The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

The Lenox Hill Nurse is in the center of things

There is a special joy and feeling of fulfillment and involvement the Lenox Hill nurse gets in being the focal point of her patients' well-being. Working in close concert with the doctors, dietitians, social workers and all other members of the paramedical team, she helps orchestrate her patients' recovery. This also puts her right in the center of new ideas in patient care, new ideas in medicine, new ideas in medical equipment. She also finds a special feeling of exhilaration being in the center of New York's many cultural and social activities that are second to none.

If you have the kind of chemistry that responds to assuming authority and being involved in multi-faceted activities, write for our brochure. We'll show you how we may make beautiful music together.
