NOMINATIONS FOR GREEN BUTTON TO BE MADE TONIGHT

Freshman Women Hold Mass Meeting at 7 O'Clock in Lathrop Hall

Nominations for the officers of Green Button, freshman women's class organization, will be made at a mass meeting for all freshmen women to be held at 7 o'clock tonight in the concert room of Lathrop hall.

Officers have been recommended for the various positions by a nominating committee of three upper classmen who are well acquainted with the freshman class in general. Two nominations will be received from the floor and one of the three candidates for each office will be chosen in the election which will be held Friday, from 9 to 5 o'clock in Lathrop hall.

Follow Precedent.

"The three nominations made by the committee have been made on the basis of service, scholarship, and efficiency, according to the woman's election precedents established by W. S. G. A.," Alene Corl '25, W. S. G. A. president, said yesterday. "W. S. G. A. council hopes that each girl will feel her responsibility when making the nominations for her class officers tonight, for they will be the women who will lead them through the year."

Postpone Elections.

It has been the policy of W. S. G. A. to postpone freshman class elections until late in the fall so that the women in the class would have a chance to get acquainted with each other and to know their leaders personally.

"Punkin Holler" to Attract Farmers of Dane County

"Punkin Holler Community Meetin'," to which come farmers from all over Dane county, will be held in Agricultural hall auditorium at 8 o'clock Friday and Saturday nights.

The Agricultural Triangle and Euthenics clubs have planned special features, the main drawing cards being a scene in a country store to be carried out in true village style, and the serving of pumpkin pie.

Already 100 tickets have been reserved for the show. Tickets are being sold at the Campus soda grill, Badger pharmacy, Agricultural library, and by members of Agricultural Triangle and the Euthenics club. All students may attend the meeting.

DEAN NARDIN TO TALK TO FRESHMEN FRIDAY

A compulsory freshmen women's convocation will be held at 4:30 o'clock, Friday, in the concert room of Lathrop hall, by the vocational committee of W. S. G. A., at which time Dean F. Louise Nardin will address the meeting on "Personalities in Success." Questionnaires will be passed out, the information from which will furnish the basis of the plans for the vocational committee for the rest of the year.

Sals Bostwick is Again Among the Octy Contributors

A four colored cover by Sals Bostwick, cartoonist for the Chicago Tribune, is one of the features of the Christmas number of the Octopus which will appear tomorrow.

Illustrations by Donald Abert and R. B. Knox of five popular song hits, including "Wonder What's Become of Sally" and "A New Kind of Man," and drawings by Rosalind Hightower, are among the other features.

Don Trenary's play, "A Bat, Two Cats and a Canary," is an exceedingly thrilling mystery, with many laughs.

Hank Lathers has organized the Octogravure section. Full illustrations as to how to work a crossword puzzle are given by John Powell. The spirit of Christmas pervades numerous verses and jokes contained in this number.

Snowflake Lecture Heard by 800; Will Be Repeated Tomorrow

Before approximately 800 students, faculty members and townspeople, Prof. Benjamin Snow delivered his traditional lecture on snowflakes yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the lecture room of the Physics building.

The crowd of people turned away was so large, that at the end of the lecture Professor Snow announced that he would repeat it Wednesday afternoon.

"There were never yet two snowflakes alike," said Professor Snow, and showed his audience the multiple forms which the crystals take through a display of hundreds of slides.

The slides were made from photographs of the snow crystals taken by W. A. Bently, a Vermont farmer, and a friend of Professor Snow, whose interest in snowflakes is so great that he has spent over 30 years in experiments. Professor Snow believes him to be the greatest authority on snowflakes.

"The amazement of it all is how the snow crystal knows on one arm what goes on at the other," he said in explaining the symmetrical and hexagonal formations of each crystal. "The majority of crystals start from the sky as a plain hexagon, and then, as they go through a lower layer of moisture, deposits form on them, and they take on appendages, which in shape are perfectly symmetrical."

PRE-PROM DANCE DATE IS JAN. 10

Carl Klath, Chairman, Names
Committees For Annual Affair at Lathrop

The first of the prom festivities will take place on Saturday, January 10, when the annual Pre-Prom dance will be held at Lathrop gymnasium, according to Carl O. Klath, chairman of the Pre-Prom dance committee.

The following committees have been appointed to assist in the work:

Promotion and Advertising—Newton Smith and Darwin Pitz. Special Features—Clara Eberly, John Hobbins and Arthur Wiggin.

Decorations—James Flickinger and Florence McCabe. Floor—Gordon Aller and Lyman Dana.

"The work of the committees is well under way, and we hope to have definite plans formulated soon. The best possible music will be obtained for the occasion. Several feature attractions have been booked for the dance; the decorations committee has planned something new to carry out the spirit of prom," Klath said yesterday.

"Union Board has consented to cancel its dance for the evening of January 10, and will cooperate in making the dance a success," Newton Smith, chairman of Union Board dances announced.

JOHN OLIN, CITY PARK OFFICIAL, DIES SUNDAY

John M. Olin, father of the parks and drives system of Madison and vicinity, died Sunday morning of progressive paralysis, from which he has suffered for four or five years. Mr. Olin was one of the most brilliant attorneys of the state and a great public benefactor. Through his work Madison has become famous even in foreign countries for its beautiful public parks and drives.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION WORKER TALKS TODAY

"The Place of Physical Education in a Comprehensive School Health Program," will be the subject of the lecture which Ethel Norris, formerly director of physical education in Detroit, and now associate health director of the child health association, will deliver before the physical education students at 4:40 o'clock this afternoon in Lathrop concert room.

BERNICE WINCHELL TO LEAD SOPH MEETING

The sophomore commission meets this noon in Lathrop hall library. The meeting will be conducted by Bernice Winchell. Plans are being made for a banquet for freshman women December 16.

HARESFOOT STAFF SIGNS MEN TODAY

Thorson, Manager, to Receive
Applications For Production
Work

Approximately 50 positions are open in the Haresfoot production staff, according to Sidney Thorson, grad, manager of the club, who has called a meeting of all those interested to be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Haresfoot office in the Union building.

The number of positions to be filled is greater than for any previous Haresfoot show. Office workers, typists, scenery builders, costume men, and lighting experts are needed.

At the meeting today the applicants will register for the type of activity they expect to participate in and hear the plans outlined by Thorson. All men except the freshmen are eligible.

"There is quite a bit of work that should be done before vacation," Thorson said, "and we want to get the work under way as soon as possible."

Pyre Lauds Spirit of Students Despite Adverse Conditions

"I certainly think that the Wisconsin student body exhibited magnificent spirit this fall under conditions of adversity," said Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, in a talk on "School Spirit," before the sophomore lunch club at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday noon.

"The danger now days is that we are getting too many rooters and not enough players," he declared. "If athletics could be reformed in some way so that a larger proportion of the student body had an opportunity for participation, there would be less need for concern about artificial and insufficient enthusiasm."

"We are coming to place the wrong emphasis on sports. We are getting more and more to the place where we are willing to give or do anything for a winning team, instead of the spirit of clean sportsmanship and free competition in which athletics are founded."

"Sore-Eye Special" Only a Myth; 2,000 Freshmen Breathe Easier

The "sore-eye special" is a myth. The annual campus rumor that large numbers of students, especially freshmen, are "dropped" for scholastic reasons at Thanksgiving or Christmas time is without foundation, according to Dean G. C. Selley, of the College of Letters and Science.

Students who have been industrious are not sent home at Christmas time, and the faculty does not, in practice, ask more than half a dozen students to quit at this time. The few who are dropped are those who have refused to expose themselves to education by attending classes.

The unusually fine fall weather coupled with the increased number

Social Rules to Hold Over Xmas

All university regulations will prevail during the Christmas recess insofar as students who remain in Madison are concerned, declared Dean S. H. Goodnight, in a statement issued yesterday. The statement follows:

"The attention of all students in residence during the holidays is called to the fact that the regulations of the committee on student life and interests covering social life, are in effect from registration day for the regular year until the close of the Summer Session, thus embracing all vacation periods.

"Attention is also called to the fact that the evening of Thursday, December 18, is a regular midweek evening, not available for social affairs. Student parties planned for the evenings of January 9 and 10 should be registered in the office before the vacation period or by mail during the vacation period in order to comply with the four day registration requirement.

"Notice is also given at this time that January 9 and 10 are the last evenings open for parties during the current semester."

Dean of Men.

GUARD TRYOUTS TO START TODAY

Freshmen, Sophomores, Basic Students Eligible For President's Guard

Tryouts for membership in the president's guard will be held from 2:30 to 5 o'clock today, tomorrow and Thursday in the armory, Cadet Major George Walsted '25, in command of the guard, announced yesterday. The tryouts are open to all basic corps men, who include freshmen and sophomores, and to those who have taken the basic course but are not at present enrolled in the advanced course.

Those trying out will be judged on their appearance, which will include their uniform and their carriage, on marching, facings, and the manual of arms.

"This is a fine opportunity for men who wish to make R. O. T. C. work an outside activity and offers to graduates of military schools a chance for rapid promotion," Walsted stated. "Special attention will be given to guardsmen when promotions are made in the regular corps. Nearly all of the higher officers of the corps at present were at one time members of the corps."

"PRIVATE" PEAT WILL LECTURE HERE TONIGHT

Harold R. "Private" Peat, lecturer and author, will speak on the "Inexcusable Lie," at 8 o'clock tonight at the First Baptist church. "Private" Peat went to France with the first Canadian contingent. He became disabled, was gassed, and at present has the use of only one lung. His book, "Private Peat," has enjoyed a tremendous success, and is considered one of the most powerful denunciations of war that has been written.

The posters were judged by Prof. A. N. Colt and Prof. A. H. Varnum, both of the art department.

JOINT DEBATERS MEET IN ANNUAL CLASSIC FRIDAY

Athenae and Philomathia Societies Argue Power of Supreme Court

The joint debate between Athenae and Philomathia which will take place at 8 o'clock Friday night at Music hall is the fifty-fourth annual joint debate between the men's literary societies. The subject to be debated is "Resolved, that the constitution of the United States should be so amended that any law or portion of a law declared unconstitutional by the supreme court should be valid law if reenacted by a two-thirds vote of both houses of congress at the next succeeding congress."

Athenae Takes Affirmative.

Athenae will be represented on the affirmative side by Alfred Nicolaus '26, Emanuel Goodman '27, and Glen Bell '26. Philomathia will support the negative, represented by George Mitchell '25, Harold Jordan '25, and Harold Sporer '25.

The joint debate was organized in 1867 and was reorganized in 1890. In the early part of the twentieth century the joint debate was the homecoming of the university. In those days there were special trains run from Chicago and Milwaukee just as there are for the football games now. Music hall was built because there was no auditorium large enough to hold the crowd that attended these debates.

Governor Presides.

Since the organization of the joint debates in 1867 Athenae has won 27, Philomathia has won 13, and Hesperia has won 12. In 1890, when the debates were reorganized, Philomathia was let in and since that time Athenae has won 14, Philomathia 13, and Hesperia 8.

One of the traditions of the joint debate is that the governor of the state always presides. Another is that Athenae takes the picture of its mascot, a game cock, and the opposing side tries to steal this away. So far the opposing side has never succeeded in doing this.

Elsie Heise '26 is Winner in Mollusc Poster Competition

Elsie Heise '26 was awarded the first prize of $5 in the poster contest for "The Mollusc," which will be presented by the Wisconsin Players at 7:30 o'clock, December 13, in Lathrop concert room.

Ruth Allcott '25 received the second prize of $3, with third and fourth prizes of $1, going to Leah Congdon '28 and Geraldine Stenzl '26. Tickets to "The Mollusc" were awarded to John Allcott '28 and Donald Albert '28 as fifth and sixth prizes.

The posters were judged by Prof. A. N. Colt and Prof. A. H. Varnum, both of the art department.

PROF. SCHLICK TALKS ON DRAINAGE TONIGHT

Prof. W. J. Schlick, drainage engineer, will speak on "Drainage" at the Agricultural Engineering building at 7:30 o'clock tonight. He is here to attend the meetings of the State Drainage association which are being held the fore part of this week.

750 Hear Concert By the University Orchestra Sunday

More than 750 persons crowded into Music hall for the first University orchestra concert given Sunday afternoon. The concert was pronounced one of the most successful in the history of the organization by Leland A. Coon, professor in the School of Music.

"Throughout the concert there was a great deal of warmth, life and vitality, that made an especially strong appeal to the hearers," Professor Coon stated.

Mendelssohn's overture from "Midsummer Night's Dream" was received with hearty applause by the audience. Vocal numbers were rendered by Eugene Leonardson '26.

BASKETMEN START LAST HARD DRILLS FOR WABASH TILT

Lineup Undecided; Visitors Coming With Star Team Bent on Victory

With the Wabash game only three days away, Coach W. E. Meanwell is giving the varsity cage squad a series of hard workouts. He expects the Little Giants to come with a strong team, and he must give the Cardinal men a hard week of basket instruction in order to make a good showing against the invading quintet. In the past, these preliminary games have been defeats for the Cardinal teams.

Lineup Uncertain.

The starting lineup for this first game is not certain, but as it looks now Diebold and Wackman will start at the guard positions, Varnay at center, and Spooner at one of the forwards, with either Hargot or Merkle at the other. What the men do in this final week of practice will decide who will start. Whatever the lineup, they will have to play real ball to defeat this fast five from Indiana. Wabash is one of the strongest teams in the country. These strong teams are scheduled at the start of the season in order to show the weak places in the Badger game, so Wisconsin will not enter the conference season with a green team. Quite often teams from Wabash, Butler, and Franklin are better than the conference teams, and the doctor feels that his squad will learn much by playing them.

As a part of the practice schedule for this week another open practice will be held at 4:20 o'clock this afternoon in the gym. The two open workouts that have been held this year have proven to be as good as some of the big games have been; for the freshmen have been giving the first team a hard fight. This will be the final open practice before the team sees action Friday night.

German Women Seek Slaughter House Jobs

BERLIN—Women have taken a hand in most of the trades and professions in Germany since granted the right to vote, excepting the butchery business, and now they are endeavoring to get into that.

Several strong armed women have been advertising in Berlin newspapers recently for jobs in slaughter houses, contending that because of their physical development and inclination they are qualified to do the work of men.

George Levis

Famous Badger Cager is Now Freshman Basketball Coach

Madison has the honor of claiming one of Wisconsin's famous athletes as a native son. Before coming to the university George Levis, one of Wisconsin's best basketeers, performed in a praiseworthy manner on the Madison high school teams.

Levis is one of the cleverest forwards who ever shot a basket on the Badger court. He scintillated on the teams of 1914, '15 and '16. His work the last year he was in school was largely responsible for the championship team of 1916 if any individual could be picked out as a separate star on Meanwell's teams. In several games a last minute shot of a spectacular nature by Levis would pull a victory out of what looked like certain defeat.

The end of his career found him placed on all-conference and all-western teams by every sport scribe. Every year at least one Badger finds a place on all-conference quintets, so the accomplishments of Levis appear to be somewhat ordinary but should he be transferred to another university and win a berth on an all-conference team, he would be a hero of heroes because it is seldom that other institutions place a man on all-conference quintets every year.

The end of the cage season found Levis discarding the gym shoes in favor of the baseball spikes. For two years he started on the baseball diamond as a member of Badger nines.

After his undergraduate career he entered the field of coaching by accepting a position at Kemper military academy in Missouri.

A year later he went to Carleton college as basketball and baseball coach. While there the Carleton teams were very successful on the basketball floor and ball diamond. From Carleton he went to Indiana university to coach basketball and baseball. Indiana has always been one of the leading basketball universities in the conference and the fact that they chose Levis to train their quintets is evidence enough of the former Badger's ability.

At present Levis is running a sport goods store here in Madison and instructing the Wisconsin freshmen in the intricacies of Meanwell's system of basketball.

Y. W. C. A. INDUSTRIAL GROUP MEETS TONIGHT

The student industrial group of the Y. W. C. A., which has charge of the Florence Simms scholarship fund for sending industrial women through summer school will hold a meeting at the city Y. W. C. Those women who have not signed up for the dinner, but who would like to attend the discussion group are welcome, Isadore Clissold '25, chairman, stated.

Streng and Bigelow Chosen to Head Women's Cage Teams

Freshman and Sophomore Captains Not Yet Elected By Women

Marion Streng '25, jumping center of the Varsity two years ago, has been chosen by senior women to lead their basketball squad. Due to injuries contracted during the fall season of 1923 Miss Streng was unable to play basketball last year. Her re-entry into the game, is therefore regarded as an important asset to the champion-aspiring seniors, who with practically all of last year's material and a few new players will strive to retain their supremacy.

Juniors Elect Bigelow.

Marian Bigelow, Varsity forward and captain of the hockey team, has been elected to bring laurels to the juniors. Encouraged by their athletic achievements in hockey and swimming this fall, and supported by all of last year's material, the juniors have flung down the gauntlet in challenge to the other classes.

Since the gymnasium has not been used in the past two weeks for sophomore practice, the second year women have not as yet met to elect their captain. Considering the material signed up for the sport, however, they will offer stiff competition for their opponents.

A freshman captain will be chosen at a later date in accordance with the custom to give the frosh ample time to become acquainted with their classmates.

'BEAT MILWAUKEE' IS WAR CRY OF AQUA CAGE TEAM

Another Man Needed at Deep End Position to Bolster Squad

"Beat Milwaukee Athletic club." This is the cry of the waterbasketball squad at the present time. The Badger water cagers meet the Cream City team Saturday afternoon at the university. Last year the team was victor over the out-of-town cagers, but this year the M. A. C. have been working hard and they are coming to defeat the Badgers.

With the exception of the need of one more good deep end player the team is strong. With Captain Feuchtwanger, Kissel, Coleman, Burrus, Marks, Flickenger, Jahn, D. Feuchtwanger, Winchell and Marple performing capably in the shallow end, the team is well fortified at that position. Coach Eschleifer has not yet picked the regulars who will play the season.

TRACKSTERS TAKE LIGHT WORKOUTS BEFORE VACATION

Several Gridiron Men Will Report For Indoor Track After Holidays

Although strenuous training for the indoor track season will not start until after the Christmas vacation, many of the men are taking light workouts in the annex now.

Coach Jones has ordered the varsity track material that was on the football squad to take a rest until after the holidays and catch up in their studies. He is taking every precaution to see that the bane of all coaches, ineligibility, does not cause any damage to his squad of tracksters. Leo Harmon, McAndrews, McGiveran, Schwarze, Burtus and Kreuz are some of the gridironers who will report for the indoor track squad after Christmas.

Members of the championship hill and dale team are also taking a short rest after their hard season. The harriers are working out two or three times a week—just enough to keep their muscles limbered up.

Hammer Will Be Lighter

A new event is to be offered to the weight men this year in the form of a modification of the hammer throw. Instead of throwing the old 56 pound hammer, which is supposed to be an event for husky policemen to toss in their field events, the men will heave a 35 pound hammer which is better suited to the strength of college men.

This season calls for harder work than last, as the first meet this year comes February 14, a week earlier than last and just a week after the beginning of the second semester. There is plenty of track material in the university, and now that Jones is going to devote his whole time and energy to track, a great deal can be expected from the Badger team. Jones is one of the best track coaches in the country and if the men place their confidence in his ability he can produce results. While track coach at Missouri university he turned out three championship teams in succession, one of them winning a western conference title. During his sojourn at Wisconsin from 1912 to 1916 as head track coach, Jones turned out two conference championship crosscountry teams.

There is no doubt as to his coaching ability; all that is needed is hard work and an adherence to training rules on the part of the varsity candidates. There are many good men in school now but hard work this season will make them better.

Schedule Completed

The complete track schedule for the year as announced by Coach Jones is:

Feb. 14—Quadrangular meet at Northwestern.
Feb. 21—Iowa at Iowa City.
Feb. 28—Illinois relays.
March 7—Notre Dame here.
March 14—Indoor Conference meet.
March 21—Wisconsin indoor relay carnival.
April 18—Ohio relays or Kansas relays.
April 25—Drake or Penn relays.
May 2—Midwest Interscholastic relay carnival here.
May 9—Michigan there.
May 16—Quadrangular outdoor meet at Chicago.
May 22—Minnesota here.
May 23—Interscholastic meet here.
May 30—Open date.
June 6—Conference meet.
June 20—National Collegiate meet.

So It Seems

The outdoor sports give way to indoor sports, such as working cross-word puzzles. But at that we're in favor of cross-word puzzles; they helped the cross country team win a championship and whatever helps champions we're in favor of.

Where's the walking team this year?

Blue Monday! Can't get enthused today, not even with prospects that our snow drift may return to us.

Well, it's out at last! The sports staff is going to have a track meet all of its own. We've stood by long enough. This week we practice behind closed gates. The big argument comes over Dennis' claim that he can beat me in the two mile run. This makes me hot (the challenge, not the run).

Then there's Hatcher, the sports staff fish; Schlaver, huge shot-putter; Kalish, broad jumper and pole vaulter; Pease, dash man; Hobbins, master of the hurdles, low and high; Taylor, high jump.

Ineligibility, however, will hit the squad hard. Little love notes from the dean's office this week puts Schlaver, Hatch and Taylor out of the running.

So it seems platform for better athletics at Wisconsin:

1. Send the ping pong team to prom.
2. Engage Roundy as athletic director.
3. Copyright Steinauer's annual spring valentine.

Sew it Seams: Where do you get this stuff about Bieberstein at end on Mr. Umphr-umphr-umphr's all-conference team?

WINTER SPORTS CLUB HAS MEETING TONIGHT

The Winter Sports club will meet at 7:15 o'clock this evening in the trophy room of the men's gymnasium. All members of the club who are in school are to be there, and other students interested in winter sports are invited to attend. New officers for the year will be elected and definite plans for a program of winter sports for this year will be formed. A state interscholastic ice meet, a new event, will be held under the supervision of the club this year.

Sigma Chi cage artists won an easy game from Square and Compass last night, winning 17-6. Results of the other three games played last night cannot be printed as the managers failed to report the scores.

Indoor Track

Both varsity and freshman track men will meet in the trophy room of the gymnasium Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock to start the indoor track season. Coach Jones will outline the program for the year and Mead Burke will show some slides of the Olympic games and give a short talk on the Olympics.

Schedule May Be Shifted to Arrange Inter-sectional Tilt

Cornell, Dartmouth and Big Three Teams Out of the Question

Just who the opponents of the Badgers will be on the only open date left on the present 1925 football schedule has not yet been decided. Thomas E. Jones, acting director of athletics, said yesterday that he hoped he could arrange to have the Purdue game changed to November 14, as he could arrange a better game for October 24 than he could for November 14.

"It is out of the question that we will meet Cornell this year, for their schedule is such that a game with them is impossible," said Mr. Jones. "However, I am quite sure that some day in the future Wisconsin will schedule a game with Cornell."

Homecoming Indefinite.

Before the Michigan game can be definitely set as homecoming, the athletic council must give its approval. Action will probably be taken by this body sometime this week. For years the athletic department has tried to juggle the Wisconsin schedule so that Minnesota and Michigan might alternate as homecomings at Madison. If the Michigan game is selected for this occasion next year, then the year following Minnesota will meet Wisconsin here, and will be the homecoming game.

Michigan Game Early.

Although the Michigan tilt is slated for October 17, this would not necessarily make homecoming too early. With five Big Ten games on the present schedule it can readily be seen that at least one must come early in the season. The Michigan game has so many attractions that it is undoubtedly

Ticket Sales For Serier 'A' Games Not Up to Snuff

Notwithstanding the fact that there were a great many more series "A" basketball tickets sold yesterday than last year, the total number of pasteboards distributed so far does not reach the number estimated by the officials in charge.

According to Paul F. Hunter, the student sale will fall below his expectations unless the other two series prove to be much more popular than the first. The fact that Ohio State has been picked as a possible contender for the championship may perhaps augment the sale for series "C," thus bringing up the average.

At a late hour yesterday Mr. Hunter could give no actual number of sales, being content with saying that they were more than last year, but less than expected.

PRESS CLUB MEETING SCHEDULED TONIGHT

Important business will be discussed at the Press club meeting at 7 o'clock tonight in the Union building. Questions relative to the Badger picture will be discussed at this time, according to John F. Weisner '25.

the best homecoming date on the schedule.

Mr. Jones is considering quite a few teams for the open date November 14 in case the Purdue game cannot be shifted. It is not definitely known what elevens he is considering, but those out of the question are Notre Dame, Cornell, Dartmouth, Yale, Harvard and Princeton.

GREEKS TRAINING HARD FOR COMING INTERFRAT MEET

Strength of Various House Teams Has Formerly Been Divided

With the inter-fraternity track meet only four days away the Greek tracksters are putting in some time at intensive training in the annex every afternoon. This is one meet that is always hotly contested and this year will prove no exception as at present no team seems to have any advantage in the way of star material.

The first inter-fraternity cinder-path contest was staged in 1919 and the meet proved to be so popular it was decided to make it an annual event. A record of the past three years shows the Pi Kappa Alpha track men to hold the lead with two first in 1922 and 1921. In 1921 Pi Kappa Alpha took first with Sigma Nu second and Sigma Chi third.

Theta Si First Last Year
In 1922 Pi Kappa Alpha repeated with another first, Alpha Gamma Rho took second and A. T. O. and Theta Delta Chi tied for third. Last year Theta Xi led the field, Alpha Gamma Rho took second and Phi Psi landed in third place. Theta Xi also won the special cup that was offered for first place in the relay.

So far none of the fraternities have landed their entries and nothing can be said of the relative strength of the teams based on the men they have entered. All entries must be in the hands of Mead Burke by Thursday, December 11.

This meet, in addition to being a factor in creating friendly rivalry among the fraternities, is of great value in bringing to light good track material for the varsity that would otherwise remain unknown.

A recent indication of how money talks in journalism is the amount of publicity given the Raphael Herman peace plan $25,000 prize in comparison to the amount given the Bok $100,000 prize. Somewhere on the back page of a paper you may discover the fact that the former award has been given to Dr. David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford.

A Wisconsin high school youth has won a $4,000 prize for his essay on roads. Since the contest was open to all high school students in the country, it again appears that Wisconsin roads are the best in these United States, just as any tourist will say.

John M. Olin died at his home Sunday morning. Mr. Olin was connected with the university for 19 years off and on, first as a teacher of rhetoric and then as an instructor and professor of torts and real property in the Law School, and resigned in 1910, having obtained the reputation for being one of the finest teachers in the university. It was he who was largely responsible for the system of parks and pleasure drives for which Madison is so well known, and, in recognition of his work along this line, the city named a park for him. Those who are attending the university now knew little or nothing about Mr. Olin. That is unavoidable, probably, but it is just as unfortunate for them, because those who knew him found him a source of great inspiration and pleasure.

Yale apparently is out for Harvard blood. Not satisfied with beating its old rival on the gridiron this year, it beat it in the class room by taking from its faculty George P. Baker, of the famous 47 Workshop. Students who want to follow in the footsteps of Eugene O'Neill, or become equally famous producers, actors and directors will have to receive their training at Yale after this year instead of at Harvard.

UNION VODVIL

The performance last week is the best possible argument in favor of the continuance of Union Vodvil as an annual project. The direction of a full-time professional coach seems to have entirely eliminated objectionable features. The extremely well-balanced bill, presented with finished technique, afforded the most delightful and the best possible sort of entertainment for a university society. The production of Union Vodvil offers valuable experience of every sort, and yet so many take part that the labor does not take an undue amount of time from the studies of any undergraduate. There was nothing in any act to which even the most puritanical could object. The profits go to a most worthy cause. What more can be demanded?

AGAIN

British troops are occupying Egyptian cities, last week innocent men and women were killed by them; British ships stand by ready to bombard Egyptian ports; all this because an Egyptian fanatic made the mistake of killing a British officer. Britain whose people are, in theory, Christians, whose state religion is proclaimed as that of Christ, whose king rules "by grace of God", Britain thus again disturbs "peace on earth". Again a so-called Christian nation violates the great commandment of Christ "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself". It is true that Britain is far from being the only nation answerable to this charge. Would that she were! But Britain is a good example, and is on account of her history, her traditions, her people, peculiarly fitted to set the example in another direction.

The World War shook the Christian Church, as an institution, to its very deepest foundations; only because it had in it the divine spark did it survive at all. We have often wondered what would have been the effect on England, on Germany, and on the world, if, at the beginning of the war, every priest or preacher in the British Isles had closed the doors of his church, refused to administer the sacraments of the Lord, to every man in uniform, to every person who in any way countenanced man's going forth to slay other men on whatever pretext. Instead, the church, in general, throughout the world not only countenanced, but even sanctified the slaughter. Unfortunately, all that is now history nor can all our piety nor wit cancel half a lipe, nor all our tears wash out a word of it. And yet the Church can and should take a lesson from the terrible Past. If criticized on its attitude toward the war the Church usually answers "The War found the Church unprepared. It came so suddenly we were unable to stem the tide, and were swept along with the rest." But the war did not arise, as if by magic, from the assassination of an Austrian princeling—that event was but the spark to the fuel oiled by long years of intrigue, treacherous diplomacy, armed force and aggrandizement. If the Church is to take a lesson from the Past, it must seize each and every opportunity to prevent the piling up of the fuel.

Egypt has appealed to the League of Nations, but the whole world knows that the appeal will avail her nothing. And no one supposes that England intends to stop after having exacted apology and indemnity; undoubtedly she will use the excellent excuse for reasserting her political control of Egypt. Therefore ought The Church of England to shout with a single voice that this imperialistic policy which sows so well the seeds of wars must stop and that "there must never be any war anymore". If the Church in every land would take a decided, forceful stand on this and every like question, and if on every occasion the Church would plant the seeds of Peace where she has stamped out the seeds of War, the Church would well justify her existence as an institution.

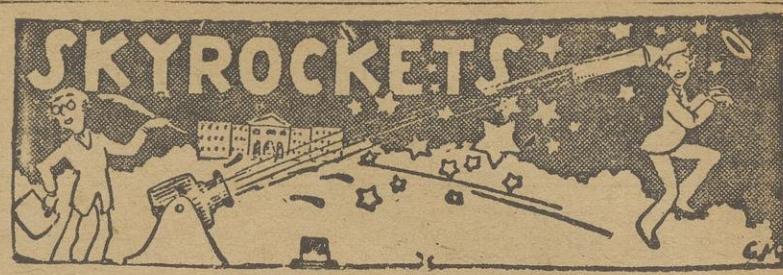

CO-OPERATION AND CO-EDUCATION

The Y. W. C. A. held its annual bazaar Saturday afternoon and evening and, besides providing a lot of entertainment called to the attention of those who visited the bazaar the fact that the organization is entirely self-supporting.

The whole affair represented a tremendous amount of work and organization. The entertainment was given in the spirit in which it was received and everybody, participants as well as onlookers, had a good time the while they helped a cause which is deserving of help.

Masculine members of the student body, when they attend such an affair, would all do well to realize the fact that the girls have been just as active in supporting and securing funds for the Memorial Union building as they, all the while in the full knowledge that the building, when erected, would be used principally by the men.

A spirit of good will and cooperation appears on the campus when such drives for funds are being launched which augurs well for coeducation.

Well, well, well, here we are again!

Fulton snuk around the back office yesterday and tried to get in our box without being caught. He explained that he had lifted it to use in the Scholastic editor, but he was conscience stricken at the last minute. So here it is for one last fond look before we show you our real stuff tomorrow.

Well, the interval of time in which the minutes and even the little seconds cause a greater depreciation of the remaining days is growing daily more infinitesimal, or in other words, It Won't Be Long Now. The spirit of the times is reflected by the illustration which was given to us by one of the fairer sex (not a man), and we print it as a universal suggestion to the fairer sex (not a man), and we print it as a universal suggestion to the men—YOU'LL HAVE TO BUY OR BATILE NOW!!

"Hello, Jim, did you hear about Ike Brader falling off a forty foot ladder over on the alley?"

"Wow! What hospital is he at? How badly was he hurt?"

"He wasn't. He fell off the second round. Hey, look out—Ow!"

SCOOP.

Dozens of Sorority girls have called and said how glad they are that the girls have been vindicated by two fearless leaders in the Vodka—or rather the Vodvil (the heads of this say that it might be called either because there are so many against each), and that the girls are all good pals together. In fact we have a scoop (see heading) which exposes the existence of three sororities who have banded together for the uplift (yay) of one other bunch of girls. Their Badge is indicated herewith and below. This symbol includes the Name, Purpose and Ideals of the society. This is probably one of the most sisterly organizations in existence and shows that the girls are always thinking of one another. Now we won't be able to get another date with the poor fresh that told us about this.

ATHLETICS.

Mead Burke, the "sparkling" coach of the Hill-and-Dales, was giving a gang of fellows the low-down on the track victories in the good old days of umpt-steen, and told about a great runner who wore the Cardinal, and while running, lost his shoe. But did that daunt him? Not a bit! He kept on running, and at the finish he sprinted and won by a BARE FOOT!

CLEVER, HUH?

In reconstructing a theory of the murders out in Little Sicily, it is thought that the man walked up the steps whistling. Among the clues which they have found is a cigar which he was smoking. There you are! They're at the end of the rope, and another mystery is unsolved. Too much conflicting evidence.

We're going to make appointments to meet about four guys that we know out on this "Death Corner," and then not show up. Good, hey?

HO, HUM. Yeah.

"She was a dark mysterious beauty, wonderfully dressed—Oh, those ravishing lips, them smoldering eyes, excelsior! Hot Dog! The girl of my dreams! Who do you suppose she is?"

"Oh, some Kappa probably."

We understand that Doc Meanwell is going to have a pretty cagey basketball team this winter.

Careless Users of Library Books to Pay New Deposits

Careless book users who habitually overdraw books at the library will soon find their deposits depleted, with the result that they will have to make another deposit or redeem their old one by paying the fines, according to Walter M. Smith, librarian.

Library books which have been held overtime should be returned at once, he said, as a large number of books are lost each semester through neglect of the students to return them.

Students are reminded of the rule by which offenders lose the privilege of drawing books from the library. Every June after school is closed the university truck is sent around to all the rooming and fraternity houses to collect the stray volumes which have not been returned to the library.

AMUNDSEN WILL LECTURE TONIGHT

Explorer to Talk on "Circumnavigation of the Northern Polar Basin"

Capt. Ronald Amundsen, arctic explorer, will lecture on "Circumnavigation of the Northern Polar Basin," in the auditorium of the Central high school at 8 o'clock tonight. The 1,200 seats available for the lecture are almost sold out, Volney D. Barnes, member of the Kiwanis club committee in charge of the entertainment, said yesterday.

Captain Amundsen spoke here in 1913. At that time he described his discovery of the south pole two years before. Since then he has made his famous trip through the northwest passage to the polar basin.

Many pictures taken by the explorer during the passage through the Bering straits and into the Pacific will be shown at the lecture Tuesday night. Despite the many hardships encountered by the crew of the small vessel, a complete photographic record of the trip was obtained.

Seats are on sale at the Forbes-Meagher Music company, 27 West Main street.

BLACKHAWK CONDUCTS FOX AND HOUND CHASE

A fox and hound chase was conducted Sunday morning by the Blackhawk Riding Academy. Those participating were Charlotte Logeman '26, master of the hunt, Eugenia McQuatters '27, assistant huntsman, Marium Wallaeger '27, Helen Mueller '27, Catherine Clawson '28, Alice Lyon '27, Ellen Dryden '28, Pauline Dexter '26, Dorothy Potter '28, Mary Barter '27, and Roberta Hawley '26. All the girls that went on the chase are taking riding for university credit.

South American Trip is Planned By Romance Dept.

A trip to South America, designed to attract not only students of Spanish, but those interested in the geographical, geological, commercial and economical phases of Latin America, is being arranged for by the department of romance language. Prof. C. D. Zdanowicz, head of the department, has charge of the arrangements.

A tentative itinerary includes an ocean voyage from New York, a trip across the Panama canal, a visit to the republics of the Pacific and a transcontinental railroad trip from Santiago, Chile, to Buenos Aires, Argentine. The trip home will be by the way of Brazil, from which the party will sail directly to New York.

The railroad trip across the continent will be through the Andes mountains, and peaks of 18,000 feet in height can be seen from the car window. A visit will be made to the nitrate fields and copper mines of Chile, and a trip will be taken to the Inca land.

The trip will last from June to September. The price of transportation will be about $560, and other expenses from about $500, to $700, will make a total of about $1,100 to $1,200, it is estimated.

PORTRAIT OF L. R. JONES IS PLACED IN LIBRARY

A portrait study of Prof. L. R. Jones, of the plant pathology department, is now on exhibition in the museum of the State Historical library. The picture is being presented to the university by the former students and associates of the professor.

Few Students Leave
and Guests Diminish
as Vacation Nears

There were few people out of Madison this week-end and compared with other weeks few guests although there were some here to attend Union Vodvil and the accompanying parties. From now on there will be still less visitors and students leaving, for Christmas is so near and vacation approaching fast and semester topics all coming due before Christmas.

Katherine Morton '25 spent the last week-end in Wauwatosa.

Emy Lou Hewitt '26 visited her parents in Sheboygan for several days last week.

Ann English of Danville, Ill., visited with Elizabeth Simons '25 at the Alpha Xi Delta house last week-end.

Rodger Inda, ex-'26, of Milwaukee, has left for an extended tour of Europe.

Milbert Held '26 and Rudolph Hoffman are going to Rochester, Minn. for several days this week-end.

Miss Steiger of Oskosh was a guest at the Delta Gamma house last week.

Marguerite Barnes of Janesville visited at the Gamma Phi Beta house for several days last week.

Catherine Cairns '26 spent last week-end in Chicago.

Margaret McFadden of Dubuque was a guest at the Delta Gamma house for a few days last week.

Lucille Bacchus, of Milwaukee, spent last week-end at the Pi Beta Phi house.

Katherine Biggett '27 went to Oskosh for several days last week.

Mary Broomell, of Beloit, was a guest at the Phi Mu house last week.

Nonie Keenan was a week-end guest at the Pi Beta Phi house.

Alice Shiggitt, of Milwaukee, visited at the Phi Omega Pi house for several days last week.

Clara Greve spent the week-end in Waupun.

Marjorie Smith '26 visited in Beaver Dam for several days last week.

Isadore Coward, of Lodi, was a week-end guest at the Phi Omega Pi house.

The Readers' Say-So

THE LOCATION OF THE UNION?

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

That we are going to have a Memorial Union at Wisconsin is now a settled fact. One big question that should concern the people at Wisconsin is the location of the building. In any university or public building program, the big idea is to build for the future. In my opinion, and it is backed by several leading men on the campus, the committee in charge is not looking to the future as they should, especially in regard to the location.

Let's stop for a minute and look at the facts in the face as they are. The university section around the eastern end of the campus is crowded to the limit. Thus we see no chance or place for new buildings. New buildings are necessary if the university is to prosper and grow.

The only place for building is on the western end of the campus where the land is already in the hands of the university and where there is plenty of room.

In the second place, if we look at the building program of this university we find that this is what is going to happen. All the new buildings of the future are going on the western end of the campus.

The new Engineering building is to go along side of the Randall shops on University avenue. The new gymnasium may go on the field west of Agricultural hall. The new dormitories for the men are to be by the lake north of the Soils building. The new medical school will be on University avenue and Randall avenue, where the new hospital is now.

With the growth of the university going west and student activity going with it, can anyone tell me why the Memorial Union, which will be a permanent building, should go on the eastern end of the campus?

There is still another hitch in the advance plans that I cannot see through. Why should the new Engineering building go on the athletic field? Why should the new gymnasium go over by the lake? The place for the gymnasium is on the athletic field near the new stadium. The place for the Engineering building may be where the Poultry building now stands. This would leave the proposed gymnasium site open for the Union.

Anyone who knows the campus will tell you that the green west of Ag hall is the most beautiful place on the campus. On Langdon street the site is neither beautiful nor practical. Are Park and Langdon streets so wide and spacious that they can easily take care of the traffic jams that are sure to occur at the Union when large entertainments are given?

Can the new Union be built to the best advantage to show its beauty to the world if it is surrounded on all sides by other buildings? On one side will be the Young Men's Christian association, on another will be Science hall, and on still another will be the Library, at least two of which are there to stay.

G. O. OLESON, '25.

Scenery in 'Alaskan' is Best Feature of Picture, Says Critic

"The Alaskan,"
Featuring Thomas Meighan,
Presented at the Parkway.

By E. H. S.

Undoubtedly the best feature about Herbert Brenon's production of James Oliver Curwood's story, "The Alaskan," is the scenery. Mountain scenery always seems to be the height of beauty anywhere, especially when it is combined with water, and both mountains and water reproduce in the movies splendidly, even better than the most beautiful actress ever on the silver sheet.

But the show is not as advertised; every scene is not "filmed on the spot." In fact, the advertisement is rather ridiculous, since probably a large percentage of every audience has been through the Canadian Rockies where the entire picture is filmed.

For instance, the picture starts out with a scene on the ranch with a waterfall in the foreground. That waterfall happens to be directly in front of the Canadian Pacific hotel at Banff. So too, when the boat is supposed to be landing at Cordova, according to the subtitle, it is actually landing on beautiful Moraine lake in the Valley of the Ten Peaks, a few miles east of Lake Louise. The strange part of that feature is that the lake is scarcely half a mile long, whereas the Cordova harbor is one of the finest in the world.

However, the fact that the scenery is not Alaskan makes it only a little less beautiful. We have a failing for Alaskan scenery, and try hard not to be prejudiced.

We also have a failing for Thomas Meighan, but we would rather see him stay away from this man Curwood. They weren't made for each other. And that's that.

School of Music Gives First Public Recital Thursday

The School of Music will give its first public recital at 8:15 o'clock Thursday night in Music hall concert room. The material for this performance has been chosen from the weekly convocations which the school has been holding since the beginning of the semester.

The first number on the program will be a piano and violin duet, "Sonata in G," by Grieg, played by Gurdun Estyad, violinist, and Margaret Otterson, pianist.

The other students who will perform are Katherine Reid '26, Paul G. Jones '27, Dorothy Crocker '27, Louise Rood '25, and Grace Plumlee '25.

Gene Stratton Porter's Husband Off for Coast

FORT WAYNE, Ind.—Charles D. Porter, Geneva banker, husband of Gene Stratton Porter, famous novelist who was killed in an automobile accident in Los Angeles yesterday left here today with a party of friends for the western city. No funeral arrangements have been made and it is not known whether burial will be in California or in the novelist's beloved "Limber Lost."

Boy, 6, Shot by Brother Playing Soldier, May Die

RHINELANDER, Wis.—While Jerome Stinson, 11, son of John Stinson, a Crab Lake farmer, was playing soldier with his father's revolver, which he found in a trunk, the weapon discharged and the bullet struck his brother Earl, 6, in the left side inflicting a wound which will probably prove fatal.

Badger Offered $100,000 for Airplane Propeller

POUND, Wis.—Carl Lund, farmer in the town of Grover, has been offered $100,000 cash from the Ross company, of New York City, for the outright sale of a patent airplane propeller, which he had patented recently. For several years, since becoming interested in airplanes and air craft generally, he has been applying himself to the perfection of an improved propeller. The improvement has been approved by the United States patent office.

Yes, sir, Vodvil was a good show. Almost every one who has seen it with whom we have talked thinks so, too. In fact, the director seems to have performed well the difficult task of satisfying a student audience and the imposed requirements at the same time. Bill Purcell "done noble."

Now the next thing is "The Mollusc" which is going to be given Saturday night by the University Players. The Players showed the many who would take the trouble to see Vodvil but wouldn't think of going out of their way to see a straight drama just what they could do.

For certainly, "Common Clay" was one of the hits of the performance at the Parkway.

Perhaps those of the audience who laughed at "Common Clay" will at last appreciate the facts that the Players club does exist and that it is mighty good.

"The Mollusc" will be given in Lathrop concert room and will be over in plenty of time for those who see it to dance afterwards.

One of our favorite actors is in town the first part of this week at the Strand. Glenn Hunter is one of the few Hollywood actors who can act. And that is saying a good deal.

"The Servant in the House" seems to have gone fairly well last week in the stock company. Whether or not Mr. Hesselberg is planning to offer more plays of a serious nature is a question which we hope to be able to answer in Friday's column.

Sen. Lenroot to Sit Behind La Follette

WASHINGTON, D. C.—When Sen. Lenroot, Wisconsin, now at the bedside of Mrs. Lenroot, who is seriously ill, returns to the senate, he will occupy the second seat from the center aisle in the second row of the republican side of the senate chamber.

This seat is almost immediately behind that of Sen. La Follette, and will be the closest the two Wisconsin senators have ever been together.

The seat which Sen. Lenroot is to occupy was that used for many years by the late Sen. Brandegee of Connecticut.

Zelaya Takes Honors From Headliners on New Orph Program

By LEO JOHN

If the size of type in the Orph's advertisement in local papers this week indicates the manager's opinion of the relative merits of the acts, that opinion is all wrong. Edith Clasper and Frank and Teddy Sabini get themselves shouted about in type half an inch high, but the Central American gentleman called Zelaya must be content with much less than that, in spite of the superior entertainment he offers. The other acts on the bill hardly provoke superlatives of either approbation or disparagement.

Tyler and St. Clair

"Pep and Personality." They spank a xylophone in the manner enjoyed by regular patrons.

McClain-Gates Co.

"Stateroom No. 19." A clever playlet well handled by capable performers. The audience was interested, but not enthusiastic.

Zelaya

"Music—Wit—Philosophy," with emphasis on the music. Marvelous mastery of the piano. He calls the audience to account for their taste in music, and it enjoys the accounting.

Also a good deal of wit, but not much philosophy. The best on the bill.

Edith Clasper

Assisted by Paul Yocan and Talbot Kenny in "Variety," a dance program. For Miss Clasper are claimed the attributes of "youth, appearance, grace, abandon and petite" (whatever the last may be), all of which she has undeniably. She dances well enough, as do her partners, but they are nothing to write home about.

Frank and Teddy Sabini

"I Quit." A so-called comedy novelty, including a conventional "wop" travesty and a woman who belches "hot mama" songs from African-like lips. It gets by quite well.

Lind Trio

Difficult and entertaining feats on the unsupported ladder. Good among its kind.

Paris Police Open Raid On Communist Office

PARIS—The police opened their campaign against the Communists this afternoon by surrounding and raiding what is called the "soviet agency headquarters" at Bobigny, an eastern suburb of Paris. The police sought important documents.

Ninety inspectors and 60 policemen were mobilized for the raids on Communist centers.

"The Silent Watcher,"

Featuring Glenn Hunter,

Presented at the Strand.

By TED

It's a bad come down at the Majestic from last week to this, and the landing is rather hard. Of course, we, being a "critic" are inhuman and hard to please, but we have pretty definite ideas about what we like in the theatre—and so we must say that as a play we do not like "The Love Test." We are, however, not laboring under the delusion that if we say the play is not good, business at the box office will immediately drop off; probably the opposite will occur.

The play is a sort of a hokum hash apparently made up of ideas gleaned from "Turn to the Right" and several other "rural comedy-dramas" in which the rich and crooked banker tries to cheat

Mother and Best Girl out of all they have, but is finally exposed by Son and Best Friend who have met each other in prison where Son had been sent for a crime he had not committed.

And now as to the acting: Mr.

O'Shea as the hick constable does excellent work and is funny; we can't get away from that. Myra

McKinney and Gordon Gunniss deserve honorable mention. Mr. Hes-selberg does what he can with Son's part, but after last week's role it seems rather colorless.

The company has added a new member in W. H. Niemeyer, but it's our opinion, judging from this week's performance, that they have added a negative quantity.

But regardless of what we have said, the Majestic will probably do big business this week, for, as another critic in a larger city has said of the same play, "on Sunday night

the audience 'fairly yelped its delight.'"
