Castalia, Pythia to Hold Annual Debate March 6

The annual linguistic women's debating societies battle between Castalia and Pythia will be held at 7:30 o'clock, March 6, in Music Hall. Tickets for the debate are now on sale by members of both societies at the price of 25 cents each.

Pythia's team this year is composed of Elizabeth Rabinoff '27, Grace Goldstein '25 and Eileen BlacKEY '25.

The team for Castalia is made up of Alice Kelley '28, Carol Hubbard '25 and Alberta Johnson '26.

The question being debated this year is the same that the intercollegiate teams are using. The winner of the debate between Pythia and Castalia will go to Rockford, Ill., to argue with the women's team of Rockford college.

3 WOMEN, 9 MEN NAMED DEBATERS

Co-eds Will Participate For
First Time in History of Wisconsin

Three women and nine men are to represent Wisconsin in intercollegiate debating with Northwestern, Minnesota, Illinois, and Michigan universities in March, according to the results of the final try-outs held during the past week.

The first women ever to take part in intercollegiate debating for Wisconsin are Eileen BlacKEY '25, Carol Hubbard '25, and Virginia North '26, who will appear on the teams debating with Northwestern, Illinois and Michigan.

Two triangle debates will be held during March. The team composed of Bell, BlacKEY, and Sumner will meet Northwestern here March 12, while the negative team of Sporer, Mitchell and Alk will travel to Minneapolis to debate with Minnesota. The question to be considered is whether or not the two houses of congress shall have power to reenact a law after it has been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court.

Debating the question as to whether or not the amendment now under consideration in regard to child labor shall be adopted by the states, the team made up of Fiedler, North and Sher will go to Ann Arbor March 20, and Morse, Thompson and Hubbard will remain in Madison to meet Illinois on the same date.

Glee Club Victorious in Middle West Contest at Chicago For Second Time in Three Years

BADGER TO GIVE CUP IN CONTEST

Group Securing Greatest Number of Subscriptions to Receive Silver Trophy

In connection with the spring subscription campaign which the circulation staff of the 1926 Badger will conduct March 4, 5 and 6, a large loving cup is being offered to the fraternity or sorority turning in the largest number of subscriptions to the 1926 Badger. Organizations may include the subscriptions obtained in the fall.

The Cantwell Printing Co., the Brock Engraving Co. and the Photo-Art House, local concerns who are under contract with the Badger, have contributed to a fund for the purchase of the cup.

Ben Anderson '26, business manager, called attention to the fact that some organizations have already subscribed 100 per cent, but no organization is limited to its own membership. The cup will be awarded for the largest number of subscriptions, regardless of whether these are confined to the one group.

Anderson has suggested that each organization appoint its own solicitors who may obtain subscription books at the Badger office. It is expected that more than 1,000 copies will be sold before the campaign closes March 6.

February Octopus Lacks Real Humor; Pictures Are Good

By L. S.

The best reminder that the February Octopus, appearing today, is a Palm Beach number is that one is left with a sour taste after reading it—a taste that brings thoughts of salt water or the shore.

Let's begin with the cover, drawn by Mike Stiver '25. Its colors are summer-like but too pale. The design perhaps would sell well to a southern railroad advertising passage to the seashore, but it is too ordinary for the college humor magazine.

It takes a lot of patience to wade through "The Lowdown on Palm Beach," but this brings to mind that whenever any of the Octopus writers attempt humorous prose, they usually fail dismally. The cross-word puzzle is more irritating than the work of solving a regular one would be.

There are some entertaining features, however. The artists apparently outdid themselves, for it is the pictures that are both clever and full of meaning. The more alert will enjoy the Octopus for its drawings.

The Octopus section is a real feature of the issue. Several pictures in this section would compare favorably with the work of professional newspaper cartoonists.

Michigan Second, Grinnell College Third, in Sing Monday Night

For the second time in three years, the Wisconsin Men's Glee club has sung its way to the championship of the Middle West. In the annual glee club contest Monday night at Orchestra Hall, Chicago, the club took first place, with the University of Michigan second and Grinnell college, last year's winners, coming in third.

The Wisconsin club, as winner of the sectional title is qualified to take part in the national contest at New York, March 7, where it will contest with Harvard, Princeton, Yale, Columbia and Brown for national honors.

May Take N. Y. Trip

Whether the club can take the trip to New York, as it did in 1923, depends on the consent of the Life and Interest committee of the university. It will be necessary to raise a considerable sum of money to finance the trip, according to Robert C. Nethercut, grad, president of the club.

The competition at Orchestra Hall included Michigan, Chicago, and Illinois, as well as several of the smaller colleges, among which Grinnell and Millikin were outstanding.

2,500 Attend Contest

Over 2,500 people crowded Orchestra Hall for the concert-contest. The large organ of the hall was played by Robert C. Nethercut, accompanist of the Wisconsin club. Three hundred university and college men took part in the singing. The concert was opened by an ensemble by the entire 300, and closed with the singing of "The Bells of

W. S. G. A. SUBJECT OF MASSMEETING

University Women to Meet in Music Hall Tomorrow Night

Certain portions of the W. S. G. A. constitution including the point system will be completely revised at the all-university women's mass-meeting which will be held at 7:15 o'clock tomorrow night in Music Hall.

"The point system has proven very inadequate this year," Dorothy Strauss '26, census chairman, said. "In revising this part of the present constitution we hope to spread out the positions for women in outside activities and to limit the number of activities which one woman can take part in in order to insure better health and a better scholastic standing."

In order to form a quorum, according to the present constitution, at least one-third of all the women in school must be present at the mass-meeting. Voting on the proposed amendments is done by the Australian ballot system.

C. C. C. IS BARED, IT'S A CONTEST

Cross-word Puzzle Competition Fostered By Daily Cardinal; Prize Offered

The meaning of the C. C. C. signs which have been appearing in the Daily Cardinal during the past week was made public late yesterday afternoon when a telephone conversation was overheard by an inquisitive reporter. After an investigation which lasted over an hour, one of the editors was forced to admit that these signs meant "Cardinal Crossword Contest."

The contest opens today and will be open to students, faculty members and the general public. Friday, March 13, is the date that has been set for the contest to close. A prize of five dollars will be awarded to the winning puzzle which will be printed in the spring rotogravure section of the Daily Cardinal appearing March 21.

"Here is something new for crossword puzzle experts to try their wits on—a rotogravure puzzle," Alice Colony '26, editor of the rotogravure section, said. "Test your vocabulary in the field of rotogravure terms."

"What do you like about this section which appears on all major university occasions? What could be done to improve it? If you can't fit terms into the puzzle which apply to the rotogravure section, send in a good puzzle anyway for although we prefer puzzles which feature this particular section, any puzzle will be accepted."

All puzzles must be submitted already worked out on white paper in India ink and must be twice as large as the printed puzzle, which will be a square approximately 4x4 inches. Address all puzzles to Alice Colony, rotogravure editor, Union building.

Murphy will conduct a rehearsal for them at the same time.

All members and those who wish to try out, but are unable to attend this practice, can arrange with Harold Glassen by calling F. 2574 any time before Thursday evening.

EUROPE'S FUTURE UP TO STUDENTS IN U. S. COLLEGES

—LEGATE

Field Secretary Claims Student Friendship Fund Means Salvation

Whether Europe will go back to old order of wars and diplomatic intrigue with its consequent toll of death and disease or whether she will be able to institute a philosophy based on Christianity and mutual good will is largely up to the students of American colleges and universities, was the statement of Roy H. Legate, field secretary of the student friendship fund, at a meeting of student leaders Sunday afternoon at Lathrop parlor.

"The budget for the American contribution to the Friendship fund this year is $210,000 and we feel confident that the students over here will raise this quota although the average contributions for American colleges has been $150,000 for past years," Mr. Legate explained.

Explains Purpose

The Student Friendship fund originated in 1920 for the purpose of helping the poor students of Europe to get the necessities of life after the war had swept away their civilization, according to Legate. The money is collected through the local student organization which is headed by Gwen Drake '26 and Irwin Gerber '25 and it is then turned over to the national office in New York.

Chairmen Announced

In Germany, where conditions are perhaps worst, so far as our problems are concerned, there are approximately 70,000 students who wish to change the old order and 40,000 who are preparing for a resumption of the military system.

A committee of 40 is backing the drive here. Flying squadrons are being sent out to the organized groups on the campus. Besides this general organization chairmen have been appointed to carry on the drive among special groups. They are Dorothy King '26, sororities; Katherine Synder '26, rooming houses; Nellie Bilsted '27, Chadbourne; Louise McNaught '26, Barnard; Alice Colony '26, general publicity.

WAR DEBTS WILL ALL BE SETTLED

—HARRISON

Democratic Senator Speaks in Gymnasium on Problems of Day

Sen. Pat Harrison, Democrat from Mississippi, who sounded the keynote at the Democratic convention last summer, spoke at the men's gymnasium last night on "Problems of the Day."

Agricultural problems touching the farmer, problems of economics and taxation touching the people were the paramount topics discussed by Senator Harrison.

Senator Harrison denounced the latest suggestion from the French Chamber of Deputies to wipe out the French debt to the United States.

"If I can interpret the views of my fellow congressmen this French debt will not be wiped out, but will be settled in the same way as the debts of other countries."

Corporations and income taxes could be cut one-third if we would collect our yearly interest of $500,000,000 from our foreign debts."

Senator Harrison enumerated the spoils of the war received by Great Britain and France from Germany.

"France has already collected $6,500,000,000 from Germany besides that most valuable piece of land, Alsace-Lorraine. There is no reason why France should not pay her debt just as Great Britain has funded hers."

MINNESOTA SWIM MEET PRESENTS SERIOUS PROBLEM

Faricy, of Gophers, Best in Breast Stroke; Badgers Safe in Relay

After taking an unusually close tank meet from Chicago last week, the Badger splashers now face a much more difficult proposition in the coming meet with Minnesota. The Gophers are unusually strong this year, and are unquestionably the best set of swimmers that Wisconsin has to face this season.

In a recent meet with Chicago the Gophers emerged victors by the terribly lop-sided score of 68-19½. Although Wisconsin barely succeeded in taking the meet from Chicago, Coach Joe Steinauer admits that if his men had exerted themselves they could have won easily by a margin of at least 10 points. But this little supremacy of the Badgers over the Maroons looks inglorious when compared to the overwhelming score of the Minnesota-Chicago meet.

Faricy a Winner

In John Faricy, Olympic star, Minnesota has one of the best breast-strokers in the country. John's latest accomplishment was the breaking of the 200-yard breast stroke record against Chicago, setting a new time of 2:37 3-5.

Gilbreath of Wisconsin had things his own way in the back stroke at the beginning of the season, but now that the Badgers are running into more competition it has been found necessary to enter Herschberger into the realm of the back strokers. The Gophers have Jim Hill, however, and he is a man to be feared. In the Chicago meet he broke the conference record and lowered the time to 1:48 2-5.

Badger Relay Team Best

Wisconsin cannot hope to win either first to second place in the 220-yard free style against such men as Cooley, who swims the distance in 2:35 2-5. Besides these events Minnesota is comparatively sure of taking the plunge. Nutting floats the tank regularly in 20 seconds.

When it comes to the relay and the 40- and 100-yard swims Wisconsin need have no fear of the Gophers, and as for the dives, who knows? Dorf, Chicago captain and fancy diver, has managed to win from both Simpkins and the Minnesota diver, and there is consequently much doubt as to the possible outcome of this event. If Wisconsin makes every stroke count and strains to take the third places it is possible that the Gophers will find their hands more than full Friday night at Minneapolis.

Rev. W. T. Cunningham, C. S. C., of Notre Dame university will speak at the Knights of Columbus lunch club meeting to be held at the club house Wednesday noon. Rev. Cunningham is in the education department at Notre Dame.

Saint Mary" by the assembled clubs.

"Wisconsin's victory comes as a result of continued and hard work on the part of the members of the club, coupled with the superior leadership of Professor Swinney," according to Nethercut. The fact that the club had already given six major concerts also had much to do with its preparation for the contest.

The trip to New York should be taken March 7. The following week, March 13 and 14, the club will sing in Madison.

Sah Star Athlete, Yet Makes 55 Grade Points in His Studies

Passes Pre-Doctorate Exams With High Grades; Is Tennis Player

A star athlete and yet a student with a record of 55 grade points in his graduate work for the past semester!

That is the record of Peter Sah, who starred on the Wisconsin tennis team last year. Look at this record:

Course	Grade	Cred.	Pts.
Chem. 251	91	2	4
Chem. 224	A	2	6
Chem. 138	A	2	6
Chem. 242	93	3	9
Chem. 222	A	10	30
		19	55

Besides establishing an excellent record with such a heavy schedule, Sah has also passed pre-doctorate examinations with high marks, and has fulfilled the language requirements for Ph. D. candidates. Sah graduated last June and obtained his M. S. degree during the summer session. He is now working for his doctor degree under Prof. R. Fischer, of the chemistry department.

SIGMA PHI, TRIANGLE WIN IN HOCKEY GAMES

Sigma Phi beat Delta Sigma Pi 1 to 0, and Triangle won from Kappa Tau 3 to 0 in the semi-finals of the inter-fraternity hockey league Monday. As a result of these encounters, Sigma Phi will meet Triangle in the finals as soon as a convenient date can be arranged. The fact that Triangle managed to score three times on Kappa Tau indicates that they have an offense to be feared. Sigma Phi, on the other hand, met competition in Delta Sigma Pi which took real skill to beat.

PREFERENCE BID SLIPS END SORORITY RUSHING

Second semester rushing is over. At 9 o'clock Tuesday morning preference slips were taken by the sorority to the dean of women's office. At 8 o'clock last night the slips were sorted by disinterested men employed by Pan Hellenic association. The men compared the slips of rushees with sorority slips and typed the final lists for each sorority. Sorority rushing chairmen called for their lists at 9 o'clock this morning.

When it comes to the relay and the 40- and 100-yard swims Wisconsin need have no fear of the Gophers, and as for the dives, who knows? Dorf, Chicago captain and fancy diver, has managed to win from both Simpkins and the Minnesota diver, and there is consequently much doubt as to the possible outcome of this event. If Wisconsin makes every stroke count and strains to take the third places it is possible that the Gophers will find their hands more than full Friday night at Minneapolis.

POST WILL LEAD FROSH AQUA TEAM

Stanley Post was elected captain yesterday of the freshman water basketball team. The frosh water basketball material is very good, according to Paul Eschweiler, coach. Hopes for a championship team next year will be as good as this year, he said. Those men who are playing regularly with the frosh squad are Morgan, Post, Donovan, Vashow, Esher, Ettelson and Foodson.

Cage Jottings

Michigan Saturday night, and Doc is priming his men hard so as to be sure of a victory over the Wolverines. Michigan has a mighty team, being the only team in the conference that has defeated the Big Ten leaders, the Ohio team.

* * *

The flag race has changed, and Illinois no longer leads the conference race. The Suckers were sunk by Indiana Monday night by a 30 to 24 score, while the Buckeyes were running wild over Northwestern.

* * *

It appears that Indiana after its victory over the Illini, looms as one of the leading teams in the race, and from indications stand an excellent chances of coming off with Big Ten honors.

Now for letters:

"You advertise for the guesses. Well, as a very loyal offspring of 'Ole Oleson' should, I guess that Wisconsin will come first. We had a rotten beginning, but don't forget the old saying, 'A bad beginning makes a good ending.' So it's nix on the present leaders of the percentage col."

BADGERS, LOSING TO PURDUE, PREPARE FOR MICHIGAN

QUINTET ALL BUT PUTS ACROSS WIN ON BOILERMAKERS

Spradling Individual Star With 14 Points; Barnum Out on Personals

By KEN BUTLER

After a fast and hectic game against Purdue Monday night when Badger hopes for a turn of fortune rose and fell in rapid vacillations, Coach Meanwell has set about at the task of re-grooming his hopefuls for another game. Saturday night the Wolverines come to Madison with blood in their eyes, for things have not been going too well at the Ann Arbor camp, either.

Monday night's was a sorry battle—for the fans. The team played top-notch basketball, but Purdue brought from the land of boilers a high calibre team headed by Spradling who, after starting the Purdue scoring spree, made three personal fouls in the first quarter and it looked as though he might not finish the game. But that scoring ace held his peace and finished faster than ever. In the last minutes of the game his teammates fed the ball to him and he dribbled down for several baskets.

Spradling Scoring Ace

The final count was 30 to 22. Things were going nice for the Badgers until shortly after the beginning of the second half, when Barnum was taken out on four personals after a doubtful foul called on him by Umpire Reynolds. Barnum had been playing a wildfire game, and this unfortunate stroke broke up the Badger morale and the Boilmakers rallied and romped unimpeded to a comfortable victory.

Spradling and Cramer, gaunt Purdue center, started off with a field goal each, but two nice baskets by Barnum evened the score at four all. Bain made a free throw, but Harmeson came back with a field goal. A free throw by Merkel evened things again. Spradling made a field goal and a free throw. Merkel made two free throws that made things look encouraging, but Cramer made a shot from the foul line and Harreson wasn't long in adding another.

Barnum Taken Out

With the score standing 12-8 against the Badgers, Barnum popped in a free throw and Barwig triumphed with another of his long shots. Robbins shot a free throw and the half ended with the score at 13 to 11.

The second started off well. Barwig made a long shot which made the score tie. But at this point Barnum was called out on fouls. Miller went in for Barnum and made two free throws and a nice field basket. Followed a series of fouls, whereby Purdue profited and Harmeson and Wellman each made one. Spradling tossed in a couple, Robbins made one and the score was 28 to 17, with Purdue holding a comfortable lead. Diebold and Barwig made counters, but it was too late. It was Purdue's game.

Shows Up Well

FREDDIE. BAIN

Bain saw his first real action in the Iowa game, and is being used consistently at forward by Coach Meanwell. He was a shining light at Illinois, and played a good game Monday night against Purdue. His home is in Martinsville, Ind.

The last census reported a total of more than 8,000 bee-keepers in the United States.

Rifle Shooters Place Second at Milwaukee

CLYDE MORLEY IS INDIVIDUAL CHAMP WITH 287 POINTS

Winning second place in the annual Wisconsin State Indoor Rifle match held at Milwaukee Friday and Saturday, the Wisconsin rifle team duplicated its feat of last year and came within a scant margin of eight points behind the victorious St. John's team, holders of the Hearst trophy national championship. The Badger team totaled a score of 2,190 points, while St. John's academy won the state championship and the Bunde and Upmeyer trophy with 2,198 points.

Clyde A. Morley '26 proved himself the star of the Badger riflemen and walked off with most of the honors of the meet. Not content with winning the standing position championship with a score of 91, Morley also annexed the prize for grand aggregate and the state individual championship. Morley's shooting astonished even the most veteran shots of the meet and was a phenomenal feature of the match.

Best in Sitting, Prone

The St. John's team piled up a lead of 29 points over the Wisconsin team in the standing position, and it was only due to this comfortable lead that they were able to win the championship. Wisconsin clearly outclassed all of the teams in the sitting and prone positions and narrowed St. John's lead down to eight points before the finish.

The One hundred and fifth Cavalry unit of the National guard, visitors last year, had to be content with third place and trailed the Badgers by 12 points. Ripon college won fourth place with a score of 1,868; Beloit college fifth, with 1,827; Headquarters' Company one hundred twenty-seventh infantry, sixth, with 1,823, and Company L, One hundred twenty-eighth infantry. Beloit came seventh with 1,747.

Morley Individual Champ

Clyde Morley of Wisconsin won the individual standing position char-ampionship with a 91 and also took the grand aggregate prize with 287 out of a possible 300. Kunkel of St. John's, won the sitting position championship with 100, and St. Amour, also of St. John's, had the high prone score of 9-x bullseyes.

Three Wisconsin men, Carl J. Neess '27, Joseph Robbins '28 and Captain W. A. Rorison '25 turned in perfect scores of 100 in the prone position. Neess was the second high man for Wisconsin with a total of 283 points.

Badgers Dark Horse

The Wisconsin team proved to be the dark-horse of the meet. It was not until the later stages of the match that Wisconsin was even conceded to have a chance for second place. The strong spurt at the finish placed the team well to the fore and almost gave them the state championship, as St. John's slumped badly in the later stages.

The scores of the Wisconsin team were:

Clyde A. Morley, 287; Carl J. Neess, 283; Joseph Robbins, 278; Fred E. King, 274; Captain W. A. Rorison, 270; Frank C. Durham, 269, and George H. Ross, 268. Gordon Tripp, R. H. Wangerin and C. J. Randall substituted at different stages of the match for a score of 261.

FROSH CAGERS TAKE DAILY WORKOUTS

Freshman basketball squad will practice today at 7 o'clock.

With the examination period over the freshman basketball squad is again being sent through daily workouts against the varsity cage men. Nearly all of the first year men were able to weather the exam storm and are again appearing on the court to give the varsity the much needed scrimmage. The squad of 30 men is divided into six teams and these hold practices at different times of the week. Some of the teams are sent against Meanwell's first string men to give the varsity playing practice. Of all of the teams on the first year squad the one composed of Dew, Hotchkiss, Mutcher, Eye, Behr and Nelson is playing the best ball. All of these men have had several years of high school playing, and several held all-state basketball positions.

BREAD ON THE WATERS

Once more student workers in the universities of Europe are here with their message for American students. They bring much of the old message of trial and hardship that the European student faces in order to get an education; they also bring an appeal for additional effort to see that the work does not fail.

It is hard for us to realize, with our security and smugness, that there is such a thing as starvation and disease for students in another part of the world. Unbelievable tales of deprivation and want make us shudder for an instant and then forget. A movie or a dance will erase unpleasant thoughts. But there are no movies or dances for students in Europe.

The price of a movie or a dance would pay for text books for a European student for a year. A few cents saved, possibly by walking instead of taking a street car, would furnish food for a student in Bulgaria for a week.

Wisconsin students will be called upon to make some of these simple sacrifices for the benefit of their friends in foreign countries. Wisconsin must not fail in these few sacrifices. From them come the seeds of international good will and friendship. From thoughtlessness and selfishness come the dragon's teeth of hate and war, sown by modern Jasons in quest of gold and power.

CHAMPIONS OF THE WEST

For the second time in three successive years the Wisconsin Men's glee club won the intercollegiate glee club contest of the middle west and thereby has achieved the right to represent the middle west in a national contest to be held in New York City March 7.

The facts that the club has stood so high consistently, that this year it competed against five other conference universities and six colleges of this section indicates that the organization has done some real work, something which has meant and will mean more for Wisconsin than any one can estimate.

Perhaps the victory is not heralded in bold-face banner headlines across the top of the front page of the newspapers as a football victory would be, but surely such an achievement is as significant and as important in its way as is a great athletic conquest.

The national contest is still two weeks off. But it is to be expected that this group of Wisconsin men will follow in the foot-steps of the crew and make the East fully realize the greatness of this middle-western university. The singers may not win first place, but neither did the crew and it was given a tremendous ovation which showed that it had the high admiration of the East.

And the glee club will do as well.

YOUR PART IN IT

Were one to ask the average student on the campus what or when the university exposition is, it is more than likely that he would confess to little knowledge concerning it. Even members of the faculty might be at a loss to tell or explain what it is to be. For this there is a good reason, because it is an event which comes only once in four years.

Nevertheless it is important that the constituents of the university family should inform themselves about it. Especially is it important this year, a year which seems to be the turning point, the crux for our university. Newspaper publicity will be widespread and important, but those in charge of the affair must in the last analysis depend on the student body and its ability to spread the news to the farthest corners of the state. To do this they must first inform themselves as to the nature of the exposition and its purpose.

It has been well expressed by the leaders of the show that the university is virtually to be turned inside out. But aside from this they are also anxious to help in the cleansing of Wisconsin's name; they want to show the legislature the worthwhileness of the university's work, the sorry plight of accommodations here, and the need for more appropriations in order that the work may continue to be as effectively and as efficiently carried on; they want to show the citizens of this state that those who are attacking Wisconsin do not look deep enough to see the really important and serious work being carried on here, and to show them that their money is not being sunk in a hole in the ground but is actually accomplishing some good.

The appeal is to you of the student body. You have raised a great protest at the besmudging of your university's name. Are you willing to do your part in helping to clear the air of the heavy mist, to get the slate cleaned off for a fresh start by putting this exposition across right? If you are, start now to do your part by talking it up in your letters home and put the finishing touches on it during the spring recess which ends just two days before the exposition opens its doors.

Wisconsin Should Know

RESEARCH IN THE COLLEGE OF LETTERS AND SCIENCES

President Birge's Lake Studies

Important, interesting, and standing as a fine example of earnest scientific endeavor to the student and faculty bodies of the university are the research studies conducted by President Birge himself. For 33 years the president has concerned himself with the careful study of lakes, notably Lake Mendota, and he is continuing his work even in these busy days. He plans to give his whole attention to lake research when he retires next June.

The lakes of Wisconsin constitute one of the great economic resources of the state, and they are equally one of the great sources of pleasure and happiness to the people. They have a net economic value to the state at least comparable with that of a similar area of land. While the nation and the state spend hundreds of thousands of dollars annually in the study of the problems of agriculture, the problems of lakes have been left unattended by scientific study except for that given by or at the discretion of Dr. Birge. His work has made Wisconsin preeminent among communities which have taken any active part in the study of their lakes.

Dr. Birge's studies have related chiefly to the nature and amount of the fundamental food present in lakes, the food which determines the quantity of fish which the lake can support. He has examined all the chemical, physical, and biological conditions of life in the lakes—sources of energy, temperatures, oxygen, and life cycles. His experiments have been carried on almost wholly with methods and apparatus devised in Wisconsin. They have been in every sense of the words, pioneer scientific studies in a field most important from practical and theoretical standpoints. Other states and other countries have undertaken studies modeled after Dr. Birge's work.

And so it is that the lakes of Wisconsin are recognized all over the world by biological stations and by fish commissions as among those from which is coming knowledge that is fundamental to the solution of their practical problems.

PEGASUS'S WEEKLY CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

What is a word in four letters meaning a common spring disease usually accompanied by temporary insanity? (Answer at bottom of page—if the printer is willing.)

The good old horse saw this as he flew past the Grabengrunt the other day:

OYSTERS

We are open evenings

TWO HUMOROUS MAGAZINES ON SALE THIS WEEK. THE OCTOPUS IS OUT THIS MORNING, the lit was out yesterday.

AN APPRECIATION

(A prof. has informed us that the Italians have lots of statues, and always hang them with wreaths on the birthday of the deceased.)

I like Italianos
They are so kind, by gee;
And when I've kicked the bucket
They'll hang a wreath on me.

When a woman gets too fat to get into a telephone booth, there's no use talking.

Phrederick de Phanatick

Marya Zatur—oh you know,—anyhow, her name is spelled right in the Lit this mont' for the first A. F. B. (After before Fearing.)

LAZY IS CRAZY AGAIN
The whitest eyes on earth, I know
Are yours, my heart's delight.
Are yours, my heart's delight.

We reap whatever we do sow;
The moon is drunk tonight.
The grass is green as beige can be,
A dull punk is the sky—

The sun shines on land as on the sea;

Oh hark! The sailor's sigh!

L'Envoi
As a bim my sweetie's mean;
I wish that she'd use Listerine.

ARGON THE LAZY

"What should a student derive from his college course?" screams the Lit. Argon the Lazy sez that so far he has been in college two years and he has derived five textbooks that he is unable to sell and a pair of dark circles under the eyes.

Fishfishfishfish—Why would staying away from a-a-a-a one of Sunny Pyre's claws be like a collegiate suit?

Cellarcelery—We-e-l-i.

Fishfishfishfish—English cut-haw!

Then Argon pounds this off and stalks out of the office, on his way to pull Haresfoot out of the muck of ignorance:

"La Jeunesse Perdue!" Darn it, first they raked Dartmouth over the wk coals, and now they've started on a Big Ten varsity. This has got to stop, by gar, this has got to stop.

STATE ST. WAIL
I need a haircut awful bad;
It's been just weeks since I have had

That sort of thing;
But wait—you have not heard the worst,
I can't get one 'till April first.

I'm broke, by jing!

WHEN A MAN TELLS YOU THAT HE HAS A FLOCK OF RICH AUNTS IT MAY BE RELATIVELY TRUE.

Have you seen the pickup in the number of Alpha Gam engagements? The new house is pulling, boys; get a grip on yourself; remember it was architecture that laid out Sampson. (But at that, it isn't as dangerous for bald-headed men as it was in his day.)

Answer to crossword puzzle:
LOVE

We've found, at last, the boy who should pay the lease on the Union building. He does a Haresfoot story for the Cardinal in the Octy room on Union Board's time. (And stops long enough to get Lit publicity in Rockets.)

This is the end of my story
I have no more to tell
I made some faces at the prof.
And he sent me to the dean.

With an All Star Cast
Presented at the Parkway
By J. E. L.

The luxurious splendor and opulence of American wealth again fascinates the senses with its glamorous sheen. A golden bed formed from the outspread wings of three swans and draped with silken coverlets, gowns the like of which could not be duplicated, silvery pearl baubles, a Candy ball at which even the flowers are sweet and sugary—all these were the gifts of a loving husband to his wife who cherished social supremacy. The crash comes soon enough. He is taken to prison after committing theft to please his wife's insatiable desires for what money can buy. She, however, immediately finds another husband who can better gratify them. The story ends pleasantly enough for the husband, after having served his sentence, marries the sister of his former wife and starts life again.

The touch of Cecil B. De Mille—not a particularly realistic one but interesting and masterful in its way—is evidenced throughout this screen production. Although the old theme of modern marriage and morals is used, one's interest can not fail to be held. The sets are elaborate, but beautiful. The scenery offers variations from primly culled southern gardens to the regal Alps. The cast is delightful with many stars, Laura Rich, Vera Reynolds, Theodore Kosloff, Rod La Rocque, Henry Walthal, and Julia Faye. Laura Rich proves fascinating in the role of the discontented wife. One could hardly disprove of her being so avaricious, since money was so easily obtainable. Gain say, the picture will give some amusement all.

The Beloved Chick
Carries Off Honors
on Good Orph Bill

By S. P.

The main feature at the Orph this week is good enough to make up for a dozen poor acts, but, as it happens, the whole show is good. With the exception of the last act, they are all above the standard of the past month. See the Orph this week if you don't see it again till August, for it is the best show so far this year.

"Captain Blood"
Starring J. Warren Kerrigan
Presented at the Strand

J. Warren Kerrigan, appearing at the Strand this week, in the screen adoption of Rafael Sabatini's "Captain Blood," plays his part in the bold, reckless manner typical of Sabatini's heroes. In a picture full of thrills and sea fighting, Peter Blood, as a puppet of fate, plays the part of a doctor, slave, pirate, and governor of a British colony, and in all of them displays a sort of reckless abandon worthy of a d'Artagnan of Alexandre Dumas' vivid fancy.

"Oh, Doctor!"
Starring Reginald Denny
Presented at the Madison

This comedy-drama presents the popular star, Reginald Denny, in one of his best roles. He has the part of a hypochondriac, who from his earliest days has imagined himself beset with all sorts of ailments, and who is afraid of everything. With the arrival of a pretty nurse, played by Mary Astor, the patient's outlook on life undergoes a complete reversal, and events occur rapidly.

"Her Temporary Husband"

Did you ever fall in love with a girl at first sight just because she could eat corn on the cob, and still look beautiful? And suppose she was going to marry herself off to an old fossil, wouldn't you disguise yourself as him and marry her yourself?

Tom Burton did, and the audience at the Majestic this week gets the benefit of the joke. Moreover, to judge from the amount of laughter Sunday night, it is some joke. Melvyn Hesselberg plays the part of Tom, with Oscar O'Shea, as the male nurse who becomes an accomplished liar by the end of the second act. Dixie Dow is the beautiful young lady who looks nice eating corn and whose inheritance is appreciated by a young fop, excellently played by Frank Gallagher. Incidentally, this is the last time you will be able to see these two at the Majestic. They together with two other popular members of the company are leaving Saturday. The other two are Gordon Gunniss and Madlyn Eswood. Miss Dow and Mr. Gallagher have engagements with another company which they signed when this one was about to close. Miss Eswood and Mr. Gunniss are leaving for the east.

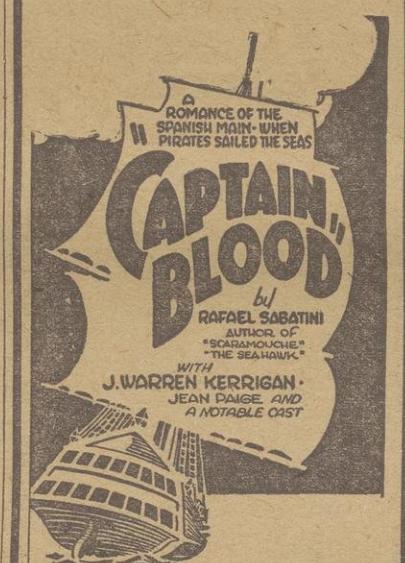

The new leading lady who is to replace Miss Dow is to arrive this week. We are told that she is Irene Homer, and that she comes with high recommendations.

Have you heard from home lately? Have you received a pleasant letter containing a card and congratulations, or have you received a very different sort of letter plus the card?

Semester reports were sent out alphabetically to parents and guardians from the Registrar's office. The cards of Agricultural and Home Economic students were sent first as they were the first to be completed. Engineering cards went yesterday, leaving only a few incomplete cases which are still to be sent.

Until this year, the registrar's office sent out all but "dropped" reports. This year all action cases are handled by the dean's office. A pamphlet explaining the grading system and a note requesting that the grades be returned to students

There are times, too, when you will grip your seat arms in suspense. When Denny is perched high aloft painting the ball on a flagpole, and the pole starts to fall . . . why some of the women actually shrieked—but the shriek ended in a laugh. COME AND SEE FOR YOURSELF!

False Press Reports of Guyer Lecture Bring Many Queries

Letters begging Prof. M. F. Guyer of the Biology department, for help, letters scoffing at his ideas are among those being received daily by him in regard to the statement that he was supposed to have made some time ago to the effect that death was avoidable. Professor Guyer, soon after the press spread the above false statement over the country, emphatically denied it, but still the letters continue to come in keeping his secretary busy answering them and telling those who ask for help that Professor Guyer has no such cure-all remedy.

In a talk on "Recent Developments in Zoology," Professor Guyer stated that tissues from a chick had been kept alive for 12 years after having been removed from the living body by placing them in certain nutritive solutions.

Religious people throughout the country have been condemning Professor Guyer as one going against the will of God. One man even warned him that he might die as a punishment from God for making such statements. Another refers Professor Guyer to a part of the Bible as a refutation of his statement.

But the most pitiful part, according to Professor Guyer has been the letters received from helpless cripples, paralytics, all manner of diseased persons, and old men and women, all anxious to get some of the wonderful cure to prolong life.

One of the most typical letters has been that from an old man of Newport, Kentucky, who asks that Professor Guyer's cure be sent at once to keep the man from becoming a hopeless cripple. The letter in part read, "I ask you in all fairness if in your opinion your chemical solution would prolong my life by rejuvenating the tissues of my body ..... to kindly inform me how to take your new formula and where and how to apply the same." Professor Guyer's secretary is now busy replying to such people in order to clear their misunderstanding of his now notorious chemical.

OCTOPUS

The Best Issue of the Year

Palm Beach, we are told, is a pile of sand entirely surrounded by orange trees and summer resorts. It is noted for grape fruit, second-term widows and it's nearness to Cuba. Palm Beach is a place where styles in bathing suits are improving yearly. Sketches of these bathing suits, occupied, as depicted in railroad and hotel advertising, have done much to increase the Palm Beach population in the past few years.

Octopus Authority

Our authority is the Palm Beach number of the OCTOPUS. It's full of these observations and bits of exclusive information. In no other publication will we find that the Everglade swamps is a place of low resort. We find here that a stranger asked for a room for three at a high class hotel.

The clerk asked him if he had a reservation, to which the stranger replied, "What do you think I am, an Indian?" In looking through the Palm Beach Number of The OCTOPUS, we find lots and lots of ladies in their shrunken bathing suits, we find a horse fastened to a Palm tree with the inscription, "An Itching Palm," we find a nine word editorial that is eloquent, a cross word puzzle that will stump the experts and prove easy to the amateur, we find an Octogravure Section that puts the Sunday supplements to shame.

At all News Stands

As for the cover, it's the prettiest the OCTOPUS has ever printed.

Lots of Laughs

And so we go through the book, skipping here and there, with each page supplying enough material to write a book. There's lots of laughs and sore sides in between the covers.

Bring your quarter along for a copy, and if you have an interested party with whom you correspond, buy a copy for him, or her, as the case might be, and it will serve for a letter.

You know it would take an hour to write a letter, and certainly your time is worth more than 25c an hour.
