Monthly Income from Mortgages

The Central Wisconsin Trust Company, of Madison, has worked out a plan to take care of those people to whom a monthly income would be a convenience.

It should be said at the out-set that the money entrusted to us for this purpose is made secure by every possible means. It is invested in first mortgages on property worth at least double the amount of the loan, approved by our executive committee and by our attorneys. Only such mortgages are assigned to you and become your own property. The Central Wisconsin Trust Company then collects the interest, sees that the taxes are paid, and that the insurance is kept in force. We then pay you a regular income on the first of each month.

There are several important advantages to this plan besides that of receiving a regular amount on the first of each month. Your income begins from the day you leave your funds with the Trust Company and continues to come in in regular monthly installments so long as you continue the arrangement. There are no periods when you have no income or where the income is reduced by reason of having only a part of your money invested.

You have the safest of all securities,—namely, first mortgages on real estate.

In the selection of your mortgages you have the benefit of the judgment of men who have been lending money for the greater part of their lives,—men whose judgment is well recognized in the community. No loan will be made if there is objection made on the part of any one of our Loan Committee.

You will have absolutely no trouble in connection with your investments.

Your income will be as large as it is now and probably larger. An interview will quickly determine this.

NEWS AND COMMENT

To conduct and to administer a great educational institution is a job that "tries men's souls" at any time. In war times the worries of the executive and administrative bodies are increased to the nth power. How special cases are settled should not be made the subject of too much fault finding if, in the settlement of such cases a sound general rule of fair action is reasonably well adhered to. In the recent instance where the services of Prof. Feise were terminated at the University, it does not seem to us of real fundamental importance whether the polite phrase, "resigned under compulsion" or the blunt term "fired" be used. We are told that his services were discontinued by the administration because of an "offensive and scurrilous" remark about the Liberty Loan. The administration has not entrusted to the public what this remark was. Consequently friends of or sympathizers with Prof. Feise have been given opportunity to capitalize the idea that "what he said wasn't much of anything anyway"—that "it was a jest"—that "he felt he could think aloud in the presence of a friend"—that "the supposed friend proving to have envious personal jealousy tattle-tailed to the administration and over emphasized the statement made particularly in giving a wrong impression as to how it was said." On the other hand, enemies of or those entirely out of sympathy with Prof. Feise have had an equal opportunity to capitalize the idea that what he said was so "vulgarly horrible, so absolutely unspeakable, so awfully traitorous" that no gentleman could repeat it and no clean paper would print it. It seems highly probable that neither extreme view is correct. Gambling odds would be strongly in favor of the probability that the administration acted carefully and justly. The important problem that it seems to us the Feise case as a particular instance again brings up is a general one that has been raised many times before. A criticism by Regent Cary of the Board of Regents, the Giese-German Alliance matter of some time ago, and last year the controversy started up by a student pastor raised the same general question. That question is whether frank publicity by University executives and officials of the facts connected with many of the worrying cares might not of itself allay much unnecessary criticism against the University and increase public confidence in and support for our great institution. Our confidence in the administration is such that we have faith that the right thing was done in the Feise matter. We have not such unbounded faith in the method of procedure.

While the endorsement of the decision of the University authorities in the religious controversy matter of last year was finally practically unanimous, we were not then and are not now convinced that even such a dangerous matter of personal opinion as religious ideas might not have settled itself fully as well, a great deal more rapidly, and with much less ill feeling toward the University had the facts been given to the public. The Press Bulletin of the University did not to our knowledge have a line on this important matter. We find it difficult to conceive how there could have been any problem for administrators of the University had the full publicity been given the Geise-German Alliance case. Citizens of Wisconsin are too fair minded to have stood for the affrontery such as was displayed by the communications sent in the name of the German Alliance.

Is it better to "keep the lid on" or is it better to let all see the fire? When Hughes was governor of New York he found that by moving his desk out of the back room into the large waiting room, talking in a clear voice, and admitting newspaper men at all times he protected himself against personal self-seeking politicians. If the regents, who now meet in a room too small to accommodate comfortably their own group, would meet in a somewhat larger room where newspaper men and interested citizens could, without intruding, be present, might not this public way of conducting University affairs of itself destroy many criticisms which often, after a long drawn out contention, prove to be mere suspicions, unnecessary ignorance, or misunderstanding of the facts by people who are seriously interested in the University but must trust to unreliable and second-hand reports as to what has been done.

Might it not improve the confidence of the press and particularly of the country press in our University if the University Press Bulletin really printed the news of the University. The editor of the Press Bulletin is very capable. He knows news. He is willing to print the news. Might it not, therefore, be better if the Press Bulletin carried to the country press accurate information about the problems that often vex the University authorities. Newspaper readers demand the news. First-hand news is always more accurate than second-hand rumor. If accurate information is not furnished the newspapers find themselves obliged to public rumors and reports. It is not a case of what University authorities would like to have the newspapers do. It may be true that a few newspapers enjoy catering to prejudice by printing biased opinions about the University. Most of the papers of Wisconsin, however, would gladly print the news if the University would furnish it. But even in the country districts the readers are not primarily interested in the weight of a prize sheep when such a fundamental matter as the religious controversy of last year is under public discussion. The Press Bulletin is a fine thing for the University and for the papers of Wisconsin. Putting more real news into it ought to improve its opportunities to serve both the newspapers and the University.

While statesmanship and leadership must probably be guided and directed by a few, confidence must be in the hearts of all the citizens supporting the University. We who know officially and personally the executive and administrative leaders of the University of Wisconsin have the highest regard for their knowledge, wisdom, and judgment. Is it not possible, however, that how a thing is done is often nearly as important as what is done. Is the experiment worth trying for all executive and administrative officials to make public all the facts in matters of public interest? Instead of having newspaper men forced to "pry the lid off" to secure a little news and then often only securing a part of the facts which in some instances are worse than no facts at all, why not try the experiment, not only yielding to publicity but inviting it?

We have no conceited notion that we have a nostrum that will prevent all criticism of the University. We have an opinion, subject to reversal upon presentation of sound argument to the contrary, that more open public methods of procedure in the conduct of all of the problems handled by the executives and administrators of the University would rob many of these problems of their irritation. "Let us consider together."

This lengthy comment is not a "panning" article. If it causes any personal offense to any single official or executive of the University we should feel somewhat regretful for having written it. It is not a canned cure, a sure remedy, a guaranteed restorer, but it is the honest belief of the writer based upon some observation of the conduct of public affairs in many parts of the country that "keeping the lid on" raises unnecessary suspicion, distrust, and uneasiness, causes adverse criticisms and bitter comments where full publicity prevents many of these irritating and harmful quarrels as surely as sunlight, fresh air, and good water tend to improve health and prevent disease. Let's get all the news that's worth anything about the University through the official Press Bulletin. Let's invite publicity. Isn't it worth trying? Has the method that has been followed with questionable success for many years at the University anything to lose by such an experiment? "Let us consider together!"

ALUMNI BOARD MEETING

By LILLIAN TAYLOR, '05, recording secretary

Meeting called to order by President J. S. Lord, in parlors of Lathrop Hall at nine o'clock A. M. on Saturday, November 3.

Present: J. S. Lord, '04, president, F. H. Clausen, '97, vice-president, Lillian Taylor, '05, recording secretary, C. N. Brown, L '81, treasurer, C. B. Rogers, '93, G. A. Buckstaff, L '96 (Law), Mrs. T. E. Brittingham, '89 (L & S), E. J. McEachron, '04 (Engr), C. H. Bunting, '96 (Med).

Absent: Stuart Reid, '15 (Agric).

President Lord reported that communications had been received inquiring whether Senator La Follette's attitude "is the way the Alumni Association feels toward the war."

The Board, acting as a committee of the whole, fully discussed this matter. E. J. McEachron summarized this discussion in the statement: "Inasmuch as there is a general feeling that La Follette is very closely allied with the University and that whatever he says has a good deal of sanction of the University, it devolves upon the Alumni Board to ascertain the opinion of the Alumni Association in order to show the state at large exactly how the alumni as an organization feel."

In order that this matter might be brought formally before the Alumni Council, C. B. Rogers offered the following motion which was carried unanimously, "I move that the Alumni Board recommend to the Alumni Council that the Council appoint a committee to draw up resolutions to be adopted by the Council condemning La Follette's course during the present war. On motion of the corresponding secretary the meeting adjourned at ten o'clock.

ALUMNI COUNCIL MEETING

The meeting was called to order at ten o'clock A. M. Saturday morning, November 3 by President Lord. The following is the representation as shown in the roll-call:

Classes—'58—J. W. Slaughter (mailed proxy), '65—C. H. Vilas, '79—J. B. Simpson, '81—C. N. Brown, '85—Bertha Pitman Sharp (proxy for Dr. F. C. Rogers), '86—Mrs. L. S. Pease, '87—J. E. McConnell, '89—Mrs. T. E. Brittingham, '90—A. J. Myrland, '93—C. B. Rogers, '95—G. N. Knapp, '96—C. H. Bunting, '97—Mrs. W. A. Scott, '98—J. P. Riordan, '00—Joseph Koffend (mailed proxy), '04—Florence Mofatt Bennett, '05—Lillian Taylor, '08—F. H. Elwell, '09—Emil Truog (proxy for C. A. Mann), '11—R. C. O'Malley (proxy for E. D. Steinhagen), '12—Harold Eckhart, '14—J. A. Becker, '15—E. O. Lange, '17—Agnes Durrie.

Clubs—Chicago—J. S. Lord, '04, Ames—

Charles Mann '09 (Emil Truog proxy), Detroit—W. G. Erdman '14, Schenectady—E. Henningsen (mailed proxy), Philadelphia—Wallace Maher ex '17, Fort Atkinson—C. B. Rogers '93, La Crosse—J. E. McConnell '87, Madison—Amy Comstock '09, Milwaukee—Joseph A. Becker '14.

Members at Large—J. E. McConnell, '87, A. J. Myrland '90, and C. F. Burgess '95 (proxy for Jessie Shepherd '95).

On motion of A. J. Myrland the minutes of the last meeting as published in the August MAGAZINE stand approved.

On motion of Mr. Myrland, seconded by Lillian Taylor, the appointment by the president of a committee for the nomination of officers was made the special order of business.

The following reports were made by officers:

PRESIDENT JOHN S. LORD—At the meeting of the Alumni Board held on October 13 there were presented questions as to what should be done with respect to the speeches and acts of Sen. La Follette, '79. Letters have been received by the Association asking that some action be taken. At that time a committee consisting of Charles Rogers, George Buckstaff, and John Lord was appointed to make a report to the Alumni Board. The action taken by the Alumni Board will be presented to the Alumni Council.

I am pleased to state that the general secretary has been keeping the number of members on the increase and although 4,000 copies of the last issue of the MAGAZINE had been ordered we were 160 short. I believe he will ask you to return your magazines so that all may be provided.

RECORDING SEC'Y., LILLIAN TAYLOR—The Alumni Board met at the June meeting and this fall. Full minutes of these meetings were published in the MAGAZINES.

TREASURER CHARLES N. BROWN—The financial situation is gratifying. We have a thousand dollars worth of liberty bonds and $2,700 worth of mortgages and a little cash. The money of the Association is drawing interest of from 4 to 5%.

GENERAL SEC'Y., ROBERT CRAWFORD—Perhaps the general secretary already makes too many reports through the MAGAZINE. The constitution makes no provision for a report from the general secretary at this meeting. At any time the Alumni Board feels that such a report might be particularly acceptable I shall be glad on proper warning to prepare a complete statistical report. If I may be granted time I shall be glad to make a few remarks. We find ourselves in an embarrassing situation in connection with the November MAGAZINE. Probably it is one of those cases when we had best make adversity a blessing. There has never been a time before that 4,000 magazines in the fall was not so many extra that we had to sell some of them to a junk dealer in the spring. A year ago we ordered 3,750. This fall we counted on a normal increase and ordered 4,000. We now find ourselves 160 magazines short. We are sure that by putting a notice in the MAGAZINE we can get back enough copies to take care of these 160 members of the Association. However, as the MAGAZINE always goes into the mail on the 25th of the month preceding the date of publication we do not like to wait. If all of us pass the word around I think we shall be able to secure plenty of returned copies. Many alumni residing in Madison have already kindly cooperated with us in this matter.

It seems to me, too, that favorable comment should be made on the progress of the Association towards that highly desirable position where we cannot help but feel that the Association is a group of interested graduates of this great institution desiring to cooperate in doing their part toward helping further the cause for which the institution stands. We are not merely a group of magazine subscribers. If we have a strong, loyal, energetic alumni association we shall as a natural consequence have a satisfactory official publication. We must not blind ourselves by thinking too much about the MAGAZINE. We should always keep in view what the Association itself stands for—what are its ideals and what are its accomplishments. Furthermore, it should be clearly understood that the MAGAZINE is the official publication of the Association in which the editor does not act as a referee. Brief, signed communications are welcome at all times. Unsigned communications are not desired. Official reports of all committee meetings, etc., are always printed.

During the past six months the cooperation on the part of the Association has been noticeably stronger than during the six months prior to that time. When we called the roll it may have seemed to some of us that this meeting was rather poorly attended. Please remember, however, that in those twenty first classes that were called the number of living graduates is very small. Indeed in some of the earlier classes there is no living graduate and in others the number is but one. Having held these Alumni Council meetings for only a couple of years, I think we should congratulate ourselves on the really large representation we have here this morning in the delegates of classes and local clubs. When we consider how many people these delegates have the right to represent we find that several thousand alumni are represented at this meeting. It was the hope of the drafters of the constitution that the alumni might take these council meetings seriously and that each class and each local club would be represented here twice a year to do the business of the Association. The responsibility should not be left with the individual who happens to be secretary.

MR. LORD—I don't believe some of the classes realize the necessity of getting someone to represent them at all of these meetings. If we are going to have an active, live alumni association which is responsive to the demands of the members then the classes must understand that their official representation is through their secretary and that the class secretary is the centre of class activities and is the official to which the class must look for such activities. The class secretary must start reunions and see that someone is a representative at these meetings. I never shall be satisfied until we have real representation of at least half the classes here. The strongest alumni associations are those which have the class unity in the secretary. These are the associations that really accomplish things.

I do not believe we want at this time detailed statistical reports but we ought to know what the general conditions are. The reports were admirable in this respect. The next order of business is the report of the standing committees. We have three committees, Funds, Memberships, and Legislation.

C. B. ROGERS—Neither the Legislative nor the Funds Committee have met since June. As far as the Funds Committee is concerned, they now have nearly $1,000 in the Living Endowment Fund which is gradually growing. Pledges of over $900 per year have been made for the support of the Association through the work of the Funds Committee. This is an increase of several hundred dollars since last June. Members of the Funds Committee have had some questions in their minds as to whether to enter a vigorous campaign to increase the pledges or whether to continue in the way we have been going to keep the question alive and work up and increase the pledges to $1,500 or $2,000. This is not a good time to enter into an active campaign to increase the pledges of the Living Endowment Fund. I have felt that if we could do it in a less spectacular way and gradually increase the fund it would be better than to enter into a prominent campaign at this time.

We had a report of a special committee at the Alumni Board meeting this morning. I suggest that President Lord present the matter in detail to the Alumni Council.

PRESIDENT LORD—Sen. La Follette is supposed to represent in many people's eyes the spirit of the University and its alumni. Chicago alumni most sincerely and heartily condemn him and wish that they had the power to expel him not only from the Alumni Association but from the Senate. I believe that is the feeling of the alumni in the state of Wisconsin. Personally I would be very glad to have the members of the Association affirmatively state that Sen. La Follette does not represent their views and that they heartily condemn his acts with respect to the war. One of my associates made a speech in which he said, "I don't know what you think or how you feel but so far as I am concerned I would sooner be Sen. Husting, dead in his glory, than Sen. La Follette, alive in his shame." I think that expresses the feeling of most of the Wisconsin alumni and I think it will be of greater assistance to the Alumni Association if we do something effectively expressing the feelings of all members of the Association condemning the actions of Sen. La Follette. People disagree as to what we should do. Some feel that one sort of a resolution should be passed, some another. I don't know whether we desire to express ourselves as being of the opinion that the Senate should expel him or not. That raises legal questions and also gives him a chance of defense upon stronger grounds than he has had with respect to some other charges that have been made against him. Whether a question of free speech is involved or whether it is not it seems to me at this time that the Constitution and the laws of the country tested as if they do not go far enough to meet the situation. We are up against it. It is our duty to express what we believe to be the correct method of conduct of public officials. In other words, the Constitution of the United States does not accurately define our responsibility. Any such structure as this is not going to be effective unless it interprets and expresses the feelings and wishes of the heart of everyone over whom that is the law. I think we are doing a duty if we give a vital meaning to what is "giving aid and comfort to the enemy." I don't know how you all feel as to the best method of accomplishing the results you desire but it seems to me that something ought to be done. I think it might be desirable to have some question put to the popular vote of the members of the Association. I think we might also have resolutions passed by this meeting expressing our loyalty to the government at this time. What are the wishes of this body? The Alumni Board has asked for the suggestions and recommendations of the Alumni Council. What does the Alumni Council wish to have done?

MR. BUCKSTAFF—The U. W. club of Chicago has passed a resolution and I would like to have the president read this resolution and its accompanying communication in full.

MR. LORD—The Chicago alumni have had the question up at two or three meetings. Discussions were always led with great enthusiasm by Bishop Fallows, '59, president of the Chicago club. At one of the meetings a committee consisting of G. I. Haight, '99, and Israel Shrimski, ex '88, was appointed to formally express views. At the meeting a week ago this resolution, presented together with the accompanying report, unanimously carried by a rising vote:

"RESOLVED, that protest should be made against those utterances of Sen. Robert M. La Follette that tend to discourage or oppose the undertakings of the United States in the world war and that to this end the Alumni Association of the University of Wisconsin be requested to take such action as it may deem appropriate."

In addition to the resolution Mr. Lord read the eight typewritten pages of the report which accompanied it. He also requested that the full report accompanied by the resolution be printed in the MAGAZINE. The editor stated, "It is too long for the MAGAZINE. We find ourselves forced to 'boil down' all of these articles. We printed only the topic sentences of Rev. Hugh Black's powerful patriotic address; we printed only the topic sentences of some of the leading paragraphs of President Van Hise's scholarly speeches on the war. To open up the columns of the MAGAZINE for lengthy reports of any sort is going to run us far beyond our terms with the printer. I would respectfully suggest, therefore, that we compromise and let those who drafted this complete report make their own excerpts or permit us to do so. As it stands, it is so long that many people will not read it and we can scarcely afford to print it."

President Lord replied, however, that if the Alumni Council and Alumni Board feel it should be printed we could easily overcome these other difficulties. (The complete report will be found in this issue of the MAGAZINE under the department given to the U. W. Club of Chicago.)

C. B. ROGERS—The feeling of everyone present is that we ought to do something. For weeks Sen. La Follette has been making speeches and I know in my own county from personal instances that the things that he has said have backed up men who are disloyal to their country—have, as you might say, kept them firm in their disloyalty when otherwise they might have weakened. That is the reason I feel that a good resolution ought to be passed upon. I move, therefore, that a committee of three be appointed by the president to draft a short resolution expressing our opinion of the course of Sen. La Follette in this matter and that it be presented to the Alumni Council for their approval or disapproval.

This motion was immediately seconded and carried. On motion of A. J. Myrland the matter was immediately opened for further discussion. After discussion by Mr. Myrland, Mrs. Pease, Mr. Erdman, and Mr. Clausen, Mr. Roger's motion was carried and the president appointed the following: C. B. Rogers, J. E. McConnell, C. N. Vilas.

Dr. Vilas instructed the chair to appoint a woman on the committee and he resigned, Mrs. Pease being appointed to take his place.

MR. RIORDAN—I trust the chair will instruct the secretary to mark the Detroit members as not voting.

While this special committee was conferring, Mr. Buckstaff presented the following report: "Your committee on the selection of officers for the coming year wish to renominate the present board of officers. In the past we have once in a while had a set of officers who served but one year and we find that when officers serve but one year they hardly have time to get well used to their duties until they are out of office. Therefore, we recommend that the present set of officers be continued in office and that the two gentlemen who were appointed to fill vacancies, Mr. McEachron and Dr. Bunting, be also reappointed." On motion this report was unanimously adopted.

A special communication from J. W. Slaughter, '58, was read by Mr. Lord. (See 1858 class news for this report.) Mr. Maher, representative of the U. W. club of Philadelphia returned to the room and requested that the Philadelphia club be reported as not voting on the matter referred to the special committee. President Lord reminded the meeting that the report of the U. W. Club of Chicago was not formally before the meeting.

MR. BUCKSTAFF—I move you that this council approve of this report and that it be given back to the Chicago club with the understanding that it "boil it down" and that the matter be left between the U. W. club of Chicago and the general secretary. Motion seconded.

MR. SIMPSON—That is, they condemn the actions of Sen. La Follette in the Chicago report and by our adopting that at the present time we would simply be doing that which the committee has gone out to prepare. I belong to the class of '79 and was for many years a classmate of Sen. La Follette. No person regrets more his actions than I do. No person has taken a stronger stand or spent more money or time to help out the country in this crisis than I have; yet I am absolutely opposed to this motion. I am opposed to any movement condemning Sen. La Follette at this meeting. I consider that any body of alumni, any body of people, men or women, in a crisis of this kind have a special right to weigh their personal feelings, to pass such resolutions as they see fit in regard to matters of this kind. But I feel that in spite of what Sen. La Follette has done since the war has commenced—I can remember in the days of '79, that at that time Senator La Follette conferred more honor on the University than any student before or since—since leaving the school, he has conferred more honor than any other person. The honors that have been conferred upon him have exceeded those of any citizen of our state and in conferring them on him they have conferred more upon this University. While he was governor of this state and while this University was hard up and in bad shape Sen. La Follette was a standby. He helped a great deal. But now the crisis has come his loyalty is questioned. As the great University of Wisconsin, we thousands of members of the Association, have we got to magnify the fact that he is not where he ought to be? Hadn't we better pay a little more attention to our own loyalty and a little less to that of others? Do his views express the feelings of the others of the alumni of this great University? Most certainly not. We who are American citizens are Americans. Whatever resolution you pass will be null except to magnify his presence in the University. I don't see but that Mr. Lord should be upheld in his act if he condemns him personally but when a great many people come out and pick out one man, condemn him, want him expelled, and ask that the report of the U. W. club of Chicago be upheld, we are not going right. We are too big a body to take such action. He doesn't represent me; he doesn't represent any of you people; he doesn't represent the Alumni Association. He represents himself and a few misguided followers. Why condemn him and not Nelson and the others? It is those men as much as Sen. La Follette who have taken that stand that ought to be condemned. If one man is to be condemned condemn the whole state representation.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE BY C. B. ROGERS—This is not a pleasant duty for me personally. I have been and am still radical in politics. I have not politically supported Sen. La Follette but I have agreed with him in a great many things he has said in his speeches in the United States. My feeling toward him at this time is more of sorrow than of anger but this is not a political question. If the time has come when the University of Wisconsin and the alumni of the University of Wisconsin are afraid to stand up for the United States government when we are at war with another country, when the majority of the alumni of the University of Wisconsin are afraid to express their opinions, then I say we had better abolish the Alumni Association, and it isn't a question as I look at it as to whether we shall denounce other men or not. To some extent the University of Wisconsin is being held up to shame because of Sen. La Follette who has been misrepresenting the state of Wisconsin. It seems, therefore, that the thing for us to do is to strike at the most prominent man. The statement has been made that his has been the greatest honor. So much the greater then is his shame. Even as was great the shame of Webster in his 7th of March speech. Although we didn't put it in the resolution, we don't condemn him so much for his sins of commission as for his sins of omission. I read about sixty pages of La Follette's speeches and in this sixty pages there is not one single solitary word in a single phrase or sentence that can be found in which he upholds his own country or in which he condemns Germany. Following is the resolution: RESOLVED, by the Alumni Council of the University of Wisconsin, consisting of representatives of the classes and the U. W. Alumni clubs, that we hereby express the grief and shame of the Alumni of the University of Wisconsin at the unwise and disloyal utterances giving aid and comfort to the enemy of Alumnus Robert M. La Follette, '79, and denounce his failure actively and earnestly to support the government in the prosecution of the present war. Motion seconded.

JUDGE ROGERS—I move also that we vote by a standing vote so that we may know who is not in favor and who is in favor. Seconded and carried. Mr. Myrland and Mr. Simpson opposed. Mr. Meyer of Philadelphia, and Mr. Erdman, of Detroit, not voting.

MR. LORD—It is true that he has reflected honor and glory to the University but to the heights they have flown so much further must they fall, and I am sorry there has been any dissension. I wish we could go on record sometime with a vigorous vote against La Follette. It is thought that he represents the feelings of the alumni; he doesn't.

MR. BROWN—I move that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Senator and to President Wilson.

MR. MYRLAND—As far as I personally am concerned I would vote but so far as voting for it as a representative of the council here I cannot vote for it.

MR. SIMPSON—I wish to resent personally the criticism of the president on my vote on this matter and I only hope that when the Chicago alumni meet again they will remember they have Thompson there as mayor.

Mrs. Pease seconded Mr. Brown's motion that copies be sent to Senator La Follette and to the President. Motion carried.

On motion of Mr. Clausen the meeting adjourned at twelve o'clock.

HOME ECONOMIC ALUMNAE

By HAZEL MANNING, '13

At the suggestion of Elizabeth Amery, '13, a group of H. E. alumnae held a luncheon in February at which plans for an annual Commencement homecoming were begun. Temporary officers elected were: Hazel Manning, '13, chairman, Mrs. Clara Higgins Burhop, '15, secretary, and Nina Simmonds, '15, treasurer.

Thirty-five reunions attended the June banquet. Miss Marlatt presided as toastmistress and responses were made by grads. After three hours of merrymaking fun gave way to business. The temporary chairman and secretary were reinstated; Evelyn Jensen, '13, succeeded Nina Simmonds as treasurer.

Saturday, November 17, the Madison and Stoughton groups lunched at the Capitol cafe at which time plans for regular monthly luncheons were made. Every H. E. alumna, who may happen to be in the vicinity, will be welcomed and it is expected that these informal gatherings will prove to be of mutual benefit to the members and to the department.

Lists of alumnae appear also in The Wisconsin Country Magazine which features other H. E. articles of special interest together with our official notices. Communications addressed to Hazel Manning, Dept. of Home Economics, U. W., will receive prompt attention.

Many of these patriotic Badgers are not members of the Alumni Association. Can you think of a better inexpensive way of sending them a welcomed present from home than by instructing the Alumni Headquarters to mail the ALUMNI MAGAZINE. (The Postmaster General has instructed us how to mail it even to men in the Expeditionary Forces.) Use the following blank.

ATHLETICS

By W. D. RICHARDSON, Alumni Member of the Athletic Council

"Wisconsin has sent a host of athletes to the front, but she is training more, and the Wisconsin fight and spirit you see at Camp Randall this fall is the future spirit of the nation which will be carried to the trenches of Europe."

"I hope most sincerely that the normal course of college sports will be continued so far as possible . . . as a real contribution to the national defense."—WOODROW WILSON.

ILLINOIS, 7; WISCONSIN, 0

Illinois won by reason of having one man who had a drive. Charpier, the Illini fullback, named the "human tank," lived up to his name for he was the one man whom the Badgers could not stop consistently. It was he who crashed across the line for the only score of the day. Nichols, the orange and blue quarter, also performed cleverly and contributed several pretty runs.

As a result of a faulty schedule, Illinois came too early in the season and the team lost because it did not know enough football to win.

Even at that, Wisconsin deserved to win for Illinois was outplayed in nearly every minute of the battle.

The Badgers had three supreme opportunities. One came in the first half when Kelley just missed a forward pass as he was racing around behind the Illini goal line.

The other misses were more glaring. After working the ball up to the five-yard line, two plays carried it within one yard of the last chalk mark and with two downs to make the distance, Bondi fumbled and Illinois kicked out of danger. Once again the Badgers carried the ball up to within scoring distance but lost it on downs.

WISCONSIN, 20; IOWA, 0

The Iowa game was a most uninteresting encounter although it was a good game in the schedule. It gave the Badgers an opportunity to steady up their offensive because they had the ball the greater part of the game and it gave Coach Richards a chance to size up several weaknesses in his team. The Badgers had no trouble in winning although they missed several scores that they should have had. Iowa could do nothing against the Badger defense and was forced to resort to a punting game.

WISCONSIN, 10; MINNESOTA, 7

The great upset of the 1917 season was the strong showing of the Badgers against the Gophers at Camp Randall on Nov. 3. Feared as a duplication of the 1916 team and, for some unknown reason, always especially feared in Badger quarters, the Gophers held out no terrors for the cardinal team who won a clean-cut victory in one of the most sensational games played this season.

Coach Richards had his time primed for the Minnesota battle and they went into the fray with the intention of winning and they did it, playing a wonderful defensive game and a no less wonderful offensive game against a strong team. Every man on the Badger eleven outdid himself in this battle and the slight difference in scores in no way indicates the difference between the teams for Wisconsin should have won by at least one and possibly two more scores.

The Badgers used the aerial game to win and their exhibition was almost perfect. They tried nearly thirty forward passes and over half of them were successfully completed.

Simpson, on the hurling end, shot the ball with deadly accuracy and Jacobi, Bondi, Weston, and Kelley had the Gopher defense completely bewildered.

Wisconsin got first blood in the battle when, early in the first quarter, Simpson kicked a perfect drop from the thirty-yard line. The Gophers were not disheartened, however, and they began a march up to the field determined to get a score. They were rewarded for, after a few minutes of desperate playing, Arntson, the Gopher quarter, circled the Badger left end for a thirty-five yard run, carrying the ball to win within striking distance and the Gophers massed their attack on the Badger line and put it across.

It was at this point that the Badgers began their great uphill fight. With the score 7 to 3 against them, they came out on the field for the second half and it was the most determined Badger team seen in years. Time and time again they worked the ball to within striking distance of the Gopher goal only to lose it on downs and the Gophers would immediately kick out of danger.

Then came the stellar play of the game. With the ball in Wisconsin's possession and in the center of the field, Kelley went to the sidelines unobserved by the Gopher defense. Simpson shot him a forward pass thirty-five yards down the field and he went to the eight yard line before he was tackled. Straight line plays failed to work but Simpson again hurled a forward pass to Weston who was standing across the goal line. The star end had nothing to do but drop in his tracks and, when the players piled off, the ball was over the line and Simpson kicked goal.

For the remainder of the game, Wisconsin played safe at all times and Minnesota tried everything in its power to get another score only to be foiled by the alert Badger defense.

It was a wonderful battle to watch and the large homecoming crowd was thrilled every minute.

Although every man in the Badger line-up played star football, the work of a few men deserves especial attention. Simpson was the Badger hero for his generalship, coolness, forward passing, kicking, and running were above criticism. On several occasions he brought the rooters to their feet by his dazzling return of kicks while his forward passing was the best seen on a western gridiron in years. Weston and Kelley played wonderful games at end and their defensive work was so good that the Gopher backs failed to get around them for any substantial gains. Captain Hancock, playing against Hauser, the Minnesota tackle who was picked for the All-Western last year, outshone his star opponent while Kieckhefer and Kralovec, at guards, managed to stop everything that was directed against them.

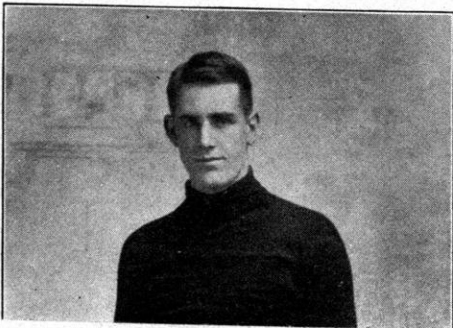

OHIO STATE, 16; WISCONSIN, 3

The tremendous strain of the Minnesota game the week before told on the Badgers when they faced Ohio on Nov. 10 and it was the case of a tired team against a fresh one and the fresh one won. This is not saying that the Badgers would have defeated Ohio had the two teams had an equal amount of rest but had conditions been reversed the Badgers would have had a good chance to win.

The odds were all against the Badgers who were forced to the limit to win from the strong Gopher aggregation. Their playing during the week lacked dash and they were further handicapped by injuries to Kieckhefer and Scott. They could not "come back," strive as they might, and they looked "dead" when they took the field. Even at that they gave a good account of themselves and, excepting for two moments of inalertness, the play was fairly even.

Harley, chosen for the All-American last year, and the man who worked defeat on both Illinois and Wisconsin last season, failed to terrorize the Badgers who stopped him without gain time after time. The sum total of his gains during the entire afternoon was a fifteen-yard sprint around the Badgers' right end late in the game.

COACH WILCE, '10

Ohio failed to gain with anything like consistency and likewise Wisconsin. Simpson tried numerous forward passes that went wrong and many of them were recovered by the Buckeyes. At that Simpson was the offensive star of the game, his beautiful field goal from the forty-yard line giving the Badgers first blood in the opening quarter while his fifty-five yard run in the closing period bordered on the sensational. He stumbled and fell on the Buckeyes' twenty-five yard line.

Coach Richards, seeing that his regulars were not in condition to win from Ohio, sent in many substitutes and they responded nobly. There were seven Badger substitutes in the line-up during the most of the last passed every Ohio State tackler but half and, although they lacked the finer points, they played with more spirit than did the regulars whose places they had taken. One of them, Keyes, who took Weston's place at left end shortly after the game began, played a marvelous game. He took care of everything that was tried around his territory, intercepted forward passes and on kicks nailed Harley in his tracks time and time again.

The first quarter was largely a punting duel in which the odds favored Harley. The Badgers had the better of the play, however, for Simpson negotiated his drop-kick and Bondi gained several yards on forward passes from Simpson. In the second quarter with more than ten yards to gain and fourth down, Harley threw a forward pass to Bolen who had cut across the field. The Wisconsin backs were not alert and Bolen had a clear field for a thirty-five yard run and a touchdown. The Badgers came right back, however, and in a few plays had the ball on the State eight-yard line. Simpson attempted a forward pass which was intercepted and Harley kicked to midfield. Harley missed an attempted field goal as the half ended.

Excepting for Bolen's run, the playing in the first half favored the Badgers whose defensive tactics stopped the Buckeyes and whose offensive had kept the ball in State territory most of the time.

After a punting duel which opened the third period, a forward pass, (Harley to Yerges) took the ball to midfield and a long forward pass (Harley to H. G. Courtney) was completed and the ball was on the one-yard line from where Yerges carried it over on the first play. This pass, as well as the other, took the ball from midfield to the Badger goal line.

The Buckeyes began hammering the Badger line which was, by this time, made up largely of substitutes and after reaching the thirty-five yard mark, Harley kicked his goal from placement. After the kickoff, Simpson received a punt from Harley and ran to the State twenty-five yard line. He again tried a forward pass which was intercepted. The game ended when Harley kicked to Stark on the Badger ten-yard line.

The playing of Keyes and Simpson has already been mentioned but there were several other Badger stars whose work stood out. Captain Hancock was a tower of strength on the defense. On several occasions he broke through and spilled Harley for a loss. Jacobi also starred in backing up the Badger line, Carpenter and Kieckhefer played great defensive games, spilling many State runners behind the line of scrimmage.

WISCONSIN ALUMNI CLUBS

'Sit together, listen together, sing together, eat together, and talk together and you'll work together.'

CHICAGO

By ISRAEL SCHRIMSKI, '88, and G. I. HAIGHT, '99, committee on resolutions

Your committee appointed to draft a resolution in reference to the attitude of Senator R. M. La Follette upon the present war herewith presents the same as adopted by the Club. (See report of Alumni Council.) With it, we think it advisable to record some of the reasons that led to its passage.

Our liberty is one of law, and not of license. The fundamental instrument of that liberty is the Constitution of the United States. Should it, or any of it, become unsuited to our conditions, provision is found within it for change. Until it is changed, it is the duty of every citizen to obey it.

Under our Constitution, we confided to our representatives in Congress the power to declare war and to raise armies. By it the President was made the Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy, and as such he is expected to direct these forces against an enemy declared to be such by our Congress.

The right of a citizen or of one of our representatives in Congress to discuss and freely present his views to influence legislation cannot be questioned. His right before Congress acts to influence properly a determination of how armies and navies shall be raised also cannot be questioned. His right to attempt properly to influence the President in his determination as commander-in-chief as to where we shall fight cannot be questioned. But when the people of the United States through their constitutional agencies have finally determined these questions by the enactment of laws and by the proclamations of our Commander-in-Chief, then all the people should abide by such decisions and any attack thereon must be considered unwise. Particularly do such attacks appear unseemly when directed by a member of that Congress who has taken his oath to support the Constitution and the laws of the United States. Furthermore, after war has been actually entered upon and the brave youth of our country are confronting its perils, words or conduct tending to weaken the united support which they require and are entitled to receive from their countrymen must be taken as ill-advised, if not wholly unpatriotic.

However high the motives of Senator La Follette may have been, we believe that his attitude in this war is in contravention of his duty as an American. Whatever his opinions may be, in so far as an expression of them (even were that expression otherwise rightful) tends to weaken our country or its forces in this crisis, that expression is unwise.

We believe in free speech; but we do not believe in false speech. Some there are who conceive liberty of anything to mean untrammelled license. Liberty under the American idea is always wedded to law, duty, and responsibility. To misrepresent the righteousness of America's cause in the great war in which we are engaged is an abuse of the right of free speech, and, whether such misrepresentation amounts to sedition or not, misrepresentation cannot be excused on the ground that the stabbing of our brave men in the back is merely an exercise of the common right to speak the truth freely.

We are opposed to a discussion of peace terms before we have wholly begun to fight. We are at this perilous time opposed to anything that may weaken our fighting power.

We regret the failure of Senator La Follette properly to appraise his duty as a member of the Congress which voted for this war, and his disregard of the American meaning of liberty of speech. We deprecate his apparent unwillingness to assist as he might in supporting America's cause. We are distressed by another fact concerning his attitude to be found in his apparent inability to see clearly what is so evident to most of us in this titanic struggle of the democracies of the earth against the grasping ambitions of the followers of the last powerful exponents of the divine right of kings. It is incomprehensible that he can treat so lightly the fact that in all literature, both of fact and of fancy, there is nowhere a record which can compare in perfidy or in its vast criminality with that made by the Hohenzollern family and its disciples who act upon the theory that might makes right. Since this war began, with the kaiser's license and led by German officers, the Prussians' Turkish allies have murdered nearly a million defenseless Armenians. Defying every law of nations and of humanity, peaceful men, women and children—many of them our own citizens—without warning or chance to save their lives, have been murdered on the high seas. In Belgium, Servia, and France, noncombatants—old men, women, and innocent children—have been slain in cold blood. Not only have these criminals sent their instruments of death against non-combatants and the defenseless over the land and under the sea, but they have dropped them from the sky on English women and babes—civilians living in non-fortified towns. Murder by poison has been practiced, by the inculcation of disease germs, and every form of cruelty has been used as a definite Hohenzollern policy of terrorism.

Piracy, the sinking of hospital ships, the destroying of vessels carrying food to starving Belgians, and ruthless warfare of every kind has by the Hohenzollerns been made common upon the high seas.

Outrages against women—rape and mutilation—practiced under the sanction of German military authority, have warned every father and mother in the world that better it is that their daughters should meet death self-inflicted than that any of them should live in territory in the possession of the kaiser's army.

The slavery of the thousands of Belgian men, who were driven into German munition factories to prepare death missiles to be used against their own people, is known to all. The evils and the horrors of this Hohenzollern system cannot be excused by any right-thinking citizen of the world.

Senator La Follette is too keen a lawyer not to know that the American men, women, and children who met the kaiser's pirates had a right to be on the Lusitania; and we fail to understand how he is able to put what he claims to be his right of free speech above the right of innocent babes upon that ship to the life that the Creator gave them. We also fail to appreciate how one who is jealous of his own right of utterance can lack the tenderness which must lead to protective action toward the right of mothers and their babes to be unmolested by pirates and assassins.

No one can hope to deny successfully the kaiser's record of perfidy and of crime. The Hohenzollern plots against us—many hatched on our own soil before our entrance into the war—the famous Zimmerman Note, revealing the kaiser's grotesque plan to give part of the United States to Mexican banditti; the adoption by the senior partner in the firm of "Mich und Gott" of a deliberate system of terrorism, with its plots, its spies, its poison, its outrages, its slavery, its wanton destruction of noncombatants, its piracy, rape and murder, and the abandonment of every civilized principle of warfare as a means to enforce what he is pleased to call "kultur," surely makes it necessary that our country in self-defense resist and destroy that system.

That one of the distinguished sons of Wisconsin, particularly one who has in the opinion of so many of us heretofore done much in the cause of human liberty, should now, when that liberty is in the greatest peril it has ever been in in the history of the world, for one moment hesitate fully and completely to espouse

America's cause, occasions a regret and a disappointment that is immeasurable. We regret Senator La Follette's expressions that may convey the erroneous idea that there are in the United States parties divided upon the question of the present war. His mention of a "war party" is wholly unjustifiable. There are no parties in the United States now, neither republicans nor democrats, populists nor mugwumps; there are only Americans and our allies on the one side; all others are enemies.

We are not trying to point a parallel, as this would be unjustified; but we note how great patriots sometimes lose their patriotism when we say that Benedict Arnold's capable leadership at Quebec and his heroic conduct at Saratoga—which probably won that battle and through it our final independence—were obliterated when he permitted his selfish personal ambitions to betray Westpoint to the German king of the House of Hanover then sitting on the English throne. His virtues are forgotten,—his perfidy remembered.

If we could prove that Senator La Follette was insincere, we would be not only grieved, we would be disgusted. His apparent earnestness, however, compels the statement that we are disappointed that a Senator from the state of our alma mater, Wisconsin, does not throw his whole fighting spirit into the cause against our country's enemy. We regret that some of his remarks have indicated that he does not appreciate that our fight is not for heroic France, nor even for bleeding Belgium, nor for any other ally, but that we are fighting for ourselves and our posterity—side by side with, and not for, our allies.

We maintain and adopt Mr. Hoover's statement that just as sure as we were fighting for liberty in 1776, just so certain it is that we are now opposed to a people bent upon the domination of the world, and that we are now fighting for our national ideals and our national existence this day and year nineteen hundred seventeen.

We believe it proper at this time to call this entire matter to the attention of the Alumni Association and ask that in some appropriate manner a protest be recorded against the speech and action of Senator La Follette in not giving his whole-hearted support and unstinted loyalty to this country in the war now being waged by it against the enemy of all mankind.

DETROIT

By W. G. ERDMAN, ex '14

Merritt Murphy, '01, was elected president, and Walter Erdman secretary and treasurer at a meeting of the Detroit Wisconsin Alumni club. The membership has grown to a total of 65 and the club wishes to be notified of any Wisconsin alumni who have come to Detroit recently or anticipate going there in the near future.

The club is most active and meets semi-monthly for luncheon at the Detroit club and for dinner the first Thursday of every month at the Detroit Athletic club, and on the third Thursday at the Palestine Temple of Masonic lodge.

Such communications may be addressed to the secretary at 57 East Woodbridge St., Detroit, Michigan.

NEW YORK

By C. F. GESELL, '13

At the luncheon and meeting of the Wisconsin Alumni late in October, the propriety of continuing the meetings for the duration of the war was discussed.

It was felt that if the only object of the gatherings be a social one, they have no excuse for diverting our time and energies under present conditions.

It was decided, however, that the Association can perform a useful service to our University in voicing our true feeling in regard to the great cause in which our country is enlisted and correct so far as we can, the unfortunate and erroneous impression of disloyalty created by the misdirected and unrepresentative acts and utterances of prominent delegates of the State of Wisconsin in the National Congress.

It was agreed further that we can be of service to our government in furnishing another channel for the solicitation of assistance in the many activities to which the public must subscribe.

That we may at the same time enjoy our old friendships and associations is our very great privilege.

To the above ends it was voted that the Association meet at lunch on the first Tuesday of each month (instead of weekly as formerly), and that each meeting be addressed informally by some representative of a branch of war work.

The first meeting was on Tuesday, November 13, (the first Tuesday being election day).

Mr. A. C. Hart, who has for three years been at the head of the Y. M. C. A. work among the prisoners of war in Eastern Europe, spoke.

Mr. Hart has enjoyed the full confidence of the diplomatic representatives of all the nations at war and has the direction of the Y. M. C. A. work both in Germany and Austria and in Russia, which work he still directs through secretaries and workers of neutral countries. Two of these men, Conrad Hoffman, '06, and Crawford Wheeler, '16, are Wisconsin men. The work and sacrifices of these two men have been the admiration of all who know them; Wisconsin can be proud to claim them.

SCHENECTADY

By E. S. HENNINGSEN, '12

Our club as you may remember passed resolutions of disapproval against the actions of La Follette at a meeting last November or December and we are heartily in favor of doing something to bring before the people of the United States the fact that Robt. M. La Follette does not represent the spirit or thought of the graduates of the University of Wisconsin nor of the substantial people of our home state.

Mr. John S. Lord, president,
The Alumni Association,
University of Wisconsin.
Dear Sir:—

I am very much interested to receive call of meeting of Alumni Council for November 3, and regret very much that I cannot have the pleasure and privilege of meeting with you.

Noting that one of the matters to be brought to the attention of the Council is the conduct of Hon. Robert M. La Follette, '79, I wish to go on record as feeling that the speech and conduct of Mr. La Follette reflects discreditably upon our Association, of which he is a member, and I move that his name be dropped from the rolls of membership as a disgrace to our college, the state of Wisconsin, the United States Senate and the good name of American citizenship.

I feel that I have the right, as the oldest living alumnus of the University of Wisconsin, to have my voice heard upon this subject in the deliberations of the meeting about to be held.

I only regret that, owing to my physical ailment, I cannot be with you personally to express my condemnation of Mr. La Follette's past and present attitude toward his country in its struggle to make the world safe for democracy.

With cordial greetings and kindest regards to yourself and The Alumni Association, believe me to be

Yours very sincerely,
