IOWA CHALLENGED!

FOR A GAME IN CHICAGO DECEMBER 8TH.

Would Decide Championship—Negotiations for Two Years Contract—All Anxious for Deciding Game.

It is up to Iowa now. Wisconsin has thrown down the gauntlet and it all depends on the Hawkeyes whether a game be played this year or not. Manager King on Tuesday sent a challenge to the Iowa authorities asking for a game to be played December 8th at Chicago either at Marshall Field or in the Coliseum. Negotiations were also opened for a two year contract. Up to the present time no answer has been received. What their reply will be is nothing but the barest speculation. With a clean record of victories Iowa needs but a decisive defeat of either Wisconsin or Minnesota to firmly establish her championship claims. On the other hand a victory for the cardinal would again put Wisconsin in a place where she could unquestionably claim the pennant. The defeat of the team which has downed both Chicago and Michigan would put the Badgers in the supreme place among western institutions. The action of the athletic management in thus taking the initiative in the matter meets with the unqualified approval of the students. Both the team and its supporters are on the quiver for some chance by which they may retrieve the honors lost at Minneapolis. A game with the Iowans would certainly furnish such an opportunity.

Saturday's Game.

It will be Princeton tactics against Princeton tactics at Camp Randall on Saturday. For the first time this year cardinal enthusiasts will have a chance to see their proteges matched against a team using a similar style of play. Illinois is noted for the fast gingery ball which she plays. With a dry field, or at least a firm one, the Illini are sure to prove worthy opponents of any western team. Reports from the Champaign camp show that they have taken a decided brace. In the scrimmages of late the scrubs have been unable to hold the regulars for downs a single time. Stahl, Cook and Lundgren play fast aggressive games, buck the line hard and run well in the interference. This afternoon at the last practice before the team leaves for Madison, a mass meeting of the students will be held on the bleachers to cheer the men on in their final work.

There is little doubt but that the Badgers will win.

The real contest will be to excell the score which Minnesota made against the Illini recently. To do this the team will have to play the best ball of which they are capable. In the present muddle of championship strings comparative scores are bound to cut considerable figure, and, it is certainly up to Wisconsin to beat Captain Hall's team as badly as possible.

For the first time since the Chicago game the Varsity were lined up against the scrubs for a short scrimmage. With the exception of Abbott all of the regulars were out for work. Just enough work will be taken this week to keep the men in shape and to prevent any players getting stale.

High School Thanksgiving.

Owing to the fact that the Varsity-Illinois game will be played here Saturday, the game between the Madison and Milwaukee South Side High Schools, which was originally set for Saturday, has been postponed till Thanksgiving. That guarantees a good Thanksgiving game for Madison as neither team has been defeated by a state High School team this season.

STUDENT HOSPITAL.

Plans Made for a New Building on Mills Street.

The lamentable accident of yesterday afternoon in the gym. calls attention to the hospital facilities which the city affords at present. There are now two buildings devoted to this work. There is a general City Hospital on East Washington avenue beyond the Yahara river.

The Student's Hospital agitation has resulted however in definite plans for a new hospital to be located on Mills street, just on the edge of Greenbush. The site of four acres has been donated by Mrs. Wayne Ramsay of this city. The Hospital will be called Bowen Memorial in honor of her philanthropic father and will cost about $12,000, most of which has been already subscribed, a very large amount, about $2,000, by the Faculty of the University. Work on the hospital will begin next spring.

The best trained nurses and assistants will be gotten and medical service by Madison's best doctors will also be at hand. The Hospital will certainly be a boon to the student for whose benefit largely it is to be constructed. There will then be no need for a sick student to pine away in the third story of his lodging house with the care of a brother student and a doctor and possibly an occasional charitable visit by his landlady. Sick and injured students will in the future be taken care of at nominal expense in the beautiful new Bowen Memorial Hospital for which we must mostly thank the philanthropic and public spirited gentlemen connected with our University.

Student Injured.

An injury, which might have been a serious affair took place in the gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Roy Mott, '03, was climbing the rope ladder and had got half way to the top when the ladder broke, letting him fall to the floor below. Fortunately he landed on his side and his injuries were not so serious as might otherwise have resulted. The man's chin was cut open by the fall, however, and he bled profusely. Dr. Elsom attended him and found it necessary to take several stitches in the cut.

Faculty Gym Class.

A faculty gymnasium class has been organized and meets Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 4 p. m. This class is open to all faculty members, fellows and graduate students.

Although the attendance has so far been rather slight, it is expected that the faculty will soon avail themselves of this excellent opportunity for physical training and join the class. Dr. Elsom is making three new handball courts in the baseball cage for the use of the faculty and will have them ready by next week.

—Dr. Harper, head of the biological department, has just returned from North Pines, South Carolina, at which place he has been visiting his wife, who because of illness is in a sanitarium there.

PRACTICAL COURSES

SHORT COURSE IN AGRICULTURE OFFERS VALUABLE TRAINING.

Increased Attendance Promised This Year—History of the School—Has an Enviably Reputation.

The Short Course in agriculture will begin this year on Dec. 8th. The fourteen week's instruction will terminate on March 14th. During the term three hundred students will take the course. Because of the numbers drawn by this course and the great good it does in more firmly cementing the bond of fellowship between our University and the great masses of the Wisconsin public, the Short Course deserves the hearty support accorded it by our legislature, the faculty and the public. A general description will probably be of interest to every University student.

The college of agriculture offers four general courses. These are the Graduate, Dairy School, Long, and Short courses. These courses have won renown in all parts of the country and it is no vain boast to assert that we have here the largest body of students taking practical work in agriculture of any agricultural college in the world. It is likewise true that for practical efficiency this college is without a peer.

The Short Course is of recent growth. It was established in 1886. Jan. 1, of that year, a twelve week's course was offered and this continued till 1892 when it was made a two winter's course of twelve weeks each. In 1896, the winter's work was increased to fourteen weeks which is the present schedule.

The principle of the Short Course briefly stated is that a specific education is needed in every walk of life, practical schooling is far better and brings far greater results in time and money than were experience in active life, and that lastly one who intends to make farming his life vocation needs special equipment.

For this reason a very thorough training is offered in which some twenty-one instructors participate. The teaching force is being constantly enlarged and will likely include some three or four more, now under consideration.

The subjects treated are blacksmithing, carpentering, agriculture, physics, horticulture, plant life, farm dairying, the breeding and feeding of farm animals, stock judging, veterinary science, parliamentary practice, farm book-keeping, bacteriology, agricultural chemistry, and the economics of agriculture. This is an exceptionally strong curriculum for a short course and has borne good fruit in its graduates who now number 968.

Of last year's class, four have received government appointments as industrial teachers in Indian schools. Besides this over 300 calls for graduates were received last year and 90 men accepted offers bringing from $25 to $75 per month.

One of the educational features of this course is the taking of the second year men to some large city at which observations can be made of the great object lessons in agricultural products there to be seen. On Dec. 6th and 7th these second year men under the direction of Prof. Carlisle, will attend the National Fat Stock Show at Chicago then in session. They will also visit the large packing houses, markets, horsemarkets, and other objects of interest.

The Short Course has increased phenomenally during the last few years and has almost outgrown its present quarters. The attendance has increased threefold during the last five years and it is expected that within five years more the attendance will be nearly one thousand. It is sincerely hoped that the legislature will appropriate a sufficient sum to erect a new college building commensurate with the size and importance of the work.

In Memory of Prof. Rosenstengel.

At a special meeting of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin, held Nov. 19, 1900, the following resolutions were by rising vote unanimously adopted:

"The faculty of the University of Wisconsin, in special session assembled, desire to place on record some acknowledgement of their high appreciation of the work and worth of their lately departed colleague, therefore,

"Resolved, That by the death of Professor William H. Rosenstengel this state has lost an influential and public-spirited citizen, the University an energetic and painstaking officer, and the members of this faculty and the student body a warm personal friend and one of tireless industry, dignified bearing, generous impulses, and a high sense of honor.

"Resolved, That Professor Rosenstengel, by his integrity of character, and long and faithful devotion to his work, has won the gratitude of the students and alumni of the university, the high esteem of his colleagues, and the respect and honor of this entire community and commonwealth.

"Resolved, That these resolutions be entered in the minutes of the faculty, that the secretary be directed to transmit a copy to the family of the deceased, and that copies be furnished to the university and city papers for publication.

Charity Ball Decorations.

The ladies of the Attic Angels Association were busily engaged today putting up the decorations for their charity ball to be held in the gymnasium tomorrow night. The precise nature of these decorations the ladies refuse to disclose as they prefer to surprise their guests when the music commences Friday night. The colors of the association, yellow and white, will be used to a large extent and elaborate reception corners will be arranged.

Science Club Meeting.

The Science Club will hold its first meeting for this year on Tuesday evening, Nov. 27. Professor Birge, the president of the club, will deliver an address on Huxley. This lecture will be of such general interest to students of the University, that the Science Club has decided to hold this meeting in the large lecture room, University Hall.

Tickets for Charity Ball.

Tickets for the Charity ball are on sale at Sumner's 502 State St., and also at Pickart's bookstore, Main St.

—Willis Virgil Silverthorn, '93, son of Judge Willis V. Silverthorn of Wausau, was married to Miss Minnie O'Neil daughter of Henry O'Neil, at Milwaukee, last evening.

—Professors Meyer and Tressler have started out on a week's inspection of various high schools on the accredited list of the University.

WHAT NEXT?

The rumors that have been circulating through western football circles for the last few days are now beginning to take definite shape. The challenge to Iowa is an assured fact and a willingness on the part of Iowa to consider propositions for a game seems equally assured. The Chicago Record published a despatch from Iowa in this morning's issue to the effect that they are willing to play Minnesota or Wisconsin, and seem inclined to take the latter. Wisconsin's showing at Chicago has attracted the attention of football critics throughout the United States and they are eagerly awaiting some settlement of the championship question. Wisconsin herself has put forth no claims but estimates from other sources have uniformly accorded her a very high position. Indeed when we remember that her net score doubled that of Iowa against Chicago, we realize what strong reasons there are why Wisconsin should dispute Iowa's championship claims. Such a game would be a "consummation devoutly to be wished" and we unite in hoping that the sportsmanlike instincts of the Iowa team and their board of control will prompt them to make a strong effort to arrange for such a game. Like the Chicago-Wisconsin game last year, the eyes of the West would be focused upon such a contest. A post-season game this year will find the team in better shape than last fall's eventful season left it. We should and can win if the game is arranged. Whoop it up then for a game with Iowa!

College Songs.

It is hoped that every student will readily concur in the attempt of Prof. Olson to improve the singing of the college songs at convocations. Primarily the convocations are for the purpose of establishing a series of college songs upon the students and therefore the alumni of the University. Wisconsin and her alumni as is a well known fact are peculiarly undeveloped in this line. Wisconsin lacks the song tradition necessary to all great universities. In order to get students in the way of singing, the German songs have been chosen as they are more adapted to the development in the musical line. After these tunes are established it is hoped that words peculiar and expressive of our University life may be written to them. We certainly need these songs of a campus tenor as well as we need and have those of athletic establishment and form. For these, we have created a hearty support and with the same vigorous trial Wisconsin will be certain to excel equally in college song lore.

Literary Societies.

The advent of the joint-debate is occupying the minds of literary society men and is also arousing considerable enthusiasm. The teams are putting forth every effort to make the coming event equal to if not surpass all preceding annual contests. These men are doubly rewarded for their intiring researches, not only do they individually gain much by the study but also the University grants no higher honors to men than to be elected on joint-debate teams.

The literary societies seem to have entered upon a new era of greater enthusiasm a sterner rigidity of fines has been adopted and upon the whole a greater stress seems to be prevalent. The vacancies have been filled for some time but the societies are still on the watch for promising men. The various societies are busily engaged in preparing for the year's oratorical contests.

Athenae is busily engaged in preparing a 50th anniversary celebration for this year to take place at the time of the observation of the same event by the University. Already committees have been appointed to arrange for this event.

Basket Ball.

About fifteen candidates for the basket ball team were out yesterday for the first practice. So far much enthusiasm has been shown and the prospects are that a good team will materialize.

There seems to be more interest this year than last and the possibilities are that Wisconsin will develop a better team. All of last year's men have not returned but on the other hand good new material has been brought in.

An effort will be made to have class teams and in that way practice games will be played. Plans for games with out-side teams have not matured. Dartmouth College Basketball team, which was the winner of the New England Inter-Collegiate championship of 1900, have asked for a game here some time during the Christmas vacation. Correspondence to that effect is now going on between the two teams. Coach Herschberg wishes to announce that hereafter the team will commence practice at 4:00 instead of 4:30 as was given in the first notice.

Saturday Evening.

A Donation party and social will be given in the Methodist church by the Epworth League. An opportunity will be given for those who wish to give either money, old clothes or provisions. These will be distributed by the Mercy and Help Department to the poor for the city on Thanksgiving day.

Thompson himself to illustrate special points in his lecture. Foxes, bears and wolves were the animals chosen to help Mr. Thompson prove that all the prime requisites which go into the making of personality belong to animals equally with man. The first picture which was thrown upon the screen was a line of fox tracks, those tracks of which Mr. Thompson is so fond, and which, seen through his eyes, mean so much. Even the smallest children in the room could not have failed to carry away the interesting story which the lecturer revealed to them in this little line of tracks.
As a practical lesson in skilled observation it could not have been excelled.

The audience was made up largely of children yesterday afternoon and a more absorbed audience it would be hard to find. Mr. Thompson led the children and grown folk through a range of feeling that included interested curiosity, rollicking fun, adventure, pathos, and as ideal a love story as it would be difficult to equal in the realm of human life."

Pinckney street.

A great many students are finding that a typewriter is almost a necessity. When we remember that one can get through with from three to ten times as much work on a typewriter as with a pen it does not seem strange that they are coming into almost universal use.

The Madison Cycle Co. at 113 State street rents all makes at very reasonable rates and also carries a full line of typewriter supplies.

Every one is looking forward to the Charity Ball on the 23rd. Tickets are selling rapidly.
