GRAND CONCERT

CHORAL UNION SERIES OPENS WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Distinguished Soloists Secured—Orchestra of Thirty Pieces—Season Tickets—Reserved Seats on Sale.

Arrangements are now complete for the first Choral Union concert of the year which will occur next Wednesday night in Library Hall. Owing to the difficulty met with in heating the gymnasium in cold weather the board of directors have abandoned the project of holding their concerts in this building and whatever the weather may be, the audience may be assured a safe comfortable temperature. In the history of the Choral Union it has brought to successful public performance many of the most notable productions of the master composers. The coming concerts certainly are very promising of success. A very competent orchestra has been secured composed of Nitschke's orchestra of this city and parts of Lueder's Orchestra of Madison and Bach's Orchestra of Milwaukee, making in all a combination of thirty parts. This orchestra will be under the general direction of Prof. Parker.

The solo artists who have been secured are of rare ability and are recognized as standing at the head of their profession in America. In presenting Mrs. Wilson as soprano soloist the Choral Union is offering the leading oratorio soprano of America. She is an artist of the highest excellence and no artist in the country obtains more genuine success than Mrs. Wilson.

Mr. Taylor is spending his first winter in America for five years. In his absence he has been winning great success in London. Though not well known here he is well backed by his London reputation where he has been very successful. The other soloists are Mrs. Hiestand and Mr. Williams who are cultivated singers but who need no introduction to a Madison audience.

The concert will be popular in character and the works chosen are short and interesting consisting of Weber's "Jubilee Cantata" and Gounod's "Galia" which are standard compositions and which find a place on programs of leading concerts in Europe and America. The program as arranged will occupy about an hour and a half.

Tickets have been placed on sale at Pickart's book store. Season tickets will be sold at the very low price of $1.00 including reserved seats. The price for single concerts is 75 cents for reserved seats.

HAREFOOT'S FINE PERFORMANCE.

Great Dramatic Success Scored Friday Night.

To an audience that filled Fuller Opera House to the doors, the Haresfoot club distinguished itself last Friday evening in the presentation of "A Colonial Girl,"—the most successful performance ever given by University talent.

It was by far the most difficult piece the club has attempted, requiring an elaborate setting and the importation of scenery from Milwaukee and elaborate costumes, secured from Philadelphia.

The success of the play was due principally to Walton Pyre, to whom the stage direction was entrusted; and to Edwin A. Snow who managed the business end in a most thorough manner.

Space permits only a brief mention of the work of the leading characters although the minor parts were exceptionally well sustained and contributed effectively to the success of the performance.

Miss Jennie Butt, as Mollie Heddin and later as Mollie Remsen, filled the most trying role with great sympathy and appreciation.

Miss Laura Case, as Judith, gave a most excellent interpretation of a most difficult part.

Miss Scribner, as Lady Ketteltas, filled a conspicuous part and played it most cleverly.

Of Mr. Pyre's work as Godfrey Remsen, too much good cannot be said. His talent was finely displayed, his voice excellent and his stage presence most pleasing.

Mr. Jenner's work, as usual, was most pleasing. He filled a dual role with especial cleverness.

Mr. Brennan, as Giles, made his initial appearance in University dramatics. His acting was one of the best features of the play.

Mr. Snow, as Captain Lovelace, although filling an unpopular part played his part most creditably. The work of Mr. Johnson is also deserving special mention.

The company as a whole has been declared the equal of any of those the Frohman's have brought to Madison.

The play was especially well staged, the costuming throughout brilliant and the entire cast even and excellent throughout.

The Haresfoot club realizes about $250 from the performance.

The performance was repeated most successfully Saturday evening at Fond du Lac, Monday evening at Oshkosh and will be given to-morrow evening at Green Bay.

—General Secretary Phelps addressed the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon, giving the history and scope of the organization throughout the world and telling of the progress of the canvass for a new association building here. Mr. Phelps feels confident the funds will be forthcoming.

—Dean Birge left for Janesville late this afternoon to attend and address a meeting of the Twilight Club this evening.

—Secretary Phelps of the Y. M. C. A. left yesterday on a canvassing tour about the state.

TRANSFORM THE GYM

DECORATIONS BEING MADE FOR THE PROM.

Complete Program of Dance Music Announced—Two-step "1902 Prom" Written for the Occasion.

Work began this morning on the decorations at the gymnasium. A large number of men are engaged in stringing wires for the electric lights and draping the bunting. The work is progressing rapidly. It has been decided to suspend the orchestra platform at the east side of the hall opposite the side entrance instead of in the center of the hall as was formerly done.

The side entrance, however, will not be used, as before stated, on account of the difficulty experienced in arranging for dressing rooms. The bowling alley will be pressed into service for the men's dressing room and the locker room for the ladies'.

It is earnestly requested that all students take wearing apparel and track suits out of the lockers, so that the locker room may be thoroughly aired out.

—Miss Ella Miller of Davenport, Iowa, is visiting Miss Cora Meyer at Chadbourne Hall.

No Crew Races on the Drainage Canal

The committee of the Drainage Board to whom was referred the request of the University to hold a race on the Drainage canal, recommended that permission to hold the race be granted but to refuse to allow tracks to be laid for an observation train. The report was unanimously adopted by the board. This practically knocks out any plan for such a race this year as the venture would be a financial failure without the revenue from the railroad company. This action of the drainage board has caused the management to abandon the idea of early work for the 'Varsity and they will not be called out until the middle of March.

Why?

A bill was introduced into the legislature last night "for the regulation of organizations in institutions of learning deriving their support from the state." While it does not seem possible that this bill can pass, yet the Cardinal will break through the usual reserve with which these matters are treated in fraternity colleges of the better class, and open up its columns to a free discussion.

Its justification for doing this is the fact that the system attacked is one in which many of the students have a vested interest, that it is working satisfactorily at Wisconsin, receiving but little criticism, and at worst it furnishes a modus vivendi with positive advantages and comparatively few faults. It is a working system, and has gradually grown up and undoubtedly does better than any that could be instituted by a hastily drawn bill.

In the first place all organizations in the institution are to be governed by a faculty board, consisting of one alumnus member from each (or "alumni member" as the bill elegantly puts it). This means that institutions into which the members have put money and which own property are to be under the control of a board, the majority of whose members represent the interests of the Nora Samlag, the Photographic Club, Laurea, the Y. M. C. A., literary societies, or anything that calls itself a club.

Every organization must submit its governing papers to this board, or its members are subject to expulsion. It is notorious that the members of most of the fraternity chapters have sworn not to reveal these things, and no sane man believes that there is anything behind their locked doors that public policy or any reason at all demands to have revealed.

Members of this board are apparently, from the wording of the bill, to be appointed without the privilege of choice being exercised by the organization which they represent. On the other hand those organizations which have no faculty representation may appoint their own representative.

The bill provides for the state's granting land to such organizations as comply with the conditions of the bill. They need not even be incorporated. A half-dozen enterprising spirits could put up a boarding house between the Germanistische Gesellschaft House and the Chess Club Lodge and make a stack of money. Under this bill, anyone is foolish that does not live on state land.

But underneath it all is a principle of discrimination that is better left alone. It is true that some similar arrangement has been proposed or adopted in other colleges but these have not been state institutions nor have the conditions been the same. A "fraternity, Greek letter society, or club," as the bill puts it, has no organic connection with the University of Wisconsin and is merely a convenience of certain students arranged for private purposes. As long as these are conducted in a manner that casts no reflection upon the institution with which they have connected themselves—and such it is believed is very generally the case—there seems no reasonable pretext for interfering with them, especially since such control has as an object further discrimination in their favor to the exclusion of a majority of the student-body.
