5 CENTS

SENATE GIVES FROSH CHANCE TO WEAR SINS

He'll Have 'Em Printed on Boards to Carry on His Back

Unruly freshmen are faced with a penalty of being placarded for their sins against traditions, as a result of action taken by the student senate in its special meeting last night.

Because he plead guilty to not wearing a green cap, smoking on the campus, showing disrespect to upperclassmen, and loitering about Main hall, Henry A. Anding was sentenced to wear a sandwich board to not less than two classes, words to be printed on the board branding him as a violator of campus traditions. The time and specifications of the punishment are to be fixed by the sophomore traditions committee.

Four Oppose Action

Anding's trial raised heated discussion in the senate, and the motion fixing his punishment was passed over the negative votes of Senators Rewey, Hall, Borman, and Joerndt.

The senate passed judgment on 12 other cases, two of which were continued and one acquitted. Six men were sentenced to lake duckings. Those found guilty were Leonard Larabee, D. K. Newell, E. V. Hill, Charles W. Skaife, W. McCreery, and William Olds.

John W. Roberts, who has 33 of the required 36 credits for sophomore rating in the College of Engineering, and Harry McMurray and Clarence Donaldson were disenfranchised for minor offenses. The case of Engwald Bybuth was continued and the punishment of Bruno Walzcek deferred. Howard Willet was acquitted.

Credit Rating Explained

The senate made it plain to the offenders that the number of credits required in the various colleges for sophomore standing is 28 in Letters and Science and the pre-medical course, 32 in commerce and chemistry, 34 in agriculture, and 36 in engineering. Men with fewer credits than these are rated as freshmen and must wear the green cap whether they were in the S. A. T. C. or not.

Service men who have been in the army for more than one year may apply to Harold Taylor, at B. 191, for exemption from wearing the green headgear, but these men must observe all other university traditions.

SPECIAL MEET FOR PROM HELD TODAY

Lathrop Follette, Prom chairman, has called a special meeting of all Prom committees today at 12:45 p. m., in 165 Main hall. Important business relative to Prom is to be taken up, and questions that will require the vote of all committees will be discussed. All interested in Prom are asked to attend.

WHITE SPADES HEARS "WHO'S WHO" REPORT

White Spades, junior-senior honorary society, will meet Friday at 12:40 in the cabinet room of the Y. M. C. A. to hear the report of members in charge of "Who's Who at Wisconsin." Lawrence W. Murphy, editor, and George Crownhart, business manager, will discuss the work of the publication.

OCTOPUS SEEKS '21 CO-ED WHO'S ALSO FUNNY ONE

Noel Stearn Elected as Senior
Member of the Board of Editors

Today is the day, in which the funniest woman in the junior class can win a position on The Octopus board. The contest for the junior woman member opens and closes today. Material submitted must include three short original jokes or more, one longer humorous piece of 100 or 200 words, and a brief discussion of the thing the candidate liked best or disliked most in the last number, and the reason why. All contributions must be in by tonight.

Noel Stearn was elected senior member of the board at the meeting yesterday. He is a graduate of Leland Stanford university, where he was on the staff of The Chaparral, the humorous magazine, which is well known throughout the United States. While there he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

Stearn entered Wisconsin last fall, in the two-year course in geology. He is responsible for many of the best verses in the issues of The Octopus that have appeared already. In "La Vie Wisconsinienne," which comes out May 12, more of his work will appear.

DUDLEY BROOKS HEADS LIT STAFF

Dudley Brooks has been elected editor of The Wisconsin Literary Magazine to take the place of James W. Gilman, who resigned a short time ago when he left the university. Brooks will take charge of the Lit for the remainder of the school year and for next year. He has been a contributor to the magazine for some years, many of his works having been published before he left to serve in the Madison company of the field hospital corps which was with the 32nd in all its movements through France and the Rhine country.

Last year, while Brooks was with the Army of Occupation, there appeared in the Lit a page of his verse which had been published previously in The Blue Pencil, a weekly edited by Brooks when he was with the American army in France.

One of the features which the Lit expects to inaugurate is a contributors' column which will serve to introduce the contributors to the public, telling of their university activities, and what and where other works written by them have been published.

MALES ARE JARRED BY HAIRCUT RUMOR

A rumor prevalent about the campus yesterday almost made Wisconsin men draw up resolutions to revive the fashion of long curls. The rumor, at once branded as unfounded by John Runkel, held that the price of haircuts in the city had been raised to 75 cents. Both Runkel's and Singer's tonsorial emporiums have taken decisive steps towards disillusioning the distressed male public by hanging signs in the windows, reading, "Haircuts 50 cents each."

"Y" TO INAUGURATE OFFICERS TONIGHT

Inauguration of new Y. M. C. A. officers will feature the weekly fellowship meeting at the "Y" at 7 p. m. today. "Red" Weston, president-elect, will present the cabinet for next year. Dean H. L. Russell of the College of Agriculture will be the speaker, reviewing activities of the Y. M. C. A. in "the good old days."

Wields Gavel to Open Journalists' Convention Today

MISS MARION LEWIS

Miss Marion Lewis, grand president of Theta Sigma Phi, is a member of the journalism faculty of the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kan. She is a member of Epsilon chapter and was elected grand president at the first national convention held in 1918 at Kansas. Before joining the University of Kansas faculty, Miss Lewis was editor of the school page of The Minneapolis Journal.

SOPH DANCE SIGNS TWO ENTERTAINERS

"Sparks" Dodge, comedy magician and creator of the Pingville Parson in Union Vodvil, will be the chief entertainer at the sophomore dance tomorrow night at Lathrop gym. Dodge is one of the best known of the campus entertainers and has promised an entire new line of patter for his sophomore dance appearance. He will appear during the intermission.

"Chuck" Carpenter is featured at the piano of the orchestra, and may be induced to sing one of his newest songs. In addition efforts are being made to secure out of town cabaret talent for a song and dance.

Tickets for the dance are making a rapid sale, under the direction of the tickets committee. Admittance cards may be bought at the University pharmacy and Morgan's. Sophomores in particular are invited to attend, although everyone is welcome.

WHIZZES AND BANGS IN SCIENCE EXHIBIT

All the whizz-bangs of the advanced laboratories of the physics department will be put through their stunts for the benefit of physics students when the department holds an open house and inspection at the Physics-Economics building next Tuesday night. Students will be taken in small groups on tours of inspection of the laboratories, and operation of the wireless telegraph, the liquid air plant, and other equipment will be demonstrated.

SECOND WOODBERRY LECTURE ON LOWELL

"Lowell" will be the subject of a lecture in 165 Main hall at 4:30 p. m., today, by Prof. George E. Woodberry, former Wisconsin faculty member and distinguished literary critic, whose first lecture on "Longfellow" Tuesday afternoon drew a capacity audience. The third and concluding lecture of the series on "Shelley," will be given at 165 Main hall at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow.

60 DELEGATES HERE AT MEET OF PRESS FRAT

Convention of Theta Sigma
Phi Opens in Lathrop
This Morning

With registration at Lathrop hall this morning, the second national convention of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary journalistic fraternity for women, opens its three-day session here. Delegates came yesterday and early today and all is set for the first business session which will be held this morning. Sixty delegates will represent the 16 chapters of the society.

With a full program of business and entertainment ahead, Garnet Kleven, as president of the local chapter will start things off with an address of welcome this morning at Lathrop hall.

Big Questions Up

Two of the big questions before the convention will be taken up in speeches which are scheduled for the first meeting. Marion Lewis, grand president, will present the plan which the fraternity has for the employment of women in the teaching field of journalism. Susan Shaffer, of Chicago, an alumnus Theta Sigma Phi, will speak on the occupational bureau which the organization plans to set up in Chicago.

A national Theta Sigma Phi song written by members of the Wisconsin chapter will be presented for adoption by the new local pledges. Standing committees for the next two years will be appointed by the president and will immediately be put to work on the questions facing the convention.

Detroit Man to Speak

At 3:30 this afternoon there will be an open meeting in Lathrop parlors at which Lee A. White of The Detroit News will speak on "The Function of the Journalistic Fraternity." All students and faculty in the university who are interested are invited to hear Mr. White at that time. Mr. White is historian for Sigma Delta Chi and editor of The Quill. After his talk the delegates will have the opportunity to hear George Woodberry, who is to lecture on Lowell in 165 Main hall.

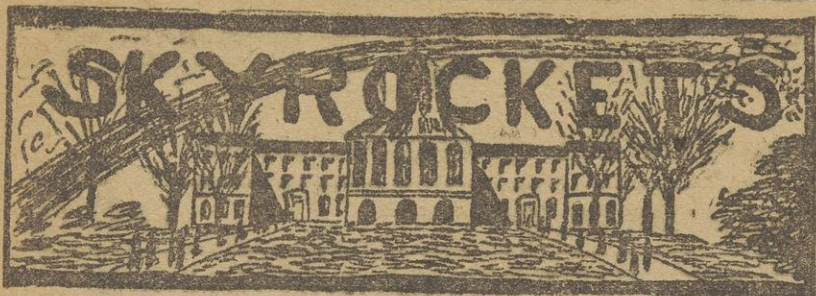

This evening there will be reception in Chadbourne hall parlors for members of the Grand Council, visiting delegates and guests.

TEA-HOUND ENEMY IN COMMERCE TALK

The arch-foe of Wisconsin tea-hounds, Edward S. Jordan, whose plea here in February for a return of the good old Wisconsin spirit was followed by agitation for the elimination of lounge lizards and porch pussies, will address commerce students and others interested, on the subject, "Production Problems," at the commerce vocational conference today at 4:30 p. m., in the Physics auditorium. Mr. Jordan is president of the Jordan Motor Car company.

When Mr. Jordan spoke at the all-university conference he pointed out the prospects for young men in the automobile industry. Today he is expected to offer some practical suggestions that will help the student get more out of a college education.

Mr. Jordan will be glad to meet any who are particularly interested in making the automobile industry their life work, in Prof. S. W. Gilman's office at 3:30.

AIN'T RAIN HELL?

The weather here sure gets my goat.
Declared young Frank Duquesne,
For when it doesn't snow all day,
It's pretty sure to resne.
It fills me full of sorrow, too,
Affirmed his crony, Johnny Lane,
But, still, there's no use getting sore,
The farmers must have lots of rane.

Reporteress, Overcome With Curiosity, Sees Faculty Foot-light Artists as Frisky Wooers

By THE CURIOUS REPORTER
"Curiosity once killed a cat," so the saying goes. It was a roof-raising laugh that led me to enter the room. Imagine my astonishment upon discovering that this most undignified laughter came from members of the faculty. There they were—Prof. Carl Russell Fish, Prof. E. H. Byrne, and a lot of others. I attempted to withdraw unnoticed, but it was too late. I was discovered! Mr. Sheeham, of the English department, assumed a supposedly serious attitude, and said: "It's just a rehearsal for the Curtain club play, which is to be given May 4, at the High school auditorium. It is Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Ernest."

"The Importance of....but why all the merriment at the rehearsal of such a serious play, by such a presumably dignified cast?" I questioned.

"Serious? Two young women resolved never to marry unless the man's name was Ernest. The two heroes, madly in love, as an only solution to the problem, decide to be rebaptized. That is "The Importance of Being Ernest. It is a most daring thing for the faculty to undertake, for it is presumptuous fun, and nothing more, and you know the faculty will be subject to the criticism of the students. But it is jolly fun," he continued.

Just then there was another outburst of boisterous laughter. "Oh, that is the curate.....Horatio Winslow, of the English department. He's a scream. He is so original in his interpretation of his lines, that although I have heard him nine times I laugh every time.

You must watch the next scene. That is Professor Byrne making love to Mrs. Carl Russell Fish. Professor Fish plays opposite Miss Jerry Ochsner. The costuming is supervised by Professor Fernberg, and Professor Barnum has charge of the scenery."

At that moment there was a call for the butler, and Mr. Sheeham disappeared.

No Dance at Studio

Thursday, April 29, 1920.

Fellows:

Tomorrow night the Sophomores are throwing THE feature dance of the season at Lathrop, and you will want to be there for several reasons.

First, "Chuck" Carpenter will be there, and will put on a feature stunt during the intermission.

Second, we are able to get "Sparks" Dodge to play the drums, and, what is much more, we bribed him to crack a few of his best tricks for us.

Third, seven of Thompson's best artists will furnish the jazz, including a saxophone duo.

And you get all of this, including some delicious refreshments, for $1.50. That's the most you ever got at a dance for $1.50, isn't it? Besides, we've paid your war tax for you.

Bring your date to Lathrop tomorrow night for a real dance and a real time. She'll like it better than anywhere else you could take her.

Yours truly,

THE '22 DANCE COMMITTEE.

P. S.—This applies particularly to sophomores, but everybody is welcome. You can get your tickets at Morgan's and the University Pharmacy.

Critic Has to Remove Coat While Reviewing Picture Exhibit Because Colors Are So Warm

By PENNELL CROSBY

Brilliant sunlight and purple shadows are the characteristics of the paintings of E. Ambrose Webster, which are now on exhibit at the historical museum. This painter is interested in the effect of sunlight and not one of the paintings is of a dull day.

"Aren't they bright!" people say when they come into the room. It's true—they surely are.

"Don't look at them just before lunch," advised a co-ed. "I did, and in my famished condition I was hardly strong enough to stand it."

The fact is, that the collection is too large for the room where it is exhibited, and since each picture is a strong unit in itself, the crowding of them gives rise to a color vibration that almost hurts.

There is nothing subdued about these pictures. The technique is rather impressionistic, the paint seeming to have been laid on with a palette knife. Close up, they are unintelligible, seeming mere unrelated smears; it is necessary to look at them from quite a distance.

The greater part of the subjects are landscapes in Bermuda and Jamaica. The treatment of the strong sunlight makes them decidedly warm.

"I had to take off my coat," continues the co-ed who came before lunch, "they made me too deuced hot."

A few pictures are of New England landscapes. These appear less daring because they are snow scenes, and the chance for heat is less. However, the glare of the sun on the snow is done with a good feeling. Most persons like these better. The others may be true to life—probably they are—but to us they seem impossible.

The use of yellow with shadows in purple is really striking. Almost every picture has an undertone of deep purple.

Webster, the painter, is at present the director of a large school in Provincetown. He studied at the Boston museum, and in Paris with Laurens and Constant.

There will be numerous stunts and prizes will be offered for the ones which are most original and most cleverly planned. The complete arrangements have not yet been decided upon, but will be published later.

An open meeting will be held at 3:30 today in Lathrop parlors in honor of the delegates to the convention of Theta Sigma Phi.

TO THETA SIGMA PHI, WELCOME

JOURNALISM is one of the professions in which women are rapidly forging to the front.

Just as politics have been put on a higher level by the introduction of equal suffrage, so it is not fanciful to predict that journalistic standards may be elevated largely in the degree in which women bring their influence to play in working for cleaner, sounder ethics and practices.

As an organization pledged to further the best ideals of women in the profession, Theta Sigma Phi deserves honor for its efforts in the direction of putting American journalism on a high, professional plane.

To the delegates who assemble today for the three-day national convention of the sorority, The Daily Cardinal, other journalistic groups on the campus, and the university at large extend warmest welcome, with the hope that the program will be most profitable and, at its conclusion, that the visitors will depart with a favorable impression of Wisconsin spirit and hospitality.

SUPPORT FOR ORATORY

THE only event of an all-conference nature that will appear in Madison this spring is the Northern Oratorical League contest listed for Friday night, May 7. It is an oratorical contest that is unequalled in quality and prestige anywhere in the United States. On the basis of its being a varsity activity it should attract the interest of students as much as any athletic contest.

When a Badger basketball five has a game we gladly forego the pleasure of a show or a dance in order to give support to the team. When a Wisconsin orator steps on the platform to compete against five other leading conference orators there ought to be someone there besides the judges.

This premier oratorical contest comes to Madison but once every second college generation. To hear it is indeed a rare treat and a like opportunity. But the numberless chances that the student has to dance and see shows should make him willing to omit a social event at least one week-end in a school year to give support to a Wisconsin representative in an intercollegiate oratorical contest.

Six speakers, well trained in the art of finished oratory, will deliver as many masterpieces on questions that are all foremost in the minds of thinking Americans today. On this additional basis of educational entertainment the contest should draw support from the entire student body. The surest way of popularizing forensics is by showing with our attendance that we want and appreciate a contest like the N. O. L.

FRENCH COMEDY WINS AUDIENCE

"Ceinture Doree," Presented in Lathrop Hall, Delights Crowd

By H. H. POWELL

"Ceinture Doree," a French comedy in three acts, by Emile Augier, was presented last night in Lathrop concert hall by a capable cast who succeeded in the difficult task of holding the interest of a large audience, a great part of which was unfamiliar with the French language. The characterizations and acting were such that the trend of the play could be followed even by those who could not understand all of the dialogue. Much credit is due to Mrs. J. H. Greenleaf, who directed the production.

The story is of an old man of low birth who has made a large fortune by rather shady means and whose whole thought is taken up in trying to make a good match for his attractive daughter, who despises the mercenary motives of all the suitors. The predominance of money in the thoughts of the characters gives rise to the title "The Gilded Belt."

Luther Pfluger, of the French department, was easily the star of the performance. Around his delineation of the character of the father, at times humorous and at times pathetic, centered most of the action of the play. Louise Smith, as the daughter involved, made the most of the heroine's part, and the Rev. Norman Kimball's easy manner and fluent French made the hero's role quite convincing. Lee McCandless, as a pedantic musician, added many laughs to the performance with his exaggerated mannerisms. Esther Guerini, as a friend of the daughter, and Hul-Cee Acton, as one of the suitors, filled their parts very well; and Edwin Guyer, as a butler, and Miriam Doan, Hazel Brashear, and Albert Orschel, as guests, were quite adequate.

FORENSIC DINNER NOTABLE AFFAIR

Delta Sigma Rho Initiates Seven Men at Gathering Last Night

The most notable forensic gathering held at Wisconsin since pre-war days occurred last night when Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity, entertained seven new members and a group of former Badger debating and oratorical stars at dinner at Hicks' cafe.

The banquet followed the initiation of Melbourne Bergerman, Keats S. Chu, Clyde B. Emery, Baron De H. Meyer, Sydney F. Moody, I. Arnold Perstein, and Goodwin B. Watson, as members of the local chapter. A lively discussion on the forensic situation as it has presented itself at Wisconsin during the past 20 years was the feature of the evening.

Leroy J. Burlingame, '18, acted as toastmaster and as such ably closed his long public speaking career as a representative of Wisconsin. Alvin C. Reis and M. B. Olbrich, both well known for their activity in forensic as undergraduates, spoke of the forensic situation in their day. E. E. Emery, of the California chapter, spoke on the situation as seen in the far West.

Other toasts were responded to by Keats S. Chu and Arnold Perstein for the initiates; Professors J. M. O'Neill and Andrew T. Weaver, of the public speaking department, who pointed out the splendid record that Wisconsin has established in debate and oratory; and David V. Beckwith and A. P. Haake, former inter-collegiate debaters.

MIXER AT RANDALL SCHOOL

Man to Housing and Town
Planning Congress

Governor E. L. Philipp has appointed Prof. L. S. Smith, city planning expert of the university, as delegate from Wisconsin to the Inter-Allied Housing and Town Planning congress which will be held in London, England, June 3 to 11.

Every state in the country is entitled to one delegate to the congress, which will be made up of representatives from practically every European country except Germany, Austria, and Turkey. An interesting itinerary has been arranged for the congress, including the garden cities of Port Sunlight, Letchworth, and Bourneville, England.

Professor Smith will leave the university May 12 and will devote the entire summer to a study of housing conditions in Europe, especially reconstruction work in Belgium and France and re-housing work in London.

The club has an active program planned for the rest of this year. It will sing several songs at the various movies in cooperation with the community song movement, at the May festival, Saturday evening, and at a luncheon of the Kiwanis club.

PEARL WHITE WILL MAKE FILMS ABROAD

Pearl White.

Miss Pearl White, one of the best known and most daring of America's screen stars and heroine of some of the pioneer thrillers and serials, has sailed for France. It is reported that she is to make pictures overseas and perhaps buy a Paris frock or two. The photograph shows Miss White on the deck of the liner "La Savoie." She is expecting to do as the French do while there, for she is already wearing the little round-toed French slippers. Kay Laurel sailed on the same ship with Miss White.

SEES RECORD CROWD FOR N. O. L. CLASH

Demosthenes of old or our own silver-tongued William Jennings Bryan both stand a good chance of losing their oratorical prestige when the Northern Oratorical League comes to Music hall on Friday, May 7, for its thirtieth annual contest.

Those who were fortunate enough to hear the last contest that the league held in Madison, on May 1, 1914, will recall the impression that the event created. It was the only forensic contest during that college generation from which persons had to be turned away because Music hall was not large enough to accommodate the crowd.

Advance sales of tickets point to another capacity house. Persons desiring to make sure of their attendance can get tickets from any member of a literary society. The time and place of the open sale will be announced next week.

WARNER HEADS P. & P. DRIVE

The remarkable strides made by the Madison Park and Pleasure Drive association were represented by President Ernest N. Warner at the annual meeting of the association at the city library Tuesday night. Mr. Warner was re-elected.

Other officers re-elected were Charles N. Brown, vice president; John L. Bourke, secretary, and F. W. Hoyt, treasurer. Directors chosen were: John L. Bourke, Dr. C. G. Dwight, F. W. Hoyt, John C. Prien, A. X. Merz, Charles N. Brown, E. N. Warner and Fred M. Schlenger.

F. W. Hoyt, City Engineer E. E. Parker, Norton J. Williams, chairman of the county board, and Otto J. Toepfer, chairman of the town of Madison, were other speakers.

SUNSET STATE CLUB HOLDS DINNER PARTY

Members of the California club held a dinner last night at the capitol, as a substitute for a picnic on the drive which was called off on account of the rain.

After the dinner had been enjoyed, the party adjourned to the Orpheum in a body.

"We adways have good times," declares Virginia Woolery, vice-president of the club, and head of the social committee. "We've had such a lot of fun, and we're going to have lots more. I guess we have an extra-large capacity for good times."

MOTHERS' DAY TEA TO BE GIVEN SUNDAY

A Mothers' Day tea for a week in advance of Mothers' Day is being planned by girls of the University Methodist church for next Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5.

All the Methodist girls and their friends, and all the rest of the girls and their friends, are to greet each other under the hospitality, not only of denominational leaders from the student body, but also of many women of the church.

Friendship tea, and a program are all to be combined for the benefit of guests and friends. Girls who have especially taken part in campus work and leadership are to be guests and hostesses.

AT THE GRAND

Griffith's artistic accomplishment in "The Greatest Question," is the characteristic triumph of the master hand enhanced by the delineation of a story in a simple way that makes it possible to drive home the most profound subject that the centuries have produced.

Among favorite Griffith players that appear in this production are Lillian Gish and Robert Harron, who depict the parts of a country girl and boy placed in an environment that logically calls for a test of the Great Faith.

"The Greatest Question" will be shown at the Grand for the last times today.

CHURCHES GET $272,444 TOTAL IN FUND DRIVE

Officials in both the state and local campaign of the Interchurch World Movement look for the interest to reach its height from this time on.

State headquarters at the Park hotel under Dr. L. A. Cooper is receiving telegraphic reports from the state, noting progress each day up to 10 a. m.

The sum reported subscribed up to 10 a. m. today is $272,444.

One of the big amounts which the 30 operating denominations expect to raise this week throughout the United States is $107,661,488 for foreign missions. This includes medical missionaries, schools, homes, hospitals, training native workers, etc.

"Many will say, 'Charity begins at home,'" said Dr. Fred B. Haggard, of the national headquarters, "little realizing that a single medical missionary in India or China may be the means of saving thousands of lives in the United States. Plagues of all kinds, from influenza to bubonic, invariably come to us from the backward peoples who handle the goods imported from their countries, and the only force that can check it is some poor, lone medical missionary working night and day in these benighted lands."

TRAFFIC STILL IS CURTAILED

Manufacturers Say Rail
Shipments Are Held Up

CHICAGO — Railroad managers here today claimed continued improvement in freight traffic, but the Illinois Manufacturers' Association declared the situation resulting from the strike of insurgent railroad employees was more serious.

Wm. N. Pelouse president of the association telegraphed R. M. Barton, chairman of the Railroad Labor board, Washington:

"The situation as to the movement of food and fuel is becoming more acute and serious. Will the labor board agree immediately to hear and endeavor to adjust the differences between the railroads and their employees if the latter will return to work?"

The railroads stated 2,214 switchmen in the Chicago district worked yesterday, 1,136 being returned strikers, 359 new men and 709 brought from other points.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 42 at 2 p. m. and the lowest was 37 at 4 a. m. Precipitation was .14. The sun will set at 6:55 p. m.

The storm center moved northward through Michigan Tuesday. Rain continues falling in the lake regions. Another low on the middle Atlantic coast is causing rain from New England to Florida. Fair and slightly warmer weather prevails on the plains. Low barometer in Montana is causing snow and colder weather in the northern Rockies.

DELAY REPORT ON HOUSING

Probe Findings Are Sent to Barron for New Signature

The housing committee report, which, it was expected, would be filed with the governor Wednesday had not been received in Madison. It was sent to Barron, Wis., for the signature of Assemblyman Clarence C. Coe.

It is expected that the report after reviewing the facts disclosed by the committee's investigation will recommend that the powers of the railroad commission shall be enlarged so that on complaint of any truants they may investigate the cost and actual value of property offered for rent, and if found that rentals charged are excessive, they may order them reduced.

The committee which has been investigating housing conditions and rentals charged consists besides Mr. Coe, of Senator Jennings chairman, and Frank Weber, Gustav Wollaege, and Garfield S. Canright.

Traffic Rules to be Strictly Observed

Traffic regulations in Madison are to be strictly enforced, according to Chief of Police Thomas Shaughnessy. All heavy, slow going vehicles, warns the chief, must keep as near as possible to the right side curbing in order to allow faster vehicles coming up from behind to pass them on the left without any danger of colliding with teams or cars coming from the opposite directions.

The observance of this ordinance will save many a collision.

HOW MUCH IS THIS BRITISH ISLAND WORTH TO UNCLE SAM?

The British government seems to be in a receptive mood to consider a proposal from the United States to purchase the British islands in the West Indies, among which is the Barbados group. The plan for America to take over these islands and give Britain a credit on her huge indebtedness to us originated in the United States. A glimpse at the main city of the Barbados is shown above.

HALF OF STUDENTS AID MEMORIAL FUND

Over half the student body has failed to subscribe to the Memorial Union fund, according to the committee report yesterday.

A committee of 35 students is making a house to house canvass in order to reach the delinquents, and it is expected that this personal solicitation will send the drive well over the top. Each of the 15 buildings on the campus are being canvassed for faculty subscriptions, and returns from eight of them were in yesterday.

"It is necessary that every effort be made to co-operate with the committee," said Loring Hammond, Union board treasurer. "If students who have not already subscribed will fill out the blanks which they have, and have them ready for the canvassers when they call, it will help a great deal in speeding up the drive. Let's all pull together and reach the $100,000 mark this week."

CLAIMS OF GREEKS DISCUSSED IN TALK

Prof. W. L. Westerman, of the history department, will speak on "Greek Claims at the Peace Conference," at the meeting of the International club, to be held in the S. G. Students of history and world politics as well as members of the International club, are invited to hear this talk.

Training College Men for Business

The Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University offers a two-year course to college graduates. The course is designed to give a broad fundamental training for business together with specialization in those fields in which the student is most interested.

College men, looking to business as a career, feel the lack of adequate preparation which enables them to deal effectively either with general business problems or with the problems in their own special fields. The Harvard Business School aims to fill this need.

Special emphasis is placed upon the application of business theory to actual business problems. For this purpose the "problem method" of instruction is used. The Boston territory affords an excellent business laboratory.

Courses offered: Accounting, Business Law, Banking and Finance, Marketing, Advertising, Industrial Management, Employment Management, Business Statistics, Foreign Trade, Transportation, Insurance, Lumbering, Income Taxation, Office Organization, Printing and Publishing.

Completion of the two-year course leads to the degree of Master of Business Administration.
