The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

Lazy Man

One time in Oneida there was a man lazy about working. Those that lived there said, "Let's bury this guy who is so lazy."

So then they made a coffin and put him in there. One man pitied him so he said, "I have some corn to give him to eat."

They say he sat up and looked around and said, "Is the corn shelled?"

They said, "No, you have to shell it yourself."

He said, "Nevermind, put the cover on and continue to bury me."
