NEW PRESIDENT HIGHLY PRAISED BY PROFESSORS

Dr. Frank to Study Situation
Before Determining Plan
Of Action

"In his editorial articles in the Century magazine Dr. Frank has shown a grasp of the fundamental problems not only of higher education but of our democracy as a whole," said Prof. Willard G. Bleyer of the Course in Journalism, in speaking of the significance of a journalistic president.

"No magazine editor in recent years has presented to his readers more stimulating editorial discussions of the basic questions than has Dr. Frank. Unquestionably he ranks very high among editorial writers in this country."

"With his varied experiences he will undoubtedly bring a new point of view to the consideration of academic questions. With adequate appropriations such as are proposed by the present legislature, the university under Dr. Frank's leadership should enter upon another period of varied development such as that which began with the inauguration of Dr. Van Hise a decade ago," he concluded.

Expect Great Things

That great things are expected from the youngest president in the Big Ten, is generally expressed. The faculty joins in with their welcome and vows of cooperation.

Dean H. S. Richards, and Prof. E. A. Ross, of the law school, welcome Dr. Frank as the sort of man the administration of the university needs. The heads of other departments also were among those who welcomed the new president.

Birge Praises Successor

President Birge says of his successor, "The selection of Dr. Frank for the presidency is a fortunate omen for the future of the university. He brings to the work of a new day all sorts of new elements of strength. He brings to the position youth with its vigor and adaptability; and there also come with him modern ideas and ideals of education and social advancement. So on all sides our new president is prepared to look at our problems from a new point of view, and to lead the whole university forward so that we shall not only keep all of the gains of the past but also discover hitherto unreal-

SALE OF BUTTONS IS OPENED TODAY

Frazier Asks for Aid in Financing Expenses of Venetian Night

Venetian Night buttons were distributed to every fraternity and sorority yesterday and will be sold among the members of the groups for 25 cents each. Today in every building on the campus the buttons will be sold, at the same price. In addition this year the committee is canvassing all the Madison business men to get them to help.

"It is up to the students especially," Lincoln Frazier '26, general chairman, said last night, "to put this thing across successfully in a financial way unless we are going to have another failure on our hands this year."

The button sale is almost the only way of paying for the various expenditures of Venetian night. This is more important this year than in past years due to the fact that the Athletic board has been unable to back the event to any great extent. All the money raised by the sale of buttons goes to pay for the fireworks, electrical decorations and work, float arrangements, and prizes.

"Unlike other events and activities here we have no other means of raising this money," Frazier continued, "since no entry fee is charged for the pier or float contests, nor any admission to the event itself."

Juniors Complete Plans for Dance at Woman's Club

Final arrangements have been made for the "Junior Jangle" according to information given out by the committee this morning. Indications are from the advance sale of tickets that it will be one of the most successful of the spring parties.

"The party will be strictly informal," said Clifford Huff. "A report started around the campus that it was a formal party but this is not true."

Every junior especially is urged to attend the party. Besides being assured of a good time he will be helping to make up the Prom deficit. There will be no Union dance tonight which is an added incentive.

"ROASTMASTER" NO LONGER A SECRET

First Picture Shows Him in Full Costume of His Office

The identity of the "roastmaster" for the Gridiron banquet no longer remains a secret despite the veil of secrecy which has been surrounding the affair. Accompanying this article is the first authentic picture of him. It may be easily ascertained that he is a prominent man on the campus and that he has red hair which qualifies him for the "roasting" of which he will be in charge at the banquet. He declares he is going to say a few things which will make the hearer's ears burn. Further than that he refused to divulge his plans for the evening.

McCAFFERY ATTENDS MISSOURI CONVENTION

Maurice E. McCaffery, secretary of the regents, is attending a convention of the Association of University and College Business officers which is being held today and tomorrow at the University of Missouri at Columbia, Missouri. James D. Phillips, business manager, and Albert S. Johnson, compatriot, have also left for this convention. The association, of which Mr. Phillips is president, is composed of the business officers of colleges and universities of the Middle West. An annual convention is held to discuss and compare the business ends of university organization. Officers for the following year will also be elected.

TWO STUDENTS TAKE INVOLUNTARY PLUNGE

Late yesterday afternoon two university students, Ruben Levin C J 3 and Harry Kovenock L 2, were precipitated from their canoe into the icy waters of Lake Mendota. Captain Isabell who was out with the crew, rescued them after they had been in the water about ten minutes. The boatman at Bernards tried to rescue them, but the boats at his command were not equal to the occasion. A curious and unfortunate circumstance was that one of the men had both life preservers. They were taken to the infirmary and were reported as resting well.

STATE HIGH STARS GET IN ACTION AT MEET TOMORROW

New Records Likely to Be Made at Randall
Contests

Spectators at the interscholastic track meet tomorrow afternoon can expect to see in action some of the most outstanding track stars that Wisconsin high schools ever offered, judging by the records made by these men in the various contests which have been held throughout the state this spring.

Cincosky of Milwaukee West, Spyer of Westby, Folsom of Janesville, and others are doped to come close to record-breaking form tomorrow.

Cincosky Improves

Cincosky, star javelin thrower from Milwaukee West has been doing considerably better work than he exhibits at the Mid-west relays and he will try to break his own record established at last year's interscholastic. Leonard Gitter of the same school jumps 21 feet in the broad jump, Carney of Milwaukee Washington hurls the spear 156 feet, Edgar Ziese also from Washington high steps over the high hurdles in almost record time and his teammates, breakers of the distance medley relay records here May 2, may again form a record-breaking combination.

Of the all-around men, George Spyer of Westby, entered in class B, is probably the leader. Taking three first places in the Platteville meet he scored 15 points alone for his school, making 21 feet, 4 inches in the broad jump, and throwing the discus 110 feet. Richard Taylor of Wausau is another versatile man in the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes as is his teammate Henry Pfleiger.

Stone Fast in 100

In the 100 yard dash, Stone of Spooner will need to be reckoned with as he steps off the century in the fast time of 10 flat.

Clarence Folsom of Janesville, if in good form tomorrow, should come close to breaking the pole vault record as he has cleared the bar at 11:6 equaling the record made by Landkowski of Milwaukee Riverside in 1918.

Other good men in the different events are Buchholz of Elmwood, shot and pole vault; Miller of Janesville in the 440; Brandel of Jefferson in the quarter mile; De Long of Milton Union who hurls the discus 111 feet; Crowley of Milwaukee East, high hurdles and broad jump; Van Hart of Milwaukee East, sprinter; Kenney of Milwaukee Washington, mile, and Costello of Spooner, shot and high jump.

Maybe this rum war was started by the bootleggers so they would have a chance to boost prices.

Marine City (Mich.) girls played baseball. Score was 65 to 18. Not so bad for only five innings.

Junior Varsity and St. John's Meet at 11 o'clock Tomorrow

First Race of Season to Be Over One and One Quarter
Mile Course

Tomorrow morning will witness the first actual crew race this season when the junior varsity eight and St. John's stretch arms and backs and oars to the starter's gun at 11 o'clock.

The race has always been close, and never has the winner covered the mile and a quarter course more than a few lengths in the lead. Last year the Badgers pulled their way to a scant victory, while the year before the St. John's rowers managed to nose out the Cardinal in the last few strokes.

Badgers in Condition

The Badger crew picked for the race tomorrow is in good condition as it has been before this event in previous years, Coach Dad Vail stated yesterday.

The lake at Delafield does not curl up under a stiff wind like Lake Mendota. Coach Dean Hale is an ex-carsmen from one of the old homes of rowing, Oxford, England.

Men Are Experienced

Some of the men rowing on the junior eight have had experience earlier in the season with the first varsity, and all of them have proven their capabilities. Porter at stroke held the bow position for a while this spring in the varsity shell, and Triechel, Houdek, and Bratton, 7, 6, and 5 respectively, have also all had some workouts from time to time with the first varsity. The other men on the junior varsity are Steel, 4; Van Wagenen, 3; McCormick, 2; Denu, bow; and Hardy coxswain.

These men have been rowing smoothly together for some time and are just right for 1 1/4 mile distance. The above personnel of this eight, however, is not absolutely definite, and while it is likely to remain intact, it is nevertheless subject to change.

Two Kenosha Pastimers Injured in Racine Game

KENOSHA, Wis.—Five errors, two bad injuries to star players and only mediocre pitching brought the Kenosha Twin Sixes to a 7 to 6 downfall in an exhibition game here yesterday with the Racine Athletics.

In the fourth inning, Buster Catton, star shortstop, tore into second fast to take a throw and force Hobbs out. The impact against the sack was so great that he wrenched muscles in his right leg and was removed to a hospital for medical attention.

PHI MU ALPHA

Sinfonia, the national honorary music fraternity Phi Mu Alpha, announces the initiation of Lyle Gage, faculty member, Daniel Vornholt '26, John Mael '25, Julian Harris '26, Raymond Miller '27, Clarence Nyhus '28, and Guy Suits '27.

DOHMAN DONATES NEW MILE AWARD

Trophy is Sixth Given by Former Badger
Stars

Yesterday the sixth supremacy trophy to be awarded to Wisconsin track men was received. The donor is E. J. "Red" Dohman, famous miler of the teams of 1910-11. He is offering a shield, an exact duplicate of the other five shields that have been given this year, upon which will be placed each year the name of the man who makes the best time in the mile.

The other shields—that have been given are the Tormey trophy for the 40 yard dash which will be made Monday noon. Tomorrow will find the Alpha Tau Omega aggregation tackling the Theta Deltis on the west varsity diamond at six o'clock.

These trophies are large bronze shields with the name of the donor, the event for which it is given and a typical engraving for that sport. Below this is a large space available for the names of the winners for the next 25 years. These awards will hang in the gymnasium trophy room for years to come and make a most suitable memoir of Badger athletes of days gone by.

Holders of Wisconsin records in their respective events have been the ones to award the trophies so far and according to all reports the plan is meeting favorably among the other Wisconsin record holders so that the day is not far away when trophies will be awarded for every track and field event and every year Badger tracksters will have an additional incentive to establish new marks.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—The honor committee of Oregon college recently voted to reduce the minimum penalty from fifteen to five credits, and to make trial private instead of public.

Intramural News

Horseshoe Tournament
The all university horseshoe tournament will start Tuesday, May 26, according to an announcement issued from the intramural office yesterday. Schedules will be mailed out today and all contestants will swing into action on Tuesday.

Intercollegiate Baseball

Next week the annual intercollegiate baseball league will swing into action and teams from the various colleges in the university will clash. So far Letters and Science, Medical School and Commerce, which won the championship last year, are entered, and it is expected that within a few days the Ag school, Engineers, and Lawyers will enter. The winning team will probably be awarded their college insignia.

Interfraternity Baseball

Drawings for the championship games between the remaining teams in the running for the interfraternity baseball championship will be made Monday noon. Tomorrow will find the Alpha Tau Omega aggregation tackling the Theta Deltis on the west varsity diamond at six o'clock.

Jap Nine Beats N. Dame, 2 To 1, In Ten Inning Tilt

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—The Osaka Mainichi baseball club of Japan, opened its tour of the United States here yesterday afternoon by handing Notre Dame, a 2 to 1 defeat in a brilliant contest that went an extra inning. Sugai scored in the tenth inning for the Japs, breaking the deadlock. Score: Osaki Mainichi 000 001 000 1 2 4 1 Notre Dame .001 000 000 0 1 3 2

Zbyszko Has Little Trouble With Zaikin

CHICAGO—Stanislaus Zbyszko, oldest active grappler of the mat, who recently defeated Wayne (Big) Munn, won an easy victory over Ivan Zaikin, giant Russian wrestler, taking two easy falls in less than fifteen minutes. Zbyszko won the first fall in :09:53 with a flying mare, and the second in :05:05 with a half crotch and half Nelson.

RETURN OF SWEATERS

Basketball, track, swimming and water basketball sweaters awarded this year are to be returned to Tony Varney at the gymnasium this afternoon. They must be on hand for Varsity Night.

GOLF TEAM READY FOR PURPLE MEET HERE TOMORROW

Two Dual Meets and Conference Competition Still On Schedule

After winning their first conference match against Iowa last Saturday, the Badger golfers are looking forward to another victory over Northwestern on the local Maple Bluff course tomorrow.

The singles will be played off at 9 o'clock and the doubles at 2 o'clock. A gallery of spectators is allowed on the links, according to Coach Steinauer and the players expect that many university men interested in golfing will turn out. At Iowa nearly 100 spectators followed the teams over the links.

Capt. R. T. Porter, A. B. Bock, Val Guenther and Daniel Head will make up the team Saturday with Treth, Long, and Solbræa as substitutes. Richard Skaer, captain; Don Heppes, Joe Larson, and Heine Schulze comprise the Purple squad.

Wisconsin has a strong golfing team this year, the men having defeated Marquette 21-3, Iowa 14-7, and four of the best Madison golfers 17-7.

Chicago will be met here May 29; Marquette at Milwaukee June 6, and the conference competition is set for June 16-19, inclusive.

Purple Nine Bows

To Maroons, 10-3

CHICAGO—Northwestern university dropped a 10 to 3 Big Ten game to the University of Chicago, yesterday at Evanston.

The Maroons sewed up the battle in the fifth inning when five runs resulted from five hits, an error and a walk. The Purple hitters were helpless in the pinches. Score: Chicago 0 0 1 0 5 1 2 0 1—10 Northwestern 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1—3

BADGER TRACKMEN ENCOUNTER GOPHER RUNNERS AT RANDALL TODAY IN LAST 1925 HOME MEET

Nine Badgers Will Make Last Appearance on Camp Randall Track

BY SPIKE

"Varsity Out" that is the cry that rang out over the student section when the sterling squad of Badger tracksters left for the sunny lands of California in April and that is the cry that will echo over the campus today as the men and women of Wisconsin turn out to watch their track team the best in the Big Ten compete against their ancient rivals, the Gophers from the University of Minnesota.

This is the only home meet on the Wisconsin schedule and those who fail to see the meet this afternoon will lose the opportunity of seeing the 1925-cinderpath team in action. The team has two more meets on foreign fields, the toughest battles of the season; the dual meet with Michigan and the conference meet at Ohio. All they need is the backing of the student body at Randall field this afternoon to give them that old fight to carry through to victory during the rest of the season.

New 220 Ready

When the final event is over and the two teams leave the field it will be the last appearance in a Cardinal uniform on the home track for nine Wisconsin track men who have worn the spiked shoe for Wisconsin for three long years. Captain Valley, Piper, Perry, Tuhtar, Hill, Hilberts, Flueck, Tressler and Aler are the seniors who compete in their last event in the local stadium.

With the completion of the new 220 straight away some of the present Wisconsin marks are likely to fall. Kennedy, Hill, Hilberts or Flueck in the 440; McAndrews, Francis and O'Brien in the 220 and McGiveran, Roberts and Jirtle in the 220 low hurdles will run over the new track for the first time and stand a good chance of setting up some new times.

Flueck Is Out

Prior to this time all men who ran in these races had to run around one or more turns but now all the 220 races will be run on a straight track while the quarter milers will run around only one turn thus cutting off a second or fraction thereof of the best time that could be made on the old curved 220 tracks.

All of the team are in the best of shape for the meet today with the exception of Herb Flueck, crack varsity quarter miler, who pulled a tendon in his leg in practice this week and will be out of today's meet. By resting up today Coach Jones hopes that his star performer will be back in harness in time for the Michigan and conference meets.

New Men Will Run

In addition to the regular performers Coach Jones has picked some new material to run against the Gophers. O'Brien will compete for the first time for Wisconsin when he steps off the 220; Fox and Hestwood will make their first appearance in the pole vault, and O'Neill will high jump in his initial conference outdoor meet today.

A net loss of $288.64 on the last Homecoming will be assumed by the Athletic department in as much as it has received the proceeds in previous profitable years, according to a statement issued by Alfred W. Expenditures amounted to $1,131.23 for the bonfire, decorations, publicity and special features. "We do not believe that the management of Homecoming was in any way at fault," Peterson said.

Weather Man Gives Us Promise of Rain For Venetian Night

The ever threatening weather man, cold and unrelenting individual that he is, has again resorted to shattering the hopes for a big sporting event.

Weather forecasts for Saturday, when nearly 900 athletes will compete for State Interscholastic honors and the day of the traditional Venetian night festivity, is: Fair weather probably Friday, followed by unsettled weather, with showers by Saturday. Moderate temperature.

If the forecast materializes, and the weather bureau asserts that the chances are very good for rain Saturday and a fair south wind, all the colorful decorating on the piers will be ruined and possibilities of new records, keen competition and good races in the 31st annual state Interscholastic track meet are spoiled.

But once we saw the "fair" weather flag on the North Hall mast; suddenly the sky became overcast and rain threatened; and what happened went the "rain" signal!! Some 2,000 years ago Aesop said, "Hopes!!"

Illinois Loses To Ohio State By 8-0 Count

COLUMBUS, O.—With Kinderman playing left field instead of pitching, Ohio State beat Illinois, 8 to 0, in the second game between the two teams within five days. Capt. Miller of the home team was effective, yielding only three hits and permitting only one runner to get beyond first base. Until the eighth, the Bucks touched Barta for only one hit, which came after two were gone in the fifth. The win kept the Buckeyes in first place in the Western conference.

VARSITY NIGHT

Tonight one of Wisconsin's oldest traditions is going up in smoke. Two years ago the annual Cap night was given a new interpretation and a new name when the wearing of the green cap was made a voluntary matter with the members of the freshman class and Cap night became Varsity night. This name suggested a deeper sentiment, perhaps, than the old Cap night. The voluntary wearing of the green was more honorable than compulsory enforcement by the upperclassmen, at least so it was said.

But tonight the affair on the lower campus will probably be a far cry from the Cap night of old. There will be no casting of green lids into the fire, for very few of the frosh caps are even worn on the campus this year. Instead, there will be an official welcome of the freshman into the student body. But will there be much significance attached to the event? Will the attempt at a snake dance about the fire replace the traditional burning of green caps, after weeks of intermittent hazing? The Daily Cardinal certainly does not sponsor a return of the old caveman tactics, but the poor spirit displayed in the voluntary wearing of the green is very evident to the campus.

Many old traditions have been discarded at Wisconsin in recent years, and new ones have been created, supposedly, by official mandates from the Student senate. Curiously enough the new ones have not enjoyed the popularity of the old, and much has been taken from Wisconsin life as a result. A return to the old order of things would be welcomed by many upperclassmen, for they are in a position to judge the significance of the old order and the new.

Varsity night represents the new regime. Perhaps it has come about through a very natural evolution; perhaps it is more sane and has a deeper significance than the old Cap night. But will the old appeal be there tonight, or will another Wisconsin tradition have gone up in smoke.

ADVISORS AND ELIGIBILITY

The publication of the interpretation of the eligibility ruling as conceived and enforced by the deans calls attention to the apparent inefficiency and inadequate application of the existing advisory system. When ineligible students are alleged to be unable to participate in any student activity whether credit is given to the individual or not.

Heretofore, this rule has not always been observed. Students were not sure that the deans meant what they said, and at times they have continued their activities—at times under an assumed name and at other times under no name at all. But recently it seems that the applicability of the regulation has been tested and not found wanting. The blame for this non-observance does not lie altogether at the feet of the students, by any means. Many of the student advisors are at fault.

The freshman and sophomore years particularly should be the time when undergraduates are acquainted with the forms of university regulations. Rarely are students impressed with the significance of all the rules. To be sure, the fault is often theirs for not reading orders carefully, but students, as well as other human, and therefore faulty, individuals need a certain amount of priming.

This priming process is altogether lacking in the present advisory system. There is little intimate contact or understanding between an advisor and his advisee. Seniors end their college course apparently, and find that they have missed certain requirements. Undergraduates are censored and even fined eight credits or more for non-observance of certain rulings. These instances are but a few which bear witness to the laxity which characterizes the university's advisory system.

Who Will Run the Union?

By John Dollard

Perhaps the most important thing about the Memorial Union will be the way in which it is run. It will stand or fall on that issue. If it belongs finally and absolutely to the students, is a part of their machinery and their thinking, it will succeed. Past experience of other Unions has told us so much definitely.

There must, of course, be financial guidance and continuity of experience in the management which can be provided through a permanent financial advisor, and a board of faculty, students and alumni, but the vast body of the work and of the decisions which must be made, should be made and carried out by students. Students have repeatedly proven their ability to manage such an enterprise with the tolerant counsel of men of greater experience.

A tentative program has been worked out at Wisconsin which has much in common with the method which is now used at the University of Toronto to manage their Union, the Hart House. The center of the organization will, of course, be the Union Board. Probably not the Union Board as we now know it, but a Board which has been expanded to make it more representative and better able to undertake its increased responsibilities. One method of expansion would be that of selecting representatives by colleges and classes rather than by classes alone, and by having on the larger board an executive committee which would perform the executive functions of the present board. From the board itself might be selected chairmen of committees to manage the various activities of the Union such as the billiard committee, the theater committee, the rules committee, the dance committee, etc. The membership of the committees might come from the interested activities and from faculty and alumni. Probably one faculty man or alumnus would sit on each student committee as an advisor.

Beside this there should be a permanent manager or secretary whose duty it would be to coordinate various of the social activities in the building and maintain a continuity in its financial management. He will probably live in the building and act as its host. A plan similar to this has worked out excellently at the Hart House. The manager would of course have a staff or clerks and accountants to handle the routine side of the finances.

The financial board responsible for the building might be a joint board including several students, from the Union Board, several interested members of the faculty, and several alumni members. This board would employ the secretary and his staff and be responsible to the regents for the financial success of the project.

Since the fundamental aspect of the Union is that of a men's club, run for, of, and by the students, it will be proper to ask from each member of the Union a small sum in dues each semester for his club house. This has been necessary in every large Union in the country, and will probably be so here. In fact the present board through its president has already made that request of the regents. This income with that of certain of the activities in the building is expected to make it self-supporting.

Tonight's the night! First, the interfraternity sing, then the Varsity night ceremony on the lower campus, and after that—

Glenn Frank, the new president-elect of the university, concluded his message of acceptance with these words: "Until I have come to know the facts, therefore, my duty is silence," but he gives an indication of his future policy in suggesting that a president who enhances and expands the traditions of sound scholarship and service to the commonwealth will be happy in his position. His duty may be silence, but his policy seems to be one of action.

ASSEMBLY PASSES BUDGET 82 TO 7

$8,500,000 Appropriation for University and Normals Goes to Governor

The University of Wisconsin and state normal schools appropriation bills went through the assembly today in the form in which they passed the senate and now go to the governor. The university bill was concurred in, 82 to 7, and the normal school measure, 68 to 22.

The university bill carries approximately $7,000,000 for operation and $1,500,000 for building during the biennium. The normal bill appropriates $4,000,000 for operation and $550,000 for buildings.

Most of the fight centered on the normal measure, but efforts to change it were futile. The assembly rejected an amendment by Assemblyman Gwidt to add $300,000 for establishment of a school at Rhinelander, an amendment by Assemblyman Goodman, Argyle, to require tuition fees of at least $65 annually and another by Assemblyman Cushman, Viola, eliminating the $550,000 for capital improvements at Oshkosh, Stevens Point and River Falls.

An effort by Assemblyman Math Koenigs, Fond du Lac, to require a $65 resident tuition fee at the state university likewise was defeated, 54 to 28.

Both appropriation bills were up for third reading today, but were placed on final passage under suspension of the rules. All bills passed and concurred in were immediately messaged to the senate with unanimous consent, so there can be no motions for reconsideration.

The seven members voting against the university appropriation bill were: Dieringer, Goodman, Gwidt, Kiesner, Matt Koenigs, Nelson, and Swanson.

Plan New Exhibits in Museum During Mothers' Weekend

Three new exhibits will be on display at the museum of the State Historical Library during Mothers' week-end, including a new exhibit given by Mrs. M. S. Slaughter of Latin books and manuscripts, a $5,000 collection of old pottery, and 4 water color paintings, according to Robert H. Snyder '26 who is in charge.

The new exhibit given by Mrs. Slaughter consists of three cases of books and manuscripts in Latin. The collection of old pottery of the cliff-dwelling Indians of the southwest is valued at $5,000, and is said to be one of the finest collections in the northwest. "These two exhibits have been recently added and will be of unusual interest," Snyder said.

An exhibition of water color paintings by the "Group of Six," prominent eastern artists, is being displayed by the Madison Art association. "Clear Air," "The Blue Tree," "On the Road to Acton," and "Rabbit Tracks" are among the ten paintings by John Coss, Harley Perkins' "Sun and Wind," "Vermont Hills," and "Rock Piles" are on display. "Coming Tide," "Crest," and "Old Birch" are among the 10 pictures by Carl Gordon Cutler. Charles Hopkinson's "Autumn Afternoon," and "Stranded"; Charles Hovey Peppers' "Frosty Morning," and "Black Day on the Lake," and Marion Monks Chase's "Still Life," and "Rocks," are among the collection.

In accordance with the vote of present members plans will be made to make the chaperon club a permanent organization. Any Greek house mother by virtue of her office is eligible to membership.

the Brilliant New Chalk Shades for Summer

Bishop's Purple, long associated with dignity and maturity, has been adopted by youth—who wears it gayly. In the new chalk shade, it has a soft, clear brilliance that makes it equally becoming to blondes and brunettes. It brings out the gypsy-coloring of the blonde; and it makes the complexion of the blonde whiter and clearer. Gray eyes become blue above this surprising color—and blue eyes, pansy-colored.

This new color finds its loveliest expression in a soft ombre chiffon, 40 inches wide, which sells at $3.85 a yard.

Indigo Blue, a radiant shade that suggests the vividness of stained glass windows in dim cathedrals; a new, clear, bright sunlit red; the fresh, vivid green of Spring; and the golden yellow of sunlight are some of the chalk shades that are particularly interesting. In French Crepe, 40 inches wide, $3 a yard.

CONGRESS ASKED TO RUN ST. PAUL

Assembly Adopts Resolution Asking U. S. Control of Milwaukee Road

The assembly Thursday adopted a joint resolution by Assemblyman Frank Weber, Milwaukee, memorializing congress to enact legislation to operate the bankrupt Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road. It now goes to the senate.

A bill by Assemblyman Holly making an appropriation of $10,000 to the college of agriculture for reporting the cost of production of farm products was killed, 41 to 38, after attempts by Assemblyman Holly and Edwards to have the bill approved. Dettinger, Goodman and Caldwell opposed the bill.

The Staab bill, providing for the licensing of animal acts in theaters, was killed after the house has refused to lay consideration over until Wednesday.

National prohibition of oleomargarine is sought by Anton Holly, Kewaunee assemblyman, author of the bill to prohibit the manufacture and sale of the butter substitute in Wisconsin, pending in the state senate. He introduced today a resolution memorializing congress to enact legislation prohibiting the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine anywhere in the U. S., declaring it was detrimental to the agricultural industry generally.

Assembly O. K.'s Move

To Hasten Adjournment

In an effort to hasten final adjournment, the assembly today adopted a resolution by August Beversdorff, Shawano, providing that committed hearings shall be discontinued after next Saturday and that all bills not reported out of committee by next Wednesday shall be referred to the calendar for action on the floor. In view of the senate having taken a similar step recently, concurrence in the assembly proposal is expected.

When money talks too much it tells a lot of secrets.

CIGARETTE BILL IS KILLED BY SENATE

Measure Proposed by Gwidt Lost After Hard Fight

The senate last night killed the Gwidt cigarette tax bill by a vote of 18 to 11, after an amendment by Sen. Howard Teasdale, Sparta, appropriating $100,000 for forest fires prevention from the proceeds of the tax had been incorporated in the bill. Nonconcurrence was then moved by Sen. John C. Schuman, Waukesha.

Roll call on cigarette tax bill:
For non-concurrence—Bilgrien, Boldt, Chase, Daggett, Englund, Garey, Gettelman, Heck, Johnson, Mehigan, Morris, Polakowski, Quick, Schumann, Severson, Staudenmayer, Titus, White—18.

Against—Barber, Carroll, Cashman, Casperson, Hull, Hunt, Kemp, Keppel, Lange, Smith, Teasdale—11.

Absent and not voting—Barker, Padway, Rothe, Sauthoff—4.

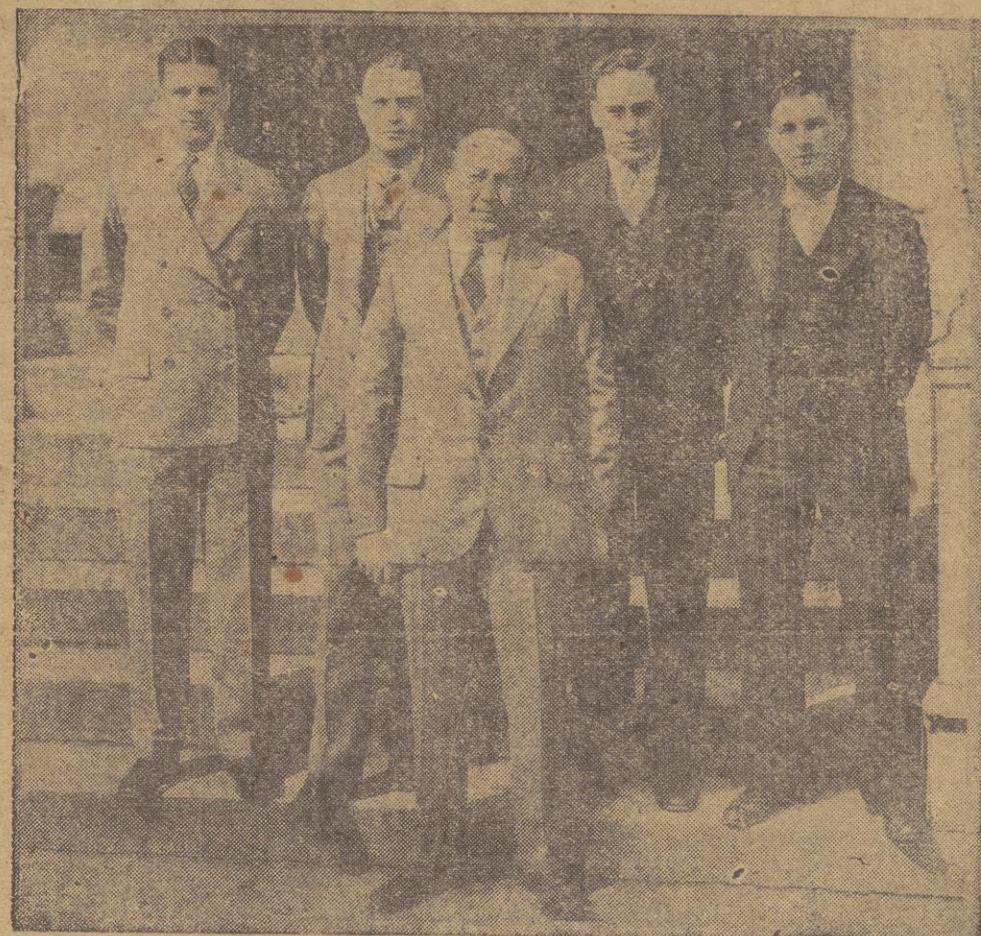

A strenuous fight was waged to save the Gwidt cigarette tax bill from defeat by administration senators joined with conservatives and effected non-concurrence. The roll call disclosed only seven progressives voting against nonconcurrence.

In spite of suggestions from Sen. Alva E. Garey, administration floor leader, that Gov. Blaine could do nothing else but veto the bill because it would work a treasury depletion, the state senate last night by a vote of 18 to 11 passed on to the executive the A. S. Smith assembly bill to turn all of the share of the state from inheritance tax collections into a common school fund.

"If this bill were to become law," Sen. Garey asserted, "it would mean that the treasury would be diminished by a like sum which would have to be raised by another tax bill."

The estimated revenue from inheritance tax is more than two million dollars annually.

Variety of Films is Feature of Program at Local Theaters

By H. E. R.

Movie fans will find a great variety of pictures next week, according to the schedule mapped out by the theaters.

The Strand is opening the week with the much-heralded western melodrama, "The Great Divide". This picture contains several well-known stars, such as Alice Terry, Conway Tearle, and Wallace Beery, and is said to be one of the best of the land-of-the-cowboy pictures that have been shown here this year. On Wednesday, Lewis Stone, Florence Vidor, and Lew Cody will take over the screen with their picture, "Husbands and Lovers". Then on Friday and Saturday "Playing With Souls", a melodrama with Jacqueline Logan, Mary Astor, Clive Brooks, and Euster Collier will be the main feature.

At the Parkway Thomas Meighan and Lila Lee will be with us again, this time in "Old Home Week".

We saw Tom quite a while ago in "Back Home and Broke", and almost confused the two. Don't make the same mistake. Mr. Brown, manager of the Parkway, says that this is even better. For the latter half of the week, Conway Tearle and Madge Kennedy are booked to spread around a little joy in "Bad Company".

The high light of this show is that Earl Carroll's "Vanity" chorus is one of the main features.

By the way, don't forget that next week at the Parkway is University Horse Show Benefit week, and the losses incurred during the last horse show will be made up by your attendance from tickets purchased from the solicitors that will be around shortly.

Tom Mix and Tony, his wonder horse, are to be main features at the Madison the first part of the week in "The Last of the Duanes", adapted from Zane Grey's great novel by the same name. For the latter half of the week Agnes Ayres is booked in "Her Market Value", one of the social melodramas in which it can be seen that it's the woman that pays, and pays, and pays.

The Majestic is starting and ending the week with a couple of Westerners. Fred Thompson and Silver King, his horse, are starting the week in the picture "That Devil

Quemado". For the center attraction "Let Women Alone", with a cast including Wanda Hawley, Pat O'Malley, and Wallace Beery is booked, and then Buck Jones will finish the week in "The Desert Outlaw", another "wild" and "wooley".

At the Orpheum will be a return engagement of the comedy play "Getting Gertie's Garter", by Avery Hopwood. The play deals with a missing garter, and naturally a search has to be made. Form your own conclusions.

And that's that.

The winning stock company playing at the Orpheum has been much improved by the addition to its ranks of four old Madison favorites, Mae Ray, Jack Cenley and Mr. and Mrs. Mac Farland. Madison theater fans are glad to see them back on the local boards.

Another good addition to the company is McCaffery of Madison and a graduate of the university who has appeared frequently in campus productions during the last half dozen years.

We certainly have had a great series of mystery plays during the last half decade. In fact, the popularity of mystery plays is one of the features of present theatrical tendencies. Sex plays aren't in with them. And "Whispering Wires" is a good representative of these thrillers.

Have you heard that George Jean Nathan, the prodigy who acts as critic for Judge, has recently married Lillian Gish?

Just why Will Hayes hesitates to allow Margaret Kennedy's "The Constant Nymph" to be picturized is more than I can say. As far as the book is concerned, it can be objectionable to only the most Zincky souls. Personally I should like to see Lenore Ulric go through with it, even though it will mean her leaving Belasco.

They say that it is well nigh impossible to secure tickets for "The Student Prince" in Chicago less than a week in advance. Strange how a musical play—and not a revue or musical comedy, should be so popular.

A great many encouraging words have come to me about the matter of establishing a permanent little theater company here. When the La Vern people leave the last of this summer, as they usually do, if they do, Madison will be left without its new favorite diversion—stock.

So many Madisonians have come to prefer stock to movies that it looks as though things were going to go over well.

MOTHERS ACCEPT MANY INVITATIONS

Committee Plans to Accommodate 1,000 People at Banquet

That mothers of Wisconsin students are responding wholeheartedly to the invitations for the week-end of May 29, 30, and 31 that were sent out to mothers all over the world is affirmed by the number of acceptances already received according to Dorothy Strauss '26, co-chairman of Mothers' wee-end.

Only five regrets have been returned, and over 300 mothers have sent their reservations for the mother-daughter and mother-son that is to be held in the Men's gymnasium on the evening of May 30.

The committee is planning accommodations for 1,000 persons for the banquet, but a larger number of mothers are expected for the week-end. The 6,500 invitations that were sent from the office of the president last week went to mothers in Mexico, Porto Rico, Philippine Islands, China, Russia to every state in the United States, and to almost every city and community in Wisconsin.
