ELEVEN ACTS SELECTED FOR UNION VODVIL

Tryouts of 30 Contestants Yield a Fine Bill for Big Show

The ten big acts billed for Union Vodvil performance to be given at the Fuller theater April 2 and 3 were announced today by Jack Bigler, production manager. The final choice is the result of elimination tryouts held by the production staff during all of last week in which nearly thirty acts participated.

Almost without exception all of the acts which tried out were of exceptionally high caliber and it was very difficult for the production staff to choose between them. The acts finally picked are of such high merit that this year's Vodvil performance should present something unusual in varsity productions.

Scorities to Star

One of the big features will be "The Melody Garden," featuring "Birds of Paradise," and "Omar's Dream," which will be presented by the Alpha Chi Omega sorority. The personnel of the cast are as follows: Reba Hayden, Mildred Winney, Percis Davis, Norma Keichkofer, Marjorie Simpson, Mary Johnston, Lucille Nutter, Pauline Shortess, Wilhelmina Ehrman, Louise Sammons, Marjorie Dana, Gladys Slinger, Irma Atkins, Dorothy Randolph, Adeline Bertling, Marguerite Martini, Susan Leary and Dolores Owen.

Another headliner will be a specialty act by the Delta Gamma sorority in feature songs and dances. The cast include: Hilda Mabley, Marjorie Allen, Bertha Blaul, Helen Hooper, Eleanore Bowman, Doris Dellicker, Margaret Hunter, Edwina Dexter, Katherine Mendenhill, Marion Goss, Marjorie Thornton, Margaret McDowell, Ruth Storms, Ellen Gould, Marjorie Dickens, and Alice Campbell.

Feature Acts Billed

Sigma Nu fraternity will present a comedy act entitled "A Rural Surprise." It is scheduled as a side-splitting farce with a musical accompaniment. The cast consists of Howard "Sparks" Dodge, Willis "Slews" Fanning, "Dick" Ede and D. Lee Shaw.

Ray Holcombe and Clarence Schubert will appear in "The Moonshiner." To those who enjoy a bit of mysticism this act promises to be a treat.

Edwin Booth, Red Domino, and Twelfth Night dramatic societies will present a playlet, "Supressed Desires," featuring John Warren, Rachel Commons, and Elaine Ellis.

Bill Gessling and Rose Glassner have worked up a very clever collection of the latest songs and

TO SELL TAGS FOR WAR ORPHANS TODAY

"Save A War Orphan," is the slogan printed on tags to be sold at all vantage points today by representatives of S. G. A. If 5,000 people buy tags for a dime or more, the French children adopted by different organizations last year, and now unprovided for, will not be left to starve.

If more than $500 is obtained, the rest will go to provide for new orphans, who have otherwise no chance of being helped. The small sum of $36.50 will support one child for a year, paying for its food and clothing.

These Men Will be Second Speakers in Debates With Wolverines and Illini Friday

GOODWIN B. WATSON

CHARLES D. ASSOVSKY

Goodwin B. Watson, '20, who will be the second speaker for Wisconsin in the debate against Michigan at Music hall Friday night, entered as a junior from Whitewater Normal where he had previously established himself in forensics. Last year he was on The Cardinal staff, a member of the band, winner of the junior open oratorical contest, and in the junior play. He is now a member of the Forensic board and active in religious organizations.

The second speaker in the debate against Illinois at Urbana the same night will be Charles D. Assovsky, junior in the College of Letters and Science. Since his freshman year Assovsky has taken an active interest in all forensic events. He was a contestant in the freshman declamatory finals, closer on a victorious Philomathia sophomore semi-public debating team, a sophomore honor student, and an officer of Philomathia. At present he is a member of the Forensic board and on one of the Junior Prom committees.

UNION DRIVE TOPS $40,000

Juniors Lead With Largest Subscription; Sophomores Next

The Memorial fund drive committee reports an addition of $5,536.21 to the subscriptions, bringing the total up to $40,048.45 last night.

Of this total about $500 have been subscribed by faculty and organizations, all the rest by the students. Of the $35,000 raised by the students 8.7 per cent are credited to the freshman, 32.7 per cent to the sophomores, 35.2 per cent to the juniors, and 23.4 per cent to the seniors. The totals for classes reads as follows:

Freshmen	$ 3,440
Sophomores	12,920
Juniors	13,910
Seniors	9,250

Several teams have not completed their canvasses as yet. The committee urges the student body not to wait until the last minute but to subscribe at once and show that every student is back of the Memorial drive.

"Jack" (J. W.) Wilce, Ohio State coach and alumnus of the University of Wisconsin, is a strong and enthusiastic supporter of the Memorial Union building project.

"Very best wishes for success of a project which must go over," he recently wrote to the Milwaukee headquarters of the campaign committee, in a letter announcing that his pledge was already in the hands of the Columbus, Ohio, chairman.

DISREALI READING POSTPONED A WEEK

Edward Abner Thompson, the celebrated dramatic reader, who was to have appeared here under the auspices of the Forensic board this evening in a reading of Louis M. Parker's "Disreali," has been prevented by illness from filling his engagement.

The program has been postponed a week. Definite announcements will be made later as to the new date.

Mr. Thompson is totally blind, but despite the fact is one of the leading impersonators alive. The Forensic board is fortunate in securing the services of this artist.

TRAVELS 15,000 MILES BACK TO OLD WISCONSIN

Former Student Races With Time to Get Back for Second Semester

Traveling fifteen thousand miles from the interior of Siberia in order to get back to Wisconsin to enter the university the second semester, only to be delayed by typhoons and cholera epidemics and fogs so that he arrived a month too late, is the experience of Larry Lehrbas, student in the college of Journalism, who left school in 1917 to enter the air service. Mr. Lehrbas has had various experiences in the service and in the newspaper game, and has traveled almost completely around the world, but several months ago he woke up to the fact that he wanted to get back to Wisconsin.

At that time he was in the interior of Siberia after nine months in Siberia, Japan and the Philippines with the News Syndicate, and he took the first ship for America planning to enter Wisconsin in February. "Off the coast of Korea," said Mr. Lehrbas, narrating some of the delays that prevented the scheduled arrival, "we ran into a typhoon, which ripped us up so that we were laid up in dry-dock for ten days. Then when we arrived in the harbor of Nagasaki, Japan, three steerage passengers died of cholera and we were quarantined for two weeks. After that we got off the course in the straits of Hakidati and were lost in the fog. We lost three days at that time, and after our arrival in San Francisco I was in the hospital for a week."

This series of misfortunes has not discouraged Mr. Lehrbas, however, and he is planning to enter the university next fall. He will enter as a junior in the college of Journalism. Lehrbas was well-known in university activities before he entered the service. He was active on the Cardinal for two years and was a varsity track man.

WASHINGTON—Bainbridge Colby was sworn in today as secretary of state, succeeding Robert Lansing, who resigned six weeks ago.

Sam and Sal silently stood side by side by the side steps of the school of Music, scarcely surviving the silvery swirls of stinging, sandy, snow. Since serious Sam sought to shove the sloppy slush off the slippery sidewalk with his shiny shoes, Sal soberly searched some solitude, 'steeming the silent son a sure Spring sign. Soon, sensible Sal shambled schoolward, and Sam silly slung a soppy snowball sidelong. She swayed and suddenly shot the simpleton a signal with her spattered spats, so Sam swiftly and smoothly shook out, sure of a Saturday shimmie shared at the Shandy Shop. S'all.

Y. W. TO DISCUSS CAMPUS STANDARDS

The largest and most interesting discussion group of university women organized under the auspices of Y. W. C. A. will meet for the first time next Tuesday night at 7:30 in Lathrop parlors to take up the questions of campus standards, under the leadership of Dorothy Bell Wood, according to Anne Humphrey who had charge of the meeting of association leaders on Monday night when plans were completed.

The standards to be discussed are the standards of self respect, those maintained because of influence on others, and those of Wisconsin women. Subjects to be discussed under "standards of conduct" are smoking, dancing, kissing, and physical efficiency.

Girls who are not in organized houses, or who do not belong to some group are especially urged to come to the meeting in order that the "findings" of the groups will be representative of Wisconsin women.

Bernardo Signed To Meet Hanson In Bout Monday

Tony Bernardo Italian light heavy champion, has been signed by Dr. E. L. Bump to meet Kid Hanson in Turner hall next Monday night. The bout promises to be an even better drawing card than that of Saturday night.

Bernardo weighs in at 175 pounds, the mark met by Hanson. He is a big drawing card in Chicago, where he now makes his home.

Bernardo has already posted his forfeit money with the Madison promoter and wired that he started training Monday for the go. He will come here either Friday or Saturday, completing his work at the university gym.

"I am down to weight and feeling better than ever," said Bernardo in a telegram to Bump.

Preliminaries for the coming card will be announced by Bump within a day or so. He is now negotiating with some fast youngsters for the balance of the card. It is likely that he will offer some new talent.

Hanson will begin training late today for the next show, working out at the university gym with some of Joe Steinhauer's amateur wrestlers as opponents. Bernards will arrive here next Friday or Saturday, planning to complete his training work at the university.

CHAS. E. HUGHES RENDERS OPINION ON SUFFRAGE

NEW YORK—Claims of anti-suffragists that the Anthony amendment to the constitution, if ratified, would be ineffective in states where state constitutions had been amended, are erroneous, according to an opinion obtained from Charles E. Hughes, former Justice of the United States supreme court by the National American Woman Suffrage association. Judge Hughes also advised the association that in his opinion claims that the amendment in any case would confer only the right to vote for Senators and Representatives was equally erroneous.

Pointing to the similarity in verbiage of the Anthony amendment and the fifteenth amendment extending suffrage to negroes. Mr. Hughes said:

"If the suffrage amendment is duly ratified so as to become a part of the federal constitution, I am of the opinion that the amendment will be immediately self executing and will render invalid and therefore ineffective any existing provision in any state constitution or statute establishing a suffrage disqualification solely upon the ground of sex. Further the amendment in my judgment will apply to all elections and not simply to the election of senators and members of the House of Representatives."

SEEK PORTRAITS OF 4 FORMER REGENTS

Portraits of four former regents of the university are still being sought for a compilation of biographical sketches and portraits of all members of the Board of Regents since its founding. Those whose portraits are desired are:

Gray, regent, and secretary of state, 1853-5, former resident of Janesville, who moved to Washington during the '50s; Thomas W. Sutherland, regent, 1848-9, first secretary of the State Historical society, early resident of Madison who moved to California in 1849; Hiram A. SUPPORT A BIG UNDERTAKING

THE state high school basketball tournament has been carried through with success. This week the athletic department bends its energies toward making the inter-state meet the biggest event in tournament annals at Wisconsin.

Close to 200 promising athletes, the pride of 18 leading high schools of the Middle West, will compete for the inter-state championship.

To bring high school teams from ten states together in a tourney of this kind is a big undertaking. Weeks of preparation have been necessary to complete plans for the meet.

The players who come to Madison from nearby states will be guests of the university in an even broader sense than the Wisconsin men who were campus visitors last week. Every team is visiting both the state and the university.

The student body will take a real and active interest in the tournament if it is alive to Wisconsin's athletic needs. The meet offers the biggest opportunity of the year to acquaint athletic material with the University of Wisconsin and to attract a number of them to Madison next fall.

The teams and the high schools they represent are vitally interested in the outcome of the tourney. Last week's competition showed how much enthusiasm and loyalty the high school supporters give their teams. The university man should not consider it beneath his dignity to notice the presence of the high school enthusiasts. A little more spirit of the high school variety would not injure anyone.

Let's show the visiting teams that the campus is taking a real interest in the competition and in the players themselves. Make it a point to support the athletic department besides by attending a good share of the series of games.

MICHIGAN NEXT

DEBATING activities all over the country have staged a great come-back this year. Renewed interest is being shown by everyone, especially in regard to the contests. It is hard to determine the exact cause of this renewal of interest. Probably the people are keener than ever before to hear vital, pressing public questions discussed from all points of view.

This increased interest is evidenced in many ways. The fact that people were turned away from Music hall the night of the Minnesota debate shows it. At Ohio State our team was met by an audience approaching one thousand. This year Wisconsin was challenged to debate with Columbia, Princeton, and Southern California. But the four debates scheduled were deemed enough for the year.

The approaching Michigan debate is creating more interest than usual. The Wolverines and the Badgers are old rivals in debate, having participated for over twenty years. Alumni like Olbrich, Cross and Minahan have met Michigan on the platform. Olbrich's team in 1904 met and defeated Michigan on its home platform.

When these two teams meet in Music hall Friday night one of the hottest verbal scraps ever known is promised. Both schools will be represented by one of their strongest teams. Wisconsin's representatives have been working consistently for four months with their eyes on Michigan. That they will make a fine struggle to "cop" from this ancient foe is assured. A packed auditorium can do considerable to lighten the task and make victory more certain.

What the College Editors Say

HIDDEN MATERIAL

It is to be regretted that among all college athletics there are many who have exceptional ability that are not engaged in varsity competition, either through backwardness in their scholastic work or through disinclination to enter into the training which is a necessary prerequisite to all forms of athletics.

There are many men of this kind at Ohio State. A large majority of them are equal in ability to men who are regularly participating in varsity athletics, but these backward ones are unwilling to give up the time and work which athletics require.

The man who was a fine athlete in his preparatory school days often becomes discouraged at the seemingly endless galaxy of stars that he hears of upon entering college. Such men, who would make valuable material for future varsity teams, neglect either wholly or partially the opportunities that are given them as freshmen, and thus, as a rule, remain in oblivion throughout their entire college career.

It is not alone to athletics that this rule applies, because there are many men with ability along a wide variety of lines who do not make the best of their chances. Regardless of the number of good men who have gone before, there are always additional places for those who are willing to work.—Ohio State Lantern.

SELF-COMPLACENCY

No one elicits more unfavorable comment than a self-complacent individual. To be well-poised is a quality of character, but poise should be kept from going over the danger line of unshakable composure.

Human contact brings to the attentions of everyone, persons who are taking themselves too seriously to give any consideration to others. The opinions of others enlist only polite but abstracted consideration, which gives the impression that little respect is paid anyone's sentiment but their own.

The misdemeanor is unintentional, being more an outgrowth of that peculiar form of conceit which grants no right of existence except one's own. These people go through life, not wilfully inconsiderate, but with the "sufficient unto themselves" attitude that is bound to lose them friends.

Cultivation of an "easy to sway, easy to change mind" is not to be advocated, but it is desirable that due thought be given to the convictions of others, as this will gain more than a smug complacency in self.—Ohio State Lantern.

GET BRONZE REPLICA OF PULITZER MEDAL

A bronze replica of the Pulitzer medal, which was awarded to the Milwaukee Journal for the most meritorious service rendered by an American newspaper during the year 1919, has been presented to the course in Journalism by Henry C. Campbell of the editorial staff of the Journal. The replica mounted on walnut has been hung in the journalism reading room.

GOPHERS TO PLACE TAX ON ACTIVITIES

MINNEAPOLIS—Proposal for a blanket tax on students of the University of Minnesota to finance the leading student activities, has elicited sharp protest from the athletic association. The association takes the position that athletic revenue would be sharply reduced.

The proposal is that each student should pay $6.50 and would receive an athletic ticket, good for admission to all contests and would receive the university publications. The athletic association would get $2.25. Athletic tickets, under the present arrangement sell for $5.00 to the students.

COMMUNICATIONS

THE SPIRIT OF SERVICE

To the Editor of The Cardinal:

As a member of the class of '23 and also as a member of the student body who is interested in seeing the proposed Memorial Union building a reality, let me tell you the story of an old grad, a member of the class of '96 to be exact.

The watchword of his life, his motto, has been service. He has lived only to serve his community, his state, his nation, and how well he has done it isn't for me to say.

No task which he thought would benefit someone else was too menial, no task too large. Early and late he worked in order to make life better for others. He spared no expense in anything that was good, anything in which he thought others would benefit.

I remember asking him one day why he did this, why he chose to serve never thinking of self, never thinking of the tremendous strain on his vitality. What do you think he said in reply? He said, "I learned to serve before leaving my Alma Mater, before leaving Wisconsin. It is the spirit that makes men of weaklings. Wisconsin spirit has come down through the years with me giving me inspiration when I lacked it, backbone instead of a streak of yellow. It is the spirit of service of Wisconsin. Someday you will know happiness depends on service."

A spirit like that is worth any price. Everyone should be willing to give until it hurts in order to preserve the old Wisconsin spirit, not only for ourselves but for our successors also. And this Memorial Union building will go a long way towards the preservation of that old spirit.

This thing is going through because our predecessors have the spirit, whether we who are here now give anything or not. That isn't sufficient. We must show some of the old spirit ourselves and help and show those who have gone before; not only gone before as sons of Alma Mater but also as sons of God. We must show that we believe in them. Can we allow ourselves to fail? If we haven't enough of the spirit in us to make the small sacrifice then we don't deserve to have the same Alma Mater as those who have gone before. They are proud of Alma Mater and let's hope that they will always be, and that we won't fail Wisconsin now that she asks our help. Come on, Wisconsin, let's go!

J. R. M.

MAKE THE MEMORIAL DRIVE UNANIMOUS

To the Editor of The Cardinal:

Is Wisconsin Spirit alive? Some have questioned it. I, for one, believe it is very much alive, but perhaps not so organized that we can readily find and feel its pluse. The university has grown so large and the students are so scattered that it is difficult to measure a spirit of unity. All of which is a fine argument for a Memorial Union building that will be the very heart of Wisconsin spirit, that will centralize it.

It was Wisconsin spirit that prompted this great campaign to honor Wisconsin's warriors. It is Wisconsin spirit that is going to carry this campaign "over the top." And it will be Wisconsin spirit that will live forever in our beautiful Memorial Union building.

But much remains to be done. Little has been said of going "over the top" on our small apportionment. And it has only been hinted that Wisconsin wants every student to subscribe. No organized action has been taken to make sure of an unanimous Memorial Union building.

LET'S MAKE IT UNANIMOUS!

What a fine tribute to Wisconsin's 5,000 service men to carry this over the top with unanimous subscription from the student body. Not a student should be denied the privilege of contributing his bit to make it unanimous. Let each of us do his bit, even though it be but a dollar with two years to save it up. "Let's make it unanimous."

Let's not stop when we reach the $100,000 mark. "Let's make it unanimous." Let us erect a monument to 100 per cent Wisconsin spirit, a fitting answer to the men who answered our country's call. Wisconsin spirit is cardinal red and just as crimson as the blood of the men we are going to honor.

Let's adopt the slogan, "Let's make it unanimous!"

And then,

"LET'S MAKE IT UNANIMOUS!"

THANKS THE SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB COMMITTEE

To the Editor of The Cardinal:

I am impelled by a sense of gratefulness and an innate pride in the institutions of this college to thank the executive committee of the Social Science club for its gracious communication in yesterday's Cardinal. The Cardinal need plead no more for a liberal organization "to stimulate and promote an intelligent and non-partisan discussion of economic, political and social problems." It need no longer, Diogenes-like, search the bushes of darkness for the gleam of the light of truth. No. For the cheerful committee of the Socialist Science club (or is it Social Science) has come forward with the banner of righteousness and declares itself to be that glimmering ignis fatuus in a wilderness of doubt.

Let us not be misled by the curious statement of Article 2 of the club's by-laws: "The object of the club shall be to promote an intelligent understanding of socialism...."; let us not be befooled by the proud declaration that the club is the largest (if not most rabid) chapter of the Inter-collegiate Socialists society; let us overlook the glowing paragraph about the progress of the great Socialist movement in Europe; instead of being perplexed by these small generalities, should we not rather suppose the club to be the sturdy, conservative, level-headed body that we are told it is in the first paragraph before the naughty pen of the committee slipped into its socialistic stride.

Do not quarrel with the statement that Germany has a socialistic form of government. The tardy press has not yet informed us that President Ebert's government is overthrown and that Trotzky's walking delegates have assumed charge of the German empire, but of course it may be true.

If we had any misgivings or doubt about the club, they must be dissipated by the statement that less than one-fourth of the club's members are "socialistically inclined." And we accept with pleasure and satisfaction the apology that the club is not a socialist propagandist. We are assured that now we can send our younger sisters and children to its meetings without having their young minds warped or their young opinions driven into insidious channels.

Gentlemen of the executive committee of the Social Science club, thank you for your letter. Now we know where to go for free and disinterested discussion on the burning questions of the hour without having to listen to eulogies on the socialistic millennium.

EDITH V. SHEA.

AT THE FULLER

One of the most important of the season's bookings is that of Cosmo Hamilton's piquant comedy, "Scandal," which comes to the Fuller today, matinee and night, under the direction of the Walter Haste Amusement Co., and fresh from its tremendously successful engagement of seven months at the Garrick Theater, Chicago.

The story concerns the somewhat unusual ambition of a daughter of the "idle rich" to find out whether artists are quite as black as they are painted. Thus the young person brings down much trouble upon her fair head by visiting a disreputable painter at the midnight hour. To rid herself of the embraces of the painter and the chastisement from her aristocratic family, which arrives close on her trail, she announces she is married to another quite disinterested man, who occupies an adjoining apartment. This chap, an all-round sportsman and good fellow, goes through with it.

The thin ice on which they cut their diodes springs and cracks under them, and occasionally you are sure they are breaking through, but they glide back to comparative safety, though they never entirely escape danger until the final curtain fall at the end of two hours and a half of irresistible comedy.

Walter Haste has supplied a cast of exceptional merit.

BEAUMONT, TEXAS, AMERICA'S FASTEST GROWING CITY, WAS SEMI-TROPICAL WILDERNESS TWENTY YEARS AGO

Busy scene at Beaumont, Texas, today, and the same spot twenty years ago.

If Rip Van Winkle had been a resident of Beaumont, Texas, and if he had slumbered off in his famous sleep in 1900 and awakened sometime during the present year, his first waking thought would be that someone had taken advantage of him during his slumber and had shipped him from his idyllic boudoir into the seething vortex of a metropolis. The jungle scene was snapped in 1900. It shows a spot on the Naches river at Beaumont as it was then. The same spot, with the river dredged and the jungle cleared away, is shown in the upper picture. According to U. S. census reports, recently published, Beaumont is America's fastest growing city, having gained 71 per cent in the decade from 1910 to 1920. The present population of the city is 35,351, a gain of 14,711 in ten years.

Brilliant Aurora Set The Heavens Aflame With Colors Monday Evening

Telephone and Telegraph Wires Are Disturbed by the Display; Comes From Electrical Energy
Sent Out by Sun

AN UNUSUALLY brilliant and beautiful aurora borealis covered the heavens Monday night, illuminating practically the whole sky with quivering sheets of green, bluish and reddish flame. This was the first really gorgeous auroral display of the year and attracted much attention.

The most brilliant colors were visible shortly after nine o'clock, when the heavens were fairly ablaze with green and crimson waves, edged with pink, lavender, gold, brown and purple. In long rays the shafts of brilliant light swirled and eddied toward a zenith, usually a star, which, instead of dimming with their brightness, they only served to emphasize.

Accompanying the display were the customary electrical disturbances, discharges on all long distance telephone and telegraph lines being reported by wire and phone offices.

Madison streets were crowded during the early evening by sightseers watching the sky.

Some observers, unable to explain the profusion of light and color and motion as being an ordinary "northern lights" display, wanted to know if it were really true that Mars was sending the earth signals.

"It is just the aurora borealis, though quite an unusually brilliant exhibition," declared Dean Comstock of the university astronomy department.

"The sun is constantly in disturbance and sending out an infinite number of tiny particles which are filled with electric energy. The equatorial parts of the earth pick up these and they follow the lines of magnetic force of the earth toward the poles. They sweep to the north in great arcs, averaging about 60 miles from the earth's surface. They appear to meet at a point a little south of the zenith, the vanishing point of their lines of direction."

Eric R. Miller, federal weatherman, explained last night that the aurora had been present all day, but invisible during the light of the sun.

The reason for the disturbances to the telegram lines was explained by Mr. Miller. The current from the electric disturbances, coming from equatorial regions in a huge arc, passes back through the earth. The telegraph lines also use ground currents, but there's a steady stream, while that from the auroral disturbance is uncertain. The confusion between the two sets of currents causes the trouble to the wires.

Colorado Dust Found In Madison Snow

Colorado dust, carried more than 800 miles from the plains and slopes of that state, was discovered in the snow here Monday by Eric E. Miller, local weather man. A similar phenomenon was discovered here about two years ago.

DO YOU KNOW OF THE NEW RULES FOR FOOTBALL SEASON?

HOW MANY followers of the game of football know that the Football Rules committee, the supreme governing body of the gridiron game, at their first meeting since 1917, passed several new regulations which practically revolutionize the game?

The punt out after a touchdown has been eliminated. Interference with a player attempting a forward pass has been banned. Also the important proposal to limit periods to forty plays rather than fifteen minutes was voted down and for good reason.

Walter Camp tells why. Several other football experts voice their opinions on the actions taken. The complete story of the meeting of the rules committee and an accurate record of what they did and why will appear on The Capital Times sport page beginning tomorrow, and will run through three issues.

Daleyville Children Give $65 to Relief

Sixty-five dollars were sent into headquarters of the Near East relief Monday by the school children of Daleyville, in the town of Perry. The Daleyville school is only a small one, consisting of two rooms, but a contest was put on between the girls and the boys, the losers pledging themselves to treat the winners to a dinner. The girls lost.

Sun Prairie has sent $419.25 to the headquarters of the near east relief fund in the offices of the Association of Commerce.

JASTROW HITS MEDICAL FAKES

Says Cures Are Due to Mental Suggestion; Scores Fake Doctors

"Testimonials are easy to get from people regardless of whether they were cured because of two bottles of something or in spite of them," said Prof. Joseph Jastrow in one of his series of lectures on "The Occult," a talk on "Systems of Mental Healing," yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the Chemistry building.

"Though the faking has been wide-spread and some of the methods of mental healing seem to us ridiculous," he continued, "undeniable cures have been effected with every one of these fake remedies. The role of mental suggestibility in sickness can hardly be overestimated.

"The man who always goes around with pills in his pocket and continually dwells on his ailments is pretty sure to be sick most of the time, just as he expects to be. The spirit of going about one's business and cheerfully ignoring slight illness is the best remedy one can offer.

"But at the same time we must not go to extremes. Those sects which would deny dangerous symptoms and neglect necessary attention threaten society with the spread of disease and should be carefully watched."

Different systems of healing which have enjoyed great popularity in the past were discussed by Professor Jastrow. "History is full of quacks," he declared, "for people have always come forward and offered to make cures by mystery. But the time will come, perhaps, when superstition will be entirely driven out of medical science."

MANY BRILLIANT LECTURERS COME TO UNIVERSITY

George Woodbury, who will be remembered as a residence lecturer here some years ago, will again visit Madison and give a series of lectures, from April 29 on.

A series of scientific lectures on Colloid Chemistry will be given by Prof. Holmes of Oberlin May 13, 14, and 15. Also in May, Prof. Feuillerat will give a lecture in English on Shakespeare, and another lecture in French.

LAWRENCE SINGERS IN TOUR OF STATE

APPLETON—The Girls' Glee club of Lawrence college will start on its tour Saturday, beginning with a concert at Menasha. Eighteen cities in Wisconsin and northern Michigan will be visited. The Men's Glee club will give its first concert at Neenah Monday evening, March 22. Eighteen cities in Wisconsin and Minnesota will be visited. The tour extends over three weeks.

Tea Hounds Celebrate Jazz Demise With Mammoth Wake

The death knell of tea-dancing has been sounded! The tea-hound will soon be out of a jib, and the final obsequies of the dear departed will be celebrated with fitting ceremonies. The business of interring John Barleycorn, which occupied so much time and attention some months ago, can't hold a candle to the last grand splash that will usher out the tea-dancing game.

There's a lot of mystery about the final solemn rites but an inquisitive reporter managed to get ahold of the great big fact that one mammoth tea-dance, the like of which has never been seen or heard on our glorious campus, will wind up that great in-door sport forever. Saturday, March 27, is the time and the Candy shop is the place for the original jazz funeral. The Joseph Smith orchestra from Louisville, makers of the Victor dance records, will play the funeral march, and such big, brawny athletes as "Scoty" and "Shorty" Barr will crowd themselves into their dress-suits—or whatever the proper regalia for such functions is—and assist at the wake.

There is a vague rumor that the function is being directed by a new organization on the campus. Nothing definite can be obtained but the general understanding is that it is being staged by the "Thirty Non-eligibles Club." Under such direction the stunts between acts ought to be novel and original, to put it mildly. Anything further that is learned about the organization will be made public at once.

ALPHA DELTS WIN INTER-FRAT BASKET TOURNEY

A. T. O. Ranks Second; Phi Psi's Cop Third Place From the D. U.'s

Alpha Delta Phi won the final game of the inter-fraternity basketball tournament last night, defeating the A. T. O.'s by a score of 28 to 10, and in a fight for third place, the PPhi Psi's won over the D. U.'s, 21 to 3.

Both games were comparatively slow and one sided, failing to come up to the standard of spirited contests usually expected in the finals.

In the final game, Steele of the A. T. O.'s started the scoring in the first two minutes of play, with a field goal, Biekens, an Alpha Delt, retaliated by making a basket and free throw in close succession. From then on to the end of the game, his team maintained the lead. Yu'l and Hazen, Alpha Delt, proved themselves a pair of crack guards, holding their opponents to three field goals in the entire game and together garnering more baskets than all their teammates put together.

The preliminary game, between D. U. and Phi Kappa Psi, was more one sided than the final contest. Playing a tight defensive game, the Phi Psi's repeatedly broke up the D. U. floor attacks and caged baskets from all angles of the floor.

Delegates are appointed as representatives of every state and possession and meet in the convention, where they carry on their nominations and balloting as nearly as possible in the manner that is used in the national convention.

In the past much interest has been manifested during the proceedings, many of the delegates coming to the convention dressed in costumes emblematic of the activities of their respective states. The meetings have created so much feeling that large audiences of town's people usually attend.
