Qualifications of Y. W. C. A. candidates will be found on page 6.

MRS. HALE COMES TO SPEAK TONIGHT

English Actress Will Speak in Music Hall on "The Modern Stage"

Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale, who will speak at 8 o'clock this evening in Music hall, has a vivid and fascinating personality, and great charm as a speaker.

"The Modern Stage and the Rising Generation," is the subject Mrs. Hale will discuss. She speaks delightful English mixed with picturesque American language, and knows both the American and the English stage from experience. This is her twelfth lecture tour in the United States. She is the author of a number of books.

Mrs. Hale is being brought to Madison on a return engagement by Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary and professional journalism fraternity. Tickets for the lecture will be sold today in Bascom hall, Sumner and Cramton's, S. G. A. office in Lathrop hall.

Upon arriving in Madison this noon, Mrs. Hale will be the guest of Miss Mary Anderson. She will be the honor guest at a tea this afternoon from 3:30 to 5 o'clock at the College club, where Dean F. Louise Nardin will present her to patrons and patronesses.

Tank Captain is Out Wardrobe in Lambda Chi Fire

Flames, bursting from a front room on the third floor of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity house at 8:50 o'clock last night covered the front of the house up to the roof. The fire company arrived at 9 o'clock and immediately extinguished the blaze with chemicals and water.

The room is that occupied by Walter Bauman '24, and Hugo Czerwonky '24. At the time of the fire Czerwonky was in Janesville taking part in an exhibition high school swimming meet. All the personal property in the room was damaged by the flames and water. Everything was insured.

Since no person was in the room between 7 and 9 o'clock last night, the cause of the fire cannot be determined. Damage amounting to several hundred dollars was done. Walter Smithenstein turned in the alarm.

UNION WORKERS GET RECOGNITION

Names of Those Who Have Done Most Work Are Announced

Recognition of work done for the Union board by men trying out for recommendation was made official yesterday by the publication of an assisting staff by John C. Dawson '24, president of the board. The men on this staff are the ones who have shown the most interest in the board's activities and who have completed the required amount of work necessary for recommendation.

"All of these men have done between 25 and 30 hours work in Union activities and are entitled to recognition for their efforts," Dawson said. "Heretofore men who have tried out for recommendation to voters and have been defeated have not received any credit for their work. The permanent establishment of an assisting staff will insure men of some recognition in the board's undertakings."

Recommendation to voters at the elections will be made from this staff. Officers of the board hope that this system will encourage men to try out for the board whether they have any intention of running for office or not.

HOLD SPRING BANQUET FOR CHURCH STUDENTS

Congregational students of the university are completing plans for their annual spring banquet which will be held on March 27 at the First Congregational church. A varied program is to be provided, according to Norris Wentworth, president of the student association. The new church pastor, the Rev. Robbins W. Barstow, will be the principle speaker. Only 275 students can be taken care of at the banquet. At former banquets applications have always greatly exceeded this number so this year the committee has set Tuesday, March 25 as the last day for procuring tickets. Reservations can be made at the Parish house, 422 N. Murray street.

WOMEN'S COMMERCE MAG APPEARS TODAY

The women's issue of the Commerce magazine will appear on the campus this morning. Copies will be on sale in Bascom, Sterling and Ag halls. Following the precedent established last year one issue of the magazine is gotten out entirely by women. The lead article in the current number is "Women in Advertising", written by Beatrice Morgan, advertising manager at Manchester's. One feature of the issue is a commerce women's directory, the first of its kind ever to be published at Wisconsin.

BASKET TEAM TO BE GIVEN DINNER BY SENIOR MEN

"Senior Championship Stag" To Be Held Tuesday at Lutheran Church

Establishing a precedent in class activity at Wisconsin, the men of the class of 1924 will be hosts to the Badger basketball champions at a "Senior Championship Stag" to be held next Tuesday, in the banquet room of the Luther Memorial cathedral.

The suggestion that the class honor the championship team at a celebration was made by Walter A. Frautschi, president of the senior class, to a number of members of the class on Tuesday and met with such wide approval that Frautschi announced definitely last night that the meeting would be held.

Will Thank Team

"Very little enthusiasm has been shown over the basketball team's successful season and I feel that some sort of expression of thankfulness is very much in order," Frautschi said. "Our 'stag' will thank the team for its hard work and will also cement class feeling. I want very much to see the entire body of men in the class of 1924 turn out for the dinner and be bountiful in their praise of the team and in their expression of class sentiment. The varsity basketball team is composed largely of seniors so our sentiment will be highly apropos."

600 Can Attend

The 'stag' will be in the nature of a dinner. Tickets will be sold to male members of the senior class only and will be placed on sale later in the week at places to be announced in The Cardinal. The banquet room of the Luther Memorial cathedral will accommodate only about 600 diners so that it will be necessary to get tickets soon after their issuance. There are about 800 male members of the class, according to Frautschi and it will not be possible to accommodate all of them.

McCoy Has Lead Over Murphy in St. Pat Election

When votes were counted yesterday in the election of a Saint Pat to lead the engineers' parade on March 29, J. M. McCoy '24, civil engineer candidate was in the lead with 6140 votes. Dennis Murphy '24, electrical, was second with 2290 votes.

Votes are being sold at the price of one cent for ten. The proceeds will be used to defray the expenses of the parade. Last year John Rutherford, chemical engineer, was elected Saint Pat but was kidnapped the day of the parade by the lawyers.

The election booth is open in the lobby of the engineering building from 8 to 4:30 every day. The polls will be closed Saturday at noon when the final count will be made.

Five engineering societies have entered candidates for the office of Saint Pat this year. A close race is expected toward the end of the week as the deadline draws near. Last year one society took up a collection at the last minute to boost its candidate.

YELLOW TASSEL WILL ENTERTAIN TRANSFERS

All transfer women will be entertained at a bridge-dance from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Lathrop parlors by members of Yellow Tassel, class organization of junior women.

Bridge will be played in the S. G. A. room. There will be vodvil stunts in between dances in the parlor. The physical education club orchestra will furnish the music.

General arrangements for the affair are in charge of the officers of Yellow Tassel Betty Stolte, president; Helen J. Baldauf, vice president; Margaret Meyer, secretary and Anne Smith, treasurer.

Tickets may be secured for 25 cents apiece at the S. G. A. office or from Clara Hertzberg, ticket chairman.

Heifetz Charms By Emotional Quality and Fine Technique

A full singing tonal quality, emotional depth, and a technique, perfect but unobtrusive, marked the playing of Jascha Heifetz, Russian violinist, who gave the last of the Union board concert series in the gymnasium last night before an eager audience. Mr. Isidor Achron accompanied him.

If one were at all inclined, one could easily have taken Baudelaire's advice, "Get drunk on wine, on poetry or on virtue, but get drunk" and have gone drunk on sound, on the beauty of Heifetz' playing. He played on the esthetic sensibilities as on an instrument. Although advance notices heralded him as a technician first of all, he subordinated mere technique.

The program ranged from the classic "Air on G String" by Bach to a new composition, "Stimmung in D Minor" by Joseph Achron. The

CLOCKS TO MARK OFF BALL DANCES

Two Orchestras Will Alternate in Making Dancing Continuous

"Two huge clocks, four feet in diameter will mark off successive 10 minute dances at the twelfth annual Military ball, April 4," Ezra J. Crane '24, program chairman declared last night.

The music and dancing will be continuous during the ball. From their positions above the two orchestras on both sides of the rotunda, the clocks will be visible from all parts of the dance floor. In the programs the dances will be numbered according to the time. They will be exactly 10 minutes apart.

After each dance the clocks will be turned —Thomas Studiohead 10 minutes and the next dance will begin at once. Thompson's two orchestras will alternate in playing.

"This is the first time this program system has been used at a major social function here. It will be an easy matter to follow the progress of dances by referring to the clocks," Crane said.

The governor's reception at 8:30 o'clock is the first affair of the evening. The grand march will be started at 9 o'clock, headed by Howard B. Lyman '24, chairman, and his partner Ellen C. Knight '24.

The first dance is listed for 9:30 o'clock. The last dance of the ball will come to an end at 1 o'clock.

ALPHA XI DELTA TO MOVE INTO NEW HOUSE

The Alpha Xi Deltas expect to move into their new house on Langdon street the first of April. The interior of the house will not be finished by that time but will be ready for occupation. Arthur Hoffheimer, professionally known as the home interior decorating company, incorporated, of Chicago, has returned from New York where he bought furniture for the house. The architects, Edward and James Law of this city have practically finished their work. Electricians and decorators are now working on the finishing touches.

APPROPRIATE $50 FOR CHAD LIBRARY BOOKS

To increase their library, the girls of Chadbourne hall have appropriated $50 more for new books. Each year $50 is spent for books and $50 for magazines, and the books selected are usually modern fiction. Recently 35 new novels have been added to the collection. With this new appropriation, a beginning of a real library will be made by the addition of complete editions of classical authors and leather-bound editions of the classics.

FEARING ASKED TO RESIGN FROM LIT BY FACULTY

Committee Denounces Editorial Policy of Magazine; May Appoint Weimer

Kenneth Fearing '24, editor in chief of the Wisconsin Literary magazine, was asked to resign his position yesterday afternoon during a heated conference between the deans, faculty advisers of the magazine and the editorial and business staff.

It was held that the editorial policy of the magazine has been irritatingly satirical and intolerably misanthropic, sour and biting.

Finances are O. K. "I accept the resignation," Fearing said.

Election of a new editor to succeed Fearing will be held today by the magazine's staff. It was the consensus of opinion among various staff members last night that John F. Weimer '25, present managing editor would be elected to the position left vacant by Fearing's resignation.

The dismissal of Fearing and the election of a new editor was seen by the members at the conference as the one hope of the Lit to continue successful publication. The last two issues of the magazine have proved successful financially. It was reported by Carl R. Hansen '24, business manager.

Three Courses Open

Three courses of action were outlined during the conference yesterday by the faculty members. The first, whether the publication was to be resumed. On vote it was decided to continue. Second, whether Fearing should be retained as editor. The third question was whether the policy should be changed should Fearing remain as editor. The resignation of Fearing eliminates these questions.

FRENCH PLAY TRYOUTS WILL BEGIN SATURDAY

Tryouts for the French play, "Le Malade Imaginaire," will be held from 10 to 11 o'clock Saturday in room 301 Bascom hall.

This play by Moliere was given here several years ago under the direction of Prof. E. M. Lebert, of the romance language department, who will coach the play this year.

Full announcement will be found on the departmental bulletin board.

THEATER TO AID FRIENDSHIP FUND

Parkway Helps Drive; Receipts of Union Dance to Be Donated

Twenty per cent of the proceeds of three days' showing of "The Stranger" featuring Betty Compson will be donated by The Parkway theater to the Student Friendship fund. The three performances will be Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, March 24, 25, and 26. The ticket sale is being handled by Clara Hertzberg '25.

Campus organizations are giving the drive their whole hearted support. The entire proceeds from the Union board dance in Lathrop parlors, Friday evening March 21, will be turned over to the fund, according to the president of Union board John C. Dawson '24.

"Just as our Union here represents a co-operative body of students, so ought we in a case like this to imagine a larger union of all the students of the world. In their time of need we more fortunate ones ought to be willing to sacrifice and give what to us is so little but to them so much," Dawson said.

Walter Frautschi '24, speaking for the senior class, declared, "When we stop to think that the price of just one new foulard for spring will feed a starving student in Europe for one month, there seems to be absolutely no excuse for not making a little sacrifice on our part to prove ourselves friends to our brother students."

BIG DEMAND FOR SPEECH MAJORS

Supply is Small as Only Seven Seniors Are Majoring in Speech

There is a greater demand for speech majors than there is supply, according to Prof. A. T. Weaver of the Speech department. This raises the salaries offered and it is estimated that on the whole speech majors receive better pay than students who major in other subjects.

In the class of 1924 there are only seven who will be graduated with a speech major. Out of the entire university enrollment of about 7,500 students, only 13 are majoring in speech and 17 taking a minor.

From the approximate 2,000 students in their junior year which is the year when most majors are chosen only six have elected speech. They are Kathryn Bigham, Hazel Weingandt, Mary Conway, Rossetta Cegal, Bernice Steel and Clifford Conway.

The reason for this small number is the high requirements which the department makes, which it claims are necessary if a student is to succeed in the field of speech after graduation.

"Each student is given a trial of at least two semesters," Mr. Weaver said. "The students' whole record in the university is considered in order to determine if he is able to carry a major in speech. It has been the policy of the department to accept only those having an average of good or above."

East Must Erect Economic System, Says Gunawardena

"The East wants to be left alone to work out her economic system, believing that the system of the West is not adapted to her conditions. The East owes much to the West in reforms she has instituted," Rupasingha Gunawardena, of Ceylon, India, who spoke at the International Club on "The Changing East," declared.

He spoke of the present problems of European and Oriental countries. "In India there is no caste left; she is to give the world a new lesson," Gunawardena said. "The East is sick of super-government."

There are about forty members in the International club, twenty countries, and twenty religions being represented. South Africa, New Zealand, India, Russia, China, Japan, Latvia, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, Belgium, Turkey, Spain, Mexico, Porto Rico, and the United States, are all represented.

EVANSTON, Ill.—Northwestern University has substituted an eskimo war in place of the old traditional class rush.

School Teachers Flock Here For Summer Session

Who climbs the long hill on hot summer days and who sits in the hand carved desk-seats of the stuffy lecture rooms while you play innumerable rounds of golf and burn countless gallons of gasoline? Did you ever wonder?

School teachers from Wisconsin high schools prevail here at the university in the summer according to the statistics for the summer session on file in Dean Scott H. Goodnight's office.

Last year 1,294 high school teachers, most of them with normal school degrees, came here to study for their bachelor of arts degrees.

A goodly number of undergraduates come too, some to make up "flunks" others to make up credits lost in transferring, and still others because they like the place and want to spend a summer here where the canoeing is superb.

Undergraduates totalled 1,409 last year out of the 4710 persons registered.

Every state contributed students to the 1923 enrollment except Nevada and Maine. Illinois led the states, outside Wisconsin, in the number of students enrolled.

The university is cosmopolitan in the summer as well as in the winter. Eighty-two foreign students came last year.

And the summer session had one distinction the 1923-24 session does not have. One woman was enrolled in the College of Engineering.

Muller Discusses Psycho-Analysis Before Optimists

F. G. Muller, of the psychology department, discussed psycho-analysis at the weekly meeting of the Optimist club held in the Cameo room Monday noon.

"Although much has been said and written about psycho-analysis within the past generation, the subject is by no means a new one," he said. "The schoolboy has means for fixing permanently in mind facts and dates in history, sayings of great men, rules and formulae of mathematics and science. It is in the analysis of abnormal tendencies that psycho-analysis plays a part."

"One of the methods employed in tapping the subconscious mind is a simple word-association test. For every word that a person knows, there is associated in his mind another word. These responses and their accompanying emotional signs give the psycho-analysis considerable information about the mental status of his subject."

TRANSFER STUDENTS

Transfer students may secure tickets at the Y. W. C. A. office in Lathrop hall for the tea dance to be given for them by Yellow Tassel Saturday afternoon. Tickets 25 cents each.

C. M. LIPLEY TO GIVE 3 LECTURES

Head of Publicity Department of General Electric Co. to Speak Here

A series of three lectures will be given here by C. M. Ripley, head of the publicity department of the General Electric company of Schenectady, N. Y., on March 25, 26 and 27.

He will lecture on "What Electricity has done for Civilization" March 25, "A Bird's Eye View of a Big Corporation" March 26 and "What Becomes of the Income of a Corporation," March 27. The second lecture will be broadcast from WHA, the university broadcasting station.

Mr. Ripley is an electrical engineer. He is going to develop his discussion from the popular instead of the scientific point of view. He will try to give an understanding of the electrical industry, and of the economic and financial affairs so that everybody may understand it. The workings of the electrical industry will be portrayed electrically and economically.

"Practically all the industrial strife throughout the country today is the result of ignorance. If the people were familiar with the actual facts and conditions pertaining to industrial management and cost of operation, the red agitators would have a hard time making their misstatements, which are accepted as the gospel truth," Mr. C. M. Ripley says. He has lectured to the I. W. W. and Socialist parties in various cities, and to labor unions and employees all over the United States.

In connection with the lectures, lantern slides will be shown. These lectures are under the general auspices of the Economics, Electrical Engineering and Physics departments.

Clef Club Will Present Mother Goose Arabesque

A Mother Goose arabesque will be one of the features of the annual spring concert to be given by Clef club on April 5.

All the standard Mother Goose rhymes have been set to music which portrays their stories in a fascinating way and will be presented by a few members of the club ensemble. These favorite childhood stories will all be sung in three part music. Vocal, piano and violin solos will comprise the rest of the program.

The concert is open to the public and no admission will be charged. Open spring concerts have been given by Clef club ever since their organization as a part of the year's work, according to Grace Jones '24, president.

The committee chairmen for this year's concerts are Gertrude Haase '24, publicity, and Anna Wilson '24, program.

REVIEW DARTMOUTH EDUCATIONAL POLICIES

President Ernest Martin Hopkins of Dartmouth, is trying a most unusual experiment. A committee of undergraduate students has been appointed to study and inquire into educational policies and tendencies of colleges in general, and of Dartmouth in particular with a view to reporting whether or not, in undergraduate opinion, changes in the present system are desirable and, if so, what these should be. The members of the committee will receive scholastic credit for their work of investigation.

ATHLETICS IN THE COLLEGIATE WORLD

PAIRINGS DRAWN FOR FIRST ROUND TOURNAMENT GAMES

Play to Start Next Wednesday Afternoon; Young is Head Official

The annual state high school basketball tournament will start here on next Wednesday. Sixteen schools, the winners of their various district tournaments, will be the guests of the athletic department for four days. The pairings for the first round of play and the time of the games is as follows:

- Wisconsin Rapids vs. River Falls—3 o'clock, Wednesday, March 26.
- Fond du Lac vs. Arcadia—4 p. m. Wednesday.
- Appleton vs. Platteville—5 p. m. Wednesday.
- Watertown vs. Manitowoc—7 p. m., Wednesday.
- Oregon vs. Rice Lake—8 p. m., Wednesday.
- Janesville vs. Eagle River—9 p. m., Wednesday.
- Superior vs. Wauwatosa—10 a. m., Thursday, March 27.
- La Crosse vs. Marinette—11 a. m., Thursday.

Fred Young, conference official, will be the head official at all the games. The price of admission for the nine periods or the 22 games is $2.50. Two or three games will constitute each period.

The all-state team will be picked by the members of the varsity basketball team. These men will witness all of the games, and will give their decisions at the banquet.

At the conclusion of the last day's play a banquet will be held at the state capitol for all the visiting athletes. At this banquet the individual and the team awards will be made.

THREE EVENTS ON SWIM SCHEDULE

Inter-college and Inter-Fraternity Meets Still Remain on Aquatic Program

Three events yet remain on the swimming schedule for the Badger splashes. Friday, March 21, an inter-college swimming meet will be held to determine the college possessing the most versatile aquatic sport men.

On the following Friday a college championship meet will be put on. One class will be for upperclassmen each man entering five of the eight events. Another class will be for freshmen only; they also will compete in five out of eight events.

The final meet will be an inter-fraternity swimming meet Friday, April 4.

After these events the squad will meet to elect a captain for next year's varsity team and to plan for next year's campaign.

"W" CLUB WILL FOSTER WEARING OF LETTERS

Feeling that athletic "W's" are not worn enough on the campus a meeting of the "W" club has been called for this noon at 12:45 in the trophy room at the gym. The establishment of "W" days will be decided, as well as to make plans to show interest to high school athletes when they come here for the basketball next week.

11 WOMEN ELECTED TO COMMERCE CLUB

The 11 Commerce club members who were elected yesterday afternoon at a meeting in Sterling hall are as follows: Marion Rhode '27, Anita Walter '27, Aila Barles '27, Florence Malzahn '27, Bernice Magnuson '26, Mrs. Velva Shuselt '26, Elaine Osborne '26, Mildred Christopl '25, Margaret Caster '25, Bessie Marcus '25 and Cornelia Groth '25.

TWO GAMES TONIGHT IN INTRAMURAL PLAY

Further play in the Independent Intramural league will be run off tonight when two games take the floor, one at 7 o'clock and the other at 7:45.

Indiana Western Conference Wrestling Champs

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 19.—With six victories and no defeats, Indiana University has finished the season with a perfect record in the Western Intercollegiate Conference, Ohio State, Purdue, Chicago, Michigan, Michigan Aggies, and Northwestern fell before the powerful Hoosiers. A number of the Hoosier wrestlers are expected to be successful in try-outs this month for the American Olympic wrestling team. Indiana has won 31 out of 42 bouts, and has scored a total of 98 points to its opponents' 28. The Hoosier team has in its heavy-weight wrestler, Fisher, a man who wears trunks bigger than Jess Willard's. Jack Reynolds, world's welterweight wrestling champion, coached the team.

CARNIVAL SEATS NO RESERVE SALE

Elimination of Madison Teams Increases Weight of Financial Burden

Seats for the eighteenth annual relay carnival which will be held in the gymnasium annex beginning at 7 o'clock on Saturday night, March 22, will be placed on sale at the gymnasium office on Friday afternoon. All of the seats will be reserved.

Preliminary heats will be held in the inter-fraternity relay races in the gymnasium annex on Friday afternoon, starting at 4:30 o'clock, to determine which teams will compete for the five trophies to be awarded to the winners in the inter-fraternity relay on Saturday night.

Officials who will be in charge of the relay carnival were announced at the gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

The officials are: Referee—Thomas E. Jones, director of athletics.

Starter—Mead Burke.

Clerk of course—David Taub.

Judges of finish—Prof. S. Miller, Corp. E. Troup, R. Duncan, Major Lampert and Lieutenant Rogers.

Timers—Profs. G. Nightingale, Elsom, W. Taylor, and H. Vail, Joe Steinauer.

Judges of field events—Professor G. Mortimer, and G. Martin, F. Leitz.

Inspectors—George Knox, Gordon Taylor, Bernard Traynor, and N. Drollinga.

Scorer—A. L. Malsey.

Announcer—George F. Walsted.

Manager of meet—Carl Klath.

Chadbourne Hall Women to Hold Third Discussion

The third of a series of informal discussions on problems of interest to the girls of Chadbourne hall will take place at 6:45 o'clock tonight in Miss Hunt's parlor. The sophomore class has charge of the meeting with Alberta Johnson, Edith Faithorn and Lillian Piehl officiating.

These discussion groups are in no way concerned with religious matters, but aim to bring the girls into closer touch with each other, and with problems which concern all of them.

The discussion this evening will be on spirituality, its sources of inspiration from friends, relatives,

Aids in Tourney

MEANWELL AIDS STATE TOURNAMENT

Preliminary Heats in Inter-Fraternity Relay to Be Held Friday

Dr. Walter Meanwell, coach of Wisconsin's championship basketball squad, is giving his personal supervision to the ninth annual state high school basketball tournament which will be played off at the armory beginning Wednesday, March 4. With the interest of the state teams soaring skyward in anticipation of the opportunity to meet, the responsibility of making the event a financial success rests upon the shoulders of the directors.

The elimination of either of the Madison teams from the contest takes away the source which previously supplied the crowds for the series of games. Madison high schools will be asked to support the tournament as hosts to the state boys, if not competitors for the title.

"This annual tournament is one into the university that we have," of the greatest feeders of good men stated Coach Meanwell yesterday. "The best all-around athletes in the high schools are on the basketball squads, and 16 of the best prep school quintets in the state are to be here as our guests for four days."

"Here's the chance to impress Wisconsin upon these men and get out at the games and that we want them and are interested in their work."

Students have been asked by Norm Clark '24, general chairman of the tournament to make plans for inviting friends to Madison for the week end of the games. "There are many people here whose high schools will be playing in this series," said Clark, "and we urge these students to encourage friends from home to follow their teams down here."

"Wisconsin now can talk of its championship basketball squad to these high school players, and when the members of the team, acting as official hosts, welcome these teams the entire student body should be back of them."

PHYSICAL ED BANQUET IN LATHROP PARLORS

The Physical Education club will give a banquet in Lathrop parlors April 1 in order to arouse enthusiasm in the normal meet, an annual athletic event between women of all four classes, which will take place April 3. Gretchen Kroncke '25 has charge of the banquet. Miss Abby Marlott spoke to the club at the meeting Tuesday night on her experiences in Europe last summer.

CO-ED SHOOTERS ARE DEFEATED BY NEBRASKA TEAM

Badgers Score New High Individual Average, But Lose Intercollegiate Meet

In spite of the fact that Wisconsin's co-ed rifle shooters piled up higher individual scores in their second intercollegiate meet last week than they did against Oklahoma, they were defeated by the University of Nebraska 953 to 978.

The average was 95.3 whereas against Oklahoma it was 94.2. There were no jumps but steady, uniform firing. Major L. L. Lampert spoke favorably of the team's work, considering that it is young as compared to the veteran team of Nebraska, the first university to champion rifle shooting for women.

Scores for Wisconsin follow:

- Marie Wells '27, 97; Fern Fortnum '25, 97; Eloise Blakslee '26, 96; Florence Allen '27, 96; Barbara Bacon '27, 96; Helen Brodd '25, 96; Katherine White '26, 95; Alice Winston '27, captain, 94; Gertrude Graham '27, 93; E. D. Sandsten, 93.

Scores for Nebraska run: 99, 99, 99, 98, 98, 98, 98, 98, 96, 95.

Captain Eddy Aschenbrenner of the baseball team has blossomed out in a new suit. A few other members of the squad have new uniforms also.

Local high school tracksters are using the annex to get in shape for the relays this Saturday.

We hear that Joe Steinauer sometimes gets so heated up over things gone wrong that he goes into the steam room to cool off.

"Doc" Meanwell believes in plenty of fresh air. All winter during the varsity practice sessions the windows of the gym were opened wide.

The reason why Wisconsin is not building the bowl instead of the horseshoe type of stadium lies in the fact that when the bowl type is packed with spectators but little fresh air reaches the gridiron. The Yale bowl has proved this theory.

The short lay-off that the track team is taking enables the diamond squad to use the annex all afternoon. Scrimmage took place yesterday afternoon with a real umpire behind the pitcher.

KADY FARWELL IN BIG TRYOUT RECORDS

Knight D. Farwell '24, Wisconsin's sensational basketball forward, has added more laurels to his athletic accomplishments. In his tryouts for membership to Sigma Delta Psi, national honorary athletic fraternity, yesterday, Farwell ran the two mile event in 10:37, which is almost equal to the conference time in this run. He completed the distance without much effort and without previous training in track events. Farwell has also pole vaulted 11 feet 6 inches. He has completed all his requirements for Sigma Delta Psi except the baseball throw and football kick for distance.

CONTRAST

Last night the more fortunate people heard Heifetz. No one was aware of the gun racks, no one thought of the barrenness of the place that they were in. They sat on wavering hard, wood chairs, cramped for room, stiff with discomfort, yet they listened to Heifetz. More than ever was the necessity for a university auditorium apparent.

If a building in any way adds to an occasion Heifetz was last night deprived of that which he should have had. What a contrast to Carnegie Hall. What a total contrast was the gymnasium to the spirit of the music. The fact that the artist could overcome these obstacles and hold his audience completely in his mastery is indeed just another proof of the power and of the quality of the violinist, but it is extremely unfortunate that we have no more sympathetic a place than a gymnasium in which concerts may be given.

AN UNFORTUNATE SITUATION

A predominant idea among students today seems to be to say as little as possible in the class room. Students come here used to oral recitation work, and freshman groups, after they recover from their first awe of college usually conduct interesting discussions in the quiz sections. Then there comes on the student a sudden consciousness, as he progresses in his university work, that a majority of the best students recite but very little.

There then comes the realization that the person who recites is catalogued in one of three classes. He may recite well and, if so, be shunned by most of his classmates as too studious. He may do poorly in which case he is laughed at and sorry that he said anything. If he does only fairly well he is immediately suspected of being a bluffer.

Such a situation, absurd as it seems, actually exists. When an instructor calls for volunteers on a question he is fortunate if there is more than one or two timid hands raised to greet him. Discussion is weak. The instructor lectures most of the time and the class takes no more than a normal interest in what is said.

If the classes are to be enlivened the instructor may have to go so far as to throw away his daily class book and give people an opportunity to express themselves. Some method should be employed to remedy reticence of students while in the class room. At worst discussion keeps those in the room alive to the issue a state of affairs which would be a good change from the indifferent attitude manifest at present.

SOCIAL LIFE

Much that is indefinite and vague is to be heard of the benefits of social life. Many are the students who assert it to be either more or fully as important as the scholastic life at this institution, while a very few are inclined to look upon it as something of which not very much is required by the individual. To the individual who looks in upon the audiences gathered at lectures, educational entertainments, intercollegiate debates and then compares those same audiences with the groups to be found on the lake drive, at theaters, and dances, it is at once apparent that there is no possibility of the individual student neglecting his social development even in the slightest degree.

Quite on the other hand, there is no question that the scholastic life of the individual is often denied benefits that it might have had very easily. There are certain amenities of social life essential in the education of every individual. There are not difficult of acquisition, nor do they require the same assiduous pursuit and practice that a five fifths course demands for the best results. But because social life is more entertaining and pleasant, because it requires less exercise of the gray matter, the individual is inclined to humor himself and overrate its value, and thus to lose sight of the better values to be derived by better attendance upon extra-curricular opportunities.

New Type of Intellectual is Now Being Produced in Russia

The most able, the most educated young workers are sent to the Communist University in Moscow, named after Sverdlow. Since January, 1921, a course of eight months is being given; five and a half months of theoretical work and three or four months of practical work in various commissariats. The number of students is about 1,200. Here is a table of the subjects which are now studied there:

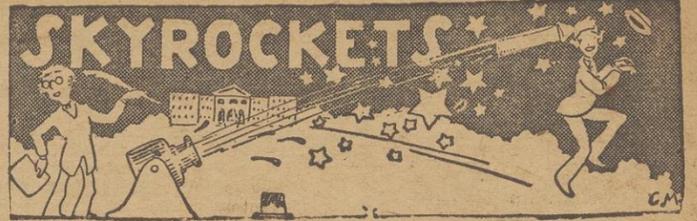

Chemistry .....	12 hours (a course)
Physics .....	16 hours (a course)
Astronomy .....	12 hours (a course)
Biology .....	30 hours (a course)
Modern Russian History .....	48 hours
General History of Modern Times, ..	96 hours
History of Materialism .....	27 hours
History of Russian Communist Party	60 hours
History of Human Society .....	32 hours
Economic Science:
Development of Capitalistic Society..)
Political Economy .....	110
Economics of the Transition Period..)

In addition there is a great deal of work in groups, seminars, practice in group reading, public speaking, etc., altogether a course of 18 weeks, 36 hours a week. After the course is completed the students are assigned to various commissariats, each according to his choice, to see the machinery of government in practice. Later they return to the institutions which have sent them, and they themselves become government workers.

Thus a new type of an intellectual is being produced in Russia. He is not ripe, he is half-baked, he is not polished. He is young and knows no fear. If one makes mistakes he is nevertheless richer in experience and next time he will do better. Such is the spirit of these intellectuals. They are strong, they have blood in their veins, and muscles on their bones. If it is necessary, they will do physical work; if they must, they will sleep without a mattress and a pillow, and eat next to nothing. He has no traditions—the new intellectual. He has not the thousand prejudices which for the bourgeois intellectual are a sacred heritage. He dares everything. Critics call it experimenting, but he is not bored. He is thankful to the old intellectuals when they come and share with him their accumulated knowledge. Professor Pokrovsky, the historian, they carry about on their shoulders? Why? Because he is one of them, because he gives his knowledge to the working class. But such as Pokrovsky are rare, they can be counted on one's fingers. The rest—the great mass of the learned and the specialists—grumble and complain. That pleases them more, and they still wonder that they are not respected.

Last week I met a Russian woman who came last December to Madison from Kiev, Russia. She is a university graduate, a dentist by profession, and is also prejudiced against the Bolsheviks, but she said: "The schools are something new. The population is divided into classes according to professions and every profession has its union, whence all the information goes to the commissariat of education. Before the members of the workers' unions did not pay for their children's tuition; now with the introduction of the new economic policy everybody pays, the merchant and the worker alike. The children are taught literature, history, science, but mostly political science subjects, and they know much of communism. The teachers attend once a week the meetings of the Communist Party, and during the summer vacation, they attend six weeks courses given by the party, where they get all the knowledge and information of the affairs of the government, in order to transfer this knowledge and information of the affairs of the government, in order to transfer this knowledge to the children when school starts in fall." These are some of the new methods of education introduced in Russia. Whether they are good or not, that is another question. We have to wait and see what the new generation can do.

In Friday's issue of The Cardinal the new type of woman in Russia will be discussed. It may interest some of our coeds.

WHY DON'T YOU ASK HER FOR A DATE?

BUMB BUT HONEST

Frosh—I missed all my classes yesterday, what shall I do?

The Reader's Say-So

FROM THE KLAN STATE
Editor, The Cardinal:

C. A. T., who writes at such length in justification of the Ku Klux Klan, has certainly undertaken a different and unworthy task. It is all the more unworthy because he is apparently a student at Wisconsin and should know better.

I come from Indiana, admittedly the strongest Klan state in the Union, and my own home town boasts a membership of what is variously exaggerated at 3,000 to 10,000 persons. Aside from the burning of numerous fiery crosses an occasional full dress parade in which American Flags are draped over automobile hoods, dragged in the dust, and as a final insult carried in the same rank with the Klan emblem, the organization has accomplished nothing. While any mathematician could figure out the total of the $10 fees contributed by each member, it would take more than a clever accountant to tell what is done with this money.

Nationally, the Klan stands for hypocritical class supremacy, admitting to its membership native born whites who are gentiles, protestants but quite frequently not gentlemen. Pointing to 19 senators, 12 congressmen and 19 governors, who are members does not prove that the majority of the two or three million Klan adherents are not illiterate. Even granting that they are not, it is undeniable that they do not think for themselves, which after all is the main objective. The Grand Dragon tells them, for instance, that the Jews are undesirable, and, without thinking of the enormous contributions that the Jews have made to civilization or of the fact that the One they worship was born a Jew, they instantly accept that opinion.

There are other and much worse things to be said about the Klan, and I should enjoy saying them if C. A. T. cares to listen. In closing, yew've bin weery when at times you've broke in rime; so I'm sending you this little pome to help you out this time. When with the rush of Card'nal wurk and things upon the hill yew probably are so week and feeble that maybe you'll feel ill.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Should the hands be clasped in loose contact, or not touching at all when held over one's plate waiting to be served? Ans.—Both.

Howinell can you get the last few peas without tipping the dish? Ans.—Mash them.

Is it proper to pick one's own teeth at the table if one owns a gold toothpick? Ans.—I don't know.

How may one gracefully and effectively tell the young lady who suggests eating that one's total assets are 30c and that she must go easy? Ans. Tell me when you find out.

Should the napkin be moistened before wiping the silverware? Ans.—Use the tablecloth.

Is it good form to inform a young lady that her petticoat shows? Ans.—Yes, good form, but incorrect information.

"VARSITY'S" SECOND VERSE

Editor, The Cardinal:

A new verse has been written for the Varsity Toast—a verse that is in perfect accord with the spirit of the toast and fills a long-felt need. I would like to raise the question, however, before the adoption of this verse as a permanent fixture of its proper location with regard to the present verse. Now it is being sung last, but do we want to end the old toast with words that—though full of meaning—can never compare with the spirit behind those of the old Varsity. Would it not be better to have this resolutory passage come first, and let "Praise to thee, Our Alma Mater, U-rah-rah Wisconsin" ring across the gridiron as it has rung for years—the final expressive tribute of Wisconsin's sons and daughters to her prowess on the field?

It is a question worthy of consideration, fellow students, and one which needs be considered now before the adoption of these new words in the sequence in which they are being given to us now. Do you want the cart before the horse, or is it the general opinion that the new Varsity as printed in Saturday's Cardinal is arranged in proper and logical sequence?

Let us hear other opinions.

LAKE DRAINAGE IS DEBATE SUBJECT

Badgers to Uphold Chicago's Fight For Water Supply in Michigan Contest

Defending the affirmative of the proposition to guarantee a sufficient water supply to the Chicago Sanitary district Wisconsin will meet Michigan in its first conference debating contest of the year at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening in Music hall.

Emmanuel W. Harold J. Sporer Goodman '26, '25 and Henry W. Blake '24, closer, will represent Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin negative team which is composed of Glen Bell '25, Herbert E. Chever '26 and Carleton W. Meyer '24 will leave this noon for Champaign where it will clash with Illinois. The team is under the direction of Prof. Andrew T. Weaver of the speech department.

Harold J. Sporer, the second speaker on the affirmative is a member of Philomathia literary society. Last year he represented his society in the sophomore semi-public debates. He has been elected to Philomathia joint debate team which will meet Athenae next year. This is Cheever's first year on the Wisconsin debating squad.

"The debate should be of interest to engineering students," Wayne Morse of the speech department declared. "It is very seldom that proposition of a technical nature is discussed in forensic events. In its research the speech department worked in conjunction with the engineering school. Some of the leading engineering authorities will be quoted by the Wisconsin debaters."

Birge to Address Sixth Volunteer Convo Tomorrow

President Birge will open the Sixth Annual Student Volunteer conference which will convene tomorrow for three days with headquarters at the Wesley Foundation.

Other speakers who will address the conference, which is open to all registered students, include Dr. L. Aberly, president of the Lutheran Theological seminary at Maywood, Ill.; Rev. Wm. English, missionary from China; Rev. Charles Braden who spent six years in Chile; Rev. W. J. Longley from India; Miss Augusta La Porte from Hawaii and Rev. C. A. Philips, former Wisconsin student who has just returned from a trip to South America.

Delegates from the colleges and normal schools of the state who will attend the conference are being entertained by students of Madison churches and the women's organizations of the city. Arthur Wald '24, is chairman for the conference.

Patronage Doubles at Home-Ec Tea Room in 3 Weeks

The patronage of the new tea room conducted at 317 Home Economics building has doubled since its opening three weeks ago, according to Bernice F. Dodge, who is in charge. About 40 persons are served a day during the lunch hour.

The tea room is being conducted by the women in the course in institutional management, who do all the work themselves. Last year the women received their experience at the Rendezvous which was then run by the University.

The majority of the patrons are instructors and students in the Agricultural college and Extension division but many others come also. If any money is made in the venture, it will be turned over to the university for a special fund with which new equipment will be bought. The incheons are 30 and 40 cents.

BLANTON SPEAKS ON NERVOUS BREAKDOWNS

"Preventing the emotional conflicts which are responsible for 60 per cent of the millions of cases of nervous breakdown in the United States, is one of the greatest phases of preventive medicine," Dr. Smiley Blanton, professor of speech hygiene, told the conference of public health nurses yesterday morning. Dr. S. H. Chase, Madison dentist, said that common salt is one of the best dentifrices to be had and chewing gum is an aid to the conditioning of the teeth.

FOREST LAB OPENS EXTENSION COURSE

89 Pulp Mill Operatives in 15 States and Mexico Are Enrolled

Eighty-nine pulp mill operatives, managers, foremen and technical men from all over the United States have enrolled in the extension course in pulp making conducted by the Forest Products laboratory in cooperation with the Extension division. Dr. C. E. Curran of the pulp and paper section of the Forest Products laboratory has charge of the course.

The students have a wide geographical distribution. Although 52 of them are from Wisconsin there are representatives from New York, Maine, Illinois, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Oregon, Tennessee, and Mexico. Among the students enrolled are mill managers, superintendents, chemists, plant engineers and assistants, foremen, cooks, liquor makers, machine tenders, clerks and salesmen, and others representing practically every department in the pulp and paper mill.

The course is the outgrowth of an effort made sometime ago by the Technical association of the Pulp and Paper industry and the Technical section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper association of mill operatives. To this end a fund was raised for the writing of a standard textbook on American mill practice. Hitherto the majority of all textbooks available were based on European practice and problems. This new work is used as a text in the correspondence course.

CONCERT BAND HAS NEW INSTRUMENTS

First of Free Concert Series to Be Given Sunday at 3 O'Clock

The recent developments in band music will be demonstrated when the University Concert band presents the first of a series of free concerts at 3 o'clock next Saturday afternoon in the gymnasium.

Special instruments not possessed by similar bands in the country permit the University Concert band to produce effects similar to those of the large American symphony orchestra.

"The Concert band is not the same organization which plays at the football games and at other athletic events," Maj. E. W. Morphy, conductor, said recently in outlining the new band program. "The Concert band is made up of an instrumentation which is absolutely for the purpose of performing indoors. In fact it is more like a symphony orchestra than like the ordinary brass band," he said.

Instruments selected to give symphonic effects permit the band to include on its program the great classic compositions as well as the more popular march pieces.

HUMAN BODY COOLED AS COMBUSTION ENGINE

Dr. T. H. Read, of the department of the interior, and F. C. Houghton, of the American Society of Ventilating Engineers, according to Popular Science Monthly, stated as a result of a test that if it were possible to inclose a man so that while he could breathe, no heat could escape from his body, he would die quickly. The body is only an internal combustion engine and, like all other engines of this type, must be cooled to function properly. Evaporation of sweat is the body's usual method of cooling itself.

THE SCHOOL OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERING PRACTICE OF THE MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

A GRADUATE SCHOOL offering a course of study leading to the degree of Master of Science, with field stations in the plants of six different companies. These companies produce steel, pulp, paper, caustic soda, chlorine, heavy acids and salts, sugar, gas, ammonia, benzol, etc.

The more important unit operations of chemical engineering are studied systematically by means of tests and experimental work on full scale plant apparatus.

The work is wholly educational and independent of control by the plant managements. The attention of the student is directed exclusively to the study of Chemical Engineering.

The total number admitted to the school is limited and the students, studying and experimenting in small groups, receive individual instruction from resident professors. For entrance requirements and details address R. T. Haslam, Director, School of Chemical Engineering Practice.

Mrs. Jastrow Gives Talk About Junior Hadassah Club

Mrs. Joseph Jastrow, wife of Professor Jastrow of the psychology department speaking before the Junior Hadassah at a meeting in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop, Sunday afternoon, traced the origin and history of the Hadassah movement. Her sister, Miss Zold, was instrumental in organizing the Hadassah in 1912 to furnish medical aid and nursing to the needy of Palestine. It is now a national organization with 380 chapters throughout the United States. The Junior Hadassah was subsequently organized to care for the Palestinian orphans. Along with this its purpose is the study of the cultural aspects of Zionism.

Samuel Wofsy of the Spanish department read a humorous play at the meeting. A piano selection by Marjorie Rachlin and a talk on current events by Clara Mabowehz '27 completed the program.

A community "Sedar" will be given by the Junior Hadassah for all Jewish students on April 18. "This will be conducted with attention to all details so that services will be carried out in accordance with custom, and in a manner which will appeal to all Jewish students," the president of Hadassah stated. As only a limited number can be seated those interested are asked to call B. 2378 and leave their names, before Saturday.

YELLOW TASSEL GIVES TEA AND DANSANT

Yellow Tassel, class organization of Junior women, will entertain at a bridge party and tea dansant on Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock in Lathrop parlors.

The affair will be in honor of all transfers, the members of Yellow Tassel wishing to meet all transfers and become acquainted with them.

Committee chairmen in charge of the party are Clara Hertzberg '25, Helen J. Bauldauf '25, Margaret Meyer '25, Margaret Knauf '25 and Mary Devine.

HEIFETZ CHARMS BY TONE AND TECHNIQUE

stately measured Bach air showed his depth of tone. Heifetz is the first one to play "Stimmung in D Minor." It was written by the brother of the pianist and has just been published.

The three movements of Grieg's "Sonata in C Minor" opened the program. He played "Rondo Capriccioso" by Saint-Saens with emphasis upon its fanciful mood and singing melody. The more bizarre "Tambourin" by Rameau and Joseph Achron; "Perpetuo Mobile" by Riess, a feat in technique; "Nocturne" by Sibelius, full of tone color; and the spirited "Scherzo Tarantelle" by Wieniawsky completed the program.

Mr. Heifetz played four encores—"Cortege" by Boulanger, "Valse Bluette" by Auer Drigo, "Guitarre" by Moszkowski, and "La Chasse" by Cartier (arranged by Kreisler).

SIGMA NU MUSICIANS TO PLAY FOR S. G. A.

The Sigma Nu six-piece orchestra will play for the S. G. A. dancing class tomorrow evening from 7 until 8 o'clock according to Clara Hertberg '25, who is in charge.

The members of the orchestra are Gordon Roberts '25, banjo, Clifford Benson '25, cornet, Orin S. Wern '25, Russell Nixon '26, and Charles Golling '27, saxophones.

No charge is being made for the dance but a box will be placed at the door for voluntary contributions to the Student Friendship fund.

CROWDS THROUGH FASHION SHOWS

Good Weather Attracts Many to View Spring Openings of Merchants

Smiling skies and balmy spring temperatures rewarded Madison merchants and displaymen Wednesday morning for their extensive plans and work in preparing the annual Spring Opening. Tuesday's crowds, attracted by the brilliant windows and good weather jammed the streets until chosen spots near the models and garments were at a premium. The exhibitions are to be continued Wednesday night and Thursday and the three-act style show staged by Loken Bros., and Olson & Veerhusen at the Parkway theatre will run until Friday night.

Karsten's style show, with the live models, nearly blocked the southwest entrance to the square with throngs of boys and girls, and men and women enthusiasts interested in the various models of everyday clothes, sports clothes, evening dress and other furnishings. Several students took part in the exhibition, but to the youngsters the elaborate apparel of Betty Riley, Jerry and Judson Mead, Thorloff Roggburg, Edmund Harte was the center of attraction. These very young men and women were all dressed up for the edification and information of the prospective purchasers in front of the plate glass.

Wednesday afternoon the Harry S. Manchester, Inc., held its style show on the second floor of the store. Thompson's orchestras furnished music. Ten models displayed apparel suited to women of various ages. Helen Ashard, Kathleen Hyland and Marie Doris appeared with frocks, coats and hats for girls of the ages from 5 to 15 years. Jeanette Studeman wore sport togs including a riding habit and golf costume with correct accessories. Christine Kather displayed a young woman's frocks and wraps while Elsie Gentz wore striking new wraps and coats. Mrs. Sidney M. Schoyen wore young women's frocks and hats and Helen Matts appeared with modelling apparel for young women. Mrs. Ada Rhodes displayed frocks and wraps for mature women. Special pattern hats from New York were worn by the models who were furnished with boots and shoes from the Jensen Boot shop.

At the Loken Bros. and Olson and Veerhusen show at the Parkway theater, starting Wednesday night, the following models will appear for Olson and Veerhusen: Gordon Hecker, A. G. Du Val, Carl Adsit, Le Roy J. Rieselback, Jack Hilgers, Harold Bennett, Dean Gannon, Harold Hausman, W. A. Thiel, Raymond Fett and Robert Cass. In the Loken Bros. display, Agatha Murphy, Irene Kracht, Alma Tollett, Mrs. James Diebold, Julia Scheidler, Alma Redell, Mary Davenport, Irene Eisele, Anita Babler and Mrs. D. J. Corscott will appear. Ruth Loken and Norman Coughlin will display the children's apparel.

BURIAL SERVICES FOR NAVARRA HELD TODAY

Baffled at every turn by the refusal of "Little Sicily's" residents to divulge information, police Wednesday admitted that the slaying of Anton Navarra, 38, Italian leader, in his grocery store, 746 W. Washington ave., Sunday night, would probably go down in police annals as the ninth unsolved murder in that community in the past ten years.

Thursday morning Navarra will be buried. At 8 o'clock funeral services will be held at the home. At 8:30 services will be held from the St. Joseph's church, S. Park st., the Rev. Peter Perardi officiating. Interment will be made at Holy Cross cemetery.

Caspere Cantela, a cousin of the murder victim, arrived here Wednesday to attend the last rites.

FEAR 44 DEAD WHEN JAPANESE SUB SINKS

SAZBO, Japan — Hope for the rescue of any of the four officers and 40 men in submarine 43 of the Japanese navy, which sank today in 26 fathoms of water, virtually was given up this afternoon. Efforts to bring the craft to the surface are continuing.

The 800-ton vessel went down suddenly after collision with the war ship Tatsuta during maneuvers ten miles outside Sazbo harbor.

Coming to Head Orchestra

Henri Verbrugghen, who will conduct the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra at a concert to be given in Madison Apr. 1, under the auspices of the Madison Orchestral Association, has been selected permanent conductor of the orchestra.

At the time Mr. Verbrugghen was employed, the orchestra management was in a position to secure almost any one of the great conductors in America or abroad. Mr.

Verbrugghen was not alone the unanimous choice of the orchestra management, but of the players themselves. Mr. Verbrugghen's avowed purpose is to do all within his power to increase love for great music.

Mr. Verbrugghen and the Minneapolis Orchestra will give a concert in the University Armory on Tuesday evening, Apr. 1, under the auspices of the Madison Orchestral Association.

COOLIDGE WINS IN N. D. PRIMARIES

Leads Johnson and La Follette By More Than 2 to 1; Vote Heavy

FARGO, N. D.—President Calvin Coolidge maintained more than a two to one lead over Sen. Hiram Johnson and Senator La Follette for the Republican presidential preference endorsement in yesterday's state wide primary, according to incomplete and unofficial returns compiled early today.

When 243 precincts had reported early today out of 2,058 in the state, the figures were:

Coolidge 14,271.
Johnson 6,088.
La Follette 4,275.

William G. McAdoo was unopposed for the Democratic presidential preference endorsement.

The first scattered returns were mostly from cities and towns in 35 of the state's 53 counties. Most of the rural precincts remain to be heard from.

The totals of Sen. Johnson and La Follette were swelled as the rural precincts began to report and Johnson headquarters here expressed confidence that more complete figures would swing the tide in his favor.

Smart Spring Apparel For College Women Shown on Living Models at Manchester's Today

2 to 3:30—Second Floor Music by Thompson's Orchestra

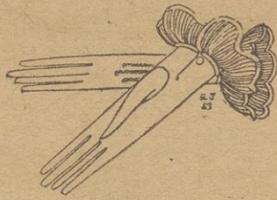

Smart new Spring wraps, frocks, sport togs, millinery and accessories—as modish as you could expect to meet on Fifth Avenue! You'll find this Style Revue this afternoon an inspiring place to choose your Spring costumes.

The smart tailored suit requires a tailored blouse such as the voguish affair sketched above. It is of correct black and white hair-line stripe pique, bound in black and finished with black buttons. Elastics and back piece hold it in place. $4.

Vests of linen, $1.50.

—Neckwear Section

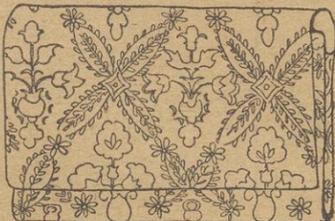

Petal gauntleted gloves—what could be more delightful with your Spring costume? Let the cheery petal tints match those in your hose or kerchief, or be the one color contrast, as you choose. These, sketched above, come in tan or grey silk with cuffs in a choice of many new colors. $3.

The perfect touch to the faultless tailored costume is a waxy little gardenia to bloom on your left lapel or thereabout. It is equally smart and becoming to the tailored frock or coat. Few costumes can afford to be without one. 89c.

—Millinery Section

This richly brocaded underarm bag in tapestry effect will hold the necessary requirements for a shopping trip or an afternoon call, and at the same time, emphasize style-rightness of your costume ensemble. Sketched above, fitted with purse and morror. $4.

—Sketched at an Afternoon Tea

A charming frock of Lanvin green georgette with silk chantilly and spring pleated ruffles and panel, $35.

A Gloria Swanson pattern hat in black with leghorn facing, $30.

A new wrap with tuxedo revers and pockets trimmed in Roman braid and beige fur, $79.50.

Hats of rose, henna, crepe and straw, $20.

An Irene Castle frock of beige crepe with capelet and frontiers, $65.

Joyously youthful and becoming are the new Spring frocks of soft silks. Black and white is especially smart. The new French Poudre blue, Mexico, rose henna, beige, Lanvin green and cocoa are most favored colors.

The new coats flare smartly, or fit one slimly, in keeping with the tubular silhouette. Exquisite summer furs—baby fox, viatka, summer ermine, and beige squirrel are used as trimming. Long tuxedo reverses are very good.
