RECORD NUMBER OF HOMECOMING ALUMNI INVITED

17,000 Letters Sent Exceed Any Former Mark By 9,000

Approximately 3,000 more alumni than have ever attended a Homecoming in former years are expected to be present for the 1922 Homecoming to witness the Illinois-Wisconsin game here on Armistice day, November 11.

Letters to Wisconsin alumni numbering 17,000, were sent to all parts of the United States over three weeks ago, and many replies have been received.

Alumni Orders Pile Up

Besides numerous personal letters addressed to Chairman Worth E. Shoultz '23, and Lee McCandless '23, thousands of applications for seats at the Illinois game received at the gymnasium indicate that the alumni will turn out for the occasion in greater numbers than ever before.

"Everything indicates that the 1922 Homecoming will be the biggest ever, at least as far as the attendance of alumni is concerned," said Lee McCandless '23, chairman of the alumni committee, yesterday.

Memorial Workers Aid

"Union Memorial workers, who have been touring cities throughout Wisconsin and neighboring states, have stirred up a spirit which never could be stimulated by a mere form letter, and it is because of their efforts that we expect to break the alumni attendance records of former years," concluded McCandless.

A careful search for addresses of former Wisconsin students has enabled the committee to reach 9,000 more alumni than have been written to in former years. This special effort has resulted in the record number of 17,000 letters being sent to former Wisconsin students.

Although no estimates have been given at the gymnasium on the number of alumni applications for seats received, it is believed that they numbered over 3,000 yesterday and every mail delivery includes more orders for tickets. These applications will be taken care of after the student orders have been filled.

ANNOUNCE FROSH COMMISSION AT DINNER TONIGHT

Mrs. Rosenberry Will Address University Y. W. C. A. at Banquet

Members of the freshman commission will be announced at the annual banquet given by the university Y. W. C. A. at the Woman's building tonight. The dinner will take place at 5:30 o'clock and will be under the direction of Helen Kassbeer '23 as toastmaster.

Mrs. M. B. Rosenberry, chairman of the advisory board, will speak, followed by Isabel Capps '23, who will announce the membership of the freshman commission of 27 girls.

Dr. E. F. Tittle, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Evanston, will give the address of the evening.

Guests of honor for the evening will include Miss Jane Sherrill, secretary of the city Y. W. C. A., the Misses Frances Toy and Marjorie Upton of the city Y. W. C. A., Miss Gay Braxton, director of neighborhood hall, and Miss Agnes Reid superintendent of the University hospital.

All girls interested in becoming members of the university Y. W. C. A. and all present members are invited to attend the banquet.

ADVANCE SALE ENDS TONIGHT

Last Chance to Buy Badger At Reduced Rate Today

"In spite of the fact that recent reports are encouraging, only little better than half of the necessary number of Badgers have been sold," Howard Lyman, business manager of the 1924 Badger, said last night.

Reports until Tuesday night showed that approximately 2,500 of the year books have been sold. This number should be enlarged considerably when reports have been made by team captains of sales made during Wednesday and today.

Rates End Tonight

The official 10-day campaign ends tonight, and with the end of the campaign goes the last chance to obtain a Badger at the regular rates. Starting with Friday, the prices will go from $4 to $4.50 for the cash subscriptions, and from $4.50 to $5 for part paid orders.

Solicitors will work for some time to sell the books at the advanced rates. They will receive commissions on their sales, and should be able to get many orders. Students who have not been approached by solicitors as yet, and who wish to subscribe before the advanced rates go into effect, may do so at the Badger office this afternoon.

Men Lead Women

Competition between both men's and women's teams for subscriptions is still keen. The men are leading the women by a small margin.

F. J. Kojis is still in the lead with subscriptions numbering over 200, while among the men, Edgar Tilford is second with a score of 96.

NEW PLAYERS CLUB NAMES MANAGERS

Roy French '23, president of the Wisconsin University Players, the joint dramatic organization for men and women which was formed Tuesday night, yesterday announced the appointment of Herbert Boning '23, business manager; Dane Vermillion '23, production manager; and Olivia Fentress '23, tryout manager.

The following committees were appointed:

Patrons and casting committee: Ralph Schipflug '23, chairman.

Constitution committee—Wayne Morse '23, chairman, Alma Fenn '23, Aileen Hall '24.

Play committee—Roberta Louden '24, chairman, Lee McCandless '23, Dixie Davis '24.

Program committee—Merle Shaw '23, chairman, William Tannevitz '23, Margaret Emmerling '23.

Pin selection committee—Margaret Ives '25, chairman, Vincent Conlin '23; Agatha McCaffery '24.

Homecoming stunt committee—Henry Rubel '23, chairman, Carroll Goodyear '23, Horace Gregory '23, Polly Ambrose '24.

SECOND SENIOR TICKET HEADED BY "LES" GAGE

Severance, Kirk, Frederick and Tschudy Also on Slate

Leslie R. Gage is candidate for president of the senior class on the second senior ticket to be officially announced for the November 3 election.

Marjorie Severance is candidate for vice-president; Elizabeth Kirk for secretary; William H. Frederick for treasurer; and Lionel Tschudy for sergeant-at-arms on the ticket.

Gage is president of Union board and was vice-president in his junior year. He won his letter in basketball, is a member of Iron Cross, the Athletic board, the Student senate, and is vice-president of the Council of 40.

He was general chairman of the 1922 Interscholastic and Venetian night carnival and was business manager of the 1921 Union vodvil. He is a member of Alpha Delta Phi, Ku Klux Klan and Inner gate and is enrolled in the College of Letters and Science.

Miss Severance is a member of Mortar board, Crucible, and Keystone. She is president of the Women's Athletic association and is a "W" wearer. Last year, she was a member of the Badger board and prom program chairman. She was also president of Green Button, sophomore commissioner and a worker in the Homecoming button sale. She is enrolled in the College of Letters and Science and is a member of Alpha Phi.

Miss Kirk is a member of Mortar board, Crucible, Keystone and Dolphin club. She is president of Blue Dragon and was president of the Outing club last year. She was also chairman of the Y. W. C. A. finance drive. She is a senior in the college of Letters and Science and a first year student in the Medical school.

Frederick is a senior in the College of Agriculture. He is the organizer of the Poultry club and was manager of the Poultry show and secretary of the Ag show. This year, he is vice president of the Poultry club, member of Scabbard and Blade, and production manager of ag plays.

He was assistant editor of the Country magazine last year and was a member of the Badger staff. He was also chairman of the Homecoming bonfire celebration, member of the production staff of Union vodvil and captain in the cadet corps. He is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho.

Tschudy is enrolled in the Engineering college. He was winner of the short course and was on the cross country squad until injured. He is a member of the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers and of Square club.

W. A. A. to Reserve Block of Seats at Homecoming

Members of Women's Athletic association will attend the Homecoming game together, according to officers of that body. Those who expect to attend the game are asked to bring fee cards and 50 cents to Lathrop hall between 12:30 and 1:20 o'clock today and fill out applications for tickets.

Yellow Tassel Gives Tea For Junior Women Today

In order to increase acquaintances among junior women and to bring the class together socially as a congenial beginning to the year's activities, Yellow Tassel, junior women's organization, is having an informal tea at Lathrop parlors from 4 to 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair weather is predicted for today and tomorrow, with a rising temperature today.

CO-EDS MAY BE WITHHELD FROM VAUDEVILLE ACT

Women May Participate Only in Certain Acts

A recommendation by Dean F. Louise Nardin that no women students be allowed to participate in any vaudeville performances in any act, unless the act has been sponsored by a group that exists for the purpose of promoting the study of some special art, may keep university women out of campus vaudeville performances.

This recommendation has been put before the committee on Student Life and Interests and will be considered at the next meeting of the committee.

"Undoubtedly this recommendation will be approved, and the new ruling will go into effect this year," said Dean Scott H. Goodnight. "This rule will prevent women students from competing with Orpheum actors in presenting acts."

If this recommendation comes into effect it will mean that groups of sorority women cannot put on acts in Union vodvil nor the Homecoming vaudeville. Competitive stunts like those of last year's Jamboree given by various sororities will be prohibited. No organizations which are purely social will be allowed to participate in public entertainments.

Stunts or acts which are fostered by groups having artistic ends such as Orchesus, the dramatic societies, Press club, Glee club, or any of the many campus organizations may be given by women members if the act is given under the name of the organization.

"If women will consult the standards of their clubs and present programs approved by the organization under whose name they are presenting the act, there will be no difficulties concerning public entertainments," said Dean Nardin.

Films Show Milk Value At Dairy Club Meeting

Two films, each of one reel, were shown last evening at the initial open meeting of the Dairy Science club. The motion pictures were shown to illustrate the food value of milk. Edward H. Farrington, professor of dairy husbandry, made an introductory talk.

MILLAR, SHARP IN SOPHOMORE RACE FOR UNION POST

Board Recommends Candidates For Second Year Job at Official Meeting

At a special meeting yesterday afternoon Union board recommended two sophomores, Eliot Sharp and Malcolm G. Millar, as candidates for election to the board. One sophomore is elected to the board every fall. Recommendations are based on the amount of work and interest which the men show in the activity of Union board.

Both candidates are residents of Madison. Sharp is on the editorial staff of The Cardinal. He is on the sophomore traditions committee and the Homecoming publicity committee. Last year he was manager of the freshman basketball and chairman of the sail boat committee for interscholastic day. He is a member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity and of Scull and Crescent.

Millar is on the advertising staff of both The Cardinal and The Badger. He is on the Homecoming alumni committee and is a member of the Chi Phi fraternity.

The candidates will be voted upon at the regular elections November 3. Any vacancies which may occur on the Union board during the year will be filled by general election in the spring.

Time Tables For Second Semester Are in Preparation

While students are worrying over the first exams to be given this semester, plans for next semester's work are being made. Material for the time-tables, over which everyone will pour next February, will be ready within two months.

Each department makes its own schedule of classes it will offer and hours at which it will offer them. Certain rules are laid down for departments having a number of required courses.

Eight o'clock are universally disliked. Afternoon classes are likewise to be avoided when possible. Therefore part of these rules is to discourage too many classes coming at nine, ten, or eleven. A certain proportion of classes in these departments must be on Saturday, so if you are assigned to a Saturday class do not hold the malicious whim of the professor responsible.

The principal reason for distributing classes in this way is the shortage of class rooms. No new buildings have been built for five years, and in that time attendance at the university has increased 60 percent. It is obvious that every room must be in use most of the time to accommodate the greatly increased number of classes.

The classes in the departmental halls are assigned to rooms after they have been sent to the office of the secretary of the faculty. Sometimes the hours have to be changed in order to make them fit in with the rest. If it is necessary to hold classes of any department outside of its regular building, a preference is often expressed by the department.

Little Cost to City

To Bolster Fire Squad
Addition of six men to the Madison fire department, as recommended by the fire prevention committee of the Association of Commerce in its report at a director luncheon Tuesday, can be done with very little additional cost to the city it is said. The enlarging of the department would permit Chief C. W. Heyl to place four men on fire inspection, for which the insurance companies would pay two per cent. the money to be placed in the pension fund.

As the fund has reached the limit of $50,000 as set by law the money received for this work would be turned into the city's general fund and could be taken from this for improvement of the department. This amount would pay about $8,000 of the $9,000 estimated cost of increasing the personnel.

WAR CLOUDS GONE, SAYS PEACEMAKER

Henri Franklin-Bonon, French peace emissary etc., arriving at Constantinople after the Mudania conference with Admiral Lavavasseur.

Ancient Chariot Is Last of Dying Race

Survivor of a race extinct, a vestige of ancient glories it stands in the world alone. Stripped of all original accoutrements, clad only in bare boards supporting a tattered, torn and wearworn horsehair seat, this aged chariot, one time touring car, rests in all its senile dignity in front of the Phi Delta Phi fraternity house.

When this band of lawyers applied for a license for their official car, they learned that their machine, resurrected from a forgotten scrap heap, is the only one of its kind, in Wisconsin. The state requires a motor number to register a car, and this old Pratt Elkhart, manufactured before the intricacies of the present motor age, had to have a number; accordingly No. 522, the phone number of the lodge, was inscribed on the grimy sides of the veteran family conveyance.

J. R. Thompson '25 asserts that the present speedster cost $19.48, but that many improvements, including one cord tire, have been added. He also states that it will run almost anytime that anyone has time to start it.

Alderman Would Put City Tax on Motor Cars

A vehicle tax may be placed on automobiles by the city, according to Ald. Asa B. Graves, who announced last night that he is contemplating a taxing ordinance. The tentative plans are to charge $2 as a fee and use the money for traffic purposes, such as signs and traffic officers. It is said that state laws may prohibit such an ordinance, however.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

AMERICANS GIVE REAL PARTY TO VARSITY SQUAD

Reserve Eleven Opens Big Holes in Forward Wall

Varsity line had a "hard times" party at Camp Randall yesterday. Coach Guy Lowman's All-Americans furnished the hard time.

On the defensive against two reserve elevens, the regular forward wall had its hands full trying to stop a group of backfield men which worked Indiana plays. Coach John R. Richards continued to drive the Varsity line in an attempt to overcome its failure to charge effectively on defense.

The All-Americans opened up large holes in the Badger wall and a great deal of improvement will have to be made in the two days of practice which remain before the Indiana game on Saturday. The forwards are slow in starting and they do not exert the pressure necessary to enable them to drive through and nail opposing backs behind the rush line.

Gibson Will Play Saturday

Gibson reported in a uniform and went through signal drill with Varsity. He will be ready to start against the Hoosiers. Gibson is displaying all of his old pep in the halfback position and he is expected to be one of the best backs in the Big Ten this season.

The backfield is not going as smoothly as was expected at this stage of the game. Richards has been forced to use ten men behind the scrimmage line during the two preliminary games. Injuries have caused several shifts in the backfield and these have delayed its rounding into mid-season form.

When Wisconsin engages Pat Herron's Indiana eleven here Saturday, it will be the first time in 12 years that teams representing these two institutions have met on the gridiron. Football relations were severed after the 1910 contest. Wisconsin suffered a 12 to 3 defeat at the hands of the Hoosiers in that year.

Last Indiana Game 1910

Coach Thomas A. Barry, who then taught football to the Badgers, directed his team through an unsuccessful season. Wisconsin was held to a 8 to 6 tie by Lawrence, lost to Indiana, was tied by Northwestern in a scoreless game, and lost, 28 to 0, to Minnesota. The Badger's only victory of the season was registered over Chicago, 10 to 0, in their final clash.

After a lapse of 12 years, Wisconsin will attempt to revenge itself for its defeat by Indiana. That the Badgers will undoubtedly win is indicated by Indiana's mediocre showing in two games played this year. De Pauw held the Crimson to a scoreless tie, and Minnesota cracked them for a 20 to 0 licking.

FANS SEEK SHORT ROAD TO MADISON

If you were a football fan living outside of Madison and had motored in to see a game and forgot the shortest way home what would you do?

J. C. Bitterman, head of the Road and Travel bureau of the Madison Association of Commerce, would gladly furnish the information free of charge.

"For two or three days preceding the big games I always receive from twenty to a hundred letters asking the best and shortest route to Madison." Mr. Bitterman declared in speaking of the numbers who take advantage of the service offered by the bureau.

After the game when the people want to go back a different route, they flood the office taking advantage of the service.

"Especially last year after the home-coming, when it was cloudy and raining did the people apply for maps and information," Mr. Bitterman said.

GRADS AT CHICAGO TO HOLD BANQUET

"The biggest gathering of Badgers ever held outside of Madison," is the prediction of B. D. Burhoe of Chicago, in referring to the annual football banquet that is to be held in Chicago on Friday, November 24, the night before the Chicago game.

The Chicago U. W. Club is making extensive plans this year for a gathering that will make a record in Wisconsin history. Alumni and students of the university are eligible for attendance at the banquet and reservations should be made from A. Kessenich, 1453 S. Wabash avenue.

Haresfoot will stage an act, music by Thompson and orchestra from Madison will be in most stimulating tempo; much football "dope" direct from John Richards '96, Harvey Woodruff and Ring Lardner is promised before, during, and after dinner, and all out of town alumni and visitors are particularly invited to attend." The banquet will be held at the Sherman house.

30 COACHES TO GO TO SCHOOL

Dr. W. E. Meanwell Will Have Charge of Extension Course

Approximately 30 basketball coaches from various high schools throughout the state have signified their intention of enrolling in the two-day coaching school to be conducted in Wausau, December 1 and 2, by the Extension division.

Dr. W. E. Meanwell, Varsity basketball coach will have charge of the school, and Mr. M. C. Graff of the Wausau district of the Extension division is making the necessary local arrangements.

The purpose of the school, which is the first of its kind to be conducted, is to give basketball coaches a knowledge of the technique of directing and coaching teams and also to give them a clear idea of how to prepare high school boys for basketball competition. The coaches will receive instructions about supervising the physical condition of the athletes in their charge. Clean play and good sportsmanship will be emphasized strongly in the school.

Entire End of Stadium Sold For Indiana Game

Practically the entire west end of the stadium has been reserved by students for the Indiana game, according to Paul S. Hunter, in charge of the ticket sale. Hundreds of mail orders are coming in too late to be filled, the mail order having closed Saturday. Indiana has made reservations for 300 tickets. Application blanks for the Chicago and Illinois games were placed on the desk in the gym yesterday. A fee card is necessary to secure a ticket for the Illinois game at the student rate but a fee card cannot be used for the Chicago tickets at the student rate.

Elect Women Captains Of Class Swim Teams

Captains of the women's class swimming teams elected at a meeting yesterday noon are:

The junior class team, which yesterday was not complete, includes the following: Avice Betts, Dorothy Reichert, Venus Walker, Elizabeth Knott, Dorothy Adams, Julia Horner, Beatrice Perkham, Goldsmith, and Eleanor Sikes.

Cole is Candidate For Student Senate Position

Llewellyn R. Cole '25 has announced his candidacy as a sophomore representative for the Student Senate. Cole is active as a member of the Sophomore commission. He is on the staff of the 1924 Badger. He is an assistant in charge of teams working on the coming Y. M. C. A. drive. He is a member of the Homecoming ways and means committee, is a pledge of Phi Beta Pi, professional Medic fraternity, and a member of Alpha Chi Rho.

PURDUE IS OUT TO TAKE GAME FROM CHICAGO

This Year's Team is Better Than Average; Will Battle Hard

(Special to The Cardinal)

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 18—"Beat Chicago" is the slogan adopted by the Purdue students and football squad. Year in and year out, the Boiler Makers have journeyed to Chicago and always returned on the wrong end of the score.

This year's team which has showned in the first two games played this year to be better than those of the past several seasons, promises to give Chicago one of the hardest battles it has ever had. Coach Phelan's men gave the supposedly weak Notre Dame team, which in reality is one of their best a real fight and in the first quarter kept them outside of the 35 yard line.

The offense of the team is showing an improvement. Another week of hard work will see the Boiler Makers with a drive that will be hard to stop. Captain "Eckie" Murphy, halfback will return to the game next Saturday after being kept on the sidelines for two weeks on account of injuries.

Before the Notre Dame game it was found that Stewart, star sophomore tackle, would not be able to play. He was hurt in a scrimmage against the freshmen and the injury which was not thought to be serious turned out to be worse than anticipated. Coach Phelan expects to have him in shape by Saturday. Some new formations will be tried out this week.

One thousand students are expected to board the special train next Saturday morning for Chicago. The famous Purdue band will be taken along as sufficient money was raised last Saturday by selling tags to defray their expenses. The largest base drum in the world, which is a part of the band equipment, will be in the big parade which the students and alumni will hold on Michigan avenue.

Many Forget To Sign Up For Ag Station Bulletins

During the month of September 27 folks, mostly Badgers, did not sign their names to requests for bulletins and information at the Experiment station of the College of Agriculture. Now they are wondering why they do not receive an answer to their requests. Sometimes only the town is given, but no name is signed. During the last six weeks letters post-marked Shiocton, Plum City, Clear Lake, Wautoma, Osceola, Livingston, Springfield, Cedarville, Burnhamwood, Campbellsport, Reedsburg, Racine, South Range, Pound, Arthur, Illinois, Chicago, Cashton, De Pere, Sheldon, Draper, Waupun, and Fifield, and Berkeley, California, and Virginia, have been received, but none of these can be answered.

Man is Found Dead In Middleton Barn

Edward L. Holt, 30 year old, farmer, last night was found dead in his barn near Middleton. A man who gave his name as Mr. Cook found the body hanging from a rafters about 7:30 o'clock.

No motive could be found for the suicide by the constable. As far as could be determined, Holt was not despondent over money matters, and was not worried over personal affairs. He left no note or other indication of the cause for his action.

Holt came from Verona about two years ago to accept a position as patrolman on highway 12. He was married, but had no children.

Octy Sales Reach 3,000 On Day of Publication

Approximately 3,000 copies of the Octopus, university humor magazine, were sold yesterday, the first day of the sale. As a general rule, the sale was quicker than last year, but the number of copies sold was about the same. There are 600 subscriptions, 1800 were disposed of on the campus, and 600 in drug stores. Added to this there are a number of exchanges.

WOMEN MAY PLAY REAL HOCKEY AGAIN

An opportunity for all of the hockey enthusiasts among the graduate, faculty and town women to play real hockey again is offered by the Madison Hockey Club, under the active direction of Miss Cynthia Wesson, hockey coach of the university faculty.

This club, which was organized last spring, is making energetic plans for contests with similar groups this fall.

A game has already been scheduled with the Chicago Hockey Club for October 28, the team to be picked this Saturday.

Practices are held every Tuesday at 12, and every Saturday morning at 11:30.

Mrs. Warren Taylor is the president and Miss Harriet O'Shea the treasurer.

MAROON TEAM BEST IN YEARS

Fans Are Jubilant Over Prospects of Winning Team

(Special to The Cardinal)

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 18—"The best team in five years." So Chicago gridiron fans are declaring about Stagg's Maroons, who are rounding into championship form after two weeks of intensive drill. A strong line and a speedy backfield allow the fans just cause for their boastfulness.

Lack of a veteran quarterback is giving Maroon coaches their only worry. Heinie Schultz, Varsity baseball man, has been going good in this position and the showing made by Schultz in the Georgia game last Saturday would indicate that he has the job cinched.

King, 235 pounds, and George Hartong, 208, will probably alternate at the pivot position, while Alex Proudfoot, 191, will hold a guard berth. Vandegriff, 20, will hold the other guard. These men, with Captain Lewis, 182, tackle and Fletcher, 176, tackle, will give Chicago a heavy and practically impregnable line.

O. Strohmeier and Dickson, will be wing positions, with good usefulness in Lamp and Weis. "Jimmy" Pyott will be at one of the halves, with "Cullie" Byler or Harry Thomas as his running mate. "Johnny" Thomas will be back at full, although Zorn may relieve him many times. The backfield will average 169 pounds and possess plenty of speed. Pyott is the best kicker on the squad and has been intrusted to that branch of the game.

Chicago opened its season with a 20-0 win over Georgia and last Saturday defeated the Purple 15-7.

BOARDMAN WINS FRESHMAN NET TOURNEY EASILY

Matches May Develop Strong Varsity Team

Under weather conditions which were not suitable for either fast or accurate play, the final match of the annual fall frosh tennis tournament was played off yesterday afternoon Boardman, an Oklahoma boy won that match in straight sets from Larry Robinson of Madison.

Boardman played tennis for four years in high school at Oklahoma City, playing both singles and doubles. He held the interscholastic singles championship of Oklahoma during his senior year in high school, and played on the winning team in doubles.

Using a well trained backhand stroke to advantage, playing an effective game at the net, and possessed of a good sound knowledge of tennis technique, Boardman should develop into a valuable asset to Coach Linden's tennis teams of the next few years. He will have a chance to play the winner of the Varsity tryout tournament this fall and may be expected to provide some good competition.

Only the final match of the Varsity tournament remains to be played. In a hotly contested match Tuesday, Bennett defeated Campbell, and won the right to meet Henika in the final match. According to present plans, the match will be played at the Varsity courts Friday afternoon.

Honorary Society Will Welcome Home Ec Girls

Members of the Alpha Gamma Epsilon, Home Economics honorary sorority, will welcome all students enrolled in the department at Lathrop parlors from 3:30 to 6 o'clock this afternoon. At least 100 students are expected to attend. "We want every girl taking Home Economics to come and get acquainted with the other girls," says Elsie Hess, president of the sorority. Miss Jean Krueger and Miss Hazel Manning of the faculty are helping with arrangements. Stunts, games and musical numbers will be on the program.

PREACHING PROFESSORS

THE Rev. Father Hengell, of the St. Paul's university chapel, last Sunday laid down the emphatic edict that all professors preaching atheism should be driven from the universities.

He is right. All professors who preach any dogmatic assumptions of philosophy or theology should be ejected from the universities.

The professor's place is to teach, not preach. It is for him to present fact, not dogma. It is for him to give evidence, draw conclusions, and invite challenge to his conclusions.

The teaching of theistic dogma has happily been divorced from public schools and colleges, as Church has been divorced from State. The professor who preaches theistic doctrine is just as culpable as he who preaches atheistic doctrine.

We have come in contact with a fair number of faculty scientists and philosophers, but we have yet to find one who preaches atheism. Instruction at Wisconsin, we have found, is singularly objective, calculated to cultivate the thinking processes of students.

That is the Wisconsin idea of education. It produces free thinkers, men of the type who founded the Republic.

If there be dogma dispensers in the faculty, out upon them! Let them be pointed out and driven to the refuge of less liberal institutions.

But if theism or atheism is held merely as a matter of personal belief, what true American would hint at abridging the right of freedom to believe in it?

ATHEISM ATTACKED

MR. HENGELL'S sermon makes a rhetorical classification of the varieties of atheist, a classification which will doubtless interest students of philosophy.

Mingled with the philosophical exposition is a running fire of moral correlative which culminate in the conclusion that "atheism is both a sin against God and a perversion of society." Doubtless this will convert all the God-fearing atheists on the campus, but under the circumstances some more logical refutation seems appropriate.

The sermon concludes with a stupendous list of master minds who have believed in a personal God. The fact that many of the master minds believed that the world was flat, and the fact that one of the master minds was called an atheist for saying the world was round, do not in the least ruffle Mr. Hengell's equanimity.

The following is an extract from Mr. Hengell's sermon, as printed in The Capital Times last night:

"There are a few instructors and students in our university, as in all other universities, who talk with condescending pity of what they call ignorant and uneducated people who believe in a personal God. They are fond of saying that they believe in some higher power, some force that rules the universe, but that they certainly do not believe in a personal God. They are like parrots in that they repeat without thought a lot of atheistic and agnostic phrases. They have an air about them as if they had practically a monopoly of all the science and wisdom in the world. Few in number compared to the rest of men, they would almost make one think that the tail wags the dog. Filled with foolish self-conceit, they deserve ridicule, but their influence is often so pernicious to the faith and morals of mentally immature persons that it is advisable to deal seriously with atheism for a little while."

That is probably true. We do not deny it. But if it is true, the following is also true:

There are individuals about our university, as about other universities, who talk with withering denunciation of what they call atheistic people, who don't accept everything they are told. They are fond of saying that their belief is the only belief not sinful.

They are like parrots in that they repeat without thought a lot of pious phrases and doctrines that they have been told were true. They have an air about them as if they had practically a monopoly on all the religion and wisdom in the world.

Many in number compared to those who think, they deserve exposure, for their influence is often so pernicious to the intellectual processes of mentally immature persons that thinking is stifled and progress is deferred.

Let's Have Logic

WE take no issue with the belief in a personal God; we believe in a personal God. But we do say that if atheistic theory, arrived at through some kind of thinking, is to be refuted. Some degree of logical treatment is necessary.

If it can't be refuted, it should at least be tolerated.

Pulpit pyrotechnics may seem conclusive to a congregation of morons and parrots trained in orthodoxy, but they are transparent to sophisticated students.

Communications

HOMECOMING TICKET SALES

Editor The Cardinal:

It seems that despite the scandal of last year which supposedly resulted in a shakeup in the ticket branch of the athletic department, students are being discriminated against us as in former years. For the last four years, within my own experience, there has been every year a feeling of helpless anger in the student body as a result of the tickets doled out to them for the football games.

At Homecoming the students receive poor seats, an occurrence which is justified on the grounds that the alumni must be given the first choice. This, whether justifiable or not, is considered a reasonable excuse. But no such reason exists in the case of such a game as Saturday's, against Indiana.

The stands are supposed to seat 4,000 people. There are 7,000 students, enough to half fill the present concrete stands. If the students received the consideration to which their position entitles them, they would, at such a time as this, receive the best half of the seats, the rest being left to the public. If student orders were filled with these best seats, or at least good seats, student mail orders would certainly not be filled with seats on his goal line.

However, a number of students ordered seats as an organization. The order was sent out last Tuesday, arriving not among the first, but not among the last either. These orders were filled with seats on the goal line, yet for this game there are no alumni to take precedence over the students.

We are asked to show the old Wisconsin spirit, to support the team, and then just because we do show that spirit and go to the games no matter where we are seated, the athletic department favors the public in order to induce them to attend, by offering them the best seats.

This communication is not intended merely to "blow off steam," it is written in the hope that other students who have received the same treatment will make it known by this means and possibly, by the force of student public sentiment, bring the athletic department to a realization that they are not showing their share of Wisconsin spirit.

MORE POLITICS

Editor The Cardinal:

I see from yesterday's Cardinal that Ralph E. Axley says "that no fair choice of nominees could be made, that corruption and political juggling would dominate any open meeting of the class". He further states that an open primary would be unfair to all candidates.

Allow me to show the fallacy of these statements. There are only two candidates for each office. How can such a mass meeting be unfair to both candidates? A result which is unfair to one must necessarily be "more than fair" to the other.

Axley can see, if he has any political sense at all, and I believe he does have some, that if William's ticket is to be defeated, the opposition must be solidly united. The Williams ticket, though not representative, is cleverly framed, having in its personnel as candidate a very popular student also another who has the united support of some 14 or 15 sorority sisters who are all workers.

The allowing of two other complete opposition tickets to enter the field as Risser suggests in his communication, would be dividing the opposition vote and thus make the success of the Williams ticket assured. The purpose of the mass meeting is to decide as to which nominee has the greatest support

LEAGUE TAKES UP SLUM WORK

Pamphlet Published By the League Debates Problem of Poor

Why do sixteen million people in America live in houses unfit for human beings? Why are so many of our school children undernourished? Why are our mining towns and slums of great cities such wretched places?

These are the questions which give a tremendous interest to Stuart Chase's discussion of the "Challenge of Waste" just published in pamphlet form by the League for Industrial Democracy, 70 fifth avenue, New York City.

The League for Industrial Democracy is a national organization, and is best known by students interested in public affairs. It has chapters in Columbia, Vassar, California, Kansas City Junior college, and in a number of other colleges and universities, one branch being located here. All collegians interested in thinking through the problems of industrial democracy, whatever their economic or political views, are eligible for membership.

Debate Open Shop

Norman Thomas, associate editor of the Nation, editor of The World Tomorrow, and a Princeton graduate, has recently been appointed director of the league. He announces a debate which will be held early in December in many of the middle western universities on the subject of the open versus the closed shop. Paul Blanshard, educational director of the Rochester Labor college, and Noel Sargent, manager of the "Open Shop" department of the National Association of Manufacturers, will be the debaters.

Besides Mr. Thomas, the league includes among its officers such men as Prof. Robert Morss Lovett of the University of Chicago and editor of the New Republic; Charles P. Steinmetz, the world known physicist; and Prof. Percy Dawson of the department of physiology, University of Wisconsin.

It is the purpose of the League, as its name implies, to promote industrial democracy in the United States.

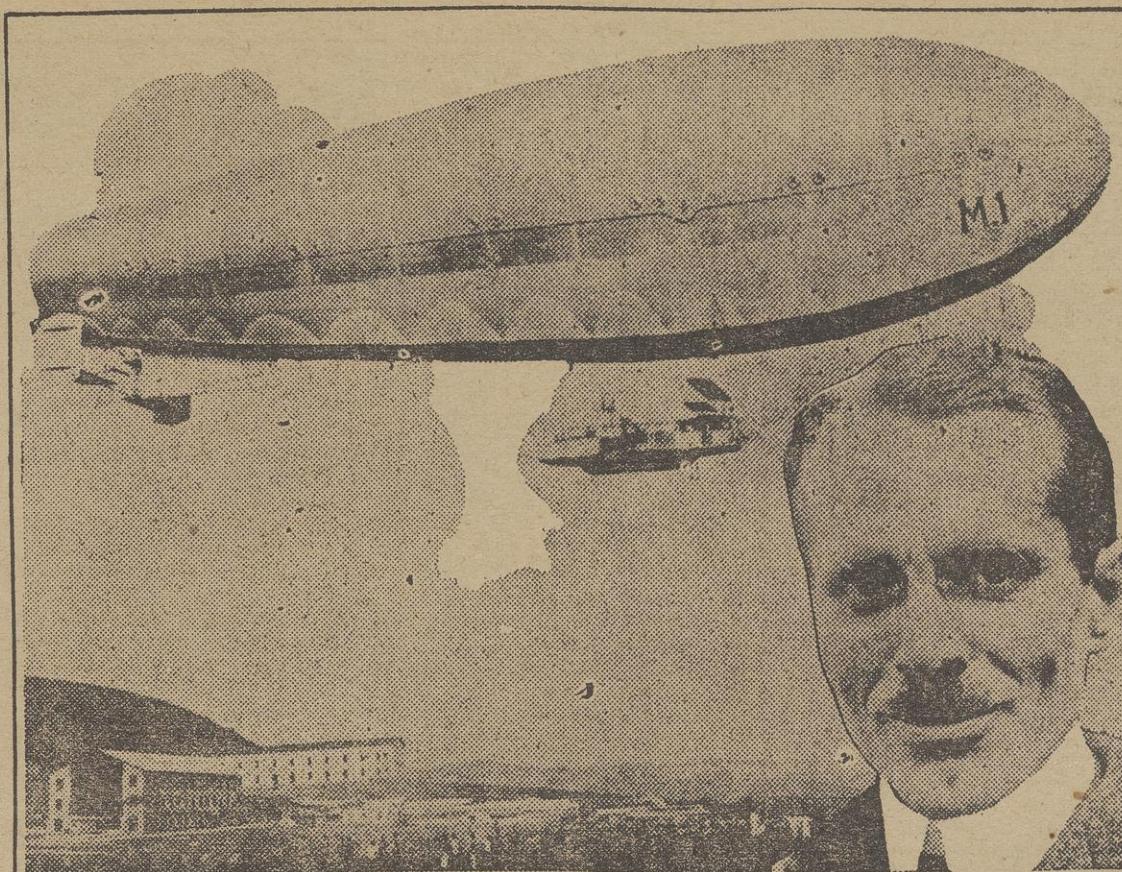

Are Wasteful

"The United States during the war," says Mr. Chase, "was able to support five million of its most vigorous workers in productive idleness, supply them with unlimited munitions of war, transport great numbers of them overseas in American bottoms, and still maintain the population at probably the highest average standard of well-being ever enjoyed.

"We did that in war times because we had the beginning of some sort of co-ordinated industry. We do not do it in peace times because of our enormous wastes.

"Modern scientific studies show that if the national income of the United States were divided evenly after allowing a percentage for necessary saving, it would barely meet the minimum budget of health and decency compiled by the United States Department of Labor. Everyone knows that the national income is divided most unevenly.

HONORARY AG FRAT MAY PRESENT CUP

Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, held a meeting last night in Agricultural hall, to discuss the advisability of awarding a cup to the freshman with the highest scholastic standing in the College of Agriculture.

The giving of a prize to a Freshman is an innovation in the school and Alpha Zeta believes that it will serve as an objective to the Freshmen. A committee with Thomas Daniels as chairman, and K. P. Sayre and H. E. Jamieson, conferred with Dean James and he highly favors the project.

Plans for an essay contest were discussed, and a committee, headed by W. A. Sumner of the agricultural journalism department with R. C. Thomas and H. B. Parmels as his assistants, was appointed to select the subjects. Alpha Zeta has sponsored an essay contest every year for the purpose of stimulating a deeper interest in agricultural problems confronting the farmers of today. The contest is open to all students in the College of Agriculture and the essays need not be submitted until the end of the present semester. It is believed that a large number of students enrolled in the college will enter the contest. The subjects will be announced within a few days.

ADOPT SYSTEM FOR IMPROVING N. O. L. ORATORY

Prof. James O'Neill Announces New Rulings For Contestants

Prof. James O'Neill announced yesterday that the following system for improving speeches given in the Northern Oratorical League has been decided upon:

All students who wish to try out for the Northern Oratorical League contest must submit typewritten manuscripts for an elimination contest to Professor O'Neill by February 12, 1923. Elimination of poor manuscripts will be made by a group of judges. They will also coach those who participate in the final contest previous to the selection of the N. O. L. orator. This will be held sometime in March.

The following sections from the Northern Oratorical League constitution show the conditions which must be met by contestants:

Only persons who are bona fide undergraduate students at the time of the contest, who have not received an academic degree, and who do not have in all departments a total of four years of college credit, shall be admitted as competitors. No contestant shall have attended any institution of the rank of college or university more than four years in all, excluding only time spent in preparatory departments of such schools.

No oration shall contain more than 2,000 words.

No quotation shall be used in delivering an oration without making it plain that the same is a quotation, and not more than 100 words of the quotation shall be used in the oration.

FIRST NUMBER ENGINEER MAG OUT YESTERDAY

Wisconsin Engineer Begins Year With Interesting Issue

The first issue of the Wisconsin Engineer for this, its twenty-seventh year, was distributed on the campus yesterday.

"How to Choose Drawing Instruments," a comprehensive and detailed description of the qualities that make up every part of a good drawing set, is the leading article, by Prof. H. D. Orth of the drawing department. The article was written expressly for freshmen in drawing 1.

"The Navy's Relation to Commerce and Industry" is an article by R. R. Emmett, Lieutenant Commander in the United States Navy and traces the advance of the navy from its infancy to its present strength, and the corresponding effect upon the commerce of the country. This article was obtained through the Engineering College Magazines, Associated, of which the Wisconsin Engineer is a member.

Other features of the magazine are:

The Athletic department, which gives an individual account of the accomplishments of engineers who have made their name in athletics.

Campus Notes, containing a mixture of personals, semi-personals, and short notes, with smatterings of class-room and campus humor.

Alumni Notes department, containing a list of the occupations of the members of the class of 1921.

To Pave With Brick.

"Within this enclosure, the area will be paved with brick somewhat in the manner which obtains in connection with the Lincoln statue in front of Bascom hall.

"The double driveway in the Lesser mall, leading to University avenue, will have a cross drive immediately in front of the statue, thus affording a near view to visitors without leaving their cars.

Has Great Dignity

"There is much dignity in the treatment of the statue precinct, and little of the kind of formality 'hat repels,' Mr. Peabody added. "The statue is held close to the ground. It may be viewed intimately. The steps leading to the pedestal invite approach. The seats on either side suggest welcome.

"The place of the statue at the entrance of the College of Agriculture is fortunate. The statue dominates the location and commands attention. It will always be the principal figure in this important part of the university grounds."

DOUBTS POWER OF KNOWLEDGE

Illinois Professor Says Action Also Needed By Engineers

"Someone has said that knowledge is power. It isn't any such thing," said Prof. I. R. Baker of the University of Illinois in a talk on the "Elements for Highest Engineering Success" before 350 juniors and seniors of the College of Engineering yesterday.

"The accumulation of knowledge may tend toward the acquisition of power, but is not power itself. Not what you know, but what you can do, is what counts," Professor Baker said.

Prof. Baker was formerly the head of the Department of Civil Engineering at the University of Illinois. He brought out the following five points as the most essential elements.

Lists Five Points

1. Technical ability. Students acquire facts about problems rather than the ability to solve them. It is what you can do, not what you know that counts.

2. Breadth of knowledge. Social conditions, labor and capital, international trade, politics, economics, history, and all problems of public interest should be within the scope of knowledge of any successful man.

"If an engineer has no opinion on affairs of the day," said Professor Baker, "other men will not see his acquaintance, and his engineering business will suffer."

Engineers Miss Chances

3. Initiative. The most able engineer must have the ability to find new methods of solving old problems.

4. Executive ability. "Many higher priced positions in the engineering field are held by non-engineers because an engineer with executive ability could not be found."

5. Ability to express thought. Every engineer in the course of his business must explain plans, write letters, give talks, make contracts and in many other ways present his opinions to the public. If he is unable to do this in a clear, forceful manner his success will be negligible.

GRAFTERS' CLUB PLANS TO HOLD FRUIT DISPLAY

Pie Making Contest and Auction Part of Program

Apples, other fruits, chrysanthemums, pies,—and lots of them,—is the plan suggested by the Grafters' club at their meeting last night for the annual fruit and flower show to be held November 15 in the Horticulture building.

An auction sale of all the material display will take place after the exhibit is over and as a special inducement to people to purchase pies, a silver dollar will be baked in one of them.

Heretofore the display has been mainly of fruit grown at the university, but this year an effort will be made to induce some of the large apple growers throughout the state to send exhibits. If this plan is successful, the fruit and flower show in the future will be in the nature of a state wide exhibit. To further the interest in this project, prizes will be offered for the best display of fruit.

The home economics girls will be given an opportunity to show just how much college education helps them to make pies. A pie making contest is held in connection with the show in which any Home Ec can compete by making an apple pie. Bouquets of chrysanthemums and other flowers will be given as prizes.

HALFWAY MARK IS REACHED IN LUTHERAN DRIVE

Total More than $87,000 in State and City at Present

The half-way mark in the Lutheran Memorial church campaign was passed yesterday when worker throughout the state announced total subscription of $87,152.25 toward the $150,000 goal, it was announced at a banquet in the Womans' building last evening.

The drive in Madison has reached $26,197.25. Milwaukee has subscribed $50,000 and small towns throughout the state report $10,955.

An anonymous gift of $15,000 has enabled workers on the church's building fund drive to double the amounts of pledges obtained yesterday and thereby make a total of $1,742 for the day's achievement according to an announcement by Prof. Julius Olsen at a banquet in the Womans' building last evening.

A similar plan, by which the amounts brought in to-day and to-morrow will be doubled, was also made possible by this gift, as only one third of the original amount was used for yesterday's doubling. One thousand dollars will be added to the total of the team bringing in the largest pledge Friday evening.

Members of two student teams have thus far brought in pledges of $4,436, toward their goal of $18,000 for the pipe organ to be installed in the church. These teams reported $2,348 as the result of their campaigning yesterday.

The new Luther Memorial church will cost $300,000.

PLAN TO RAISE MUSICAL IDEAL

We Consume an Unbalanced Musical Ration," Says Dykema

"As a nation we are consuming an unpalatable and decidedly unbalanced musical ration," said Prof. Peter W. Dykema of the School of Music in discussing plans of his national committee for bettering the standards of popular music. Professor Dykema was appointed chairman of the committee of five at the Ninth National Recreation congress held in Atlantic City last week.

"We are musically undernourished. America needs good music as badly as Austria needs good food. What better proof of this fact can one ask than the haste with which the public turns from one bad popular song to another in unconscious search for songs which will lastingly satisfy their musical hunger?

Write To Poets

"Good popular songs are those which stress some fine and desirable aspect of American life, and by both music and words awaken a sincere response in the hearts of the people," said Prof. Dykema when asked to define the goal at which he was aiming.

The first step taken by the committee will be to write to the 25 best poets in America and inform them of the desire to promote better popular music. The committee will not necessarily publish the songs but will promote interest in better songs which may be submitted to various publishers. It hopes to make writers of both the words and music consciously attempt to write better songs and not merely songs that will have big sales.

To Raise Quality

Through this campaign the publishers and writers will become interested in looking over the material which they are turning out and will demand a higher quality, it is hoped.

"I do not mean good songs are highbrow songs. Let us have songs in lighter vein, songs of humor, sport, friendship, and love, songs that express any ideal of American life, not only its loftier moments," Professor Dykema explained.

"This musical revolt has as its aim conversion of actor and audience, composer, and publisher. We want to encourage poets and composer to produce better songs, and the public to appreciate them."

This movement is nation wide and the eastern newspapers are already discussing it.

U. W. DEBATERS CHOOSE SUBJECT FOR DISCUSSION

At an official meeting of those interested in Forensics, it was decided that the debate question to be submitted by Wisconsin to the Midwest Debating League should be, "Resolved, that the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution be Repealed."

Under the Midwest league's rules each of the member universities, Michigan, Illinois, and Wisconsin, submits a debate question to be judged by a representative committee, which chooses the best subject.

Professor O'Neill, in discussing the prohibition question, stated that it was perhaps the best, because of the large amount of material available to both sides, mainly as a result of political campaigns, "The Literary Digest's" recent straw vote and the succeeding editorial comment.

The decision was also made that the plan of having one judge for an intercollegiate debate be continued. Illinois supports the no-judge open forum decision, while Michigan takes the same stand as Wisconsin.

The date for the joint debate between the Philomathia and Hesperia Literary societies was set for January 5. The question, in substance, is: "Resolved, that the Constitution of the United States be so amended that the Supreme court be relieved of the final power to declare a law unconstitutional, and that any law so declared by the court, if reenacted by the next succeeding congress, become constitutional."

Professor O'Neill announced that the Vilas medals won by C. R. Heft, R. B. Stewart, Leo Kohl, F. J. Moreau, and P. G. Deicher, have arrived and are now obtainable at his office. These medals are awarded to intercollegiate debaters in their order of seniority, six men receiving the honor each year.

The Forensic board will soon announce the dates and subject for the intercollegiate debate tryouts.
