HUGE BONFIRE PLANNED FOR GRADS' RETURN

Largest Pile in Homecoming History Topped by Gopher Effigy

"Some conflagration" is the way the committee in charge of the 1921 Homecoming bonfire characterizes this traditional event.

The bonfire is lighted just after the massmeeting on Friday night, Oct. 28. Packing boxes, soap boxes, crates, and dilapidated shacks will be piled 50 feet high and will cover the area of a circle having a diameter of 100 feet. Twenty gallons of kerosene will be used to heighten the flames.

This year the figure of a gopher will be placed on the top of the pile where it will stand until the flames send it toppling—prophetic, perhaps, of Minnesota's fate. When the fire is at its height, the class of '22 will join hands with the alumni, and all will take part in the traditional snake dance.

Just after the bonfire, the crowd will proceed to the gymnasium where a new form of homecoming entertainment will be provided—the Homecoming Feature carnival. The admission is free, and the program will consist of vaudeville acts produced by the various campus dramatic societies, and by other groups.

Starting with a boxing match, the carnival will offer a skit by Haresfoot, an act by Edwin Booth dramatic society, solo by Ken Damon '22, of the Glee club, some lively gymnastic stunts, and a special feature—the surprise act, arranged by Hank Ringold, a well known campus figure. Jess Cohen's feature orchestra will furnish the music.

"Since the impression that is made by the Homecoming Feature carnival this year will determine in a large measure whether it becomes a traditional event, we are doing everything possible to make it a success," said Don Murphy '22, chairman of the affair. "The committee feels that the alumni deserve a real treat, and therefore we are putting on the Feature carnival free of charge.

DOLPHIN SELECTS 12 NEW MEMBERS

Twelve undergraduate women were elected to Dolphin club as a result of tryouts this week. The successful candidates are: Helen Cushman, Louis Correl, Alice Cockrell, Catharine Corbett, Lois Barry, Alice Bullock, Eula Day, Louise Lanson, Ethel Metz, Helen Pratt, and Helen Robinson.

Dolphin club was founded two years ago for women swimmers. Meetings every Thursday afford opportunity for social and competitive indulgence in that popular sport and major and minor emblems offer incentive to improvement.

"This year, Dolphin club has been recognized by Keystone for the first time so we feel that we are really established as a women's organization of good standing on the campus," said Miss Katherine Kitchin, secretary.

Officers of Dolphin club this year are: Dixie Davis, president; Elizabeth Ewald, vice-president; Katherine Kitchin, secretary, and Victoria Warner, treasurer. Among the honorary members of the swimmers' organization are the Misses M. A. Brownell and Cynthia Wessen.

AIRPLANES WILL AID DRIVE FOR MEMORIAL UNION

American Ace to Distribute Campaign Material Over City

Two airplanes from Milwaukee will arrive in Madison next Friday in order to participate in the Memorial Union drive. Flying over the city, the planes will distribute pamphlets and other material, advertising the activities of this organization.

Gil Meisenheimer, American ace, will have charge of the planes and will take up passengers for generous trips over Madison at a nominal charge. Persons desiring to take such trips can make arrangements by calling George Parker at Fairchild 136.

At the Homecoming game, the flyers have arranged to make stunt flights. While in mid-air, a daredevil will change from one moving plane to the other, and will do other death-defying feats.

Following these stunts, the Dollar Day workers will pass through the stands and receive the silver dollars that they will be asked to bring in order to contribute to the Memorial Union fund. Tin pails and buckets containing the dollars will be dumped into a wheelbarrow and in this way wheeled to headquarters.

BIG SIGN TO TELL OF MEMORIAL UNION

The first "Sign of the Union" is coming into evidence in the front yard of the Union building. Here, crude boards are being converted into a dazzling electrical sign, telling of the new Memorial building. Colored lights will give the story of the auditorium with adequate seating capacities, and of the dining rooms which accommodate three thousand students all seated and served instead of in cafeteria lines.

"It's going to be a bigger sign than most of you have ever seen," said "Hap" Baker '22, as he watched the carpenter nail up the framework. "We can read about the place for the grads to rest in ease and comfort, of the rotunda and the commons. The sign will be placed in Dr. W. M. Donovan's front yard, next door to the Union building.

RED GAUNTLET TO HOLD DANCE TODAY

Red Gauntlet, sophomore women's organization, will give a matinee dance Saturday afternoon in Lathrop parlors from 3 until 5. Reports from the Illinois game will be given. There will be no admission charged, and all sophomore women are invited.

PRESS CLUB FROLIC IS GREAT SUCCESS

A robbery, a strange man, and a love story were all threads in the plot of "La Voluer," a skit presented last night at the Press club "frolic" given for the freshmen in Lathrop parlors.

Mary Bridgman '23 made a good "baby vamp" and when Kenneth Fagg '23 waltzed on the stage as the "conquering hero" the evening was complete. "Hick" Powell '23, married to "Katie" Rockwell '22, amused the audience.

Dancing and mixer stunts led the crowd into believing that the excitement was over. But later in the evening, the apache dancers with Birney Montfried clad in the inevitable red tam of the villain and William Tannewitz as the girl with the henna curls presented a clever dance skit.

ILLINI SET, BUT NOT CONFIDENT ON EVE OF BADGER CONTEST; ZUPPKE'S LINE-UP UNCERTAIN

MEN AND WOMEN VIE IN SUPPORT OF COURT DANCE

Tickets for the court jitney dance this afternoon from 2:30 to 6 are being sold by members of Mortar Board assisted by Y. W. C. A. Sophomore commission in rooming houses, sorority houses, and fraternities. The interest of women in the Illinois game is evidenced by the fact that as many tickets have been sold to women as to men since it was learned that the scores would be announced.

The dance is under the direction of Margaret Thomas, general chairman, and Esther Haven, ticket sale manager. The progress of the Illinois game, which is being announced by play in the gymnasium by the Athletic board, will be received from time to time and announced in each of the houses where the dancing is going on.

Members of Mortar board will be stationed in each house while Willett Kempton, "Heintz" Rubel, and Charles McInness will aid in getting the high points of the game to the court.

LIT SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE ON MONDAY

The Lit subscription campaign will get into full swing on Monday and Tuesday when the magazine is for sale on the Hill. Subscriptions will not be solicited on the campus, but will be obtainable at the tables where the magazine is for sale in Bascom, Sterling, and Agricultural halls and in the Engineering and Biology buildings.

This year all subscription copies will be mailed out that they reach the subscriber the first day of the open sale on the hill.

ASK MALE HELP IN CAMPUS SOLICITING

A motion was carried to suggest to the Student Life and Interest council that the men of the university take an equal part in all future soliciting that includes co-educational activity at the S. G. A. meeting Wednesday noon.

The Student Life and Interest committee has forbidden any soliciting except behind tables, the Badger sale being an exception. This prohibition was made to eliminate any possible causes for criticism.

The meeting also considered the question of the point system for outside activities, which was explained. A motion was made and carried to have the president of S. G. A. appoint a committee to elect the leader of the board. The next meeting was set for November 2, at 7:15, in the S. G. A. room Lathrop hall.

ILLINI RETURNS TO BE WIRED TO GYM

The Athletic Board has arranged to receive complete play-by-play reports of the Wisconsin-Illinois game this afternoon in the gym.

"Duke" Caesar '22 will send the returns by special wire from Champaign, starting at 2 o'clock sharp. From the interest evidenced in the reports of the Northwestern game last Saturday, there should be a record turnout this afternoon. An admission of ten cents will be charged.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 21—If

Illinois is optimistic about the outcome of the Wisconsin game, its partisans religiously conceal the feeling.

Gloom, dark and thick enough to be cut with a knife, has spread like a morbid pall over the Illinois Varsity village. Disheartened by their 14 to 2 defeat at the hands of Iowa last Saturday and by last minute injuries which are said to have again disrupted the eleven, Illinois can see nothing but defeat staring at its orange clad warriors.

Zuppke not Optimistic

After he had sent his men through a last practice drill yesterday Coach Bob Zuppke grimly remarked: "I will not be able to announce a definite lineup until my team trots out for the opening kickoff. The only time they have been in action the men looked downright rotten. I will tell you tomorrow night which is the best team, that is all I can do."

Selection of players for at least four positions has been deferred until the last minute by the diminutive ex-Badger. Right guard, left half, right half, and fullback are Continued on Page 3.

W. A. A. TO HANDLE 6,000 BUTTON SALE

More than 6,000 Homecoming buttons will be on sale on the campus next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. W. A. A. members have organized into 15 teams of 10 girls each to undertake the sale.

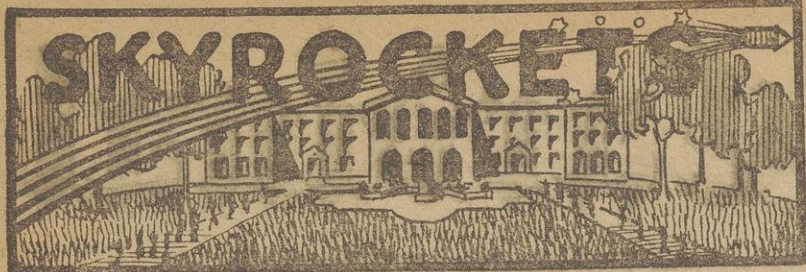

"We hope to put a pin on everybody on the campus, as well as on all the alumni," said Dorothy Ware '22, who is in charge of the sale.

Each team, headed by a W. A. A. board member, will draw lots for places to sell on the hill. All the buildings will be canvassed, and there will be tables at intersecting walks on the hill.

The same team will sell Homecoming programs after in the week. Homecoming buttons will sell for 25 cents, and 25 per cent of the sale will go to W. A. A.

CARDINAL MEETING

There will be a meeting of all desk editors, assistants, and reporters at the Cardinal office in the Union building at 12 o'clock today, in preparation for the Homecoming Cardinal.

Sorrow with us! The editor, for whom we offer this whispering substitute, being the more lucky at that quiet, but deadly innovation known as "Put and Take" is now somewhere in Illinois, traveling south, by means of OUR TICKET, which we "put" and he so gracefully "took." Kismet? Tut! Tut! Child! Those toddle tops are easily and satisfactorily educated.

There appears to be a new and very popular course of lectures being delivered. We were aware that prohibition has had a rousing effect on the student body, but there were no signs of it in the faculty, until a couple of days ago. Then, as is generally the case, they all began to talk at once, but all that we could gather was about subscribing to a condition vulgarly known at "Lit."

The absence of Blowza Gale from these two pillars of society has annoyed us for some time, but in she breezed, at last, with the following explanation, and "believe us, girls, the poor thing is worried t'death."

"TO SHOULD OR NOT TO SHOULD"

(With no apologies)

The world is full of a number of things,
Of plagues and of pests and engagement rings,
Of slimy cess-pools and poisonous springs,
And a wee small voice that sings
In my conscience, and shouts, and rings,
And prods, and talks of my wickedest flings.
The world is so full of wild happenings,
Of murders and fatherless male offsprings,
That a wee, small voice within me rings,
And prods, and shouts, and wails, and sings
"I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings."
BLOWZA GALE.

The softening feminine touch is a greatly needed thing in these wild times. Were it not for Blowza—ah, me! Oh, my!—twere a cruel, cruel world!

But there! You might as well know the whole tale. Now, Blowza's a nice girl and all that, but she played us a dirty trick. While we still had our ticket, she was strong for us; but when the pasteboard belonged to the boss, so did Blowza. We don't wish them any bad luck, but if there's a wreck, we'll send flowers.

"BEG YOUR PARDON!"

In receipt of a joint letter from Ralph Scheinplug and Paul Gangelin suggesting that they are taking up publicity space that some more modest individual deserves, we apologize for publishing their names.

Pill—My girl isn't like other girls.

Bill—You're lucky, but don't tell anybody.

Having finished our fifth article on the "Extension of the Fourth Dimension" we are now in a playful mood. Who'll play with us? The room-mate is afraid to, the girl called it off when she saw the light in our eyes, and the advice sent us to the clinic. We are now singing "Oh, Why Won't Nobody Play With Me?"

ILLINOIS NOT BOASTING, BUT HOPE FOR WIN

Mohr Shifted From Back- field to Bolster the Line

By the Sporting Editor
The Daily Illini
(Special to the Cardinal)

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 20—The longest and hardest scrimmage of the year marked Zuppke's fourth day of drill for the Wisconsin game on Illinois field today.

Carney was allowed to play with the first team for a few minutes and all of the rest of the former first string were given chances to buck against the freshmen with the exception of Crangle and Peden, who were held out on account of minor bruises that Zuppke wishes to get rid of before the week end.

The team did not appear to much better advantage against the freshmen than it did against the Iowans Saturday. The freshman forced the Varsity to take eleven downs in five yards for a touchdown. The spirit of the team has improved perceptibly, however, and if Zuppke can find a unified combination before Saturday he hopes to make a much better showing than he did at Iowa City.

Line Has Been Shifted

Mohr has been shifted to the line for this purpose. He has not been assigned a definite position as yet but will play either at guard or center. Mohr is a veteran linesman and will bolster up the center of the line. McMillen, the sophomore that has been playing the position is a game fighter but is green and is not wily enough to suit Zuppke.

Wisconsin plays have not been introduced in practice as yet but will probably make their appearance tonight. The freshman have been drilling on them for over a week and are ready to use them at any time. At present Zuppke is spending most of his time teaching his line to charge in order to make his own strategy effective.

HOMECOMING TICKET SALE CLOSES TODAY

The sale of tickets for the Minnesota-Wisconsin game at the student rate of 50 cents with fee card will close this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The Athletic department announces that it will be impossible to procure tickets at the special price after this time. The open sale of tickets closes at 9 a. m. Thursday, Oct. 27.

Tickets will be mailed out Tuesday, Oct. 25. It is necessary to close the sale to prevent reorders on the same fee cards.

G. S. McCaa, Lafayette, and Benny Boynton, Williams, jointly hold the record for the longest runs. McCaa made his against Swarthmore on October 15, 1909. He obtained it in a scrimmage. Boynton ran his back from a punt against Hamilton on November 6, 1920.

TIME TRIALS TODAY FOR DISTANCE MEN

Badgers Prepare For Cross
Country Meet With Gophers
October 29

The Varsity cross country squad will be given time trials at 11:30 this morning in preparation for the meet with Minnesota which will be held at noon on October 29 in connection with the Homecoming celebration.

The long distance men had a short workout Monday. They ran three miles Tuesday, and five miles Thursday. The team has been reduced to working size since last Saturday's practice run.

With three of his best men, Schneider, Knutson, and Ramsay, on the sick list, Coach Burke can give no definite promise as to how his men will show up a week from Saturday.

MAROONS MEET TIGERS TODAY

Eyes of West and East On Classic at Princeton

Next to the outcome of their home team's game, every football follower throughout the east and west is vitally interested in the result of the Chicago-Princeton clash.

On the eve of the battle, the breaks appear to be about even. The Maroons are not displaying the form that they should show at this time of the season. This is disappointing, as Stag's machine looked extremely promising when they walloped Northwestern a few weeks ago. The Chicago eleven is in good shape, however, and they are known as furious and tenacious fighters.

Coach Ropers chances were dealt a severe blow yesterday when two of his star backfield performers, Newby and Gordon, received injuries which will keep them out of the game for at least a few weeks. Garrity and Lourie are back in uniforms but neither is in good condition. They will probably be called upon the start the game, since the backfield is in such poor shape.

Line is Powerful

The Tiger line will play an important part in the struggle today. Since one team is weak in the backfield, and the other is weak in the forward wall, it will be interesting to see how much the attacks vary. Some of the dopesters have it figured out that the Maroons will use a shift in the attempts to gain ground. This does not seem hardly probable in view of the fact that the Tiger line is so strong. In order to gain ground by means of a shift, there must be perfect harmony existing between the backfield and the line, and such could hardly be said of the Maroons, who have not even a definite lineup.

The chances are that the forward passing game will be used more or less by both teams. The Chicago backfield is well-versed in this department of the game, and this very fact may win the game for them. Both teams will undoubtedly use the punting game as their secondary line of attack. Both elevens possess kickers of ability and a punting duel would not be surprising. If this style of game is resorted to by both teams, the Maroons would be at the biggest disadvantage, as their line would be apt to wear out before the heavier Tiger line did.

Other Eastern Games

Although the inter-sectional clash is the feature card of the day, several other games of interest will be played in the east. Prominent among these is the Yale-Army contest. Yale showed that it has a team of power by an overwhelming victory over Williams last week, and the Army has its usual array of football experts. The outcome of this game will give westerners a chance to see how Yale compares with the Big Ten conference teams as Notre Dame, who was humbled by Iowa, meets the Army in a few weeks.

FIRST INTER-CLASS CINDER MEET TODAY

Large Group of Entries Expected by Coach
Burke

The first inter-class track and field meet of the year will be held today at 3 o'clock at Camp Randall. All is in readiness for the meet, and Coach Meade Burke expects a large delegation of athletes to respond to the call of the clerk of course. Entries this year have equaled those of any previous years and the new men promise to give some of the old speedsters a run for honors.

In the 100 yard dash, little can be said of the various candidates, but a field of fast runners should enter the finals. Time, in these meets, is never exceptionally fast, due to the early date, but the century should be negotiated under 10 4-5.

Several strong men are entered in the 440 yard run. Fred Ellison '23 is the best man in that class and has been doing some fast work on the track. The freshman and sophomore classes will also enter a flock of fast men, among whom are Thiessenhausen '25, who enters with a good prep school record behind him. Stebbens '24 stands a show to cop the honors.

There are several strong distance men in school, and the two mile grind promises to be an interesting contest. Utgaard '23, and Stegeman '24 are the two picked to lead the field in the long run.

BIG 10 HONORS ARE AT STAKE

Losing Teams Will Be Eliminated From Con- ference Flag

All but three of the Big Ten conference football teams, Purdue, Iowa and Northwestern, engage today in battles which directly or indirectly have title bearing.

Three of the games are crucial conference contests, while Chicago pays Princeton in what is rated as the biggest inter-sectional struggle in years. The Badgers travel to Illinois, the Buckeyes to Michigan, and the Hoosiers to Minnesota. The losers of all three of these games will be eliminated from further championship consideration.

Michigan Meets Ohio

The Wolverines will engage in their first conference game of the season, and it will be interesting to see just what they will have to display today. At present they are classed as one of the likely contenders for the title, but the dope the doubtful places. Jack Crangle wears a heavy harness over his injured shoulder. Whether his condition will permit him to start the contest is doubtful. Carney, 1920 All-American end, is said to have broken a small bone in his foot in the Thursday scrimmage. The injury will not prevent the wing man from playing. Herring hurt his shoulder in practice this week. Aabor, substitute for Crangle, is hurt and Peden is suffering from boils. It is no wonder that 8,000 Illinois students doubt the ability of their team to conquer eleven cardinal clad Badgers tomorrow. Zuppke took his squad to the country club for a good night's rest after the light afternoon drill.

Champaign Brilliant

Champaign is decorated in bright red, white and blue colors, while the twin city, Urbana is ungarnished with trimmings. Hundreds of state rotarians have gathered in the little college town for the game. It is the annual convention and visitors are making a gala occasion of it. Little money is wagered on the results of the game, and that is generally offered at odds of 10 to 7 on Wisconsin. Additional bleachers have been erected to accommodate an overflow crowd. At least 20,000 rabid football fans are expected to witness the annual Wisconsin-Illinois grid battle.

A large Wisconsin squad trotted on to Illinois field at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and went through a light 45 minute workout. Coach John Richards restricted the practice to punting and passing trials. Sundt averaged 45 yards to his kicks. Elliott and Williams did a limited amount of passing, and Gibson perfected his snaky return of kicks.

Richards Hopeful

"Wisconsin will give a good account of itself," said Coach Richards. He was in a satisfied mood.

The Wisconsin hospital list has diminished from 10 to zero while before the Northwestern contest, Wisconsin was hampered by 10 cripples. On the eve of the first real conference test, every Badger is in condition to enter the game. Wisconsin will take no chances with Illinois and its "bear stories." Zuppke has had cripples before. And the cripples have played against Wisconsin.

Whatever the opinions of students and outsiders, both the Wisconsin and Illinois elevens look for a hectic struggle when they line up for the opening whistle at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

SHOW YOUR SPIRIT

IN last Saturday's issue of the Cardinal an appeal was made to the students to meet the football team when they returned from Evanston.

Only a handful of students responded to the appeal. When the team reached Madison there were a mere dozen who were there to greet and congratulate them on their victory.

Today a second conference game is being played. This game is one of the important of the year. Illinois is a strong foe to battle, and smarting from her defeat of last week, will put up a bitter fight to win today. Still, the Wisconsin team expects to come home tomorrow morning with another victory toward the conference championship.

The team will arrive in Madison at 7:50 Sunday morning. The band will probably arrive on an earlier train, but it is possible that the second band may be down to meet the team. There can seem to be no reason why the second band could not be there.

The spirit of supporting the team will have another test on Sunday morning. It should not be necessary to urge Wisconsin students to meet the team. We like to believe that it is natural and involuntary with each student to support, enthusiastically and to the end, all that is a part of Wisconsin. After the failure of many to meet the team last week it is not so easy to believe this.

A COURSE IN COURTESY

THERE is a great need among the students for a course in general etiquette. To realize the real extent of this need it is only necessary to walk from the lower campus to Bascom hall, or across the lower campus from State street to Langdon.

Courtesy and consideration for others should be one of the attributes of an educated man. Mostly these qualities are inherited. But they can at least be acquired by those who have had the preliminary education necessary before admission to the university.

The actual case, however, is that there are entirely too many who seem to have either forgotten the Chesterfieldian principles or else have never learned them. Even the common decencies of politeness are violated daily.

Games of handball and pushball on the lower campus are often interrupted by some hurrying student who cuts across between the players. Doubtless it is an unconscious act, but nevertheless it is annoying to the players and it is not fair to them.

The walks up the hill are crowded on either side by students who walk three and four abreast. To pass them it is necessary to leave the walk. That is not always pleasant to do, especially after a heavy rain. Books are jostled from arms, cigarette and cigar smoke blown into the faces of those near by, often profane or coarse language indulged in by some of the crowd.

In all but rare cases, these violations and omissions of politeness are due simply to forgetfulness or thoughtlessness. It would be unpleasant indeed to believe that any one would wittingly, maliciously do them. Whatever the cause—the effect is obvious. Such a tendency should be overcome. By having a little thought of others, by an attempt at least at the application of the Golden Rule, much of this discourtesy and annoyance can be eliminated.

Freshmen seem to be the worst offenders. Perhaps it only seems so because their distinctive headgear marks their class. Also because they are more numerous than the other classes.

In any event, the freshmen have an excellent opportunity to show up the other classes by marked courtesy and politeness. If they do so, they will acquire the serious regard of those who deplore the present state of affairs.

BETTER SHOWING NEXT TIME

THE attendance Thursday night at the salesmanship course for Memorial Union workers was disappointing. About five hundred men and women have agreed to serve on the canvassing personnel. The entire number has not yet turned out for the special course of instruction offered by Prof. Gardner.

Next Tuesday night the Chemistry auditorium must be filled. The time is getting short. The task is one of the biggest that has ever confronted the school. It can be accomplished only through the individual efforts of the students themselves.

The general chairman of the Memorial campaign has addressed an appeal to every member of the canvassing personnel to come out Tuesday night. His appeal deserves a hearty response.

Build a home for Wisconsin spirit.

THE OLD GRADS CAN MEET

Not the least attractive feature of the Memorial Union will be the splendid accommodations for the grads when they come back for Homecoming, Commencement, and reunions. At present where can the grads meet on these occasions if they have no fraternity house to go to?

The non-fraternity men comprise the larger number of men in the university. They should be specially interested in this feature of the Memorial Union since they will benefit immeasurably by having a common meeting place.

ORCHESTRA COMING WITH EUGENE YSAIE

The next musical event of importance following last night's concert by Mabel Garrison is the coming of the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra under the direction of Eugene Ysaie, the distinguished violinist, on November 1, at the university gymnasium, under the auspices of the Madison orchestra association.

Ysaie's achievements as a conductor are on a par with his success as a violinist. Ysaie is probably the foremost exponent of French and Belgian music in this country, and his orchestra is fast becoming known as authority on the interpretation of this music, especially the symphonies of the Cesar Franck. Special student rates at $1.50 may be obtained at Albert E. Smith's.

BOARD DANCES ARE TO BE CONTINUED

3 BIG TEN GAMES SCHEDULED TODAY

may be all upset by tonight, as Coach Wilce's ex-champions won the healthy respect of the entire conference last Saturday when they defeated the Gophers by a 28 to 0 score. Yost's men are said to be in poor shape, as several of his stars are out of the game.

Little has been heard of the Hoosiers since they were humbled by Harvard. However, they ought to present a strong lineup when they trot onto Northrup field at Minneapolis this afternoon. It is possible that Coach Stiehm's team will prove to be the "dark horse" of the conference, and a victory over the Gophers would give them a good beginning for their brief conference schedule.

Doc Williams has been in the east all week on business, and it is impossible to forecast what improvement has taken place in the Gopher machine since it was humbled by the lighter Ohio State team last week. It is rumored that numerous changes have been made in the lineup, and they may come through in real style today.

Three Teams Resting

Purdue, Northwestern and Iowa are resting today. The Purple lost three conference games in a row, and the rest is much needed. Several new men have reported to Coach McDevitt, who is completely reorganizing his eleven. They have a chance to win from Purdue, but their chances against the mighty Hawkeyes look pretty slim.

Coach Dietz's team made a fairly good showing against Chicago two weeks ago, but fell down miserably against Notre Dame last Saturday. The Boilermakers, however, may grow stronger as the season progresses, as their coaching system is a new one, and the players may not be entirely used to it as yet.

Iowa is now the worry of Wisconsin, Michigan, and Chicago, who, until a week ago, thought that the pennant race was confined to them alone. Jones' eleven has an easy schedule from now on, and it is entirely possible that the title will be divided when the season closes.

Y. W. C. A. FRESHMAN COMMISSION NAMED

The freshman commission of the Y. W. C. A. was announced by Miss Helen Kasbeer, the vice president of the organization at the annual membership banquet Thursday night. Dorothy Johns, Louise Holt, Jean Palica, Betty Stolte, Jessie Morrison, Jane Baldwin, Irene Whitehead, Clara Hertzberg, Gunvar Skwaar, Margaret Ives, Elizabeth Mahorney, Helen Anderson, Gladys Norgrad, Alice Gilbert, Dorothy Mathias, Marion Strong, Alice Cummings, Esther Fifield, Virginia Reznor, Elizabeth Tompkins, Mary Walker, and Gertrude Hambrecht. A response was made by Dorothy Johns.

Due to an error in railroad connections the Rev. Dr. Tittle of Evanston, who was to address the Y. W. C. A. women, arrived too late to speak.

About 300 women were present and Auta Lyman, president, announced that the new members secured during the drive numbered 300, making a total of 853. She stated that the installation of the newly elected freshman commission will be held at the vesper services in Lathrop parlors Sunday afternoon at four-thirty o'clock.

SUSPEND STUDENTS IN GOPHER HAZING

A resolution recommending that the administrative board of the University of Minnesota suspend 16 sophomore engineers for one week, for participation in the "unofficial and unsanctioned" hazing of the freshmen of that college last Wednesday, was unanimously adopted at the All-University council at a special meeting recently.

About 100 sophomores took part in the scrap but only 16 are named to be punished.

NATIONS OF WORLD NEED LEADERSHIP

That the nations of the world are needing leadership more today than ever before in history, and that all the world is seeking for the men who are able to bring order out of the present chaos was maintained by Prof. A.
