Reservations Must be Made at Once to Secure Group Party Blocks

All tickets for Prom which include the Prom supper stub have been reserved by fraternities and other groups, and a large number are on the waiting list, according to a statement of Birney Miller, chairman in charge of ticket sale made last night. The number reserved this year to date already exceeds that of last year's Prom.

PROM MEETING

All Prom chairmen and committeemen will meet in 165 Bascom hall today at 12:45 for a short meeting. Merrick urges that everyone be present, as matters to be brought up need general discussion.

Mail order sale for Prom tickets closes Saturday night. All groups which desire to eat at the same hour must notify Miller, F. 200, before that time, as open sale begins Monday morning. Some tickets which do not include the supper stub will be sold at $5.50 at that time.

TWELFTH NIGHT OFFERS FIRST PLAYS TONIGHT

Program Includes Three One-act Sketches Given in Lathrop Concert Room

Twelfth Night dramatic society will make its first appearance of the year tonight in a program of three one act plays in the concert room in Lathrop hall at 8 o'clock. The production staff consists of Dorothy Dwight '22, general production manager and coach of "The Dear Departed"; Dorothy Latta '21 coaching "The Rushlight," by Monica Barry O'Shea; and Mary Parkinson '21 in charge of "Fourteen," Alice Gerstenberg's clever comedy. The program will open with "Fourteen," in which Helen Double '22, a woman of fashion, succeeds in escaping one difficulty only to find herself in another which threatens to wreck that all important undertaking, the giving of a dinner for her daughter, Elaine, impersonated by Julia Harrington '23.

"The Dear Departed" will close the program with a laugh when Lawrence Norem disappoints the mourners and interrupts his daughters, Erma Borchers '23 and Carol Goodyear '23, as Mrs. Slater and Mrs. Jordan when they are in the midst of one of their most sisterly disagreements backed up by their respective husbands, Wayne Beckwith '21 and G. Lowell Gelger '23, as Henry Slater and Ben Jordan. Lillian Bressler '23, as the child, Victoria, makes the big discovery that turns the action of the play.

THE LOST RETURNS

Football Used by Badgers in 1897 Minnesota Game Comes Home Again

Stolen from the hands of a Wisconsin player by a young woman, used as the neighborhood gang's community football, relegated to the attic, and finally returned to Coach Thomas E. Jones, chairman of the department of physical education, is the interesting history of a battered, old football that was used in the 1897 annual football game between Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The ball, which is somewhat larger than those used in present-day games, was stolen from a Wisconsin player in the confusion after the game by a young woman, a relative of Robert H. Tuttle, an industrial engineer with the firm of Tuttle, Whitney and company Minneapolis, Minn. The ball was presented to Mr. Tuttle, who, in turn, loaned it to a group of youngsters. When its days of usefulness were over, the gang returned the pigskin to Mr. Tuttle, and it was thrown in

LYNAUGH CASE GOES TO JURY THIS MORNING

Council Delivers Final Appeal Before Crowd Which Packs Court House

JEFFERSON, Wis., Jan. 11 — With three of the most impressive arguments ever recorded in a court in this county, the case of the state against Matthew Lynaugh, policeman of Madison, charged with killing Carl E. Jandorf, university sophomore of Grand Rapids, Mich., neared its close this afternoon. The case will probably go to the jury tomorrow shortly after noon.

The courtroom was packed to the doors and many of the spectators were out-of-town people.

The pleas of the attorneys, John F. Baker, for the state, and A. H. Bushnell and J. M. Clancey, for the defense, were impassioned and heated utterances and all three seemed to make a noticeable impression upon the jury. Mr. Baker, who began his argument at 10:03 this morning, pointed out to the jury four distinct proofs that the revolver which killed Jandorf last May 28, was not discharged unintentionally.

Mr. Bushnell, on the contrary, addressed the jurymen with proof that Lynaugh had no intention of shooting anyone and that if he had deliberated about the shooting he would have thought of the consequences of his act.

Mr. Clancey began his argument at 4:45 and was still pleading with the jury when court adjourned.

MODERN METHODS OF GISHOLT PLANT SHOWN IN MOVIE

Films to be Shown at 7 O'Clock Tonight in Engineering Building

Up-to-date manufacturing methods as carried on in the plant of the Gisholt Machine company of Madison will be demonstrated by a five-reel motion picture at a joint meeting of the men's and women's Commerce clubs and the Advertising club tonight in the Engineering auditorium. The meeting will be held at 7 o'clock instead of 8 o'clock as previously announced and will be open to all students.

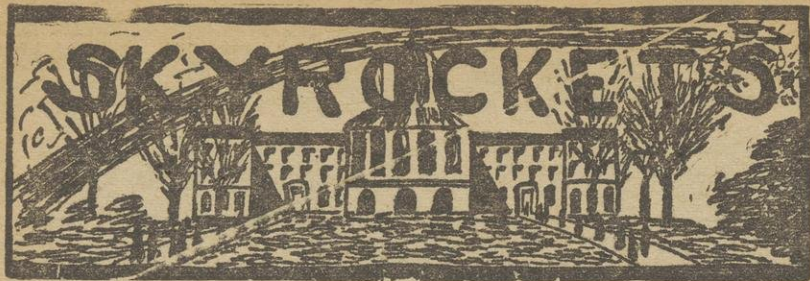

The film, which is one of the modern advertising features of the Gisholt company, will be presented by Ellis Muther, sales manager of the company. Besides explaining the part the motion picture plays in modern sales methods, Mr. Muther will explain the details of shop practice and sales management.

Service to the consumer is one of the main principles of the organization of the Gisholt company, which is the second largest firm of its kind in the United States. In its plan of service the motion picture plays a large part, being used to acquaint customers with the inside workings of the plant.

W. A. A. PARTY TO BE HELD JAN. 15

The Women's Athletic association will give its annual party for all university women Saturday afternoon, January 15, from 3 to 6, in Lathrop hall.

Jo Doring '23, who is in charge of the affair said last night: "We hope that all university women will feel as if it is their party. We are going to have a good orchestra, refreshments, and plenty of entertaining stunts."

DID you ever stop to think that if everybody stood in front of Main hall, how would the others get to and from their classes?

ONE co-ed to another: "Oh, dearie, don't you think a stomach pump is the most fetching thing you ever saw?"

WE'LL SHOW 'EM

HAVING recently heard that there are more women than men, we have evolved an idea for the benefit of mankind. The men will draw lots and the unlucky (or lucky-) half of us will kill ourselves, in order that the other half may get some service and attention from these here females.

YOU'VE all noticed the rules for shooting posted up in the gym for the benefit of the cadets. It appears that rules 4, 5, 6, and 7 are also applicable to dancing. Here they are:

4. Freeze face to stock.
5. Take up slack.
6. Align sights.
7. Hold breath.

ESCALLOPED SKIRTS

When to a dance my co-ed goes,
Ah, then (thinks I) how sweetly shows

The 'breviation of her clothes.
She's like a naiad, swift and free

OSCAR WILDEST.

AFTER giving the matter no thought at all, we have come to the conclusion that if we had to choose between Socialism and Bolshevism, we'd choose Mormonism.

"What sort of a vacation did you have?"

"Pretty dry."

SOME frosh just stopped by and asked what naiad meant in the po'try above. Oscar says it means water-sprite, and what the devil else could he use, in these days of prohibition?

DID you know that the Romans couldn't swear? Guess that's why

RELIGION

MUCH interest is attached to the announcement that Dr. Robinson of the philosophy department will begin a series of lectures tomorrow on the vital problems of religion.

The reception given a similar series last year is proof sufficient that the lectures meet a distinct need.

It is a sound policy that our public educational system should be free from sectarian influence. However, it will be a sad day for true education when the schools, particularly universities, ignore the influence of religion in its fundamental aspects. The apparent indifference to religion which is being manifested on many sides forbodes evil. If unchecked it will be the beginning of the decay of civilization at the apex.

This series of lectures is designed to focus the attention of students on the human soul, its dignity, its importance and its destiny.

Such an opportunity should appeal to all high thinking students.

WISCONSIN IN CHINA

WISCONSIN must support Jack Childs in his great work for the students of China. In his Sunday afternoon address, Mr. Rugh, a student secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of China, declared Childs one of the most effective student leaders to be found anywhere in the world. He cited as an instance of his ability the fact that when China proposed to raise a hundred thousand dollars for the American soldiers in the trenches Childs was put in charge and actually raised a million and a half.

So much was Princeton impressed by his abilities that he was invited to study for a time at that university and then return to China as its representative. He refused, although Princeton raises a sum for work in China several times as large as we have given. He preferred to be known for what he has always been, A Wisconsin Man. As such he is perhaps doing more to make Wisconsin's name known throughout the world and to raise her prestige than any other man on our long list of eminent graduates.

Childs is working at one of the most important problems of our time. China contains one-fourth of the human race, and Peking, where he is located, is its educational center as no city of Europe or America is the center of its own country.

Some fifteen thousand students in over fifty institutions, are carrying on their studies in this city, and most of these will go into the employment of the government. "The students of China," said Mr. Rugh, "are everywhere recognized as the hope of the country. If they stand up against ancient forms of Chinese graft and modern Japanese bribery, China is safe. If they fail China will fall. In that case the pieces will be seized by the great European powers and Japan, and the resulting struggle over boundary lines will produce a war which will make the last one look almost insignificant, and from which it will be vain for the United States to expect to be saved." So much depends upon the Chinese students, when they reach positions of influence, keeping their morale.

Of all the agencies for the preservation of this morale under tremendous temptations, none is more important than the work of Jack Childs. He should have the backing of every Wisconsin man.

CHICAGO HAS STRONG TEAM IN 1921 RACE

Coach and Captain of Last Year's Squad Not Back; Former Stars Play

Although three important cogs of the 1920 conference championship basketball team are missing, the Maroons still have a five which ranks with the strongest in the Big Ten this season. Coach "Pat" Page, Captain Hinkle and "Ted" Curtiss are the 1920 men who are absent this year, and although their loss is a serious one, the Chicago squad still possesses enough stars and promising material for a strong team.

Crisler 1921 Captain

"Fritz" Crisler, who was Hinkle's mate at the guard job last year, and who was popularly rated as all-conference guard, is the captain of the Maroons and his work to date has been highly satisfactory. Crisler's defensive work is perfect, while his offense is smashing and fairly consistent.

McGuire, a substitute last year, has been holding down the position left vacant by Hinkle and has been displaying a high brand of work. Coach Stagg is also fortified with additional men for the job, having Neff and Segal of last year's squad and Ratcliffe and Runyan of the 1920 freshman team.

Strong Forwards

At the forwards, Birkhoff and Vollmer give the Maroons the best offensive pair in the conference. Last year these two stars were right up with the Big Ten leaders in the scoring department and this year they are going as strong as ever. These two men are veterans, both plying their third and final year with the varsity. Reserve forwards are Starr, Bushnell, O'Brien and Williams.

Halladay, who broke into the limelight playing his first year with the varsity in 1920, is almost a certainty at the center position. His guarding and floor work have been exceptionally brilliant and his basket tossing consistently successful. "Skin" Williams is another letter man for the tip-off job, his specialty being long shots. Litchcock may also be run in at the position.

With the loss of Coach Page to Butler College, A. A. Stagg has taken over the coaching duties. In this work he is being assisted by Fred Walker, who assisted with the football team, and Paul Hinkle, star guard and captain of Maroon basketball teams during the past three years.

WOMEN WILL HEAR GILMAN'S VIEWS ON VOCATIONAL WORK

Gymnasium classes will be dismissed January 19, so that all freshmen, sophomores, and new girls may have the opportunity to attend the women's Vocational conference at 4:30 in the concert room of Lathrop hall.

Prof. S. W. Gilman, of the Course in Commerce, who is especially interested in vocational training, will speak concerning the relation of college work to vocations. The purpose of the meeting is to help underclassmen to choose their courses for next semester with the idea of their value in training for the vocation they have chosen, or are most interested in.

As this is the one meeting planned by the Vocational committee to be held before next semester, it is particularly important to freshmen and sophomore women who want to correct their mistakes of this semester in order to get the most out of their courses the rest of the year. A series of vocational conferences for upperclassmen will be held, beginning the second week in February, at which prominent speakers and university men will preside.

The students on the Vocational Conference committee which arranges the meetings are: Chairman, Delma Donald '21; secretary, Ida Gilbert '22; placement bureau, Harriet Bartlett '22; information, Virginia Conklin '22; local interests, Oneita Lutz '22; round table discussion, Lillian Stupp, graduate; Crucible representative, Deidre Cox '21; publicity, Alice Munro '21.

the attic without further consideration. Recently, in making an inventory of his effects, Tuttle discovered the dust-covered ball and sent it to Coach Jones after the Wisconsin coach had expressed the willingness of the athletic department to secure the pigskin.

The Badger eleven of 1897, from which the ball was taken, won nine games and lost one. The team defeated Minnesota by an overwhelming score of 39 to 0, and during the season scored an aggregate of 210 points to its opponents' 14.

The lineup of the 1897 Wisconsin football team which played Minnesota follows: E. S. Anderson, right end; H. G. Forrest, right tackle; Nathan Comstock, right guard; W. C. Hazzard, center; J. P. Riordan, left guard; Harvey Holmes, left tackle; Joseph Dean, left end; John P. Gregg, quarterback; H. J. Peele, left half; H. F. Cochems, right half; P. J. O'Dea, full back.

FROSH TO MEET SOPHS IN TRACK MEET SATURDAY

The second event of the indoor track schedule will take place Saturday afternoon in the gymnasium annex when the first and second year men hold their annual dual meet.

The freshman have a number of stars including William Hammann and Carl Otto in the high jump, Hammann in the pole vault, M. L. Stone, Kenneth Mainland, and Harold Daniels in the hurdles, May in the broad jump, and Sherman in the distances.

Competition will be offered by the sophomores who have a well balanced squad which last year was one of the strongest freshman teams Wisconsin has ever had. They won first place in the outdoor inter-class meet, beat the class of 1922 in the dual event, and placed second in the indoor inter-class meet.

The third event of the indoor schedule will be the inter-class meet, January 22, which will furnish one of the two opportunities for track men to win their class numerals. The freshman-varsity meet, January 29, will serve as varsity tryouts.

The following is the indoor schedule:

Jan. 15—Freshman - sophomore meet.

Jan. 22—Inter-class meet.
Jan. 29—Varsity-freshman meet.
Feb. 19—Relay carnival.
Feb. 25—Inter-college relays.
Mar. 19—Inter-company meet.
Mar. 25—Inter-college meet (mass).
