FIVE CENTS

STUDENTS, FACULTY EXPRESS OPINIONS ON FOOTBALL AD

Appeal of Business House For More Material Brings Varied Reactions

Varied opinions from both students and faculty members were heard yesterday in regard to the text of the advertisement appearing in the Daily Cardinal of yesterday morning with its appeal to the students to get out more material for the football team.

Some students doubted the efficacy of the advertisement and a few condemned it in no uncertain terms. One remarked rather sharply, "Most of us are coming to the university for an education and few of those who sit in the stands have either the ability or time to try out for the team. We do our best for the team in the manner of support so that I think the criticism is unjust in this particular."

Another agrees with the ad and believed that there are plenty of students in the university who are able to go out for the team without seriously interfering with their work and who would prove valuable material for the team.

"If we spent a little less time on dances and social life we would have plenty of time to try out for the team and still keep up in our work on the hill," was the decided opinion of another. Others saw the need for more material but as to how to bring it to the university few could offer any definite suggestions.

Faculty Expresses Ideas
Numerous faculty members expressed as their opinion that the spirit of the ad was commendable but were with the students in that they seemed to have few ideas as to how to bring football men to the university. One instructor deplored the situation where students were so interested in social activities that many who could go out for the team refused to do so or were not interested in doing so.

"We must always guard against any practice that may seem questionable in bringing football men to the university," one instructor who seemed keenly interested in the problem replied, "but we must not lose sight of the fact that the university is primarily a place to acquire learning, not put out championship football teams."

In spite of some adverse criticism of the ad there were few but who commended its spirit and the fact that it might get people to thinking on the question instead of kicking without thinking.

Freshmen to Prove Talent in Contest For Class Ballad

Freshmen song writers and would-be musicians will have an opportunity to show their talent in the freshman song contest, which has just opened. Clyde Kluchohn, class president, has appointed a committee under the chairmanship of Adamson Hoebel '28, to take care of arrangements and entries in the contest.

Competition is open to any member of the freshman class and entries may be handed to Hoebel or any of the freshman committee of fifty.

The object of the contest is to originate a song for the freshman class only, which will embody the class spirit and loyalty to alma mater. A faculty committee will be appointed within the next few days to judge the entries, for which three prizes will be given.

The writer of the winning song will be announced at the all-freshman banquet which will be held November 28 at the Woman's building.

Ticket Scalpers May Be Convicted By Federal Court

That ticket scalpers will be prosecuted seems apparent. When asked yesterday afternoon what action the athletic department had already taken or expected to take in the matter of punishing scalpers, Coach Thomas E. Jones was silent.

He did not think it advisable, he said, to say anything on the subject at present because of the dangers which publicity might have upon the success of his efforts.

The possibility that ticket scalpers may be haled into federal court is not remote, according to Coach Jones. Two years ago four cases were put into the hands of the United States attorney. "Blacklisting" of students for using or procuring tickets illegally is a policy at Wisconsin, just as at other colleges.

LIT GROUPS PLAN VARIED PROGRAMS

Mock Trial and Debates Will Feature Philo and Athenae Meetings

A debate on the abolition of capital punishment and a mock trial will be given by the literary societies tonight in Bascom hall.

Philomathia's program consists of a debate, "Resolved that capital punishment should be abolished in the United States." The affirmative will be upheld by Reinhard Hein '26 and Carl Ludwig '26, while the negative will be debated by Melvir Thompson '26 and Robert Paddock '26. Harold Jordon '25 will speak on "The Supreme Court and Democracy."

A mock trial in which William Blake '25, president of the society, will be tried on charges of incompetency and malfeasance of office is the feature of Athenae's program. The case will be prosecuted by Harry Koevenock '26 and John Sumner '26. Abraham Sigman '25 and A. L. Soraka '27 will appear for the defendant.

That the president of Athenae has attempted to make the literary society an adjunct to the Young Men's Progressive league and that during the recent campaign he used the society to promote the interests of La Follette, are the charges made against Blake.

In Hesperia the program consists of short speeches by upper classmen and parliamentary drill. Among those who will talk are Bauer Bullinger '25, Harold Wright '26, Arthur Nickel '26, Ross Bennett '25, Roland Willey '26 and Arthur Hitt, Grad.

"The sophomore semi-public debate trials which were originally scheduled for this evening, will be postponed until November 28," Edward J. Sobey '26, chairman of the program committee, said. A number of the contestants requested that the tryouts be held on another date so that they could attend the game at Chicago.

This is how it happened: The twins were frisking about on the front porch of their new home, enjoying an airing. Equating Houdini's famous iron-box escape, Fritz succeeded in slipping his collar and went for a stroll around the corner. Doc grew lonely and with solitude came a desire to take French leave. Barking in protest and restrained from liberty by a rope and collar,

MORONY, THORSON SELECT MEN FOR WORK ON FOLLIES

"The Haresfoot Sweetheart" Theme of Production; Pre- pare Lighting Effects

Committees for the sixth annual Haresfoot Follies, which will be held November 29, in Lathrop gymnasium, were announced yesterday by Thomas Morony '25, president, and Sidney R. Thorson '25, manager. Morony is directing the committees on entertainment, the follies, floor and guests, while Thorson has charge of publicity, tickets, decorations and lighting.

Lighting effects are being worked out with the aid of the clubs technical staff. There is some possibility that the prom decorations may be used, Thorson intimated.

Announce Committees
"The Haresfoot Sweetheart" will be the theme of the entertainment acts, and several song numbers from the last two years may be used.

The committees named are as follows:

Entertainment—Evan Evans '25, Byron Rivers '26.

Floor—Wilfred Roberts '26, Harley Gates '26.

Publicity—Wes Dunlap '25, Payson Wild '26.

Tickets—Gordon Walker '26, Daniel Head '25, Warren Koehler '26.

Decorations—William McDonald '25, Oscar Elkins '27, Ernest Kahn '27.

Lighting—Robert Moore '26.

Scores—Paul McFadden '26.

Ticket Sale Monday

"Everything is being done to make this year's follies the best party of the fall season," Thorson states. "The follies is the first offering of Haresfoot for the year and we intend to make it one that students will remember."

Tickets for the affair will be placed on sale at Morgan's and the University pharmacy. Club members will have them for sale also, beginning Monday morning. Attendance at the dance will be limited to 300 couples in order to prevent congestion in the gymnasium and concert room.

STUDENT CHURCH GROUP TO HEAR ARTHUR NASH

Arthur Nash, commonly known as "Golden-rule" Nash, will speak on "The Golden Rule in Business" Sunday noon at the Congregational church. He is being brought here by the Kiwanis and Technical clubs of Madison.

Mr. Nash is the founder of the Nash Clothing Company of Cincinnati, Ohio, a mail order firm. He believed in practicing the golden rule in his business, so turned his plant over to his employees after he had made a certain profit. The entire management and profit of the company is now in the hands of the workers. He will explain the theory and the application of his principle to his business.

Tragedy Stalks Doc And Fritz--Postman To Rescue

The inseparable Phi Gam airdale twins, Doc and Fritz, were almost permanently divided, Wednesday morning. Although Doc didn't know it, he came closer to death than that man who fell from the tenth floor of the Woolworth building and landed on the top of a passing automobile.

This is how it happened: The twins were frisking about on the front porch of their new home, enjoying an airing. Equating Houdini's famous iron-box escape, Fritz succeeded in slipping his collar and went for a stroll around the corner. Doc grew lonely and with solitude came a desire to take French leave. Barking in protest and restrained from liberty by a rope and collar, the pup crawled under the porch rail, looked down upon his free mate and then jumped to join him. But the rope was not quite long enough and Doc hung suspended, his little paws kicking for the bottom he could not reach. All the while his neck was undergoing an uncomfortable stretching and tightening.

Then the day-by-day hero came along and seeing the little fellow's plight, quickly laid down his mail pouch, loosed the collar and released the twin.

Doc is different from the old woman whose appendix was taken out—he isn't bragging about his narrow escape.

$3,000,000 BUILDING PROJECT OUTLINED BY REGENTS BOARD

SELECTION OF SPANISH CLUB PLAY IS MADE

"El Idilio de Lolita en Nueva York," "Lolita's Romance in New York," by Samuel Wofsy of the Romance language department has been chosen as the play which will be presented under the auspices of the Spanish club, next March. The play calls for a cast of 13 persons, eight men and five women, and will be produced under the joint direction of Mrs. Antonio G. Solalinde, wife of the visiting Spanish professor, and chairman of the dramatic committee of the Spanish club, and James A. Cuneo, grad, president of the club.

SIGMA DELTA CHI ELECTS BADGERS

Murphy '21, French '21, Chosen Vice-Pres. and Treas. of Nat'l Organization

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 19. (Special to the Cardinal)—Roy L. French, Wisconsin '21, was elected national treasurer of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, at the annual convention here yesterday.

The new second national vice-president is Lawrence W. Murphy, Wisconsin '21. Fred Gustorf, the delegate from the Wisconsin chapter, was made chairman of the publication committee. Arthur Brayton, the first initiate into the Wisconsin chapter, was present at the convention.

Thirty-one delegates, representing 30 states, are clamoring for news about Wisconsin's football team, and the chief topic of conversation between formal sessions is that the delegates want Wisconsin to defeat Chicago in football on Saturday.

At the banquet at the Lincoln hotel, Indianapolis, yesterday, all stood and sang "On Wisconsin" with organ accompaniment as the closing feature of the convention.

Chapters were granted to local journalism clubs at Drake university and the University of California. Willis J. Abbott, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, Boston, addressed the delegates on "Christian Mission of Journalism."

SOCIOLOGY SORORITY ANNOUNCES ELECTIONS

Alpha Kappa Delta, national honorary sociological fraternity, announces the election of Ellery Channing Russell '26, George C. Sanderson '25, Jane Truesdale '25, Mrs. Florence Stehn '26, Rebecca Rabinoff '25, Eleanor Reuch, Pauline Miller '26, Ruth Hewitt '26, Arnold Hansen '26, Elsie Jenison, grad, Arthur Waleden, grad. Initiation will take place at a banquet at the College Women's club, Friday, November 28.

DEAN NARDIN SPEAKS AT WOMEN'S CONVO

F. Louise Nardin, dean of women, will speak Friday and Saturday at the Women's Vocational congress at Boxeman, Montana. The association is under the direction of Montana State college and is for all high school women in the state. Prominent women from all parts of the country speak on the various aspects of education and business for the instruction of those who will be obliged to earn their own way. Miss Nardin will return either Sunday or Monday.

Propose $477,000 Addition to Bascom; To Enlarge Li- brary. Chemistry Bldgs.

Eleven new building projects for the extension of the university were submitted to the state board of public affairs when Theodore Kronshage, president of the board of regents, President Birge, and J. D. Phillips, business manager, presented legislative estimates involving a total budget of $3,000,000 for the coming biennium.

These projects include a $477,000 addition to Bascom hall; a $550,000 addition to the historical library to be erected along the entire of the Park street side; a school of education building to cost $345,000, to be erected in the neighborhood of the extension building; completion of the north section of the Wisconsin high school at a cost of $172,000; an addition to the chemistry building at a cost of $300,000.

Administration Building.

An administration and law building will be erected near South hall at a cost of $350,000; agricultural buildings, $49,400; addition to the engineering shops, $85,000; addition to the extension building $115,000; auxiliary hospital buildings, $63,000; and service construction, including heating tunnels, safety measures, additional pumps, boilers, etc., totaling $368,866.

The university, built to accommodate 5,000 students, now has a total enrollment of 8,000. With the exception of Sterling hall no university building for instructional purposes have been created since 1912.

No Building Since War.

An education building to facilitate the training of teachers has been urged by the board of visitors at its meeting last June due to the demand of teachers throughout the state.

The new building plans constitute most of the change in the university budget with a small increase for operation, maintenance and ordinary capital budgets.

Statistics show that both the University of Michigan and the University of Minnesota have appropriated more than $6,000,000 for land and educational buildings while the University of Wisconsin has had only $800,000 during the post-war period aside from appropriations for the state hospital.

"The Mollusc" Will Be Reproduced By Wisconsin Players

The Wisconsin Players decided to repeat the performance of "The Mollusc" on December 13 in a business meeting last night in Lathrop hall.

The exceptional worth of the play and the acting of the cast were praised by various critics on the campus and as a result of this the club decided to give a return engagement of the production.

The same cast will present the play. They are Maxine Walker '27, Agatha McCaffrey '25, Gordon Abbott '25, and Louis Mallory '25.

After the business meeting the concert room opened to the public and "Nettie," a laboratory play by George Ade, was presented by members of the club. This is the second of a series of laboratory plays that is to be presented throughout the year by the players. The first play, "The Man in the Bowler Hat," by A. A. Milne was given two weeks ago under the supervision of Hazel Weingandt '25.

The characters in the play were Frederick Price '26, who took the role of Billy Donelson, a mining engineer; Le Roy Riesback '25, who played the part of Freddie Nichols, a diner-out; J. R. Henningway '25, who played the part of Jimmy Bates, a member of the old guard; G. Alvin Wilson '25, acted as the waiter; and Richard Ratcliff '27, a messenger boy.

NEW PISTOL CLUBOfficers Will Be Elected; R. O.
T. C. Students Eligible For Membership

Sergeant A. C. Thomas of the university military department will organize a pistol club at the meeting today of the largest pistol class of which he is in charge. Regular officers will be elected and all matters of the club arranged.

Any student who has, or is taking R. O. T. C. work is eligible for a membership in the club. There are approximately 30 men now taking pistol practice in classes under the R. O. T. C. supervision, and it is expected that all will become members. Sergeant Thomas will have charge of the affairs and enrollment of members until the officers are elected.

Anyone wishing to join can see him at the office of the military department any morning during the week, Thomas announces. The function of the club is to have regular practices to make members good shots and able to compete with other universities that have similar clubs or teams.

So It Seems

Well, they're off! Spurred on by a wonderful revival of spirit, the team entrains for Chicago for the last game of the season that promises to be a supreme effort to make amends for a more or less gloomy season. But the wonderful part of it is that the team and followers of the team—on campus and off—are backing the team with a loyalty not seen for many seasons.

There are no fair weather friends at Wisconsin.

The merchants of Madison responded nobly yesterday afternoon in two center spreads, printed in flaming cardinal, in the Wisconsin State Journal. The two advertisements, headed with "Go Get Chicago" in large letters, spurred the team on, and assured the men that Wisconsin is behind them. That's the sort of thing that makes for better athletics and better spirit all the time.

John R. Richards, better known to Badger followers as "Big Jawn" will be in the stands at Chicago tomorrow to see the fighting Badgers make their comeback. Due to business he was unable to attend the homecoming game as was expected, but he'll be at Chicago.

Wisconsin and Chicago Coaches Give Teams
Last Hard Workouts Before Deciding BattleRyan Drills Badger Squad on Passing, Kicking, and Signal Drill

By KEN BUTLER

With indications on the eve of their departure of one of the most rousing send-offs since the recall of the red wagon, the Badger football team leaves on an errand of do or die this morning. This noon they will quietly settle down in the neighborhood of the Midway and await the call to arms.

From their rooms, overlooking Lake Michigan, they will see the waves lashing up with furious inertia, ever rising, against the abutments and waste on the shore. Then will they have a picture of the spirit with which they will enter the game tomorrow. From out in the center of the lake, unseen perhaps, other waves will push on and lend more fury to those spending their lives on shore—those represent the spirit of Badger followers.

Yesterday afternoon at Camp Randall Coach Jack Ryan sent his men through their last workout at home for this season. The drill was composed of passing, kicking, and signal drill. A last workout will be held this afternoon at Stagg field.

Lineup Not Known

Just what lineup will start the game against the Maroons is not known by outsiders. Only Ryan and those planning the attack with him know this. But it is certain there will be some changes, probably in the line.

At Chicago Coach Stagg, with a today to play at the Alumni club banquet to be held at the Hotel La Salle tonight, at which Coach Ryan, Director Jones, and Dr. W. E. Meanwell, will speak.

Roundy Coughlin, columnist for the State Journal, was suggested last night for the post of director of ticket sales. He's just the man, said our informant, for he'll hang a sign outside "write your own ticket" and that's all there'll be to it. We'd all have 50-yard line seats then, but oh, how much company we'd have.

Chicago is a big city. Pigeons may strut about the street at Madison and Randolph, but it's nevertheless big. Chicago has many interests, but they'll know there's going to be two big football games in town—Wisconsin vs. Chicago and Northwestern vs. Notre Dame. But the townspeople will sit up and take notice when a vanguard of nondescript Fords come rattling down the cobblestones of National avenue with "Stagger Chicago" streaked in white on the windshields.

conference championship within his grasp, has been preparing his team with great care for the battle that will decide all. It is thought that a main part of his attack will be centered around forward passes.

Psychology may play a leading role in the game tomorrow. Chicago went into the Northwestern game last Saturday over-confident and unenthused. Only by a last supreme effort did the Maroons manage to slip over a drop kick in the last quarter to win, and that final charge was inspired mostly by the news, whispered around the field, that Minnesota was defeating Illinois and that Chicago was first in line for a championship.

Stagg Hunts Capable Passer and Reliable Punter For Badger Fight

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—To find a capable forward passer and a reliable punter is what Coach A. A. Stagg, Chicago university mentor, is facing in preparation for the grid battle with the Wisconsin Badgers Saturday at Stagg field.

Practically every back on the squad was tried out on the hurling end of the aerial department work last night. Coach Stagg realizes the power of the Badger line, and for this reason wants to play many of his formations from a pass position in order to have the seven Cardinal huskies on the forward fall spread out.

Numerous men were given a chance at punting. Wisconsin's full-back, Leo Harmon, has been constantly improving and is now able to control his kicks with accuracy. The "old man" knows that the Maroons will be sadly outplayed Saturday if the game turns into a punting duel. It is still uncertain as to who will bear the brunt of the kicking for Chicago.

The Chicago squad may enter the game without the services of two regulars. Barnes, right end who was injured in the Illinois game, is not quite ready, but will no doubt start at the whistle Saturday. Law, who played the wing position against Northwestern last week, will start if Barnes has not recovered.

Abbott, quarter, is still recovering from injuries received against the Purple. Bob Curley, dropkick expert, will start if Abbott cannot. Curley ran the first squad a good part of the time in the last couple of practice sessions.

SCHEDULED FOR
BADGER TANKMENCoach Steinauer Selects Four Teams; Two Compete on Each Date

Two swimming meets between teams of the varsity swimmers will be held November 25 and 28 at 4:30 o'clock in the gymnasium.

Four teams have been selected by Coach J. C. Steinauer, two to compete on each date.

November 25 one team will consist of Monihan, Radcliffe, Gil Hershey, Simpkins, McGinnis, Bardeen, Abendroth, Flueck, Ray, Bates, and Butler. The opposing team will be Kehl, Beck, Johnson, Porter, Hall, Stone, Frazier, Hottel, Bell, Teick, Rashman, Cook, Penhallegon, and Koney.

In the second meet November 28, one team will be composed of Balding, Alexander, Thomsen, Hodges, Weatley, Briggs, Holmes, Collins, Powell, Ferris, Davis, Nickel, Krupka, Woods, and Parker. Their opponents will be Falk Comstock, Harkness, Fox, Butler, Einfeldt, Schmekel, Fleckinger, Elkins, Werny, Welsh, Weibrecht, Pederson, Libby, Folsom, and Kennedy.

Balding Replaces Stemm.

There will be relay, distance swims, diving, plunging, back stroke, and breast stroke events. Plenty of excitement is promised, and the meet will be open without charge to all male students.

Included in the above team listings are six freshmen among whom Balding is taking the place of Freddie Stemm, one of the leading varsity swimmers who has recently suffered an attack of appendicitis.

GRIDIRON SCRAPS

Schedule Includes Six Games
Away From Home and Necessitates Travel

As the football season ends another conference season begins, for the first basketball game is set for December 12. Although this is only a practice game, yet it starts the season as the North Dakota game opened the gridiron season. For this first cage battle several teams are under consideration.

The first game is generally regarded as only an open scrimmage. This is the wrong idea, for it is here that the coach gets a line on his men, and is able to decide who is who among the twenty-five men on the squad. Often this game is the best of the season, for the Wisconsin team is far from settled, while the other team is more often set for Meanwell's team.

DePauw Game Second.
After this game the DePauw game comes on January 6. This game is always one of the best of the season, and often proves a defeat for the Cardinal team. The DePauw team is strong when they reach Madison, for they are set for the Meanwell quintet.

After these first practice games comes the hard Big Ten schedule. This is one of the hardest of seasons, for six of the games are played away from home, necessitating a great deal of travel.

Some of the weeks two games are played and it is for this hard wear that the wonder coach is so carefully conditioning his men. It is always a marvel that the Cardinal teams stand up so well under the stiff playing schedule, but this is due to the thorough training received at the start of the season.

John Van Riper

Conference Chance in Football and Basketball Marked Badger Success in 1912 Season

Wisconsin at her prime—Wisconsin is always among the leaders in the athletic as well as scholastic world, but of all years the year 1912 stands out pre-eminent. A conference chance in football and basketball marked the Badger success in that year and one of the most prominent athletes of that time was Johnny Van Riper.

He played at one of the halfback positions on the football elevens of 1911 and 12. On the championship team of 1912 he was one of the main cogs in the Badger backfield and at the end of the season he was placed on Walter Ekersall's all Western eleven. It is an interesting fact that at the same time nine members of that famous Wisconsin eleven were given berths on the first string conference team and three Badgers were placed on the second squad.

Immediately after the gridiron season Van Riper discarded the moleskins to don the apparel of a Badger basketballer. For two years he was a main stay on the Wisconsin quintet, and his last year on the net team he captained the cagers that were coached by Doc Meanwell. That year the Badgers had their first conference championship in basketball and incidentally the team was a 100 per cent team. Again John broke into the limelight by being placed at guard on the first all Western quintet. Two all conference ratings in one season is a record that few seldom attain.

When his country called for men to fight her battles, Johnny Van Riper was among the first to enlist. Over seas the flu, that took such a terrible toll among the soldiers, claimed John Van Riper as one of its victims. A story is told by his "Buddies" who knew him intimately that he gave his coat to a fellow comrade who was in need of protection and that in so doing he caught cold from exposure and was taken with the flu. Such was

Four Substitutes to Play Last Game For Maroons
Tomorrow

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—When the whistle blows tomorrow at Stagg field five regulars and four substitutes will play or be ready to play their last game for the Maroons. Captain Gowdy at center; Harry Thomas at right half; Pondelik, right guard; Barto, right end; and Barnes, left end, are the regulars who will play their last contest today. On the sidelines Law, Caruso, Weiss and Emrich, will be ready to go in and fight for their Alma Mater if the occasion should arise.

CHICAGO TO CELEBRATE
IF TEAM COPS HONORS

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Stagg field will blaze with a bonfire such as was never seen before if the university football team wins its final contest of the year and clinches its hold on the conference championship. The undergraduate commission has arranged a celebration committee to prepare plans for a proper thanksgiving if the team runs true to form and a bonfire, snake dance, parade, and general uproar were the first ideas formulated.

Forty-five students had not called for their tickets to the Chicago game at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Hunter has extended the time so that the tickets may be secured and asks students to get them in the morning.

John Van Riper, a loyal Badger, a loyal citizen, and a loyal friend to his comrades in the trenches. His memory will linger long in the minds of all those who knew him or know of him.

Six Men and Coach Entrain
For Mid-Western Title
Run

A conference championship—last night a small band of loyal Badgers, six men, a coach and a manager entrained for Ann Arbor the site of the conference run, with no other idea in mind than to bring back a title to rest in the armory for at least one year.

Late minute rumors to the effect that Ohio will be weakened by injuries to one of its squad slightly increased the Badger chances for a win. Prior to this, the Buckeyes had been given a slight edge over all other contestants as four of the men who ran on their championship team last year will be in the race again this fall.

Badgers Rank High

The way things stand now, the Badger and Ohio harriers will have a bitter fight for high honors with the runners from other universities coming in for individual honors.

In every cross country championship race the Badgers have placed second or third, but they have always seemed to lack the sprint at the finish to annex the title. Last year the Badgers took third place, losing second rank to the Illini loggers by one point.

Championship Junior Class
For This Season

About 50 hockey enthusiasts met at the field house to celebrate the seasonal hockey spread last night. The frosh provided the entertainment, while the sophomores under the direction of Marian Rhode and Marguerite Schwartz took charge of the food.

The hockey banner was awarded to the championship class of '26, and varsity was announced. Plans for the coming season of hockey were made and it was decided to elect class managers at some near date.

The Madison hockey club will meet the Midway club of Chicago at Washington park Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Sunday morning they will give the Winnetka team a return game at Winnetka.

SENIORS VICTORS
IN VOLLEY BALL

Same Consistent Teamwork
of Former Two Victories

In the hardest fought game of the season the seniors triumphed over their sophomore rivals yesterday afternoon and won the women's volleyball championship for the third successive year. Despite the fact that the final game had to be played inside in Lathrop gymnasium, neither team was in anyway handicapped and each played the hardest, fastest game of the year.

The sophomores displayed the same consistent teamwork which has marked their two victories over the freshmen and juniors. Time after time when the seniors shot a swift ball across the net, the sophomore second line picked it up, for a safe return. Connant, Gatterman and Gottlieb starred for the sophomores.

With the score tied in the last half the seniors began to play real ball. The seniors serving in the last minutes of the game held the sophomores at a standstill. Hunt, serving for the seniors, shot her ball's with such speed and accuracy that the sophomores were unable to touch them. Lowe, following Hunt, piled the senior score up to a safe margin which the sophomores couldn't pull down.

Announcement of the varsity volleyball team followed the championship game. The varsity team defeated the faculty team yesterday afternoon in a rather one-sided match. The varsity members are Winifred Lowe '25, Emile Hunt '25, Elizabeth Jones '25, Fidelia Pease '26, Emily Connant '27, Laura Gatterman '27, Lorraine Lloyd '27, Olga Gottlieb '27 and Clara Hartman '28.

Elna Mygdal '26 and Bois Barry '25 starred in the final co-ed swimming meet last night, when the juniors won from the seniors, 35 to 29, and the sophomores defeated the freshmen 38 to 22. According to the point system the final scores, totaling the three meets, gave first place to the seniors, though the juniors went through each meet undefeated. The sophomores were given third place and the freshmen fourth.

Miss Mygdal, swimming in perfect form, defeated Miss Barry, former champion, in the 40-yard free style and in the 100-yard free style. In the relay, Miss Barry was leading for the seniors until the last spurt, when Miss Mygdal passed her and won the relay for the juniors. It was the most closely contested meet of the season.

Miss Barry, Miss Mygdal and Ann Smith '25 were chosen as the 1924 varsity swimming team.

The total scores for the classes stands, seniors, 128; juniors, 114; sophomores, 84; freshmen, 47.

Our Policy in Regard to Athletics in the Future: STAGGER CHICAGO!

The senate did not elect an elections committee at its meeting Wednesday. That is one sign of progress.

There are so many ways to spend three millions that one wonders where to begin.

—Stagger Chicago—

The drive of the blue books opened again this week and from reports current on the campus the list of casualties is slowly forming, some students being entirely eliminated and others receiving serious wounds. Although the first hour exams, given during the first month of the semester, furnished a good warning to a large number to fortify themselves against this second invasion, it is apparent that some students paid little attention to this heed and have suffered severely.

—Stagger Chicago—

THE WAY IT WORKS

Stagger Chicago? Of course. Stagger the Chicago team, the championship chasers; stagger the Chicago student body; stagger the whole city. And at the same time stagger our student body; stagger our faculty; stagger our alumni body; stagger YOURSELF!

When one is staggered, he is swept off his feet, he loses his balance, his emotions are aroused. The way to stagger anyone is to surprise him and to hit him where he least expects it.

The opinion of the football world is that Wisconsin is not behind its team, and this opening gives the chance for the thrust that will stagger Chicago and Wisconsin as well. The team is all set for a supreme effort to save its face by winning the game tomorrow; there is no doubt about that. The doubtful quantity just now is the support of the student body.

During the world war there was never a question in the mind of any American as to the ultimate outcome of the struggle. Nothing but complete victory was ever thought of, and the result was a psychic wave of enthusiasm that effected cooperation and would not be denied. At Notre Dame defeat is considered an impossibility, and defeat never comes. And the mental attitude of Notre Dame's student body has a great deal to do with every game that is played. Enthusiasm begets enthusiasm; the spirit of victory begets victory.

The way for Wisconsin to stagger Chicago and to stagger itself is to sweep away all doubt and pessimism concerning the game; to cling so strongly to the idea of victory that that spirit will permeate the entire team and will not be denied; and to show the alumni and all the world that Wisconsin never quits.

Many people think that Wisconsin is licked already, in spirit as well as in fact, and they deserve to be staggered.

Stagger Chicago

DISAPPOINTMENT

One-third of the members of the combined regimental bands were bitterly disappointed on Monday to discover that they had been deprived of the trip to Chicago which had been promised them for this week-end, and toward which they have been working all during the football season.

Although too much praise is good for no one, it cannot be denied that the band has given splendid support to the football team this fall, marching well, playing well, and doing a great deal of yelling besides. But unselfish sacrifices and devotion is a rare thing in this work of human beings, and well did the members of the band know that their labors would not go unrequited. The chief reward they were looking forward to was the Chicago trip, and when the money had been provided for all their expenses, it was certain that they were to go. Great was their disappointment, therefore, when word came from Chicago that only 100 men would be allowed on the field, and it was found necessary to leave 45 men at home.

Doubtless the University of Chicago has a perfect right to limit the size of any band to be permitted to enter the field, for it is known that the Stagg field is far too small to accommodate all the spectators who desire to attend, and it is unfair to give a whole section of seats to a band. Other bands playing at Chicago this year have been limited in the same manner, and even the Chicago band has less than 100 men. It does seem, however, in view of the fact that the Wisconsin band which went to Chicago last year numbered about 135 men, that the authorities at that school might have sent word of the new ruling at the beginning of the season, so that the expectations and disappointment of those who have now been eliminated from the trip could have been avoided.

Wisconsin is proud of its band, and is disappointed that its full force cannot be displayed to the Chicago rooters and Wisconsin alumni at the game; but the chief disappointment is that of the bandmen themselves. No other reward for their work this fall is being given them. It seems that the athletic department might at least provide complimentary tickets to the gridgraph for those men who have to stay at home.

The Tramp Abroad

By M. K. ANKLESARIA

The unexpected has happened.

A few weeks ago some men were seen opposite Bascom hall smoking their pipes "a la Dawes" style in their six cylinder car. Yesterday the same were seen again in the same car, with the same pipes and pouches—and the same pose.

It is a matter of disappointment not to find any changes in the men's smoking outfit after the successful campaign of the general. Instead we find in the downtown show windows girls' rouge and powder boxes with one side for the beauty materials, the other to hold half a dozen cigarettes—and that in a university town where the girls are supposed not to smoke.

There is a mistake somewhere unless these new a la carte beauty boxes are meant for men which is not quite impossible or impracticable in these days of imitation and keen rivalry.

MURDERS FOR EDUCATION

The indemnity paid to the United States for the death of Major Imbrie by the Persian government is to be utilized for the educational purposes for the boys of that nation in American universities. It is a new way for the orientals to get money for education. The end in view apparently is good but the means employed is bad.

We hope the principle arising out of America's generosity does not get established for misuse. The symptoms seem to be prevailing, for news comes from Burma that an American missionary doctor had been badly attacked and is now lying in a hospital.

Will Burma run the race after China and Persia—we wonder?

Who said Chicago? Let us at him so we can hurl something light like a plane at 'em. No we're not going, going to stay here and study. UHU, YES SIREE.

Transportation is Subject of Recent Book By Miller

Sydney L. Miller, of the department of economics, is the author of the new book, "Principles of Railroad Transportation," now being printed by the A. W. Shaw Company.

The book is designed not only for classroom use, but also for the person who is interested in the problems of the railroads and the economic and historical phases in the development of transportation.

History of railroad development, railroad services, economics of railroad services and regulation, are emphasized in four complete sections of the book.

Important problems that are discussed fully under the main chapter headings pertain to: the nature, scope and significance of transportation, development of railroad problems, federal control, territorial groupings, competition, capitalization, regulation, revenue, judicial regulation, rate of returns, and consolidation.

LOOSE LIVING IN COLLEGES--CHARGE

Committee Report on Eastern Colleges Attacks Student Living Conditions

The university is indirectly implicated in the blanket charges of loose living leveled against college communities and contained in a report of an intercollegiate committee on living conditions among the students.

The report revealed that drinking, gambling and loose living exists to a surprising degree in communities of college students. The students composing the committee declared that there "is almost everything to help the student go wrong," and recommended that the various colleges introduce stricter police regulations for "street-walkers, mashers and drunkards," and that the colleges provide houses in which "only students of one sex should live."

The report created a sensation among eastern colleges, and college leaders of greater Boston are organizing a cleanup campaign. Representatives of men's and women's colleges of Boston appointed a committee to make drastic reforms in the regulations which now govern student houses. This committee, headed by Dr. George Wright of the Harvard dental school, is making plans "for the permanent betterment of conditions among Boston students."

A group of Boston college students who are not among those living in the questionable apartment houses issued this statement in regard to the report:

"God bless their reforming souls. We don't know what it's all about, but we're sure they're right. They always are."

The actions of the committee, it is said, will be a death blow to the student apartments and other unsupervised private suites where young men and young women have been studying in unchaperoned freedom.

The institutions which have joined the crusade to "save the students" are, Boston college, Boston university, Massachusetts institute of Technology, Tufts college, Northwestern university, Emerson College of Oratory, and several departments of Harvard university.

Insurance Board Organized Here; Elect Directors

The fire and casualty insurance agents of Madison organized a Madison Board of Fire and Casualty Underwriters at the Madison club last night.

The following were elected directors: A. W. Schulkamp, Percy Terry Theodore Herfurth, Frank Starkweather, Paul E. Stark, Louis Brechler and J. E. Rasmussen.

It is stated that the organization will be for mutual cooperation among the insurance men of Madison. That the organization will also take steps to eliminate irresponsible insurance agents is also reported to be one of the purposes.

Mrs. Harding In Semi Conscious State Today

MARION, Ohio—Mrs. Warren G. Harding was in a semi-comatose state today at the White Oaks Sanitarium of Dr. Carl E. Sawyer, where she has been at the point of death for the last week. Dr. Sawyer in a bulletin, however, said that her heart action was fair.

Dr. Sawyer's bulletin follows: "Mrs. Harding was restless most of the night. This morning she is in a semi-comatose condition. Her heart action is fair, elimination poor. She is very weak and exhausted."

Badger Women Will Lunch With U. of C. W. A. A. on Saturday

Wisconsin women who are in Chicago for the game will be entertained at the annual luncheon to be given by the University of Chicago W. A. A., Saturday at noon in the sun parlor at Ida Noyes hall.

A special tour will be conducted through the building, after which the women will attend the game.

A clipping from the Daily Maroon quotes Frances Lawton, general chairman of the luncheon, as saying "The purpose of the luncheon is to create a more friendly spirit between the women of the two universities.

Decorations will carry out this idea of cooperation. The Maroon and crimson and white will be intertwined, thus furnishing the colors of the two institutions.

DOLLS

Big and Little Dolls For Big and Little Girls to Appear at Y. W. C. A. Bazaar

Big dolls, small dolls, squeaky dolls, Americans, foreigners, boys and girls, happy dolls, crying dolls, all will be on exhibit at the W. S. G. A. doll show in the W. S. G. A. library, which will be a special feature of the annual Y. W. C. A. bazaar, December 9.

Even college women like to play with dolls, according to the report of Emily Davidson, W. S. G. A. district chairman. She stated that the girls in the W. S. G. A. districts were very enthusiastic over the idea of dressing the dolls for the show. Every girls rooming house on the campus will add its display to this Christmas toy shop. Dolls are furnished by the W. S. G. A. office and each district will have a certain number of dolls to dress.

Character groups are being planned including a league of nations group, campus character group, and different nationality groups. The dolls will be priced by experts. Special notice is being sent out to the grade schools of the city telling them of the show. The regular admission fee of 10 cents will admit persons to the doll show as well as the entire bazaar.

Commission Selling is Unpopular With University Women

That women will not take the chance is the conclusion to be drawn from their general reluctance to take commission jobs, which have been coming into the office of Miss Elizabeth D. Young, who is in charge of women's employment for the university.

Commission selling, a type of work which is particularly abundant at this time of the year because of the coming holidays, is not generally popular among the young women who are helping themselves through school.

The favorite work seems to be along the clerical line, and a large number of women are doing stenographic and office work. Separate jobs which are popular with the women are taking care of children in the evenings, and serving meals. The women who support themselves entirely are in the minority and find permanent positions as maid and stenographer best for their purpose.

Rail Body Assails Legislative Control

NEW YORK — Railroad problems should be considered as economic questions and not as political issues, according to a "declaration of policy" issued by the Association of Railway executives in annual convention.

At the meeting which was held here yesterday the belief was stressed that railway conditions today call for no legislative action by congress.

The "declaration" also held that rate fixing by legislative action would be destructive, that amendments to the transportation act must be kept from the hands of "political doctors" and that adequate revenues should be assured the carriers.

GAS OR WATER?

French Prof's Plan to Sup- plant Gasoline is N. G., Say University Men

The elysium of the motorist, a time when engines may be run on water, remains a mirage on the horizon, according to local opinion.

Prof. Charles Henry of Sorbonne, Paris, recently said that the day is not far off when water will supplant gasoline as a motor fuel. Local authorities disagree with him.

The process which Professor Henry describes to achieve this new force is one which will filter water through some metal or vegetable, still to be discovered, enabling rapid decomposition of the liquid into gas at a temperature of 400 degrees Fahrenheit.

"Personally, I regard the suggestion as nonsense," said Prof. J. H. Mathews, director of the Course in Chemistry, "for the process described is directly opposed to laws of thermodynamics. All our present knowledge is against this theory."

Prof. E. R. Maurer, in the College of Engineering, expressed the belief that cheap alcohol, rather than water, would be first to supplant gasoline as a motor fuel. "European countries today are operating engines on alcohol," said Professor Maurer, "and they are making it from beets and other vegetables which they grow."

Experiments are now being conducted at the Forests Products laboratory to produce cheap alcohol. Waste wood is used as the material from which this alcohol is made.

If these experiments are successful they will perhaps destroy the present fight for the oil resources of various countries by powerful nations, and thus, successfully kill the "germ of war."

STATE NORMALS WANT $5,000,000

Million Dollar Building Fund Included in Annual Budget

An appeal for a building program at state normal schools during the next two years was made before the state board of public affairs by normal regents presenting budgets.

A building program of approximately $1,000,000 was requested of the board, providing for buildings at Oshkosh, River Falls, Stevens Point and completion of a building at Superior.

The normal budgets as presented totaled $5,171,000 for the two years, $2,556,000 for the first year and $2,615,000 for the second. Those appearing were: Edward Dempsey, Oshkosh, R. L. Runge, Platteville, and William Kittle, secretary, Madison.

Appropriations aggregating $379,000 were asked by George P. Hambrecht, state vocational director, for the next two years for operations of the vocational department, vocational aid to cities and cripple training. The largest item in the vocational budget was $315,000 for vocational training aid, the largest part of which goes back to cities and local units. This is a slight increase over last year. Requests for crippled aid amounted to $34,900.

The state law library and reviser of statutes were other departments appearing today.

The banking department asked for no increased appropriations, Commissioner D. W. Parker submitting the budget.

TO HOLD TRYOUTS FOR JOINT DEBATE DEC. 5

Tryouts for the Pythia-Castalia annual joint debate which occurs in March, are to be held Friday, December 5 in Music hall. A committee of six consisting of three members from each of the contesting clubs will have entire charge of the preliminaries of the debate. Members of this committee are Eileen Blackley '24, Isabel French, grad, and Annabel Douglas '24, members of Pythia, and Albert Johnson '25, with two other members of Castalia to be announced later. It is the custom for societies to alternate in choosing the subject for debate.

Prof. Hall Invents New Machine For Psychology Tests

A new machine which will be of great value in computing correlation coefficients in psychology has recently been designed by Prof. Clark L. Hull of the department of psychology. The machine in use at the present time is only a model but it works very well.

The machine costs over $2,000 to build. It is driven by electricity and needs no one to watch it as it automatically is shut off when the strips that are used run through. It can compute hundreds of pairs of numbers in a comparatively short time. This invention reduces man's labor to one-fifth.

"We hope to improve the machine so that tests may be made on school children to find out their aptitude in certain occupations. If our plans work out we will be able, in a few years, to give these tests at a charge of 15 or 20 cents for each test. At the present time a test costs about $40," said Professor Hull when commenting on the machine.

Winners In Spray Ring Contest are Announced

Entries from ten spray rings located in six counties completed in the first annual apple contest for spray rings held at the Wisconsin college of agriculture.

Ozaukee county rings won both first and second honors, the Grafton Spray ring placing first and the Lakefield ring second. The Clemansville ring, Winnebago county, placed third. Honorable mention to the Rochester ring, Racine county and the Lake Mills ring, Jefferson county.

Winners of individual honors are Ben Kohlney, of the Grafton ring, first, H. F. Schmidt, Lake Mills ring second; Mrs. John Beattie, Clemansville ring, third. Martin Blax, Hugo Trost and Ervin Volland, all of the Grafton ring, were given honorable mention.

Rich New York Society Woman Burns to Death

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Mrs. M. Crouse-Klock, wife of a wealthy real estate promoter and prominent in social circles in central New York, died today from burns received last night when her clothes caught fire. She was about to retire when servants heard her scream. They rushed into the room and found her attempting to beat out the fire.

WISCONSIN DRY CHIEF ATTACKED

Charges Lodged Against Perry According to Washington Dispatches

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Clark M. Perry, federal prohibition director for Wisconsin, who for the last week, has been threatening suspension of half his force and did suspend one agent, is himself being watched by special agents of the intelligence bureau, it became known today in dispatches from Washington.

Specific charges have been lodged against the dry chief, and if these charges are substantiated Perry may be asked to retire. Charges have also been made against other attaches of the dry headquarters here.

Bootleg Immunity Charged

Dry operatives in Washington admitted today that an investigation into the Wisconsin prohibition department has been going on for six months.

Reports are rife regarding alleged participation of federal officials in the $100,000 whisky robberies at Plymouth, Wis., drug warehouses several months ago; federal protection for the Ebner Brewing company, Fort Atkinson; sales of bonded whisky stolen from a government warehouse and general "protection" for rum runners.

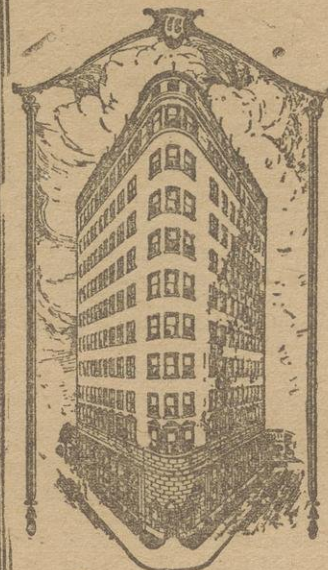

All evidence in these charges will be presented to the federal grand jury when it goes into session on Dec. 1, it was said. Hundreds of witnesses, some of whom are making charges against the dry office, will be called. The jury is expected to make an exhaustive inquiry into the alleged irregularities.

Among the principal items to be presented to the jury is the Plymouth robbery, in which whisky held in a bonded warehouse, disappeared under peculiar circumstances. At the time it was rumored that certain federal men were involved. This has since been denied, but it is understood that the special intelligence agents have made a thorough investigation of the case.

NEW GYM COURSE IS BEING OFFERED

Special Health Class For Women Replaces Present Rest Gym

"A new gymnasium class for women is being offered which consists of preliminary work in landing, balancing, muscle building and use of the apparatus," according to Miss A. L. Gall, instructor in physical education.

"In order to better meet the needs of women now assigned to rest gymnastics, there has been organized, with the approval of the student health department, a special health class with the purpose of giving work that is restful and at the same time distinctly beneficial. Walking gym has been discontinued this term," Miss D. W. Waterman of the corrective department declared.

Women may register for winter gymnasium work from 9 to 12 o'clock and from 2 to 5 o'clock today in Lathroy gym. The winter term begins November 24 and attendance at the first meeting of each class is compulsory. Women are required to take two activities during the winter, which may be selected with certain limitations, from among the activities of basketball, baseball, swimming, bowling, golf, horseback riding, gymnasium, folk dancing, rifle practice, and interpretive dancing.

"Riding teams are a new feature of the horseback riding work which is offered for women during the winter term," H. Bruckner, of the Black Hawk Riding academy, said yesterday.

"Six women with two substitutes will make up each team, which will rehearse as often as necessary to get it in shape, and will have additional coaching without additional charge, because of the lighter registration for the winter term. Credit of 100 points for W. A. A. will be given for participation in at least one team contest," Mr. Bruckner stated.

Stoughton Man is Convicted By Jury of Manslaughter

George Forbes, 33, Stoughton, was found guilty of manslaughter in the fourth degree by a jury in superior court here this afternoon. Judge Hoppmann will sentence him later. The statutes provide a maximum penalty of two years in prison or $2,000 fine or both.

Forbes was driving a car on the Oregon road late the night of Sept. 29, 1924, in which Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Williams and their four-months-old son, Roger Abel Williams, were riding.

The machine struck a culvert three miles south of Madison and the baby was fatally injured. The child died two days later.

Forbes was taken into custody following a coroner's inquest in which it developed that moonshine was found in a hand bag at the scene of the smashup.

Forbes was to be sentenced late this afternoon.

Plan Specialties For Student Dance Following Game

Plans for the inter-fraternity dance to be given in the French room of the Drake hotel in Chicago after the Chicago-Wisconsin football game Saturday evening are being worked out carefully by the committee in charge to include a varied and interesting program for the students attending. Dancing is from 9 to 1 o'clock. Tickets are $3 a couple.

A specialty dance with several soft shoe numbers, by Paul Faust '26 and Jimmie Hildreth '26, will be one of the features of the program. An individual song revue by William Elliot '25, will follow. The Cook sisters, playing at the Chicago theater, will appear in a song and dance skit.

This dance which was arranged by members of the campus fraternities is designed to give students an opportunity to attend a truly Wisconsin party, where Wisconsin spirit and feeling will be uppermost. Those desiring tickets may procure them from Fred Knowles '25, chairman of the dance committee, at the Alpha Delta Phi house before this noon, or by calling Rogers Park-1864 in Chicago before Saturday.

Several persons who have made reservations have not as yet called for their tickets, according to Knowles, and these will be disposed of unless called for soon. Tickets which have not been sold out of the 200, which is the limit for the dance, will be on sale at the door Saturday evening.

Education Department Asks $20,000 Increase

C. J. Anderson, assistant superintendent of public instruction appearing before the board of public affairs today, explained the proposed appropriations for the state department of education which calls for an increase of about $20,000. The department proposes to establish supervisors of physical education and the construction of public school buildings if given sufficient funds.

BADGER POTATOES DROP IN VALUE

Crop Larger Than Last Year, But Report Price is Lower

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (Special)—Wisconsin farmers who grew potatoes this year will not find them as profitable crop as in 1923, it was announced by the U. S. department of agriculture today.

The Wisconsin potato crop this year, the department estimates, is worth $14,880,000 which is approximately three million less than its value last year.

Although six million more bushels of spuds were grown in the state this year, the market price was almost 50 per cent lower than in 1923, which accounts for the lower crop value.

Wisconsin farmers produced 32,250,000 bushels of potatoes this year as compared with 26,112,000 bushels in 1923. The market price a year ago was 86 cents as compared with 44 cents on Oct. 15.

The Wisconsin farmer averaged 129 bushels of spuds an acre this year which is considerably larger than the average yield over the past ten years which was 97 bushels per acre.

MADISON SCHOOLS HAVE BIG EXPENSE

Superiority of City Institutions
Meeting

That operation expenses of Madison schools this year are greater than ever was the assertion made by T. W. Gosling, superintendent of schools, in his address, "The School Budget," before the Emerson Parent-Teacher association in the Emerson school Tuesday night.

Charles A. Harper, assistant state superintendent of schools, addressed the association on the need of cooperation in educational work. Play, supervised by Miss Helen Winkleman of the domestic science class of the university, depicting allegorically the value of milk, was presented by twenty Emerson school girls.

Mr. Gosling pointed out that Madison has the lowest school tax rate of any city in the state and that the budget of city schools is prepared eighteen months in advance of the calendar year.

To show the superiority of Madison schools over those of other cities of the state, Mr. Gosling developed a series of comparative figures from an analysis of 23 representative cities of Wisconsin in which he brought out the following points.

1. That if the assessed valuation of the city schools was distributed among the pupils enrolled, each would receive 8,006 an amount not equalled by any other city of the state;
2. That if the distribution were made among those in actual attendance, each student would receive $13,000, which again is a figure unequalled by any other city of the state;

Although Madison is second in the ratio of assessed valuation to total enrollment, Milwaukee, which is first, has only 49 per cent of its enrolled students in attendance while Madison has 73 percent, the superintendent claimed.

Mr. Gosling explained the increased operation expenses this year by:

- The greater number of teachers on the city staff;
 - The need to reward those who have served for many years with increases in salary;
 - The great amount of school building being undertaken.
- Mr. Gosling declared that when the additions to the Emerson school are completed, it will be the finest

Madison Owners Announce
Sale of Northern Utility Company

Sale of the Peninsular Power Co. with offices at 102 N. Carroll, a power producing corporation owning plants on the Menominee River and in northeastern Wisconsin and Michigan, the majority of whose stock is owned by Madison people to the North American Co., New York, was announced Thursday morning.

The sum of $3,500,000 is reported to be involved in the transaction.

The final details of the transfer have not been completed according to the Madison owners, but the sale is certain to be made. The Wisconsin railroad commission had not learned of the sale according to William Deneen, secretary.

The North American Co. is one of the largest public utility companies in the United States. It is a holding company that controls the stock of many of the largest operating companies in the country. It includes the T. M. E. R. & L. Co., Milwaukee.

The majority of the stock of the Peninsular Co. is said to be owned by the Mead and Seastone, consulting engineers, 115 S. Carroll st. Prof. D. W. Mead is a professor in the engineering college of the University and an international authority on hydraulic engine ring and water power problems.

Keen Experiments
"WINE OF YOUTH"

FEATURING ELEANOR BOARDMAN

PRESENTED AT THE STRAND
The period of experiment with pictures of the jazz age seems to have passed, and the acme of this variety of motion picture to have been reached in "Wine of Youth" now showing at the Strand.

The temperaments of three generations of femininity are here depicted, and the respective opinions of Mary I, Mary II, Mary III, grandmother, mother and daughter on the subject of love and marriage form the basis of much of the action. Mary III, being young and pretty, naturally dominates the picture insofar as the story is concerned, and shows that she, as a type of the much maligned younger generation is far better able to judge of the pitfalls that beset the path of young womanhood than are her elders.

The story is a lively one, and concerns a certain experiment in which the young people involved decide to do their testing of connubial happiness before rather than after the marriage knot is tied. They discover nothing new — only that the ideas and ideals of yesterday are the best after all. They also prove a corollary to the problem — that parents who live in glass houses should not throw stones.

"Wine of Youth" is an excellent picture, and the spectator will enjoy and appreciate it.

DOYLE HARMON IS

Doyle Harmon '26, received the season pass given by the Strand theater for making the first touchdown in the Wisconsin-Iowa game last week.

The Strand offered passes to the first men to score in all conference games. Leo Harmon '25 was given the pass for scoring the first touchdown in the Wisconsin-Minnesota game.

Passes will also be given by the Strand to the man who plays the best game in each of the conference basketball games. The original plan was to give passes to the man scoring the most points for Wisconsin in each game, but at Dr. Meanwell's request, it was changed to the man playing the best game, to be chosen by Dr. Meanwell.

Asks ReformsDean Nardin Says Insidious Propaganda Spread By Modern Books

WAUKESHA—The insidious propaganda spread by modern books and plays which preach discontent with the simple life and glorify moral weakness is responsible for the restlessness and the free and easy conduct of the youth of today, Dean F. Louise Nardin, of the university told members of the Ideal club and the women teachers of the city, who were guests of the club Tuesday night. Dean Nardin addressed the 200 women in the ballroom of the home of Mrs. A. J. Hodgson.

Such books and plays first appeared many years ago, and the older generation which should have had the foresight to challenge their doctrines must now teach its children the fallacy of such convictions as that wealth is necessary to happiness or that weakness in temptation is dramatic, Dean Nardin said.

Syncopation Week Is Leading Coming Theater Attraction

By H. E. R.

Syncopation week at the Parkway is to be the main attraction at the theaters next week, but Richard Barthelmess in "Classmates" at the Strand should not be overlooked.

This picture of Richard Barthelmess at the Strand will be one that should interest us mightily, inasmuch as Mae Tinee was very much impressed with it. The play is filmed for the greatest part around West Point, and Madge Evans is the girl who holds his love. This picture will be shown the first part of the week and then a new wonder dog, Peter, the Great, will take over the screen in his picture, "The Silent Accuser." Eleanor Boardman is the leading lady and is assisted by Raymond McKee.

The Parkway is going to entertain with 50 minutes of syncopation. Twenty-five people take part in this, including a 10-piece band, Austin and Delaney, comedians, and a group of chorus girls. A feature picture with an all-star cast will also be shown. The name is "House of Youth," and it is said to be a good picture, well picked to be in harmony with the show.

No less worthy of attention is the picture that will be at the Madison the first part of the week. Richard Dix is star for the first time in a new play called "Manhattan." It is a thriller of a very good type, according to the pre-views, and is reported as being Dix's best piece of work. Jacqueline Logan is the co-star. Then comes "Dangerous Pleasure," a melodrama starring Miles Welch, Dorothy Revier, Sheldon Lewis and Alice Howells. This is another of the many stories that is being given the new twists that attract interest.

The Majestic will produce William Brady's comedy that Grace George amused Broadway with for a year and a half. "The Ruined Woman" is the name. Having seen every piece of work done by the company this year, we are looking forward to the production, for the company has been doing well lately, and has been turning out some satisfactory work.

Johannis Josephin will be the headliner at the "Orph" the first part of next week in "The Pioneer," an episode of the early American frontier days. The latter half of the week will feature a special Thanksgiving program headed by Bernet and Downs in "The Escape." This act is graced with a "bevy of gais." Don't forget that Geraldine Farrar is coming to Madison, December 4, for one performance only of "Carmen." She is surrounded by an excellent company in this production.

DATE FOR FIRST SWIM MEET NOT ARRANGED

The date for the first swimming meet has not yet been set, though Coach Steinauer expects to pit his men against either the swimmers of the Milwaukee Athletic club or those of the Chicago athletic association.

It has been proposed to the Milwaukee club to hold a dual meet as usual, swimming here December 5 and there December 19. As yet no word has been received in response to this suggestion.

Most of the season's dates will be arranged at the coaches' conference, December 5 and 6. One meet will probably be arranged with La Crosse, as they have signified their desire for a match.

Connolly is suspected of being one of several "fences" through whom the bonds were to be disposed.

Garey Speaks

Young Progressives Are Told
Of Workings Of State
Civil Service

That state department heads have very little voice in the selection of their staff of workers was the statement made by A. E. Garey secretary of the civil service commission, before the Young Men's Progressive association Tuesday night. Mr. Garey explained that most state positions, except those filled by the governor's appointment, were subject to civil service.

August Scherr, former state vice president of the Young Men's Progressive association, told about the experiences while at the La Follette Chicago headquarters during the campaign.

Launcelot A. Gordon gave a brief talk on the future of the progressive movement.

Walter Henderson was fined $10 and costs in superior court Thursday for speeding.

BORAH MAY SEEK 1928 NOMINATION

Comes Into Favor as He Leaves Insurgents For More Conservative Company

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Opinion among persons who have interviewed Senator Borah is practically unanimous that the Idaho senator is now laying his plans to win the Republican nomination for president in 1928.

Senator Borah has taken the lead in urging a special session of congress next spring to dispose of the world court question, railroad and taxation legislation and farm relief. He has called on President Coolidge and given frank expression of his views. He is about to assume the chairmanship of the powerful senate committee on foreign relations.

Senator Borah has taken the lead in that he will be a candidate in 1928 and declare he will have powerful support from the New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois delegations. With the support of the West, they believe Borah can win the nomination as a "regular."

That Borah occupies a strong strategic position in the senate at this time is admitted. As chairman of the foreign relations committee Borah must remain in the confidence of the White House. If he is ignored, he can cause no end of embarrassment.

Borah's conduct during the recent campaign was pleasing to the Republican "regulars" and indicated that the senator is growing more conservative and less inclined to train with the "insurgents." He made only one speech during the campaign, but in that speech warmly praised President Coolidge for his stand on the bonus, taxation and economy. He did not summon the senate committee on campaign funds until Senator La Follette made his sensational charges and demanded a probe in a speech at Scranton in October. During the hearing Senator Borah maintained a judicial attitude, but defended Republican campaign methods from attack by other members of the committee and refused to confirm La Follette's charges before election day.

Senator Borah endorsed Theodore Roosevelt Jr., for governor of New York against Al Smith and thereby strengthened his claim upon the gratitude of Senator Wadsworth, "regular" Republican.

Borah has a close friend in Pennsylvania in the person of Senator Pepper and he has repeatedly expressed his admiration for Secretary Mellon, who is said to return the senator's regard. At the same time, Borah is on close terms with Governor Pinchot, thus insuring him a measure of support from both Pennsylvania factions.

Senator Borah has always been credited with popular strength in Illinois and has a number of admirers among Chicago and down-state Illinois congressmen. Should he fail to cooperate with President Coolidge during the next four years, however, it is conceded Borah would forfeit any strength he now holds with the "regulars" in both Illinois and Pennsylvania.

Probably the most trying obstacle Senator Borah will have to meet in his bid for the presidency will be the attitude of the small group of La Follette supporters in the house and senate. Since they entered the senate 18 years ago La Follette and Borah have been regarded as co-workers but they had their disagreements and these have multiplied in recent years. Borah indicated last spring that he would go out of the Republican party with La Follette, and obtained the latter's endorsement in his race for reelection in Idaho. He determined early in the campaign, however, to remain "regular" and thereby incensed some of the La Follette leaders. It now seems probable that the avowed "insurgents" in the senate will demand that Borah join them openly or forfeit their support in 1928. Senator Borah's friends believe he will reject the overtures of the third party.

It is believed that President Coolidge looks kindly upon Senator Borah's aspirations to the presidency. Borah was the White House choice for vice president at the Cleveland convention and Chairman Butler announced he would be nominated. Borah's peremptory refusal to accept the nomination was all that stopped his selection.

The Idaho senator is 59 years of age. He must run in 1928 if ever.

In 1928 he will still have two years to serve in the senate and he will be in an ideal position to make his bid, provided events in the senate do not automatically eliminate him from the race. Washington believes the "Borah for President" boom will have attained lusty proportions four years hence.

GENEVA—The latest rumor circulating in Geneva on the disarmament question is that President Coolidge will convoke a new arms conference to meet in Europe perhaps at The Hague. Those circulating this rumor insist that the Washington government already has sounded the new British government on the subject.

Shoplifting Trio Fined $200 Each in Hoppmann's Court

Max Ancon, Mrs. Max Ancon and Mrs. Frank Andrews, alias Josephine Johnson, all of Minneapolis, who have been in jail here for two weeks since they were arrested for grand larceny, were fined $200 and costs by Judge Hoppmann, it was learned today.

The trio were taken into custody shortly after the two women walked out of the Woldenberg Cloak store with a valuable coat. Charles Woldenberg notified police who set chase. They denied the offense and were being held under $2,500 bail.

Yesterday, they signified their readiness to plead guilty. Mr. Ancon and Mrs. Andrews paid their fine. Mrs. Ancon still is in jail.

LA FOLLETTE'S FARM CLOSED FOR WINTER

The home of Senator La Follette at his farm at Maple Bluff will be closed for the winter. It is expected that Senator La Follette will leave for Washington next week. Mr. and Mrs. Phil La Follette, who have been living at the farm have taken an apartment at Webster and Pickney sts., for the winter. The La Follette farm will be in charge of Jack Morgan, the caretaker.

Man Found Murdered In Chicago Mystery

CHICAGO—The body of a man identified as Tony Mancuso, who had been shot in the back twice and once in the back of the head, was found in the south side, with evidence that bullets had swept across the greater part of a block. The mystery of the shooting deepened when at the same time an unconscious man was found in an alley two blocks away. The latter apparently had a skull fracture.

What College Does for a Girl

A discussion of a burning question, and a solution

SAGES have sung the praises of higher education for women. And thin-lipped mossbacks have proved that they are wrong.

But there's no denying the swains back home see a difference. They find college makes girls more particular. A lot of ankle-work of a Sunday evening with the local Valentino, ending up at The Place, no longer gets the chaste good-night salute.

Instead they get used to high-class college gents that come to call with some slight token of esteem under their arm and no favors asked. (Well, not many!)

Only the more discriminating of said gents bring Johnston's. The others don't know. But she does, and it gets the best thank-you smile you ever earned.

Boy! There's a lot packed in under that boyish bob. Take Johnston's next time and see.

Walk, do not run, to the nearest of these shops.
They all take particular pride in selling Johnston's:
