PRICE 5 CENTS

VARSITY UNION SITE IS SOLD TO UNIVERSITY

Regents Now Seek to Buy
Lot West of Y. M.
C. A.

Negotiations which give the university title to the property which is the present site of the Union building were completed at noon yesterday. The property was purchased from Mrs. Ethel Raymer Edmondson.

The purchase means that at present the university owns all the property from the university Y. M. C. A. to Park street, with the exception of a small piece of property located between the present Union building site and the Y. M. C. A. upon which condemnation proceedings are now under way.

The property which was purchased yesterday was originally owned by George Raymer, who was president of the Board of Regents of the university during the years 1890 and 1891. He was also a Civil war hero, and after the war and his return to Madison, he was part owner and editor of the Madison Democrat. Upon his death in California, the property was inherited by his daughter, Mrs. Ethel Raymer Edmondson.

The present Union building site was originally used by the university as an infirmary, in June, 1914. Soon after this it was decided to use the building for more general purposes, and it finally resulted in the property being used as a union building.

Upon the completion of the condemnation proceedings on the small piece of property the entire property, from the Y. M. C. A. to Park street, will be owned by the university. The exact selection for the site for the proposed Memorial building will then be made by the Board of Regents. As it is planned to start building early in 1922, it is believed that the decision will be made by the regents soon after the acquisition of the final piece of property.

HOMECOMING BALL WANTS NO RIVAL DANCES ON OCT. 29

Competition is the life of trade, but not as it affects Homecoming dances, according to the chairman of the Homecoming ball. Rumors have been flying around to the effect that several organizations are planning parties or dances for the night of Homecoming. October 29 should, according to the Homecoming committee, be reserved above every other engagement by every loyal Badger for the Homecoming ball.

This event will be held at Lathrop hall and conducted in such a fashion that anyone can well afford to save this particular evening for it. Jess Cohen's ten piece orchestra will feature in the music line, and there will be other entertainment novelties. Inasmuch as the dance is the greatest financial support of Homecoming, the committee does not feel that it is asking very much of the fraternities, sororities and other organizations not to schedule parties on that date.

HEAVE HO!

Get Acquainted Party Will Go "Round the Horn" at Lathrop Friday

"Round the Horn"—with plenty of life preservers along—the doughnut kind—and lots of sailors to pilot you through the perils of introductions—that's the trip to take next Friday night. The excursion will start at 8 o'clock in Lathrop gymnasium. Everyone must be on deck promptly at the hour, for stunts not to be missed will begin promptly by the ship's clock.

This is to be a "get acquainted" party for both old and new students. It is sponsored by the campus religious council, working with all the churches of Madison. Two stunts will be given by representatives from each church, with the different ministers as hosts of the evening. Prof. J. C. Elsom will speak. The committee promises plenty of "eats" and everyone is invited.

VETS FORM CLUB TO POPULARIZE SHERIDAN CAMP

U. W. Men Who Attended Last
Camp Want Full Quota
Next Year

Wisconsin men who attended the military camp at Fort Sheridan this summer are planning to spread the popularity of the camp among the students so that a large number will become interested and attend next summer. Twenty-five Wisconsin men attended the camp last year and an attempt will be made to raise the figure to at least 75 next year. The men in charge of the drive are planning to interview every man taking advanced military work and get them interested in the camp. All the men who have previously attended the camp will assist in the drive.

Maj. Laurence P. Warner '22, and Capt. D. Mead '22, both of whom trained at Fort Sheridan last summer, will direct the campaign.

Because of the small number of Wisconsin men at the camp last summer, they were placed in companies along with men from Beloit, the Wawautosa Ag school, and from all over the state. The aim of the men in charge of the drive is to get enough men to form a complete Wisconsin company so that they can be preparing to enter the many military and athletic contests which are held every summer, and bring some of the trophies back to Wisconsin.

Major Warner says he is sure that after the many advantages of the camp are explained a large number will want to go. The camp does not exclude those not taking advanced military work, but is also open to the men in the lower classes. As an added inducement the government will pay the men in the advanced courses $1 per day during the six weeks they are in camp. The men in the lower classes will not be paid, but will be assured commissions in the cadet corps upon their return to school.

PHYSICAL ED CLUB HOLDS PICNIC MEET

The Physical Education club held its first meeting of the year at a picnic last evening at Sunset point. About 75 members attended. After a picnic lunch around camp-fires, faculty members joined the physical eds in putting on stunts and games.

All new girls were assigned advisors from among the upperclassmen, at that time.

SENATE TO PASS ON 'U' TRADITIONS

Student Senate Will Pass on Findings of Commission
Early Next Week

The Student Senate will be given an opportunity to pass judgment on future traditions to be enforced at the university early next week after the traditions commission which is rapidly completing its investigation has made its recommendations. The commission meets Saturday night to draw up a formal report to be presented to the senate.

A committee made up of members of the commission and headed by Phil La Follette has already finished its work of investigating the enforcement of traditions, and will report to a committee of seven either today or tomorrow. Another committee which has been revising existing traditions will also make its report to those seven men before the end of the week.

The latter committee is to draw up the several resolutions and present them to the traditions commission. Recommendations can only be adopted by this body after a two-thirds vote.

This commission will in turn send its recommendations to the Student Senate which will take the necessary steps for their adoption or rejection in case they prove to be unsatisfactory. Any changes in existing conditions must be voted on by the student body at the regular fall election on November 4, before they can go into effect.

PRESS CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF YEAR AT LATHROP

Many new proposals were broached at the first meeting of the University Press club last night in the S. G. A. room at Lathrop hall. A committee was appointed to investigate the sentiment for and the conditions favoring the establishment of a Journalism house for men, and another to lay plans for a mixer to welcome the freshmen and other new students into the Journalism course.

The welcome committee has G. Lowell Geiger '23 at its head, and William J. Tannewitz '23, Bertha E. Burkhardt '23, and Mildred M. Gerlach '22, assistants.

Charles J. Lewin '23 is chairman of the journalism house committee, with George W. Greens '23, assisting.

William W. Bloecher '22 was elected vice-president and Margaret Daly '22, secretary and treasurer, for the coming year.

The University Press club plans to do more this year in the line of campus activities than ever before. A different plan of meeting by which there will be more time for active discussion than by the present method of cafeteria supper is under consideration.

The annual dues were boosted from 50 to 75 cents.

GRAFTERS TO HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

The Grafters club, an informal organization of those interested in horticulture, will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the Horticulture building. Prof. J. G. Moore will give a short talk on the history, purpose, and value of the club. All those interested are cordially invited to attend.

Horticulturists from other states and government men, who always have speeches of interest, form part of each program. It has been the custom of the club to have special features, such as the fall apple show, in connection with the picnic of the home economics department. Fruits of the season are always served after the meeting.

BADGER DRIVE TO BEGIN NEXT TUESDAY NOON

1923 Year Book Cheapest
In Last Three Years

Everybody's Badger!

That is the slogan for the 1923 Badger subscription campaign which will open on the campus at noon next Tuesday to continue for ten days. The slogan is thoroughly in keeping with the determination of the editors of this year's year book to make the annual truly representative of "the spirit of Wisconsin."

According to Sherm Green, business manager, no Wisconsin year book could truly represent the varsity spirit unless it was "Everybody's Badger," within the reach of all. "And The 1923 Badger is within the reach of all," said Green. "By close figuring in the business department, and co-operation with the editorial department, we are able to sell The 1923 Badger for less than any of the past three Badgers."

The price which has been set for The 1923 Badger is $4, cash with subscription, or $2 down with each subscription and $2.25 in final payment upon delivery. The cash price of $4 is a reduction of $1 on the price paid by the majority of students for last year's annual, The 1922 Badger.

It is hoped by the management of The 1923 Badger that a majority of this year's subscriptions be for cash. Attention is called to the fact that this policy if taken up by the student body would save much bookkeeping and simplify the distribution of the Badgers in the spring. Last year approximately 900 of those who reserved Badgers in the fall did not call for them when they were issued. Every possible precaution is being taken to prevent the re-occurrence of such a situation this year, according to Sherm Green.

As has been the custom in the past the subscription drive for the 1923 Badger will be carried on through the sororities and girls' rooming houses. Competition has been arranged between them and the Badger has purchased $400 worth of silver to be awarded the winning houses. Full plans for the drive will be announced later.

FROSH TO ATTEND COMMERCE CONVO THIS AFTERNOON

Faculty and student speakers will address the All-Commerce freshman convocation to be held this afternoon at 4:30 in 113 Sterling hall in a program planned to place before the new students the aims and advantages of the course in commerce and to explain a few of the major activities carried on in the course by commerce students.

Professors W. A. Scott and S. W. Gilman will outline the course to the newcomers, and Reginald Garstang '22, Elizabeth Thwing '22, and Humphrey Desmond '22 will speak on men's activities, women's organizations, and the Commerce magazine, respectively.

Attendance at the convocation will be compulsory to all first year students in the course in commerce and to all who have recently transferred to the course. Students having classes at 4:30 are to hand in slips with their own name and the name of their advisor at the main Commerce office, 406 Sterling hall before this noon.

WE have been thrown out of our room four times today by our roommate. After the fourth time he told us what was wrong, which was very kind indeed. It seems that he didn't like the Plow Boy that we were smoking in our pipe.

THE Chicago-Northwestern game ended 41 to 0, which reminds us of the odor of our pipe.

THAT gives us a good idea for a slogan for a pipe manufacturer. "Our pipes are made to odor."

DIDJA ever take a girl to the Chocolate shop with 65 cents (we don't mean that she had the 65) and then have her order a Co-ed's Delight, while you fearfully sucked on a Coke?

IF you did, then you know how Birney Miller felt last night.

REGGIE Garstang can't write his girl any more, so he lets his typewriter.

THEY got us out of bed at 10:30 last night to write this trash, so excuse any old ones you may read. We are writing against time, you see. We are also writing against our will.

BUT here's a new one. The rumor is going around that the Wisconsin girls are traveling on the Northwestern Line.

YES, go ahead and think it over. We'll give you time.

Blaine Favors Retention of Gen. Holway

Praises Work of Adjutant General and Requests Him to Keep Post

The record of Adj. Gen. Orlando Holway, in administering the Wisconsin National Guard, is praised by Gov. Blaine today in a letter advising the general that it is the desire of the executive that he be retained at his post despite the fact that he has reached retirement age.

The statute provide that the governor may reappoint the adjutant general when he becomes 64 years of age. Gen. Holway becomes eligible to retirement today, after eight years service in his present position and more than 30 years as a member of the guard.

"I desire to advise you that I believe it unwise at this time to appoint an adjutant general in your stead, and I feel that your present status might well be maintained," Gov. Blaine says in his letter.

"I believe it is generally recognized," the governor declares, "and I recognize the fact that in 1917 when the national guard was called into service of the U. S., great credit should be accorded you for your efficient and expeditious administration in that emergency. The National Guard is undergoing a reorganization, and the state ought to avail itself of your services and experience."

"I thought you might want to know, and I am sure the National Guard will want to know my attitude."

P. O. and A. of C. Want Old Madison Directories

Postmaster W. A. Devine and the Association of Commerce are anxious to have all last year's city directories—not now in use—turned over for distribution out of town. Copies of directories of other cities can be secured in exchange therefor. Will you assist? Just telephone to Miss Keliher at B. 7305, and some one will call for the directory you have.

GOOD TIME ASSURED AT Y. W. C. A. PICNIC

The annual Y. W. C. A. walkout which takes place next Thursday offers the new girls in the university another chance to get acquainted. Advisors are urged to bring out their advisees, for the entertainment committee, composed of Margaret Murray '24, Rosamond Nolte '24, and Nina Ferris '24, guarantees that everyone will have a fine time.

The picnic will be held at Picnic point and groups, headed by Isabel Capps '23, and Marjorie Severence '23 will leave Lathrop at 4:30 and 5:30. Games and stunts are a part of the program, and supper will be provided for 35 cents.

FORENSIC SEASON WILL OPEN FRIDAY WITH ATHENA MEET

The 1921-22 forensic season will open Friday, Oct. 7, when Athena literary society holds its first meeting of the year. Athena is now entering upon its seventy-second year as a literary and debating society at Wisconsin.

The committee in charge of arrangements urges all members to be present and extends a welcome to all new students interested in forensic work. The policies for the coming year will be outlined at the meeting.

COMPULSORY S. G. A. MEETING TONIGHT

The S. G. A. board will meet tonight at 7:15 in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall. Representatives from about 70 rooming houses will make up the board this year. Attendance at the meeting is compulsory, and roll will be taken.

Ellen Correll '22, S. G. A. president, will have charge of the meeting, and will give instructions for the coming year in regard to all rulings which the members of the board, as representatives of their houses, will need to understand. Important business will also be discussed.

The Misses Lee and Frances Bacon 302 Monona avenue are guests in Milwaukee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Morris. They were also present at the Schneider-Marshall wedding and at the dinner which followed given at the Milwaukee club.

"COACH" GIVES FIRST ELEVEN EAST WORKOUT

Barr's Men Have Hard Scrimmage With Scrubs

Coach John R. Richards continued the policy of giving his regulars a respite from the daily scrimmage and yesterday's workout for the Varsity eleven was devoted mainly to practicing new plays and giving the men more time to absorb the fundamentals of the game.

Regulars who were slightly injured in the Saturday contest with Lawrence took things easy, and galloped through their session without over-exertion. Gordon Nelson, big guard, who was injured in the game with Lawrence, is carrying his arm about in a sling. The muscles are strained, but it is not believed probable that the injury will handicap the big fellow when the Big Ten season swings open for Wisconsin. Nelson, although not in the Varsity lineup yesterday, worked along with it in the stiff signal drill which was dished out to the Varsity. Horne did not take his place at left end. He was also hurt in the contest with the collegians.

Because injuries have disarranged the regular lineup, Richards made several changes in the Tuesday afternoon practice. "T" Gould held down the left end position regularly assigned to Horne. Scherneck worked in at right guard. He was a member of the Varsity squad last year and has developed into a good man for the Badger forward wall. "Gus" Tebell hung around right end, completing that side of the line. On the opposite section, Brader and Brumm continued at tackle and guard. George Bunge passed the ball from the center position.

"Rowdy" Elliott and "Rollie" Williams were parked at the two half positions, with Captain Sundt at fullback, and Gibson in charge of the eleven. Richards kept the men working constantly on some new formations which are expected to fool the boys from South Dakota when they step onto the Camp Randall gridiron Saturday afternoon. Before the signal drill, "Chuck" Carpenter took the linemen to one side of the field and watched them charge and block. The forward wall lacked the push to carry them through their opponents' line and into the backs last Saturday, and Carpenter strove to give them aggressive spirit. The backs tried some long passes to end candidates with Richards admonishing them to hang tight to the ball.

It was a hard afternoon for "Shorty" Barr. The chubby pilot dragged his All-Americans through a hot scrimmage with the Varsity reserves. Some heavy plunging and off-tackle driving by Harold Holmes enlivened the workout. Barr got away with some of his famous over-the-line forward passes and broke loose at one time for a nice run through the advance guard of the reserves.

The Varsity subs did some nice playing during the course of the battle. E. Carlson and Anderson, ends, got the man with the ball regularly. Crozier, who scored against Lawrence Saturday, made several substantial gains against the All-Americans. Shift plays by the third string men worked to a nicety, and their version of the Minnesota shift will be of help in preparing Varsity for the Minnesota-Homecoming game on Saturday, Oct. 29.

Presenting-- HANS E. GUDE

Hans E. Gude '22 is probably the only man on the Badger football squad who had never so much as seen a football before he came to the University of Wisconsin in 1918.

He received his preparatory education in Christiania, Norway, where the game of football is unheard of. He played on the freshmen team in the fall of 1918, and last year won his "aWa" on the Varsity squad. He also won his "aWa" in track last year.

Besides being a guard on the football squad, Gude is a skier of great ability. Last year he placed second at the international ski tournament at Cary, Illinois.

He is a member of the Theta Xi fraternity, and of the Norwegian house.

7,270 REGISTER AT MINNESOTA

Varsity is Put Through Hard Scrimmage By Coach Williams

(W. C. Radio News Service)
MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 5. — All University of Minnesota attendance figures for the opening of the second week surpassed yesterday when the registration for the fall quarter reached 7,270. The attendance yesterday, according to Rodney M. West, university registrar, is 666 greater than on the opening day of school, September 28, and is 251 greater than on the opening of the second week a year ago.

"Doc" Williams, Gopher mentor, put the squad through a vigorous scrimmage today in an effort to give the eleven a finish lacking in the North Dakota game Saturday. Interest runs high in the coming Northwestern fracas.

South Dakota Has Promising Grid Outlook

(Special from State College)

BROOKINGS, S. D., Oct. 5.—With four full teams practicing each night at South Dakota state college, the outlook for a successful season might at least be called very promising.

There is no particular rush on the part of the candidates for any particular position, in fact there are several men trying for every position on the team. Every one of the candidates, too, has had valuable and successful experience in high school football or on the team of some other institution of college rank. Practically every man will classify as a freshman, meaning that these men will for the most part be good for four years of football at State.

The following letter men are back for another year at State: George Thompson, Adolph Bachman, Jim Salisbury, George Roberts, Elger Thune, Joe Smith, Art Johnson, Irwin Lee, Art Simon, Captain Ralph Towers, Eugene Carey, and Errol Hawley, who played right half on the 1917 State team.

Jock Funk and Francis Lauders, 1920 reserves, are out for positions on this year's team, as are the following men from last year's second team: Carl Deady, Ben Fenn, Phil Petty, Renry Blecker, Marion Heathcote, Don Leavitt.

State's 1921 schedule, as revised, is as follows:

Oct. 1—Northern Normal at Brookings.

Oct. 8—Wisconsin University at Madison.

Oct. 15—Ruron College at Brookings.

Oct. 22—North Dakota State College at Fargo.

Oct. 29—Probably Yankton College at Watertown.

Nov. 5—Robo Day, North Dakota University at Brookings.

Nov. 12—South Dakota University at Vermillion.

Nov. 19—Creighton University at Omaha.

Nov. 24—Thanksgiving Day, Valparaiso at Gary, Ind.

15 MATCHES PLAYED IN TENNIS TOURNNEY

The results of 15 matches of the first round of the All-University tennis tourney that is being run under the direction of Coach D. E. Linden had been posted in the gymnasium Monday evening. Eighteen matches are still to be heard from.

The winner of the matches in the first round play each other Tuesday and Wednesday, and the players who survive the second round play in the semi-finals.

The results of the singles as posted are as follows: W. A. Erdman won from J. Meyer 6-0, 6-0; F. W. Johnson won from H. C. Smith 6-0, 6-0; W. Deutsch won from A. Robinovitz 5-7, 6-2, 6-4; F. Pamperin won from F. L. Kildow, 6-4, 6-1; E. Meyer won from R. K. Anderson 6-1, 6-; Tom Treadwell won from H. P. Evans 6-3; E. C. Giessle won from C. P. Crane 6-0, 6-1; G. Battles defeated F. D. Crane 2-6, 6-4, 8-6; L. L. Stebbins won from D. M. Bailey by default; E. Watson won from C. Carrol 6-3, 6-0; R. A. Stehr won by default from N. S. Aageson; H. D. Hentzen won from R. D. Baker 6-0, 6-2; F. S. Henika defeated H. K. Ozame 6-0, 6-2; O. G. Kaasa won from S. M. Cone 6-1, 6-2;

Two of the eight matches of the doubles have been run off: E. C. Bogue and R. Butts lost to F. T. Stegeman and J. Fitzgerald 6-4, 6-4; and R. F. and J. K. Gibson lost to Hentzen and G. Bennett 6-2, 6-3.

Sixty-six men are entered in the singles and 32 in the doubles, making it necessary to reserve all of the tennis courts for players competing in the tournament, in order that it may be finished before cold weather sets in.

HOOSIERS WILL PLAY HARVARD ON SATURDAY

Coach Stiehm Has Good Team and Trick Plays

Bearing the standard of the west in its struggle for supremacy on the gridiron, a host of Indiana football men left Bloomington Tuesday night for its invasion of the east. The Hoosiers are slated to encounter Harvard university in the biggest intersectional early season contest.

In fine condition after their easy contest with Kalamazoo college which they defeated by a 29 to 0 count, the Indianans make the journey to the east feeling the responsibility that rests on their shoulders.

Coach "Jumbo" Stiehm, former Wisconsin football star, has instilled the old-time fight into one of the best elevens that has ever represented Indiana. In their two pre-season contests, the Hoosiers have displayed a dazzling offense led by Capt. John Kyle, fullback, and a defense which has kept opponents safely away from the goal line.

Coach Stiehm has been drilling his men for the Harvard game ever since the season opened. In the first game which they won from Franklin 47 to 0, and in their second against Kalamazoo, they showed they were stronger than the usual run of Hoosier teams, and fortified with a number of trick plays and other formations, scores are expected to result. Both teams will wear crimson jerseys, and little of the forward pass game will be tried because of the confusion. Harvard is one of the few teams that refused to number their players this year.

The big Crimson team of the east has barely "got by" in its first two games of the season. The easterners conquered Middlebury by a 16 to 0 score, and a drop-kick by Buell counted the three points which defeated Holy Cross last Saturday. Harvard, however, has a string of victories hung up in former intersectional contests. Against Oregon two years ago, the Crimson squeezed out a narrow victory when Oregon failed to kick after touchdown. Final score was 7 to 6. Harvard beat Michigan some years back in the last game between the two institutions. The margin of victory was 7 points. Michigan went scoreless. Those were the days when "Johnny" Maulbetsch was one of the greatest backs in the country. Harvard also defeated little Centre college, Kentucky, by a 31 to 14 score after the count had been tied at the end of the first half.

The Indiana-Harvard game will not be the only one to determine sectional supremacy in football this year. Chicago meets Princeton on October 22 at the easterners' gridiron, and the Tigers come west in 1922 for a return game with Chicago. Nebraska university plays Pittsburgh on its trip to the east this year, and Notre Dame engages Army in their annual mix-up. Every one of the intersectional contests is played before an eastern stadium.

The south also gets into the football civil war. Centre tackles Harvard for the second time, and Georgia Tech takes on Rutgers and Penn State.

It's a great year for the old game.

EVERYBODY'S BADGER

THERE are two outstanding features in connection with the announcement of the 1923 Badger plans. One welcome feature is that the Badger is to be cheaper this year than in the past three years. The students must husband their resources more carefully this year than in the past. Moreover, the money saved on the Badger may well be applied to the Union Memorial fund.

The second feature announced is that an attempt will be made in the Year-book to portray the spirit of Wisconsin from the early days of the state down to the present. This idea opens a wide vista of possibilities. It comes at a time when much is being spoken and written about Wisconsin spirit. A succinct and yet comprehensive portrayal of the elements making up this spirit would be a worthy achievement.

Wisconsin spirit is the product of all the trials, aspirations, and accomplishments of the people of this state from the pioneer days on down. The work they did in laying the foundations deserves recognition.

One point connected with the material aspect of the Badger may be considered. It is urged that the students pay cash for the book this fall instead of the customary part payment. It is pointed out that this plan would simplify the bookkeeping and would facilitate the distribution in the spring. Not a bad idea.

THE CAMPUS

THERE is never any time of the year when the campus looks better than it does now. It has had a few weeks rest from the hurrying mobs who cut it and track it and mar it with paths and short-cuts. It is thankful for this "vacation" and rewards us with its superb beauty.

Now, the students ought to give the campus a square deal.

There's barely a second of time saved by cutting a corner instead of using the sidewalk. When the ground is wet and muddy, each foot print leaves its trace, and a dozen foot prints will be the beginning of an ugly bare spot. Wouldn't it be better to see a heavy, grassy lawn next spring than one which we had cut up in our useless efforts to get somewhere more quickly.

The students owe it to the campus to keep it as beautiful as they find it. Are they going to pay this debt? Or, are they going to mark it down and leave it as one of the duties they have never done?

TO THE FRESHMEN WOMEN

EVERY fall the women of the upper classes look upon the new freshman women with longing and with a certain maternal tenderness.

They look with longing because all too swiftly their undergraduate years have sped along leaving behind only added problems and duties. The material tenderness urges these older girls to advise the newcomers so that mistakes and regrets will not mar the joy and glory of being a freshman woman at Wisconsin.

The upperclass women would shield them from the heartaches that come from neglecting their work. Some of the older ones know from harsh experience the pangs of probation after a semester of gaiety and ease.

Then, there are the outside activities. An older girl realizes the pleasures and benefits to be had in the association with girls outside of her own group. She, therefore, would advise her freshman sister "to go in for something." It does not matter whether that "something" be dramatics, literary work, athletics. It is through the outside activities that one gets her inspiration and spirit for work. It is through them that she comes in contact with the big purposes of life.

Last, but by far most important, we upperclass women would hand down to the women of the class of 1925 the loyalty and ideals of a true Wisconsin woman. The Wisconsin woman who is loyal to the ideals of her university neither cheats in her daily lessons nor in her exams. She is kind and considerate to her neighbors. She never laughs at nor scorns the misfortunes of others. She is true to her best self, always eager to uphold her womanliness.

The news columns of the Commonwealth Tuesday carried a story of the camp site during the past season as told by its visitors. The chapters were short but significant. They were written on the register and were necessarily brief. Most of them were commendatory; a few carried suggestions. The bouquets are pleasant to contemplate, but the suggestions are useful. Camp sites are more common this year than they were last. Next year they will multiply. They have been tried out and found good. Hundreds of cities that have never furnished free camp sites for tourists will make a grab for the band wagon in 1922. Those who have been pioneering this movement will profit by the experiences of the past two years and provide better accommodations in 1922. Fond du Lac is in this latter class, for Fond du Lac is a pioneer in the free camp site movement.—Fond du Lac Commonwealth.

LEADS CABINET
SET IN CAPITAL

Mrs. Charles E. Hughes.

Mrs. Charles E. Hughes, wife of the secretary of state, is the acknowledged leader of the cabinet set in Washington society. This photo of her was taken only last week.

Mrs. Hughes, when the wife of a justice of the supreme court, took little active part in society and brought her daughters up to seek their amusement in intellectual pursuits with a strong philanthropic flavor. Since her return as a cabinet hostess she has looked with less severity on the cheerful side of life and will, undoubtedly, contribute to the gayety of the coming season.

LEAGUE STARTS
LONG SEASON

The Interfraternity Bowling league opened its season last evening, eight games being played off. Low scores were made by all of the teams although several of the matches were hard fought. The most hotly contested match was between the Betas and the Theta Xis, and was won by the latter in three straight games. Every game was hard fought and but few pins separated the Theta Xis from their victims in all three matches. In the first game, the Theta Xis won by 13 pins, the second they copped with a margin of 11 pins, and the third victory was won with a 15 pin lead.

The Theta Deltas and A. T. O. played a hard match which the former won after dropping the first game. T. K. E. administered a like dose to the Triangle bowlers and the D. K. E. was easily beaten by the strong team from Chi Phi.

The following are the results of the first set of the second division games last night:

Chi Phi defeated D. K. E. 698-000; 769-705; 739-663.

Mercantile Marine Not
British Owned, Claim

NEW YORK—Operating agreements between the International Mercantile Marine Co., an American corporation, and the British government did not affect the company's American flag ships even before the drafting of a supplementary agreement requested by the shipping board, P. A. S. Franklin, president of the International Mercantile Marine, told members of the board at a special hearing here today. The hearing was called to obtain from Mr. Franklin a recital of details of the British agreement attacked by Sen. Jones, as being inimical to the foreign commerce of the U. S. Sen. Jones charged it bound the company to pursue no policy injurious to the interests of the British Merchant Marine or of British trade. Dr. Franklin emphasized that the company was an American corporation 93 1/2 per cent of its stock being owned by Americans. Only one-half of 1 per cent of the stock is held by English investors, he said, and a similar amount by Canadians.

Asks Liberal Support For Relief Work

Lutheran Pastor Has Undying Hatred for War

A plea to American Lutherans to give liberally to the World Service campaign that the starving people of Europe may be fed was made Monday night by Dr. John A. Morehead, European commissioner for the National Lutheran Council of America, speaking at the Bethel Lutheran church.

Dr. Morehead recently returned from Europe after a stay of about two and a half years in various European countries, including Austria, where, he declared, the want and misery is dire. He told of the thousands of starving children, of homes without food or coal, of the abject poverty of people once accustomed to the good things of life.

Prominent Americans doing relief work in Europe and the Orient declared Dr. Morehead believe that America at present isn't having a great influence or international relations in political matters but that he American relief agencies and especially such agencies at the Lutheran councils, which is disinterested politically, are making the name of America favorably known. The best diplomacy, they said, is America's relief work.

"Why, what's the matter with America? She is suffering from overproduction, lack of markets, her great elevators are full, her factories have produced so much that the warehouses are full, the markets of the world are practically closed, and yet Europe is hungry and cold and naked. She needs all that America has produced. What is the trouble? The people of Europe are disorganized, in despair; they need new heart and courage and the opportunity to earn the money where with to purchase the things they need."

"It has been impossible for me to be in Europe for two and a half years," said Dr. Morehead, "without cultivating an eternal and undying hatred for that thing we call War. What kind of political problems does that solve, to kill childhood, to bring suffering and anguish and death? The great war didn't, as was promised, make the world safe for small nations."

Bankers See Better Times Coming Soon

Optimism Marks Opening of Association's Con- vention

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Disposal of billions of dollars by some 24,000 banks was cheerfully discussed here today at the annual meeting of the American Bankers' association.

Things are looking better; the times are not so bad as a year ago; irresistible forces are working in the overturning of these billions of dollars towards more prosperous times, and the pessimist with the cries of depression is out of place, it was said by leading bankers.

The program of the formal opening session today was featured by a 42,000 word report by the president of the association, John S. Drum, of San Francisco. It was a review of the situation today, a countrywide economic survey expressing the opinion of more than a good bankers.

Slight damage, if any, was done to the truck gardens about Madison by the frost which reached this vicinity Monday night. The frost was a light one, in spite of the fact that a heavy frost was predicted by the weather bureau. While the temperature on the ground may have dropped to or even below freezing point, namely 32 degrees Fahrenheit, the lowest temperature recorded by the weather bureau, which makes its observations on the roof of North hall, was 38. Frost is again predicted for tonight.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Clever comedy, tuneful songs, artistic dancing, up-to-the minute patter and musical selections go to make up the vaudeville program current at the Orpheum theater for the first three days of this week. Starting with the first act on he bill, Naio and Rizzo (accordion and violin players par excellent until the finishing act. The Reynolds Trio, a dash of class in the line of singing and dancing, there is something doing and entertaining every minute. Hill and Crest in the comedy song and talking offering called "Natrvalidation" please and Bill Duval with Bee Little in a clever written skit, "Their First Quarrel," present an ac that is bright and original. A fantasia of song, dance and music, with a coterie of vaudeville artists is "Summer Eve," and Jack Osterman gets very chummy with the patrons, with his "Fifteen Minutes of songs and stories." The Pathe News and Topics of the Day reels prove very interesting. There will be three performances today—matinee at 3 o'clock and evening at 7:15 and 9 o'clock.

The new vaudeville bill announced for the last half of the week, starting tomorrow night, will bring to Madison six act new to local theatergoers. STATE EXHIBIT TO BE BIGGEST AT DAIRY SHOW

Wisconsin Produces Ten
Tons of Milk Each Minute

A veritable "Niagara of milk" is Wisconsin's contribution to the world. Ten tons of milk for every minute of day and night throughout the year are produced by Wisconsin's dairymen.

These facts will be brought before the National Dairy show at St. Paul next week by Wisconsin's representatives who are preparing elaborate booths.

Prof. K. L. Hatch of the Extension division is directing the work and is in St. Paul with his committee at the present time. The show will be held from October 1 to 15.

The National Dairy show is of world-wide interest and brings cattle buyers from all over the world. Many foreign countries will display samples of butter and cheese. It is anticipated that over 1,000 of America's finest cattle will be shown as well as farm machinery of all kinds, educational displays, and butter and cheese exhibits.

In all this display, according to J. L. Sammis of the Dairy department, Wisconsin will rank first and will be represented by the largest and most complete line of exhibits.

Wisconsin's booths will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of dairy progress in the state and will show that in all matters she is leader. With a total of over 2,000,000 dairy cattle, 90,000 silos, 3,000 cheese factories, and 1,000 creameries, Wisconsin continues to be preeminent as a dairy state.

A demonstration of the Babcock tester, a Wisconsin product, will be given at the show and is just one example of the many Wisconsin inventions and discoveries which have revolutionized the dairy industry.

Wisconsin's stock judging team will also compete with other schools of the northwest for honors at the show. The members of the team are: John Nisbet '23, Helmar Casperson '22, Richard Munkwitz '23, T. E. Carlson '22.

Small States Fight Blockade Regulation

GENEVA—Eight small states, members of the league of nations, resumed in this morning's session of the assembly of the league their fight against the too rigid application of blockade regulations which are prescribed, as one of the weapons to be used by the league against a state which has violated the covenant of the organization. Greece has been especially active in her effort to bring about an amendment of Article 16 of the covenant so that no nation can initiate a blockade on its own account without previous notification from the council of the league that the blockade of a covenant breaker is in order.

Madison Man Gets Patent On Invention

Earl J. Bullard, 1145 Rutledge street, has been granted a patent on a compression seal for pistons, according to a report by Young & Young, Milwaukee patent solicitors. William J. Boll, Platteville, has been granted a patent on a lawn mower attachment.

WEATHER

The highest temperature in the past 24 hours was 53 at 2 p. m. Monday, the lowest 38 at 6:30 Tuesday morning. The sun set at 5:35.

Low barometer in the St. Lawrence valley is attended by moderate rains in the lower lake region and the Appalachian mountains. It is followed by clear and cooled weather in the central states. Killing frost occurred this morning in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa. An area of low barometer, the center of which reached Manitoba this morning, is causing rising temperature on the plains.

Communications

Editor Daily Cardinal:

Everyone remembers the big rumpus we had last year over the student allotment of seats at Homecoming. I never saw any satisfactory explanation of this and I believe that something should be done to prevent the same occurrence this year.

In the Cardinal for Tuesday the athletic department announced new prices for seats at football games this year. Now the question comes up as to what seats the students will get this year. Do we get seats in preference to the public or do we sit on the minus 10 yard line? Alumni and stadium contributors have first choice, and rightly, but students who support the game all year should certainly have the next choice over all the public. The athletic department could clear things up a great deal by publishing the sections reserved for alumni, stadium contributors and for the students at fee card rate, leaving the other sections for the public sale.
