Will Elect Student Judges Next Friday

Election of student judges for the Student Court will take place next Friday, May 26, from 9 in the morning until 4:30 in the afternoon. Booths will be located in the various buildings which serve as headquarters for the different colleges.

Letters and Science, Commerce, and Engineering will each elect one sophomore judge, and Law, Medicine, and Ag will each elect one judge, either a sophomore or junior.

This election is the culmination of the referendum passed last fall, providing for the reestablishment of the student court. This referendum calls for the nomination of five juniors and five sophomores by the deans of the respective colleges. The judges are elected by the vote of junior and sophomore men, each college voting for its own representative or representatives.

RUFF NEW PRESIDENT OF THETA SIGMA PHI

Marjorie Ruff '23 was elected president of Theta Sigma Phi honorary women's journalistic sorority, yesterday noon at a meeting held in the Union building. Other officers for next year are: Josephine Walters '23, vice-president; Portia B. Lugoff '23, secretary; Helen Smallshaw '23, treasurer; and Mary James '23, keeper of the archives.

At a meeting tomorrow at 4:30 at Journalism house, members will discuss plans for the sorority for next year, and a set of resolutions will be drawn up.

LOWER PRICE OF DAILY CARDINAL

The subscription price of The Daily Cardinal has been lowered from $3.50 to $3 for next year in order that the paper will be available to a larger group of students, according to reports from the Cardinal Board of Control and the business manager.

"The new rate was decided upon after a comparison of the subscription rates of the Cardinal with seven other university papers in different sections of the country," said Rollin E. Ecke '22, business manager.

"It was found that the subscription rate was approximately 50 cents higher than the average of these, and that the rates were lower and advertising space was smaller. By lowering the subscription price to $3 it is hoped to secure a considerable increase in the number of subscriptions next fall."

SELECT WATER PARADE JUDGES

Roe, Dykema, and Varnum Will Select Best Venetian Floats

Dean Frederick W. Roe, Prof. P. W. Dykema, and Prof. W. H. Varnum will be the judges of the pier and float decorations and of the best orchestra. Saturday night, when the annual Venetian Night program is presented. They will watch the line of floats from the university boat house and will later be taken in a launch to judge the pier decorations.

More than 12 entries have already been made in the parade and, according to indications, the number of floats entering will be about 20. Last year there were less than ten entries.

Decorate all Piers

Competition is expected to be strong among the various orchestras since this plan of awarding a prize for music is an innovation with this year's events. All of the piers along Mendota's shore, from the university boat house to the Chi Psi house, will be decorated.

Dean S. H. Goodnight has requested that no organization use any of the flowers, trees, or bushes on the campus or university drive for decorating purposes. A heavy fine will be imposed upon violators. Organizations which desire information on securing decorations may get it by calling Ralph E. Hawks at F. 200.

Band Will Play

The five silver cups to be given as prizes are to be on display at the university pharmacy Thursday. Two prizes are offered for pier and float decorations, and one for the best orchestra.

Fancy diving and swimming under the direction of "Bill" Collins, captain of the varsity team, will be a part of the evening's events. This will take place on the Kappa Sigma and Sigma Chi piers at the foot of Lake street.

The entire evening's program is as follows: 7:15 to 8:15—First Regimental band concert; 8:15 to 8:45, special feature swimming and diving; 8:45, annual Venetian Night water parade begins at the hydraulics laboratory; 9:15, judge's decision.

RUSSELL WILL TALK ON FUTURE OF DAIRYING

Dean Russell of the College of Agriculture will speak on "The Future of Dairying" tonight at 7:30 in the Dairy building lecture room, under the auspices of the Babcock Dairy Science club.

Election of officers will take place after the talk.

MANY ENTRIES IN SATURDAY'S WATER EVENTS

Madison Merchants Give Prizes For Novelty Venetian Carnival

More than twenty entries for the novelty water events which will be held Saturday morning as an entertainment feature of the 28th annual Interscholastic Track and Field meet have already been registered with Merritt Giles '22, chairman of the race committee.

The events as determined upon by the committee yesterday will consist of a men's single championship race, a girls' double, and four novelty races. In the novelty program there will be a bow-up race, standing doubles, paddleless races, and a hurry-scurry. Sail boat races open to boats of all classes will also be held.

Prizes for each event have been donated by Madison merchants. Pietri's sporting goods store will give a canoe paddle to the winner of the men's single championship race. The first prize in the novelty events will be a back rest for a canoe given by the Co-op. The second prize is a pipe given by Morgan's. The Candy Shop will give a box of candy "of satisfying size," to the winner of the girls' doubles. The prizes for the sail boat races have not been announced.

The following persons have signed up to enter the canoe events: Robert H. Flarsheim, Williard B. Deutsch, Everett M. Bridge, Frederick Pabst, Rudolph Pabst, George B. Hazen, David Rowland, Joseph Moulding, Robert D. Casterline, Russell P. Jones, Walling Fox, Tom Coxon, Edwin Blatter, Frederick J. Ellison.

Entries in the sailing events are: George B. Hazen, Reinhold H. Raube, Earl Hanson, H. Leifert, John A. Eldridge, A. Banford.

The canoe races will start promptly at 9:30 Saturday morning and will precede the Varsity crew races. They will be held on a circular course just off the boat house. Joe Steinauer will act as judge. Anyone desiring to enter the races may sign up at the boat house.

SENIOR TICKETS NOT YET READY FOR SALE

Tickets for commencement are not available at the office of the Secretary of the Faculty, as was announced in the Cardinal yesterday.

Y. M. C. A. TO HAVE ROOMS FOR SENIORS

The university Y. M. C. A. is planning to have rooms available for seniors, in order to accommodate their parents and friends who will be here for commencement this June.

STUDENT ELECTION

The name of George L. Geiger, a junior nominee for student judge from the college of Letters and Science, was erroneously omitted from the report Sunday.

The name printed as Cecil Bull should have been Cecil Dull.

All candidates should deposit $1 with the office of the Dean of Men immediately.

BADGERS BEAT MAROONS, 9-6, IN SLOW GAME

Chicago Gathers 14 Hits But Loses Chances to Score

OPPONENTS STAGE RALLY

(Special to the Daily Cardinal.)

CHICAGO, Ill., May 23.—Although outhit by Chicago, 14-9, the Wisconsin baseball team defeated the Maroon in a loosely played game here today. The final score was 9 to 6, with Coach Lowman's men on the long end.

Christianson was hit hard but he was effective in the pinches and held Chicago scoreless from the second inning until the seventh.

"Christy" struck out six men while Dixon, his opponent on the mound, whiffed five.

Barry laced out three hits; Rollie Williams was credited with two safe bingles. Dixon, Chicago's pitching ace, starred at the bat with four clean hits. McGuire, Barnes and Curtis got two apiece.

Chicago got the jump in the first inning by scoring one run. The Badgers came back in their half of the second and took a one run lead. They scored four more in the third and two in the fourth, while the Maroons were unable to push their men beyond third base.

Chicago threatened in the seventh inning with their tally, failed to score in the eighth, and made a game four run rally in the ninth, but was unable to overcome the lead amassed by Coach Lowman's men in the early innings.

LINE OF MARCH FOR SWING-OUT IS DETERMINED

Seniors Meet on Walks Around North and South Halls

The meeting places and the line of march of all the classes for Senior Swing-out were announced yesterday by Elizabeth Kirk '23, general chairman.

At 6:15, Friday, May 26, the seniors, in cap and gown, will meet on each side of the campus at the walks by North and South halls. The freshmen will form behind them at the South hall entrance, and the sophomores will start from the North hall entrance. The juniors will meet at the main entrance of Bascom hall. They then take the daisy chain and march down the North and South entrances.

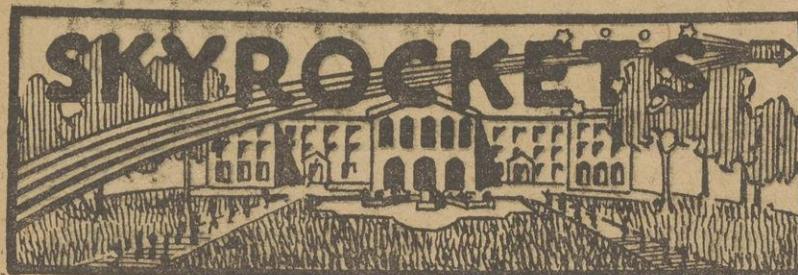

The seniors enter from each side of the campus, march down each side and meet below the brow of the hill, form couples and march back up through the arch and between two rows of juniors holding the daisy chain. One line of seniors will be led by Dean F. Louise Nardin, and the other by Ima Winchell, president of Blue Dragon.

The seniors and Miss Nardin march up in front of the band, which is stationed on the terrace by the Lincoln statue, and sit down. The juniors not carrying the daisy chain fall in on each side. The freshmen come up on the south side and the sophomores on the north.

The Maypole dance by the sophomores, in charge of Irene Clayton '23, is first on the program. The Girls' Glee club will then render two selections, and this is followed by the new Mortor Board announcements made by Marion Strassberger '22, president of Mortor Board.

The torch of knowledge is then passed by the old Blue Dragon, Ima

State Street Has "Too Darn Many Cafeteria Places"

Two more places to eat and another place to shine our shoes! Slim chance of our getting hungry or lacking a shoe shine. "The Campus" restaurant and cafeteria at 716 State street off the lower campus is being built by Pfeifer and Grosshuesch.

A picture of the girl selected as the most beautiful at Wisconsin, will appear on the frontispiece of the June issue of the Commerce magazine which will be placed on sale tomorrow morning.

"The Beautiful and—" is the title of the article giving the results of the beauty and popularity contest conducted by the magazine early in the month. More than one thousand voted on the most beautiful and most popular girl, the most handsome man and the most popular man, and the most popular professor. The ten highest names are given in each case.

As a rebuttal to "Gilded Peacock," an article in the last issue of the magazine, is "Mere Man," which contains nearly 100 quotations taken from a questionnaire circulated among the men students. The article reveals the rating of women students in the minds of the men.

Chiropractic Leader Winner Of Golden Rule Medal

The committee appointed by Napoleon Hill's Magazine has awarded the Napoleon Hill Golden Rule Medal to Dr. B. J. Falmer, head of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, of Davenport, Iowa.

The medal is the first of a series that will be awarded to those who are rendering the greatest service to humanity based upon the Golden Rule. The purpose of the award is to popularize the application of the Golden Rule to business.

The decision to award the medal to Dr. Falmer was based largely on the number of votes he received. He led the other three chief candidates by more than 150,000 votes.

Woodrow Wilson ran second to Dr. Falmer and then followed Harriet Luella McCollum, the lecturer on Applied Psychology.

The Gold Medal was designed by the well-known sculptor, Adolph Wolff. On one side were the words: "The Greatest Among Ye Shall be the Servant of All." On the reverse side, "B. J. of Davenport, for Serving the World through Chiropractic."

Dr. Falmer's popularity was due to the spread of Chiropractic which was discovered by his father, D. D. Palmer, and developed by himself. Doctors of Chiropractic and their patients from all over America and from many foreign countries literally bombarded the editor of Napoleon Hill's Magazine with telegrams, letters and special petitions, requesting that Mr. Palmer be awarded the first medal.

Helen Hovde May Be Permanently Disfigured;
Car Turns Turtle

Miss Helen Hovde, 20, university student of Des Moines, is in serious condition at St. Mary's hospital this morning, and Miss Marguerite Sherwood, 22, Chicago, is suffering from a broken knee as a result of an automobile crash on the Verona road, one mile south of Verona, yesterday afternoon.

The two girls were driving along the rough road when the car skidded, turned turtle three times and pinned its occupants beneath the car. Miss Hovde, who was driving the light racer, suffered severe lacerations about the face, her lower lip being torn to the jaw bone, her nose was broken. Miss Sherwood escaped with only a broken knee. The girls were rushed to Verona by autoists who witnessed the crash and Miss Hovde was cared for by a Verona doctor. She failed to gain consciousness until 8 o'clock last night, following an operation on her face by Dr. Joseph Dean, at St. Mary's hospital where she was later taken by the city ambulance.

Miss Hovde is a junior in the university; Miss Sherwood is a freshman. The racing car which carried its occupants to near destruction on the Verona road was the property of Miss Hovde, and it was her first trial spin in the new car.

The girls are room-mates and live at Gath Inn, 606 N. Francis street.

STUDENT COURT ELECTIONS

EXT Friday the male electors of the various colleges will select their representatives for the student court. The nominations have been made by the deans of the colleges and the candidates are men of tested ability. The system of nomination removes the element of politics which should not enter into an election of this kind.

It is the duty of the students to select the best men from the list of nominees. The success of the student court, just like the success of any judicial body, depends largely upon the character of the judges. Particularly is this true in the present instance because the student court was revived this year after its dissolution six years ago. It went to smash then on a technicality, which has been modified. It is safe to predict, then, that the court can fulfill its mission effectively if men of courage and common sense are selected as judges.

It is unfortunate that more cases did not come before the court this year so that the organization could test its strength. Next year when the novelty has worn off the court can be expected to play a more active part in the life of the campus.

Meanwhile, let all the qualified electors cast their ballots Friday and cast them wisely.

SQUARE AND COMPASS

RECENTLY the Square club affiliated with a national collegiate Masonic organization known as Square and Compass. This action was taken when a convention of Masonic students not possible with the Square club. The prestige of some of the leading schools of the country was held in Madison.

This step is one which will be of material help both to the university and to the hundreds of Masonic students in attendance here. Square and Compass will be the medium for putting the University of Wisconsin into closer touch with colleges all over the country. This was of a national organization will add new strength to the organized Masonic students here.

A strong organization of Masonic students who take seriously the ideals of their order will be a healthy influence on the campus. A local chapter of De Molay, a junior Masonic order, has been organized and it deserves to thrive. Square and Compass might find a good opportunity for immediate work in helping to put the new order on its feet.

CAP NIGHT, BILLY CLUBS, AND GUNS

THE DAILY CARDINAL reprints below a letter written to the Capital Times by Robert B. Cook '25. The students will sympathize with the sentiment expressed. The police, no doubt, will continue to laugh up their sleeves as they have been doing since a certain court handed down a certain decision in a certain case. The letter follows:

"I am writing this letter just to show my appreciation of the Madison Police force and their commendable efficiency. Saturday night, the 20th, was cap night for the class of '25 and the police of this town did not have sportsmanship enough to permit a peaceful celebration of that well known school tradition. The freshmen neither did nor contemplated any harm to any person or any property.

"One very good instance of this wonderful police service occurred at the corner of State and Mifflin streets. A very able and competent policeman, attempting to break a path through the column for an automobile to pass, hit a student on the head with his billy-club and used enough force to commit murder. When a few of the others went back to find out the reason for such an act, the officer attempted to draw his pistol. If he had done so and fired, killing another student, as was done two years ago, no doubt he would have felt quite proud of having 'killed his man.' When called to account for such an act, he would have claimed that he only attempted to frighten the crowd, and would have received no punishment other than possibly losing his position. In my opinion, using a gun under such circumstances is nothing but cold-blooded murder. Using his club as he did was certainly uncalled for and unprovoked, and a man that would use a club in such a fashion would not hesitate to use a pistol under similar circumstances.

"I believe that an officer who is so weak-kneed that he has to use such means in order to control a body of students is not only a cheap sport but a detriment to the service. The police department should not be allowed to carry clubs and pistols unless its members know when to make use of them.

"A large portion of the people of Madison are supported, either directly or indirectly, by the student body and I do not think that the people of Madison want the officers of the town to treat the students as if they were unable to understand any language but that of the billy-club. Perhaps a little correction in this line would help solve the problem of the Madison business men in encouraging student trade."

THE HONOR SYSTEM

THE University of Iowa has abandoned the honor system in examinations.

This action recalls that the plan was introduced into many colleges and even into some of the high schools a few years ago, with a certain amount of fervor. Just why, will perhaps always be more or less of a mystery. It was argued that students should be trusted and that to watch them during examinations was insulting. Another point made was that the student attends college for his own good and if he cheats he is the loser.

Yet the honor system has failed in other places besides Iowa.

Andelson Buys Stock of The Kornhauser Co.

BUYS GOODS WHICH HAVE BEEN CARRIED IN THE FIRST CENTRAL BLDG.

The Alexander Kornhauser Company has sold its stock of goods in the First Central Bldg. to the Andelson Bros. Co., it was learned today.

Since the fire at the Kornhauser store, the Kornhauser Co. has been doing business on the sixth floor of the First Central Bldg. Mr. Kornhauser found this to be an unsatisfactory way of doing business, and has, therefore, disposed of his stock at the temporary location.

The Andelson Bros. Co. will sell the Kornhauser stock at its store on West Main st.

The Kornhauser store, which was destroyed by fire several months ago, is being remodeled.

Although Mr. Kornhauser has several years' lease on the building, he declined to state whether he would reopen his store when remodeling is completed. Rumor that the Simpson Garment company would occupy the old Kornhauser store was denied today by R. T. McGuire.

Mr. Kornhauser can not re-lease the building without the consent of the heirs of the Fuller estate.

Prize Horse Will Compete at Show

A horse which won first prize at the International Horse show held at Chicago this year will be entered at the Horse show which will be held here under the auspices of the Military department at 3:30 next Saturday on the lower campus.

The time was changed from 2:30 in order to avoid conflicting with the track meet. The show was to have been held last Saturday but was postponed because of the muddy condition of the lower campus.

The program, in which 100 entrants will take part, will include exhibitions not only by the 16 artillery mounts which form the nucleus of the show, but also a number of non-military entrants.

Sororities, rooming houses, and various university riding classes of the Blackhawk riding academy are entering for the mounts. Several Madison people are entering their horses in the events of the owners' class.

Fraternity Houses Lake Shore Property

Several very desirable places are now being offered for sale. Two of these are on Lake Mendota, one with a frontage of 132 feet of lake shore, the other with approximately 100 feet of lake shore. Both of these houses are well adapted to fraternity purposes, and are unusual old homes that are just being placed on the market. Comparatively little lake shore property is left. These two properties are exceedingly choice.

Also, we have two or three properties off the lake shore, more moderate in price, but well adapted to fraternity or sorority purposes. These places can be financed on a basis that would be interesting to a younger fraternity.

We have had a large experience in assisting fraternities in financing; and if you are interested in purchasing a house or making a change from your present house to a new one, we can give you some facts that will interest you.

BAND WILL GIVE LAST CONCERT THURSDAY NIGHT

To Have 104 Men; Will Present
Interesting Program
On Hill

The largest band ever brought together for concert purposes on the University campus will convene for the last twilight concert tomorrow evening from 6:30 to 7:15 on the upper campus in front of Music hall.

The first regimental concert band of 64 men and the second band of 40 men will combine forces in presenting a program of interesting and novel selections which have been under preparation for a number of months.

"The twilight concerts this year have been unusually popular," said Major Morphy yesterday. "The last concert brought out an audience of 1500 people. I believe this enlarged group of Thursday night will bring forth the greatest audience yet assembled on the campus for a concert. Students who have not heard these two splendid organizations in concert should not miss this opportunity before the close of the present school year."

The following is the program for Thursday evening:

1. March "Explorer."
2. Overture "Northern Lights."
3. Waltz "Concert."
4. Leybach "Fifth Nocturne."

Judge Marshall Loyal To His Friends Says Former Secretary To Justice In Tribute Today

BY GILSON G. GLASIER
(Librarian of the State Library and for eight years Justice Marshall's secretary).

Judge Marshall was often misjudged. He was thought to be austere and unapproachable. When once acquainted with him this all disappeared. No one was ever more loyal to his friends than the judge. If he made fewer friends than some it was because of unceasing devotion to his work. His very high sense of duty and of fulfilling obligations would not let him postpone a task or leave it unfinished. In the face of work he was always impatient to get it done and it was always done promptly and thoroughly and every obligation met to the last penny. Having this high sense of duty, he expected the same attributes in others and was therefore often disappointed. While on the bench he voluntarily assumed more than his share of the work. His opinions were always able and thorough and helped to clear many doubtful points in the law. They will always stand as his greatest monument. His unselfish devotion to public duty, his unequaled capacity for work, his loyalty to his friends and devotion to those nearest him stamped him as a man of unusually large calibre. The whole state suffers a great loss by reason of Judge Marshall's death.

Students See Bureaucracy In New Plan

High School Split Into Factions; Constitution Is Read Today

Students of the Madison high school were arraying themselves into two opposing camps today as a bitter fight over control of "personal liberty" by a student court drew near.

Agitation in the school took on increased intensity with the reading this morning of the constitution of the proposed court, giving its powers to pass on activities of all students, both in and outside the institution. Charges that the constitution was "cooked up" in secret sessions by a "small set of reformers" and that it would result in a bureaucracy, were hurled by opponents, while its champions declare it was "an appeal to reason." The fight over the court is centering over a clause in the constitution which reads:

"The court shall have jurisdiction over the eligibility of a student to participate in the outside activities of the school."

The court, according to the constitution, shall have jurisdiction over the following:

Drinking of intoxicating liquor. Smoking within a block of the school. Gambling in any form. Swearing and indecent class work. Dishonesty in class work. Improper dancing. Power to summon students accused of infractions of the rules, and to call witnesses to testify is vested in the court by the constitution, which will be voted upon late this week.

STUDENTS TO PRESENT SHAKESPERIAN COMEDY

"As You Like It" will be given at the Madison high school auditorium by the students of the school Friday evening, May 26. This is the last of the plays to be produced by Miss Cornelia C. Cooper, coach, this year. "The Servant in the House" was given by the students several months ago and was acclaimed by Madison critics to be the best piece of amateur dramatic work ever offered to Madison audiences. The price of admission for the Shakespeare play will be 50 cents.

State Anti-Trust Law Is Upheld

Judge Quinlan Holds Action Against Tobacco Men Constitutional

The Wisconsin anti-trust law, enacted by the 1921 legislature at the request of Atty. Gen. William J. Morgan, was held constitutional today by Judge W. B. Quinlan, at Marinette, in overruling demurrers interposed in an action commenced by the attorney general against an alleged combination of tobacco companies in restraint of trade.

Judge Quinlan also over-ruled the demurrer to the state's complaint against an organization of Wisconsin wholesale plumbing supply companies, which involved the same constitutional questions as those in the tobacco cases.

It was held that the anti-trust bill had been regularly passed by the legislature, and that the law as enacted was not a violation of the constitutional provision guaranteeing against deprivation of property without due process of law, nor of the provision guaranteeing the right of contract.

Deciding on the right of Atty. Gen. Morgan to bring the anti-trust actions, questioned by the companies, Judge Quinlan held that under the statute he had an absolute duty to perform which was imperative and that it was not necessary to have any direction from any superior authority.

Under this law, it was held, the attorney general has the authority to proceed on his own initiative and do anything necessary to enforce its provisions.

These cases involved the right of the tobacco dealers and plumbing supply companies to combine for the exchange of trade information.

BIG 10 TENNIS MATCHES OPEN AT CHICAGO U.

Wisconsin Will Enter Strong Doubles Team

The Wisconsin tennis team will leave at 4:10 this afternoon for Chicago, where it will enter the Big Ten tennis matches which will be played on the Maroon courts.

"If Gotfredson and Tredwell are playing in regular form, it is not too much to hope for a Conference championship," declared Coach George E. Linden yesterday. "In tennis," he continued, "off-days and on-days play an important part. If the men are going well our chances are good."

Coach Linden will take four men to the Windy City with him, Gotfredson, Tredwell, Moulding and Hastings. The dual match with the Maroons, which was cancelled last week on account of rain, will also be played off.

Reindel and Rorick of Michigan will probably offer the stiffest opposition to the Badgers. Rorick was the first man to defeat Greene of the University of Southern California. Reindel plays an exceptionally consistent game of tennis and when paired with Rorick should form a strong doubles team.

Frankenstein and Stagg of Chicago are also feared. They decisively defeated Norton and Pidgeon of Minnesota.

In the singles Norton will present stiff opposition for the Conference title. Although defeated by Frankenstein, it is thought by many that Norton will stand up better in the Big Ten meet.

Iowa is the only Conference school not entered in the tourney.

Engineers Lose In Baseball to Medics

The Medic baseball team defeated the Engineers 7 to 5 and won the intercollegiate championship yesterday afternoon.

Brimmer, twirling for the Medics won his own game when he laid out a home run with the bases full in the fourth inning.

Goodrich, engineer catcher, broke his finger trying to catch a foul ball. Manager Eddie Borgelt declared it was the best game of the series and that it compared favorably with Big Ten playing.

Bronze Apollos to Row While Stroke Strokes

By CHUCK

Eight "bronze Apollos" climb into a boat thinner than Harry K. Thaw's alibi, a coxswain sounds off the Chinese alphabet backwards, the stroke strokes a stroke of paralysis, and the Wisconsin Varsity crew is off on the ruffled waters of Lake Mendota with speed of a lovesick Phi Gamm on the Theta work-bench.

Two kicks, three shoves, a long sigh of relief, and the vessel is out so far it looks like a Dayton bicycle in a Packard salesroom. The crew is more powerful than a can of T. N. T. It has more kick than a quart of Greenbush moonshine. Every time it breathes, the Chi Psi lawdge quivers like a pair of bare knees in an Alaskan snowstorm. The Rock of Gibraltar would have no more chance of standing it than Lillian Russell has of finding her fourth set of false teeth.

A close-up view of the outfit shows a collection of healthy, man-eating giants strong enough to play tennis with cannon balls. When the waitress orders a "side of cow" for one of them, she means it. They stow away more food than the stevedore does coal. They're so strong they have to button shirts on with padlocks. When Capt. Toepfer takes a deep breath, other people in the room gasp like a flock of frozen fish just regaining consciousness. Compared to them, Sandow, strong man, has no more power than a handcuffed poodle dog afloat on a piece of buttered toast in mid-ocean.

This outfit of oarsmen will line up against Manitoba Saturday. It'll be off with a splash that would make the torpedoing of the Lusitania seem like last drippings of a wornout beef spigot. Noise will make a boiler factory sound like the first chirpings of a baby Robin.

And the speed those boys will make. Even a slow-motion camera will catch them tearing at the same Von Hindenberg used when he left, "So this is Paris."

We ain't predictin'. But the outfit which beats Wisconsin will be faster than a ten-second man chasing his last dollar bill and more powerful than the breath of a century old onion plant.

S. A. E.'s Beat Alpha Pi Deltas 10 to 1

S. A. E. won an interfraternity baseball game from Alpha Pi Delta yesterday afternoon by a score of 10 to 1. The Sigma Nu's triumphed over Alpha Gamma Rho's on Sunday morning, 10 to 0. Both games were played in the semi-final series, and the losers are out of the running for places in the finals. Rain caused the postponement of the games which were scheduled for yesterday.

The S. A. E.'s pounded the Alpha Pi Delta pitcher to all corners of the lot while Murray was holding the losers to one lone hit. This, combined with an error, allowed the single run. The manner in which the winners fielded and batted in spite of the rain makes them look up as strong contenders for a place in the finals next week.

The Sigma Nu victory on Sunday morning was likewise a walkaway. Bosworth performed well on the mound for the winners while his mates leaned on Holmes' offerings for numerous clouts, many of them for extra bases.

Rain Hinders Golf Practice For Meet

Continued rains have hampered the Wisconsin golf team in its practice for the second meet with Minnesota here next Friday.

The greens on Maple Bluff club course have been put in bad condition. Capt. "Mort" Frost, Stegemann, Capen, Bauer, Bach, and Pope, who compose the Badger squad, will attempt to get in at least two days of practice before they stack up against the Gophers again.

Senior Women Win First Tennis Match

The senior women won their first tennis match Monday afternoon when they defeated the sophomores in two sets.

Frances Beecher '22 and Charlotte Voorhis '22 played for the seniors and Lois Jacobs '24 and Elizabeth Giessel '24 represented the sophomores. The games, of which the majority were deuce games, were hotly contested.

The sophomores meet the juniors this afternoon, and the freshmen on Field Day. The seniors and juniors will play on Saturday.

Nine Schools Enter State Tennis Meet

With all entries for the Twenty-eighth Interscholastic Tennis tournament received, indications point to the greatest array of high school tennis stars ever assembled at the university.

Nine schools have entered 19 men, and competition for the state prep title should be especially keen. Schools sending men are: Prairie du Chien, Lake Geneva, Milwaukee, Riverside, Racine, Plainfield, Richland Center, Madison high, and Watertown.

Paul Bekin '23, who has charge of the tennis meet, is fast getting things in condition to welcome the prep stars. Preliminaries will be played off Friday and semi-finals Saturday morning. Finals will be played Saturday afternoon.

PRESENTING— G. O. TOEFFER

George O. Toepfer '22 is serving his second year as captain of the varsity crew at Wisconsin. Last year he was elected captain of the first crew that has represented the university since 1912, and he was again honored with the position this season.

Toepfer has been active in crew work during his entire four years at Wisconsin. He was a member of the Ag crew his freshman and sophomore years, and rowed on the championship college crew in 1920.

Toepfer was a member of the executive committee of the Little International Stock Show in 1920, 1921, and 1922, was assistant chairman of the decorating committee for the 1921 university exposition, and was on the Stock Judging team which represented Wisconsin at the International Stock show in Chicago last year.

Besides being active in all forms of athletics, Toepfer has gained an enviable scholastic record, having to his credit 10 excellents and 22 goods, with a weighted average of 85.

Toepfer's energy and ability have been largely responsible for the excellent showing made by the Wisconsin crew last season and for the good prospects that the Badger oarsmen have for races scheduled this spring. Coach Vail and other rowing critics speak most highly of his ability and feel confident that he will lead the Badgers through a second successful season.

Toepfer is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Star and Arrow fraternities, and of the Saddle and Sirloin club.

CREW MEETS MANITOBA ON LAKE MENDOTA

Junior Oarsmen Will Row Against St. John's

Both of the Badger crews will have stiff opposition in the races scheduled for them next Saturday. The first eight outweighs the Manitoba crew by a nine pound average, but the Canucks are all experienced oarsmen, and have one of the best coaches in the Dominion. The junior Badger eight will meet St. John's, which is also reputed to have a first rate crew.

Wisconsin's first crew has not competed in any race so far this season, so it is difficult to estimate just what it will do in the coming event, which will be held at 11:30 Saturday morning with the Canadian university.

The junior eight was defeated by Culver Military academy last week, and it looks as if it will have stiff competition in the race at 11 o'clock Saturday with St. John's. The latter crew beat the Lincoln Park Boat club of Chicago by four lengths last Saturday in a 1 1/4 mile race, which will be the distance traversed in both of the races this week.

The first Badger eight defeated the Lincoln Park Club last year, and as the Chicago club has the same team as it did last year, it seems that the junior eight has a chance to beat St. John's, but that the race will be a close one. The first and second crews are competing daily in practice rows.

The average weight of the varsity crew is 163 1-9 pounds, while that of the Manitoba crew is 154 5-8 pounds, including the coxswains. The lineups are as follows: Wisconsin: Capt. G. O. Toepfer, 158; C. B. Puestow, 163; O. L. Jones, 173; P. J. Okerstrom, 169; R. J. Schuetz, 170; E. H. Crozier, 177; H. E. Johnson, 178; F. C. Prehn, stroke, 176; Coxswain E. V. Hanley, 104.

Manitoba: Coxswain T. M. Hillhouse, 115; stroke, Phinney, 142; Creighton, 172; R. Carey, 163; Adamson, 152; E. Carey, 150; Watt, 158; Spry, 152; Galt, 148.

Finals in Tennis Tournament Fast Being Played Off

Battles, Bennett, and Henika Win Upperclass Net Championships

With the semester drawing to a close, finals in the inter-class tennis tournament are fast being played off. Battles became champion of the senior class early in the play when he won from the only other senior entered.

Bennett is the junior champion, and will clash with Henika, sophomore champ, in an effort to determine the inter-class singles victor.

In the freshman matches, Deutsch and Geissel are the only men who have reached the semi-finals round so far. Deutsch is playing a great game of tennis and bids fair to give Campbell, runner-up in the inter-collegiate, a stiff run for the championship.

Geissel plays the winner of the Manierre-Gibson match, the victor to advance to the final round of play.

In the freshman doubles Campbell and Johnson have been declared champions by right of eking out a win over Hamlin and Deutsch, 6-4, 6-4.

The winners of each class in doubles and singles will play against each other next week to determine the university champions.

CHICAGO — The Western conference baseball championship is expected to be settled this week with Illinois, Purdue and Michigan fighting for the title.
