JOINT POSTPONED

NECESSITATED BY SICKNESS OF
P. W. BOEHM.

Will be Held Tuesday or Wednesday
of Next Week—Date to be Settled To-morrow.

The Joint Debate between Hesperia and Philomathia which was to have been held to-morrow night has been indefinitely postponed on account of the illness of P. W. L. Boehm, one of Philomathia's representatives. Mr. Boehm was taken sick yesterday afternoon, and is still under the doctor's care, it being extremely doubtful when he will be able to appear. It is hoped that he will recover sufficiently to permit the debate being held next week on Tuesday or Wednesday evening. This delay is especially unfortunate as the two teams have exerted every effort so as to bring off the debate before Christmas. The committee on arrangements will decide definitely to-morrow morning upon a date for next week and if it is within this range of possibility, the debate will then be brought off.

CHEMICAL LECTURES.

Course to be Continued After Holidays.

The students of the University will have the privilege of hearing the remainder of the chemical lecture course soon after the Christmas vacation. Prof. Hillyer has secured a number of noted chemists from different parts of the country to come and lecture to the students. Among these are Prof. A. H. Sabin of New York City who will give two lectures, one of which is to be upon a chemical subject which has not yet been decided. The second is one to be delivered before the engineers upon the subject of Protective Covering Structural Iron.

Prof. Sabin has a national reputation as a chemist being connected with a prominent firm of varnish makers, Edw. Smith & Co., in New York City. He has also been connected with Bowdoin college and the University of Vermont.

Prof. C. F. Mayberry of Case School of Applied Sciences, Cleveland, O., will give a lecture on Petroleum during the latter part of this semester. Prof. Mayberry is a national authority on the subject of petroleum and a man well worth hearing.

A number of other prominent chemists will be secured to give addresses during the year. These lectures were secured by Prof. Hillyer last summer while in New York and through the generosity of citizens of Waupun it was possible to procure them. They are all industrial chemists who are authorities in their respective lines of work and are surely worthy of a large audience.

HILL VS ENGINEERS.

Sharp Battle for Freshman Class Presidency.

The hill students and the engineers had a sharp contest for the presidency of the Freshman class yesterday afternoon. The engineers elected their candidate, Richard Remp, by twenty votes over the hill candidate, Elmer Hamilton. Miss White and Earl Schrieber were nominated for the vice-presidency, but the election was postponed.

LAND SCULPTURE.

Prof. Van Hise's Illustrated Lecture
On Geology.

Professor Van Hise delivered the first of a series of three lectures, on "The Construction and Destruction of the Land", in University Hall lecture room yesterday afternoon, before an audience composed of members of his Geology classes, other University students, and a considerable number of townpeople.

He began with a statement of the size of the various waves of the ocean, from the largest mountain masses of water, down to the tiniest ripple on the surface, and proceeded to illustrate by means of lantern slides the vast power of the waves in the destruction of high cliffs of solid rock; how the water undermines the rocks below the surface, and, in connection with the weathering processes, gradually piece by piece, wears away mighty cliffs. "Now," asked Professor Van Hise, "What does the water do with the material? Does its work end with the destruction of the masses?" He then showed how, by the action of the waves, in connection with the currents, the material is carried away and deposited at the borders of the water, in the form of beaches, bars, barriers, etc.; how a lagoon, cut off from the main body of water by a barrier, would gradually become firm ground, thus taking away from the area of the lake or ocean, and adding to the area of the land.

He then passed on to the interior of the United States, and proved beyond a doubt that there once existed, in the Great Basin of the west a lake of about the size of Lake Superior, but that all that now remains of it, in the form of water, is Great Salt Lake. He showed the water marks on the high cliffs left standing in that district, beaches, terraces, etc., and demonstrated that they were formed by water, and by water alone.

Next he took up the work of running water as a destructive agency, and illustrated how a stream, step by step, eats its way down through masses of solid rock, ever cutting deeper and deeper, until at last we get such results as are shown in the mighty grandeur of the Grand Canon of the Colorado. He showed how a great, broad, level plateau could be carved out by the running water, with only a few cliffs remaining to show where the water had once been.

He then proceeded to illustrate the constructive work of the running waters; the deposition of the material carried in suspension as the water neared the mouth of the stream, until deltas rise up out of the ocean or lake, gradually spreading out wider and wider, until they divide the waters of the stream into many different mouths.

The second lecture, on the Work of Glaciers and the Glacial periods, illustrated by lantern slides, will be given at 4 p. m., Friday, December 14th, in the large lecture room in University Hall.

Handball Tournament.

Gust and Angell won three games out of five yesterday from Hughes and Moffatt. Tomorrow's game will be between Curtis and Mabbitt, and Pengra and Kelley.

Hobbs and Koplin won the law series with Curtis and Chamberlain at twelve o'clock today.

—Theodore E. Liphan, '04, has withdrawn from the University.

—Chas. J. Slater, '02, was called home last night on account of the dangerous illness of his father.

OUT NEXT WEEK

SOUVENIR EDITION OF THE CARDINAL.

Special Cover Design—Prize Story—
Many Illustrations—Articles From Many Sources.

The Christmas souvenir edition of the Cardinal will be published early next week and is intended to be an extensively illustrated souvenir edition. Cuts have been collected and write-ups prepared at great expense of time and labor. All the regular organizations of the University will appear in its columns and in addition there will be a considerable number of special articles.

Bishop Fallows will contribute an article and there will be other contributions from members of the faculty and alumni.

A special cover design made especially for this number will be one of the attractive features of the issue. The edition throughout will be copiously illustrated with half-tone engravings and is designed to be of permanent historical value.

Among the features of the issue will be two stories submitted in the prize contest, an article on the School of Commerce by its director, Professor Scott, reviews of the athletic departments by the captains and coaches, musical organizations, etc.

Changes in the University such as shifting in the faculty, new buildings and other similar matters will be fully chronicled.

A full write-up of the plans and progress of the Y. M. C. A. will be contributed by the secretary, Mr. Phelps. Messrs. Snow and Pyre will write of dramatics, Professor Slaughter writes of Phi Beta Kappa, and so on to the end of the list.

One the whole the issue is expected to be one of general interest and value as incorporating the most interesting and essential parts of the life of the University.

THE SACRED CONCERT.

A Departure From the Usual Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

The Sacred Concert to be given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon, has been arranged as a result of the very decided success of the first one held last May. Concerning the latter, the Cardinal had the following:

"The sacred concert held at Library Hall yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A., proved a grand success. The presentation was remarkably successful; the individual numbers were rendered in an excellent manner and artistic taste; and excellent in the performance of technique."

Extensive and careful arrangements have been made for the concert to be given next Sunday. The Association has been fortunate in securing a uniformly high grade of talent, and the program embraces selections of the world's best sacred music. A cordial invitation is extended to all students of the University. Watch for program in Saturday's Cardinal.

—Prof. B. W. Snow will give an illustrated lecture upon the subject of Snow Flakes tomorrow at 4 p. m., in the Physics lecture room, Science Hall.

UNIVERSITY TALENT IN VAUDEVILLE.

New Feature in Self-Government Association's Entertainment.

Preparations are going on rapidly for the Self-government play to be given Tuesday evening, December eighteenth, and the entertainment promises to be a very successful affair. The performance will begin at a quarter past eight and there will be no reserved seats. Tickets are twenty-five cents and can be obtained at the Co-op.

The purpose of the play is to gain money for an exhibit of Italian art to be given in January under the auspices of the Self-government Association. If enough money can be raised it is planned to purchase the pictures out-right and present them to the University. The entertainment will doubtless be very good and with so worthy an object in view the association should be accorded good patronage. The play will be given in Library Hall. Following is the program:

1. Overture, Nitschke.
2. Girls' Glee Club.
3. Overture, Nitschke.
4. Vaudeville.
5. Loan of a Lover.
- Peter Spyk—Walton Pyre.
- Gertrude—Ann Scribner.
- Earnestine—Henrietta Pyre.
- Capt. Armersfoot—Edward Jenner.
- Mr. Swayze—Donald A. MacDonald.
- Delve—William Walker.
6. Overture—Nitschke.
7. Yellow Roses, Jennie Butt and Walton Pyre.
8. Overture, Nitschke.

The music for the play was specially composed by Mr. Roberts and arranged by Professor Nitschke.

Minnesota Football Number.

The Wednesday issue of the Minnesota Daily is presented in the form of a souvenir football number which reflects great credit upon the board of editors. Naturally the articles are to a great degree self-congratulatory owing to the successful completion of their football schedule but the different subjects are treated in a manner that is at once interesting and at the same time as impartial as can be expected.

The number opens with an exhaustive review of the entire season's work, special space being devoted to the Wisconsin contest which was the "big game" of the year. Following the score of all the western colleges are given. Dr. Williams, head coach, then briefly reviews the season's work and offers suggestions for the year to come. Individual write-ups of the players follow, "Who they are, what they are, where they are, what they will be." Articles on the old '93 championship team and the champion Central High School team are also presented.

The editorial section is especially well gotten up. Subjects treated here are "Things as they are," by President Northrup, "The Lessons of the Year" by Richard Burton, "Athletic Ideals" and "Education and Football." Other articles published are, extracts from various college journals on the western championship, the annual banquet and the various football songs.

Typographically the paper is a very neat edition. Printed on heavy glazed paper, it contains cuts of Varsity players, cartoons on the championship situation, and pictures of various western captains.

Dartmouth has established a school of administration and finance.

Unjustified.

"Both Wisconsin and Chicago, although not offending the letter of the law, have offended the spirit of pure athletics, and not for the first time either."

The above appeared in the special football number that the Minnesota Daily has just issued. It is a sample of those little unfounded items that have their beginning perhaps from an eastern source that rapidly seems to be earning the epithet irresponsible, and which being carelessly credited and maliciously repeated are a prime factor in causing ill feeling where all ought to be cordiality. The article refers to Riordan, and we cannot imagine anyone else against whom calumny has had a word to say or of whom, to our knowledge, any suspicion has been expressed. We need say nothing to one who knows anything of the state of the case. Why the fact that a player leaves college and manfully goes about earning the money to pay his way should of itself excite comment of an adverse nature and prove ipso facto that he is not paying his way is difficult to imagine.
It would seem to us to go toward proving the opposite.

Minnesotans will hitch their wagon to Casper Whitney until some day he kicks over the traces in their direction, and then perhaps will begin to develop a taste for critics who regard some knowledge of the facts as essential and a distaste for the long distance variety.

Skating Club.

There is a movement on foot to organize a University skating club and if present indications can be trusted the project will be realized to day.

This effort is by no means a new departure. The question has been agitated for two or three seasons past and would surely have materialized last winter had the season been a suitable one.

It is argued by the promoters that skating is one of the most beneficial branches of athletics and since nature affords such excellent opportunities to pursue the sport we should not be slow to accept its advantages.

It is hoped that all who are interested in the sport will lend their earnest efforts to the consummation of the plan.

High School Department.

Durand.

All indications point to a successful year in the Durand High School. The attendance, both in points of numbers and regularity, is good. About one-fourth of our students are tuition pupils, living outside the district.
Students of this class are steadily increasing in number.

Six times a year, an afternoon is devoted to rhetorical work. On these days, one-half the members of the school, alternately, appear on the program with declamations, essays and orations. It may be worthy of mention that during the last three years, no pupil has failed to perform the work assigned in rhetoricals.

A valuable addition of reference books in history has recently been made to the library. Athletics in our school occupy a secondary position.
A football organization, however, is maintained. The season closed Thanksgiving day with a game, on our grounds, with Menomonie in which the home team was victorious with a score of twelve to two.

Miss Mary Olson, the teacher in the fourth grade, was elected county superintendent at the recent election.
She will assume the duties of the superintendence in January next.

Clayton Goodrich, a former student in the High School who entered the University Dairy School some weeks ago, died at his home in this city
Thursday, Dec. 6, of typhoid fever.

This is examination week, and it is needless to say it is a very busy week.
Our school closes Dec. 21 for a two weeks' vacation.
