Clark Announces Production Staff of Latest Play

Players to Present "Children of the Moon" This Week

"Children of the Moon," hair-raising character play based upon heretofore lunacy, which is to be given at 7:15, 9:15, and Saturday afternoon and night, boasts of a complete staff of semi-professional skill. The main leads, Florence Felten, grad, Abigail Casey, grad, and Mrs. Pittman Potter are working in complete unison and have reached a stage of smoothness almost unrivaled in former productions.

Selden Clark '28, technical director of Players, whose miniature stage set now showing at the Co-op has won him praise, announced his entire production staff last night.

Bergren Heads Staff

Ernest Bergren, grad, again heads the production work. Working with him are Philip Icke '30, and William Hildebrand '30. Jay Forrester has charge of the stage with Donald Ericskin '30, as assistant, Dorothy Holt is manager of properties and has Marion Palmer '30, Sally Owen '30, and Irving Seneff '28 as assistants.

The art work is managed by Don Eastin '30 and has Richard Rhode, grad, as his assistant. George Adams '29, heads the lighting with Al Goehrig '30, and Robert Pratt. The publicity is being handled by Glen Florcz '29 as director with Lyman Moore '31, Katharine Wood '30, and Al Wayo '29 as assistants.

Wallace Has Charge of Signs

G. I. Wallace '29, has charge of signs, Mrs. Dora Roach of makeup, and Larry Davis '30, of costumes. Effay Baynon Thomas '29, who has been Prof. Troutman's most helpful assistant, is again devoting time to acting as script clerk.

Perry Thomas '28, and Elisabeth Murphy '28, reported yesterday that tickets sales began in earnest two days ago and that over one hundred tickets are being sold daily. The number of seats for this performance is limited, owing to there being only three stagings, whereas Players have sold out the 12 houses that attended the last two shows.

Forensic Feast Set for May 16

Speech Prizes to be Awarded at Annual Spring Banquet

The annual spring Forensic banquet will be held Wednesday night, May 16, at the University club, according to an announcement made yesterday by Rolland Kuckuk '29, newly elected president of the Forensic board which is sponsoring the event.

The awarding of Vilas medals, Forensic cup, the freshman declamatory cup, and the Northern Oratorical league prize, and the announcement of elections to Delta Sigma Rho, honorary speech fraternity, will constitute the main part of the program.

Robert B. Murphy '29, former president of the Forensic board, will be the toastmaster. Professors Weaver, Ewbank, and Borchers, all of the speech department, will be the principal speakers.

Members of all campus literary societies and intercollegiate debating teams, all winners of oratorical contests, members of the Forensic board and others interested in forensics at Wisconsin are eligible to attend the banquet.

Tickets are now on sale at the office of the speech depart, 254 Bascom hall at $1 each.

Meeting for Haresfoot Writers Called Tonight

All men interested in writing lyrics and scenarios for next year's Haresfoot show are invited to attend a meeting in the Haresfoot loft of the Union building at 7:15 tonight. William H. Purnell and Jack Mason '29 will be present at the meeting to outline the plans for next year's production. No previous experience is required, according to Purnell, and anyone wishing to try out need only attend the meeting.

R. S. Owen Is Chairman for Memorial Exercises

Lost a Topcoat?
Go to 172 Bascom

The recent balmy spring weather has apparently caused many students to abandon the uncomfortable weight of top coats, according to the information office, 172 Bascom hall. A number of lost top coats have either strayed or been escorted there, and are waiting to be claimed by their owners.

Union Council Student Posts Are All Filled

All the student members of the Union council, controlling body of the new Memorial Union building have now been selected, following the election yesterday of Sally Owen '30, W. S. G. A. representative at large, and Jane Bull '29, president of Keystone, ex-officio member of the council. All men student positions have already been filled and with the addition of these women the student personnel of the council is now complete.

Appointments of faculty and alumni members to the council are being made at present. As soon as these appointments are announced the council will begin operations. This will mark a new milestone in the process of opening the new building.

The real working order of the building is provided in the Union council. According to the Union constitution some of the more important functions of the council are as follows:

"The Union council shall direct the administration of the affairs of the Wisconsin Union and of the Memorial Union building, subject to the counsel and approval of the Board of Regents.

"All groups or individuals having jurisdiction in the Memorial Union building, shall be responsible to the Union council.

"The Union council shall recommend to the president or the business manager (as the position requires) for appointment by the regents the principal administrative officers for the Memorial Union building and the administrative officers of such other activities as are financed through the membership fees.

"The officers of the Memorial Union building shall consider authoritative only such recommendations as to policy (excepting university business policy) as may come from the Union council."

Athletic Magazine Presents Full View of Spring Sports

By A. B.

To anybody interested in athletics, especially Wisconsin athletics, the Athletic Review for May, now on sale, offers a complete summary of all spring sporting events.

The most interesting features of the Athletic Review are the stories written by Guy Lowman, baseball coach, and Earl Thompson, former world's hurdle champion. The Review is enlarging its scope in these articles by having the men who know their respective sport work better than anybody else write articles of instruction on various phases of athletics.

The sport editors of the Daily Cardinal, Harold Dubinsky and Aaron Gottlieb contribute articles on crew, track, spring football, and tennis that make a complete summary of the past season, and tells of the Badgers' chances for the remainder of the season.

Women's sports come in for their share of what is more or less of a man's magazine in the co-ed's corner, written in a manner as only a co-ed could write it.

Women's Inter-Se Dies; Lacks Support and Goal

The disbandment of the Inter-Se, an organization of all women's houses on the campus, has been announced by its former president, Maida Gerhardt.

The purpose of the organization, which was to create a better feeling between sorority and non-sorority women, has not been carried out, for very little interest has been taken in it. It was found that too much time was taken up and that it accomplished nothing.

Services for War Dead to be held on Upper Campus
at 11 O'clock

Prof. R. S. Owen, of the college of engineering, will be general chairman of the Memorial day exercises, to be held at 11 o'clock, May 30, on Lincoln terrace. The late Prof. I. C. Corp, formerly represented the university in these services, which are held in conjunction with the city.

George A. Chandler, assistant secretary of the faculty, will act as assistant chairman to Prof. Owen. Maj. G. W. Keitt, professor of plant pathology, will be in charge of the wreath-bearing ceremonies. Maj. George P. Bryan, of the economics department, will be in charge of the escort to the gold-star mothers.

Morphy to Lead Band

Major E. W. Morphy will lead the band, Prof. E. B. Gordon will lead the singing, and Prof. E. E. Swinney will lead the glee club. Lieut. Lewis H. Kessler, professor of hydraulic engineering, will act as bugler.

Miss Susan B. Davis, assistant dean of women, will have charge of the girls' parts in the wreath-bearing ceremonies. Scabbard and Blade fraternity will take charge of the traffic.

Services that will be held at the cemeteries will be the decoration of the graves of the dead of all wars, the decoration of Union and Confederate Rests, a tribute to orphans of Civil war soldiers, and services for the unknown dead at the Union Rest.

Following the services at the cemeteries, a parade of the National Guard company, the Reserve officers, and the American Legion band will form on Wisconsin avenue at 10 o'clock, marching around the square and up Carol and Langdon streets to Lincoln terrace.

At 11 o'clock a point service will be held out there for the dead of all wars. At 12:45 o'clock, there will be a service on Lake Mendota in honor of the soldier, sailor, and air service dead by Women's Relief corps, assisted by the Navy Reserve unit and an aviator.

Scott H. Goodnight Attends Meeting of College Deans

Dean Scott H. Goodnight left Madison yesterday for Boulder, Colo., where he will attend a meeting of university and college deans. He will deliver an address before the body.

W. C. T. U. Suggests University Put Ban on Women Smoking

A curt suggestion that the University of Wisconsin should following the example of Northwestern university and bar smoking among women students is contained in the May number of the Motor, official organ of the Wisconsin W. C. T. U. An article, written by Dr. Frederick A. Green, editor of Health, says:

"It is welcome and significant news that Mrs. Winifred R. Richardson, dean of women at Northwestern university, has sent orders to housemothers and chaperons of the 14 sororities and five girls' dormitories that all smoking must cease under threat of expulsion.

"Dean Richardson's ruling was made with the consent of the Woman's Self-Government association, composed of one girl from each sorority and dormitory.

Oscar Shows His Versatility in Row

Oscar is a devil—at least he's been called that, and worse—but sometimes he's positively the most attractive little imp that ever set four feet on earth!

Only yesterday he was dramatically turning the pages of a daily newspaper in front of the Phi Kappa Sigma house and conscientiously studying its contents when a passer-by paused long to snatch the paper from its reader.

Immediately Oscar's temper and a few other such fiery qualities made themselves evident in a sudden mad dash at his tormentor. His little round mouth took on a scowling frown that covered his entire face; his tiny paws clawed at mere air; and his chatter-scolding was in vain, for his tormentor was beyond the reach of his imprisoning rope.

But when the boys were called inside to dinner, Oscar, thinking himself alone, stealthily crept inside the vestibule for the paper, dragged it outside again, and continued to turn the pages and read with an air of triumph that kings would be proud to have cause to assume.

For Oscar, though only a monkey, is not to be outdone!

Women Elect New Officers in Small Vote

Sally Owen '30, Jane Bull '29, Marie Orth '30 and Isabel McGovern '31 were victors in the W. S. G. A. elections held yesterday to fill the positions of woman member-at-large of the Memorial Union council and presidents of Blue Dragon, Yellow Tassel and Red Gauntlet respectively.

Sally Owen defeated Jessie Price '30, and will immediately become one of the three women members of the Union council. Jane Bull, who was elected president of the senior women's society, automatically becomes president of Keystone council and, as such, is entitled to a place on the Union council. Evelyn McElphatrick and Gertrude McPherson were the defeated junior candidates.

Marie Orth won over Eleanor Reese for president of the junior women's society. In this capacity she has a very responsible position, not only as a leader in junior class affairs, but also as chairman of the Senior Swing-out which takes place during Mothers' Weekend.

More women's society went to Isabel McGovern who defeated Ethel Buelow for this position.

In spite of the fact that this election is one of the most important of the year an exceedingly small number of votes was cast.

Art Work Features Final Octy Number Published May 16

By T. H.

How well Octopus artists achieved their aim of giving their audience exceptional cartoons, sketches, and other drawings will be known on May 16 when the final number of the humor magazine for this semester is published. Emphasis has been made on the art work in this issue.

The cover entitled "A Good Mixer" was done in brilliant hues by Jimmy Watrous. Molnar Gyula has exhibited more of his versatility in a full page futuristic drawing done with an air brush.

Peg Drake has illustrated the last installment of "Then Came Eve," and Reid Winsey, art editor, has illustrated Prof. Paul Fulcher's book reviews. John Allcott, Ruth Allcott, Don Abert, Peg Cole, and Dave Willock all have contributed cartoons and sketches.

Major Gen. Gibbs to Inspect Local R.O.T.C. Corps

Col. J. F. Barnes Presents
Cadet Commissions at Today's Review

Major General George S. Gibbs, chief signal officer of the U. S. army and the one responsible for the laying of the new Alaskan cable, will inspect the signal corps and infantry corps units of the R.O.T.C. today.

The third spring review of the R. O. T. C. unit will be held this afternoon on the lower campus. Lieutenant Colonel Joseph F. Barnes, commandant of the Wisconsin cadet corps, will be the reviewing officer. Commissions for cadet officers will be presented by the commandant.

The list of the officers and their ranks follows:

Infantry unit: Colonel, Harry Thoma; lieutenant colonel, Robert Pike; majors, Richard Clement, Norman Baker, and Kenneth Worthing; captains, Roger Cahoon and Einar Jacobsen; captain and adjutant, Fred King; captains, Homer Daywitt, Everett Lochan, Joseph Kennedy, Dennett Barrett, Loraine Kehl, and Gordon Derber; first lieutenants, Fred Milverstedt, George Crowell, Edward Meisenheimer, Roy Thiel, Quintin Lander, Robert Pease, Carson Roberts, Wallace Jensen, and Harold Jepson; second lieutenants, Marcus Ford, Walter Fiedler, Edward Haight, Robert Pratt, Frank Hickish, and Gilbert Jentz.

Stevens Heads Artillery

Field Artillery unit: Major, H. S. Stevens; captains, D. P. Knott, A. C. Herro, and J. F. Galbraith; first lieutenants, C. J. Neese, E. P. Seneff, G. E. Dawson, J. M. Nuzum, R. E. Ela, H. E. Priess, H. H. Rasche, E. A. Prechel, and J. R. Ruhoff; second lieutenants, R. H. Brigham, C. G. Guenther, and W. R. Forrest.

Signal Corps unit: Major, Walter Fuldner; captains, Haken Rommes, Herman Zermuehlen, Leonard Saari, Benjamin Wunsch, and Ransom Tyler; first lieutenants, Angus Engebretson, Charles Robertson, and Mandel Goldstein.

Players Initiate Neophite Group

Largest Number in History
Accepted at Loraine
Banquet

Wisconsin University Players initiated the largest neophite group in its history at a banquet held in the Pompeian Room of the Hotel Loraine last night. Elizabeth A. Murphy '28 was general chairman.

Following is the list of new members: Gibbs Allen '28, Ruth Kellogg '30, Carole '29, Fred Jensen '29, Gen Florcz '29, Frederick Airts '30, Orpha Pearsall '28, Donald Williamson '30, Elizabeth Mathison '30, Irving Ford '30, Evelyn Feldman '29, Homer Davitt '28, George Goehrig '30.

Richard Rhode, grad, Irving Seneff '28, Otto Ey '28, Mark Griffith grad, Franklin Clarke '29, Sidney French grad, Signe Johnson '29, Florence Felten '28, Marian Palmer '29, Ernest Bergren, grad, Mary D. Carey '29, Marcella Eirman '28, Don Eastin '30, Grant Ottis grad, Bertha Fuminger grad, and Sally Owen '30.

The guests of honor were: President Glenn Frank, Prof. Wm. C. Troutman, William Purnell, Prof. Andrew Weaver, Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, Prof. Eugene Byrne, Prof. Gertrude Johnson, and Mr. J. D. Phillips.

The program was enlivened by a burlesqued skit from "Romance" given by the initiates, a song and dance act by the Loomis Twins, and talks by Charles H. Crownhart, president of the organization, Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, and Signe Johnson '29.

Chi Epsilon Honors Six Engineers at Banquet

Chi Epsilon, honorary civil engineering fraternity, announced the initiation last night at the Loraine hotel of Prof. L. H. Kessler, as honorary member, and of the following juniors as active members: W. C. Ziehlsdorff, D. H. Kuenzli, V. S. Hamel, J. H. Kulp, and L. F. Hillis.

Prof. L. S. Smith presided at the banquet following the initiation. The speakers were Prof. Kessler, A. T. Lenz '28, and W. C. Ziehlsdorff '29.

Arden Club Member Presents Marionette Show Next Monday

Arden club will present one of its own members, Hester Meigs '30, in a marionette and puppet show program Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Lathrop concert room.

Each of the three plays to be given has been worked out from old tales by Miss Meigs whose talent has led her to make each of her doll-like characters a hobby.

Louise Rood '29, a member of the club, will accompany the program with appropriate violin music.

"Pyramus and Thisbe," in which the marionettes are Pyramus, Thisbe and the lion, as in the old Greek story, will be presented first. Miss Rood will play "Orpheus and Eurydice." "A Chaucerian Dissertation on Women" will be the second play, having its setting in a fourteenth century inn.

Three acts from "Punch and Judy" comprise the final play in which puppets are used instead of marionettes. All of Miss Meigs' acts are historically correct as to costume and setting. Tickets for the performance may be obtained at the Arden club.

George Stetson Chosen Captain Wrestling Team

Annual Banquet is Held;
Coach Hitchcock is Rewarded

George Stetson, of Lake Mills, a junior in the engineering school, was elected last night at the annual wrestling banquet, to lead the grapplers through their conference season next year.

Stetson, who will be the only "W" senior upon the team next year, wrestled during the past year in the 125-pound class, and went through a season in which he lost only one match. He succeeds Capt. Harold Meyers.

Coach George Hitchcock, who has had charge of the men during the past season, and of mat teams in the university for the past 10 years, was given a gold Elgin watch as a token of the esteem held of him by the men who worked under him during 1928.

Among Those Present

The banquet, which was held at the University club, was given again this year by the College Shop; 14 wrestlers, George Little, Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite and several local sports writers were in attendance at the affair.

Coach Thistlethwaite acted as toast-master of the feast, and after the cigars had been passed, three graduating seniors of the team, Tom Fortney, heavyweight, Okeh Fowler, 115-pounder, and Capt. Harold Meyers, 145-pounder, spoke words of farewell.

Speeches by George Little, director of athletics, and Coach Hitchcock were the features of the evening. Little expressed himself as endeavoring to secure three things for the grapplers next year, namely better facilities, sufficient and efficient coaching which he feels George Hitchcock will give, and better wrestling consciousness by university students for "W" men in wrestling.

ftuCrwrest-aTba...eac-the, T T Hitchcock Pleased

Coach Hitchcock expressed himself as feeling highly pleased with the work turned out by the team during the past season, told of a few requirements of the ideal matmen, and reminisced upon a few of his past experiences while coach.

The election of a captain was the main course of the evening in addition to those served to the feasting grapplers. Several juniors and one senior were eligible for the position, and Stetson, the senior, was elected unanimously upon the first ballot.

Prospects for next year's team look especially promising since only three men of the 14 upon this season's squad are lost, and in addition to a large group of good freshmen. Louis Smits, conference champion at 115 pounds, should be eligible again in the fall.

Roundy Was There

Other speakers during the evening were Ben Gertz, manager, Mr. Walters, who represented the College Shop, George Stetson, as newly elected captain, and Hank McCormick, of the State Journal.

"Roundy," poet laureate of Madison, as he was dubbed by Mr. Little, lent his presence to the banquet but refused to be one of the speakers of the evening.

World's Largest Shark Is Landed Off Australia

SYDNEY, Australia—The world's largest thresher shark, weighing 832 pounds, recently was landed at Whangaroa by a Londoner who was fishing from a launch when he foul-hooked the thresher.

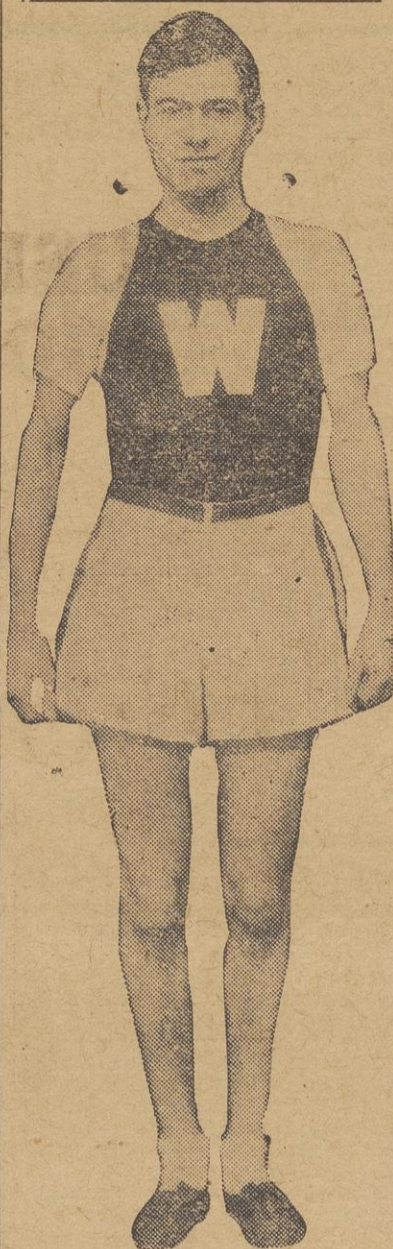

The fish took the boat 11 miles out to sea before it was harpooned in a struggle that lasted five and one-half hours. The shark was 6 feet 1 inch in girth and over 16 feet long.

Dr. L. Falkner and C. Stewart had an unusual experience while fishing off Cape Brett. Each angler found a "bite" at the same time. After playing their fish for an hour or so it was discovered that a blue shark had taken both baits. The anglers landed the shark jointly.

VIC RUNS AGAIN

VICTOR CHAPMAN

The above is a striking likeness of Victor J. Chapman who won the conference two mile and cross country titles for Wisconsin two years ago. In Feb. 1927 he was forced to withdraw from Wisconsin because of ill health. For the past three months "Vic" has been back and working hard.

Meanwhile John Zola developed into another champion while Chapman was out of school. Now the two are to meet in a feature race at the quadrangular track meet at Camp Randall Saturday. It is a long awaited race and bound to be highly interesting.

Kennedy, captain and star quarter miler of the Badger track team two years ago, will race Phillips, of Butler, in another feature race. Phillips ranks within the first five quarter milers in the country and this, too, should be a race of the century.

Wisconsin, Chicago, Northwestern, and Ohio State will clash in the quadrangular meet, and the latter team is favored to win. Many star performers of the Big Ten will be in action in this quad meet, and it, too, will be extremely interesting.

Football Tests to be Completed Today; Teams in Preparation

By Ray Belter

Hot weather may not be just the thing for football, but nevertheless it didn't prevent Coach Thistlethwaite from sending the men through a strenuous hour of scrimmage last night. Both the Army and the Navy were kept separate, so its is rather hard to compare their strength, although the Navy seemed to show the most fight.

The first real casualty of the spring season happened last night when Ken Bartholemew, the Dayton, Ohio, boy who should give Big 10 teams plenty of trouble next fall, received a badly sprained arm. The loss will weaken the Navy somewhat as he is perhaps one of the best freshman prospects in uniform. Not only is he a ball carrier of exceptional ability but also a terrific blocker. He won the medal Tuesday for being the most accurate passer on the squad.

Some other candidates who seem to be taking their spring football seriously are Jim Davies and Joe Kresky of last year's Varsity squad. Although Davies is not a flashy player he should develop into one of the leading ends in the conference next

Women Discuss Sport Situation with Committee

Questionnaire Planned to Get Group Opinion; Mr.
Berg Speaks

By P. S. M.

Representatives of twenty-five houses participating in women's intramural activity last night entered with student and faculty directors in an informal discussion of the various problems presented by the present discussion of intramurals, on the whole highly auspicious.

Mr. George Berg, director of the men's intramural program, briefly traced the development of athletics and stressed the opportunity to gain from intramurals a true competitive spirit together with the ability to cooperate.

Although the opinions of those present were obtained on the different questions, no decisions were reached, due to the fact that the representatives deemed it wise to discuss the situation in their respective house meetings beforehand. A questionnaire, embodying all propositions raised at last night's meeting, will soon be sent to each house for the purpose of obtaining its official standing.

Among the most important matters brought up for discussion was that of the cups which have in the past been presented to the winners of the championship and consolation tournaments in each sport. The group last night generally favored the abolishing of individual tournament cups, substituting a sort of plac, one for each house, on which first places in tournaments would be inscribed from time to time as they were won. This would do away with the ungalininess of having countless odd cups standing around in the various houses, having, instead, a highly significant plac, perhaps in shield form, which would combine the two very important features of neatness and practicability. The all-year championship cups would be maintained under this system.

The sentiment of the meeting also favored the urging of groups to allow on their teams only women belonging to their particular group. It was felt, however, that the matter should be left to the jurisdiction of the individual houses, with a view toward including the smaller houses which do not have enough women to draw upon.

LIEB LECTURES LINEMAN TONIGHT

The weekly lecture by Tom J. Lieb to all football linemen and others interested will take place as scheduled at 7:30 tonight in the gym.

Last week, the second of the meetings, more than 25 attended the lecture by Lieb, and this week even more are expected.

The topic of discussion this week will concern "Center Play," and Coach Lieb strongly advises that all line candidates for the Badger eleven be on hand for the lecture.

Badger Nine Journeys To Minnesota Saturday

There ain't no justice in this tragic world. Yesterday a very important bit of news concerning the individual proficiency tests in spring football was buried away on the sports page.

The story explained that Sammy Behr, "Red" Davidson, and Ken Bartholemew had finished one, two, three in the 40 yard dash race between 50 spring football candidates. Of course the above news might be taken as a mere piece of information, but we think it has a great significance.

In the first place all three of these winners promise to be on the Badger backfield next fall. They are all lightning fast in their movements. Behr and Davidson are dash men par excellence. Davidson is perhaps the best quarter miler at Wisconsin.

With such racing sophomores in the backfield, Wisconsin will have a team to be greatly feared. Not only that but an unheralded lad named Price nonchalantly kicks a 58 yard kick and wins first place. Davidson, you know, is also a brilliant kicker, but only took third to Price in the longest punt.

The annual Army-Navy game next Monday will be one of the most interesting ever held. A wealth of new material which has been uncovered during this spring session will perform, and if they are up to form it should be a wonderful game.

George Schutt's little spring cross country class started the other day. It is a wonderful plan to have these ineligible possibilities and freshmen preparing for the coming season. Wisconsin usually wins in cross country. And, although Illinois will have an extremely powerful team next year Wisconsin should defeat them with such men as Chapman, Goldsborough, Thompson in the competition.

Well the big day is almost here. We heard one young hireling say yesterday that anybody who misses the track meet with its special events this Saturday at Camp Randall is "plumb crazy." And we think he is correct. Some of the country's best track stars will be on hand, and the competition promises to excell anything we have ever had here in the track line.

Simpson Larson, and Kriss and Hermanson will compete in the dashes and we feel that some records might be possibly be broken. Simpson has equalled the world record in the 100 yard dash, while both Larson and Hermanson have hit 9.9 in the century. Simpson does th 220 in 21.5 without any trouble.

Tom Lieb is conducting a very beneficial class for the football linemen every Wednesday night. He invites anyone who is interested in his dope to come to the gym tonight at 7:30. All line candidates for the Badger eleven will do well to get the wise words of Mr. Lieb, for as he says "they don't know just where they will play, and they better learn what each man does."

BIG TEN NEWS

We notice that William Droegemeuller, star Northwestern pole-vaulter, has won recognition as one of the best scholars at the Evanston school. His scholastic record for his years at Northwestern include but a few marks below excellent. And to think that he holds a conference title and shares honors in the outdoor record.

Iowa gave Lawrence Harrison, running guard of the 1928 basketball team, recognition for his athletic and scholastic ability by presenting him with the Iowa Western Conference medal.

GAMES THIS WEEK

—Friday—

Purdue at Indiana.

Michigan at Iowa.

—Saturday—

Northwestern at Chicago.

Wisconsin at Minnesota.

Michigan at Illinois (2).

TUESDAY'S RESULTS

Ohio State 12; Chicago 3.

Wisconsin's slumping baseball team will have a chance for a revival Saturday when the Cardinals travel to Minneapolis to take on the Minnesota nine; the latter still hoping for a lucky break and a chance to win a ball game.

After a rather auspicious start, the Badgers slumped in the last two games, being decisively beaten by Michigan and Chicago. The former drubbing was expected, but the beating handed to Ted Thelander here last Saturday by the Maroons looks none too good when one takes a glance at the above score in the game between Ohio and Chicago, and with Zimmerman on the mound.

Badgers Need Win

A victory Saturday would at least put the Cardinals back to a .500 basis and that in itself is something, although the chances of the Badgers to be a championship contender or even to land in the first division are glum—very glum.

Guy Lowman is spending most of this week in trying to get his nine to hit the ball with some frequency. It is realized that Thelander and Jacobsen can't win ball games all by themselves, and it takes more than a run to two to conquer teams like Michigan, Iowa or Illinois.

Michigan Meets Iowa

Michigan will get its toughest test of the year probably this weekend when the unbeaten Wolves tackle Iowa on Friday and Illinois on Saturday. These two nines won the championship last year and are up in the running this year. A double beating would sort of ruin Michigan's chances, at least momentarily, and one beating would give the Illini and the Hawkeyes an equal chance with Michigan for the title.

Minnesota has not fared any better in baseball so far than it did in basketball. The Minnesota nine has a good team according to the Minnesota Daily, but bad breaks come at the most inopportune time, and the Minnesotans really expect to conquer the Badgers Saturday.

Frosh, Gophers Clash in Track

The freshman track team after its sensational victory in the Inter-class meet Tuesday is resting up in preparation for the telegraphic dual meet with Minnesota on Friday. Whether the yearlings will continue to annex victories on the outdoor track as they did indoors is still a matter of conjecture, although from the score run up in the meet of Tuesday it would seem that optimism should prevail, however, the opposition encountered was far from the strength that the other Big Ten frosh boast.

Very little is known of the strength of the Gophers in regard to actual performances, but the reports is rampant that the Northern school has more good freshmen track prospects than they have had in years, while the Badger frosh have lost a couple of men who were consistent point gatherers during the indoor season.

After the Minnesota meet, the yearlings begin preparations for the contest with Illinois, which is on May 17 and 18, and a week later they engage in the conference meet. The results of these meets will not become known for a few days after the events have taken place, since the scores must all be sent to a common center and the results in turn sent back to the various schools.

Down to a Simmer

But the Dorm Outburst Is Indicative of Latent and Real Friction

THE discussion of the anti-Experimental college-Experimental college lake party which boiled over less than a week ago has cooled to a simmer and not a very interesting simmer at that. In spite of some of our critics, we can interpret the "party" and the outburst of student opinion which followed it only as indicative of a latent but very real friction between the Experimental college and some other sections in the dormitories. This interpretation has been strengthened by random conversation with dormitory men.

The friction has been generated by two opposing attitudes among the students involved as far as The Daily Cardinal has been able to determine. Some Experimental college students, according to the best advice, have assumed that militant independence is a desirable symptom of mental awakening, a rather doubtful assumption. When this highly touted independence clashes with discipline and is forced to bend the knee, not all the experimentalists take the decision with good grace. They have grumbled or thumbed their noses.

The other dormitory residents have wrongfully construed this attitude on the part of some students to represent the whole Experimental college. In addition, it seems that the discipline itself has not always been fair and sympathetic, especially in the hands of George Chandler, head fellow of Adams hall, in whom much of the criticism centers.

Which one of these attitudes was created first and thereby called the other into being is a question which cannot be answered until we find out which came first, the hen or the egg.

This is, we believe, a true delineation of the situation on the basis of all the information we have been able to gather to date. It is a situation with which the heads of the dormitories and of the Experimental college must grapple by trying to eliminate the shortcomings of both parties. It does not seem to us that further public discussion through the columns of The Daily Cardinal can hasten the coming of this solution now that the need for it has been clearly demonstrated. This is especially true because of the delicate nature of the experiment being carried on by Dr. Meiklejohn. The Daily Cardinal, therefore, after today will not publish further communications bearing upon this difficulty unless it is seen after a reasonable lapse of time that nothing is being done to solve it.

Women in Politics

Girls Under Observation as They Express Interest in Student Government

COMPARATIVE interests of men and women in student government may be estimated today following the women's elections to Red Gauntlet, Yellow Tassel, and Blue Dragon. To many men of the campus these girls' organizations are unknown. In their scope and activities they perhaps more than favorably compare to the student government activities of the men. That the college man's interest in student self-government is on the decline at the University of Wisconsin must be taken as self-evident. That the girls' interest should be on the incline with their admitted representation to the council of the new Wisconsin Memorial Union should also be self-evident. The way the women take these new interests should be of great value to the general student body political situation.

The Crew and Poughkeepsie

Mr. Vaughan Gets Off on the Wrong Track; 'Dad' Vail Knows Best

MANNING VAUGHAN, eminent sports writer of the Milwaukee Journal, has disclosed some of his ideas regarding the reason why the Wisconsin crew may not make the trip to Poughkeepsie this year. Mr. Vaughan's article, "Send the Crew to Poughkeepsie," appeared Tuesday. Its local interest warrants publication at the close of this editorial.

The Journal writer makes two main contentions: one, which he doubts, that the crew may be deprived of the trip East because of the distress of another defeat; the other, which is more important, that the days of high college finance and the apparent nickel pinching policies of the athletic department make it worthless to make the trip unless there is a chance of victory.

On the whole, Mr. Vaughan may be sincere, but he seems to have his facts a bit muddled. Though the chance is slim, there is a possibility that the crew will be sent East. But if the eight does not enter the regatta, the reason will not be because of the athletic department withholding money. It will be because Coach Vail does not consider his crew capable of entering a strenuous race against shells which are undoubtedly superior to Wisconsin. Let us consider the situation.

It is only too true that the Badger eight has been handicapped, not merely by inclement weather, but also by injuries. At the present time, Coach Vail himself does not know its capabilities, simply because he has had no opportunity to test them. How, then, can he plan on going to the Hudson?

Many of "Dad's" impressions, however, will depend upon the speed of the crew in the coming test Saturday against the junior varsity and the freshmen, and in the race a week from now. If the shell makes a reputable showing, the coach might consider the trip; but if the handicaps mentioned before are too great to overcome, it would certainly be unwise to spend time and energy to go East with only a prospect of ending a poor last. It would be folly to send men ahead, foredoomed to defeat. Contrary to Mr. Vaughan's assumption, this would be the reason for remaining in Madison. And publicity that comes from making a hopeless or silly attempt is not the publicity Wisconsin athletes want.

Now to get back to finances. If Coach Vail should decide to send his men to Poughkeepsie, Wisconsin sport followers may rest assured that no pinching policies will withhold it of opportunity. The athletic association, even though it may be hard pressed, would find a way to finance the journey. All depends on the coach's decision. We can recall the situation of last year, when the department was willing to send the crew, but when Coach Vail disapproved of the idea.

Mr. Vaughan's allusions to high finance, big gate receipts, publicity, and football games are entirely out of order. It will not be long before "Dad" Vail will know the possibilities of his crew; what he decides to do will be for the best interests of rowing as a varsity sport. If he wishes, he can go East, and he need not worry about monetary opposition. The Journal writer is to be commended for his desire to see the eight enter the race; we, too, desire this. But his logic is all wrong. We print his article below for your consideration.

Mr. Vaughan's Comment on the Crew

FOR years one of Wisconsin's finest athletic traditions has been woven around the gallant efforts of its varsity crew to win a place in the rowing sun at Poughkeepsie. It has never finished first, but the Cardinal has often been up near the front, fighting grimly and bringing credit and honor to the only Mid-western school in this greatest of all rowing events.

"We understand that there is a possibility that the crew will not be sent east this spring. We are told that Dad Vail, handicapped by a short practice season because of unfavorable weather, hesitates to match his crew against the finely trained shells of the Navy, Columbia, California, Cornell, Washington, Penn. and Syracuse. If we were not familiar with Vail's fine record as a coach who has done wonders under adverse conditions, we might ask if the crew is to be deprived of the trip to save old Dad from the distress of another defeat. But is that the real reason?"

"We don't believe so.

"More likely it is a matter of money. Sending the crew to the Hudson is an expensive undertaking, and in these days of high finance in college sports it appears that no athletic undertaking is worth while unless there is a chance for victory—or of big gate receipts. If it were simply a case of defeat, one might suggest that Michigan be eliminated from the annual football card. The Wolverines have beaten us regularly since 1899, but they are always sought, and with great eagerness, for the coming year's schedule.

"Probably the most strenuous of all college sports is rowing. It exacts many weary hours on the machines, hours of sore muscles and aching backs, hours of colorless, laborious drill. For Wisconsin crew men their only hope of reward for this long, weary grind is the trip to Poughkeepsie. Are they to be deprived of what appears to be a nickel pinching policy in the athletic department?"

"If rowing is to be retained at Wisconsin, the crew should be sent to Poughkeepsie, even if foredoomed to defeat. It is a fine thing for the school, gives it national publicity and repays the sturdy young fellows who spent so many muscle racking weeks getting ready.

"How about it?"

Three Years Ago

The Wisconsin baseball nine defeated Michigan's team at Camp Randall yesterday with a score of 11 to 2. The victory re-establishes Wisconsin among the Big Ten championship possibilities.

Kappa Delta and Sigma Nu won the intersorority and interfraternity cups for first places in the annual university horse show held yesterday on the lower campus.

Cardinal racqueteers staged a losing meet with the Hawkeyes, winning but one match out of six.

Two Years Ago

May 10, 1926, being a Monday, no Cardinal was published.

One Year Ago

In a petition submitted yesterday by Marvin Lehmkuhl, new appointed editor of the Cardinal, and signed by several junior and sophomore members of the editorial staff, a demand was made for a reappointment of staff positions.

The "White Bird," plane of Capt. Charles Nungeth and Major Francois Coli, French war veterans, has vanished in its attempted flight from Paris to New York.

Haresfoot club elected 29 undergraduates to member ship at its annual meeting Sunday.

They say Marv Lehmkuhl, former editor of this sheet, has wended his way to Bascom theater to take the lead in a play which is mostly concerned with the subject of insanity. After a year in the Cardinal office he ought to be very well qualified for the part.

"And the man said, 'The woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat.'

"And the Lord said unto the woman, 'What is this that thou hast done?' And the woman said, 'The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat.'

Having attained the object of bigger Rockets, we shall now strive to make better columns in order to fulfill our motto announced a couple of months ago of "Bigger and Better Rockets for All." Also, a new editor wants the bottom of the page for something else.

FRATERNITY RUSHING AND PLEDGING

To me the word fraternity signifies a body of men associated together for the promotion of their best common interests in life. Fraternity then should be capable of taking young men into its fold for the purpose of teaching them the essential basic principles of life that lead to right living and success.

The Dean of Men should be an active man, a leader and a counsellor, who will go 100 per cent of the way in forming the ideals of the fraternity. He should go to the men rather than have nothing to do with them until they are found to appear before him voluntarily or because he has caught them doing some wrong. He should be the leader of the inter-fraternity council as well as the leader of every other men's organization in the University. Through him the fraternity can help in the process of orientating the freshmen.

If the above is true why is it not possible for the fraternity to take a new man into its fold as soon as he enters the University and help him to find himself. If the fraternity as it exists at the University of Wisconsin is true to the definition of the word fraternity and if there is any spark of independence in its status it should fight for the right to accepting a man upon his entrance to the University and make him a member of its family in its home. Surely there is no better place for a young man to stay than in a real fraternity. There is no reason why he should be kept out a full semester as is being done now.

To defer rushing and pledging until the first semester is half over is a greater harm than doing it during the first two weeks of school when most of the pledging is done. After a man has been pledged it is up to the fraternity to set him on the right road and see that he will be able to adjust himself to his new university life.

Deferred rushing and pledging will not give the fraternity a better chance to choose its men because most of the men are recommended before they come to the university. It would only serve to create a period of unnecessary suspense that would result in a more frenzied strain than exists now. It is better to accomplish a purpose at the beginning rather than in the middle or at the end.

Make the fraternity a real fraternity in a true sense of the word! Let it guide its men in such a manner as to make them a credit to the world.

This opinion is in answer to the "Regulations for Rushing by the Fraternities at the University of Wisconsin" as proposed at the last meeting of the interfraternity council.

OSCAR A. OLSON JR.

WANTS US TO CLAMP THE LID

Editor, The Daily Cardinal:
Aren't you going to stop the avalanche of tripe you are printing about the difficulty at the men's dormitories?

There is no issue involved upon which one can take a definite stand, pro or con. Every resident of Tripp and Adams halls has his individual opinion of the Experimental college, and everyone seems to be writing letters to you to express it. Are you going to print them all? Don't you know where to draw the line?

The situation is not being helped one iota by your printing of these letters. You are hindering the people who want to assuage what seems to be sheer jealousy of the Experimental college's advantages.

You advocate better understanding and then go ahead and whet the pet peeves and prejudices of dormitory residents by printing the outbursts.

These letters are simply making for greater misunderstanding.

You don't have to print everything you receive. You have handled the entire incident with as much delicacy as a burlesque show. Clamp down the lid, won't you?

Heath '29, Wins Horse Show Poster Contest

Prize winners of the poster contest for the Spring Horse show, which is to be given this Friday at the stock pavilion, have been announced as follows: Madalen Heath '29, first prize of $5; Sam Swerdloff '29, second prize of $3; and Mary Hugo '29, third prize of $2.

The winning poster illustrated the use of effective colors and an original idea. The modern "style plus" riding habit is depicted on a mounted girl rider.

Mr. Swerdloff's entry showed conscientious work. A vivid red background sets off a wild horse's head. Foaming nostrils and flying disorderly hair characterize this wild western horse.

The third place poster winner depicted a ranger on a bucking horse. Here again effective colors were used to advantage.

Although 10 posters were submitted, there were no honorable mentions. The judges were Prof. W. H. Varnum, Miss H. Wann, and Miss C. S. Williams, all of the applied arts department.

Costume Parade Down Square Will Feature "U" Horse Show

One of the specialties of the spring Horse Show, which is to be given Friday evening at the University Stock pavilion, is the "contemporary riders" event.

Members of the University Hunt club who compete in this event will be attired in the modern version of the riding costumes of various foreign countries. Among the costumes which will be worn are those of the Cossack, the cowboy, the American Indian, the polo player, the Spaniard, the jockey, the Royal Mounted police, and the Argentine.

Parade on Square

The riders in costume will parade around the square on Friday afternoon, and will be led by the St. John's Military band, which plays at the Horse Show the same evening. Following these riders, members of the University Hunt club drill team will parade.

As has been the custom since its organization in 1925, the drill team will give an organized drill exhibition at the spring Horse Show which is being sponsored for the first time by the University Hunt club.

To Award Loving Cups

Awards will be given to the winners of the first and second places in the form of silver loving cups. The riders will be judged only on the merits of the costumes worn, as riding ability and the conformation of the horse will not enter in as a factor in rendering the decisions.

Members of the drill team will be awarded pins in the shape of a horse's head. Under the pin will be inscribed the name of the rider as well as the year in which it was earned. Space will be provided so that the numerals of each succeeding year can be placed on it. Provision has also been made so that the same award will be given every year. New members of the team will receive pins while the old members will just have the insignia of another year added to their old pin.

Lake and Wood Life of Wisconsin Show at Chicago Exhibit

Real live game, fishes, birds, and the furry members of Wisconsin's great North Woods population, are in Chicago this week to represent the Badger state in the annual Recreation show which is now in session at the Coliseum from May 7 to 12.

That the Wisconsin exhibit will be on no small scale is readily seen in the report by John Swenehart, of the agricultural engineering staff, of the University of Wisconsin, who is in charge of the display. Over 7000 square feet of floor space in the big Coliseum have been turned over to building a picture of Wisconsin's north woods country, and the recreational opportunities that its woods and waters afford the hunter and the tourists, and the fish fan.

According to Swenehart, this huge display is being staged through the cooperation of the state department of agriculture and the conservation commission, with northern resorts and other agencies that are interested in one way or another in a "wiser use of Wisconsin land." W. A. Duffy, Commissioner of Agriculture; L. B. Nagler, state conservation commissioner; C. L. Harrington, state forester; and W. O. Webster, superintendent of fisheries, are all, with Swenehart, aiding in this elaborate representation of the state's recreational resources.

The exhibit is somewhat similar to the one which attracted great numbers at the Wisconsin Farm Folks' week at the College of Agriculture, and which was designed and constructed by Swenehart. Particularly appealing to Chicagoans attending the show is the irresistible invitation to the Badger exhibit. "Off the Avenues to Outdoor Life in Wisconsin." The visitor is then led into a miniature hemlock forest, with deer, live beaver and other North Woods game, a trout stream, and the "smell of the outdoors," to really take him "off the avenues" into hunters' and fishermen's paradise.

Tennessee Athlete Ties Record for Free-Throws

Ellen Baird, forward of the West Tennessee Teachers' college basketball team, recently tied the record-breaking free throw mark made recently by Margaret McBurney of Edmonton, Alberta, by scoring 57 out of 60 baskets. This breaks the world record held by a Japanese woman player who made 56 out of 60 baskets.

Fashionable Gifts for Our Modern Mothers

One of the happiest situations of the modern day is the fact that our mothers don't seem to be growing old. They stay young—are active with sons and daughters. So — on Mother's Day, remember your mother with a youthful gift—something fashionable—something smart. Here are a few suggestions from hundreds at Kessonich's.

Band Is Optional for Class of '32

Faculty Action Allows Frosh to Choose Band, R.O.T.C. or Athletics

A third option of band was added to military science or physical education, the annual enigma every male freshman must solve each fall, by faculty action Monday afternoon.

The faculty meeting, held in the Law building, set a new mark for rapidity in completion of business, 10 minutes being required for the entire session.

A committee including Prof. W. J. Meek, Prof. Daniel W. Mead, and Dean F. E. Turneaure appointed last week by President Glenn Frank to draw up resolutions on the death of Prof. C. I. Corp reported the resolutions were not completed.

The Military Affairs committee, chairmaned by Dean Scott H. Goodnight, reported in favor of adding a third band to act as an R.O.T.C. band exclusively, to be recruited from the band electives. Men formerly wishing to band elected R.O.T.C., and on acceptance in the musical corps, discontinued military science. The new arrangement provides for three electives: military science, physical education, or band.

Orders for Caps, Gowns Must Be in by May 10

All orders for senior invitations and caps and gowns must be in by May 10, according to Manager Grady of the Co-op. After that date the price of both articles will be raised. Senior women may order their caps and gowns by May 10 and have them for Swingout which is scheduled for May 18, and then keep them for the rest of the month. If students are in doubt about graduating they may order their material now and cancel the order later. Only 40 per cent of the seniors have put in their orders for invitations, caps and gowns.

A NEW WISCONSIN CREST

The emblem of the new Wisconsin Union is to be the Indian pipe of peace, with ribbons attached, displayed against a cardinal and white arrowhead shield which is superimposed on a mariner's compass card—a symbol of fellowship and unity among diverse people.

Former Professor at Wisconsin Heads Housing Committee

Dr. Richard T. Ely, former head of the economics department at the University of Wisconsin, and at present at Northwestern university, has been appointed chairman of the committee for housing faculty members of the colleges and universities of New York city at Radburn.

A tract of 1,000 acres near New York city has been chosen for this $4,000,000 model community. A house for each family, and arrangements that will enable children to go to school and wives to visit shops without crossing traffic streets will be some of the features.

In addition to the faculty members, others of the "white collar" class will be welcome, it is said.

Hi-Y Speaker Decries Fraternity Situation in Talk

"Small group against large group, minority political control, discrimination, disregard for others," was the way Clarence C. Case, associate director of the local Y. M. C. A. characterized the present fraternity situation when he spoke to the Central high school Hi-Y club at their meeting last night in the city Y. M. C. A.

"The social life, on the average, is just a big mess," said Mr. Case. "I will grant that the present fraternity system has its advantages, and does conserve some values, but I think that at present it is more of a liability than an asset."

"I speak not from a sour grapes point of view," continued Mr. Case, "but rather with the experience of having received a bid from every national fraternity on the Albion campus, while I was a student in college."

"Here, too, graduates from high schools enter and do not have an adequate conception at all of what they are getting into when they enter a fraternity. Many students have left college permanently because of our present social system."

A man's pride shall bring him low; But he that is of a lowly spirit shall obtain honor.

Test College Men End Second Phase of Study Program

Although it would seem that spilling water on innocent passers-by and growing mustaches are the sole duties of Experimental college students, Greek civilization also occupies some of their time.

This week sees the end of the second phase of the college's last period of study. Students are handing in their critical analyses of G. Lowes Dickinson's "The Greek View of Life."

Mr. Dickinson's opinion of Greek politics, religion, and art is the chief topic of conversation in spite of the publicity given trivial matters. The attitude of the students towards this publicity seems to be one of mingled surprise, amusement and disdain.

The students of the college are now working on their main theses. Each student is specializing on a subject in which he is particularly interested. These papers are due May 28, after which the students will be orally examined by a small group of advisers. The grades will probably be "satisfactory," "unsatisfactory," and "honors."

WHA Smothered by Other Stations

Interference on Same Wave
Length Is Reason Says
Prof. Terry

The virtual closing down of radio station WHA of the University of Wisconsin, second oldest broadcasting station in the United States, has resulted this year because of the radio commission's failure to carry out promises to assign it a clearer wave length.

The station has been so smothered by interference on the present wave length that only fans within a 25-mile radius of Madison have been able to listen in on its programs, according to Prof. E. M. Terry, who is in charge of the station. He declared that last Christmas the radio commission promised a clear wave length but that months have brought no change.

The latest promise is that WHA will be given a new wave length by the beginning of the next school year, he said.

Sees Station "Walled in"

"Last year, on wave length 535, WHA was not permitted as much broadcasting time but in those few hours it had a clear wave length," said Prof. Terry. "What good does it do to have a full half of the available hours as we have had this year, if interference walls us in?"

Prof. Terry charged that the commission has relegated educational stations to less favored wave lengths and has given the best wave lengths to commercial stations backed by powerful financial interests.

"There has even been a movement on foot to restrict educational programs to day hours," he said. "We oppose this because the people we wish most to reach are listening at night."

First College Station

Fans from all over the central states have written during the past year to learn why they were unable to get the station. The fact that on a clear wave length WHA has been heard as far as the coastal states has demonstrated that the trouble lies with the interference rather than with the station's equipment, Prof. Terry pointed out.

WHA, which was the first university or college station in the United States when founded in 1917, is one of the best equipped radio stations in the Central West. Large new aerial towers, for which an appropriation of $5,000 was voted by the Wisconsin legislature, will be its latest addition. Contracts for the towers will be let soon.

REGENTS GIVE $200,000

The largest single contribution to the new Union building fund was made by the Board of Regents. It is $200,000, derived from the estate which was given to the University by J. Stephens Tripp.

2 Instructors Give Up Posts

Misses Gorman, and Hastie
Leave Physical Education Department

Miss Gladys Gorman and Miss Elizabeth Hastie, both of the women's physical education department, have resigned their positions for the coming year.

Miss Gorman is planning to head a group of eight graduate and undergraduate students in an European tour this summer. She will sail June 23 from New York and will spend a few weeks in France and Germany, but will concentrate her tour upon Russia.

Miss Hastie, who has been teaching swimming here on the staff for the past three years will enter Columbia university to study physical education methods.

The two new positions on the staff will be filled by Miss Geneva Watson, Chicago, who is now a graduate student in physical education here, and by Miss Kathryn Cronin, instructor in the Boston School of Physical Education, is spending this semester and next summer in Europe. She plans to study folk customs of all European countries and bring back with her the quaint costumes worn by the people participating in these dances. If possible she will visit the Olympic games this summer.

Those members of the present staff who are returning are: Miss Gladys

Bassett, Miss Elfrieda Mossdrop, Miss Margaret Winn, Miss M. A. Sherwin, Miss Margaret Meyer, Miss Carol Rice, and Dr. H. D. Denniston. Miss Trilling will be back to assume her position as head of the department in September.

Cattle Raisers Convene May 19

Meet at College of Agriculture for Annual Spring Demonstration

Badger livestockmen are meeting at the college of Agriculture on May 19, for the annual spring cattle feeders' demonstration.

Five lots of young cattle are included in the demonstration, the purpose of which is to compare the results of feeding linseed oil alone with linseed oil meal and cotton seed meal in a mixture, as supplements to rations for fattening baby beefs. Another experiment compares pure-bred calves with cross-breds for baby beef production.

Following an exhibition of the experimental cattle in the University Stock pavilion, Dean H. L. Russell will address the gathering on "Why Research and Experimental Work in Animal Production?" All those present will doubtless be interested in G. Bohstedt talk on "Profitable Practices in Cattle Feeding." Bohstedt went to Ohio State university four years ago, to direct the department of animal industry there, and only recently has returned to Wisconsin as director of animal husbandry research.

The conclusion of the forenoon program will be a presentation of the results of the feeding trials by J. G. Fuller, beef cattle specialist of the College of Agriculture, with the assistance of B. H. Roche and A. C. Cook, members of the animal husbandry staff, who aided in carrying out the feeding trials throughout the past year.

At noon a well known group of livestockmen will participate in the program following a "baby beef" dinner.

They are W. H. Tomhave, secretary of the American Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' association; E. I. Stephent, of the Chicago Producers' Commission company; J. L. Tormey, of the American Shorthorn association; S. R. Pierce, veteran Angus breeder of Creston, Ill.; and E. Hirsh, of the Plankinton Packing company.

YALE ONCE CONSIDERED STRICTEST INSTITUTION

Yale university, today a model of liberty, a century ago had the reputation of being the strictest college in the United States, stated an ex-Yale student of Rutgers who wrote in 1833: "I am convinced of the fact, which has been truly said, that the officers of Yale are more oppressive and haughty in their systems of governments than any other faculty in the Union. But you well know that they are too mean to live, at least one-half of them."

This rather unusual statement was quoted by Dean Carl Holiday of the University of Toledo, in an article in the May issue of Plain Talk magazine. The name of the critic was not indicated.

Wisconsin Men Started Weather Bureau in 1870

How the work of the weather bureau was initiated through the efforts of two Wisconsin men was detailed for the Optimists at their noon luncheon meeting Monday in the Loraine hotel by Eric Miller, meteorologist of the U. S. Weather bureau.

Increase A. Lapham began the work by collecting statistics on the number of ships lost in lake storms. These were published in Milwaukee newspapers.

Lapham then conceived the idea of a weather bureau which would disseminate information about the storms and wrote to Gen. Payne, congressman from Milwaukee.

"Payne was not like the present day congressman, and knew something of mathematics," Mr. Miller said. "He had studied under Prof. Loomis, who had done research on the nature of storms at Yale. He introduced a bill in January, 1870 asking for $20,000 to begin the work of the bureau. The bill was passed and the bureau began work in November, 1870. Lapham was made the first head of the service in Chicago."

in Chicago."

The head of the signal service asked that the weather bureau work be made part of the work of the signal corps, and this was done, according to Mr. Miller. It remained under army supervision until 1897 when it was taken over by the department of agriculture.

Farm Aid Seen in Electrical Use

Michigan Utilities Man Finds Agricultural Relief in New Appliances

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — "Practical and widely spread use of electricity in farm work will make farm relief agitation a thing of the past," is the opinion of Director Arthur W. Stace of the Michigan public utilities information bureau.

"Farmers have been told for years to use electricity but it is only recently that scientific investigation into how to use this power has been undertaken," Mr. Stace explained. He went on to tell of the fully developed experimentation that exists in industry and how it benefited the working man by giving him the power of 50 men working by hand. "Power driven machines have made the work of laborers easier and their incomes greater. Why can't they do the same for the farmer?" asked the publicity head. "They can!" he continued.

Mr. Stace told of the work undertaken by the Detroit Edison company and the Consumers Power company, in conjunction with Michigan State college, to bring new uses for electricity into practical adaption. Feed grinders and milking machines are in extensive use in the state. On the Mason-Dansville line near Jackson 12 farmers have been given electrical power and they are using it under the direction of the state college. Already marvelous results have been attained.

Mr. Stace described the results of one farmer who has successfully used electricity with his poultry. In the winter time the days, especially in Michigan, are very short, and the chickens go to roost with the sinking of the sun. Therefore, their activity in this season is greatly diminished and as a consequence the egg output drops. This farmer increased the hours of light by illuminating the hen house for several hours after dark. His egg output increased to pay for the electricity many times.

Mr. Stace's bureau is preparing a series of articles that will inform farmers and others of their electrical opportunities and he is quite enthusiastic for the future success of "electrical farms."

Universities Tour in Latin America

Librarian of U. of Texas Directs Good Will Trip This Summer

AUSTIN, Tex. — An interuniversity good will tour to Havana, the canal zone, Panama, and Spanish Honduras will start from New Orleans Saturday, June 23, under the personal direction of C. E. Castaneda, librarian of the Latin-American collection of the University of Texas.

The tour will last 16½ days. It is designed to give American students and teachers who are interested in Latin-America an opportunity to get first-hand acquaintance with Spanish civilization as found today in the New World. The trip will be made, as far as possible, a good will tour, and no effort, said Mr. Castaneda, will be spared to give the members an opportunity of establishing valuable contacts with Spanish-America.

The United Fruit company has arranged a most attractive shore excursion program at no extra expense. In Havana a four-hour automobile drive about the city has been arranged, and a trip by launch to Morro castle, the grim old fortress which has guarded the entrance to the city for many years.

A canal inspection trip will be offered the party in Panama. They will go by automobile to Gatun, the first locks on the Atlantic side. From Gatun the party will go to Panama City by rail, where they will spend the night, and breakfast at the Hotel Tivoli, Ancon, on the Pacific side. At Puerto Castilla, Spanish Honduras, a trip over one of the banana plantations or across the bay to Truxillo will be arranged.

Tri Delt Wins Cuts Phi Mu Track Lead

By winning the fourth of the preliminary meets of the women's intramural track tournament Tuesday afternoon at Camp Randall, the Tri Delt made a definite stride toward evening up their total with that of the Phi Mus, each group having now won two first places in preliminary meets. Before the final track meet on Field day, May 19, two more small meets will be run off on May 15 and 17.

Complete scores for Tuesday's meet follow:

Delta Delta Delta	63.3
Grads	54.
Chadbourne hall	41.3
Delta Zeta	36.
Gamma Phi Beta	30.
Charter house	29.3
Beta Phi Alpha	25.
Kappa Delta	21.

Columbia Devotes Two Years to Orientation

President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university announced recently that a new program of undergraduate study would go into effect at Columbia next September. In the first two years emphasis will be placed on the orientation of students. The junior and senior years will be devoted to genuine university work for graduate or professional study.
