unquestioned qualities both as a mixer, and as an assimilator.

Now we believe—nay, we know—that the best salesman is the man who knows most about his goods, and can talk most interestingly about them.

This being the proven case, it isn't so queer that engineering should find a real and effective application in the selling field, especially if the merchandise marketed is an engineering product that is bought and operated by engineers.

Every engineer who now engages in the sale and distribution of Westinghouse products feels that he is doing work worthy of his training—for he is carrying Service and Sincerity to Industry, and to mankind! He is out where the fighting is often the fiercest, and he is putting up a battle for the things that he believes are right. And a man can't expect, nor ask, a bigger chance than that!

Sixty percent, approximately, of the engineering graduates who come to Westinghouse find their way eventually into some phase of selling. And we are proud to have them there—and they are glad to be there!

FISHY ODOR IN BUTTER TO GO

Graduate Student From South Africa Discovers New Neutralizer

The fishy odor in butter, formerly an important destroyer of butter in cold storage, can be prevented by neutralizing the lecithin in the cream, B. J. Smit, graduate student in the university, working under the direction of Prof. H. H. Sommers of the dairy school, has discovered.

The lecithin decomposes, forming trimethylamine, the substance that causes the fishy odor. Smit discovered that the conditions favoring the decomposition of the lecithin were identical with those forming the fishy taste and odor.

Trimethylamine forms in highly acid cream, in the presence of excess salt, in oxidation caused by over-working the butter while making and in the presence of iron and copper, found in worn-off cream cans which act as a catalytic agent.

Neutralizing the sour cream and keeping it in new clean cans are the preventives of the fishy odor. The old theories for the cause of the fishy odor, fishy salt, impurities in the milk and chemical action caused by the presence of bacteria are all disproved by Smit's discovery.

Smit is a resident of South Africa. He has been working at the university for the past three years. He left here last week to go to the agricultural schools at Ames, Ia., Illinois, Cornell and Washington, D. C., before sailing November 25 for England on his way back to South Africa where he will be employed by the government in Transvaal.

MAY HEAR UNION COLLEGE RADIO IN EUROPE SOON

A radiophone broadcasting station that may be heard in Europe will be the possession of Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., when work now under way is completed.

Station WRL, as it is known to radio fans, then will be not only the first college to possess such an equipment, but the first amateur station capable of carrying on regular communication across the Atlantic.

Union first entered the radio contest two years ago with a wireless baby carriage that aroused widespread interest. It was shown throughout the world in motion pictures. It was not adopted, however.

The station also is remembered as a pioneer in the broadcasting of entertainment. Starting in October, 1920, under the call letters 2ADD, the college plant has had the satisfaction of seeing the United States seeded with scores of stations.

With the completion of the changes Union will have four or five experienced operators ready to make the tests. Long distance continuous wave transmission is the new field in radio work and this is the field which will be explored by the college radio men in the tests they will make under the auspices of the American Radio Relay league.

Columbia Student Killed By Exploding Chemicals

The death, Friday, of William E. Spandow, a senior in the course of chemical engineering at the University of Columbia, was caused by chemicals exploding in the laboratory.

Spandow, whose home was in the dormitory of Havemeyer hall, Memphis, Tenn., graduated several years ago from the University of Denver and would have been a graduate from Columbia next February.

The force of the explosion shattered windows in all parts of the building and tore up the floor in the laboratory. Several other students were injured, and classes in the hall were disrupted.

Valparaiso Students in Automobile Smash-up

Five students at Valparaiso university were arraigned yesterday morning in Hobart, Ind., on charges growing out of a smash-up, Monday when an automobile in which they were speeding from Gary to Valparaiso plunged over a 15 foot embankment and crashed through the side of a brick gasoline station. In the car was found a bottle of moonshine liquor and the police charge that all of the five men were intoxicated.

Editor The Cardinal:

Last Saturday the famous Wisconsin spirit was nearly defeated at the hands of her own students. Fifteen hundred loyal Wisconsin fans went to Ann Arbor to see the greatest game of the decade, only to find their enthusiasm thwarted by the greed for tickets.

A block of 2500 seats were sold supposedly to Wisconsin supporters but there were nearly as many Michigan rooters in the Wisconsin section as there were Badgers. The yell leaders could hardly get a following. The Michigan rooters laughed at them as they frantically tried to pull our scattered rooters together.

Let's all get together and declare war on the LOYAL WISCONSIN STUDENTS who scalp tickets for their friends on the opposite side. They are the ones who are hurting Wisconsin Spirit and they are generally the ones who are the first to criticize the team in defeat or to say, "Look what WE did", in victory.

Madison Walks on Rubber—He's Leading

About 75 per cent of the pedestrians of Madison wear rubber heels on their shoes, the men out numbering the women, say the shoe dealers and repairers on the university end of State street.

The repairmen give a higher percentage to rubber in all cases than do the dealers, thus showing that even though a shoe is bought minus a rubber heel, one is put on as soon as the shoe goes to the repair shop.

Madison is typical of the nation in regard to wearing rubber heels. The United States census shows that 60 per cent of the shoes manufactured in the country today are equipped with rubber heels. In 1919 there were 275,357,206 pairs of leather boots and shoes made in the United States and 138,468,769 pairs of rubber heels manufactured.

The Walk Over Boot shop estimates that 75 per cent of their men's shoes came from the factory with rubber heels. Most of the women's shoes, about 35 per cent, have rubber heels. Jensen's Boot shop sells fewer shoes with rubber heels than two years ago but put on many to order.

John J. Werth of the United States Repair shop states that he sells 90 per cent rubber heels in repairing shoes. At the Madison Electrical Shoe Repairing shop from 75 to 80 in 100 pairs of shoes are repaired with rubber heels.

Ming Toy, the heroine as played by Constance Talmadge, is a constant source of joy to Billy Benson, who loves her in "East Is West," the First National attraction which will be shown at the Strand theatre starting today.

But she is also a constant source of woe to the kindly Lo Sang Kee who aids her escape from China.

Ming Toy, in her innocence, winks from her balcony at Jimmy Potter, a settlement worker. She thinks that the wink is an American form of greeting, for she has seen the girls in Kelly's dance hall across the street wink at the fellows and has seen the greeting promptly answered.

But Jimmy Potter takes the matter seriously and threatens to drive Lo Sang Kee from Cainatown for harboring Ming Toy. The Billy Benson, Potter's chum, arrives and finds that the cause of all this perturbation is the girl whom he loves.

GRIDIRON CONFERENCE IN EAST WOULD IMPROVE GAME THERE, EXPERTS AGREE

John Heisman, veteran coach who suggests such a conference, and (inset) John L. Griffith, high commissioner of the "Big Ten" conference in the west.

The recent plea of Coach John Heisman of Pennsylvania for a football conference in the east to compare in scope and general makeup with that of the "Big Ten" in the west is expected to create considerable discussion by the time another grid season rolls around. The lack of uniformity in eligibility and scholarship rules, lack of co-operation between the colleges of the east and the direct result of both—lack of definite grounds on which to base any championship claims—have prevented the east from keeping pace with the west in developing football.

subject to ruination by obnoxious manufacturing plants and industrial enterprises. Health also is looked to in the clause of the ordinance which requires six foot side yards and no rear yard less than 10 feet deep. This assures residents lighted and airy houses, eliminating the congestion of previous years.

The passage of the ordinance Monday night marks the close of many heated discussions which have prevailed among residents and city fathers since its conception more than two years ago. First mention was made on the floor of the council chamber at the city hall by Ald. George Gill who fathered the ordinance creating the city plan commission while a member of the council during the Sayle administration. No appointments to the commission were made by Mr. Sayle whose term expired shortly after this ordinance was adopted. I. Milo Kittleson succeeded in office and appointed the commission whose work was completed after many meetings covering a period of over a year.

Members of the commission whose efforts are responsible for the success of the ordinance are: Mayor I. Milo Kittleson, chairman; Ald. Joseph L. Starr, E. N. Warner, Frank Alford, Louis Hirsig, Leo T. Crowley, E. E. Parker, city engineer.

Wisconsin's weed problem and its peril to agriculture was the subject of an address by C. P. Norgord, of the state department of agriculture, and a discussion by the Dane county board of supervisors at a meeting in the court house last night.

"Within the last 20 years the Canada thistle and the quack grass have increased more than 20 per cent," said Mr. Norgord. "Especially is this rapid gain true of the western part of the state. Noxious weeds, like immigration, are moving to the west.

Making a fight against the pest while neighboring towns refuse to take up the battle is futile, town chairmen declared.

"This is a problem which demands the thought of every farmer and every citizen of the United States," said Mr. Norgord. "On the victory or the defeat in this fight will hang the economic condition of our country in years to come."

Band Will Start Indoor Work Soon

The concert band will begin intensive practice for the winter series of indoor concerts next week. The program which has been outlined for these concerts follows the line of former concerts by the band, featuring a number of standard symphony works interspersed with lighter compositions.

The Chicago-Wisconsin football game at Chicago Saturday will close the football activities of the band this year. The band has played at every game in which our team has played this season. It accompanied the team to Minneapolis and Ann Arbor and will accompany the players to Chicago.

The reed section of the band has been considerably enlarged over last year, and it is promised that the additions will give to the music of the band the smoothness and sweetness of quality most desirable for indoor performances.

The concert band's instrumentation is along entirely different lines from that of the bands used throughout the football season. The training given this band is interpretation of the great masters and high class instrumentation.

RADIO STATION TO BE OPEN AFTER ONE MORE WEEK

The radio station will remain closed for at least another week because of the fact that the university glass blower, J. B. Davis, has not yet regained the use of his hand. Operator L. P. Hanson, in charge of the university radio station said yesterday.

The university radio station located in Sterling hall discontinued its service two weeks ago because of an accident to the transmitting tubes. No new tubes could be procured because Davis was unable to do the delicate glass work necessary in the construction of a new set of transmitting tubes.

It had been planned to broadcast reports of the Homecoming game and it was a disappointment to Wisconsin residents with radio-phones to learn that the university station was out of order. Daily reports and lectures which the station had been accustomed to send out are no longer transmitted.

"All efforts to place the station in operation again at the earliest possible date are being made and a resumption of services in the near future may be expected," Operator Hanson promised.

HIBBETS TO PLAY IN FACULTY RECITAL

G. K. Hibbets, pianist, and Miss Jane Peterson, contralto, will appear in the first faculty recital at the Music school early in December. Miss Peterson will be accompanied by Miss Evelyn Benham.

Mr. Hibbets instructs in piano and Miss Peterson gives instruction in voice at the Music school. Miss Benham is also a member of the faculty.

Mr. Hibbets is a pianist of unusual ability and is well known in music circles in Madison.

Miss Peterson is said to be one of the best known contraltos of the Middle West. She has been heard in oratorio concert and opera in most of the largest cities of the middle western states. She is a graduate of Howard-Payne and Central colleges and has studied under the best American instructors of voice.

Prof. Stivers to Speak at Square Club Meeting

Prof. E. R. Stivers of the College of Engineering will be the speaker at the regular weekly informal supper of Square and Compass tonight in the Y. M. C. A. parlors.

Formal installation of the local chapter into the national body of the Square and Compass will take place December 15. Several Masons from the city lodges have volunteered to aid in the ceremony on behalf of the national organization. It will be impossible for the national headquarters to send a representative to Madison for the installation.

Notices have been mailed to old members of the Square club informing them that to be eligible for membership in the new organization before installation, dues for the present semester must be paid.

Prof. Stephen W. Gilman will give a talk at the weekly Fellowship meeting in the Y. M. C. A. parlors at 7 o'clock Thursday under the supervision of the Inner Circle. An added feature will be a sketch by George Walsted '25, and a song fest led by Howard Willet '23. An orchestra will furnish the music.

The men are handicapped by the work now being done on the gym pool. At the last minute it was decided to place tile around the edge of the pool. The tile is now on the road and should be delivered in the near future.
