LAST SUNDAY'S CROWD THIS YEARS' LARGEST

The beach was crowded to the limit all day Sunday. Cars were lined up all the way along the lake shore and on the streets of the village. The parking signs along the beach play an important part in keeping the cars parked on the other side of the road, and greatly helps in making it safer for the bathers. The high water has narrowed the beach so that there was hardly room for the cars on the beach side of the highway.

As another bit of evidence of the big day; Bill Burton reports that 1005 Sunday newspapers were sold. The hotels and restaurants did a capacity business, and some of the other businesses in the village sold out completely.

WHY NOT A RAFT AT THE BEACH?

A regular swimmer at the beach has asked the editor of BAY LEAVES to find out why there is no raft at the beach for the better swimmers to swim out to.

Passed on to the proper committee of the Village Board.

WILL SOME CIVIC ORGANIZATION
BEAUTIFY THE RAILROAD PROPERTY?

It has been suggested that some civic group undertake the beautification of the railroad property in our village. The railroad has been here for fifty years nearly and will continue to be here for years to come; and though the railroad Company holds title, it will welcome any effort to cover up the unsightly view along our lake shore.

Some fast growing trees and shrubs planted along the North side of the Highway would cover up the 'fill in' and the buildings.

GARDEN SHOW AT LAKE GENEVA

One of the loveliest affairs of every summer at Lake Geneva is the mid-summer show of flowers, fruits and vegetables given by the Gardem Club of Lake Geneva. The show will be given on Friday and Saturday of this week, August 16 and 17 in the Horticultural hall.

Mrs. William N. Pelouze is general chairman of the show, with Mrs. E.B. Frost, Mrs. Frank Porter and Mrs. Wm F. Peterson as co-chairmen.

The proceeds of the show go toward the support of Holiday Home which is maintained for under privileged children and women of Chicago.

ROCKFORD BUS LINE TO RUN THRU WILLIAMS BAY

The Peoria-Rockford Bus Company, Rockford, Ill. has been authorized by the state public service commission to give daily service in Wisconsin over two routes.

One extends from the Illinois line to Walworth, Williams Bay, Lake Geneva, Kenosha and Racine. The other from the Illinois line to Walworth, Williams Bay, Lake Geneva, Burlington, Rochester, Waterford, Durham and Milwaukee.

ALAS! THE HOLLYHOCKS ARE ABOUT GONE

This is the time to make your selection of hollyhocks (the Village flower) for next summer. Seeds are not true to color but roots can be planted now if kept well watered and color then desired can be secured. All back grounds and ugly spots can be made beauty spots by systematic planting.

Mrs. Fred J. Friedel, Cedar Point Park, had an abundance of very tall hollyhocks which rivaled those previously mentioned.

MEN'S COMMUNITY CLUB

Space did not permit in last week's issue of BAY LEAVES to make proper mention of the Men's Community Club Dinner at College Camp on August 6th. There were 88 men and ladies present, among whom were many of our summer residents.

After an excellent dinner, a program of music was given by the College Camp employees under the direction of Mr. Paul McMains. Wm H. Freytag, president of the club read part of the constitution of the club as a basis for his remarks; and all those present felt that the Community Club has a big part to play in the life of the community in the future as it has for the several years of its existence.

SOME WILLIAMS BAY PETS

Mrs. Wm Moeller found a fledgling bird in her yard this Spring whose mother had been caught by a cat. Mrs. Moeller took the bird in and fed it with a medicine dropper until it feathered out and could eat properly. It is probably a wild canary, although it is far from wild now. It flies up into the trees and catches bugs and then comes back to the door and wants to be let inside the house. In the morning it awakens the Moellers by lighting on their faces and pecking at their lips.

A JIM CROW FOR A PET

At the DeLap farm near the Bay, early this Spring, the boys found three baby crows whose mother had apparently been shot. The boys took them home. Two of the crows met with an accident, but one has become a pet. It is free to come and go but does not care for the company of other crows. It flies down and rests on the shoulders of the different members of family and contributes to the conversation a complaining monologue. (Con')

A JIM CROW FOR A PET (Con't)

It joins in the family activities about the farm and has acute power of observation. Its mischievousness makes it border onto a pest; but its amiability endears him to the family.

THE FIRST FAIR IN THE COUNTY

The number of the coming Walworth County Fair is given by Secretary F.M. Porter as the Ninety-fourth, dating it from the organization meeting of the original Walworth County Agricultural Society on April 25, 1842, just six years after the first settlement in the County.

Most of the early settlers were from New York and the New England States where the "cattle show" constituted one of the three big gatherings of the year, the others being the celebration of the 4th of July, and the annual muster of militia.

The Fourth was celebrated as early 1837 in Troy where a dance was given at Othni Beardsley's upper room, a cross between an hall and a garret, with music by the Murray brothers on their violins.

A muster of militia was held on October 5th, 1842, when after a Summer of training under the leadership of Col. Elderkin, Lt-Col. Urban D. Meacham, Troy; Major James A. Maxwell, Bigfoot; Adjutant Abel W. Wright, East Troy; Captains, Lucius Allen, East Troy Company, Jas. Harkness, Sr., La Fayette Co., P.G. Harrington, Sugar Creek Company, -- Palmer, La Grange Company, J.L. Pratt, Whitewater Company and some others, a rendezvous was held in Elkhorn attending which it is recorded that including some companies from Racine County, there were some twelve hundred men.

A great military display it turned out to be. The soldiers came clad diversely, some with hats and coats, some hatless and coatless and as for arms every available shot-gun, long-tom, bell-muzzle, rifle and horse-pistol was put into some one's hands and yet many had to go through the drills with laths, ax-handles or broom sticks.

The field officers were dressed in the full military dress of the day. The Inspection was made by Gen. Bullen, and Col. was highly complimented on the soldierly bearing, excellent drill and fine discipline of his regiment, which he affirmed, surpasses any he had seen in the State.

It is quite likely that this military muster accounts for the fact that, although the Walworth County Agricultural Society had been organized, constitution and by-laws adopted and officers elected, no fair was held that year nor for seven years thereafter.

At that original meeting it was Col. Elderkin who was active in its organization. It was he who presented the resolution for the appointment of a committee on constitution. Some of the names of the promoters are John S. Boyd, Robert Holly, Wm. F. Lyon, Moses Bartlett (Spring Prairie), Gorham Bunker (Troy), Norman Pratt (Whitewater), John Teets Horn (Richmond), William C. Allen (Delavan), Joseph W. Seaver (Darien), Jas. A. Maxwell (Walworth).

It was not until 1850 that a fair became a reality. Seymour and Homer Brooks, S.B. Edwards, the Furgitt Brothers, Emery Thayer, John Fearnly, A.M. Perry, Augustus Smith, J. Pike West, S.G. West, S.M. Rockwood, P.G. Harrington and Col. Elderkin with some others put across a fair or cattle show at East Troy on October 16, 1850.

The Wisconsin and Iowa Farmer, an agricultural monthly, then published in Racine, on which F.K. Phoenix of Delavan assisted in the horticultural department commented on the Fair in part as follows:

-----" The pleasure of the day was marred by frequent showers. Notwithstanding, the interest in the occasion was such as to call forth a large attendance of people.

The exhibition of stock was not over large, but of a superior quality.

First Fair (Cont'd)

A very fine show of horses of all kinds, working oxen, steers, cows and calves of improved breeds, reflect great credit on Walworth County farmers. Two extra fine Durham bulls, imported by Josiah Brooks, of East Troy, would compare favorably with the best Eastern breeds, are especially worthy of notice.---

The number of swine was small but also of superior quality. Dairy products limited but highly spoken of by the inspectors. The show room was filled by household manufacturers, such as carpets, caps, bonnets and fancy work. A very fine article of figured gloves was shown by Mrs. John A. Larkin of East Troy reflecting great credit on the manufacturer.

The horticultural products were extraordinary for Wisconsin. Some twenty-five varieties of apples were displayed by F.K. Phoenix, as were many varieties of garden produce".

The report to the committee on October 25, 1850 which was signed by August Smith, President and Seymour Brooks, Secretary gives a list of the winners of cash prizes and ribbons.

The plowing contest which was postponed on account of rain was held on the 25th and it took one hour and two minutes for a yoke of oxen used and owned by a Mr. Petit to plow  $\frac{1}{4}$  quarter acre in a superior manner.

An organization was perfected and officers chosen to promote the fair for next year: President, Wm. Child; Vice-president, Robert K. Potter; Secretaries, Edward Elderkin and Seymour Brooks; Treasurer, S.M. Rockwood; Managers, T. Mower, Jr.; Williams Hollinshead, and Jacob Burgit.

(Next week- "The FIRST COUNTY FAIR".)

This will be one of the most artistically satisfying of the lectures this season. ## BOY SCOUT SHOW A HUGE SUCCESS

The State of Wisconsin vs Elborn Rasmussen was a tremendous success. Not only will the Boy Scouts have a nice sum of money but an interest in Public Speaking in the courts of our land and in dramatics has awakened in the minds and hearts of the 75 or more young people taking part.

The premiere was started off with a "bang" the first night and the cast attempted to give an interpretation of a real murder trial, with a slow crawling cadence but on Saturday night the Trial was a rollicking party for audience and cast.

All of the characters were well chosen for their parts and acted and looked their parts very well. Special mention should be made of Lawrence Hollister as Judge Ben Lindsey, Robert Hochenhaupt as Bob La Follette, prosecuting attorney, and Arthur Pederson, Clarence Darrow, the attorney for the defense. Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, impersonated by Art Stensstrom and Mrs. Karen Steele, were superb. In manner, voice and dress they were true in their impersonations.

The members of the Jury looked and acted typical of all that goes to make up the intelligence required of them.

Mr. Jack Vincent and his assistants, Mrs. Lou Hennes, Mrs. Karen Steele, Mrs. Victor Keiser, and Miss Gladys Peterson, deserve much credit for the able way they put over the very great task of directing the show.

The members of the Committee wish to thank all those who kindly helped with costumes, and who labored so long and so faithfully in putting on the show, as well as those who bought tickets for this worthy cause.

INDUSTRIAL BEAUTIFICATION

All over the country for the past few years in cities, towns and villages, contests have been held and prizes awarded in the beautification of private homes, public parks, play-grounds etc., which has greatly developed the beauty of many an ugly and unsightly place in a community.

Now, along comes industry with an idea of beautification with the announcement by a large rug manufacturing company in Chicago of a half million dollars set aside to be used in landscaping ten acres of land of its factory site, part of which includes a rock garden to cost $10,000. Rare rocks and stones, aged stumps of wood, plants, flowers, and native trees have been procured for the garden from all over the country. The garden will be 150 feet in length and have three waterfalls cascading into a lily pond at its base.

TO HONOR MEMORY OF WILBUR WRIGHT

Wilbur Wright, one of the Wright brothers, inventors of the airplane, was born on a farm six miles East of New Castle, Indiana, in Henry County.

A celebration is Memorial Park in New Castle (The City of Roses) next week in commemoration of the event and the purchase of the farm and adjoining acres by the city as a memorial and historical shrine.

One of the attractions at the dedication ceremonies will be "stunting" over the farm by airplane pilots.

Mr. Carl M. Bjorge and son Carl Cable went on Monday to Green Lake for a few days of fishing and vacation.
