POWERS MAY ASK CHANGE IN VENUE, CALM AT ARREST

Judge Stolen to Decide on Scene of Trial After Conference

If Patrick J. Powers, former Madison police patrolman, goes to trial for the slaying of Peter M. Posepny, 21, University of Wisconsin student from Two Rivers, the case will not be heard in Madison.

This was practically assured Friday when it was learned that the defense counsel undoubtedly will ask for a change of venue in the event that the court holds at the preliminary hearing next Friday that there is probable cause to believe that a crime was committed.

While no definite announcement concerning his course of action has been made by Frank L. Gilbert, former attorney general of Wisconsin and counsel for Powers, he intimated Thursday night that it would be next to impossible to secure a jury in Dane county which would be satisfactory. The reason is that, prospective jurors in Dane county, being so close to the scene of the tragedy, have read accounts of the slaying in the newspapers and have more or less definite opinions of the case.

Court Will Decide

The selection of the court to which the action would be carried is a matter for Judge Ole A. Stolen to handle. The court, however, will confer with the state's attorneys and the counsel for the defense and choose a court which is satisfactory to both.

Former Patrolman Powers was at liberty again on Friday after $2,500 bail bonds had been furnished by Louis M. Hobbins and Ex-Mayor W. D. Curtis. Mr. Hobbins and Mr. Curtis accompanied Powers to the courthouse Thursday afternoon prepared to furnish bail in any amount the court might ask. At the recommendation of Asst. Dist. Atty. Phillip G. Sanborn bail was set at $2,500.

Faces Arrest Calmly

Powers took his arrest stoically Thursday afternoon. He came to the courthouse and the warrant, charging him with manslaughter, was read to him by Police Chief Thomas Shaughnessy.

His eyes lowered he stood facing his chief as this formality was performed, and at the conclusion, simply nodded in recognition of its meaning.

Chats With Hobbins

After he had been formally arrested, Powers found a seat on a bench at the rear of the court room beside Mr. Hobbins. He chatted with his bondsman while the court called the case of the state against Carmelita Oliva, a liquor law violation action. That was postponed to May 20, and Judge Stolen turned his attention to Powers.

Accompanied by his attorney, the former policeman arose and walked toward the bar, taking a seat at the attorney's table.

Attorney Gilbert waived reading of the complaint, and Powers stood before the judge's bench and asked to enter his plea.

"Not guilty," he said.

Business Officers Hear McCaffrey and Ritger Speak

The association is composed of business officers in universities and colleges all over the country. The meeting will last through today.

Students to Offer Old Indian Playlet at Lathrop Tonight

Agnes Phillips, Mohundra Bahadur, grad., Hans Orasar '25, and Rupchaud Dhir, grad., will take part in "Chitra" an Indian play, which is to be given in Lathrop concert room at eight o'clock this evening.

The theme of the play, taken from an ancient drama by Rabindranath Tagore is an old Indian love story. The scene is set in a forest, where a prince and princess meet. The princess falls in love with the prince, much as modern girls are wont to do, but the prince is unimpressed by her charms. By some miracle the princess is made more beautiful. In the end the curtain falls on a happy prince and princess.

The play will bring out some of the picturesque costumes of India.

SELECT BEAUTIFUL CO-EDS FOR SHOW

Eighteen Women Being Chosen By Committee For Style Display

Selection of 18 of the most beautiful women students among those most prominent on the campus to take part in the style show, the premiere event of the Spring Horse show is now being made by the committee. "The Eighteen" will be announced in a few days.

The selections are being made on a basis of general womanly beauty and attractiveness combined with prominence in university activities. This feature of the style show is entirely new and is expected to add a new interest to the whole program of events.

The women chosen will be garbed in the latest spring and summer riding habits, which will be supplied by a local merchant. A colorful effect is promised when the girls lead good looking horses around the arena demonstrating all the latest modes in riding habits.

Madison merchants dealing in riding outfits have promised to decorate their windows and thus add another attraction to the style show, the committee announced.

Tickets for the Horse show are now on sale at the University pharmacy, Morgan's, Frank's restaurant, and Hook's music store.

HARVARD PROF SPEAKS ON DAWES COMMISSION

The work of the Dawes commission constituted the first constructive step taken on the reparation question, which has been an international concern ever since the Versailles treaty was put into effect, in the opinion of Prof. George Grafton Wilson, of the department of international law at Harvard university, who spoke on "Recent International Adjustments" at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in 165 Bascom hall, under the auspices of the political science department.

Laird of the classic department stated yesterday.

The following officers were chosen, George Abendroth '25, president; Walter Bonawitz '25, vice-president; Norman Rick '25, secretary-treasurer and Harold Jensen '25, chairman of the publicity committee. Also a committee was appointed to arrange for the banquet which will be held in a week or two.

"This Has Got To Stop," Says Bold Knicker Wearer

The stockings were not loud nor the Knickers noisy, yet when they passed the Law building a cry of "fore" greeted their wearer.

He stopped. Ten minutes before he had learned from a painter what "fore" meant.

"I just knocked a fellow down who called 'fore' at me, he told the law student. "He was from the great open places but I knocked him down."

"Bunker," was the reply.

The knickered chap went on a few feet, turned around and informed his tormentor:

"This stuff has to stop. I will stop it. I would stop it now if you didn't have your gang with you."

The man with the gang came without his gang. Unhampered by long trousers the knickered one capered around him in circles yelling, "I'll get you. I'll get you."

A tree got between them. The law student could not get around it as fast as the other. Disgusted, he turned away.

Instantly the golf boy jumped on his back with a joyful cry, "I've got you."

A minute later he had only a part of the student and that part was not in "fore", although attached for a brief space to the garment that had caused the trouble. He went hastily in the direction propelled still insisting, "This has got to stop."

Dykema to Judge Music Contest of Michigan Schools

Prof. P. W. Dykema, of the School of Music, left Thursday to act as the judge of the fifth annual all-Michigan high school music contest which is being held at Mount Pleasant today.

For the third time Professor Dykema is acting as the sole adjudicator of the Michigan contest. According to the official announcement his judging has become a fixed part of the contest.

"His constructive criticism at the time awards are made have made Mr. Dykema's part a real feature of the contest and the universal expression of confidence in the judge reveals one of the principal reasons for the splendid spirit of the whole contest," the announcement stated.

COLLEGE WOMAN DEFIES PACIFISTS

Enez Traxler, N. W. Co-ed, Stands Alone Against 124 on Peace Vote

One lone girl stood out against 124 students and faculty of the Garrett Biblical institute of Northwestern university when a vote was ordered on the Methodist Episcopal general conference memorial against war. This incident occurred at the chapel meeting on Thursday.

Miss Enez Traxler with eyes flashing, figure erect, and her voice vibrating with emotion read the 124 a lecture on two questions.

"If the Japanese fleet were to sail to our coast tomorrow and fire on our flag, would you stand on the street corners, look heavenward and pray?" she cried.

Pausing for a moment and looking about her for an answer, Miss Traxler declared with emphasis:

"I vote no."

"I am for peace, but not for peace at any price," declared Miss Traxler in an interview with the United Press today.

The "Pacifism" controversy, now agitating the country, was started at Northwestern several months ago when 38 members of Garrett institute signed pledge cards against war at any price.

Sophomore Dance Attended By 200 Couples at Boyd's

Two hundred students attended the annual sophomore class dance held at Boyd's studio last night.

The dancers thoroughly enjoyed the feature numbers which were skillfully executed. The soft shoe dance by Howard Kerr '26 was generously applauded. Other specialties, including a spotlight dance also enhanced the evening.

The music for the dance was furnished by Jesse Cohen's orchestra. The Candy Shop was appropriately decorated with spring flowers.

STUDENTS WRITE MAGAZINE STORIES

Journalists Contribute Feature Articles For Wisconsin Publication

It would be too rash and rather undignified to call the May issue of the Wisconsin Magazine "the student number," but to the university student reading the contents page, that would probably be his reaction, for eleven of the articles were contributed by students from the course in journalism.

Martha Dalrymple '26 in her article, "Wisconsin as a Pea-Canning State" turns the spotlight of publicity upon one of Wisconsin's industries which persons rarely consider, if at all. The article takes up the canning process, especially as regards sterilization and grading of the product.

Students now take the "liber" rather as a matter of course, but Alicia Grant '27 makes a live story out of it in her article "How Wisconsin's Historical Society Serves the State."

Other articles in the magazine by students in the course in journalism were written by Joyce M. Larkin '26, Helen J. Baldauf '25, Dorothy Zimmermann '25, Florence Killilea '26, Marion MacDermid '24, Harold M. Griffin '26, Edna T. Walter '25, Victor Zierka '26, and Chi-Chen Wang '25.

CLAPP WILL PUBLISH ARITHMETIC BOOK SET

"Drill Book in Arithmetic" is the name of a set of five books written by Prof. Frank L. Clapp, of the school of education which will be published early next fall for use in five school grades, beginning with the fourth grade. Each book contains two different sets of exercises, appropriate to its grade, one set of which will afford teachers an opportunity for picking out certain exercises that will give the pupils necessary drill on certain combinations.

RIPON GRADUATES OF 1875 HOLD REUNION

The 1875 graduating class of Ripon college will hold a reunion in June 1925, commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of their graduation. BADGER JUDGE CLOSES BROADWAY CABARETS

Nine Broadway cabarets in New York were ordered padlocked for a year by a Wisconsin judge, Claude Z. Luze of Superior. Some gloomily prophecy this as the end of the great white way. The palais Royal, the Moulin Rouge, the Plantation, Montmartre, the Club Royale, Balmoral club, Club Gallant, the Barn club and the 400 club are the cabarets which have been closed.

The Pan-American Union is supported by quotas contributed by each country, based upon the population.

PRESENT GERMAN PLAY ON MAY 22

"Der Bibliothekar," By Gus- tave von Moser, is Comedy of Errors

A veritable comedy of errors is the German play which will be given in Lathrop concert room Thursday, May 22. The play was written by Gustav von Moser, a German playwright who is known for his clever dialogue and bubbling German wit.

It has no local coloring and can therefore be easily understood by anyone. The characters of the play are as follows:

Marsland, country landowner, Paul Vornholt '27; Edith, his daughter, Ruth Krause '26; Harry Marsland, his nephew, Arnold Hempe '24; MacDonald, William Bernard '27; Lothair, his nephew, Richard Buholtz '26; Eva Webster, Edith's companion, Isabel Rheins '27; Sarah Gildern, governess, Es-graduation have 32 credits in a foreign language, and the languages of French, Spanish, and Italian seemed to be the popular choice.

German attracts the next greatest number of potential graduates, now having enrolled in its department 919 students. This department has grown rapidly in the last two years, and several new members have been added to the teaching staff. The appeal of this language has been laid largely in the homes, and it is not unusual to find in some advance classes, members who speak easily and fluently in German.

The classic languages of Latin and Greek are not nearly so much sought after as in the earlier days of university education. Figures Latin and Greek to be 429.

Next in importance are the Scandinavian languages with an enrollment of 173. Semitics follow, with a registration of 33. The total enrollment in foreign languages is 5110. A few students are taking two languages at the same time.

Most of the students enrolled in the foreign language courses are freshmen and sophomores. Many of them enter with two years of a foreign language from high school, but few continue with that language, preferring to begin the study of a new language.

Chicago, Purple, Ohio and Badgers in Meet Today

QUAD TRACK MEET
FEATURES SPORT
PROGRAM TODAY

Mile Relay to Be Run in Addition to Regular Events

More than 150 track athletes from Chicago, Northwestern, Ohio State, and Wisconsin will compete in the first quadrangular meet at Camp Randall at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Although the Badgers defeated Chicago, Northwestern and Ohio State in the indoor meet at Evanston Feb. 15, the events in the outdoor meet will be more closely contested.

Special Mile Relay

In addition to the 15 track and field events, a one-mile relay race, in which several of the best runners in the conference will participate, will be run.

McAndrews, Wisconsin's star dash man, will enter the short distance runs and the broad jump. He has a record of 9 9-10 seconds in the 100-yard dash, and he scored fifteen points in the 100-yard and 220-yard dash and broad jump in the Minnesota meet at Minneapolis last Saturday. McFarland and Kerwein, Chicago, and Donovan and Kukulick, Ohio State, are also sprinters of considerable ability.

Distance Men Fast

In the two mile run, Piper, Read and Perry, Wisconsin's trio of distance men, will encounter much competition. Payne, Ohio State, who has a record of 9 minutes and 50 seconds in this run, Bourke, Chicago, and Davis, Northwestern, will crowd the Badger runners in this event.

Martin, Northwestern, will probably win the one-mile race. He has a record of 4 minutes and 25 seconds in this run, but he will be pushed by Cassidy, who won this event in the Minnesota meet last Saturday, Bergstresser and Schneider, Wisconsin; Bourke, Chicago, and Kilpatrick, and Krieder, who has completed the mile distance in State.

Snyder in Hurdles

Wisconsin depends upon Captain William Hammann '24, who has a record of 12 feet and 8 inches in the pole vault, Krieger, Scott, Jones and Schmidt, although Bouscher, Northwestern and Frieda, Chicago, are consistent vaulters.

Snyder, Ohio State, who won first in the Penn relays, will enter both the 120-yard high hurdles and 220-yard low hurdles. Although he will probably win the event, Brickman and Jones, Chicago; Kelly, Northwestern; Guthrie, Ohio State; and Tuhtar, Claxman and Zilisch, Wisconsin; have made good records.

While Wisconsin is weak in the weight events, Harmon, Limberg, Stehr, Tressler and Aller have shown improvement in the workouts during the past week and may be counted upon to add points to the Cardinal's total.

Passing Stressed
in Heavy Spring
Football Workout

These sunny days Coaches Ryan and Traynor are running the spring football men at a stiff pace in an effort to make up for the time lost on account of rain the forepart of the week.

Yesterday's practice was devoted to the perfecting of the passing game. The ends were given a light drill in receiving the oval and the remainder of the session was given over to the running through of various passing plays for the backfield men. Time after time the backs were sent out around the line to receive the pigskin. A great deal of attention was also paid to the throwing end of the aerial attack. Capt. Jack Harris, Lytle, Doyle Harmon, Kreuz and Muegge all saw action in yesterday's practice.

Several of the men spent the afternoon on punting practice. A substitute will have to be uncovered to replace Merrill Taft, veteran booter of last fall's eleven. The best bet

The Sling Shot

This afternoon will witness the quadrangular track meet between Wisconsin, Ohio, Northwestern, and Chicago. This meet will doubtless prove much more entertaining from the fans' point of view than the customary dual meet, and if good weather prevails some exceptionally fast marks should be made. This meet will also be of some value in doping out the relative strength of the different teams and in forecasting their final standing in the conference meet.

Larry Snyder of Ohio, who won the 120 yard high hurdles at the Penn games this spring, will face a stiff foe in Brickman of Chicago. Snyder is 27 years old, has a five year old daughter, and is a veteran of the last war.

A fast field will face the barrier in the 440 yard dash. McFarlan of Chicago, Waid of Ohio, Kennedy of Wisconsin, and Calhoun and Martin of Northwestern are all sterling performers, with McFarlan favored to cop.

Vally and Hilberts of Wisconsin will have their hands full when they meet Ross and Lisko of Ohio, and Calhoun Kahn, and Martin of Northwestern. Vally won the half mile in the conference last this afternoon.

The mile run should be one of the prettiest races of the afternoon, there being little to choose between Krieder of Ohio, Cassidy, Bergstresser, and Schneider of Wisconsin.

Hartranft of Stanford will be seen at the Conference meet in June. Hartranft is the Palo Alto youth who recently put the in yesterday's drill was Brooks member of the frosh grid team. This boy is a long limbed lad and is capable of sending the old ball for some beautiful rides.

The workout was closed by a snappy practice on the tackling dummy. This phase of the game has only been taken up recently in the spring drills and the men still show a lack of practice, but Barney Traynor's "Get in there, hit 'em low" is sending the men into the dummy with a vengeance. It is probable that as soon as the spring candidates round into shape a light scrimmage will close each of the day's workouts.

Christianson to Pitch Against Indians; Badger Hitting is Greatly Improved

The varsity baseball team entertained yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock on what will prove to be its crucial trip. Playing Illinois this afternoon and Purdue Monday, the nine must win both of these games to land at the top of the standing, and at least one of them to keep near the top.

An entirely different team from the one which bowed to the Illini 4 to 1 at Camp Randall will prance out on the field at Urbana this afternoon. Since that unfortunate encounter the men have had experience and gained confidence, as well as knowledge.

Captain is Confident

The boys took Minnesota handily Wednesday, and are prepared to repeat the performance against the Suckers. One obstacle which may prove insurmountable Wallie Roettger, must be subdued and Capt. Eddie Aschenbrenner, speaking for his team, says that they are going to send him to the showers in short order.

Should Wisconsin pull out victorious over Illinois it would lead the Big Ten race, with five victories and one defeat.

Play Purdue Monday

Coach Lowman plans to start Christianson against the Indians, holding Johnson and Luther in reserve for the Purdue tilt Monday. Christy tamed the Wolverines and made them like it, and with the help of a little hot weather should have Wallie Roettger and his crew eating out of his hand.

Hitting has improved a hundred percent, and some real sluggers have turned up. Tangen, Emanuel, Aschenbrenner, and Dugan have been pounding the apple consistently, and the other men on the team have been delivering opportune bingles with regularity.

The probable batting order is as follows:

Dugan, r. f.
Ellingson, s. s.
Tangen, 3rd.
Aschenbrenner, c.
Emanuel, c. f.
Christianson, p.
Goss, 2nd.
Servatius, l. f.
Steen, 1st.

shot 50 feet 11.3-4 inches and threw the discus over 150 feet. Both marks are near-world records.

Recently the Crew made the three mile course in 17:12, which is about two minutes faster than their first trip over the same course. This is most encouraging, according to Dad Vail. For although the Poughkeepsie course is usually covered in less than 14, there is still a month before that comes off, and there the time is aided materially by the strong outgoing tide.

On looking over sport records we find this:
One hundred yard dash in 9.1-2 seconds run at Kalgoolie Australia (downhill)—the record book does not inform us how steep the hill was.

Horseshoes Fly
as Students and Faculty Practice

The venerable sport of "tossing the ol' shoes" was shown to have many enthusiastic followers yesterday when the three horseshoe pitching courts between the gym and the Y. M. C. A. were opened for the season.

Players immediately commandeered every lane as soon as it was announced that the courts were ready. Instructors as well as students were on the job, the profs being on hand to get in training for the faculty pitching tournament which is slated to begin next week.

"I will see to it that more lanes are put in immediately," said George Berg, director of intramurals. "The great response to the game shows that quite a few more courts can be used."

Men who wish to indulge in barnyard golf may get the shoes any time by application at the gym office.

GOLF TEAM FACES
DIFFICULT MATCHBadger Golfers Meet Veteran
Chicago Squad on Local Links Today

The Badger golf team will go into action today against the strong Chicago team at the Maple Bluff links. A hard match is expected.

The Chicago team is composed of two last year's varsity men, "Sol" Miller, captain, Ken Heisert and two new men Charles Windet and Bill Dorsey.

Last year Wisconsin won their match from Chicago and Captain A. B. Book, Al Spear, "Vint" Stegeman and "Bob" Porter, comprising this year's team will exert every effort to repeat last year's success.

The singles matches will be played in the morning, each man of a team pairing off with a man of the other team. In the afternoon the doubles matches will be run off. The Naussau method of scoring will be used.

So far this season the golf team has lost matches to Illinois and Northwestern, winning its match with Minnesota. The team has been practicing diligently and is in very good condition for today's match.

MICHIGAN TENNIS
MEN WILL PLAY
6 MATCHES HERECardinal Players Are in Good Condition to Defeat Champion Wolverines

The varsity tennis squad will meet Michigan here today in a series of six matches. They will start at 1:30 and will be played on the varsity courts at Breeze Terrace.

The men who will play for Wisconsin are Capt. Art Moulding, Sah, Stebbins, Crane, and Manierre. The men have been working hard, but the bad weather has somewhat hampered practice. Everybody is in good condition because they have been in a series of conference matches and have been playing quite regularly.

Michigan has a very strong team this year and as yet they have not lost any of their matches. Wisconsin has not beaten the Wolverines for the last five or six years, but they hope to do it today. Last year the Wolverines won the conference championship, and it almost looks as if they were going to repeat again this year.

An interesting feature of the match today is that Peter Sah '24, a Chinese student, will represent Wisconsin while Captain Rorick, a South African, will uphold Michigan.

The summaries of the Gopher meet were as follows:

Moulding (W) beat Beck, 6-3 and 6-2; Sah (W) beat Duvall (M), 6-3 and 8-6; Stebbins (W) beat Carlson (M), 6-2, and 7-5; Douglas (M) beat Crane (W), 7-5 and 6-0; Sah and Moulding (W) beat Carlson and Duvall (F) 6-1 and 6-4; Beck and Douglas (M) beat Stebbins and Crane (W) 6-4 and 6-3.

A CHANGE OF VENUE

According to the newspapers, it is expected that a change of venue will be asked in the Powers killing trial so that the case can be held in a county other than Dane. The papers say that Powers himself and his counsel are silent on the matter and do not give that source of this expectation. But it is more or less natural to suppose that such a request will be made, and perhaps the papers are authentic when they hint at it.

Any one who is familiar with the Jandorf shooting and trial which occurred in 1920 knows what a change of venue will mean. Mat Lynaugh, in a fit of temper, fired point blank at Jandorf, killing him instantly. Hundreds of eye-witnesses were present and avowed that the case was one of outright murder. What happened in the trial? It was taken to Jefferson, the request for a change of venue having been granted; the jury was composed of gullable gentry who were willing to have their ears filled with any story under the sun; the counsel for the defense played on their feelings, cramming them full of fairly tales about student drunkenness, wild life and general lawlessness. And what did the jury do? What such a jury would be expected to do, let Lynaugh go with a mere "Tut, tut; naughty!"

One's sympathy naturally goes to Mr. Powers. It is a matter of wonder just what Posepny was doing in the back yard of his house. In fact, it may be very true that Powers was entirely justified in shooting the boy—if he did shoot him! But nevertheless, for the sake of the safety of students in the future, justice should be brought to bear. Madison police need a shaking up. There are still a number of matters in connection with the shooting that were not brought to light by the coroner's inquest, and a deal of mystery still over-shadows the affair.

A jury composed of people who are antagonistic of the shooting or see the solution, if one is found is not the jury that will be able to solve the mystery of the shooting or see the solution, if one is found, with clear vision. Such a jury would doubtless be assembled, as in the case of the Lynaugh affair, if a request for change of venue is made and granted.

Student life must be protected and in order that it may be, an unbiased jury composed of intelligent citizens should be procured.

ON FILLING SPACE

It has been justly said that some newspaper editorial writers would do much better to leave a blank space in their columns when they have nothing worthwhile to say than to fill up those columns with buncombe made up simply for the sake of not being constrained not leave an ugly blank space. Because it is with wisdom that this statement is made and because only irrelevancies and buncombe present themselves now. The Cardinal is going to start a new editorial policy—one of not writing when there is nothing in particular to say. Therefore—

Spade-Fulls From the Union

Tex Dawson suggests that we have on the list of speakers at the dedication ceremony—

1. The man who spends so much for moonshine that he can't pledge to the Union.
2. The fellow who can't pledge because he needs a canoe, has to run a car, and buy one of Pete Burns new colored blazers.
3. The person who says he will never come back to Wisconsin.

Dollard '22

The clean-up is going on vigorously to the great detriment of these, dates, and meals. The number of "unsaved" is not large, and they are hereby invited to come into the office and pledge and have it over with.

Apparent percentage figures are not as impressive as the actual facts. Over 700 hundred seniors are now life members. Without doubt this is 70 per cent of the number of actually reachable people in the class. It's surprising how many drop out and get themselves lost.

The class of '24 has done a wonderful piece of work in this campaign—in the amount of money secured, which will probably total $25,000—in the number of people who have taken up permanent alumni relations with the university—in the challenge which they have thrown to classes following them.

"Hooks" Czerwonky, one of the hardest hitters in the gang, turned in the card of an engineer with the cryptic remark written on it "absolutely incompatible."

The medics are fighting for their place in the percentage column under the leadership of Harold Lampman. He reports Life Memberships from a widow with two children who is going through the Medical School, and from a chap who is working his way through school, and who operates on so close a margin that he hasn't been out of town in a couple of years.

The Law School isn't doing so well—but Al Park hasn't gotten in all of his best licks yet.

One pledge was turned in on Wednesday which was secured on the condition that we would stop booming the cannon. We did—when Major Brunzell ran out of powder or something.

The sombreros of the campaign committee et al. are lifted high and wide to the publicity committee—and on the publicity committee to "Speed" Warren and Verne Beardsley—and most particularly to Verne himself. Verne spent time writing copy for the Union when he might have been getting himself in very solid in certain quarters. "Certain quarters," please note.

Howie Lyman reports that at Purdue the average subscription to their Union was $206. In the Beta House alone—at Purdue—19 men pledged a thousand dollars each.

The senior class has set the example and thrown the challenge to all classes which follow it. And to the alumni. And to the faculty. Seniors say, "Make the Union your job."

Tex Dawson talked to a meeting of House Presidents under S. G. A. on Wednesday night. When he finished they called for pledge blanks, and went home to enroll their own houses. This splendid cooperation from the girls has been forthcoming all along the line, and this instance must be at least as much due to their conviction about the Union, as to Tex's indisputable fascination for the sex. Seriously, Tex, that's right.

The word is about that '24 is coming back in numbers for a week next fall to lend a hand on the campaign. It's a beautiful idea, and it will probably work. It will do the boys and girls good to get back from the ranches and milk wagons for a couple of weeks.

Let's remember '24, and the campaign next fall!

BED TIME FABLES

A man caught a Fish one day when it was out of season, and decided to Hyde it behind the Root of an old tree. He saw two men approaching with Paxon and carrying two Sharp axes. "If they see me here with this Trout, said the man, it will be Goodnight for me" so he decided to Dodge behind the Greenleaf of a nearby Sellery plant. The men however didn't see him as they were lumbermen on their way to the Mills, and so got off Scott free.

R. O. T. C. REVIEW

By the Reviewers

We saw by the crowd that the military department had a review yesterday. So did we.

Trousers were all wrinkled at the bottom except those of Ellis Fulton. His were several inches short. The others were in the depth of fashion.

Sid Thorson is our ideal of a model Prussian officer. Big, husky Sid better try pickles again to keep in trim with the size of the other officers.

"The Kid" who was at the end of the officers' reviewing line was so self-conscious that he would put his hands in his pocket, then out, then take off his cap, to keep cool. You might have called it a family review. Mrs. Brunzell and Carl Mohs' dog were there.

The students exhibited a variety of salutes and eyes right.

From an authoritative source, we have learned that the inspecting student officer told one of the student lieutenants to darn his socks. Maybe that is why some of the officers were puttees.

Ham Snell is our idea of how of how a soldier should act when on review. Not too modest, not too loud-voiced.

Henry Smith acted as if he was too refined to yell with the heavy gusto that Shorty Walstead broadcasted.

If I cannot go upon the drive, Without police detection, I'll find another place to park. While the Cops have their inspection.

AND WHEN the time cometh each of you will be judged according to his works. The Phi Beta will be given a book to memorize, the Kappa Beta will be given a mug to initiate and the T. N. E. will be given ample time to explain.

Eleven Parties
Tonight; Only One
Week-end Remains

After tonight there will only be two nights on which parties may be held. That's not a very encouraging thought, especially since it invariably brings with it a thought of examinations. It is a fact, nevertheless, and the eleven parties scheduled for this evening are witness to the fact that everyone is aware of the shortness of time before the real grind of the year begins. THIS IS THE GAY LIFE

Prexy Smith of Roanoke College says:

"What can we do when the daughters of the so-called 'best people' come out attired scantily in clothing but abundantly in paint; with a bottle of liquor, not on the hipbut in the handbag; dance as voluptuously as possible in order to be attractive enough to be spoken about every other step, so as to appear popular; call for frequent intermissions to give them opportunity to quench their thirst from the bottle, and with the man of their choice engage in violent petting parties in the luxurious retreat of a big limousine."

NEW GRAD SCHOOL AT JOHNS HOPKINS

International Relations Cause Endorsed By New York Bankers' Club

A graduate school of international relations, which will probably be the first of its kind in the world, has been endorsed by a large group of distinguished educators, publicists, business men and women at a recent conference at the Bankers club of New York to be established at Johns Hopkins university, and is backed by such men as Franklin D. Roosevelt, Edward Bok, Admiral William S. Sims and others.

Pending the approval by the authorities of Johns Hopkins university, the scope of the school is planned to include the five basic subjects of fundamental bases of international relations, history of international relations, international law, diplomatic practice and procedure and international organizations?

It has been suggested that the course embrace a three-year period of graduate instruction, at least one year of which would be spent abroad in the study of racial and ethnological peculiarities, political and social undercurrents and other pertinent factors that have direct bearing on the relations of nations with each other.

Wisconsin Players One-act Comedies Entertain Audience BY CHATTY

Three well chosen one-act comedies presented last night in Lathrop concert room by the University Players tickled the funny-bones of the audience and gave the actors a lot of fun. It was a well balanced menu that was served on this last formal appearance of the players.

Booth Tarkington's "The Trysting Place," which lead off the program, was best adapted of the trio for amateur production and gave Tom MacLean '24 and company excellent opportunities. MacLean, with his imitable manner and gestures, had only to blink his eyes and he got a response.

"The Constant Lover" was probably the most difficult thing on the program, consisting of a dialogue between two lovers—whom else?—in which Paul Faust '26, showed that he can act as well as dance.

Dumb. That's what "The Crimson Coconut" is, but it is that kind of dumb which is hilarious. Horse play from beginning to end, with bombs and bolsheviki and a waiter. What a waiter! Jack Harrington '25, easily the star, played nonchalantly with the bomb in a way which was not only ridiculously funny but also nerveracking.

musical organizations will entertain.

The Bobby Shoppe

Completely Redecorated

Bobbed hair holds first place among hair dressing fashions. No less a person than Alice Joyce admits it. When she doffs her small felt cloche — behold her becoming new shingle!

Billie Burke, too, has shingled her glorious auburn red hair, though she declared for years she wouldn't do it.

Summer days, close on the heels of Spring, are further arguments for the bob. For in the sun-filled days of Summer, no one wants to bother with long hair.

And any woman can wear bobbed hair becomingly, if she chooses the right type of bob for her type of features and personality, as carefully as she chooses her hat or frock.

The Bobby Shoppe is fortunate in securing the expert services of Mr. Conrad Reimann, who is long-practiced in the cutting of women's and children's hair, and in perfecting the new styles in bobs and shingles.

Trust the cutting of your bob to his expert clippers!
