PLAN TO HOLD LONG DISTANCE SKATING EVENT

Seven Mile Race Across
Lake This Afternoon
Open to All

A long distance skating event from the university gymnasium to a point across the lake will be held on Lake Mendota this afternoon, commencing at 4 o'clock.

The total distance of the race will be from seven to eight miles from the starting point to the other side of the lake and back. Entries are open to all university students.

The athletic department is sponsoring the event in an effort to make it an annual affair. The record set by the winner of this first race will be held up for future contestants to better.

A prize in the form of a medal or cup will be awarded the winner of first place. Entries can be made by calling Coach T. E. Jones or by reporting on the ice back of the gymnasium at 4 o'clock, the time of the race.

The intense interest in skating which has been manifest by students because of the excellent condition of the ice this season was the athletic department's reason for scheduling the event. The fact that weather conditions may soon spoil the ice is justification for holding the race upon such short notice.

JOY WILL BE FOUND "UP IN MARY'S ATTIC"

Prom Movie Benefit at Grand Theater Thursday and Friday

Why seek joy in the cellar when you can find it "Up in Mary's Attic," the rollicking comedy to be given at the Grand theater Thursday and Friday as the Prom benefit movie?

The comedy is six reels of fun wound around the story of a girl who falls in love with her teacher, hides a baby in an attic, almost loses a fortune, and indulges in a series of escapades that make life exciting even for a boarding school miss. After completing its two day engagement here the film will go to the Alhambra in Milwaukee for a week's run.

An unusual and interesting story is told of Eva Novak, who plays the leading role. The Prince of Wales during his visit to this country saw Miss Novak in a certain production and intensely admired her. He called her the most representative type of charming American womanhood.

Tickets are selling at Morgan's, the University pharmacy. A special sale is being conducted among the sorority, fraternity, and rooming houses by Paul Fishedick and his group of workers. The price of the tickets is 28 cents.

ELECT DELEGATES TO W. A. A. MEET

Margaret Swift '21, Marguerite Croskey '21, Auta Lyman '22, and Mabel Winter '22 were elected by W. A. A. last night to represent Wisconsin at the athletic conference of American women which will be held at Bloomington, Ind., next March.

As official Wisconsin delegate, Margaret Swift will read a paper on "The Uniform Point System." This is a part of the campaign to bring about the adoption of a system whereby athletic points may be transferable from one college to another.

Clarence Rasmussen, assistant Prom chairman in charge of the committees on ways and means, finance, and tickets, will have as his partner at Prom, Ruth Nelson '24, a pledge of Kappa Alpha Theta.

TRACK SQUAD MAY JOURNEY TO CALIFORNIA

University of California Issues Challenge for Dual Meet

Challenged by the University of California to meet the Golden State track team at Berkeley, Cal., the Wisconsin track team, winners of the 1920 Western conference dual meet championship, may make a trip to the coast during the spring vacation.

Acceptance of the invitation which was received by T. E. Jones, track coach, late yesterday, is now pending in the athletic council, and will probably be decided this week.

The same offer has been made to the second and third winners in the 1920 conference dual track meet. If Wisconsin turns down the offer, Michigan and Illinois will be given an opportunity to accept, as the same proposition has been made to them. Definite negotiations, it is understood, are pending the decision of Wisconsin authorities.

Terms Attractive

The terms of the invitation, as stated in the telegram, are "$2,500 accommodations during stay in Berkeley, and option on net returns up to $3,000." A track team of ten or twelve men is asked. The sum of $3,000 will take care of a large portion of the expense involved by sending a team on a trip to the coast.

"The team would lose but four days of school work at the most," stated Coach Jones last night. "The party would probably leave April 9, and return April 20, the first day after the re-opening of school."

May Send Large Number

Because of the handicap which a team is put under if the number is limited, the authorities may consider sending a larger number than the ten or twelve suggested. This additional number would mean the appropriation of money to defray the increased expenses.

The great disadvantage which arises when Western sprinters cross the divide to compete with the Pacific track men is the differences in climate. California has a climate Pebeco Tooth Paste is "good to the last squeeze," so is the Prom number of the Octopus; so is—well, look it up in the Octopus, page 8. It's hard to describe it, and it would spoil a good picture anyway.

The Prom number of the Octopus shows an unusually wide range of material. "A Spasm from the Fit of Life" is one of the most humorous of the short stories, in which Caesar, president of the Wife Beater's Union, and Iona Furcote pass through many vicissitudes on the way to the candy shop. "Justifiable Homicides," "My Girl," "Cellar Gangs," and "My Hero" are all results of undergraduate passion for analysis, whose titles are almost self explanatory, although the treatment of each subject is quite original and entertaining, especially as one meets every one of them on the hill. "Goat Glands" by Cubeb has a vigorous style which succeeds to perfection in its aim. "The Uninvited Guest" is a record

Yes Octy Has Turned Bare-Back Rider

A three ring circus has nothing on today's issue of the OCTOPUS. Octy is in every ring, performing unexpected antics. Yes, he has turned bare-back rider—but bare backs are not the only things he rides. He mounts the misdemeanors of the marcelled males, and the foibles of the fickle females. He puts spurs to Prom squelchers, and plys the whip to gloom. And for two bits you can see the whole circus!!!!

DR. ROBINSON GIVES 4TH OF LECTURES

"Who Is God," is the subject of the lecture to be given by Dr. D. S. Robinson of the Philosophy department Thursday afternoon at 4:30 in the Biology building.

"Educated people need a new conception of God—different from that which they obtained in childhood," says Doctor Robinson. "The reason that so many people become agnostics when they grow up is that their childhood images of God do not meet their present day needs."

This is the fourth of a series of lectures by Doctor Robinson on philosophy and religion. They are open to the public.

HARD WORK IS NEEDED

AT last the University Exposition has become a certainty. Now the thing to do is to put it across in a big way.

To plan and execute a worth while exposition is no child's play. It is a vast business undertaking. The amount of work required will be prodigious. The time is short.

First of all an efficient directing head must be found. The Union board will not be conferring a titular honor on the man selected to manage the enterprise. His job will be a serious responsibility, not an honor.

The next thing required is the enthusiastic support of the faculty and students. The exposition must be representative of the best in all departments at Wisconsin and this best cannot be brought forth if anyone shirks or shows indifference.

Then the exposition ought to have exceptionally good publicity. The ruling principle of the whole affair should be to demonstrate in a striking manner the constructive and wholesome work being done at the university. A special effort should be made to get as many people from as many parts of the state as possible to come down to Madison and see for themselves. Those who cannot come should be able to read all about it in their newspapers and periodicals.

The exposition holds wonderful possibilities for good. It will be an inspiration to the students themselves. It will be a revelation to the people of the entire state.

THE OLD, OLD STORY

THESE are the days when we are called to account. We must atone for our misspent past—the Orph parties, the formals, the informals, the nights filled with music, laughter, chatter, etc., ad infinitum, ad nauseam.

Now these are no more. Instead we are pounding out the topic we should have written two months ago. We are burning the early morning electricity to scan 1,500 pages of outside reading which we let slide and to write up lectures and experiments which have piled upon us with the weight of Pelion on Ossa.

It is the same old story. Last year we vowed it would never happen again. The end of another perfect semester has come and we are in the same sad plight.

It is in the nature of things and must it ever be thus? Some especially promising student should try the other plan once and see how it works. His experiment would be regarded with more than passing interest and if he came out of it with good health and a happy disposition probably others would follow his example.

Who will offer up himself to make the attempt?

1,210 PHYSICIANS OF WISCONSIN USE UNIVERSITY TESTS

Madison Laboratories Handle 53,810 Specimens Yearly

About 1,200 physicians and health officers in about 460 Wisconsin towns sent 36,981 bacteriological specimens for diagnosis during the past two years to the central laboratory of hygiene conducted in Madison by the state board of health and the University of Wisconsin, according to figures just prepared. This number is an increase of about 5,479 specimens over the preceding biennium.

A total of 53,810 specimens from Badger physicians was handled by the Madison laboratory, together with the five branch laboratories conducted at Kenosha, Oshkosh, Rhinelander, Superior, and Wausau between July 1, 1918, and July 1, 1920; although the last two laboratories were closed during half the period. Among the branch laboratories, Oshkosh led in number of diagnosis, with Superior and Rhinelander closely rivaling.

The 53,810 specimens examined in the central and branch laboratories included 24,532 diphtheria specimens; 11,200 sputum; 2,079 typhoid; 1,926 paratyphoid; 3,827 water; 118 rabies; 2,872 gonorrhea; and 6,512 miscellaneous.

More water was examined during the past biennium than ever before—an increase of 681 specimens over the preceding biennium. This is explained partly by a water survey which the laboratory is conducting throughout the state, and partly by the increased activity of the division of sanitary engineering of the state board of health. The total represents the number of specimens only although each specimen is given at least six different tests and sometimes as many as seventeen.

Some 2,859 doses of antityphoid vaccine, 4,216 doses of triple vaccine, and 2,770 doses of pneumococcus vaccine were supplied by the central laboratory at Madison during the past biennium. A total of 8,946 sputum containers, 11,465 diphtheria containers, and 887 gonorrhea outfits were sent out.

Professor Rostovtzeff has been appointed to the Norton lectureship for 1921, and will give nine other lectures in different universities in the east and middle west. Every year some well-known foreigner is chosen for this position.

INTER-FRATERNITY BASKET LEAGUE PLAYS SEMI-FINALS

With the majority of the teams having completed three of the four games scheduled, basketball quintets in the inter-fraternity basketball league are on the last lap of the schedule. The contests which still remain on the card are to be played off this week, and the first and second teams in each of the eight sections of the league will swing into the semi-finals as soon as postponed games are cleared up.

Sixteen games will be played in the semi-finals of the tournament, the winners to meet for the final determination of the inter-fraternity basketball champions. The athletic department will present four cups to the winners of the first four places in the finals.

As the standings now are, seven of the eight leaders in their respective divisions have a clear record of wins. Pi Kappa Alpha is the leader heading section one with a .750 average. The probable winners in the other sections are Alpha Gamma Rho, section two; Kappa Sigma, section three; Sigma Chi, section four; Alpha Delta Phi, section five; Beta Theta Pi, section six; Alpha Sigma Phi, section seven; Chi Psi, section eight.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN TAKEN CARE OF AT BRADLEY HOSPITAL

Forty Sparta School Children
Receive Treatment Since Last July

Twenty-three crippled children from the Sparta State Public School for Dependent Children are now receiving medical treatment at the Bradley Memorial hospital at the University of Wisconsin. About 40 children have been cared for since last July when the hospital first began the work.

This work for crippled children that is now being done is the first step in the activities that will be carried on in the new State General hospital that is now being built on the university campus in conjunction with the Medical school.

Most of the children sent from Sparta are suffering from infantile paralysis. Operations are performed and the crippled children are fitted with braces that are made in university shops. Medical experts from Milwaukee come to Madison once every week to give the necessary medical care. Exercises and massage treatments are given to the cases which demand them. Cases of hair lip and cleft palate are also being treated.

Besides the medical care, the children receive schooling from 9 to 12 every day that they are in the hospital. Various kinds of recreation are given them by the hospital, Madison theaters, and by the University Employees association. Directions for exercises are sent back with the children when they return to Sparta in order that the improvement may continue.

The children who are received at the hospital are of all ages from 3 to 20 years. The maximum number which can be cared for at the hospital at one time is about 23.

SPECIAL CARDINAL TO SHED LIGHT ON ALL PROM SECRETS

Sigma Delta Chi Edition to Include Many "Non-official"
Reports

"The real facts about Prom" is the slogan for the Prom Cardinal, which will be published by the members of Sigma Delta Chi, men's honorary journalistic fraternity. In order that the edition may be a complete chronicle of this year's festivities, it will include features not usually included in official reports, but essential to a true account of Prom.

The exact nature of these features is a secret jealously guarded by "Pat" Dennis '21, and Prof. Wyman S. Smith of the College of Agriculture, in charge of features. Prom scandal, it is rumored, will loom large on the front page. A certain fatal telephone conversation in regard to a Prom engagement will appear in startling detail. Articles of special interest will be "Fireside talks before the ball," and an accurate account of the total number of miles traveled by the Prom-goer from dusk till dawn. The paper will be sold at 12 o'clock, on Prom night.

At The Theaters

AT THE STRAND

They began their married life as sworn foes! The most gorgeous wedding that London had seen in a decade, an aeroplane honeymoon, and a bitter misunderstanding that caused the groom to repudiate his bride on their very wedding night! That was what pretty, giddy Folly reaped when she won the most eligible man in London, that was what Anthony Bond reaped when he married the most popular actress in England. Their marriage was literally a furnace of scorching hate, of searing suspicion, of blighting loneliness for each of them, though they kept their house full of guests, and the world envied them their happiness. "The Furnace," a William D. Taylor production for Realart, is to be shown at the Strand theater for four days commencing today. This picture is an extraordinary production with an all star cast including Milton Sills and Theodore Roberts. A Comedy Cartoon will also be shown.

AT THE FULLER

"Listen Lester"

John Cort's New York Knickerbocker theater's big joyous musical furore "Listen Lester," which victoriously leads the forces of musical comedy toward Madison will be the attraction at the Fuller theater Friday and Saturday, Jan. 28 and 29, with matinee Saturday. It was the dash, vigor, pep and delightful assurance that so distinguishes the big city and its people. Harry L. Cort and George E. Stoddard evolved the book and lyrics, which Harold Orloff finished and furbelowed with his tickly, tricky tunes, and "Lester" has entrenched itself with lovers of good, clean, musical comedy and capacity houses everywhere has been the rule for both the east and west have set their mark of decided approval upon it and claimed it as their own. The offering is entertaining every minute of the time, and it affords ample opportunity for the display of the personally distinctive talents of the best, which includes such funmakers as Fred Heider, June Roberts, Earl Higley, Frances Donegan, Rene Brown, Betty Kirkbride, Claire Grenville, Evelyn Paul, The Four Entertainers and a stunning chorus.

with a football game in the presence of ten thousand spectators, moves to a theater full of auditors at an amateur theatrical performance, the hero and heroine of which are Ben Turpin and Phyllis Haver, and then strikes out for parts unknown via an aeroplane chase of thrilling and spectacular quality. Today is the last the picture will be shown at the State street theater.

of a universal experience which makes one wheeze in sympathy.

The short jokes, poems, pithy paragraphs, and limericks are all good. And the editorials, as usual, are the cleverest things in the whole book. The spelling, whether artful or artless, adds to their piquancy, as for instance when the "effeminacy" of the men of today is discussed, or "Appolo" mentioned.

From the remarkable effective cover to the interesting advertisements, the pictures are all far beyond the usual amateur standard of excellence, and show a variety of articles that promises well for other issues. There are four full page pictures, and one or two little ones on nearly every page. All of them have points to them which are more or less subtle, but are points nevertheless.

FRAME OF MIND IS EDUCATION'S AIM

—MORTIMER

Agricultural Professor States Views in A. C. F. Conven- tion Address

"It isn't the studies that you take in college or the text-books and professors you have that makes an education. It is the procedure that you go through. The frame of mind that you are in at the end of four years at school is your education."

So said Prof. Mortimer, who spoke on "What a Student Should Expect from Four Years' College Life," at the A. C. F. convention yesterday afternoon in Agricultural hall.

"We do expect something from college life or we wouldn't be here," said Professor Mortimer. "The students are not the only ones benefited, either. I think the students of all kinds are engaged in educating the faculty."

"The student believes that an education is a mind jammed with facts. Don't make a mental ammunition-wagon of yourself by cramming all sorts of material into your brain. Train yourself so that you can fire the ammunition."

Miss Hazel Manning, assistant professor of Home Economics, and Prof. G. C. Humphrey gave a talk on the subject, "After College, What?"

WOLVERINES ADOPT THE HONOR SYSTEM

The honor system has been adopted by the University of Michigan in the college of arts and sciences. The faculty, adopting the plan unanimously, decided that it should have a fair trial in the university.

A senior honor committee, chosen with the approval of the senior class will try all cases of violations of honor in examinations. The plan will be started in classes not exceeding 50 where there is a majority of senior and graduate students, after a petition from each class desiring the honor system.

NEW YORK — Fire losses in the U. S. for the period of 1915-1919 inclusive were $1,416,375,000, according to the report of the National Board of fire underwriters.

in April which is quite different from the Badger weather. The change in the climate was declared noticeable in the physique of the California track men who competed with the Western conference members at the 1920 dual meet at Ann Arbor.

"This is one disadvantage in climate which would handicap the efforts of our track men," declared Coach Jones. "The training of the track men in the spring is made under different weather conditions here."

California has displayed considerable enterprise in athletic tours and in special athletic events. Last June the university sent a track team from the coast to Ann Arbor, Mich., where the Western conference dual meet was held. All members in the conference participated there. Drake university, of Ames, Iowa, and the University of Missouri, Columbus, Mo., also entered the events in which the Badger track team captured the championship.

"The athletic council will meet sometime during this week," Mr. Jones further adds. "A decision will likely be made soon as the California authorities wish a prompt answer."
