PREFACE.

The third volume of the whereabouts and whatabouts of the citizens of Madison is completed. Our canvassers have visited every house and place of business and found the occupants in all cases ready to give the desired information. It is a difficult matter to compile a directory correctly, and without the co-operation of every citizen impossible.

A new feature is introduced this year, of a directory of the University Students, by itself, which will be found immediately in the rear of the classified business portion of the general directory (page 245). We had to take this course or delay the printing of the work, on account of the canvass of the city having been made before the return of the students for the present term.

The population of the city has sensibly increased since our last issue, there being 16,500 souls living in the city according to our computation, and by the time our next issue is made we have little hesitation in stating that the population will reach 20,000. The new railroad which is in course of building by the Illinois Central Co., will have a favorable effect not alone on the population but the business of the city.

Since our last publication the County has erected on the corner of Fairchild and Main streets one of the handsomest Court Houses in the State.

The publishers return thanks to the merchants, manufacturers and business men of Madison for the continued patronage extended by them to the work, and renew their promise to the public to make each succeeding issue more worthy of commendation.

STREETS.

STREET NUMBERS.

Every space of twenty-two lineal feet frontage of lots or parts of lots on any street in the city of Madison should be numbered with a separate number and known thereby as follows: The numbers on all streets running northeast and southwest commence at Monona or Wisconsin avenues, and all streets running northwest and southeast commence at Washington avenue, in case said streets intersect said avenues; and such numbers run continuously from those avenues, one hundred numbers being assigned to the length of the block, so that the first number on the first block should be number one, the second block one hundred, and so on; the odd number should be on the southerly and easterly sides of the street, and the even numbers on the opposite side. All streets intersecting Washington avenue are known as North — Street in that part which lies northerly of said avenue, and South — Street in that part which lies southerly of said avenue; and all streets which intersect Wisconsin and Monona avenues, are known as West — Street, in that part lying westerly of said avenues, and East — Street, in that part lying easterly of said avenues. Blocks upon streets running in the directions which do not intersect said avenues should bear like numbers with the blocks upon streets which do intersect, at like distances from those avenues, so far as practicable. It is the duty of each owner and occupant of any building or tenement fronting upon any street in the city of Madison to securely attach or apply to the front of such building or tenement, in a conspicuous position, and not higher than the first or ground story of said building, so that the same can be plainly seen from the street, the proper number of such building or tenement, as inscribed upon the map prepared by the City Engineer, and on file in the office of the City Clerk, in figures not less than two inches and a half in height.
