The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

Feasting with a Ghost

It is called feasting with a ghost when someone sees a ghost and makes a meal for them. They will set out one place where no one of those invited will sit. They say that the ghost is usually hungry and that is the reason she will bother people. So then they give her a feast so she will be satisfied and no longer bother people. That is why they call it feasting with a ghost.
