VARSITY FILM TO BE SHOWN HERE MAY 11

Is Booked at Fuller With a Dancing Sketch
Prologue

On May 11, "Not Responsible," the first college film production, will make its appearance in Madison at the Fuller theater for an engagement of three days. A dancing sketch in the nature of a prologue will be presented with the picture.

Three thousand tickets will be sold to town people in order to arouse interest in the movie and all the remaining tickets will be sold to students at fifty cents. There will be four performances each day, two in the afternoon and two at night. If attendance justifies, the picture will be held over another day for a Sunday performance on May 15.

Edwin Booth Production

The Edwin Booth dramatic club is presenting the movie, which is the result of over a year's work on the part of the club and the students who were needed in the production. Willet T. Kempton '23 is production manager. The cast was selected after an extensive tryout which was open to the university, and the selection was made on the basis of acting and filming qualities. There are eleven principals and over 120 "extras" in the cast.

The cinema production is a six reel comedy drama dealing with the adventures of a student working his way through college as the result of a tilt with his wealthy father. It was the aim of the producers to make it as much a University of Wisconsin film as possible, and consequently the scenario of Elwin Hartlett '23 was selected because it had more possibilities for the depiction of university life as well as an interesting plot.

Will Issue Movie Booklet

A 20-page souvenir booklet called the Varsity Movie Review, which takes up in detail the particulars of the production is being prepared and will be sold on the campus May 10, and at the theater. Among the

STERLING TRACY '22

Sterling Tracy '22 leaves tonight for Iowa City where he will represent Wisconsin in the Northern Oratorical League contest Thursday night with an oration entitled "Britain and America in the New World."

Two months of constant preparation have put Tracy on edge for the contest which is considered the greatest intercollegiate oratorical event in America. Six mid-western universities including Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Northwestern, and Minnesota send representatives and the winners of first and second places receive $100 and $50 respectively.

Professor O'Neill will accompany Tracy to Iowa City.

SENIOR PLAY IS CHINESE DRAMA

"The Yellow Jacket" Has Been Chosen For Annual Production

"The Yellow Jacket," a three act play depicting modern Chinese life, has been selected as the production for the annual senior class play, according to an announcement made yesterday by John Bigler, chairman of the committee in charge.

The play requires a cast of 23 members, there being seven male parts and 16 roles for women. Places in the cast are open to all undergraduates, and the committee hopes to have as many seniors try out as possible.

The tryouts for the cast of "The Yellow Jacket" will be held Monday, May 9, at 4:30 and 8 o'clock in Lathrop parlors. The tryouts are in charge of Miss Gertrude Johnson, who has been obtained to coach this year's annual senior play.

HARESFOOT ELECTIONS

The Haresfoot club announces the election of Prof. O. J. Campbell, C. L. Fernberg, honorary members; Earl E. Carpenter '21, I. M. Ramsdell '24, Paul V. Gangelin '23, G. Everett Yerly '23, Hobart C. Price '23, L. Gerald Koch '23, Stanley E. Welch '22, Walter S. Kidder '23, R. N. Hawkins '21, John Mokrejs '23, Frank C. Davies '21, Philip P. Students Given Chance to Help in Saving China

Chinese students have prepared a large number of dainty souvenir cards bearing Chinese characters for "thank you" and signed with the name of the student who wrote the card. Every student who leaves $1 or more at either of the booths will receive one of these cards. Life saving stamps of the value of three cents each and representing the saving of a life for one day are on sale at the booths near South hall and Ag hall. It is hoped that many will buy these stamps and stick them on every piece of mail they send out thus giving evidence of their own interest and inspiring interest in others.

Forty-eight lives have been saved in the first day of the Chinese Famine fund campaign in the university.

The whole university is watching with keen interest the saving by Wisconsin students of the lives represented in the make-believe cemetery west of South hall. "For every $3 that comes in a headboard, the symbol of despair and death, will be replaced by an American flag, the symbol of hope," said Prof. E. A. Ross yesterday.

These 600 lives will be saved if the average student denies himself to the extent of four cents a day this week. This self denial is so trifling that it is believed that the students will actually save a thousand lives or more. Few students could not give ten cents a day this week, and if 5,000 would only do this, was should save twice as many lives as are represented by the cemetery."

The faculty canvass is almost entirely separate from the student, and it is the latter who are counted on to replace the cemetery with flags.

Fraternities are requested to send their group contributions direct to the student treasurer, Eldon Russell in care of Dean Russell.

TOSS BRINGS FIRST PLACE TO MERRICK AT EASTERN MEET

Wilder Annexes a Third in Same Pole Vault
Event

After he had tied with Gardner, Yale, for first place in the pole vault at the twenty-seventh annual Pennsylvania relay carnival at Philadelphia on Saturday, Dale Merrick '22, University of Wisconsin pole vaulter, won the toss and was awarded first place in the event. Victory in this meet virtually gives Merrick the American pole vaulting championship. He cleared the bar at 12 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Lloyd L. Wilder '21, second Wisconsin entrant in the pole vault, called the toss correctly and won third place in the event over Harvard, Harvard, and Jenne, Washington, after the trio tied for third place at 12 feet.

Merrick and Wilder split first place honors in the Conference Indoor Track meet at Evanston on March 19. Merrick won his "W" last year by taking third place in the event at the outdoor track meet at Ann Arbor, Mich., last spring. Wilder won his letter for the first time when he tied for first place in his event at the 1921 indoor track meet. He is a senior, while Merrick will have one more year of Big Ten competition.

Petitions asking for a new election on the amendments which were presented to the male students last Friday have resulted in the calling of a mass meeting to be held in the Engineering auditorium at 4:30 afternoon. At this time, the proponents and opponents of the amendments will state their views in order that the voters may have a full understanding of the issues involved.

The meeting will be opened by A. J. Fehrenbach '22 who will set forth the purpose of the meeting, and will present Dean S. H. Goodnight who will preside as mediator.

The position of the student senate on the amendments will be set forth in brief speeches by Senators Thomas Coxon '22, and Sterling Tracy '22. The opposition to the amendments will be voiced by Charles Assofsky '21, and Ralph Axley '23. George Crownhart '21,

MORTAR BOARD TO HAVE ANNUAL MAY SUPPER WEDNESDAY

Dancing Will be Provided For by "Bill" Goessling's Orchestra

Among the old traditions on the campus, is the ushering in of Mortar Board May-day supper by "Bill" Goessling and his personally selected orchestra. "Bill" and his orchestra wil not only play all the time that supper is being served but will furnish the music for the dancing which will take place after supper in the North dining room of Barnard hall. In addition to the music there will be a number of special dancing acts given while supper is being served.

Another tradition connected with Mortar Board May-day supper is for a number of the organized houses to give up their dinner hour in order that the members may attend the May-day supper.

Tickets are 60 cents and may be obtained from Helen Harper, F. 156 or at Barnard hall before the dinner.

SPANISH PLAY AT LATHROP TONIGHT

Tickets Are Still Obtainable and Cost Thirty-five Cents

Miss Minette Montgomery '21 takes the lead in the Spanish club three-act play, "The Lame Girl and the Bashful Man," which will be presented tonight at 7:30 in Lathrop concert hall.

To form a perplexing triangle a bashful man and a lovelorn cousin, played by Herman Hoffman '23 and Calvert Dredick '24, strive for the hand of the cunning heroine, who feins lameness to rid herself of her unwelcome lover. The leading characters are pervaded by Spanish vivacity.

The play is being given independently by the club, and is being coached by Elizabeth Fisher '21, one of its members. To add to the atmosphere of the play several musical numbers wil be given by a group of Philipinos, led by Carlos X. Burgos. Miss Carmen Espinosa, a member of the faculty, will give a Spanish dance.

Tickets for the play are still obtainable for 35 cents.

BERNARD'S opened last weekend, and the usual boat ride back at night was enjoyed by the usual number of people.

IF the Varsity Movie as presented does not meet with the most approval, we suggest that a viewing of the cut portions might be illuminating.

THE NOSY NEWSIE
Today's Question: Do you Fletcherize?

Bill Pickard: "I never eat anything but soup, and I drink that."

Sam Becker: "I'm dieting."

Janice Joy: "I'm losing my baby teeth right now."

William Goessling: "To dear old Dr. Fletcher I owe my great physical size, my rugged constitution, and my agile mind."

Lucille Curtis: "You're a funny man to ask me that."

AS we said previously, there isn't a great deal to say.

BESIDES we can't hope to run a humorous column that can compare to Gus Fehrenbach's and Bud Murphy's communiques, which we always read aloud to Griselda at breakfast.

SENATE MAKES INVESTIGATION OF DROWNING

City Council Also Plans Stringent Lake Ordinance

Investigation by the Student Senate on the drowning of Esther Wepking '24, Lancaster, in Lake Mendota on April 24, will be vigorously pushed this week. A special committee which was appointed shortly after the accident is conducting a searching probe into all phases of the tragedy, and definite recommendations will be made soon.

The report of the committee, of which Milton Borman '21 is chairman, will include the verified account of the accident upon which many conflicting testimonies have been given. Definite recommendations will be outlined also to remedy the present situation.

Investigation is co-operative

The Senate is investigating the investigation in co-operation with the life-saving station, Dean Scott H. Goodnight, and members of the city council. A sweeping report of the tragedy, giving the true verified account of the details and recommending changes and remedies to better the condition, will be issued as soon as possible.

While the investigation of the Senate is being conducted this week, the city council will be preparing a special ordinance which, as reported, has drastic measures embodied.

Council to Act

"All canoes should be off Madison lakes by 9 o'clock at night.

"A warning alarm system should be installed on Lake Mendota in the near future."

These are the recommendations which will be made by a special committee on navigation to the Madison common council at its next meeting. The matter was brought up Friday at a special meeting of the committee of which Alderman Thomas Quinn is chairman.

"A special meeting of the council may be called to act upon the proposed ordinance now being framed," Mayor I. M. Littleton stated yesterday. "The regular meeting, however, is scheduled for May 13."

Stringent measures are included in the proposed ordinance, some parts of which have been made public. The act would require that power boats be fitted with life preservers and fire extinguishers, that only an engineer over 18 years old be hired, and that the capacity of the boats be of certain extent. Smoking on board would be prohibited by the act.

WASHINGTON—The Knox resolution declaring peace with Germany and Austria passed the senate late Saturday by a vote of 49 to 23 was sent to the house Monday. It is not expected to be called up for a week or more as it first goes to the foreign affairs committee where efforts may be made to amend it so as to declare peace without repealing the war resolutions.

OUR REPRESENTATIVE

NEXT Thursday night at the University of Iowa the best orators of the middle West universities will compete for forensics honors in the Northern Oratorical League contest.

More sheer will-power, more nervous energy, more untiring industry on a special theme, go into the making of this contest than any other single affair, athletic, forensic, dramatic, we care not what. It is a contest which more truly represents a university and what it can do than any football team that ever won a championship, than any debating squad that ever achieved a victory. It is a contest of students, not of coaches; a contest of mind instead of muscle.

There was a time in the days of La Follette, Loeb, Olbrich, Pierce, Hill, and Reis when Wisconsin was known throughout the country by her forensic prestige. In late years oratory and debate have staged a remarkable come-back at this institution.

This year Wisconsin is indeed fortunate in her representative in the Northern Oratorical League contest. Once more we have a "Little Giant" in our midst. Sterling H. Tracy is a man of convictions; he is a speaker of power, a thinker of ability, and his oration, "America and Britain for Civilization," contains a worthy message. He has behind him a splendid record of victories in intercollegiate and point debates. He has before him, we hope, a greater victory than any of these—the winning of first place in the N. O. L. contest. Whether he loses or whether he wins, of one thing we are sure: that he will worthily represent Wisconsin, that he will fight till the last ditch.

With a little boosting and encouragement on the part of the students he should be able to make the effort of his life. Let him know that you have not forgotten about Wisconsin forensics.

EVERYBODY OUT!

STUDENT self-government is on trial at Wisconsin.

Dissatisfaction on the part of hundreds of students has manifested itself in a wave of indignation that is sweeping over the campus. Last Friday's election as regards the referendum is being questioned. Campus leaders are wondering if sufficient notice was given to the student body concerning the all important question of student representation. Was reasonable knowledge of the questions at issue widespread throughout the electorate? Have the accusations of crooked ward politics any firm foundation?

Many are answering these queries in the negative. To a reasonable man indications are to the effect that there must be a basis for the spirit of revolt that is arising in our midst.

Surely a feeling of unanimity does not exist. A mighty chasm has made its appearance which threatens to wreck a greater Wisconsin.

A meeting of all student male voters in school is to be held at the Engineering auditorium at 4:30 this afternoon. Arguments pro and con will be advanced by the opposing sides. At the time of this writing petitions calling for another election are already in circulation.

Action is imperative! Be at the meeting to help formulate the course that we must travel in order to preserve self-government at Wisconsin.

Communications

ABOUT ALECK LAMONT

Editor Daily Cardinal:

I have been following with much interest the editorials and communications appearing in this paper in regard to the tragedy which occurred on Lake Mendota, Sunday, April 23. Of particular interest have been the opinions voiced in these columns by W. T. Comstock. With the part of Mr. Comstock's sentiments relating to an investigation in order that such happenings may be prevented in the future, as far as humanly possible, I am heartily in accord.

However, in the article appearing in the Cardinal for April 29, Mr. Comstock, it seems to me, does not show a proper spirit in regard to the part taken in the rescue by Aleck Lamont. I think it highly unfair of Mr. Comstock to attempt to minimize the part of anyone, who, with apparent danger to his own safety, sought to help those in distress. Mr. Comstock makes a point of Lamont being in the employ of Captain Isabel at the time. It must be remembered that this assistance was entirely voluntary on the part of Lamont and that he was in no sense in the employ of Captain Isabel in that he was receiving money for his services.

It is my opinion that it was very courageous of Mr. Lamont, after receiving the informations of the catastrophe, to set out into the face of the gale in an "ex-rowboat" equipped with a small one-hore engine which was giving him considerable trouble at the time on account of the heavy sea, and, at the risk of sinking his own craft, carry four of the canoeists to safety.

I sincerely hope that Mr. Comstock intended to cast no reflection on Mr. Lamont for I feel that any such attitude will be very properly resented by the student body. I trust that Mr. Comstock will more clearly state his position in this regard.

C. M. ROBERTSON '21.

Editor Daily Cardinal:

I have noticed in a recent issue of the Cardinal a tendency to place the blame upon the authorities of the university for the tragedy of recent date.

As a loyal student of Wisconsin I feel it my duty to make it apparent that such a sentiment is not an exclusive one on the campus.

The alleged "student be damned attitude" of which Mr. Comstock complains has seemed to me to be very evident in the past at certain points but those who showed it are now conspicuous by their absence. Those who are responsible deserve credit for their removal. I feel that I am in a position to speak with authority on that matter as I probably spend more time at the boat house and am probably better acquainted with the conditions there than any one who has spoken to date. Any student who has work to do on boats or anything of that sort at the boat house knows that the student has no better friend than Captain Isabel or the others around the boat house.

Furthermore, canoeists are often given advice as to the regions of safety when they leave the boat house and can always obtain it by asking as I have heard some do. On the other hand they seldom pay any attention to it. This is especially true of those who know nothing of the lake.

One man to my positive knowledge, has spent most of his spare time preaching the folly of venturing far from shore and warning of the impossibility of swimming in the cold water of the lake at the present time. As a swimming coach he should have commanded some respect.

It is undoubtedly financial considerations which prevent the presence of a watch in the tower at all times and also patrol boats, etc. Possibly Mr. Comstock has heard of the difficulty of securing funds from the legislature. One man can't be everywhere at one time. Why make such perfectly obvious suggestions unless prepared to supply means for carrying them out?

As for the implied charge that the university saving "crew" is insufficient I doubt if there is any body of water as large as this lake and used by the same number of people with as good a record as this lake has, that is speaking of facts not popular beliefs. It is not very unusual to read of several drownings on the upper Milwaukee river on a Sunday where storms of wind and wave are comparatively unknown and no more people are out.

It is very hard to see a canoe from the deck of a low motor boat in rough weather as it is hidden by the waves a good share of the time. This difficulty is of course greatly magnified if you don't know exactly where to look.

A line of buoys is an impossibility. It takes three policemen in row boats at certain bathing beaches to maintain such a line a few hundred feet long for bathers.

The lake is a public highway to the use of which every one is entitled. If its use carries with it occasional accidents they must be regarded as the price to be paid for the privilege and taken in the same spirit that the occasional automobile accident is taken. They are of course regrettable and should be reduced to the lowest possible limit. In this respect I have a suggestion to make which seems to me not unreasonable.

The ability to swim is now a requirement for graduation. Why not carry it a step farther and substitute for the first semester of the required gymnasium work one of training in the fundamentals of handling a boat? This would not only make tip-overs less apt to occur but would result in the presence on the lake at all times of a large number of people with at least some qualification for a successful rescue. Not only might it result in the saving of lives on Lake Mendota but wherever Wisconsin people might find themselves on the water they would be prepared to avoid accidents or aid in rescues. The final results for safety might be very large indeed.

This would not necessitate any increase in personnel as in Coach "Dad" Vail Wisconsin has one amply qualified for the work. In conclusion let me say that while we all feel the keenest regret at loss of Miss Wepking it is not an occasion which calls for knocking the university.

THOUSANDS VIEW DRAMA GIVEN IN RUINS OF OLD CARTHAGE

Photographs show a portion of the huge crowd which watched the drama and one of the scenes from the play, "Tamyris."

A complete drama was recently staged in the ancient ruins of Carthage, located in Tunisia, which borders on the coast of Morocco, a small French possession. The ruins are of the castles erected in days of Roman conquest. Thousands of spectators viewed the play. They were seated in every nook of the huge natural amphitheater. One of the scenes from the play, "Tamyris," is shown here. It shows

Mme. Madeleine Roch, as the queen, being given the royal jewels by Mme. Fromentin, a servant. These are stolen later and then recovered in the working out of the plot of the play.

EDWIN BOOTH HAS TRYOUTS MAY 17

contemporary movements and tendencies in the theater is an asset.

The tryouts consist of a general conference between the candidate and the club as a committee of the whole. The one seeking admission must present some selection with two or three characters that give him as wide a range of interpretation as possible and that requires not more than three minutes to give. The club observes the candidate's stage appearance, vocal range, general ability and discusses with him his previous experience, information, and dramatic interests.

"What we want to inspire," said Frank Schramm, chairman, "is a real, serious interest in dramatic art for its own sake. We want to allow membership to those men who have a genuine love for the drama and an honest desire to promote its best interests in the university. This interest in the art is given much consideration in the tryouts."

"THE SPORTSMAN"

At The Theatres

AT THE GRAND

When Edward Sloman was directing the screen production of Stewart Edward White's famous novel "The Westerners," a big man swaggered up to him and applied for a part.

"What sort of a part do you think you could play in the picture?" Mr. Sloman asked him.

"The Westerners, eh?" mused the intruder. "Hum-m-m, sounds like a western picture all right; you might hand me the sheriff's job!"

"But there is no sheriff in this picture," Mr. Sloman explained.

"No sheriff! Say! What the—w-what sort of a western picture do you call it if you ain't got no sheriff?"

"The Westerners" is showing at the Grand for the last times today.

AT THE FULLER

Wallace Reid in "Excuse My Dust," one of the best pictures in which this popular star has ever appeared, and Fatty Arbuckle in "At Coney Island," are the attractions to be shown for one day only at the Fuller today. "Excuse My Dust" is a hair-raising automobile story taken from the popular Saturday Evening Post serial.

"Way Down East"

In "Way Down East" which opens a four day engagement at the Fuller Wednesday, May 4, D. W. Griffith the master producer has struck the highest note in motion picture art. This masterful production is coming to the Fuller intact from its record breaking run at the Forty-fourth street theater, New York and six months at the Auditorium and Woods theater, Chicago. An especially selected Symphony orchestra, under the able direction of Orville L. Mayhood accompanies the production. A carload of scenery and effects will also be used. Over 5,000,000 people in seven months have seen and acclaimed Griffith's new masterpiece to be by far his supreme effort and it holds the greatest thrill ever shown in the world's theatrical history. Howard Chandler Christy pronounced it "The finest production I've ever seen," Charles Dana Gibson says "It's a work of superb art," and the New York Herald says it is good enough to command $10 a seat. The cast includes Lillian Gish, Richard Barthelmess, Mrs. Morgan Belmont, the New York millionaire society woman, and a score of other well known celebrities. There will be one performance only at the Fuller, the opening night, at 8:15. Thereafter matinee, daily at 2:30 only two performances per day being given. Seats are now on sale at the Fuller box office.

AT THE STRAND

Strand theater for the last times today.

Christina was trying to help her boy cousin win the heart and hand of a certain lovely lady—at least the "kid" cousin thought she was lovely and a lady. And Adrian, a hard-headed bachelor, was trying to save his "kid" brother from the mercenary designs of the same charmer, whose specialty seemed to be vamping impressionable young men. Both Christina and Adrian go to see the much-adored vamp, and he, meeting Christina at the vamp's house, thinks she is the naughty person in the case, and kidnaps her on his yacht, intending to keep her there till baby brother has been dragged away to Europe. Larry Semon in "The Sportsman" is the added attraction.

Maurice Tourneur's "Deep Waters" and Buster Keaton in "The Haunted House" will be the attractions at the Strand Wednesday to Saturday.
