MEET POSTPONED

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE CON-
TEST TO BE HELD OCT. 17.

List of Events—Football Game also—
More Funds Needed for Freshman Football Team.

It was definitely decided yesterday to postpone the Freshman-Sophomore field meet, which was to have been held Wednesday, Oct. 10, until Wednesday, Oct. 17, which is in the week of the Madison street carnival. It is thought that this arrangement will be better for securing a large crowd at the grounds.

The following list of events will take place:

100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard dash, 880 yard dash, mile run, 120 yard high hurdle race, 220 yard low hurdle race, two-mile run, high jump, pole vault, road jump, putting 16 lb. shot, hammer throw, discus throw, tug of war, relay race.

After these events have taken place, a foot-ball game will be played between the 'Varsity first and second elevens.

It will be noticed that in the track events the two-mile run has been substituted for the mile walk.

There is some very good material in the freshman class this year, and Mr. Kilpatrick states that the teams will be very evenly matched. The Sophomore class boasts of some very good athletes who will be hard to beat. The freshmen are working hard to win the meet.

Prizes of considerable value will be awarded the winners.

More Money Needed.

An interview with Mr. Kilpatrick today developed the fact that less than fifty dollars has so far been pledged for the equipment of the Freshman foot-ball team. Mr. King and others have gone to considerable trouble to arrange a schedule for the benefit of this team, and a game has already been arranged with the Freshmen of the University of Illinois to be played at Champaign, Ill., on Thanksgiving.

Considering this fact, it is to be deplored that more enthusiasm is not developed among the Freshmen. The class of 1904 should be proud to establish the first freshman team ever put in the field by the institution. The result of the subscription so far has been most discouraging. A committee will be appointed, however, which will endeavor to see each member of the class, and it is hoped $100 more can be raised.

—A error was made in the golf article in last evening's issue of the Daily Cardinal. The writer stated that "owing to this increase in membership, it has been found necessary to exclude from the links all people who are connected with the University." This is erroneous. Not only students in the University, but anyone in the city can be admitted to membership. The management is extremely anxious to obtain a big increase.

—Miss Allie Manson, 1904, the republican candidate for superintendent of schools for the western district of Dane county, left for Belleville this morning, from which place she will proceed to Primrose to speak this afternoon at the big La Follette mass meeting.

EUROPEAN POLITICS.

Ass't Prof. Coffin opens Series on Contemporary Politics.

The first of a series of popular lectures upon Contemporary European Politics was given by Asst. Prof. Coffin yesterday at 5 P. M. in the senior lecture room of the law building. Notwithstanding the many counter attractions, the foot ball scrimmages and the crew practice, a goodly number greeted the speaker, the audience being composed mostly of upper classmen, and townspeople. The lectures will be given weekly at the above hour and place, and are open to all interested. Prof. Coffin purposes to give a general view of the field, after which two lectures each will be devoted to the more important countries. Specialists will be invited to address the class as occasion permits.

The opening lecture surveyed the general field of Nineteenth Century Politics in Continental Europe, showed the rise and decay of certain ideas and institutions, and laid the basis for present policies and notions of government. The speaker declared the first quarter of the nineteenth century dominated by the French Revolutionary spirit, that the second quarter was characterized by a strenuous effort of Monarchy to suppress the democratic ideas engendered by the revolution, that the third quarter was marked by the rise of Constitutionalism and Nationalism, but that the fourth quarter shows an apparent reaction in favor of Monarchy. Prof. Coffin does not view this seeming reaction against democracy with alarm for he believes, that the revolution rather than the evolution of ideas that inaugurated democratic institutions into continental Europe went too far, went beyond the intelligence and political capacity of the people. Parliamentaryism and popular government are furthermore endangered by the very multiplicity of parties. Ultra-montane enthusiasts, socialists, nationalists, liberals, and conservatives has by their jealousy and scheming brought themselves into discredit and the increased monarchical power has resulted. The mass of people are saying:

"For forms of government let fools contest,
Whatever is best administered is best."

This increase of executive power has been furthered by the militarism, crown control of colonies, by increase of police power. These conditions have brought about a permanency of established governments that is somewhat discouraging to the friends of liberal ideas. Mr. Coffin is hopeful, however, he believes that democracy is gathering strength, and that when European peoples can see the "paramount issue bigness" with the clear view that characterized the Kansas City convention, the time will soon arrive when the common people shall become the people.

The next lecture will be "English Politics of Today."

—The gymnasium instructors at Ladies Hall are now busy making the physical examinations of the students who are required to take the gymnastic work this year. The regular gym. work will commence on or about October 10th. The freshman class is so large that it has been found necessary to divide them into three divisions. Besides this there are large classes of upper classmen.

—C. C. Douglas, '03, met with a very painful accident in the Chemical Laboratory yesterday. He was experimenting with sodium when some of the red-hot substance flew into his eye.

ANNUAL ADDRESS

DEAN JOHNSON TALKS TO ENGINEERING STUDENTS.

Discusses New Building in Detail—
Two Courses May be Added in College of Engineering.

In his second annual address before the College of Engineering yesterday Dean Johnson gave an amusing though faithful account of the difficulties experienced by the engineering faculty in procuring suitable plans for the newly erected home of the college. No less than three sets of plans were considered and rejected before a suitable arrangement was made for building the structure within the appropriation set aside by the legislature. The two sets submitted in competition were examined by experts and found as outside the amount of the state gift. Then a Chicago expert was engaged and he actually succeeded in planning a hundred thousand dollar building, but, as the Dean said, its cost was its only virtue, for it reminded him strongly of a Pennsylvania barn.

After this came a short period of discouragement, but the solution of the problem was reached when it was proposed to the regents that the plans be made by Architect Jennings and the faculty. The plans thus drawn brought the cost of the building within the limit and also provided a handsome and servicable home for the college.

No University building was ever erected more rapidly or with less red tape and delay. Work was begun on the final plan Nov. 1st, and it was finished and approved by the regents by the beginning of the present year. All the contracts were let within a month and the first ground was broken early in February. At the beginning very few believed that the work could be done in less than a year, but the building was ready for occupancy at the opening of the Fall Session. It is planned to hold the formal dedication at the same time as that of the new library building.

Circumstances point strongly toward the establishment of courses in mining and chemical engineering in another year. A bill has been favorably reported in congress for the establishment of an annual fund of $10,000 for each state university to inaugurate the former courses. The latter courses will be the only one of its kind in this country.

The Dean also emphasized strongly the advantages of closer social relations between the students and faculty of the college. He declared his intention of opening his own home to the students two or more evenings each week for social ends and hoped that the other members of the faculty would follow his example. It would give opportunities, he said, for faculty and students to meet on common ground and discuss the work and difficulties that might arise, and also to give an opening for more personal instruction. The barrier between professor and students would be done away with and they would meet as man and man.

Prof. Johnson's frank treatment of the subject brought forth the heartiest commendation of both faculty and students and hearty cooperation may be expected in his new plan.

ADDRESSES WANTED.

Will the following gentlemen please drop their city addresses in Cardinal box: E. Griffin, L. Johnson, F. T. Kelley.

Beloit Game.

Beloit men are rejoicing at the large score made against Ripon yesterday. Although their score of 78 was considerably larger than Wisconsin's score against the same team a week ago, still conditions are so different that no estimate can be made. A fast game of football is, however, certain and it will need hearty support from the side-lines to assure a creditable score being made.

Freshman Football.

The attempt to secure funds for a freshman football team is meeting with but indifferent success. Students generally do not seem to realize that this effort is being made nor that a great deal of benefit to athletics will be derived from the maintenance of such a team. Every large university in the East supports a freshman team and the inter-collegiate freshman contests are considered an important part of the football season. Besides the interest arising from the games actually played, results very important to the athletic association in the way of the development of material that perhaps could not receive enough attention from the regular coaches. This team cannot be maintained without supplying the men with an opportunity to play outside games. Nor can such be secured without money in sufficient quantity. Only about fifty five dollars has been collected so far and it is earnestly hoped that students will come forward and subscribe for the support of the team. The benefit of organized freshman athletics was plainly seen at Poughkeepsie last summer when our freshman man crew made such a gallant showing. No one should hesitate to do the best he can for the freshman team.

Literary Societies.

Hesperia.

The second meeting of the year of the Hesperian society took place last evening at their room in Main Hall. The meeting was a large and enthusiastic one. The names of two freshmen proposed at a former meeting were acted upon.

Athenae.

The Athenaeon society held two interesting debates at their meeting last night. The timely question upon the policy of the U. S. in the present crisis in the Orient finished the subject for an unusually warm discussion led by Messrs. Macartney, and Bredsteen. The names of five freshmen were favorably reported by the membership committee and were voted into the society.

Send me that V which ma is saving—that "calf money."
