"No reason exists for the University's devoting itself to intelligent public service that is not an equally good reason for a similar activity on the part of every University Alumnus and Alumni Association."

A DEFINITION

THE best definition I can frame of an alumnus is that he is the devoted son of a good mother. A devoted son best serves a good mother by living a high and good life, in the first place, and in the second place, by remembering her in his strength and in her weakness. Alma Mater, our institutional mother, unlike our dear mother of flesh and blood, is always young and always growing and always needing strength. She is a creature of immortal youth and deathless function and endless needs. There is about her an eternal fecundity. Young scions play about her knees in ever increasing numbers while great-grandchildren come on pilgrimages in her honor.

During my twelve years' Presidency of our University I have met many alumni of many types in many quarters of the globe. I have never yet met one whose eyes did not brighten and whose spirit did not glow at the mention of his Alma Mater. Some were radicals and wanted things done and done quickly and done differently. Others were conservatives and wanted nothing done. Some were progressives and saw with steady vision the path human training ought to follow in our day. Others, however practical about their affairs, dissolved into sentiment immediately upon entering the long walk from the post office, and saw the University, as John Hay once put it in his literary way, "through the rosy mist of memory transfigured by the eternal magic of what once seemed to them endless youth."—EDWIN A. ALDERMAN, President of the University of Virginia.

THE PRESIDENT AT PLAY

OUR CANOE TRIP

By ALICE VAN HISE

The party, of which the sketch herewith presents the point of view of one member, consisted of President Charles R. Van Hise, his daughter, Alice R. Van Hise, Professor and Mrs. C. K. Leith, and four Indians. The writer of the article, Alice Van Hise, was bow paddle in the Peterborough in which her father paddled stern.

TO go on a canoe trip under the right conditions is the ideal way to spend one's vacation. Four of us and our Indian guides started from Nipigon Station, which is north of Lake Superior and east shore of Lake Nipigon. Near this post we spent a most interesting day at an Indian Reservation. The Indians are very poor. Because of the war, furs are selling at a fraction of previous prices. They depend of Port Arthur, went up the Nipigon River to Lake Nipigon, across Lake Nipigon, down the lake, portaged into Black Sturgeon water, and then down Black Sturgeon River to the railroad. The distance paddled was about two hundred miles.

The wholly wild country is clad with tall deep forests of spruce, birch, poplar, and a few pines. The only inhabited spot during the whole trip was about Nipigon House, a Hudson Bay Post on the west almost entirely in summer upon fish.

We enjoyed the day with the Indians immensely, but I think we had even more fun paddling down the Black Sturgeon River. For quite a distance the river has a red slate bottom which gives the water a rich red color, and on either side slate cliffs extend perpendicularly. I shall never forget the combination of the brilliant red cliffs crowned by tall green trees, and over all, the blue, blue, sky. The upper part of the Black Sturgeon is a shallow stream with many rapids. O, what joy to glide down it in the "rip of

At night after the hard day's work when our arms and backs were tired from paddling, it was fun to sit around the big warm camp fire. How delicious was the odor of the coffee steaming in the pot and the bacon frying in the pan. At nine o'clock when our words became unintelligible we went to our balsambough beds, and we fell asleep hearing the crackling sound of the camp fire in front of our tents and the roaring of the rapids nearby.

Each morning we were awakened by the Indians chopping wood. I never ceased to wonder at the speed and dexterity with which the guides worked. They could do everything; set up tents, pull them down and pack them, make fires without having to blow at them once, cook meals that make my mouth water at the thought of them, carry two hundred pounds on their backs, and paddle and pole the canoes marvelously!

We did many different things when in camp. I remember one day, which we called a busy one, father caught a twenty-five inch brook trout with a fly. We washed our clothes in the stream, and the two women of the party cut the hair of one of the men. Fishing by the rapids, swimming in the clear water, tramping through the woods, or resting by the fire! There is no jollier way in which to spend one's days.

O, the physical exertion, the paddling, the plop-plop of the paddles dipping into the water, the racing rivers, the quiet lakes, the crackling camp fires, and the great untamed trees growing all about us! Do you wonder that tears came to our eyes when we were compelled to leave it all, all that meant the great out of doors?

the racing tide," and what a triumphant feeling we had when we skimmed nicely between two treacherous rocks without hitting either of them. Of course one does not always have this feeling. Indeed, I remember at a very rough place, all of us were stuck on rocks, but we were not less happy for that.

THE GOLDEN JUBILEE OF '66

By WILLIAM H. SPENCER, Secretary

I might paraphrase the famous Roman general's report, "We met, we looked into each other's faces, and we had to be introduced." We four were, Maggie Shears, Agnes Sawyer, Edwin C. Mason, Ex, and Will Spencer. Unfortunately the fifth surviving member of the class, Ellen Byrne Merrill, who has sometimes sent four daughters to the University, could not come on account of illness in the family; for her we felt the deepest sympathy with regrets that we could not see her face to face. I recall her as a bright faced blond of seventeen or so. Can it be that the years have whitened her hair and wrinkled her face as they have served the rest of us? Maggie Shears, if I recall correctly, has been a teacher and principal of the same school in Chicago for a quarter of a century. She is now the wife of a Mr. Visconti, a business man of that city. Agnes Sawyer has been for many years the happy wife of a Mr. Ferguson, a cultivated and prosperous Englishman, who accompanied her to Madison. Their home is in Nebraska. They have a number of children settled in different parts of the west. Fortune seems to have smiled on Agnes.

Of course our talk was chiefly reminiscent. The girls seemed to especially recall the boys of the class. They reminded me of the one who expressed his little vanity by shaving the hair from the middle of his ample forehead to give him the Websterian aspect. And the one who is immortalized in nursery rhyme as the companion of Harry Gill. The sweetest faced girl (I did not of course say this in the presence of my classmates) was Anna Pickard (Atkins) who died last February. We all agreed that the "star" scholar of the class was Mary B. Reed, the valedictorian and the daughter of Professor Reed. Did she not give me on graduation day the loveliest of bouquets, and nestled inside was her photograph? She married and died many years ago. Should this communication by chance fall into the hands of any of her family I shall regard it as a great favor if they would write to me. I recall a tragic experience in connection with the father of this young lady. We sat one forenoon in his classroom, when the door opened and a telegram was handed to him. He tore open the envelope and read the announcement of the death of his only son—the pride of his father's heart—who was killed while leading his company in a charge on Fort Fisher. O, the agony depicted on that poor man's face, the hands uplifted to Heaven that seemed to have no pity for him, the cry to God to "Give back my son"—nothing can ever efface that memory but death itself. We pupils sat dumb for it was no time for speech from us—and then silently as at a funeral we passed out one by one. How many such hearts are today mourning like Rachel, and will not, cannot be comforted. Other reminiscences crowd to my pen clamoring for utterance, but I have been invited to give a short "write-up" and I will have mercy on my readers.

76's REUNION

A relatively large portion of the class of 1876 came back to celebrate its fortieth anniversary. Besides participating in the general festivities, twenty-seven members of the class were entertained at luncheon on Monday noon by Mrs. Nellie Williams Brown at her residence on University Heights. At the conclusion of the luncheon Mr. Dudgeon, who was the class historian, produced the class history which he had obtained from the Historical Library and called the roll of the class. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hayes (Clara Lyon) of Eden Vale, California; Lillie Clark (Mrs. John J. Fisher), Los Angeles, California; Helen D. Street, Chicago; Agnes Haskell (Mrs. George H. Noyes), Milwaukee; Mrs. Mary Oertel Atwood, Prairie du Sac; Dr. George C.

Stockman, Mason City, Iowa; George Haven, Waterloo, Iowa; Arthur S. Ritchie, Omaha, Nebraska. Those present from Madison were Eleanor Henry; Mr. and Mrs. John M. Olin, (Helen Remington); Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Dudgeon; Professor W. H. Williams; Mrs. R. G. Thwaites (Jessie Turvill), Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Hall (Mary Tuttle); Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Hoyt (Mary L. Clark).

As the names of the others were called such information was given as the other members of the class could supply.

Among the guests of the class at the luncheon were Professor Parkinson, Mrs. William F. Allen, and Mrs. William W. Daniells.

Two old fashioned photograph albums dating back to '76 and containing photographs of students and teachers proved of great interest.

1881 REUNION

By Professor HOWARD L. SMITH

—By Photoart

THE Class of 1881, to the number of about a dozen, were the guests on reunion day of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Steensland for dinner at the Golf Club. The afternoon was spent upon the delightful grounds in quiet exchange of reminiscences and renewal of friendships. There were present, besides the hostess and her two daughters, W. P. Lyon, Emil Baensch, J. A. T. Bjornson, Emma Gattiker, W. H. Goodall, Eva Goodall Achtenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. White, and Professor and Mrs. Howard L. Smith. Two other members of 1881 who attended the reunion are Charles N. Brown and E. M. Deming.

REUNION OF 1886

By EMMA NUNNS PEASE, Secretary

THE 30th class reunion of '86 will long be remembered by those members who were fortunate enough to be present at the luncheon served Tuesday noon on the lawn between Chadbourne Hall and old Library Hall, where eleven of us sat together and enjoyed the lunch served by the class of 1916. Letters and telegrams received from classmates were read. We heard from George Brown, Stella Prentice Conradson, Sarah Gallet Smith, William Hallam, and Julius Hortvet, as well as a telegram from F. G. Hobart, and a report from Millie C. Forsythe.

A business meeting was held and the following officers elected for the ensuing five years: F. E. Chandler, president, Waupaca; Mrs. Anna Wood O'Connor, vice-president, Milwaukee; Emma Nunns Pease, secretary, Wauwatosa; Mary F. Connor, treasurer, Token Creek. It was further decided to maintain a "Round Robin" letter to be arranged for and started by the secretary. All interested please write the secretary immediately.

Those present at Madison were: Florence Griswold Buckstaff, Mary F. Connor, Anna Wood O'Connor, J. R. Thompson, Mary Saxe Chandler, Fremont Chandler and son (1916), Lynn S. Pease, Emma Nunns Pease, Leila Dow, Katherine MacDonald Jones, Carrie Morgan, and E. B. Belden.

CLASS OF '96 HOLDS ITS LARGEST REUNION

THE Class of '96 came back! The Class of '96 came back in larger numbers than it has had at any of its previous reunions!

The Class of '96 came back—wives, husbands, and children!

The Class of '96 celebrated the twentieth anniversary of its graduation in the same quiet fashion in which it did all of its work when it was on the Campus.

The Class of '96 made the resolution to have its twenty-fifth reunion in 1921 still larger!

The Class of '96 began its quiet celebration with a picnic at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Crowley on Lake Mendota, where it held its fifteenth reunion picnic five years ago. The members of the class with their families numbering 84, of whom 40 were adults and 44 children, enjoyed a big picnic dinner. The afternoon was spent in recalling the days when the class was on the Campus from the time when it entered with President Charles Kendall Adams and Richard T. Ely to the great occasion when it was to have been one of the speakers at the dinner and was to have presented John Muir's famous clock on behalf of the alumni of California, but he was unable to attend. In his absence the class gave good account of itself in the yelling and the singing.

The members of the Class of '96 who attended the reunion were:

Shirley B. Tarrant, W. H. Williams, Annie Main Roach, Dr. and Mrs. George F. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry G.

was graduated four years later. The story was brought down to modern times by Oliver B. Zimmerman who gave a vivid account of how narrowly he escaped execution as a spy in Russia just after the European war broke out.

The Class of '96 attended in a body the senior-alumni luncheon on the Campus Tuesday noon, marched in the alumni procession in the afternoon, and attended the baseball game and the glee club reunion concert later. In the evening it marched to the alumni dinner and occupied one of the big front tables. Frank V. Cornish of San Francisco

REUNION OF THE CLASS OF 1901

By Doctor L. B. WOLFENSON

THE "Noughty Ones" began to assemble promptly for their reunion on Sunday, June 18, in anticipation of the preparation made by the local committee, consisting of Louis Wolfenson, Mrs. Florence Ketchum Corbus, and Ed Schubring. Louis had arranged gorgeous badges of purple and gold—the regal class colors—which he distributed to the gathering host on their registering on Monday morning at Music Hall.

duced by President Lynn Tracy, who acted as toastmaster, caused the occasion to be one long to be remembered. An enumeration of all the celebrities who spoke and an account of the beautiful sentiments uttered would alone furnish material for a volume of this Magazine, but modesty and consideration causes the "Noughty Ones" to forbear.

On Tuesday the class banqueted at noon at a reserved table on the

—By Photoart

All was then in readiness for the noon luncheon of the class at the Orchards, the country home of the Ketchums, across Lake Monona. At high noon the myrmidons of '01 assembled at Angle Worm boat station to take ship for a sail across the lake to the feast. Excellent grub and monstrosly large, sweet, luscious Ketchum strawberries and the same brand of rich, yellow, inspissated cream without limit furnished the best meal the class had partaken of since the feast at the same place at the fifth reunion in 1906. The flow of the soul, opened by "Mike" Cleary, the insurance commissioner of the class, and intro-

Upper Campus, with the other alumni, but distinguished by the great numerical emblem of the class, ten feet high and brilliantly resplendent in purple and gold, 1901, placed at their table. This was so much a feature of the occasion that the '11ers envy was roused to such a pitch that they desired to desert their own colors and to appropriate the alpha and omega of our emblem to themselves, since that is all there is of the '11ers. We in our generosity would have yielded them this distinction, as we would still have a worthy '90 left, but we needed the whole emblem for the alumni parade and moving picture, in which we again shone forth and won the plaudits of the assembled multitude.

The numerals were then transported to the great banquet of the alumni where they again marked the place of 1901 among the classes. Some of us survived the glorious alumni banquet in the evening and stayed over to Commencement Day also, to grace the occasion, and we had a perfectly grand time.

The following attended the reunion:

Janet M. Smith, Paul Stover, W. A. Walker, Jr., Edith S. Patten, Dorothea Curtis Chickering, Katharine Vilas Henmon, Lynn H. Tracy, L. B. Wolfenson, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. B. Schuëring, J. W. Johnson, L. D. Rowell, Marie C. Kohler, A. H. Pfund, Grace R. Hastie, Florence Ketchum Corbus, Walter P. Hirschberg, Katherine P. Regan, A. C. King, J. B. Crabtree, Clara Stillman Hartman, R. B. Hartman, Rachel M. Kelsey, C. R. Rounds, W. C. Burdick, Flora Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. White, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Stebbins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Rowell, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tomlinson, M. J. Cleary, T. M. Priestley, S. H. Richards.

THE FIFTEENTH REUNION OF 1901

By L. H. TRACY

THE 1916 reunion of the class of 1901 is the fifth reunion the class has held in the fifteen years since graduation, if the last hour attempt to have us hold a joint reunion with 1900 a year ago could be called a reunion. Our first gathering was the year of the University Jubilee in 1904, and the others were in 1906, 1911, 1915 and 1916. But while the proposed joint reunion of a year ago undoubtedly had some effect on this year's attendance, those who came back this June felt fully repaid and promised themselves to be on hand when the next call came. Monday afternoon, June 19, the class was delightfully entertained at the beautiful summer home of I. P. Ketchum across Lake Monona, at the invitation of Mrs. Florence Ketchum Corbus, '01. Tuesday noon the class had lunch with the other alumni on the lawn behind old Library Hall, and took part in the alumni parade with our justly famous 1901 numerals. The class was also well represented at the alumni dinner, and were especially enthusiastic when "W's" were awarded to Paul Stover, Billy Burdick, and Walter Hirschberg.

It is quite impossible to describe a reunion, for much of the pleasure of it is in meeting old classmates face to face, and talking over old friends and old times, and the present activities of the individual members of the class. Billy Walker came out to his first reunion and he has expressed his feelings in no uncertain terms. I had told him that Clifford Ireland, ex '01, was a candidate for Congress in Peoria district. This is what Billy wrote after he returned to Milwaukee:—"Extend to Clifford Ireland my sincerest regards when next you see him and tell him that I would rather have taken in our reunion than to have gone to Congress for a hundred years." And that's the way most of them felt about it.

RECOLLECTIONS OF THE 1906 DECENNIAL REUNION

By A. E. VAN HAGAN

TO THE ALUMNI OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN AND PARTICULARLY TO THE CLASS OF 1911:

We, the Class of 1906, thrilling with youth and filled with the spirit of enthusiasm resulting from a successful reunion, do hereby challenge you to a game of baseball to be played on the Lower Campus on Tuesday afternoon, June 20, at 2:00 o'clock.

We do not expect you to accept this challenge. If any of you have the hardihood to accept it, we do hereby covenant ourselves to make a spectacle of the members of the opposing team individually and collectively.

We will permit the opposing team to select the weapons: Shall it be an indoor ball or an outdoor ball?

June 17, 1916.

Yours in the Faith,
CLASS OF 1906.

WELL it's over. The aches have vanished from our over-wearied muscles, and the natural feeling of depression that succeeded the reunion has cleared away. The mental pictures of our two days at Madison have been placed with the dimming pictures in memory's picture gallery. Before the pictures grow too dim let me set down a little of what occurred.

Monday morning was devoted to registration and to visiting. Many of the prodigals had not seen each other for ten years. Others had never met before. A number of the boys proudly brought along their wives for a first visit to Madison. These '06 wives were a jolly lot. Let's see. Who was there?

First there was Mrs. Florence Lackner Divekey, a little thinner

—By Photoart

The '06 headquarters were at 439 Murray Street. A banner stretched across Murray near State, apprised the returning alumni that the headquarters were nearby. The arrangements were made by a Madison Committee consisting of Messrs. Otto Kowalke and Don Mowry. They received assistance from a number of other '06ers living in Madison.

than the chubby Florence of ten years ago, and a great deal more lively. Then there was Ralph Colie, very busy indeed with a black eyed young lady of three; naturally Mrs. C. was there. Then there was Zeb Kinsey, the lad who found and returned the half dollar I lost in the school yard of the Dubuque Fourth Ward School twenty-five years ago. It was tragedy for me and temptation for Zeb, but he measured up then to a high standard and has always maintained it. Zeb brought with him his bride of two weeks, a sweet faced California girl who speedily adapted herself to the crowd.

I can't discuss them all but following is the list of those who registered at Alumni Headquarters:

Chas. A. Taylor, A. E. Van Hagan, Ada D. Wilke, Anna L. Patterson, Ralph W. Collie, R. J. Hardacker, I. L. Reynolds, John Whyte, Bertha Davis, Katharine Minch, Helen Turvill, Anna G. Birge, Jennie Thayer Schrage, Laura M. Olsen, Florence Lackner Divekey, Maude Watrous Betts, Marion Ryan, Alma Runge, Polly Fenton, Adelaide Miller, Helen Whitney Sanborn, Walter E. Sprecher, Edna Graves Ames, Arden R. Johnson, W. E. Wagener, F. R. Marks, Robert W. Herdegen, G. W. Blanchard, Lieut. T. H. Jones, Ernest B. Miller, Harry S. Heller, Wm. Conway, Mary S. Walsler, O. L. Kowalke, E. T. Howson, Henry J. Hunt, Mabel Davidson Inbusch, James I. Bush, Emma L. Glenz, Louise Jahns Messmer, Anna Smith Blakeman, Meta Stark Kieckhefer.

Monday noon we lunched at the Candy Shop. The '11 Class lunched in the same room. There was just a partition between the two classes. We paid our respects to each other.

After lunch, we took the boat across Mendota to Bernard's Park where we played ball. A number of girls showed proficiency at the national game, Mrs. Kinsey distinguishing herself as a pitcher. 1911 came over a little later. We played ball, '11 vs. '06. We allowed '11 to select the umpire, a fatal mistake. They selected a black haired girl, named Amy Zillmer, whose decisions more than made up in class enthusiasm for what they lacked in judicial flavor. Both sides scored runs but the committee on awards unhesitatingly gives the Monday game to "Amytheump."

We had a basket lunch at Bernards and then sung ourselves back across Mendota and went to the class play, "The Road to Yesterday."

After the play we attended the Pipe of Peace ceremony, now developed into a very well worth while ceremony. If you have not attended the Pipe of Peace ceremony in recent years, do so next year. It is probably the one activity of Commencement Week that is peculiar to Wisconsin.

We began Tuesday with a parade. Headed by Walter Sackett and a band we marched up State Street, around the square, back Langdon Street, and into Library Hall, where we attended the business meeting of the Alumni Association. We must have marched several miles, although my nephew and my niece, who rode in a wheel-barrow in front of me, thought the event was over rather quickly.

We lunched again at the Candy Shop and got back to the Campus a little too late to lead the alumni parade per schedule. However we arrived at the Lower Campus in time for the game and Manager Zeb Kinsey put a championship '06 ball team in the field against the '11 youngsters. '11 blew notwithstanding the fine rooting of a group of their sirens headed by May Metcalf and "Amytheump." The line-up and score follows:

Law	..... 1st. B. ....	Howe
Wagener	..... 2nd. B. ....	Rohn
Kinsey	..... C. F. ....	Dohmen
Taylor, Chas.	.. 3rd. B. ....	Schwada

		Pugh
		Coach Jones, Umpire.
		Attendance, 10,000.
		Score 1906—26; 1911—7.

After the ball game we had refreshments with Mrs. Birge and her daughter. We were disgracefully thirsty, and Miss Birge had a busy time trying to fill up the warriors of her class. "After all," she said, "the man who carries water to the camel doesn't have such a hard job."

Promptly on schedule, the march to the alumni banquet began. Professor Olson won his way to our hearts by having '06 march in after the faculty, thus giving us a chance to get our big class at adjoining tables. The dinner was good, impromptu stunts came fast, speeches were short, and the banquet was most satisfactory. During the dinner a committee of '06ers visited '11 and smoked with them a pipe of peace to close hostilities. After the ceremony, the old corn-cob pipe, bedecked with the colors of the two classes, was presented to "Amytheump"; also the remainder of the package of "Puddler's delight" with which the pipe was loaded. Amy brought over to us a biscuit with a paper hatchet buried in it.

Many of the class still had the energy and the enthusiasm to attend the alumni reception and ball immediately after the dinner, and all who were there felt that it surpassed all preceding affairs of its kind. '11 was there in uniform, and it seemed only proper to ratify the terms of peace. The ratification was—well, never mind,—but look here 1916! You can't have 1911 to play with when you come back five years from now. They're ours.

Those of you who feel that time is not dealing gently with you, that the daily tasks are a bit too hard, will do well to come back to Madison at reunion time to frolic with your classmates. It is the way to lighten your heart and to strengthen yourself for the tests to come. It is the way to turn back the hands of time. It is the road to yesterday.

1902

THE 1902's who were in Madison Alumni Day, gathered at the University Club for luncheon. Among the men present Lehman Resenheimer is not shown in the above picture ner is Miss McMahon. In spite of the fact that barely a corporal's guard was here, the same old 1902 spirit was manifested and every one took part in the alumni parade.

At luncheon the fifteenth reunion of the class was thoroughly discussed, and many suggestions made. It was the unanimous opinion that in June, 1917, the '02's should appear en masse and celebrate the 15th anniversary. An executive committee of three was selected for this purpose consisting of Leila Bascom, Victor Cronk, and F. O. Leiser. This committee is to organize immediately and make such additions to the committee as may seem expedient. Watch the November issue of the Magazine.

Following are some of the '02 people, not living in Madison, who have promised to attend the 1917 reunion:

Frank W. Bucklin, West Bend; Dr. A. H. Curtis, 104 So. Michigan Ave., Chicago; Mrs. Merle Pickford Steven, Eau Claire; Rev. William A. Lee, 64 W. 10th St., Atlanta, Ga.; Jennie B. Sherrill, Whitewater; Harry E. G. Kemp, Boscobel; Mrs. Helen Thompson Cameron, Eau Claire; Paul M. Bingel, First Nat'l. Bank Bldg., Milwaukee; L. P. Resenheimer, Kewaskum; Waldemar C. Wehl, First Nat'l. Bank Bldg., Milwaukee; George A. Polley, Winona, Minn.

Addresses of the following members of the class of 1902 are missing:

Harriet W. Kerns, Charlotte E. Shedd, (Mrs. Willard McKee), Walter R. Menzel, Gustav A. Anderson, Lake C. Alexander, Anton D. Elmbeck, Anna C. Ackerman.

THE eventful days of June 20-22 saw one of the most enthusiastic reunions ever held on the old varsity Campus when the Class of 1911, "five years out and going strong", met at 703 State Street.

On Monday, at one o'clock, a luncheon was enjoyed at the Candy Shop at which over one hundred of the "old loyals" were present. The Milwaukee delegation planned the costumes, so that Villa's army looked like a Sunday School class. White shirtwaists with cardinal numerals, front and back, with cardinal stockings and sashes, Mexican hats, decorated with gore, comprised the "get-up."

A business meeting was held after the luncheon and new officers elected for the 1921 reunion. Robert O'Malley was named president; Ursula Brennan O'Malley and Mae Metcalf, first and second vice-presidents; "Stoney" Steinhagen, secretary; and "Red" Dohmen, treasurer. The matter of establishing an endowment was considered and it was decided to act in conjunction with the General Alumni Association.

Then the army went by boat to Bernard's Park where Amy Zillmer's nine put it all over poor old 1906 in a real game, and a "chilly" conearne supper was partaken of by all. On returning to town a council of war was held somewhere on King Street.

In the alumni parade on Tuesday, Nineteen Eleven, took all the honors and, at the banquet in the evening, Villa's band completely surrounded the enemy, 1906, in a real snake dance. It was generally agreed that "Doc" Lilly proved the worth of an efficient management.

The following attended the reunion:

GLEE CLUB REUNION

BY JOHN S. MAIN, '98

THE Glee Club Reunion, like all other events of Commencement Week, has passed into oblivion. Or, no, hardly that, for it still lingers agreeably in the minds of a few of us. We can still hear the dulcet tenor of Spencer Beebe, singing "Massa's In The Cold Ground," just as he sang it back in '92,—and those who heard it then know what that means. We can still hear the old time quartette in the act of rejuvenating one of its early triumphs, and we can feel the thrill of joy with which the whole club threw out its chest and roared "On Wisconsin", "Old College Days", and "Uncle Sammy".

Bredin was, as always, the life of the party. Without him we would have been only a gang of modest has-beens, with rusty voices, but with him, after an hour's rehearsal, we were all Amatos and Caruscs, singing in perfect unison and with a vim that brought the echoes out from their hiding place in old North Hall.

Our open air concert was interrupted by rain, but, nothing daunted, we marched up on the stage of Library Hall and completed our program. Be it said to the credit of our audience that most of them stood loyally by us and heard us through.

One of the pleasant features was the open air lunch furnished by the Graduating Class on the lawn near Ladies' Hall. There we were given a table to ourselves and we had a good time ripping off close harmony or joining with the others in singing Wisconsin songs.

There were only twenty of us this year, twenty out of over 200 to draw from. Next year the other 180 are going to be back.

MEETING OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

THE Conference Committee was called together on call of President Charles B. Rogers, at Music Hall, on Monday, June 19. The Committees on Reorganization, Funds, Membership, and Athletics, appointed by the Conference Committee in November last, reported to the Committee. The reports are, in substance, given in our June issue. On motion the reports of the Committees on Reorganization, Funds and Membership were received and approved. The report of the Committee on Athletics, Frank L. Gilbert, chairman, was received and approved and the work of the committee being completed, the committee was discharged.

The work of the Committee on Reorganization has since been completed by the adoption of the new constitution at the Annual Business Meeting. The new Alumni Council now takes the place of the Conference Committee, and will undoubtedly continue the Funds and Membership Committees, which, in the meantime are at work.

Alumnae in Los Angeles have organized a club with Mrs. Emma Johnson Ward as president, Mildred E. Forsythe as vice president, and Katharine L. Carey as secretary. The club is anxious to meet all alumnae who visit the city. The secretary's address is 1261 West 41st Street.

COMMENCEMENT IN THE MOVIES

ALUMNI who were unable to return for Commencement will have the chance to see the activities of reunion and graduation in the "movies." An operator who began work on Sunday at the baccalaureate services kept his machine busy on Class Day, Alumni Day, and Commencement Day. The following organizations contributed to the fund which made the pictures possible: Classes of '96, '01, '06, '11, '16 and the local clubs of Madison, Schenectady, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Detroit, Chicago, New York and Spokane. Local clubs who desire to rent the films should send in their requests as soon as possible; contributors to the fund will be allowed the use of them free of charge.

In order to meet the increased demand for seats, Commencement was held in the pavilion of the College of Agriculture. The procession formed on the Hill in the usual manner, but the line of march was down the hill back of University Hall and then out Linden Avenue past Agricultural Hall. Thanks to the efforts of the senior committee who worked for several months to get the graduates of every college to wear the cap and gown, the procession was decidedly more dignified than those of former years. It is hoped that the senior class of next year will remain true to the new tradition.

The senior orations were given by Edward R. Narr who spoke on "The Call of the University," Walter B. Krueck who spoke on "The Soil as an Asset" and Edmond G. Toomey who spoke on "The Living Law." President Van Hise addressed the graduates on their responsibilities in relation to the work of reconstruction after the War.

The two honorary degrees were conferred upon an alumnus and upon a former student of the University, Burr W. Jones, B. A. '70, LL. B. '71, M. A. '74, professor of law in the University from 1885 to 1915, and Ludvig Hektoen who attended the University in 1883-1884, and who is now the head of the department of pathology and bacteriology in the University of Chicago and the director of the Chicago Memorial Institute for Infectious Diseases.

In conferring the first honor President Van Hise said:

Burr W. Jones, alumnus of the University in its younger days, you have for more than forty-five years reflected in your life the ideals of culture, refinement, and character which should ever stamp the educated man. As an author, you have helped to clarify the law; as a legislator, to create it; as a practitioner, to dignify and ennoble it, and as teacher for thirty years in this University, to fire others with your own lofty conceptions of its majesty. Amid all the vicissitudes of an active life, your loyalty to your intellectual mother has never faltered. In her name, then, upon the nomination of her faculty and by the authority of the Regents, I confer upon you her highest honor, the degree of Doctor of Laws.

To Ludvig Hektoen he said:

Investigator and teacher in pathology, leader in the study of the methods of invasion of the body by microorganisms and of methods of defence against their attack—to you and to your pupils are due many of the recent advances in our knowledge of the causes and control of disease. In this work you have brought honor to the State of Wisconsin, where you were born, and to this University, where you received a part of your early training. In recognition of your services, the University bestows upon you the honorary degree of Doctor of Science.

Eight hundred and twenty degrees were granted as follows: College of Letters and Science, 370; College of Engineering, 99; College of Agriculture, 140; College of Law, 26; School of Music, 18; Graduate School, 165; honorary, 2.

The following alumni received degrees:

Bachelor of Laws: Clarence Erikson, '13, H. L. Merkel, E. J. Morrison, Jr., C. J. Otjen, M. N. Quale, L. J. Shanhouse, and R. R. Strehlow, all of 1914.

Master of Arts: Alma Louise McMahon, '02, Elise F. Dexter, '06, Genivera E. Loft, '07, Elizabeth V. Joslin, '08, J. W. Beath, '08, Elizabeth Brown, '10, Hannah Morris, '11, H. L. Morris, '11, S. L. Odegard, '11, Rowe Wright, '11, A. H. Kazda, '13, Albert Brann, '14, A. P. Haake, '14, B. I. Kinne, '14, Gladys Miller, '14, Pearl M. Smith, '14, Helen H. Abrams, '15, H. N. Baum, '15, Mabel M. Brown, '15, Riah B. Fagan, '15, Marguerite R. Pohle, '15, G. M. Schwartz, '15, P. B. Shostac, '15, and E. H. Toole, '15.

Master of Science: A. H. Kuhlman, '10, Edith S. Tomhagen, '12, V. L. Bohnsen, '13, Barend K. Palit, '13, G. P. Potter, '13, L. M. Schindler, '13, J. A. Becker, '14, Florence M. Coerper, '14, Edna E. Jolivet, '14, Maldwyn Lloyd Jones, '14, M. H. Knutsen, '14, L. P. Mehlig, '14, N. R. Mueller, '14, Olga C. Pressentin, '14, L. J. Schenckenberg, '14, C. K. Textor, '14, W. H. Bentley, '15, Katherine E. Faville, '15, R. S. Goodhue, '15, H. G. Martin, '15, R. E. Moore, '15, J. B. Youmans, '15, K. P. Young, '15.

Master of Philosophy: Gustav W. Gehrand, '03.

Civil Engineer: M. W. Torkelson, '04, H. N. Brue, '11, H. L. Algeo, '13, J. M. Ray, '13, and C. P. Conrad, '15.

Mechanical Engineer: A. C. King, '01 and J. D. MacLean, '11.

Electrical Engineer: B. H. Peck, '06.

Chemical Engineer: R. C. Downing, '10.

Doctor of Philosophy: W. M. Persons, '99, W. O. Hotchkiss, '03, Harry Steenbock, '08, M. R. Gutsch, '08, H. A. Schuette, '10, T. M. Simpson, '10, L. D. Hammond, '10, W. H. Eller, '10, W. N. Steil, '11, P. W. Boutwell, '12, H. L. Ibsen, '12, B. A. Arneson, '13, Martha L. Edwards, '13, Frank Gray, '13, R. A. Muttkowski, '13, E. R. Stoekle, '13, V. H. Young, '13, Sarah M. Beach, '14, Lucy G. Roberts, '14, W. A. Gruse, '15 and E. J. Pieper, '15.

UNIVERSITY HONORS

The Albert Markham Memorial Graduate Traveling Fellowships, awarded for excellence in language and literature, were awarded to Sarah M. Beach, M. A. '14, Ph. D. '16 and Lucy G. Roberts, M. A. '14, Ph. D. '16.

The Charles Kendall Adams Fellowship was given to Shipp G. Sanders of Princeton and the Mary M. Adams Fellowship to Theodore R. Hoyer, '12.

T. R. HOYER

University Fellows: Edgar Allan Baird, '14, botany; Harry Neal Baum, '15, European history; Augustus Hall Brunelle, '15, Latin; Ellis Merton Coulter, '15, American history; Florence K. Crafts (Smith), Greek; Andrew Grover Du Mez, '07, honorary fellow in pharmacy; Paul Frederick Finner (Chicago), education; William Merriott Gibbs, '16, agricultural bacteriology; Edgar H. Gustafson (North Dakota), political economy; Alfred Paul Haake, '14, political economy; Aaron Martin Hageman (Rutgers), chemistry; Clarence Leroy Holmes (Michigan), agricultural economics; Olav Andrew Hougen (Washington), chemical engineering; James Francis Jenkins, '15, Romance languages; John Wesley Merritt (Northwestern), geology; Roger Emmett Moore, '15, mathematics; Thurlow Christian Nelson (Rutgers), zoology; Harold Stine Roberts (Princeton), German; Elizabeth Alexandra Seeberg (Texas), philosophy; John Stoughton Strong (Albion), physics; Brenda Sutherland (Toronto), home economics; Rienhart John Swenson (Minnesota), political science; Horace Loring White (Columbia), honorary fellow in agricultural chemistry; John Butler Wilkinson, '16, mechanical engineering.

Reddy, plant pathology; Jacob Rovner, agricultural bacteriology; Oscar John Sieker, agronomy; Peter Carl Strehlow, animal husbandry; Barnett Sure, agricultural chemistry; Horace Warner Truesdell, agricultural bacteriology; Sarah Elizabeth Warwick, home economics.

College of Law: Edmond Galbraith Toomey.

ALUMNI DINNER AND DANCE

ALTHOUGH Alumni Day of this year was one of the most active ever planned, yet the six hundred or more alumni who gathered at the Gymnasium for the annual Alumni Dinner at the close of the day were just as enthusiastic as they had been when the program began at eight thirty in the morning. College songs, class yells, skyrockets, and speeches were given and received with a "pep" that was worthy of a student massmeeting.

President Rogers, '93, acted as toastmaster. When he called William H. Spencer, '66, of Meadville, Pennsylvania to the platform, the entire alumni body joined in an ovation to the half century class. Mr. Spencer said:

Fellow Alumni and Friends: If I do not come back to the Old Home after a half century with wreathes of laurel on my brow, I certainly do not now return, like the Prodigal Son, after spending his substance in "riotous living." So there is no compulsion to kill the "fatted calf." Save him for some of the younger boys. If I have not been back to you, my Alma Mater, it is not because I have forgotten you, not because I do not love you, honor you, praise you; but simply because I have been busy in June, a thousand miles from you ever since 1866, except once, in 1874, when I had the honor of delivering the annual alumni address in the Assembly Chamber of the State Capitol. I am asked to represent the class of '66 in a five minute speech.

I am glad to be here, and yet sad, for all the other male members of my class have gone to join the "Great Majority"; although happily some of the women members are still here. What do you expect of me? Reminiscences? I could give them, were there time. Administrative counsel? If I were not presumptuous, I might venture here. Congratulations, praise and thanksgiving? This were easy "for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." It was on the 29th of August, 1861, that I knocked at the door of this school. The three buildings here were North and South Halls and the central part of the present Main Hall. My first room was Number 9, North College, as they called it then.

Is there any one here who remembers the first gymnasium. It stood back of North College about twenty feet. Whatever else it lacked, its ventilation was perfect. This gymnasium consisted of a two or three inch rope that dangled from an over-arching limb of a great oak tree that stood there. The exercise consisted of running with all your speed toward the building, siezing the rope on your way, and leaping out as far as you could to get impetuous for the backward swing, and jumping up the incline. Of course the repairs were inexpensive, that is I mean of the gymnasium.

I should have been of the class of 1865 but for my service in the Civil War with Company D, 40th Regiment, Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry. My home was in Evansville, twenty-three miles south of here. If you don't think it is a good place to come from, ask the Hon. Burr W. Jones and President Van Hise, my fellow townsmen. Even the class of 1916 has heard of three of my classmates. The first was John C. Spooner. He was a capital debater, well-posted, keen, and intensively partisan. I can see him now coming up the walk with his peculiar swinging gait. He kept up that gait until it landed him in the United States Senate. The second was Philip Stein, high minded and lovable, a fine scholar who is still filling an honorable career. He was with you last year. The third was John Muir of national and international fame.

Fifty years ago, on graduation day, Professor Sterling, the acting president, in his address to the public spoke of the "embarrassments under which the University had labored and the injurious and unjust criticism by which it had been assailed" and then referred to the "fairer prospects that were opening before it." Has there ever been a year since then when the administration has not felt the sting of "injurious and unjust criticism" and has had to fight its own battles in order to save the University from the hand of the despoiler? And yet has not every administration been able to say every year, as Professor Sterling said, and truly "fairer prospects are opening before the University." It must have been so. For look at what the University was in 1866 and what it is today. The curriculum then, it now seems, was hardly more than that of a village high school.

The male members of my class numbered only five and of the class of ladies, what was then called the "normal department," numbered only six, ours being the pioneer class to give women the degree. Only eleven in all. I understand that today the graduation class numbers nearly one thousand. What prodigious growth is this! Your president appeals to the alumni for help to construct another building. Alumni, let us use our influence to secure it. We have trusted the administrations of the past and the result is the upgrowth of one of the most progressive, most democratic, most widely serviceable, admired, and world famous universities in these United States. Alumni, keep facing forward and marching ahead.

The other speakers were Professor Howard L. Smith, '81, of the Law School, Morse Ives, '91, of Chicago, Charles A. Taylor, '06, of Barron, John Frazee, '16, Professor H. E. Bolton, '95, of the University of California who, on behalf of the California alumni, presented the John Muir Clock to the University, and President Van Hise, '79.

Louise Vernet sang two solos.

After the dinner, W's were presented to the following members of reunion classes by W. D. Richardson, '11, and Arlie Mucks, '16:

S. H. Ball, W. V. Bickelhaupt, W. H. Blackburn, H. E. Bradley, J. Bredsteen, E. F. Bunker, W. C. Burdick, B. B. Burling, J. I. Bush, J. E. Carter, A. A. Chamberlain, R. W. Collie, A. J. Crowns, J. P. Dean, Joseph Dean, E. J. Dohmen, L. P. Donovan, N. H. Falk, W. S. Frame, R. A. Fucik, S. F. Grover, K. R. Hare, C. B. Hayden, C. S. Hean, W. P. Hirschberg, J. B. Hoelz, T. H. Jones, C. A. Johnson, F. A. Kennedy, A. C. Kissling, A. Kleinpell, J. H. Liegler, F. A. Little, S. McConochie, C. W. McPherson, R. B. McCoy, F. C. McGowan, C. D. Marsh, Lloyd Miller, M. N. Murphy, C. O. Olman, G. S. Parker, A. E. Richards, John R. Richards, C. F. Rohn, W. Roys, L. W. Runkel, R. E. Sanders, F. W. Schule, George Senn, Dr. Walter Sheldon, Paul Stover, M. C. Severin, A. J. Sorem, J. C. Taylor, G. H. Trautmann, L. E. Voyer, L. A. Wood, O. B. Zimmerman.

Immediately after the dinner the reception and dance was held in Lathrop Hall.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Membership Committee Meets

By F. O. LEISER, Chairman

A meeting of the Membership Committee of the Alumni Association, was held at Madison, June 19, from 10 to 11 a. m. Those present: Mrs. Clara B. Flett, '84, Marie Kohler, '01, Lillian Taylor, '05, August C. Umbreit, '83, Sidney H. Hotten, '91, Louis Kahlenberg, '92, C. B. Rogers, '93, Lynden H. Tracy, '01, R. S. Crawford, '03, A. E. Van Hagen, '06, W. A. Foster, '15, and F. O. Leiser, '02, chairman.

The Committee approved of the plan to conduct a membership campaign by classes. A goal was set to increase the present membership of the Alumni Association by at least five hundred new members by October 28. Each class has at least one member who is responsible for securing additional members for the Alumni Association. The editor of THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE was asked to publish the standing of each class in every issue of the Magazine giving the percentage of members.

The committee decided to meet again on October 28 at 9 a. m., being also the occasion for the Homecoming.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES OF COMMENCEMENT WEEK

By HARRIET O'SHEA, '16

Pipe of Peace Ceremony

AT midnight on Monday of Commencement Week a company of Indian braves and maidens assembled on the steps of the Library to participate in the annual Pipe of Peace ceremony between the juniors and the seniors. A huge bonfire in the center of the Campus set forth the scene in all its picturesqueness. The chief of the seniors, in full tribal costume, gave an account of the deeds of his class and passed on to the juniors the mighty responsibilities of their last year. The junior chief, arrayed in a magnificence rivaling that of his kinsman, accepted the trust bequeathed to his class with promises of faithfulness and expressed the deep sorrow of the juniors at the coming departure of the class of 1916. Thereupon both chiefs and their attending braves smoked the symbolic Pipe of Peace. As they sat performing this solemn rite, twenty maidens of the tribes of 1916 and 1917, in full tribal dress, emerged from the Library and gave a ceremonial dance to the accompaniment of the University Band. They danced around a tree which had sprung up during the afternoon and whose shadows were reflected by several red lights. The dance, which was an authentic one used by the maidens of the Wisconsin tribes several hundred years ago, was taken from the records of the Historical Library.

Class Day

The Class Day program and the ivy exercises were combined into one delightful out-of-door festivity in the theatre on the slope in the rear of Main Hall. The address of welcome was given by Crawford Wheeler, the president of the class, after which Ruth Boyle and Ralph Nuzum gave the class history and John Frazee delivered the class oration. Arlie Mucks who gave the farewell to the undergraduates was answered by William MacFadden, '17. Milo Swanton gave the ivy oration and Anita Pleuss the ivy ode. Arthur Jamieson presented the memorial to the University which was accepted by Dean Comstock. Professor Pyre then presented the Conference Medal for Scholarship and Athletics to Dow Harvey, '16. The exercises were concluded in front of Main Hall where Verne Bullis planted the class ivy.

Luncheon

A luncheon, managed by the class, was given on the lawn between Music Hall and Chadbourne at noon on Tuesday of Commencement Week. Practically every senior attended together with the folks from home, and several reunion classes came en masse. The fact that the classes were on the Campus for luncheon rendered the task of forming the Alumni Parade very easy. It is hoped that the luncheon idea originated by 1916 will become a tradition.

REPORTS AND MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING HELD AT MUSIC HALL, TUESDAY JUNE 20

THE Annual Business Meeting was called to order by the president at 10:30 a. m. The attendance was large and enthusiastic. The business of the meeting was frequently interrupted by the U. W. yell, and the meeting was pervaded with harmony and mutual helpfulness.

On motion the minutes of the previous meeting were dispensed with. The president, secretary and treasurer reported. The report of the president showed six meetings of the Executive Committee during the year, besides a large number of meetings of conference committees, and outlined the various activities of the Executive Committee.

On motion, the new constitution as proposed and printed in our June issue was taken up, being read article by article and section by section where requested. The Constitution was adopted as printed with various minor changes, chief of these are the following:

Article III, Section 5, the last sentence of the third paragraph was changed to read, "The Alumni Board shall at all times contain at least one alumnus from the colleges or schools of Engineering, Law, Agriculture, Letters and Science, and Medicine.

In Sections 5 and 6, the word "business" was inserted wherever annual meeting is given. Two clauses were added to Section 6; one, provided that "a majority of the Alumni Council shall constitute a quorum," and the other that "In addition to its other powers, the Alumni Council shall adopt the by-laws of this Association." To Article VI was added the words, "and qualified" after "successors are elected." Aside from the above, the constitution was adopted as printed in our June issue.

Under the terms of the constitution, the present Executive Committee and officers hold office until the meeting of the Alumni Council in November, when new officers are elected.

On motion, the chair was instructed to appoint a committee, with Mr. Buell as chairman, to present through THE ALUMNI MAGAZINE the coming year, to all the members of the Association, the question of nonresident fees and secure from the members a postal card vote on the matter.

Acting under the new constitution it became the duty of the business meeting to elect members of the Alumni Board and Alumni Council. On motion, the chair appointed a nominating committee whose recommendations were unanimously approved. The following members were elected.

Alumni Board: which takes the place of the Executive Committee—George A. Buckstaff, Mrs. T. E. Brittingham, W. A. Foster.

Alumni Council: Miss Zona Gale, Mrs. Charles R. Carpenter, Miss Jessie Shepherd, J. E. McConnell, Professor C. K. Leith, C. J. Cunningham, John Mylward, A. E. Van Hagan, A. J. Myrland, and Dr. T. L. Harrington.

On motion the meeting adjourned, giving again the U. W. yell as a parting benediction.

THE NEW STADIUM

THE legislature of 1915 appropriated $20,000 for the grading of a new athletic field and the erection of as many concrete seats as could be put up for the remainder of the appropriation. The grading will cost about $8,000. The remaining $12,000 will build only about three thousand seats.

Walter Alexander has initiated a plan to secure subscriptions from alumni and friends of the University for the building of 6,000 more seats. Mr. Alexander has invited H. J. Thorkelson, G. D. Jones, James I. Bush, George A. Buckstaff, G. B. Hudnall, C. B. Culbertson, Roy B. Wilcox, T. P. Silverwood, Frank L. Gilbert, L. D. Sumner, Lynn A. Williams, and Max Mason to assist him in this undertaking. These gentlemen have accepted. The plan proposed by this group of alumni has, as was stated in the June issue of the WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE, been approved by the Regents and by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association.

THE DREAMS OF ONE DEAD

BY GLENN WARD DRESBACH, '12

What has become of all the glorious dreams
That once thrilled in this heart now even still?
Have they gone with the death unto the hill
Or gone with the free soul some place where gleams
The tract of star-dust washed by astral streams
On bars of Light beyond the mortal will,
Beyond our vision in the years until Death works a change within the theme of themes?

If they have joined the earth upon the brow
Of the wise hill they may inspire the dust
To give new glory from the sunny sod.
If they have followed with the soul, and now
Find glory even beyond their faith and trust
How they must long to tell us more of God!

It will help future reunions as people will learn that they must observe the time limits set; and that to my mind is the first essential of a gathering of that sort. We should have planned our Tuesday luncheon so that we could have made the schedule. Another year I think it would be well to have all the classes lunch on the Campus, as was attempted this year; at least, they ought not to be any farther away than the University Club. However, I had a bully time, notwithstanding our fall from grace, and I see clearly that even the alumnus who returns alone and finds none of his class there will still have a Tuesday well filled from morning to night.”

Suhm is the secretary of the Cream City Chemical Works, Milwaukee.—“Please send the Alumni Magazine to the Neutral Conference, Grand Hotel, Stockholm. We are hungering for it—that is, Miss Julia Grace Wales, Alfred Kliefoth and yours truly. There are only three of us here, but when you consider that only twelve Americans are here connected with the entire work, then three is not a bad representation from Wisconsin. Soon we hope to have Jane Addams with us, and you will remember that she has an honorary LL. D. from Wisconsin. I suppose this will reach you, if His Majesty’s censors are lenient, about the time the boys and girls are assembled for Alumni Day. Please give them all my love and tell them that Miss Wales, Kliefoth and I will let out a couple of Wisconsin yells on Alumni Day in pleasant memory of the happy days at Madison. Just one other thing—tell Prexy that we are missing him here very much, that we wish he were with us to apply his big mind to the economic problems of this war. With kindest regards, always a Wisconsin booster,” Louis P. Lochner, General Secretary Neutral Conference.

CAMPUS NOTES

Two new degrees have been established by the Regents. Those who do not care to take foreign languages may substitute natural science and mathematics together with either philosophy or history, for which they will receive the degree of bachelor of philosophy. Four years of work in the School of Music will now be recognized by the degree of bachelor of music. Hebrew, Norse and Spanish have been added to the list of foreign languages which may be studied to meet the requirement for a bachelor of arts degree.

A course in Red Cross Nursing, given by C. H. Keene, director of physical education in the Minneapolis Public schools is giving the Summer School students a chance to show their interest in preparedness. A first aid diploma will be given by the American Red Cross to all those who complete the work.

Deficiency in English continues to be the chief failing of the freshmen. During the last four years an average of 14 to 16 percent of the class has failed to meet the entrance requirements. At the beginning of the first semester 154 were placed in the sub-freshman course. Of these, 106 passed at the end of the semester, 45 failed, and 27 dropped out of the course. Only four of them were sent to freshman English. At the beginning of the second semester, 28 were originally enrolled in the sub-freshman class and eight were sent to it subsequently.

The new officers of the Board of Regents are Granville D. Jones, '82, of Wausau, president, and

G. D. Jones

T. M. Hammond

Theodore M. Hammond of Milwaukee, vice-president.

Five percent of the non-resident students will be exempted from the non-resident fee next fall in accordance with the law of 1915 providing for the increased tuition. Exemption will be made by the Regents on the basis of scholarship.

Of the 1700 engineering graduates 47 percent are engaged by manufacturing concerns as superintendents, draftsmen, designers, or in other capacities. More than 9 percent are in government service; nearly 11 percent are in other public service; 15 percent are teaching; 12 percent are consulting or contracting engineers, 4 percent are salesmen for machinery builders, and 1 percent are in editorial work.

The Coburn Players gave Sheridan's "Rivals," "Hamlet," and "Richard III" in the open air theatres on July 6 and 7.

The Lecture and Concert Service supplied to Wisconsin cities by the University, has grown to more than seven times its size of six years ago. During 1909-1910 there were 231 engagements listed, while up to April 1 of the year 1915-1916 there were 1,625.

The War Department has again placed Wisconsin in the distinguished class of institutions maintaining military drill.

A file of the New York Weekly Journal from December 17, 1733 to July 11, 1737 is one of the recent valuable additions to the newspaper collection of the State Historical Society.

The Board of Visitors, in their annual report, make the following recommendations: establishment of a court of practice in the Law School, students to be compelled to stand while reciting, establishment of course of ethics which should be required of all freshmen, stronger and more definite stimulation of the aesthetic through art lectures and courses, convening of welfare conference to include Regents, Visitors, Faculty Committee, and Alumni Executive Committee once or twice a year, erection of Union Building, and enlargement of infirmary, construction of more tennis courts, compulsory attendance at lectures on the use and dangers of the lakes, and the immediate consideration of the need of a University auditorium.

President Van Hise spoke on "The Place of the University in a Democracy" before the National Education Association in New York on July 4.

Wisconsin's Oldest Student, Mrs. Amy D. Winship, aged 85, who attended the University in 1912-13, has returned during the summer to study botany, physics, and internationalism.

The National Foreign Trade Council has given the University $150 to be used for prize essays on the merchant marine.

Professor Stephen W. Gilman will give a course of lectures on commercial law and business organization before the Cotton States Merchants and Manufacturers Association at Memphis on August 22-24.

The Student Employment Bureau, maintained under the direction of the Alumni Headquarters, is steadily increasing its usefulness to the self-supporting student. During the year 559 applications were received, 446 of which came from residents of Wisconsin. Permanent positions were secured for 110 students, as compared with 88 of last year. Odd jobs, paying anywhere from 25 cents to several dollars, were secured for 612, as compared with 474 of the previous year. A pamphlet, giving definite information about student employment, is now sent to everyone who applies for work.

A Research Hospital, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Crane of Chicago and Professor and Mrs. Harold Bradley of Madison in memory of Mary Cornelia Bradley, has been announced by the Regents.

A Course in Commercial Organizations, covering the work of the commercial secretary, will be given in Commerce School this year by A. H. Melville of the Extension Division.

Israel Shrimski, '88, has been appointed a member of the Board of Visitors by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association.

BOOK NOTES

Grillparzer's Des Meeres und der Liebe Wellen (Oxford Press), edited by John L. Kind, assistant professor of German, University of Wisconsin. Of the introduction which consists of a most scholarly and thorough review of Grillparzer's life and works, it is sufficient to say that no less an authority than Stefan Hock of Vienna, the editor of the most comprehensive German edition of Grillparzer's works, states in a personal note to Professor Kind that he regards it as a genuine contribution to the works of Grillparzer. The notes are also full and informing and the same authority confessed that they had called his attention to a number of points which had hitherto escaped his attention. The book is attractively illustrated with well-chosen portraits and is especially designed to meet the demands of the "direct" or "reform" method of classroom instruction. B. Q. M.
